steeled;
And never cease to struggle till the triumph shall be sealed,
As you go marching on !
(Chorus.)

Behold, the sun of Austerlitz is flaming in the Now, forward to the sunset for Victory is nigh! Once more God and Liberty! and win the field or die— As we go marching on ! (Chorus.)

see the Sham Democracy slink backward to their caves; rout of knaves,
Are flying from the vanguard of our old Union braves;
As we go marching on!
(Chorus.)

Hurrah for Hayes and Wheeler, right noble men and true! . Shake out the grand old ensign, the red, the white, the blue;
And where the demon drove the hogs send Tilden and his crew,
As we go marching on!

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES

Rutherford Birchard Hayes was born in Deleware, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1822. His parents, Rutherford Hayes and Sophia Birchard were natives of Windham County, Vermont, and emigrated to Ohio in 1817.

His first American ancestor of the name of Hayes was George Hayes, a Conn. in 1680. His mother was descended from

John Birchard, who came over with his father's family from England in 1735, and became one of the principal proprietors and settlers of Norwich,

Three of his ancestors, Daniel Austin, Israel Smith and Elias Birchard were members of the Revolutionary Army, the latter dying during his term EDDEN & GRAHAM, dealers in General Ralph P. Buchland. In 1849 he removed to Cincinnati, and in 1852 was married to Lucy Ware Webb, daughter of Dr. James Webb and Maria Cook, of Chillicothe.

In 1856 he was nominated for Judge of Common Pleas, but declined the nomination. In 1858, the office of City Solicitor becoming vacant by the death of

Judge Hart, he was unexpectedly elected by the City Council to fill the vacancy, and in 1859 was re-elected by the people for a full term, running over five hundred votes ahead of his

He held this office until the breaking out of the Southern rebellion, when, with Judge Mathews, he raised a regiment for the Union service, and went out with it as Major. He led his regiment, forming part of General Reno's division, at the battle of South Mountain, in September, 1862, having received a commission as Lieutenant-Colonel. The regiment was the first that established a position on South Moun-Lieutenant-Colonel Hayes was seyerely wounded in the arm, but remained with his regiment throughout the action. In 1862 he was appointed Colonel of the Twenty-third Ohio Regiment, and placed in command of the Kanawha Division, then ordered back to West Virginia. He was subsequently promoted to Brigadier-General "for gallant and meritorious services in the battles of Winchester, Fisher's Hill, and Cedar Creek," and was brevetted Major-

General for "gallant and distinguished services during the campaign of 1864, in West Virginia, and particularly in the battles of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek." Prior to these promotions he had commanded a brigade as Colonel for over two years, and he was then commanding a division. In the course of his arduous ser-

In 1874 he was unanimously nomi-WILLIAM

nated for the third term as Governor. The Democracy renominated Governor Allen, and threw into the contest the best talent and effort at their command.

General Hayes canvassed the entire State, making speeches in nearly every county, often making two or three at as many different places in a single day. For over two months he was kept thus employed.

The warmth and energy of the canvass was sufficiently attested by the fact that it brought out the largest vote by over sixty-three thousand ever cast in Ohio. The Republicans elected their entire State ticket and the Legislature, the majority for General Hayes being 5,544.

THE SPLENDID SPIRIT OF THE MAN. As an officer he was noted not only for strict loyalty to his superiors, but for gallantry in battle and alacrity in perilous or arduous.

The first suggestion of his nomination for Governor was strongly disfavored by the General, who put a quietus upon the movement in that direction as soon as he heard of it. He generally preferred to remain in the military service as long as the rebellion lasted, and no political promotion was any temptation for him to leave it while the triumph of the national arms was incomplete.

During the war he was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Second District, and directly afterward received a letter importuning

General Hayes replied to this leter as follows:

IN CAMP, October 2. Yours of the 29th ult. is received. Thanks. I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped.

Truly yours, R. B. HAYES. Notwithstanding this refusal to leave the field to co-operate with his friends in securing his political pre ferment, he was handsomely elected, defeating Joseph C. Butler, the Democratic candidate, by a majority of 2,455. .

In 1868 he was re-elected, his competitor being Theodore Cook, and his majority over that gentleman was

He took a deep interest in all the great and agitating questions then before Congress, including those relating to the reorganization of the lately revolted States, and acted uniformly in accord with the Republican line of policy in reference to the measures.

Congressman William A. Wheeler, who has been nominated for the office of Vice-President, is the representative in Congress from the Nineteenth District of New York, and from the training and experience in public life, he is well fitted for the office. He has been for over a quarter of a century engaged in pursuits which eminently qualify him for the high office to which he has been nominated. He has been, since the death of the Whig party, a consistent Republican, and his experience as a State legislator, and as a member of Congress for five terms is a sufficient guaranty of his fitness for the position. In New York, and especially in his own county of Franklin, his character stands very high, and in his capacity of Chairman of the Congressional Committee which went to New Orleans in the winter of 1874, to settle the Lousiana difficulties, he showed considerable executive ability and sound sense, which did much to bring about a peaceable settlement of the questions then at issue between the opposing factions. Mr. Wheeler was born in Malone, Franklin county, in New York, June 13, 1819, and is consequently in his fifty-eight year. He received a common school academy education in his native town, and subsequently entered the University of Vermont, which he left in the year 1842, without graduating. He next and in a few years was offered the nomination of District Attorney by He accepted the nomination, and was elected. He discharged the duties of

studied law, and having been called him to return home and make the to the bar, he commenced the practice of his profession in his native county with considerable success. He showed marked ability in his profession, the Democrats of Franklin county. his office in an able and imparted manner, and at the expiration of his term of office he was requested to become a candidate for the Assembly in the Whig interest. Mr. Wheeler threw himself into the contest warmly, and was elected. He only served one term, however, and at its close gave for a time public life to business pursuits. He became cashier of the bank in his native town, and for fourteen years remained contented with it, displaying judicious judgement in all his transactions, and winning the esteem and confidence of all who had business relations with him. He also became interested in railroads, and was elected President of the Northern | State. New York Railroad, which position he held for eleven years. At the death of the old Whig party, Mr. Wheeler bacame a Republican, and in the year 1858 he was elected to the State Senate, of which he was even a short speech, his unobtrusive | made temporary President, a distinguished mark of the confidence in his duty won for him not only respect which he was held by the Republican party, who then for the first time fully controlled the Legislature. Mr. Wheeler was an active member of the Senate during his term of office, and his ability and integrity were so well recognized that his party removed him to a higher sphere of political duty by electing him as their Representative to the Thirty-seventh Congress, from the then Sixteenth

District, comprising the counties of Clinton, Essex and Franklin. Mr. Wheeler proved himself a faithful representative; constantly supporting rebellion. After this term in Conin April, 1867, a member of the New York is proudly called the State Constitutional Convention, and Empire State, and the Excelsion he again received a distinguished ter of 1874, he was, as already stated appointed Chairman of the Congressional Committee which went to New Orleans to settle the disturbing questions which then prevailed in Louisiana, and it was mainly owing to his exertions that a peaceable settlement was obtained, and that what is known as the "Wheeler compromise" was accepted by both parties in the Louisiana Legislature. The compromise agreed upon by the Committee was adopted in good faith by Republicans and Democrats, peace was restored. and good feeling soon prevailed among all classes of citizens.

American Nicknames

Arkansas is called the Bear State, and its natives or inhabitants are Tooth-picks or Gophers.

Alabama people are called lizards, from the great prevalence of this reperal wealth, the golden State, and its citizens nothing more or less than gold hunters. Colorado people, from their migratory habits as mines, are called rovers. | until it has become, in the eyes of Connecticut, as every reader of Sam Slick must well know, is the nutmeg State. explain themselves... Georgians are nicknamed Buzzards. for what reason we know not. Illinois rejoices in three names which are severally poetical, ridiculous and practical: Garden of the West, Sucker State, and Prairie State. Suckers, whatever they may be, dwell therein. Indiana is the Hoosier State, in-abited by Hoosiers, whatever they may be. Iowa, being Hawkeye State, affords local habitation for Hawkeyes. Kansas is another Garden of the West, but unlike its namesake, Illinois, is occupied by Jayhawkers. Kentucky, in words suggestive of pressible fondness for fun having afterward cropped up, it has latterly Louisiana, as a cotton growing

A native American cannot receive a higher compliment than to be styled Brother Jonathan; and as the origin of this name is not generally known, we quote the following from Bartlett's Dictionary of Americanisms: "In the course of the struggle for inde-pendence, General Washington fell short of ammunition. He took counsel with his staff, but failed to obtain any practical suggestion for relief. We must consult Brother Jonathan, said he-meaning Jonathan Trumbull, California is, on account of its min- | the senior Governor of Connecticut. This was done and the difficulty was remedied. A strange friendship has sprung up between two very dissimilar animals at Mrs. Stratton's place, in town here. A black rabbit came to the place some three months ago and took up its abode. Mrs. S. keeps on the place a couple of cows, and a short time since the rabbit took up the strange habit of sleeping with one of these cows. It goes out to the cow's wonted place of rest, waits her coming, and when arrived the motherly "bos" licks the little protege with much the same affectionate tenderness that would be bestowed on a calf, the rough tongue and tremendous licks nearly raising the little animal off its feet, and it in the meanwhile bracing itself, with all its four feet spread to withstand the pressure. Then little "bunny" puts its little nose up to the cow's nose and appears to kiss it, all of which silly demonstrations gone through with, the rabbit nestles up to old "bos" and goes to sleep. It is a singular "bedfellowing," the tiny bundle of fur and ears of perhaps strife in bygone days, is the Dark three or four pounds with the unwield-and Bloody Ground; but the irrethe superior animal haplessly wag her chin or flop her tail unguardedly, the become known as the Corn Cracker | little friend must undoubtedly bewiped out of existence. (Cal.) Star. A man who had a large family broke his leg, and as he would be for some time destitute of the means of grace, it was proposed to hold a Michigan is the Lake State, or prayer meeting at his house. The meeting was led by Deacon Brown. A loud knock at the door interrupted the service. A tall, lank, blue flocked youngster stood at the door with an ox-goad in his hand, and asked to see :Deacon Brown. "Father could not attend this meeting," he said, "but he sent his prayers, and they are out in the cart." They were brought in, in the shape of potatoes, beef, pork and corn. The meeting broke up without the benediction.

Professor D. W. Fiske, of Cornell, writes to the Syracuse Journal on account of a quaint burial ceremony of former times at the funeral of one John Underwood, at Lexington, in 1733. Useful Recipes.

Swiss Sour .- Boil well six mealy potatoes, mash finely, and add four quarts strong beef broth; add parsley, thyme, sage, mint and lemons, all chopped finely; boil avaminutes, then add pepper and salt to the taste. Just before removing from the fir-stir in two well-beaten eggs. Boiled Halibut, with Egg Sauce.

A thick piece of this fish will be boiled sufficiently in ten minutes after it begins to boil. It should be put on the fire, in cold water, with a little milk added to make the fish white, and a spoonful of salt. Some add a few spoonfuls of vinegar instead of milk to make the fish firm. A fish-kettle is quite an important item in kitchen ware, but if one is not to be had, the fish should be tied in a linen cloth to boil. Egg Sauce.—Work together four ounces of butter, and two large spoonfuls of flour. Then mix in two spoonfuls of milk. Put over a slow fire, and when melted, add half a pint boiling water and half a pint more of cold milk: Give it one boil; add two or more hard boiled, finely chopped eggs. and it is ready for service from a sauce tureen. I forgot to add, the fish should be laid on a fancy-folded napkin, on a platter, and garnished with sprigs of parsley, to serve.

PINEAPPLE FRITTERS.—Make a batter of three well beaten eggs, three spoonfuls of milk, a little salt, and flour enough to make a good batter. Into this dip the half slices of pine-apple, cut half an inch thick, and fry in nice drippings. Serve very hot, dusted with powdered sugar.

VEGETABLES .- New potatoes, whole: onions stewed in milk and water, whole, then drained off and well buttered and seasoned. When peeling onions, let a thick piece of bread be stuck on the end of the knife and no "weeping" eyes will be noticed. Summer squash should be cut in quarters to boil. Add a little salt. Thirty minutes time will be required to have them well done. Then mash finely; butter well, adding a little pepper. Make up in a nice pyramid form in a vegetable dish. With a spoon make a depression in the top, and lay in a nice lump of butter:

TOMATOES.—Scald and peel the best ripe tomatoes and put over the fire in a saucepan. Add butter, salt, pepper, a little sugar, and a few coarse bread crumbs. Simmer a few moments and serve hot. On toast this forms a nice breakfast dish.

It is a common idea that it requires no skill to cook vegetables, but many a nice dinner is spoiled by neglect in this department. Don't be too economical of butter, and serve them all hot if you wish them to be good. FRICASSEE CHICKEN. (French style.)

-Dress, cut up, and wash well two chickens, trimming off all the fat. Put them in just water enough to cover them, with a little salt and pepper. Boil slowly till tender, and remove from the gravy, into which stir the beaten yolks of four eggs, onequarter pound of butter, a little nutmeg, a glass of wine, two spoonfuls of flour, and one cup of cream. Let it just come to a boil, and pour over the chicken. This will be found a most delicious dish.

VANITY CAKE .- One and one-half cups sugar, two spoonfuls butter, two eggs, one cup milk, two cups flour, one teaspoonful soda, two of cream tartar. Flavor with lemon or nutmeg.

CALEDONIAN CREAM.—The whites of two eggs beaten to a froth, two spoonfuls powdered sugar; two of raspberry jam, two of current jelly; all to be beaten together with a silver fork till so thick it will stand upright. Boiled Huckleberry Pudding.

Three pints of huckleberries, one pint of molasses, teaspoonful of cream tartar, half of soda, teaspoonful of salt, flour to make a stiff batter. - Mix all but the soda and add that last, dissolved in as little water as possible, and stir it into the pudding. This is delicious if served with wine sauce. EGG-PLANT FRIED.—Several hours before using, peel and slice, then salt each layer, placing a heavy weight on the plant. Make a batter of flour. water, one egg, pepper and salt, and fry in boiling hot lard.

A Good Whitewash.

For outside work the following canscarcely be surpassed.—Slack-one peck of new white lime with boiling water, covering during the process to keep in as much of the steam as possible. Strain the liquid, and add to it half a peck of salt previously diswas re-elected:
Before his Congressional term expired, in 1867, he was elected Governor of the State, and was re-elected in 1869.

From the Lansing Republican we take the following report of the business of the State Treasure:

The balance of cash in the State Treasury Aug. 12 was $1,102.888.-84; receipts during the week ending Aug. 19 were $1,734.89; payments during same time were $21,482.47; balance in Treasury Aug. 19, 1976, $1,088,141.26; decrease for the week $19,747.58.

Democratic newspapers are profuse in their complaints of personalities from their Republican opponents. They set us such examples of politeness that really we ought to improve rapidly. The Grand Rapids Democrat refers to certain enemies of Henry Chamberlain in his own party as "the pig-headed editor of the Benton Harbor Times and the weak-minded editor of the Berrien County Journal." And it also says that "a Democratic paper like the Kalamazoo Gazette, which turns its back on Chamberlain, should States deem me sufficiently grounded be replaced by another paper" in the lin the New England faith to be one big village.—Lansing Republican.

Moses W. Field, the Greenback big gun of this State, said to the State Convention at Grand Rapids, that "Hon. Henry Chamberlain, of Three Oaks, was a Democrat until he became a Greenbacker, but will not vote for Tilden.". Mr. Chamberlain was in Grand Rapids the day that Convention was held, we believe, and the query now arises, "Did the Democratic-Greenback Duke tell Moses so, or did Moses lie about it?" Yet, as we have before intimated in these columns, Henry Chamberlain will tell almost anything if he thinks it will assist him to gain a seat in Congress:

Near Pontiac, Aug. 12, Andrew Kinyon slid down from a load of hay upon a hay fork, which entered his left groin and tore his side for 12 inches, almost killing him.

which lead him to suspect some force had long ago been felt here which was not strictly natural. As the road passes along some distance from the river, both sides of it, he sees strange irregularities of surface, which, if inexperienced in military matters, he would not suspect the cause of. In peaceful times we see no use for them. They are remains of "Fort Meigs," a name famous in the history of the northwest. It was built by Gen. Harrison and named in honor of Geo. Meigs. It stands nearly opposite Maumee city and threefourth of a mile above the town of Perrysburg, upon a bluff sixty feet above the river. It was more an entrenched camp then a fort and covers about ten acres of ground.

This at one time was a sort of capitol for all northwestern Ohio which was called Wood county, from Lake Erie to the line of Indiana. And to accommodate this and open the country for settlers, Congress constructed a grand turnpike or stone road through Lower Sandusky. This made transit easy from Lake Erie to this point on the Maumee, which was navigable no higher up.

In traveling east from this place one strikes this road which is never muddy, but good at all seasons of the year. And he will notice at intervals, of one mile, a large square stone post, on one side "P." with figure to indicate the distance on the reverse side, "L. S." with the distance. The first out of Perrysburg is "L. S. 31 M.," i. e., Lower Sandusky 31 miles, and this is the old name for what is now "Freemont," the home of Gen. R. B. Hayes, whom the most of the people here persist in believing will be our next President. It is a small town of some 3,000 to 4,000 inhabitants on the Lake Shore R. R. One thing certainly is favorable to him in this conection, that even in these "perilous times" to even our present public men's reputation, his suffers

The tongue of political and public slander is about as silent as such an active thing can be. So far as Hayes is concerned the old maxim of the distructives is well nigh useless, "Throw all the mud you can, some of it will stick." There are characters so fair that drops from them by common consent. We at last have a Presidential nominee of whom this seems to be true. He is understood and believed to be as honest as Lincoln was. The kind of man our times demand. One we can turst:

Mr. Wheeler appeared on the balcony of the hotel and was greeted with tremendous cheers. He was introduced by Edward A Smith, as one of the noblest statesmen of the Republic. Mr.

REPUBLICANS OF ST. ALBANS: You honor the cause of which I just now am a prominent representative. I was placed in nomination as the Republican nominee for Vice-President in the National Convention, by the action of the States of Vermont and Massachutts. It is the greatest honor of my life that the Republicans of these of the representatives of their ideas in the pending canvass. [Applause.] In the matter of my faith I trust they have made no mistake. [Applause.] I believe in New England; I believe in Plymouth Rock, for they are convertible terms. One of the most gifted of New England woman has said that Plymouth Rock is no quartz. It is a perfect stone cut from the mountain without hands, and hands cannot prevent it from becoming a great mountain, filling the whole earth. Every church, every school house, every town house, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, has Plymouth for its foundation-stone. Wherever freedom aims a musket, or raises a standard, or sings a song, or makes a protest, there is Plymouth Rock: Freedom, the Church, the school-house, these, my friends, form the very

130 votes in the electoral college. It has complete control of the Lower House, and the balance of power in the Senate. There is not to-day in those late slave States any man holding a prominent position who was not identified in the great struggle against the Government. Not in the State of Kentucky can you find a man in any position whatever who was not engaged on the rebel side. This is the condition of the South to-day. I have sat for months during the last winter in Congress by the side of sixty-one men who a few years since were engaged in an attempt to break heard those men defend the hellish atrocities of Libby, . Andersonville, and Salisbury. I have heard Lincoln maligned, I have heard defended the right of a Virginia Justice of the Peace to detain and open the mails of the United States. Can you tell me where is the difference in the spirit which twenty years ago led the Missouri Border Ruffians into Kansas and the massacre at Hamburg, where a regularly organized militia company were first disarmed and then murdired in cold blood in order that the white race might assert their superiority? during the past two or three years into the Southern States, and I tell you what I know, my friends, of the real feeling of the Southern people regarding the Reconstruction acts. They regard the amendments to the Constitution in reference to slavery Democratic party of the North as its pliant ally, that we are asked to turn over the Government of the United States, with all its powers of legislation, with all its machinery of taxa-

ity has its parallel in the history of the country. What is THE SPIRIT OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY: Do you want to prove what the Democratic party of the North still is? Go to Washington, see fifty soldiers crippled in the service of the Union turned out of the House to make room for as many Rebel soldiers. This is the evidence of the spirit of the Northern Democracy. My friends, we confront the old issue. You must You must not underrate the strength of this alliance. I have an abiding faith that the conscience of the nationwill be sufficiently awakened to avert this great peril. Under the lead of the gallant Hayes, who periled his life on the field of battle,—a modest man, a plain man, a man who has evinced great ability in his administration of the affairs of the great State of Ohio, -under Hayes the Republican party will again achieve a new triumph. [Applause.] canvass? I tell you, freemen of Vermont, what I know: The Democrats are making great efforts to reduce the Republican majority in this State. Will you permit this, friends? [Voices, "No!" "No!"] The banner of Vermont was never yet trailed on the battle-field. Let your ballot protect the work so effectually begun by your bayonets at Gettysburg and on many a field of strife. As you value good government, as you value the sacrifices of the past, as you hope the future, let your devotion to the cause of the Union be proved by your ballots on the first Tuesday of November next. May the star beam with new effulgence to light the other State to victory. [Great and prolonged applause.]

Capping the Climax. Democrats who clung to the delusive hope that the arrant demagogue Chamberlain would have nothing to do with the Greenback Convention at Three Rivers, now have that hope dispelled. The same odious tricksters who were at Kalamazoo manipulating his nomination on the basis of the St. Louis platform were at Three Rivers engineering his nomination on the Greenback platform. He was nominated by the Greenback Convention and is now before the people of the 4th Congressional District as the most brazen-faced demagogue in Michigan, a reproach and disgrace to Democracy emitting an odor that will cling to the party for years unless he

the Republicans, he is a complete embodiment of all this asserted political villainy, and just so long as the Democracy of this district allow him to remain as its candidate the party is fully and without qualification identified with him in character as a gross fraud and imposition. Again let us look at the facts which centre in this demagogue. At St. Louis he repudiated the platform and scoffed at the candidates. This he had a right to do as an exercise of private judgment. But the Democratic party unanimously endorsed the platform and candidates and thus the party and the demagogue were at quits. Nothing daunted, however, the demagogue who repudiated the platform and scoffed at its candidates and in so doing became at war with the party, at once stepped forward as candidate for Congress and tricked for the nomination in that very party. Dropping details and coming at the result the Democratic Congressional Convention adopted a resolution endorsing the St. Louis platform and ratifying the national candidates. This resolution estopped the nomination of Chamberlain if he had any pretense of consistency or decency. But no, he still urged his nomination and accepted it on this basis. Had he changed his mind Had he come to the conclusion that his course at St. Louis was wrong? Had he revised his views and concluded that the St. Louis platform was right and the nominees proper and acceptable? Not at all. He still professed to oppose the platform and abominate the nominees, and no doubt he does so oppose and abominate if it is possible so arrant a demagogue and chronic office-seeker can have any real opinion upon any subject. He follows up his nomination by the Democrats by urging and intriguing for his nomination by the greenbackers. And the greenbackers nominate him. Now where does he stand? Is he a hard money man? Is he a greenbacker?

rely upon him? Has he any belief, any views, any opinion, any principles? The answer is he stands before the people of this district simply as a chronic office-seeker, a parody on principles, a demagogue, with one foot on the shame of the Democracy and the other on the culpability, trickery and insincerity of the 80called greenbackers. A candidate without views, opinions, principles, or self-respect, and not entitled to the respect of people of any shade of belief. An office seeker demagogue whose flagitious political pecadillos are his capital stock.

Resolved that | mercial. white is black. Resolved that black ther, that any man who argues that the Democracy of this district will stop at principle, is an ass. Upon this recherche platform he will whirl through the giddy mazes of the political scalp dance to the delight and astonishment of all shades and pecu liarities of party ethics. Hard money Democrats will support him because he and they are Democrats. Greenback Democrats and Republicans will support him because he is a greenbacker. Reformers will support him because of his elastic, accommodating, self-adjusting principles and political banishments. Moss-backs, bummers and tricksters will support him because he thinks it unwise and inexpedient to alienate votes by disagreeing with anybody. He is a cornucopia out of which pours all principles for all men and nothing for anybody, and no class of views but

From the New York Times. Tilden as a Perjurer and Defrauder of the Government.

National Committee threw out this challenge in the House of Representatives the other day: "I defy these gentlemen to lay their hands upon a lishonest dollar in the possession of Samuel J. Tilden." The New York Times accepts this challenge, and proposes to show, if the prosecuting officers of the United States will do their duty, that Samuel J. Tilden has in his possession many thousands of dollars which rightfully belong to the Government. We laid before our readers yesterday the facts on which: this charge is based. They are briefly these: That for the ten years from 1862 to 1872 the average annual income of Mr. Tilden was certainly not less than $50,000; that during the same period he paid a tax on an average annual income of only $15,-000, and that, therefore, making a liberal deduction for expenses, etc., he must be indebted to the Government for the unpaid, tax on at least, a quarter of a million of dollars. To that general charge of swindling we is promptly shaken off. The man has added a specific charge of perjury, forfeited all semblance to political which we sustained by a comparison. character or decency and by his posi- between two affidavits duly sworn to is, Alton and Terre Haute railroad. We showed, first that there was a presumption amounting to certainty that these fees did not represent the whole professional income of Mr. Tilden for the year 1862; second, that he received in that year an income from interest on bonds and invest. ments which could hardly have been less than the amount he stated for 1863, viz: $19,000; and third, that the sum which he could lawfully deduct from his taxable income of 1862 could not well be greater than the sum sworn to in 1863, viz: $6,552. It is perfectly obvious that the income on which Mr. Tilden was lawfully bound to pay tax in 1862 must have been very considerably over forty thousand dollars. But taking that extremely moderate estimate of his net gains, profits, etc., for that year, it is equally plain that he must have defrauded the Government out of the tax on $33,000, and that he must have accomplished that fraud by means of deliberate perjury." The first affidavit referred to in the above is as follows: "I hereby certify that the following is a true and faithful statement of the gains, profits, or income of Samuel J. Tilden, of the city of New York. county of New York, and the State of New York, whether derived from any kind of property, rents, interest, dividends, salary, or from any profession, trade, employment, or vacation, or from any other source whatever, from the 1st day of January to the 31st day of December, 1862, both days inclusive, and subject to an income tax under the Excise laws of the United States. Income from all sources, $7,118." After swearing as above that his entire income from all sources was $7,118, Mr. Tilden, a short time ago, swore as follows in answer to a complaint in a suit with the Terre Haute railroad: "That for such services the defendant Tilden made a charge of ten thousand dollars, and the said charge was paid, by or on behalf of said second mortgage bondholders, on the 17th of October, 1862; * * * that the defendant Tilden, for a part of his services aforesaid, also made a charge of the like sum of ten thousand dollars on account of professional services rendered to the first mortgage bondholders and the Receivers, which was paid to him by the said Azariah C. Is it reasonable to argue that a man who is double and false upon one vital issue to catch votes, will be true and honest upon other issues of equal or greater importance? Is not the logical deduction that deception and duplicity in one thing argues falseness and unfaithfulness in all? Will not the people so argue and construe it? Certainly they will. There is but one course for the Democracy of this district to take in this matter. It must eschew this candidate, spew him out as it were, and let him represent himself in the campaign. According to the third annual report of Sheriffs relating to county ails in this State, for the year 1875, there were, during the year, 51 persons confined in the Berrien county jail, at a total cost to the county of $1,282,80. Of the persons convicted within the county during the year, 10 were sent to State Prison, and 2 to the House of Correction.

In the sod there were from 50 to 75 pounds difference in the draft, in favor of the Rotary Plow.

ONE of those "pretty girls," mentioned in the Niles Mirror of last week, must have come to a terribly desperate strait, judging by the following from a Niles correspondence in the Detroit Free Press:

"Moses Walker, colored, a workman on the farm of Joseph Bacon, of this city, and Miss Louise Muntz, a pretty white girl whose parents reside here, eloped last week. It has since transpired that the couple were married on the 11th inst., by Justice Barron, but the marriage remained a secret until the 16th. As soon as it became known, Walker left town with his wife. Justice Barron says that the girl's face was blackened when he performed the ceremony. The girl's father is broken down by this disgusting conduct of his daughter, and it is reported that he attempted suicide Sunday night.'

THE Grand Rapids Eagle is altogether too hard upon the distinguished citizen of this county, who received the nomination for Lieutenant Governor at Grand Rapids on the Greenback ticket. Such talk as the following from that paper cannot be endured:

"If Levi Sparks, of Berrien county, candidate for Licutenant Governor, is a fair sample, the ticket is too heavy to stand alone. As a member of the Senate, he never opened his mouth that he did not put his foot in it; his votes forever were with a petty minori ty and almost always on the wrong side; he finally disgraced himself hopelessly with his party, and especially with the Germans; he has been an elephant on the hands of the Berrien Republicans for many years, and we are glad the Greenbackers have got him, and hope they will keep him.'

FROM GALIEN. Last Saturday morning, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock, the school building of this village was noticed to be on fire in the front end, and before enough help could arrive the flames burst through the roof, and in three-quarters of an hour from the time the fire was first seen the build-ing was in ashes. There had been no fire in the house for three months, so all will agree that it was set on fire, but who did the act will probably never be known, but it is certain that it is some demon who ought, this moment, to be writhing with agony in the infernal regions with the damned. We understand that the building was in-

A Double Danger Averted. The inhabitent of a malarious region is threatened by a double danger. He is not only compelled to breathe miasma, but to swallow it, since it affects not only the atmosphere, but the water. The aerial poison threatens its system through the lungs and pores, the liquid through the stomach. Against this double peril there is but one protection, and that is to invigorate the entire body through the digest-Stomach Bitters never. In the tropics, where the diseases originated by malaria are of a far more malignant type than those originated by the same cause in the temperate zone, it enjoys immense and constantly increasing sales, and there is no portion of this continent where it is not the reigning specific for masmatic fevers and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, proceeding from malaria and

THE Buchanan Union School will commence Monday, Sept. 4th, 1876 under the Superintendency of Prof. W. W. Ray. The school will be re-organized and so arranged as to give young men and women an opportunity of preparing themselves for teaching, college or the university. A normal class will be formed for the accommodation of those who wish to teach the coming winter. Pupils from abroad will be charged tuition for the term as follows: High School, $5; Grammar School, $4; Intermediate, $3; Primary, $2. It is the object of the Board of Education to give Buchanan and the surrounding country such a school as will prepare the young for the business world and high instruction. Teachers have been selected for the accomplishment of this end.

Nebraska Ahead

The truth will at last be sure to prove No young State has had more false-hoods to fight against than Nebraska. She is showing herself, however, to be the banner State of our bread raising country. Last year she had a fair wheat crop, and the finest corn crop in the whole West. This year the wheat, barley, oat and corn crop of Southern Nebraska, will lead any other section of country, A splendid crop of the finest wheat and barley is now being harvested; oats are ready for cutting and the corn crop is in splenive and secretive organs. Deaths. Died, August 21, 1876, at Three Oaks. infant son o James L. and Maria H. McKie, aged 2 months and 1

In the early morning sun; Or like some sweet bud has faded, Ere its bloom had scarce begun. Like a dream that quickly passeth Seems our little darling's stay; And the hopes we fondly cherished O how soon they sped away.

Once before the white winged angel Came and took a precious one, Now he has come and claimed another: Can we say "Thy will be done?" Can we bow in meek submission To this bitter, stern decree:

And unmurmuring, give this jewell, Back again to live with Theo? Help us in this hour of anguish, Or we faint beside the way; Help us bear this heavy burden And Thy will be done to say.

The remarkable curies offected by VEGETINE have induded many physicians and apothecaries whom we know prescribe and use if in their own families. In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy ret discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PU-RIFIER yet placed before the public.

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

What is Vegerins?—It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is neurishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep, as has been proved by an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Ity the Vrestrik. Give it fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it it has cured me."

VALUABLE-INFORMATION.

Gentlemen—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Sait Rhoum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with himples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease. I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until commorced taking the Vegeriers, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medpleted the first bottle I saw that I had not the right med-cine. Consequently, I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles; when I was probounced a well man, and my skin is smooth, and continely free from pumples and cruptions. I have nover enjoyed so good health be-fore, and I attribute it all to the use of Yeserine: To benefit those afflicted with Rheumalism, I will make men-tion also of the Yeuring's wonderful power of caring me of this acute complaint of which I have suffered so intensely.

YOU ASK ME HOW I LIVE. BY JOSEPH ROBBINS.

Living friendly, feeling friendly, Acting fairly to all men, Seeking to do that to others They may do to me again. Hating no man, scorning no man, Wronging none by word or deed;
But forbearing, soothing, serving,
Thus I live—and this my oreed.

Harsh condemning, fleroe contemning, Is of little Christian use, One soft word of kindly peace Is worth a torrent of abuse.
Calling things bad, calling men bad,
Adds but darkness to their night, If thou would'st improve thy brother Let thy goodness be his light.

I have felt and known how bitter Human coldness makes the world,
Evry bosom round me frozen,
Not an eye with pity peral'd;
Still my heart with kindness teeming Glad when other hearts are glad, And my eyes a dear-drop findeth At the sight of others sad.

Ah I be kind—life hath no secret For our happiness like this; Kindly hearts are seldom sad ones Blessing ever bringeth bliss, Lend a helping hand to others.
Smile though all the world would frown,

Man is man, we all are brothers, Black or white or red or prown. Little recks it where he stands.

Man is man by form and feature, Man by vice and virtue too, Man is all one common nature

Speaks and binds us true.

Wise Sayings.

It has been said that the man who governs his thoughts when alone can control his tongue when in company. Et is just as true and far more imporvent that the man who keeps his thoughts pure will keep his hands from sin. Now and then society is rightled by a crime which explodes Lie reputation of some one who had grood high in its esteem. But such explosions are no spontaneous affairs of an instant. The train of powder ser slowly laid. No man commits zzzlement who hasn't allowed him. un-self rebuked to think embez-'s' ment.

We have social strengths. Our affection towards others creates a sort of vantage or purchase which nothing will supply. I can do that by another which I cannot do alone. I can say to you what I cannot first say to myself. Other men are lenses through which we read our own minds.—Em-

The doctrine that the necessity of labor is a blessing, and not a curse, cannot be insisted upon too strongly It is to this very necessity that mankind owes not only its first redemption from the savage state, but every step of its advance in a civilization, from which, we trust, a great deal may be expected still.

There is no part of a plant which may not become a tendril. There is part of the character which may not, by excess or weakness, lose its independence and become a burden" or snare to the rest.

If we disobey the dictates of con-science even in the most trifling particular, or allow ourselves to do what we may have some fears may not be quite right, we shall grow more and more sleepy, until the voice of conscience has no longer the power to awaken us.

Never go back. What you attempt, do it with your strength. Determination is omnipotent. If the pros pect be somewhat darkened, put the fire of resolution to your soul, and kindle a flame that nothing but death ean extinguish.

What the tender and poetic youth dreams to-day, and conjures up with inarticulate speech, is to-morrow the vociferated result of public opinion, and the day after the characrer of mations.—Emerson.

A good deal may be done with cross words that rob it of its sweet ness: and an unkind act may be hidden under a friendly voice and manner, both proving the great power which we all possess in the wonderfuinstrument—the voice.

As a fresh wound shrinks from the hand of the surgeon, then gradually submits to and even calls for it; so a mind under the first impression of a misfortune shuns and rejects all com fort, but at length, if touched with tenderness, calmly and willingly resigns itself.

Never harbor animosity toward a friend for a mere hasty expression. Forgiveness is a God-like quality, and s true friend is so scarce that he should not be repudiated on slight grounds; but those who injure you from "malice prepense" should be shunned as you would avoid a tiger. The true test of civilization is, not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops, but the kind of man the country turns out.— Emerson.

We do not balieve immortality because we have proved it, but we forever try to prove it because we believe it.—James Martineau.

The philosopher is he to whom the highest has descended, and the lowest has mounted up—who is the equal and, kindly brother of all.—Curlyle.

In misfortune virtue appears in its greatest splendor. One might say that it resembles those aromatic plants which one must crush in order to win their fragrant balsam .- Klopstock. If in conversation you think a person wrong, rather hint a difference of opinion than offer a contradiction. Real holiness has love for its essence, Limitity for its clothing, the good fof others for its employment, and the Nonor of God as its end.

Worry is rest upon the blade. It is not the revolution that destroys the machinery, but the friction.

Happy is the man who has found out his sins before his sins have found him out. We have all wept; the happy at least once for sorrow; the unhappy at east once for joy.—Richter. Poverty pinches, but not half so hard as vice. The one wounds to heal, the other leaves an ulcer. Life, like some cities, is full of blind alleys, - leading nowhere, the great art is to keep out of them. - Bovee. Man does not want to be an angel until he has failed in everything elso.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Grav Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists,
