Poetry.

THE LITTLE BLACK-EYED REBEL. BY WILLIAM CARLETON. A boy drove into the city, his wagon loaded down with food to feed the people of the British-governed town.

STORY.

THE CHILIAN'S REVENGE.

In the year 1848, Manuel Cabras, a wealthy resident of Valparaiso, had built for him in England, and carried out to the west coast of South America, a small steambark, which he named the Jaquetta.

THE FAIR CHEEK OF MR. PATRICK KAVANAGH.

Probably twenty minutes elapsed. The steam-gauge indicated that the extreme of pressure which it would register—120 pounds. Steam was hissing from minute seams between the plates of the over-stained boiler.

Keeping Winter Apples.

I wish to say a word to the farmers who are about to put their winter fruit in their cellars for next winter and spring use, and give my mode of packing which is the most satisfactory to me of any that I have ever tried.

How to Keep Apples.

Mr. Ray-cliff, of old fruit grower of Washtenaw county, gives us his method for keeping winter apples as follows.

To Cure Hoarseness.

When the voice is lost, as is sometimes the case, from the effect of cold, a simple, pleasant remedy is furnished by beating up the white of one egg, adding the juice of one lemon, and sweetening with white sugar to the taste.

Lip-Salve.

Melt a lump of sugar in a tablespoonful and a half of rose-water; mix with it two tablespoonfuls of sweet-oil, a piece of spermaceti half as large as an English walnut; simmer the whole, and turn it into boxes.

Is a good plan to harrow pastures.

as to distribute the droppings of cattle. The grass about these grows rank, but the animals do not like it; they pass it by the whole season.

And Indiana farmer says when he selects white seed corn he is particular to take the ears that have white cobs only, asserting that if one wants nice and perfectly white corn meal he should never shell an ear that has a red cob.

To Make Ink.

Take extract of logwood one-half ounce, bicarbonate of potash 10 grains, copperas five grains, gum arabic the size of two peas. Dissolve in a quart of hot rain-water; when cool, put in clean bottles and leave unopened for a week or so, to expose to the air is indispensable.

Whatever your profession is, endeavor to acquire merit in it, for merit is esteemed by everybody and is so precious a thing that no person can purchase it.

To Restore Color Taken Out by Acids.

Salt volatile or hartshorn will suffice for this purpose. It may be dropped on silk without doing any injury.

Applied, will remove, if repeatedly used, will remove entirely the worst French spots on carpets or any other woolen cloth, and will answer as well as French chalk for greasy spots on silk.

Mangolds and sugar beets are said to be only equalled by skim-milk as a winter feed for swine.

Beets boiled and mashed with little milk added, will be found an excellent food for hogs by most of our farmers.

To Purify Water.

Put a good sized piece of charcoal into a can of water; it will collect all the impurities. Wash it when the water is changed.
