In the Berrien Springs Era this week will appear a list of lands in this county that have been sold for delinquent taxes and bid in to the State. These delinquent taxes stand as a blot upon the title of the property, and it is to the interest of the property owners to pay off these claims by sending the money to the Auditor General, at Lansing. Several parcels in Buchanan village and township are advertised, and it will be well for the owners of the property to look after them, lest some other person will.

MR. WM. POWERS went to Chicago one day last week and came home feeling about $1,000 poorer than when he went, from the fact that he had lost his pocket book. He was more fortunate than he thought, for on Saturday he received a note from the hotel where he stopped, stating that his book and the money it contained, about $90, were there. He had put the book in his overcoat pocket and handed the coat to the clerk, who doubled it up and put it into a pigeon hole in such a way that the book dropped out.

The lecture of Dr. McLouth last evening, on "The World We Live in," was a highly interesting description of the solar system, and of the particular planet therein in which we are the most interested—the earth. The next lecture of the High School course will be given on Friday evening, Dec. 8, by Dr. J. B. Steere, of Michigan University. The lecture will be an interesting description of his travels abroad, especially of the Island of Formosa and its strange inhabitants.

Southerton, foreman of the first floor in the factory, a pleasant visit at his home last Saturday evening, that was a well planned surprise. The boys left with Mr. Southerton a number of valuable presents, among which were a fine hanging lamp and a full set of dishes. Mr. S. wishes to return his thanks not only for the valuable presents but for the more valuable token of friendship expressed by this gathering. The occasion was that of Mr. Southerton's thirty-second birthday.

ONCE more we hear from the citizens of Wessau township, on the subject of roads leading into this place. Tuesday, as Mr. John Lamb was driving across that half mile of road, just east of the southwest corner of the township, and known as the worst road in the State, the axle of his wagon on struck ground, and he was thrown out and injured by the wheel running into him. Enough has been said about this road to build half a dozen roads of this length in good shape. One job has been let and $50 paid to have it repaired, which consisted in throwing some clay up into the middle of the road, that is now hub deep, and would be deeper if the wheels would reach. It would seem that with $4,000 expended in this township for highway purposes, such places should not exist in the township. Yet the people who live in Mr. Lamb's neighborhood, having three roads by which to reach the village of Buchanan, cannot come here without being used as Mr. Lamb was Tuesday, all three of the roads being next to impassable. Mr. Lamb informs the Record that he proposes to commence suit against the Highway Commissioner for neglect of duty and damages for injuries received.

THIS is Thanksgiving day and everybody should be thankful. We are thankful that this is Thanksgiving day; that the editor eats turkey for dinner—by proxy; that complete railroad connections between this place and St. Joseph are in such good working order; that we have succeeded in running a newspaper without pinching everybody's toes, and a few remain who are happy; that Buchanan streets are perfectly lighted on dark nights, by lanterns; that the engine house is so nicely painted; that cold weather has come and front gates take a rest; that the Common Council is so prompt in enforcing their sidewalk orders; that the fourth Michigan district will be represented in Congress by a profound sage, barely out of his teens, and just out of school; that dame rumor never meddles with the affairs of any one but dead men; that no one living in Berrien Springs ever finds fault with any one else living in Berrien Springs, and all live together in unity and brotherly affection; that no one ever finds fault with public officers without first knowing all about the business; that when we buy a load of wood for a cord, on the seller's say-so, we can always depend on having a cord; that the golden rule is always observed by the citizens of this county; that no one is ever dissatisfied with Michigan weather; that it is so common to find persons who do not think they have the hardest time of any one in the world; that no one ever thinks of reading a local paper without first having paid for it. And who has more to be thankful for?

Teachers' Institutes. The teachers of South-Western Michigan held their first annual meeting at Gallien on Saturday, Nov. 25. It was a grand success, yet the very teachers who most need the instruction imparted at such gatherings, were absent; the young teachers who do not know its value; the mossy back fossilized teacher who never advances, and the self-important teacher who can't learn any more. The law in this state similar to Indiana's law on this subject, would raise the standard of our teachers considerably. The following officers were elected: Pres. Porter Churchill, of Gallien; Vice-Pres. Warren McDaniel, of Buchanan; Treasurer, Miss Maggie Whitehead, of Three Oaks; Secretary, J. Howard Keeler, of Hill's Corners; Executive Committee, A. A. Hall, H. C. Crosby, Miss Bangs, F. M. Coddington, Miss May Elyer. It is noticeable that the above officers are wide-awake, energetic, hard working young men and women, with a determination that will overcome all objections and difficulties. The next meeting will be held on Jan. 6, 1883. Place not yet known. Let every teacher, officer, and parent agitate the work. Remember educational affairs cannot be treated like common things. Teachers can claim better treatment than they receive. If we elevate and enable our teachers, we elevate and enable the people. If our measures tend to degrade the teachers, we degenerate with them our youth. Those who speak lightly of our teachers and education, commit a heinous crime. They profane the majesty of humanity. The school is the mirror which reflects the personal worth and intellectual qualification of the teacher, and the intellectual and moral character of the community as well. Hence, he who elevates the teacher and promotes the cause of education, enhances the glory of his country.

[Berrien Springs Journal.]

Twenty minutes is the fastest time yet made on the narrow gauge between here and Buchanan. It appears by the Chicago dailies of the 21st, that a run of a month ago John Deibel, now of Benton Harbor, while in Chicago was assaulted between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening by three men who pushed him into an alley and robbed him of $24 and three checks for baggage. On Monday of this week John was in Chicago again and met a man by the name of Edward Thomas whom he recognized as one of the men who robbed him. He called an officer who made the arrest, and the baggage checks were found upon his person.

For the Berrien County Record. Short Biographical Sketches of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Quint.

BERRIEN SPRINGS, Nov. 22, 1882. John Clark Quint, son of William and Judith Clark Quint, was born in Anson, Somerset county, Maine, Nov. 3, 1799. At the age of nineteen he married and set up housekeeping in the town of Starks, near his native place. Three years later he went to New Brunswick, where he followed lumbering for six years, leaving his young wife at Starks. Returning, he bought 100 acres of wild land in Concord, Somerset county, on which he resided nine years. Removing three times more, the fourth brought him to Buchanan, where Mr. and Mrs. Q. now reside with their youngest daughter, Mrs. E. P. Spaulding. Before coming to Michigan Mr. Quint worked at lumbering twenty-six winters, driving logs on the Kennebec in the spring, during which time he often risked his life to save others from a watery grave. Mr. Quint estimates that he has killed 120 moose, killing 100 in six winters. During his residence in Concord he served several years as captain of Concord militia.

Mrs. Abigail Bickford Quint, daughter of Henry and Jane Witham Bickford, was born Nov. 27, 1802, in Norridgewock, Somerset county, from which place the family removed to Starks, where she was married to Mr. Quint, Nov. 15, 1818. Mrs. Q. is the mother of eleven children, seven of whom are now living. It is pleasant to know that this aged couple, who have now been married more than sixty-four years, are living in comfort, and still retain their health and faculties to a remarkable degree. L. Q. S.

FROM THREE OAKS. Nov. 29, 1882.

We had about four inches of snow Sunday morning, which made every thing look pleasant.

A few cases of diphtheria in town, but of a mild form. Mr. Jacob English, of New Troy, and Wood Smith, of Hudson, Ind., each shipped a car load of hogs from this place last evening.

Those wishing to pay their taxes can do so now. The book is in the hands of E. H. Vincent, township treasurer. D. F. Bommersheim is at home again. John Mell, of Gallien, is head sawyer in M. H. Olmstead's mill at the present time. He is a good one. Mrs. Millie A. Bullison, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wright, went to Chicago this morning to be gone a few weeks. There will be a Thanksgiving sermon at the Congregational church, by Rev. M. Ager, of the First Baptist church of this place. Peter Streble visited his brother, Namonk Streble, last week, who lives at Rochester, Ind. John Mansfield was in town yesterday. There are a good many deer being shipped here now-a-days, and some very nice ones. There seems to be a little trouble in the school, but guess it will be all quiet soon. B.

NEW BUFFALO ITEMS. Nov. 29, 1882.

About four inches of snow fell here Saturday night. A tramp took a suit of clothes and an overcoat from the waiting-room at the railroad station at this place, last Sunday morning. He now languishes in the county jail. Burkholz Bros. brought in twelve sturgeon from the lake, Tuesday. A Mr. Stringham, of Ontario, is visiting the Deuel families, who are distant relatives of his. Granville Kierstead, who recently moved to Nebraska, has bought a nice farm out there, and is well pleased with the country. It is reported that Cal. Phelps and Edward Dick, of Buchanan, are talking of buying a fruit farm in this vicinity. They both formerly resided here, and would be warmly received by their many friends, should they return. W. A. Daufen is filling up his lumber yard with a good stock of lumber and shingles. There ought to be a sash, door and blind factory here. The new round house will soon be completed. We hope to see more improvements made here by the Chicago and West Michigan Railroad Company in the near future. Thanksgiving services will be held at the M. E. Church, Thursday, at 10:30 A. M.

The Man at the Junction.
Six railway passengers were put down at a junction to wait for a cross-line train. The little depot was the only building in sight, and the men in charge of it were not a telegraph operator. He simply kept the station-house and flagged the trains, and he was no more responsible for the running of the train than the "Tycoon" of Japan. Every one of the six realized this, and yet it wasn't over two minutes before one of the passengers approached him and asked:
"Is that train on time?"
"I guess so."
"You guess so? Don't you know?"
"No, sir."
"You don't, eh? Then how do you know it isn't an hour late?"
"I don't know."
"Well, if that train's late, you'll be—"
Here he was almost away by the old woman who made up the six, and who wanted to know:
"Will I get home to-day?"
"I guess so."
"The train stops here, does it?"
"Yes, sir."
"Stops long enough for me to get on?"
"Oh, yes."
"Well, I'll be back here in five minutes, but if it don't you'll hear from us."
She gave place to a man who had looked at his watch three times in six minutes, and who sternly asked:
"Did I understand that that were to wait here two hours?"
"Yes, sir."
"Is it two hours before that train comes here?"
"Yes, sir."
"Whereabouts on the line is the train now?"
"I don't know."
"Whereabouts on the telegraph?"
"We have no instrument here."
"Haven't, eh? That's a pretty state of affairs! Two long hours, and perhaps four! Now, then, I—"
There was called away by the blowing of a saw-mill whistle, and the most peaceful-looking man in the crowd edged up and inquired:
"Is that train on time?"
"Yes, sir."
"Does it cross here?"
"Yes, sir."
"Always stop?"
"If I should get left here to-night it would cost somebody a good round sum." In the course of the next ten minutes the other two men approached and indulged in about the same style of conversation, and after an interval of ten minutes he was asked what time it was, why he was not an operator, why the telegraph didn't make close connection, and why on earth he didn't have an eating-house in connection with the station. He had a civil answer for every question, and his patience never wavered until just four minutes before the train came. Then the old woman said to him for the twentieth time:
"Do you expect I'll miss the train?"
"I don't know, but I can't be sure."
"For I don't I shall take to the woods!"
And at that the six passengers gathered on the end of the platform, went into convention, and it was unanimously resolved that the arrogant and impudent of public servants must be and is hereby sternly rebuked.—Detroit Free Press.

MORRIS'
TRUE Temperance

Is not signing a pledge or taking a solemn oath that cannot be kept, because of the non-removal of the cause—liquor. They kill a man temperate is to kill the desire for those dreadful artificial stimulants that carry so many bright intellects to premature graves, and desolation, strife and unhappiness into so many families.
