THE ELECTIONS. Elections were held in ten states and territories on Tuesday. The result shows that in

New York the Democrats were in the majority, electing their ticket by from 15,000 to 17,000, though the legislature remains Republican.

Ohio gives Republican gains and reelects Foraker Govenor by about 21,000. The legislature is largely Republican. Massachusetts elects the Republican state ticket by increased majorities, and gives Ames for Governor a plurality of about 18,000. The House will stand 165 Republicans, 72 Democrats, 2 Independents and 1 tied. This shows a Republican gain of 8, and a Democratic loss of 11 from last year. The Senate is 30 Republicans, 10 Democrats, a gain of 5 for the Republicans. Iowa elects the Republican State ticket by reduced majorities, many Republicans who oppose the present prohibition law voting with the Democrats. The legislature will be sufficiently strong, however, to preclude the repeal of the liquor law. The labor vote will be from 9,000 to 10,000 while the straight prohibition vote is said to be under 200 in the State.

Pennsylvania elects the Republican State ticket by about 33,000 plurality, which is a Democratic gain compared with the vote of 1885, and that for Governor last year. The Democrats and "personal liberty" party (saloonkeepers union) worked together.

New Jersey voted for members of the legislature, and the returns indicate that it will stand as follows: Senate -Republicans, 12; Democrats, 9-House-Republicans, 37; Democrats, 23, thus insuring a Republican successor to McPherson in the U.S. Senate.

Virginia elects a Democratic legislature by a large majority, insuring the election of a Democratic successor to U. S. Senator Mahone.

Oregon voted on three proposed amendments to the Constitution. The first, prohibition amendment, was defeated by not less than 7,000 or 8,000; the second, relative to the legislature fixing salaries, is defeated by 20,000; the third, changing the time of holding elections, is beaten by 1,000 to 1,500.

In the first district of Rhode Island occurred an election for Congressman. Warren Arnold, Rep., is elected over Charles S. Bradley by a majority of 542. Last fall Bradley had a plurality of 600, but a majority was necessary to elect, and a postponed election was necessary ed by about the same majority.

But one man was saved from fifty who were on board the wrecked steamer Vernon, that went down in Lake Michigan during last week's gale. By his evidence it appears that the life preservers were worthless, the captain drunk, and the ship overloaded. The authorities are now looking after the inspector and the owners of the steamer. President Cleveland has received notice from Holland that that powerful nation will hold him personally responsible if he allows the Anarchists to hang to-morrow. With the United States as his bondsmen, Mr. Cleveland can bear the responsibility without crippling him very materially. When such foreign rascals want to uphold the attempts of their offscourings to break up our institutions, they may learn something valuable in attempting it. The hanging of the seven Chicago Anarchists may result in good in restricting the flocking to this country of the criminals and outcasts of Europe. The time is arriving when every imigrant must be provided with a certificate from the United States Minister to his country that he has a decent record at home before he may land his baggage on our shores.

Gen. Gordon returned to his native bailiwick, in Georgia, before he had quite completed his job of crushing Gov Foraker.

The South Bend Tribune has bought the Register, established and for many years operated by Schuyler Colfax, and no more will be seen of the St. Joseph Valley Register.

There was an election in Chicago on Tuesday, which resulted in a complete sweep for the Republicans by large majorities. Judge Joseph E. Gary, before whom the Anarchists were tried, was candidate for Judge of Supreme Court, and against him was pitted

A moment of reflection brings to each of us abundant reasons for observing a day of thanksgiving and praise. Though our fields have not brought forth their usual bounty, yet during the year God's hand has stayed and kept afar pestilence and famine, war and dessension. and has showered upon our state and its grateful people the blessings of prayer, loyalty and contentment, and numberless benefits that only its individuals can accourt. It is therefore in humble recognition of God's wonderful goodness to us, and in harmony with the revered cus tom of our fathers, that I appoint Thursday, November 24, 1887, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise. In the sunshine of His providence may our hearts be lifted to Him in earnest thankfulness, and when bowed down with the afflictions that come to all we may in confidence approach him for help. And that we may give testimony of our appreciation of his kindly dealings with us, let our praises and thank offerings on that day be borne to him on the wings of sacrifice. Let those who enjoy the reunion of families and friends remember the widow, the orphan and the lone ones such properties, should be punished Let those who are the recipients of comfort, cheer and social enjoyment be mindful of the poor in the deeds of charity: and Let those who labor and toil for hire be given, by their employers, a day about their own bearthstones for thanksgiving and respite, without the loss of daily bread to their families. PHACTS AND PHYSIC. Found an Old Friend.

LANSING, Mich, Nov. 1, 1887. COLOMA, Mich., Dec. 3, 1885. GENTLEMAN:—One of your circulars came to my notice to-day, and it reminds me of an old and valuable friend, one that saved my life 12 years ago, and because I had not needed its help since, I had almost forgotten it. I was 16 years old and suffering from menstrual derangement; I coughed continually and had chills every day: I was as miserable as anyone could be and live. A lady who knew the cause of my illness persuaded my mother to have me use Zoa-Phora-it was called Woman's Friend then. Before I had used one bottle my cough and chills ceased. I kept on and used two bottles and they brought eim out all right. afterwards married and am now the mother of three nice hearty children. I feel that I owe a great deal to Zoa-Phora. I hope it will become well known, and that every woman and girl who needs it will use it. If you will send me some circulars I will give them to acquaintances, and do all I can to help you. Yours truly, reached when 733,993 Europeans landed in the United States. Immigration from England had declined and that from Ireland fallen to a minimum; but from southern Germany there was an immense increase, while eastern Europe sent Poles, Bohemians, Russians, Huncarians and their congeners by tens of thousands. In many of these people hatred of government had become a hereditary sentiment. Chicago became headquarters for the discontented, and The Arbeiter Zeitung (Workers' Journal) their organ. Then spring up in that city the International Workingmen's association. The platform or declaration of principles of this organization, as was testified to at the trial, urged that "the present system under which property is owned by individuals should be destroyed and that all capital which has been produced by labor should be transformed into common property." The association was divi-ded, into "groups," of which there were eighty in the United States in March, 1885, located principally in the cities of industry

SCENE OF THE BOMB THROWING. The Chicago groups were known as the North Side, the Northwest Side, the American, the Karl Marx, the Freiheit, the South-west Side and Jefferson No. 1. Schwab, Neebe and Lingg belonged to the North Side "group"," Engel and Fischer to the Northwest Side, and Spies, Parsons and Fielden to the istic organization called the Lehr und Wehr-Verein, whose members seem to have also en members of the International "groups," but to have been of a higher rank. The branch of the International Workingmen's association which existed in Chicago during 1835 and up to May 4, 1886, was a com-pact, well disciplined organization. At the head of it was a general or central committee. Next to it came the Lehr und Wehr-Verein., Then came the "armed sections" of the various "groups," and then came the un-armed members of the "groups."

EXPLOSION OF BOMB. at the McCormick works, and there was an encounter between the "scabs" and police on one side and the strikers on the other. A short and terrible fight occurred; several men were killed and many more wounded in various degrees. From the battle ground August Spies hurried to the office of The Arbeiter Zeitung, wrote and had printed and distributed the noted revenge circular. On May 4 there was rioting nearly all day on Blue Island avenue, near the McCormick works. The First regiment was ordered to bo in readiness at its armory and the entire police force was kept in instant readiness. The Arbeiter Zeitung of that morning urged destructive action, and the Anarchists were busy among the strikers all day. Thousands of copies of the following notice were scattered through the city:

ATTENTION, WORKLINGHEN Great mass meeting to-night at 7:30 o'clock at the Haymarket, Randolph street, between Des-plaines and Halstead. alleged to have been agreed upon as the signal for immediate revolution, also appeared in that number of the paper.

THE FATEFUL NIGHT. On the evening of May 4 about 2,000 people assembled. The managers placed the wagon on which the speakers were to stand a little way up Desplaines street from the Haymarket, by the mouth of a convenient alloy, and at a point where they could have a full view of the police as the latter advanced from their Desplaines Street station. Mayor Carter Harrison was in the crowd and expressed some surprise at the mildness of the first speakers, Spies and Parsons. The crowd was disappointed, teo, and was fast melting away, when Fielden took his stand in the wagon. Ilis most intimate English friends could not have recognized the mild Methodist exhorter and laborer of other days. His frenzied declamation excited what remained of the crowd, and their applause reacted on him. It was testified at the trial that he called for immediate action in these words Arm! Arm!! Throttle and kill the law! Then Insportor Bonfield decided to disperse the meeting. Seven companies of policemen, 175 men, in platoons reaching from curb to curb, marched from their station of Desplaines street north to the wagon. As they drew near, Fielden is sworn to have should: "Here come the bloodhounds; you do your duty and I'll do mine!" Capt. Ward, of the police, called out: "In the name of the people of the state of Illinois I command you to peaceably disperse!"

On behalf of the state appeared States Attorney Julius S. Grinnell, assisted by Messrs. Frank Walker, Edmund Furth-man and George C. Ingham; for the accused, Capt. W. P. Black, Moses Salomon, W. A. argued for several days. The application being refused, an appeal was taken to the supreme court of Illinois, and once more the whole case was thoroughly argued. It is needless to detail the legal steps; suffice it that so much time was consumed that the care did not reach the supreme court till March 17, 1387. Then Messrs. Grinnell, Walker, Ingham and Attorney General Hunt, for the state, and Messrs, Black, Salomon, Zeisler and Leonard Swett, for the defense, discussed the issues as to whether the court below had erred, whether the Apar-

GEORGE ENGEL'S LETTER. Dear Sir-J, George Engel, citizen of the United States and of Chicago, and condemned to death, learn that thousands of citizens petition you, as the highest executive officer of the state of Illi-nois, to commute my sentence of death to ind-prisonment. I protest emphatically against this on the following grounds: I am not aware of having violated any laws of this country. In my firm belief in the constitu-tion which the founders of this republic be-queathed to this people, and which remains un-altered, I have exercised the right of free speech, free press, free flought and free assemblage, as guaranteed by the constitution, and have criti-cised the existing bondition of society and suc-cored my fellow citizens with my advice, which I regard as the right of every-honest citizen. The experience which I have had in this country, dur-ing the fifteen years that I have lived here, con-cerning the ball and the administration of our public functionaries who have become totally cor-rupt, have eradicated my belief in the existence of equal rights of poor and rich, and the action of the public officers, police and militia have produced the firm belief in me that these conditions cannot late long. In accordance with this experience I neod faith of the rights which are guaranteed by public officers, police and militia have produced in good faith of the rights which are guaranteed by guilt, the "powers that be" may murder me, but they cannot legally punish me. JUST BEFORE THE TRAGEDY. The evolution of the tragedy was curiously egular. 1. 804 First, as has been shown, these men taught radical Socialism. Next, they organized discontented workingmen to act more efficiently in strikes. The usual trouble arose: "scabs" took the place of striking workmen, they were attacked by the strikers, the police were called on for protection and the inevitable question was presented-shall we fight? The Anarchists, in speech and in The Arbeiter Zeitung, vehemently, urged destructive measures. They exhorted the strikers to fight both the "scabs" and the police, gave minute instructions how to use nitro-glycerine and manufacture bombs, and had sections" of their supporters who drilled nightly and were instructed in the use of

At length it was boldly announced that the Anarchists had 5,000 armed and well drilled revolutionists in Chicago, and it was proved that they really had 3,000 at this time, as was sworn to during the trial. The Arbeiter Zeitung and The Alarm published many such sentiments as these: Daggers and revolvers are easily to be gotten; hand grenades are cheaply to be produced. Will the workingmen supply themselves with weapons, dynamite and prussic acid? The workingmen ought to take aim at every member of the militia. And while the writers acted with what

The agitation growing out of the attempt to enforce flie eight hour law led directly to the tragedy. / As early as May, 1884, the or-ganized working of Chicago gave notice that on the list of May, 1886, they would insist upon the general observance of the law. It is not necessary to detail the numerous vo years in various sections of the country; flice it, that each one was eagerly seized upon by the anarchists as fresh proof that building was formally opened; there was a somewhat riotous popular demonstration against it, and Fielden and Parsons addressed the assemblage in language more inflammatury than ever before. In July, 1885, there was a general strike of street car employes.

Fielden stepped down from the wagon exclaiming: "We are reascable!"

It was claimed by the prosecution that the word "peaceable" was the signal agreed on. There was dead silence for perhaps ten seconds, the crowd slowly moving oll and the police standing firm, when a strange fizzing sound was heard near the mouth of the alley and thenes a little bell recain curve over the wagon and fell between the second and third companies of police. There was a blinding flash, an explosion that was heard firmness and steadiness of veterans, they sprang forward, emptying their revolvers into the flying crowd as they went, and fol-lowing their shots with their clubs they cleared the street in less than three minutes of all save the dead and wounded. From alley, gutter and hallway came deep groans and curses. Is is estimated that twenty of the crowd were killed and about 150 wounded. An Anarchist named Kistler was killed by the bomb. Eesides Officer Degan, killed outright, the policemen who died of their wounds were J. J. Barrett, George Miller, Timothy Flani-han, Michael Shechan, Thomas Reddin and Neil Hansen. After the dispersion of the mob came the saddest scenes of the occasion. The dead and wounded policemen were rap idly conveyed to the station, the latter made comfortable as possible and surgeons called, but not before their wives and year relatives hurried there, for bad news flies fast. The tears of some, the sobs and load cries of others, the groans, the gashes, the blood and mangled bodies-all these formed a seene to wring the hearts of the pitiful endered its decision on the 2d of November, holding, in brief, that the jury law of Illinois does not contravene any provision of the national constitution, and that the question as to whether the state constitution and laws had been strictly observed was one for the state courts alone.- The court confined itself vory strictly to the case before it, entering into the general questions raised only so far as absolutely necessary. But two points, therefore, were passed upon in regard to the amendments. The court held that the first ten amendments limit the powers of the Federal government, not the powers of a state over its citizens; and that the Fourteenth amendment has not changed the rule in that respect. In all other matters the court holds that it has no jurisdiction, as the questions as to violating the national constitution were
