THE HIGH WATER

Much Damage and Loss Following the Recent Storms.

RIVERS A RAGING TORRENT

Bridges Swept Away and Railroad Tracks Submerged.

The recent severe storms together with the melting of the snow, has caused the rivers to rise, and consequent much damage and disaster to follow.

The St. Joe River has been on a rampage for a week past and dams and bridges all along its course have been unable to withstand the unusual and terrific force of water.

After the breaking of the dam in the St. Joe at Three Rivers on Thursday, an immense volume of water poured down stream and on Saturday a section of the dam at Niles went out.

As the Buchanan dam is the last one, being situated nearest the mouth of the stream, it gets the full force of all the water from up stream.

On Saturday the water at the power house was 6 feet above normal, there being 5.4 feet of water flowing over the dam, making it 8 ft. above low water mark. The water was within 6 inches of floor level at the power house Saturday and engineer Babcock said if it comes up the 6 inches it will necessitate the closing down of the machinery, which means the shutting off the lighting from the city of South Bend, and leaving it in darkness. At last report the water was receding, and it is hoped the worst is over.

A number of places along the Michigan Central are under water, and the time tables are all disarranged.
At Battle Creek the tracks are submerged for a considerable distance, and at Kalamazoo the trains could neither enter nor leave on Saturday, as there were wash outs on either side of the city.

The Pere Marquette and Grand Trunk are equally disabled, and much inconvenience is experienced by the traveling public.

Monday Club.

The Monday Club met with Mrs.
Worthington Monday, March 27.
The opening exercises were conducted by Mrs. E. S. Dodd. Mrs. Roe read her report as Sec.; Mrs. Phelps gave critics' report, after which Mrs.
Redden conducted a very interesting lesson in history, covering the period from 1820 to 1887.

After recess the committee, Miss Lemon and Mrs. Howard provided a very enjoyable afternoon with the English Artists Miss Samson read a short paper on Art; Mrs. Roe read an article on Sir Joshua Reynolds; Mrs. Johnson read a brief sketch of Wm. Turner; Mrs. E. S. Dodd had an account of Gainsborough; Mrs. Phelps told of the sculptor Armstead; Mrs.
Smith read an original poem, A Tribute to Art.

Roll call was responded by quotations in regard to art in its various phases. The committee then presented each one present with a copy of some noted painting, as a souvenir of the day. Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Howard Monday, April 3.

HORSE DROWNED.

Saturday Mr. Duncan, an electrical engineer in Mr. Chapin's employ from South Bend, drove over to the power house here, getting a rig from Liveryman Zwergel at Niles. The horse was led near the mill race about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and soon after was discovered missing.

It was found shortly afterwards in the mill race in about eighteen feet of water. The supposition is that the horse had attempted to take a drink and being checked up, lost his balance and fell into the race, carrying the buggy along. The rig was valued at about $150.

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

For the Nomination of Township Officers
- met in the Opera House Saturday
p. m.

A. A. Worthington called the meeting to order. It was moved that Mr. Worthington be the permanent chairman. He not being able to remain during the entire session Herbert Roe was nominated to the position. Mr. Graffort was nominated by Chas. Pears for secretary. The chairman then appointed O. P. Woodworth, W. H. Keller and John Bro-ceus as tellers.

The first business was the nomination of Supervisor. The first ballot was 107 votes, as follows: W. O.
Churchill, 22; J. P. Beistle, 43; Geo.
Batchelor, 29; Chas. B. Treat, 10.

There being no choice, a second ballot was taken, when 115 votes were cast with the following result:
W. O. Churchill, 18; J. P. Beistle, 60;
Geo. Batchelor, 33; C. B. Treat, 3; Joe Richards, 1. Mr. Beistle having received the majority of votes was declared elected.

There being but one candidate for the following offices, they were elected by acclamation:

Clerk—F. W. Ravin
Treasurer—W. J. Miller
Highway Com.—W. W. Wray
Justice of the Peace—B. F. Fisk
School Inspector—Benj. Chamberlain

Board of Education

Announcement has been made of the candidacy of Supt. A. F. Probst for the republican nomination for member of the state board of education.
His only opponent so far is L. L.
Wright, of Ironwood, the member incumbent, who was appointed by Governor Bliss to succeed Lincoln Avery, resigned. Considerable opposition has been developed to Mr.
Wright's candidacy, because of his action in voting to locate the new state normal school at Kalamazoo. It is certain that Western Michigan will be almost solidly against Wright, and many of the southern counties will favor Mr. Probst. In fact Mr.
Wright's only strength in the convention will be purely that arising from geographical considerations.

Mr. Probst's friends about the state are much interested in his candidacy, and are in hopes that he will win and thus be the entering wedge in a new deal that is much to be desired in the state board of education affairs. "Mr.
Probst is amply equipped in both education and experience to fill the position, and is held in high regard in Michigan educational circles. Naturally, Northern-Kent will lend a warm support to his candidacy, and as Kent county politicians generally are very sore over the Kalamazoo graft, it is regarded as an easy proposition that the Kent county delegation will support Mr. Probst for the place.—Ex.

HEROIC FIREMAN

Though Severely Burned He Went Back.

TO SAVE ANOTHER CREW

And Avert Another Catastrophe—Flagged
on Coming Train.

Public interest in the terrible tragedy of last Thursday evening is still maintained, and any new development in Fireman Moses' condition is sought for with keen interest. He is at present lying in the hospital at Kalamazoo, in a most serious and critical condition.

The jury at Niles after taking the testimony of Conductor Curtis and Rear Brakeman O'Dell adjourned until April 9, on account of the absence of Fireman Moses, who is too ill to testify in the case.

The last train to pass over the road
previous to the accident was in charge of Conductor Howe of Kalamazoo, whose wife was in Buchanan the first of the week and who told a Record representative a number of thrilling incidents in connection with the accident, which she had learned from her husband.

Fireman Moses, though suffering intensely from the severe burns resulting from the steam, heard a freight train approaching from the east, and summoning all his strength started toward the approaching train to stop it, and thus prevent another terrible disaster; bravely making his way through the intense storm, he succeeded in signaling to the train and stopped its approach.

Conductor Curtis had in the mean time started in the opposite direction to flag the express, and his promptness in this matter doubtless saved scores of lives. Conductor Curtis is a cousin of Mrs. Walla Wood of this place.

The wrecked engine was taken to Niles Saturday and the huge monster is a shapeless wreck.

SUNDAY WEDDING

At the home of the bride, at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, Miss Rose Batchelor, daughter of Geo. Batchelor was married to Elta Denno of Buchanan township.

There were only about 20 persons present, near relations of the contracting parties. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Norris the bride's grandmother. After the ceremony which was performed by the Rev.
Douglass, a wedding supper was served.

For the present the young couple will remain at the bride's home, and later go to housekeeping in the old Denno homestead.

Wm. Smyser of Mishawaka, an uncle of the groom's, was the only out of town guest.

The Value of Trees

In many parts of our country farming would be impossible but for the trees, such is their influence upon the streams. They regulate the water-supply, and their tendency is to prevent both floods and drought; they supply fuel, one of the greatest necessities of life, and they furnish the lumber for the building of our cities, railroads, ships, and a thousand other things without which our present state of civilization would not have been possible for ages, if at all. This is why we should be careful of our foreests, which are fast dwindling away in many sections; this is why we should legislate against sheep-grazing in the forests, and against all other practices which tend to cause forest fires, and why we should try to protect our trees from their natural enemies, such as landslides, floods, insects and fungi. And it is well to bear in mind the fact that we cannot replace in fifty years a tree which we can destroy in an hour.—April Woman's Home Companion.

The Country Newspaper.

We have heard it said that since the advent of the rural carrier and the suburban railway, bringing the city and country more closely together, the country newspaper would be a thing of the past. This, however, is not a fact. There can be no change in conditions that will ever affect the country newspaper. It has a field distinctly its own and will continue to hold it so long as the subscriber to the local paper has a particle of interest in the neighborhood happenings and that will be always. The city newspaper cannot now, nor will it in the future, take the place in the homes of country and towns people that their local paper does. The news columns of the city daily are too limited to give the personal news of the villages, and it would soon lose its usefulness as a city paper should it attempt it. The country and village people want to know what their neighbors are doing and can only learn it from their local paper. Consequently they will continue to subscribe for it so long as it retains its individuality as a local newspaper and remains close to its patrons.
Advertisers know this and will continue to patronize the country newspaper. While it is true that the city daily has increased its suburban circulation, it has only added to the reading matter of the country and village people and not in any way taken the place of the local paper or affected in any way its usefulness or circulation.—The Michigan Farmer,

The Utica Globe says: The bosom of the country editor would swell with pride if he could ride uptown on a New York elevated train on the afternoon of Friday or Saturday of any week in the year. On these two days a great many business men give only a hasty glance at the evening paper, and then immediately draw from a pocket a copy of a paper that is in marked contrast to the city papers, as far as type and general appearance go. The type is invariably larger, and the display of advertising and heads to news articles are commonly smaller. The ink is not always spread evenly over the page.
Never the less the business man opens the paper to the page devoted to news and reads every line there. After that he infrequently reads the village advertisements and gives a brief look at the editorials. The city man used to live in the village where that paper was printed, and he recognizes the names printed there as those of old acquaintances, perhaps friends.
The village paper to him is like a letter from home. He may get it by subscription; more frequently it is from loving friends at the old home who wrap it up and send it after the family there have read it.

Isn't It A Satisfaction

to enter a store that has only the newest, best and freshest stocks? A store that weeds out all the odds and ends at the finish of every season and keeps its counters and shelves filled with attractive new goods?

We have the largest, best equipped and most conveniently arranged clothing store in Northern Indiana.

Every article we sell is backed by the Spiro guarantee and that means the quality is there, the style is right and that it must come up to your highest expectation.

Good clothes are always worth what they cost, but paying the price doesn't get them.

The reasons for buying Spiro suits are: First, they are good clothes; second, they cost enough to be good, and no more; third, if you don't think they're as good as they cost, you can have your money back.

We are now receiving new spring suits and overcoats from eastern markets, and we will be glad to see you and to show them to you.

We won't bore you to buy if you should not be ready to.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL

Township Sunday School Convention Held

THEME TEACHER TRAINING

Sickness Prevented as Large Attendance as Usual But Good Program Was Given.

The Buchanan-Bertrand Townships' Sunday School Union held its eleventh annual convention at the United Brethren and Methodist churches, March 26 and 27, 1904.

The program committee did its best to have an interesting and profitable service at each session, but on account of sickness changes were made and the program as published was not carried out in full. Many S. S. workers were missed. The measles play havoc even with the attendance at S. S. Convention.

"Teacher Training" was the theme. Those who were privileged to attend the five sessions, were greatly strengthened in the work.

At the United Brethren church Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. J. Tarrant led in the devotional service, followed with prayer by Rev. W. J. Douglass. "Why we are Here," led by the president, was answered by Rev. Douglass, Mrs. L. Broceus, Mrs. J. B. Stryker, Misses Hubbell and Beardsley, Mr. Blandford and Rev. W. D. Cole.

The Home Department was considered next by Harry Blandford, of Benton Harbor, followed by a blackboard talk by Rev. W. D. Cole, subject, "The Life of Christ." He showed the importance of associating the events in the study with the map, also the mission of the four Gospels.

Saturday evening the song service and devotionals were led by Rev. W. J. Douglass, followed with prayer by Rev. J. A. Halmhuber. A. A. Worthington gave a most excellent talk upon "How to Study the Bible" coupled with a personal experience of three years. We wish all S. S. workers could have heard that; "How to Study the Bible," was the most important work of life—it is the problem of this century, the teachers' business is how to create an appetite in pupils; to master this problem teachers must have a plan; the International Lessons defeating the plan was shown in a logical manner. The importance of teachers' studying secular history was clearly brought out. Mr. Worthington has the thanks of the S. S. workers for this rich treat.

"Soul Winning in the S. S." was not discussed by the convention in the absence of Rev. A. Ostroth, thinking perhaps he could be with us on Sunday afternoon. The chair appointed the nominating committee: Rev. W. J. Douglass, W. G. Hathaway, Mrs. L. Broceus, Miss Hubbell, A. C. Roe, Chas. Treat and Rev. A. Ostroth. Committee on resolutions: Rev. W. D. Cole, Mrs. J. B. Stryker, A. C. Roe and I. L. H. Dodd.

After singing the benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. A. Halmhuber.

Sunday afternoon the convention met at the M. E. church. Rev. Chas. Shook had charge of the song service and devotionals. Rev. J. A. Halmhuber talked to the Juniors in the absence of Mrs. Pennell. Fred Washburn of Benton Harbor, the county secretary addressed the convention upon the important subject, "The Trained Teacher and Why," using an outline on the blackboard.

The speaker said the trained teacher has a knowledge of Jesus Christ, the Bible, the scholar and the Sunday school methods. The trained teachers are developed socially, spiritually, intellectually and skillfully.

Eight important reasons were given for having trained teachers. Christ our example was emphasized.

Financial need in Township Sunday school work was presented by Rev. W. J. Tarrant. After singing, the benediction was offered by Rev. W. D. Cole.

The church was well filled by the young people of the different societies for the 6 o'clock service conducted by I. L. H. Dodd. The subject considered was "Missions." The speakers were Rev. J. A. Halmhuber, who spoke of the Japanese, he having been born in Japan, also of other Asiatic countries. Miss Wright spoke of the European nations; Miss Hubbell, child widows of India; Miss Tarrant, South America; Rev. W. J. Tarrant, Africa and Rev. W. J. Douglass, America.

our own country. The Methodist choir, led by Mrs. E. S. Dodd, greatly assisted the music during this service.

The orchestra consisted of Mr. H. Dickenson, Clarence Stryker, Arlin Clark, Jesse East, Louis Runner and Miss Ethel Stryker organist, rendered a selection much appreciated by all. R. v. Halmhuber conducted the devotionals, after which a solo, "Abide with me," was sung by Mrs. Harry Perrot, which was much enjoyed.

Essentials and nonessentials in Sunday school work was next considered by Mr. Washburn. The orchestra favored the convention with another selection in the absence of the boy choir of the Methodist Sunday school.

Rev. W. J. Tarrant gave an able address, subject, "The Bible." The annual reports were read by the secretary and treasurer.

|--------------|---------|
| Receipts | $29 76 |
| Expenditures | $24 39 |
| Balance | $ 5 37 |

These two reports were approved. The nominating committee reported for president, Rev. W. J. Tarrant; 1st vice pres., A. A. Worthington; 2nd vice pres., A. C. Roe; 3rd vice pres., Lewis B. Rough; secretary, Edith Beardsley; treasurer, Chas. Treat; superintendent primary department, Mrs. D. F. Bower; secretary, Miss C. Hubbell.

Executive committee consists of the officers of this association, of the pastors of the churches and the superintendent of each Sunday school. Offering $7.64.

The committee on resolutions did not report.

The organists who greatly assisted during these sessions were Miss Hubbell, Miss Beulah Jenks, Miss Kate Deering and Dr. Garland.

It is the wish of this organized effort that we have a Home Department and a Cradle Roll in each Sunday school; that each child in these two townships should be in a Sunday school, every Sunday school worker at work doing their best to achieve this great end.

EDITH BEARDSLEY, Secretary.

FIRE IN A PRISON PLANT

Only Hard Work by the Fire-Fighters Saves the State Penitentiary Itself.

Jackson, Mich., March 29. — The plant of the Bromwell Brush and Wire Goods company, of Cincinnati, connected with the state prison here, was destroyed by fire. Had there been a high wind the prison itself would also have gone, but by hard work the prison fire department aided by city firemen, kept the flames within the Bromwell plant.

One hundred and forty-three convicts were employed in the plant. The loss will be very heavy, but it has been impossible to get an estimate of it yet. There was no panic among the prisoners, who were not taken out of their cells during the fire.

Later—The loss falls almost entirely on the contractors, and is estimated at $30,000; insurance, $20,000.

Flies a Sensational Bill.

Detroit, March 29.—U. R. Loranger, one of the stockholders and former manager of the Hecla Portland Cement and Coal company, has filed a sensational bill in the United States circuit court asking for a change of receiver. The bill alleges all sorts of lapses on the part of directors. It states that they have been wasteful in the expenditure of $300,000 and wants that amount returned to the treasury.

Her Investment Did Not Pay.

Muskegon, Mich., March 29. — A prominent society woman of this city made a recent trip to Canada and there purchased a $500 seal skin coat. She wore it back to this city. The revenue officers came after her, with the result that the lady is now without the coat and she barely escaped arrest.

Ducks Are Plentiful.

Algonac, Mich., March 29. — The river at this place is black with wild ducks. Hunters get out before daybreak and hundreds of ducks have been shot. Flocks of from 100 to 300 ducks are flying around.

Junior Co-Ed Wins a Prize.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 29.—Ann E. Hubber, a junior co-ed, has been awarded the Chicago commons fellowship. It enables her to live in the Chicago Social Settlement and study sociological conditions.

It's a Great Pump.

Negaunee, Mich., March 29. — A pump thirty-two feet long, twenty-seven feet high and which weighs 37,000 pounds, is being installed in the Mass mine.

Morton McMichael Dead.

Philadelphia, March 29. — Morton McMichael, a prominent banker of this city, died suddenly from heart disease at his home. McMichael was 68 years of age and leaves two children, Morton McMichael III, a journalist now in Europe, and Mrs. Henry M. Hoyt, wife of the solicitor general of the United States.

The Real Crusoe.

The adventures of Selkirk differ only in detail from the story of Crusoe. The real Crusoe, as we may call him, was not shipwrecked, but came ashore voluntarily. He was a Scotchman, and landed from an English ship, the "Cinque Ports," a little vessel of but ninety odd tons burden, carrying eighteen guns, commanded by Captain William Dampier, in 1704. Selkirk was the sailing master of the vessel, and, in reality, he had had a "falling out" with the captain some time before, and begged to be put ashore. Just what this quarrel may have been is not known, since the account comes from the captain himself. Selkirk lived alone on the island for four years and four months, and was then rescued by Captain Rogers of the Duke and taken back to England. Captain Rogers wrote the original account of Selkirk's adventures, so that we have the true story of this famous romance at first hand.

When Selkirk landed to take possession of his island-kingdom he carried fewer provisions than the Crusoe of the story. A boat from the "Cinque Ports" brought him to the beach with his seaman's chest and meagre possessions and put him ashore.

As the boat pulled away, Selkirk quickly regretted his act, and begged on his knees to be taken back to the ship. The sailors refused, returning alone, so that the original Crusoe found himself an unwilling prisoner. There was little romance in the situation. His entire possessions comprised only some clothes and bedding, a firelock, one pound of powder, some bullets, tobacco, a hatchet, a knife, a Bible and his mathematical instruments and books.

Four years and four months later, when Selkirk—now safely on board the Duke—told the story of his adventures, the misery of those first hours on the island were still clear in his memory. As the ship disappeared he sat upon his seaman's chest in utter dejection. He ate nothing for many hours. His greatest fear was that with the coming of night he would be attacked by wild animals. In his own words, "I went to sleep when I could watch no longer." For a long time he remained in such low spirits that he could eat only at rare intervals. His first food was the flesh of seals and the coarse food picked up along the beach.—From Francis Arnold Collin's "Robinson Crusoe's Island" in April St. Nicholas.

Township Tickets

In today's RECORD we give the tickets nominated last week by the democratic and republican parties. Both tickets have good men and anything we might say for one or against the other, would not make any material difference. All the candidates are well known and certainly merit the confidence of their party adherents, or they would not have been nominated.

There has not been for a long time such hopeful prospects for our village and township as at the present, and there ought nothing be done to mar the harmony and mutual good fellowship among all.

The tickets are both straightforward, open tickets and appeal to the loyalty of each party to his candidates.

The democratic party can teach the republicans a lesson of loyalty, and it might be well to begin learning at once. There are a few soreheads in every party, who because they cannot rule, would defeat every other candidate; there are a few, and we are glad to say a very few, of that kind in Buchanan, but let us just make a remark right here; such people are known, and rest assured that as they sow, thus shall they also reap. As the judgment day will reveal what was thought to be hidden; so one may expect a judgment day politically.

Lo-tus Pellets you will find are the best family pills, curing indigestion and constipation and all diseases of the liver and stomach. Small and easily taken, particularly intended for ladies and children. Large boxes, fifty pellets for 25c at Dr. E. S. Dodd & Son's.

Magazine Free.

Twentieth Century for April is of special interest on account of a fascinating Russian War Story written by Capt. Frederick L. King, a beautiful Easter cover design drawn by Charles E. Waltensperger, and a pleasing sketch of the career of this talented Michigan artist, who was aided in ascending the ladder of fame by Hon. William E. Quinby and Hon. James E. Scripps, of Detroit. The magazine is richly illustrated and full of new and really valuable articles for home reading. If any reader of this paper has not seen this popular magazine he can get one copy free by writing to the Twentieth Century Review, Detroit.

What Microbes Are.

Since Pasteur demonstrated the fact that many human cases are due to minute living things which grow and multiply in our bodies, there has been a tendency to call all microscopic organisms, whether harmful or not, "germs" or "microbes" or "bacteria" indiscriminately. This confusion may be cleared by the statement that protozoa are the lowest known forms of animals and that bacteria are the lowest known forms of plants, while "germs" and "microbes" may apply to the disease-causing forms in either group.—From Gary N. Calkin's "Protozoa and Disease" in the April Century.

House Demolished

Mrs. Clarence Glover, well known in Buchanan, has been conducting a boarding house very profitably at Indiana Harbor, but the cyclone of last Thursday evening, that gave us a gentle reminder, demolished the house, the occupants of which were only saved from death by rushing into the kitchen, which alone remained.

Mrs. Glover has been spending several days with friends and relatives here, but has returned to secure a house elsewhere in Indiana Harbor, to continue her business.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache of liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at W. N. Brodrick's drug store.

FILIPINOS CAN FIGHT

George L. Zimmerman Writes an Interesting Letter.

DESCRIBES MANILA AND

How it Feels to be Under Fire the First Time When Mauser Bullets Whiz by.

C. A. Simonds of Niles, received the following letter from George L. Zimmerman, a member of the 20th U. S. Infantry, then stationed at Manila. Mr. Zimmerman is a son of Richard Zimmerman, who resides on the Fred Andrews' farm and desires to have the letter reproduced.

MANILA, PHILIPPINE ISLANDS, March 30, 1899.

MR. C. A. SIMONDS—Dear Sir: I will write you a few lines letting you know that I am well and hope this will find you the same. I presume my parents have told before this that I had gone to the Philippines, so I will endeavor to give you an idea of what kind of a trip we had.

We were stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. We left that place on the 21st of January. We had a pleasant trip by rail from the Fort to Pueblo, Col. on the Missouri & Pacific. There we changed to the Denver & Rio Grande Road. The mountain scenery was grand, grander than I can tell. One must see it to fully appreciate it. We passed through the royal gorge. At Salt Lake City we got a glimpse of the Mormon temple. At Ogden, Utah we changed again to the Southern Pacific. We saw some nice country in Utah. Then down on the White Plains of Nevada and up into the Sierra Nevada mountains, reaching their summit just at sunset. The scenery was something never to be forgotten. There are 40 miles of snow sheds on this line. It was quite a contrast. At sunset we were up in the mountains amid snow banks 15 to 20 feet deep and at 10 o'clock at night we were down among orange groves in California. We arrived at Oakland, Cal., Thursday morning and crossed the bay to San Francisco on a ferry boat. It seemed strange to see roses and geraniums in bloom in the gardens at time of the year. We did not stop in Frisco, but marched to our transport, the Scandia, and that night we steamed out through the Golden Gate, so often spoken of, just as the sun was setting. We were eight days going from Frisco to Honolulu, Hawaii getting there Saturday, Feb. 3, and staying till Sunday afternoon, long enough to coal up and give the soldiers some exercise.

Honolulu is a fine city of about 60,000 inhabitants. There is a general mixture of nationalities, but the city is one of the finest I have ever seen, so clean and neat; nothing so grand but everything cozy. The flowers and shrubbery are arranged so as to catch the eye. The mountains tower above the city; one large peak that has been a volcano, called the Punch Bowl, is one of the largest peaks on the islands. Honolulu is a fine place, and I believe in time will be a good place for a laboring man, but at present there is not enough business for a stranger to venture unless he has some capital.

From Honolulu to Manila we were 18 days on the water, reaching here the 23rd and landing on the 24th. We got a good view of the bay where Admiral Dewey won his wonderful naval victory. Manila is a large city of about 350,000. She is a very old place. The Spanish have had this place since about 1505, and it was quite a large city then. We have found records in different places that date back nearly three centuries. Manila is divided into two parts, the old and new Manila. Old Manila has the old-time wall built around it that you find around many of the ancient cities, and the churches, both in and out of the city, have walls built around them like a fort.

We did not stay long in the city when we landed. The third battalion, that is four companies, went out to the extreme left of the firing line, two companies supporting the Utah battery, the other two companies doing picket duty. We stayed there nearly three weeks. It was while there that I had the pleasure of hearing some of those Mauser bullets sing over my head on first night on the picket line. We camped about half way there, and I did something I have never done before. We slept in an old graveyard. They have a queer custom here. The better class of people bury their dead in vaults and pay a rent, and if they fail to pay the rent the priests have the bones taken up and thrown into a small enclosure built for that purpose. There you can see the bones of people dead years and years ago bleaching in the open air.

After nearly three weeks of picket duty our whole regiment was ordered to the right centre, and on Sunday, March 12, we marched to San Pedro, Maccati and laid there that night and early next morning started, part of the 4th cavalry on our right, then the 22nd U. S. regulars and the 20th regulars, to which I belong, and the 4th U. S. regulars and some volunteers. With the help of the 3rd artillery we started the fight. We had a lively time. Our regiment was on reserve part of the day so we did not lose very heavily—one man in Co. G was hit but not serious. The other companies had several killed and wounded. Tuesday we laid in reserve all day and that day the 4th U. S. cavalry lost three men killed and five wounded. They ran into an ambush. Wednesday morning our battalion, which is now the first battalion instead of the third, comprising four companies, C, F, G, and L, under cover of our artillery, crossed the Pasig river and took the city of Pasig. We had another warm time. Now, if any one tells you that these insurgents can't fight, you tell them they are wrong, for I know better. We took Pasig in just four hours fighting. Our loss was slight—one killed in Co. L and one or two slightly wounded. That night we camped in and around the old church.

In taking Pasig we had to crawl through bamboo thickets where you could hardly see more than three or four yards ahead. Thursday morning our battalion was sent out to search the town, which we did, finding several who had hid and we took them in. After searching the town we turned to the northwest, where there is a town called Camta. It is 2½ miles from Pasig, and the land between the two towns is a level valley through which a branch of the Pasig river flows. All the lowlands here are rice meadows, with dikes or ridges about ten inches high, which cuts the land into little squares the size of a garden spot. We started across the rice meadow to see what we could find. Well, when we were across the niggers opened on us with a volley fire, and then we started. We waded the stream and began firing. Our first firing that day was at 1800 yards. We would charge until we could strike a ridge that would give us a little shelter, then we would lie down and rest a little and fire a few volleys and charge again. They made a good stand and we got within 125 yards before they left their trenches, and talk about bullets singing! I never heard them sing and hiss so spiteful as they did there. But we charged them with fixed bayonets and yelling like wild Indians. They can't stand it when we charge and yell. We took the place, burnt most of the town and then retreated, picking up our dead and wounded. We had three killed and 18 wounded. My company had four wounded and none killed.

We have since been stationed at Manila on provost guard, but the other regiments are fighting yet and are getting the insurgents cornered. Well, I must close. Hoping to hear from you, I remain as ever,
Your friend in V. M. C.,
Geo. L. ZIMMERMAN,
Co. G. 20th U. S. Regulars.

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.
Be sure that this picture in the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Tokio Special Says Togo Has Shut Up Port Arthur Sure.
OUTLET IS SECURELY CLOSED
Ships Sunk Just Where They Will Do Most Good, Says the Special.

Togo's Official Report of the Shooting on Tuesday—No Japanese Losses Russia's Great Present Worry.

London, March 25.—The Daily Telegraph publishes a dispatch from its Tokio correspondent under yesterday's date, which says: "On the night of March 22 the Japanese fleet renewed the attempt to bottle up Port Arthur. Sixteen warships escorted seven merchant steamers to the mouth of the harbor and under cover of the bombardment the steamers ran in and were sunk in desired positions. Three thousand Japanese officers and blue jackets volunteered for this duty. An official report is expected this evening."

Togo Reports the Bombardment.
A Tokio dispatch received early yesterday gives Vice Admiral Togo's official report of the fifth attack on Port Arthur, March 21-22. He reports: "The combined fleet acted according to the plan arranged. Two flotillas of destroyers were outside Port Arthur, as instructed, from the night of the 21st until the morning of the 22d. Although during this time our destroyers were under the fire of the enemy they sustained no damage. The main fleet arrived off Port Arthur at 3 o'clock on the morning of the 22d."

Notes the Advance of Russian Ships.
"I dispatched a part of the fleet in the direction of Pigeon bay and ordered the battleships Fuji and Yamashiro to make an indirect bombardment against the inner side of the port. During the bombardment the enemy's ships gradually came out of the harbor, and at the time when the indirect bombardment stopped, which was about 2 o'clock, the number of Russian ships was five battleships, four cruisers and several destroyers."

Purpose of the Muscovite Move.
"We believe the enemy was trying by making a movement of their fleet to draw us near the forts. The enemy's ships shelled us indirectly, and many of their shots fell near the battleship Fuji, but our ships sustained no damage. About 3 o'clock our vessels withdrew off the port."

Special Is Not Confirmed.
London, March 25.—The Daily Telegraph's circumstantial report from its Tokio correspondent that the Japanese succeeded in bottling up Port Arthur on the night of March 22, is not confirmed from any other quarter.

RUSSIANS BUSY FORTIFYING

Harbin, Liao Yang and New Chwang—Czar Fears Violation of Neutrality.

St. Petersburg, March 25.—According to information received here strong fortifications have been erected for the defense of Harbin and Liao Yang. The construction of batteries at New Chwang continues to be feverishly pushed, and it is believed that place will shortly be in a condition to resist even a determined assault by the Japanese.

The war office is in receipt of persistent reports that the Japanese are preparing to land on neutral Chinese territory, on the west coast of the Gulf of Liao-Tung, either at Tien-Kian-Cheng, in Kin-Chau bay, or at Shan-Hai-Kwan. Although slow to believe that Japan deliberately contemplates a violation of her pledge to respect neutral Chinese territory the reports received at the ministry of war are so specific that they compel consideration.

The presence of disguised Japanese soldiers acting as spies along the Shan-Hai-Kwan road has been established, and Russian agents report that there is every indication of an intended landing on the west coast of the Gulf of Liao-Tung. The information conveyed by these agents seems to coincide with other information indicating a complete change in the Japanese plan of campaign, or of its entrance into a second stage practically involving the abandonment of further heavy landings of troops in Korea.

If the information received is correct the Japanese have discovered that a landing on the peninsula is too hard a nut to crack, and have elected to land on the Chinese side, where there will be no army to repel them. The two points feasible for landing are Chin-Wan-Tao and Tien-Kiau-Cheng, which are connected by rail respectively with Shan-Hai-Kwan and Kan-Kiau, on the Peking railroad. A landing at either place would give the Japanese possession of a splendid strategic line by which to strike the Russian flank, and if desired to hold Peking in subjection.

Korean Spy Shot by Japanese.
Seoul, March 25, 1 p. m.—A Korean accused of being a Russian spy has been executed at Ping Yang by the Japanese.

Chinese Newspaper Suppressed.
Tien-Tsin, March 25.—Viceroy Yuxun has prohibited the Chinese from purchasing the Chinese newspaper Chih-pao, on the ground that it had published an untrue article referring to the bad conduct of the imperial troops on the border, which tended, he alleged, to incite the people.

Odessa, March 25.—The volunteer fleet steamer Voroney, the first Russian ship to leave the Far East after the outbreak of the war, has arrived here, having eluded the Japanese by a clever ruse. She was painted to resemble a Japanese collier which left Vladivostok just before her.

Novel Sort of War Rivalry.
Moscow, March 25.—In order to counteract the propaganda of the Japanese government a firm here is sending a number of placards and pictures to China descriptive of the valor of the Russian arms.

MIGHTY TANGLED SKEIN

That "Ringing" Case at Detroit, If All These People Tell the Truth, and Only the Truth.

Detroit, March 25.—Charles M. Epstein, of Cincinnati, was one of the first witnesses for the defense in the trial of Ed. E. Farley on the charge of "ringing" the mare Aimless under the name of Sarah Black at the Grosse Pointe running races in 1903. Epstein declared on the stand that on the day of the contested race the mare Aimless was not in Detroit, but was at Newport, Ky. His brother Edward corroborated this statement, and so did Alex. Mengler, also of Cincinnati. Mengler swore he himself had charge of Aimless at that time at Newport.

Previous to this testimony the state had witnesses who swore to facts making appropriate the question what horse was it that won for Farley at Grosse Pointe? F. J. O'Mara, of New Iberia, La., testified that Sarah Black was his property on the day that the alleged "ringing" took place and that he is the present owner of the mare. John Naylor, of Cincinnati, trainer, testified that he sold Sarah Black in 1900 to Farley. Then Farley introduced the bill of sale to show that the date was June 12, 1901. Several witnesses testified to the taking of a photograph of the mare Sarah Black at New Iberia, La.

SNUB FOR KING EDWARD
Irish at Dublin Refuse to Hold an International Show Under the King's Patronage.

Dublin, March 25.—A meeting called for the purpose of promoting an international exhibition in Dublin during the year 1906, under King Edward's patronage, broke up in disorder, the members of the Gaelic League voting with the majority against the project, which was proposed by Sir James Murphy, president of the chamber of commerce of Dublin, and seconded by Lord Droghda.

John McNeill, vice president of the league, opposed the proposal and advocated an exclusively national exhibition. When the vote against the international plan was announced the leaguers joined in Irish patriotic songs and the chairman declared the meeting closed. Later the supporters of the national movement attempted to hold a meeting, but was dispersed by the police.

Senate and House in Brief.
Washington, March 25.—The senate passed the Indian appropriation bill. A bill was passed authorizing the Southern Indiana Railway company to construct a railroad bridge across the Wabash river in Vigo county, Ind. An executive session was held.

The house again put itself on record against any investigation of the postoffice department. Eight pages of the postoffice appropriation bill were disposed of.

Wants an Old Rule Revived.
Newark, N. J., March 25.—The Newark conference of the Methodist Episcopal church has adopted a memorial to the general conference to be held at Los Angeles, Cal., in May, favoring the repeal of the church law enacted four years ago when the time limit for pastoral appointments was removed. The memorial favors the return to the old system when the pastoral term to any one parish was limited to five years.

Been Duck Hunting Again.
Baltimore, March 25.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, who arrived here early in the week, has returned from a duck hunting trip on the flats of the upper Chesapeake. The ex-president brought with him twenty canvasbacks and redhead ducks as trophies of his prowess in blind shooting.

Too Strenuous for Good Roads.
"Racine, Wis., March 25.—The Teegarden Indian mounds, the finest in the state, which has numerous such monuments to past races, have been destroyed by farmers, who took the earth of which the mounds were built to grade a road near this city.

No Raise for Carriers.
Washington, March 25.—In the house the provision in the postoffice bill prohibiting rural mail carriers from doing an outside carrier business was stricken out, as was the provision increasing the rural carriers' salaries to $720 a year.

Still Another "Worst Storm."
Grand Forks, N. D., March 25.—Reports from northern North Dakota, Montana and Canada say the worst storm of the winter is raging.

Blizzard Is Slow to Lie Down.
Winnipeg, Man., March 25.—A fierce blizzard is raging throughout Manitoba and the northwest.

BIG WIND HITS HARD

Considerable Havoc Played with Property at Grand Rapids and Elsewhere.

THREE PERSONS ARE INJURED

Watery Invasions Also Reported—Mayor and City Marshal at Loggerheads—Notes.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 25.—A small but destructive tornado struck the south end of the city, doing damage that reaches into the thousands. Three persons were injured. Barns were laid flat. Chimneys and other portions of houses were blown away, stock was killed, houses were thrown from their foundations and trees uprooted. Besides, there was considerable damage by lightning. Six houses were completely wrecked, while others were moved from their foundations.

Names of Those Who Were Hurt.
The injured are: Franklin Whitman, aged 18 years, seriously shocked by lightning; Mabel DeForest, aged 18, struck on head by flying timber and rendered unconscious, recovery probable; Ernest Thompson, farm hand, employed by Edwin DeForest, badly cut on head by timber. At Muskegon several buildings were unroofed and considerable damage was done, though no persons have as yet been reported injured.

High Water Is Troublesome.
Battle Creek, Mich., March 25.—Kalamazoo river is very high, almost a foot above the high water of two weeks ago, although Battle Creek has not raised as high as it did then. The Brennan Boiler works has water on the floor for the first time in nineteen years, and had to shut down.

Pontiac, Mich., March 25.—Pontiac creek, which runs through the northwestern part of the city, is overflowing its banks and the flood is causing much inconvenience.

Dimondale Dam Is Debris.
Lansing, Mich., March 25.—The dam at Dimondale on the Grand river, has given way and the Platt dam, just above this city is in serious danger. Ice gorges that formed near the bridges were dynamited. Water covers the Michigan Central tracks in North Lansing.

Ypsilanti, Mich., March 25.—Water has invaded a number of the manufacturing establishments located along the Huron river near here from the extraordinary flood.

HOT TIME IN THE OLD COUNCIL

Quarrel Over the Enforcement of the Law Results in Some Discourteous Language.

Owosso, Mich., March 25.—There was a big tilt before the common council between Mayor Arnold and his appointee, Marshal Ross. Some time since Marshal Ross discovered a night watchman intoxicated while on duty. The man was an appointee of Mayor Arnold and Marshal Ross reported the occurrence to him. Nothing was done. A week ago Marshal Ross reported the matter to the common council. The council gave the night watchman one week to resign. He failed to do so.

At the council meeting Marshal Ross filed his application, and incidentally made somewhat charges against Mayor Arnold, saying the mayor was not in sympathy with enforcing the laws regulating saloons and preventing the use of slot machines and other gambling devices. Mayor Arnold denied these charges hotly, and the lie was passed on both sides. The council refused to accept the resignation of Marshal Ross. The two belligerents declare that the end is not yet.

Maybury After the Street Car Lines.

Detroit, March 25.—In conformity with a resolution of the council Mayor Maybury says he will ask Governor Bliss to call a special session of the legislature to pass a law enabling the people to regulate street car, telephone and gas rates. It is hoped to get the legislature to reduce street car fares to 3 cents, a recent decision of the United States supreme court indicating that the legislature has the power.

Now Where Are They At?

Grass Lake, Mich., March 25.—Two prominent young people have suddenly disappeared from here. They are Miss Stella Smith and William E. Shelby, who have been close friends for two years. They have not been heard from since leaving for Jackson Sunday afternoon. They were seen by friends that evening in the Boland waiting room.

Preacher Is Out of the Fight.
Muskegon, Mich., March 25.—Rev. Frank Bloomfield has resigned as pastor of the Highland Park Congregational church after the hottest church fight in the history of Muskegon. Bloomfield came here in 1899 and organized the church as a branch of the First Congregational.

They Answer Roll Call No More.
Lansing, Mich., March 25.—The report of Assistant Adjutant General Wyckoff shows that on Dec. 21, Michigan department, G. A. R., had a membership of 13,168, a loss in six months of 541, of which 213 are accounted for by deaths.

Girl Drowned in a Well.
Grayling, Mich., March 25.—A young daughter of William Hatches, of Beaver Creek township, went to the well for a pail of water, lost her balance, plunged in and was drowned.

According to a Special Printed in a London Newspaper.

Report That the Russian Vladivostok Squadron Has Captured a Jap Warship—Martial Law at New Chwang.

London, March 29.—The Seoul correspondent of The Daily Mail says that in an engagement March 23 which Japanese infantry had with Cossacks between Anju and Cheng Ju the Japanese were victorious, but lost fifty killed.

Paris, March 29.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Petit Parisien says it is reported that the Vladivostok squadron under the command of Captain Reitzenstein has returned to port with several prizes, including a Japanese warship.

London, March 29.—Up to last night no official communication had reached the foreign office confirming the declaration of martial law at New Chwang, and officials are inclined to the opinion that the indicated that the Russian government had not yet sanctioned Viceroy Alexieff's action. The declaration of martial law is somewhat anxiously discussed by the London morning newspapers, among which the question has arisen as to whether Russia is desirous of dragging China into the conflict.

Foreign Consuls Are Inquiring.
A dispatch from New Chwang dated yesterday, says: "The foreign consuls had a conference with the civil administrator. The latter informed them that the full intention of Russia's order of Sunday was to proclaim martial law, and also to annul consular jurisdiction, and that the same already was annulled. The British consul interpreted the order as not declaring martial law. The other consuls were unable to comprehend Russia's intention."

Uncle Sam Has a Grievance.
The administrator agreed with the consuls to suspend a rigid enforcement of said order until the foreign governments act, in order to lessen the complications. The United States here call attention to the apparent defeat of United States aims regarding placing consuls in Manchuria by the execution of Russia's order. United States and British flags have been removed by the Russian military from the property of citizens of United States or Lithian nationality."

How It Looks to Foreigners.
The opinion of leading foreign residents and officials at New Chwang is that, although the rights of neutrals remain unaltered by treaty, Russia assumes the power to annul these rights, also consular jurisdiction and extraterritoriality, rendering the position of foreign consuls untenable. In some quarters the order is regarded as an apparent challenge to neutral powers, especially to China, on account of the appropriation of her territory, and that it renders the United States gunboat Helena and the British cruiser Espiegle liable to an order to leave port.

WHY DOWIE IS TURNED DOWN

Made Some Remarks About King Edward Which Are Not So Very Rough, for Dowie.

New York, March 29.—The remarks accredited to John Alexander Dowie, of Zion City, Ill., which have led to the issuance of orders forbidding him to use any public building, made at Adelaide, were, says an American dispatch from Sydney, N. S. W., that King Edward "will only get to heaven by the skin of his teeth," and that "Nobody imagines Edward VII has any religion to spare."

The premier followed up the action of Adelaide's mayor by ordering Dowie kept out of the government buildings, and the manager of the Exhibition building returned Dowie's contract and cancelled the engagement. Therefore, Dowie practically is debarred from any rostrum in the colony.

Payne's Progress Is Slow.
Washington, March 29.—The condition of Postmaster General Payne continues favorable, although the progress towards recuperation in his weakened state is very slow.

LIVER TROUBLES

"I find Theford's Black-Draught a good medicine for liver disease. It cured my son after he had spent fifty dollars with doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—MRS. CAROLINE MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly to your druggist and secure a package of Theford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Theford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Theford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Theford's Black-Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to excel it."—WILLIAM GOFFMAN, Marshfield, Ill.

Panama is much in the public eye just now, but with its romantic early history the general public is not readily familiar. Cyrus Townsend Brandy has taken the subject up, and in the April Cosmopolitan writes on "Panama and the Knights-Errant of Colonization." His account of the expeditions of Ojeda and Nicuesa is more thrilling than many an imaginary story of adventure. Seymour M. Stone contributes some spirited illustrations to the narrative.

FIGURING UP THE COST

Floods in Michigan and Indiana Have Caused a Loss That Is Heavy.

TEN MILLIONS FOR INDIANA

Besides Eleven Lives So Far as Known—Somewhat Abating North, but Growing Whose as It Sweeps South.

Detroit, March 29.—Encouraging reports from Lansing, Flint, Kalamazoo and other towns where flood damages have been estimated up in the hundreds of thousands of dollars show that the danger and distress are largely centralized in the Saginaw valley and around Grand Rapids in the valley of the Grand river. And at Grand Rapids it is estimated that 14,000 people are in distress, and at Saginaw a large portion of the business section of the city is flooded. On the Shiawassee river near Chesaning twenty-five families were rescued from the homes on a sugar beet farm just in the nick of time before their houses were almost entirely submerged. Gilbert Bertram, a foreman for the sugar company, lost his life trying to save some of the property. He was in the water five hours and died from exposure.

Lost His Life Saving a Bridge. Grand Rapids, Mich., March 29.—At Lowell Ralph H. Norman, aged about 24 years, of Coshocton, O., a workman on the Peve Marquette bridge, was drowned in Grand river. Norman was aiding in anchoring the washed-out bridge which had lodged against the highway bridge. Three men were in the boat which struck a pole and capsized. Norman's body was not found.

Kalamazoo Loss Is $100,000. Kalamazoo, Mich., March 29.—The flood damage in this city will reach $100,000. The city officials have started a relief system and the suffering of the poor, which has been intensified by cold, has been somewhat relieved.

Situation at Saginaw. Saginaw, Mich., March 29.—There has been no perceptible fall in Saginaw river, although the Cass and Flint have fallen considerably. All the industrial plants near the river in this city are partly submerged, and 5,000 workmen who are idle are likely to remain so for ten days. There is much suffering in Milwaukee, where 1,300 people are living in upper stories with many domestic animals elevated with them. Only one life was reported lost, that of a Polish boy named Stephen Soltysiak.

Better Outlook at Grand Rapids. Grand Rapids, Mich., March 29.—Flood conditions in the Grand river valley have greatly improved, and unless there should be a fall of rain, which is threatened, further danger from high water has passed. The flood situation has a better aspect at Grand Haven than for some time.

Conditions Grave at Bay City. Bay City, Mich., March 29.—Flood conditions are very grave. The ice has gorged at the Belinda street bridge, causing the water to rise in the south end of the city. A score of blocks in the extreme south end is under water.

WATER IS COSTLY IN INDIANA

Estimates Put the Loss at $10,000,000—Eleven Lives Lost.

Indianapolis, March 29.—Northern and central Indiana, including the capitol city, has seen the worst of the flood and are now repairing the heavy damage. The crest of the flood will reach the Ohio river in two days. White river at Indianapolis reached seventeen feet seven and three-quarters inches above low-water mark, a record height. It is estimated the damage in this county will reach $2,225,000 and north of this county an additional $1,000,000. Eleven lives have been lost in the Indiana flood so far and the total property loss in the state has been estimated at from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000.

At Madison the county commissioners estimated the loss to bridges at $10,000. In Wabash county the loss is $50,000, half of which is in the city. At Peru the loss is $100,000. Reports from Seymour say the loss in that vicinity will be $35,000. Reports from Bloomington say the loss in that county will be $50,000.

Portland, Ind., March 29.—Three more lives have been forfeited to the flood. Joseph Ross, aged 50, died from exposure. The flood surrounded his bed, but he refused to be moved till the water saturated the bedding. He died from the exposure of being moved in an ambulance.

Miss Anna Browning, of Middlepoint, also died. She was entertaining her fiancé, Joseph Franklin, when the flood surrounded the house and burst through the doors. There was eighteen inches of water on the floor before the occupants could get from the house. She fainted from fright and was carried out by Franklin. Paralysis followed. She never spoke. They were to be married April 5.

Charles Bailey, superintendent of the city light and water plant, is at the point of death and cannot recover. He rescued seventeen people from the flood and was found unconscious at the water plant. Heart trouble followed exhaustion. The loss in this county will be $125,000.

Sullivan, Ind., March 29.—Gill township levee has broken and 20,000 bushels of cribbed corn will be washed away. Eighteen thousand acres are flooded.

Vincennes, Ind., March 29.—The Russellville levee has broken and 25,000 acres are under water.

Petersburg, Ind., March 29.—The flood situation in this county is appalling. White river above here is ten miles wide in places and twenty feet deep in the channel. Patoka river, which flows through the center of the county, is three miles wide for nearly forty miles.

Evansville, Ind., March 29.—The Wabash river is rising rapidly at New Harmony. White river is sweeping everything before it and much stock has been lost. Captain John Cornick, a well-known steamboatman, fell from a towboat in Green river and was drowned.

DEATH BROUGHT BY WIND

Tornadoes in Arkansas Kill an Unknown Number of People.

Little Rock, Ark., March 29.—Last week was a week of storms in Arkansas. Wires are still down in the northwestern part of the state, and the extent of the damage to property and the number of lives lost has not yet been ascertained. The casualties thus far reported are: J. B. Curtis, a prominent farmer of Newton county, killed Friday; six persons killed in and near Gainesville as follows: T. L. Williams, Mrs. F. M. Dalton, Frank Ellines, Lena Byrnes, child of Whit Crouch and child of Mitchell Wyatt. Many people were injured and fifty houses were destroyed at this place.

Two negro children were killed Friday night near Solgohachie. Nellie Bogan, a negro girl, was killed in the wreck of a school house at Fourche Dam, Pulaski county. Friday night's tornadoes swept through parts of northwestern and western Arkansas and into Oklahoma. The town of Mountain Home suffered severely. From the meager reports thus far received the damage to property will amount to thousands of dollars. The death list, it is thought, will be largely increased when all reports are received.

DEPORTED MEN TURNED BACK

Not Allowed to Return to Telluride—Strikers' Commissary Seized—Soldiers at Conferences.

Denver, Colo., March 29.—A censored telephone message from Telluride says that all deported miners who attempted to return have been turned back by the military except Stewart B. Forbes, who was arrested. Major Hill has stationed a detail of soldiers at the union headquarters in Trinidad, and the union commissary has been practically closed. The troops at the union headquarters occupied stations both within and without the offices, and no one except the principal leaders are permitted about the building. All conferences held by the officers of district No. 15 are attended by military representatives of Major Hill, and what passes is promptly reported to the commanding officer.

"Mother" Jones, who was deported by the military from Trinidad, has telegraphed President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, concerning the matter and asked him to take the matter before President Roosevelt. It is said that Mitchell has agreed to do so.

THAT PENSION OFFICE RULE

Tennessee Senator Attacks the Proposed Pension for Veterans Who Are 62 Years Old.

Washington, March 29.—Carmack in the senate made a speech on a resolution he introduced directing the judiciary committee to inquire into the right of the secretary of the interior to issue old age pensions. Carmack characterized the order as a piece of executive legislation and criticized it as a "another instance of executive encroachment upon the prerogatives of congress."

Carmack admitted, however, in response to suggestions, that the first step fixing old age as an evidence of disability had been taken by Cleveland. "But," he said "that does not help the case. I admit that the first violation of the law in this respect occurred at that time. The order in that case was, however, comparatively reasonable, and the precedent has been violently seized upon by the present occupant of the White House to extend the practice."

Something To Be Thankful For.

London, March 29.—It is announced that the manuscript of Milton's "Paradise Lost" has been sold to a United States collector, whose name and the amount paid are not disclosed. The Daily Telegraph editorially expresses regret that the heirloom was not preserved for the British nation and says: "Let us be thankful that Westminster abbey and St. Paul's cathedral are not portable, for otherwise they would be purchased by an American millionaire."

Opinion of Champ Clark.

Washington, March 29.—While the house was considering the sundry civil bill and debating on any other subject except the bill, Champ Clark declared that only when men of all races cease committing rapes will lynchings cease. He had, he said, known white men to be lynched for rape and he added "they ought to be lynched; if you want my opinion about it."

Afflicted Daily Family.

Boston, March 29.—The fifth death in nine weeks in the Daly family of actors has occurred. Thomas Daly, a brother of Dan Daly, the comedian, who died in New York Saturday, has passed away at Revere. He had been ill for many weeks.

SOLAR PLEXUS BLOW

Given by the 'St. Louis Jury That Heard the Case of Senator Burton.

GUILTY ON FIVE OF THE COUNTS

New Trial Asked for—Burton Takes It Calmly, but Won't Talk—View Taken in Kansas.

St. Louis, March 29.—Calmly lighting a cigar Senator Burton, of Kansas, turned to his attorneys in the court room after the jury that had been trying him for using his influence as a United States senator to prevent the postoffice department from barring the mails to an alleged bucket-shop in this city, had brought in a verdict of guilty on counts one, two, six, eight and nine of the indictment against him. The jury was out forty-one hours, one juror who differed from the other eleven being the cause of the long siege. A motion for a new trial was at once made. The result of the verdict if sustained will be that the senator loses his seat in the senate and can never hold another public office.

Summary of the Evidence. The evidence adduced against Senator Burton may be summarized as follows: In November, 1902, he accepted a proposition to become general counsel of the Rialto Grain and Securities company, a concern whose operations at the time were under the scrutiny of postoffice officials. Burton demanded $2,500 for his services, but he was satisfied to be paid in monthly installments of $500 each. Soon after his employment it developed that the federal grand jury was investigating the Brooks' Brokerage company, with which Major Hugh C. Dennis, president of the Rialto company, had been associated.

His Own Letters Against Him.

Numerous letters written by Burton showed that the senator was using his influence to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the Rialto Grain and Securities company. Burton submitted regular reports to the Rialto people, telling them how matters were progressing at Washington, advising them of complaints filed at the post-office department, and closing with the assurance that "if you look after things at your end of the line I will attend to matters here." Testimony of postoffice officials was that Senator Burton had told them he intended to practice before the department, and that he had lost $70,000 in the panic and desired to "make some money as a practicing lawyer."

Declines to Say Anything.

Senator Burton went directly from the court room to the Southern hotel after the verdict was rendered, and retired to his room for rest. After a time he went down to the hotel lobby and sat around talking with friends who occasionally dropped in. Apparently he was very nervous, and his appearance was worn, the anxiety of the past week having very perceptibly left its marks. When asked by the Associated Press if he had anything to say concerning the verdict he hesitated a few moments, and then with a gesture of his hand, said: "I refer all inquiries to my attorneys. You certainly appreciate the situation and understand that I have nothing to say."

SEAT IS AT ONCE VACANT

And Open for a New Senator Is the Opinion in Kansas.

Kansas City, Mo., March 29.—A special to The Star from Topeka, Kan., says: Lawyers who are close to Governor Bailey regard the conviction of Senator Burton as an immediate vacation of his seat, and the contest for the place, it is believed, commence at once. "A judgment against a man in a case of this kind," said an ex-justice of the Kansas supreme court, "is regarded by the courts as a conviction in the meaning of the statutes, even though an appeal may be taken and the decision of the lower court subsequently reversed."

Politicians close to the chief executive express the belief that the choice of Senator Burton's successor lies between Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, of Salina, Kan., and Cyrus Leland, Jr., ex-Republican national committeeman from Kansas. Governor Bailey left the city shortly after the news of Senator Burton's conviction was received. He refused absolutely to talk on the subject, and said he would not make any comment upon it in any way until after the United States senate had taken action. "It would be discourteous," said the governor, "and I would be going out of my way were I to say anything concerning the matter."

Washington, March 29.—Members of the senate committee on privileges and elections have discussed informally the conviction of Senator Burton, but until the matter comes before the committee the members are loath to give their personal views. It will take a formal action by the senate to declare Burton's seat vacant, and this will not be done until a court of last resort has passed upon the case.

King and Queen Go to Copenhagen.

London, March 29.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra have left London on their way to Copenhagen to attend a family gathering on the occasion of King Christian's 80th birthday, April 8.

EXPLAINED BY OVERSTREET

How the "Congressional Pull" Report Came To Be Published—Somebody Printed Something.

Washington, March 29.—Before the McCall investigation committee Representative Overstreet told how the famous "congressional pull" report came to be published. He said he was trying to get a unanimous report from the committee to have the report laid on the table in the house and not published, when an alleged summary of the report was printed in a New York newspaper and then he thought the real facts should be printed so that they could refute the statements made in the New York alleged summary.

McCall informed Overstreet that Wynne, the first assistant postmaster general, had testified that a list was prepared first without the names of members, and that this list was objected to by the postoffice committee and the names were demanded. Overstreet said: "I made no such request."

WANTS THE CANAL ENJOINED

Chicago Man Brings Up a New Difficulty in the Way of the Panama Ditch.

Washington, March 29.—Warren B. Wilson, a lawyer of Chicago, has filed in the District supreme court a bill in equity for an injunction against Secretary Shaw, the republic of Panama, the new Panama Canal company, of France, and others, to stop the construction of the Panama canal. He declares that the act of June 28, 1902 (authorizing the construction of the canal), is in violation of the constitution of the United States, and is null and void. He charges that the treaty is wholly unconstitutional and invalid, both in the United States and in Panama, in its essential features, and confers no rights and imposes no obligations on either of the parties directly concerned.

Been Swindling the Pullman Co.

Chicago, March 29.—Through a system of clever forgeries the Pullman company has been defrauded out of a large sum of money on refund fares. Five indictments have been returned against Clarence G. Rice, who is being sought by detectives. Rice, it is alleged, gave many assumed names, and traveled in Pullman cars for long distances, after which he would present a refund-fare check.

Death of Major Hossford.

Helena, Mont., March 29.—Major James B. Hossford, for twenty years connected with the office of the supervising architect of the treasury department, and for over two years superintendent of construction of the Helena federal building, died suddenly here of Bright's disease, aged 57 years. Interment will be at Geneseo, Ill.

Must Stop Disseminating Dust.
