ELECTRICAL STORM

Does Small Damage to our Village and Surrounding Towns

BUCHANAN WAS FORTUNATE

To Escape Serious Results From so Severe a Storm That Occurred Friday

One of the most traffic electrical storms visited Buchanan, and surrounding villages last Friday evening and a large amount of damage is reported. Buchanan can consider itself among the fortunate ones, as the republican pole that was raised in front of the Chas. Pears home, during our last campaign, is the only thing that was totally destroyed. The pole was shattered into several pieces, they flying in all directions, some as far as the Alfred Richard's home, and part of the pole falling on the house belonging to Ben Crawford's residing next to Chas. Pears' home. The neighbors though frightened, were more than pleased to note that no serious damage resulted.

The barn belonging to John Barker, residing 2½ miles northeast of Galien, in the Lamb district, between Clear Lake farm and Dayton, Mich., was totally destroyed by fire last Friday night, caused by lightning. The fire being so brilliant it illuminated Clear lake.

The barn on the D. W. Swem farm, occupied by Geo. Gallinger, one mile north of Galien was also struck by lightning, destroying 75 tons of hay, killing two horses and burning a wagon. The barn was insured in the Farmer's Mutual Insurance Co.

John Orris, of Glendora, was another of the unfortunate victims, he having his sheep shed struck by lightning and killing five hogs.

The barn belonging to O. M. Taber also was struck by lightning. Only slight damages resulted as it was struck at the peak and tore off 4 or 5 boards.

The country wires were in such a condition Saturday morning, caused by the severe storm of the night previous, that it was an impossibility to reach anyone on these lines.

SEASON IS ABOUT AT END

Resorts Near St. Joseph, Mich., Will Soon Close

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept. 1.—The summer season at St. Joseph is almost at an end. Labor day will see the last of the year for the resorts here.

The two boats which make daily trips up the river will be taken off their runs and only a small launch will be used to carry what few passengers may care to make the trip. The removal of the river boats means that the season for the summer resorts which are located up the St. Joseph river is over. It was announced also today that the fakirs and souvenir stands of all descriptions would close and follow the county fairs for the remainder of the season.

Silver beach, the large amusement resort on the shores of Lake Michigan, will continue in operation a short time yet, but all the independent companies move the first of next week.

To Bury Horse in Sand

Mason, Aug. 31.—A new departure in the treatment of horses while undergoing an operation is to be tried here on a horse belonging to Robert Swan. The equine, which is worth $200, suffered a broken collar bone in a runaway last Saturday afternoon, and for some time his life was despaired of, for the veterinarians of the town could devise no way of keeping him quiet while operating upon him, and later while the bone was to knit. The novel plan of partially burying him in sand was thought of and will be adopted.

NEGRO USES HIS KNIFE

Employees of Interurban Builders in Scrap Saturday Afternoon

WHITE MAN IS BADLY CUT

John O'Shea Receives Several Nasty Slashes in Face and Arm From Colored Man

Some excitement for a rainy day was furnished Saturday afternoon when two employes of the trolley contractors became mixed in a scrap in which one was badly slashed about the face with a clasp knife in the hands of his antagonist, a colored man.

The affair had its origin in a local saloon, where neither of the men being able to work on account of the rain they were spending the day. Though nothing serious happened in the saloon they both left it and walked off, turning down Second street. In front of Ol Earl's livery barn the fracas started and the white man is said to have knocked his colored enemy down a couple of times.

The latter retaliated by pulling his knife, and slashed the white man in the left cheek from ear to chin, inflicting a minor wound on his nose between the eyes, and stabbing him once in the right forearm.

None of the wounds are dangerous but Drs. Belknap and Tew, to whose office the man was taken found it necessary to take several stitches in the cuts.

Officer Francis was on the ground before the fight had progressed far, and the colored man gave himself up and was arrested. The other was taken to the physicians' office.

The white man gave his name as John O'Shea, and said that his home was in Springfield, Mass. He was taken to the jail later.

The colored man said his name was Frank Hill and he lives in Benton Harbor.

The police will arraign both in one of the locals courts Monday, and it is probable that the scrappers will both receive a vacation at St. Joe.

O'Shea was suspected by the police of being the man who relieved a contractor of $40 the other day, though no charge was brought against him. It is thought he was most to blame in the scrap and that he provoked the negro into drawing his knife and using it.—Niles Star.

CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY

By Entertaining Forty-two at Her Home on Detroit Street, Friday

Mrs. Julia Pierce, residing on South Detroit street, celebrated her 80th anniversary by inviting about forty-two of her friends and neighbors to her home last Friday.

They all came with well filled baskets and at noon all sat down to a table, over loaded with all the good things imaginable to eat.

The afternoon was passed in social chat, and about 2:30 all gathered in the front yard where they had their picture taken. The aged lady was the recipient of a number of birthday remembrances. The guests departed at a late hour in the afternoon, all voting a royal good time and wishing her many more happy birthdays.

The Shah of Persia has been visiting the czar at Peterhof, probably, for the purpose of personally inspecting the Russian ruler's bombproof.

Learn to classify kicks and criticisms. Objections and protests against palpable wrong doing, official dishonesty any kind of real cussedness is justifiable, right and an American privilege that causes things to be done right and regulates the vicious, careless and thoughtless. It is the eternal whine and growl about things that we either do not understand or proper things that interfere with our selfish motives that are tiresome.

Citizen's of Buchanan were reminded of olden times, Saturday afternoon when the fire engine was brought out from its headquarters at the water works for the first time in a year, to test it and see if it was still in a good condition.

The entertainment given at the M. E. Church, Friday evening was to an extent a failure, owing to the electrical storm that arose after the entertainment was started and well underway. The pictures showed dim on account of being unable to get a fine adjustment on the electric lamp at the carbons, which was brought about by the electric disturbance in the atmosphere, also the leakage of electricity on the lines in rainy weather. It seldom happens, that, conditions are met as that Friday evening, and the Biograph Co., regrets very much that they were unable to secure a clear picture as they do when the conditions are favorable. Should the weather have been predicted they would have used the calcium light, which they carry, but as the storm did not materialize until after the entertainment started it was too late to secure gas. The pictures and subjects were good. No blame is attached to the Electric Light Co., as the lights proved good until the storm came.

FOREIGN TRADE IN LAUNCHES

The Truscott Boat Co., is sending an unusual number of boats to foreign parts this week, says the St. Joseph Press.

Among the boats are two with glass bottoms designed for observation boats to be used on the Pacific coast. Two more have been sent to the Industrial exposition at Pittsburgh and with them go Herman Komitch and Milo Selters.

Among the boats sent to foreign countries is an excursion boat designed for work on the Nile river in Egypt, a car load of small launches to the Argentine Republic and a large launch to Calcutta India.

The foreign trade of the company is growing rapidly and they are crowded with orders for boats of all descriptions.

Got-Off Cheap

and beaten in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J. Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 35c at any drug store.

14 Lives Are Lost

List of Deaths and Wrecks May Increase Largely Before all are Accounted for

(SPECIAL TO THE RECORD)

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 4—Fourteen lives are known to have been lost and three sturdy vessels were sent to the bottom by the storm which swept over Lake Superior Friday night and Saturday. Seven other men are missing, and it is more than probable that when the vessels which sought shelter wherever they could find it are able to reach port the tale of losses of ships will be larger, and the death roll will total more than a score.

The storm was one of the worst which ever swept over the lake. Sailing vessels were completely at the mercy, barges were torn loose from the steamers which towed them, and the largest and most modern vessels limped into port with hatches battered open, cargoes shifted and masts gone, to report men being swept overboard in the terrible struggle with the waves.

Fifteen miles off Portage entry, with only its spars sticking out of the water, lies the wreck of a schooner supposed to be the Olive Jeanette, which carried a crew of seven men. This vessel has not been heard from, and it is thought to have sunk with all on board.

In the same vicinity wreckage and a basket marked F. W. Gilchrist were found, and it is feared that vessel also may have gone down, as it has not been heard from since the gale subsided. Reports from Houghton, Mich., state that a large quantity of wreckage has been washed ashore there, but there is no name on any of it by which it can be identified. The tug Hebard, which was sent out from Pequaming, Mich., to search for disabled vessels, passed through great quantities of wreckage.

The Olive Jeanette was in tow of the steamer L. R. Doty when that vessel was lost with all on board in a storm on Lake Michigan a few years ago.

Provokingly Funny

Have you ever had a long, weary Sunday before you—apparently a never ending day when nothing imaginable would provoke one of those full, hearty, whole-souled laughs from which is derived the old favorite adage, "Laugh and grow fat?" If such a day comes to you again and you want a merry laugh for the pleasure it gives turn to the Comic Colored Supplement of The Chicago Record Herald's Sunday edition. It is certainly an exterminator of the "blues." Filled completely with fresh breezy jokes and irresistibly comic illustrations in colors, sparkling with wit and humor of an enterprising as well as instructive nature, it is a paper to amuse all who see it. Four pages in colors and four pages in black and white, this—the best colored supplement issued by any metropolitan newspaper—makes of that newspaper a combination of a modern Sunday newspaper and a humorous weekly periodical in colors.

The mechanical work involved in the making of this colored supplement is a marvel of skill. The harmonious arrangements and perfect blending of the many colors used in its make up portray artistic taste of the highest order.

One of the most interesting ball games of the season was witnessed by a large crowd on Labor day, Buchanan Blues vs New Troy. At the beginning of the game New Troy carried the lead, and up to the seventh inning the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of the visiting team. In the seventh inning our boys got in some of their excellent work and brought in four men to the home plate, and also carrying off the honor of the day, the score standing 4 to 1 in favor of the Buchanan Blues.

At the home of George Markley, residing about five miles northwest of this place, occurred the wedding of his daughter, Miss Mary to Mr. Joseph Graham. The porch was decorated with beautiful flowers and at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, in the presence of ninety guests they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Douglass of the M. E. church. They received many beautiful and useful presents. The RECORD joins in with the many friends and extends congratulations.

This estimate of the man with a "grouch" from an Ohio contemporary just about rings the bell. "The man who stands around on the street corner and complains about his town the country, taxes and the weather is 'mighty common clay.' He is of little use to his family, his country or his God. But he seems to live and thrive in all kinds of weather and under all conditions; he is found at the cross roads store, the village, town and city. Like the fly, the mosquito and the chigger, he is not fatal, but he is mighty disagreeable."

A Chicago mother sent her small boy to the country and after weeks of anxiety received this letter: "I got here alright, but I forgot to write before. A fellow and I went out in a boat and the boat tipped over and a man got me out. I was so full of water that I didn't know anything for a long time. The other boy has to be buried after they find him. A horse kicked me over and I've got to have some money for fixin' my head. We are going to set a barn on fire to-night and I should smile if we do not have some bully fan. I am going to bring home a tame woodchuck if I can get him in my trunk."

Our public schools opened this morning under conditions seemingly most favorable for a year of excellent school work. One thing surprising is the increased attendance in nearly every grade. There are always a good many pupils who do not enter school the first morning, but we enrolled in the first grade 42 pupils, and in each of the others, about 30 pupils. In the high school there were 70 pupils, as many as were enrolled during the entire year last year. There are 28 non-residents in the high room. The 6th, 7th, 8th. grades will be run partly on the departmental plan and the plan of work throughout the grades has been so modified that teachers will have a special time in which they are to assist individual pupils who are backward in some studies. The general promotion time will occur only at the close of the school year but pupils will be advanced at any time when they can take up the work in the next grade to best advantage.

A Leaf From My Diary

I left Buchanan the 27th, at 7:10 a. m. on the excursion train for Grand which arrived at Benton Harbor at 8:30 and left at 9:08 on train of 11 coaches, with passengers enough to fill the seats in 13 cars and run 20 to 30 miles and picked up passengers at every station, when they put on two more coaches, and some had left the train, they all managed to get seats, but after stopping at a few more stations there was another crowd standing up. About 30 miles farther on, we took on the coaches of another train and cars enough so that at last they were all seated. They stopped the engine that was drawing the excursion train in front of the passenger house door, at Benton Harbor and so to get on we had to go down the full length of the train, but people commenced to climb onto the cars at the first steps they came to. I kept out side of the crowd and hurried on to the hind car and got in when the seats were but half taken and got a seat near the middle which I kept all the way through. Arrived here at 1:40 p. m., two hours and forty minutes behind time.

I went direct to Mr. Frank B. Wallin and found him at home. We soon began visiting and kept it up until 10 o'clock p. m. Monday morning. Now I must say to the citizens, who read this paper, there was a tannery started in Buchanan in 1844 and operated by Will Enor and Crawford Slater for four or five years and was where John McFallon's saloon and Wm. Spark's barber shop now stand as near as I can remember.

Mr. Wallin came to Buchanan in the fall of 1844 and became an apprentice to the proprietors of the tannery and lived with Mr. Enor's people four years and learned the trade. He went to school in the winter only and then worked in the shop evenings, from 7 to 9 o'clock and every other Saturday as that was the way school run at that time. I was a scholar in Buchanan and had become well acquainted with Mr. Wallin. His father bought the tannery in the spring of 1849 and Mr. F. B. Wallin run it two years and then sold it to Moses Griswold and moved to Chicago. Soon after in 1854 located a tannery at Sargatuck Allegon Co., Mich. and in the fall of 1881 came to Grand Rapids where he has continued the tannery business continuously ever since. He now makes Hemlock Tanned sole leather, exclusively employs 50 hands and turns out 340 sides of sole leather each day. His shops and yard for bark occupy about four acres and there is about 2,000 cords of tan bark now corded up, and they were unloading more cars. The bark is nearly all shipped in from the northern peninsula.

The Wallin Leather Co. was organized in 1882 with F. B. Wallin as treasurer and manager, though he never owned a majority of the stock. Since his injury he has taken no active part in the management, although he is now President of both the Wallin Leather Co. and Grand Rapids Leather Co. His son Van A. Wallin is in full charge of both tanneries.

Mr. Wallins and I had not met before since 1850. About 9 o'clock he took me into his buggy and drove me through the city to his tannery, a ride of about 1 1/2 miles. After dinner we rested until nearly 4 o'clock when we took another ride through the city and out to Reeds lake, and near here we found Mr. Ben Hess and had a few minutes talk with him. Mr. Wallin is 73 years old. About 8 years ago he had the misfortune to have the pole of a carriage he was driving slip through the neck yoke strap and run against the team, one of them kicked and broke his left limb below the knee. It has left him lame and he suffers a great deal of pain from sciatic rheumatism

Tuesday at 9 a. m., we took horse and buggy and did some errands and I was left at the right place to take the cars for the Soldier's home out 4 miles for 5 cents, where I arrived at 10:50 and soon found M. B. Gardner. After talking awhile we went and talked with Mrs. Rosa Maloy. Aunt Rosa they all call her here. We found her looking well and seemingly perfectly satisfied with the place. She said she had ought to have come here a number of years before she did. We talked until dinner time and then left for dinner. Took dinner at a restaurant where a good dinner was served for 20 cents. There is no visitors allowed to dine with the soldiers as they do in Illinois and Indiana, as I have been to both places and seen for myself. After dinner Mr. Gardner and I took a walk and saw the bears, large fox, squirrels, chipmunks and then down by the pumping station and across to the deer park, where there are two fawns and seven or eight full grown deer, one large fat buck with a nice pair of nearly full grown horns. As I had seen elk in the park at Portland, we did not go to the elk park but back to the home and found Criss Sawden and talked with him about an hour. He is well and fleshy, weighing nearly 200 pounds, but is hard of hearing. Then we went and found Quince Hayes and he is fleshy as ever, but was complaining of having a cold, but he talked all right just the same. Having seen all that I knew of being there, I went to take the car for the city and while waiting Gardner said to me, "That man sitting on the farther end of that bench is Mrs. Julius Russell's brother, I don't know whether you know him or not." I did and went over to him and conversed until the car came. Then I left as I am going out there again before I leave the city. The car I took runs clear through the city, out to Reed lake 8 miles for 5 cents. I sat still and road through and looked around the lake about an hour. I then went out to Mr. Ben Herres's and stayed over night. He is a carpenter and contractor and is now erecting a two story building, for two store rooms below and dwelling above all of brick. He furnishes everything, even to paint.

The End of Vacation

Oh, happy little army, next week away to school again, Armed with reader and arithmetic, with blotter and with pen, Your hearts are light, your minds are bright your lot from weary free, Save from a task as difficult as spelling C-A-T- You'll learn among some other things that two and two are four; That twelve is called a dozen and that twenty is a score; How many pounds are in a ton, and pennies in a dime; How many hours in a day (how many years in Time!)

Your copy books will say: "Great oaks from little acorns grow." You'll learn how very wrong it is to say, "I ain't got no." You'll learn how great Columbus was who found this pleasant land, Though why the earth is round perhaps you may not understand; You'll learn your country's father was the brave and truthful George— Though he got cold feet one winter when he camped at Valley Forge; You'll learn about the battles, though you may forget the dates; That rice and cotton are the exports of the southern states, Oh, laughing little children, on your way to school again, When all you girls are women and all you boys are men, Will your lessons be a pleasure, or will you sit and pout, And anxiously be waiting for your life school to be out? Will the Teacher give you honorable mention when you go To your last and long vacation? May God grant that it be so! And make you noble women and true and loving men. Dear, laughing little children, on your way to school again.

—FRANKLIN P. ADAMS.

Gasoline Launch Takes Fire

Accident Took Place on Chris Smith's Launch, "Ben Hur"

SPECIAL TO THE RECORD.

Algonac, Mich., Sept. 4.—Four people were drowned at about midnight Sunday night as the result of a panic which overtook the passengers of the gasoline launch Ben Hur when near the Maple Leaf club.

The dead are: Harry J. Weisinger aged 22, 181 Eighteenth street, Detroit; Miss Minnie Becker, Detroit; Miss Clara Newman, Detroit, Gus Moog, Cleveland.

The Ben Hur, which is owned by Chris Smith of this place, was returning from a dance at Joe Bedore's with a party of about 35 young people from various resorts along the Flats; about half of them ladies. Just opposite the Maple Leaf a flame burst up from the bottom of the boat near the engine. There was a scream of dismay from the girls in the boat. The steersman and engineer vainly tried to calm the passengers. Several of them jumped overboard, fearing that they were about to be roasted alive.

After the fire had been put out efforts were made to find those who jumped overboard, but the four people named above could not be found, and up to 11 o'clock today there was no trace of them.

There are two stories of the accident. One is told by C. L. Case, of Algonac, who was steersman, and Lawrence Cuthbertson, also of this place, who acted as engineer. They say that several of the party had been drinking considerably and that one of the drunken men kicked open the pet cock, allowing about a pint of gasoline to escape. They think a lighted match was then dropped on the floor. "The fire didn't amount to much," says Case, and there was no occasion for a panic. Somebody smothered the blaze with a coat in a very short time, but the people had jumped overboard then, and we could do nothing for them."

The boat, which came back here under her own power this morning, does not show much sign of fire. One place where the varnish was scorched is all. The hangings were not damaged, and the engine looks to be in good condition.

On the other hand, Howard C. Gilchrist, 337 Lincoln avenue, a Michigan telephone clerk, who was on the boat, says something seemed to be wrong with the engine before the accident.

"I heard the story about the fellow kicking the pet cock open," he said this morning "but I hardly credited it myself. I was watching things quite closely myself, and I didn't see that, nor I didn't see anybody drop a match. It is true that there were three or four fellows on the boat who were drunk, but I don't believe they were responsible.

"When the blaze shot up from the bottom of the boat everybody rushed for the rail, and there was such confusion that nobody could tell what was happening. The girls screamed and in the excitement those four people jumped overboard."

"Another launch came and took us ashore, but everybody was so excited that we hardly knew how many were gone. In fact it wasn't certain until this morning. Nobody heard any of the four people who jumped, utter a scream or sound after they left the boat. They must have gone down at once."
