COMMITTED SUICIDE

Acid Bottle By His Side Tells Fate of Boy Found Dead Tuesday Afternoon

IN CITY OF BENTON HARBOR

Dr. Chapin, of Benton Harbor Examined Body Before The Coroner Jury

Hidden from view by a growth of rag weed near a path leading over Thresher's hill toward Highland avenue, Benton Harbor, Mrs. Suits, Tuesday afternoon discovered the body of a young man. Seeing that he was exceptionally quite she called a neighbor woman, and sent young Floyd Abar to call the man and see what was the matter. The boy was unable to arouse him, but told Merrill Madry what he had seen. Mr. Madry went up on the hill and discovered that the man was dead and had been there for sometime.

Madry at once notified Chief of Police Johnson and Coroner Collier, who drove to the scene. Chief Johnson impanelled a jury consisting of Dr. J. C. Cole, Benjamin Cowgill, Geo. Bridgman, Myron Delong, Frank Needham and Charles Overton, who viewed the remains on the scene where found and then went to J. O. Rowe's morgue where the body was prepared for burial and the inquest was held.

The first sight to meet the gaze of the jury after looking over the body was a four ounce bottle bearing a label "Carbolic Acid," with the address of E. G. Watts, 44 Week street. The bottle was empty with the cork lying near. The young man was lying on his right side with his face hidden from view. When the examination was made and the body was turned over a ghastly sight presented itself. The face and one hand had been badly burned by the acid and decomposition had set in on the face and parts of the body touching the ground.

How long since the man had taken the acid, was impossible to determine, but from the condition of the body it is probable that he had been there since Sunday night.

No papers or marks of any kind were found upon the man's person and no articles of any value were found in his pockets. He was a young man of about 22 years, five feet four inches in height, with light hair and smooth face. One of his front teeth had a large gold crown. On his left hand he wore a ruby ring and on his coat lapel he wore a blue pennant pin bearing only the figures "42," and had a pink astor in his button hole. He was clad in a new brown suit, patent leather shoes, clean black and white striped shirt, blue neck tie. By his side was a brown fedora hat. His underwear was new and clean.

It was evident from his appearance that the man was not a hobo, and no evidence was seen to lead to the belief that he was a drinking man. No cause can be given for the suicide.

Later developments have found three young men who identified the remains of a young man they were talking to Sunday morning at the Union depot.

Joseph Roush, a day laborer, Arthur Hill, a painter and Lloyd Smith, night cook at the Union restaurant, were standing on the north end of the station waiting for the excursion train to come in from Indiana when the stranger approached them and engaged in conversation. He told the boys that he had just come from Chicago but that his home was in Milwaukee. The Benton Harbor men paid but little attention to him other than to listen to his story of despondency which he related in a few words.

"Boy, I have little to live for," he said, "and I have been drinking to cover up my grief. I haven't friends here or elsewhere and I do not care how soon the end comes. I don't care what I drink or how much just so I am allowed to go my way. Two of my brothers were recently lost in a boat disaster on Lake Superior and they were all that I had to give me any comfort in life. Now that they are gone I am ready to go too."

This morning Roush went to the morgue and asked that he be permitted to view the remains for identification. He had read the account in this paper and the mention of the red flower in the suicide's button hole led him to think he was the man he was talking to on Sunday. He identified even the clothing and the necktie but the boys had none of them, thought enough of their conversation on Sunday to ask the young man his name.

Dr. Chapin, who was called by the coroner yesterday afternoon held a post mortem examination and found a large amount of carbolic acid in the stomach. The lining of the stomach was badly burned by the acid and the mouth and throat were badly blistered and burned. The physician says it is undoubtedly a clear case of suicide, as no marks or evidence of any nature were found to substantiate the murder story that gained circulation on the streets last evening.

Coroner Collier has been working on the case all day and is seeking all possible information to find out who the suicide is, but has discovered nothing. The inquest was adjourned until this afternoon and will probably not be concluded until Thursday afternoon.—News Palladium.

Breaks All the Records

Peach Shipment at Benton Harbor, Monday Night Defied the World

The peach shipments from Benton Harbor and St. Joseph Monday night broke all local records. They did even more than that. They broke all the records of the world. Never before from a single port in a single day were so many peaches shipped.

The large shipment did not shatter the price but the demand is good and the price paid on the streets ranges about 80 cents for the famous Elberta variety. In some instances as high as 90 cents and $1.00 per bushel was paid Monday night, but this price was mostly paid for the last few bushels needed to make out a car.

The shipment was worth about $60,000, or that is the amount the grower will receive for his products. The refrigerator lines took out 79 cars, which were worth from $25,000 to $30,000, and the boats took out 55,000 packages, which comprised at least 40,000 bushels. The value of the boat shipments was over $20,000. In addition the express companies took out hundreds of bushels.

One buyer shipped three cars of fancy stock. They averaged in cost per bushel, as follows: 79 cents, 80 cents, and the last car 82 cents.

The Pere Marquette was favored with twenty-seven cars. The buyers are not in love with the Armour car trust but went to the Pere Marquette because the other roads could not supply the cars. Tuesday morning Agent Smith of the Big Four had application for thirty refrigerator cars, but he could furnish only five or six. He hoped to have a larger supply by night and was assured that he would be given all he needed by next day. The Michigan Central is handicapped for yard room.

The shipment of fruit from the Twin City Tuesday evening exceeds that of Monday and is as follows: Value of peaches shipped.....$75,000 No. refrigerator cars.....98 No. cars by express.....2 No. packages by water.....60,000 No. bushels shipped.....90,000 Average price per bushel.....85c Cars shipped by Railroads— Michigan Central.....46 Pere Marquette.....34 Big Four.....18

The Japanese mob burned ten Christian churches and one mission school which must be taken as confirmation of Baron Komura's statement that "the Japanese are not angels."

The attention of Mr. Rockefeller is called to Casey, Ill., where an oil well, gushing at the rate of 120 barrels an hour, threatens to burn up the Standard oil trust if not looked after.

The United States pension roll reached its highest point in January last and since that time a decrease of about six thousand has been noted. The highest number of pensioners on the roll was 1,004,196, but it will probably be twenty-five thousand less than that before the close of another fiscal year. It has indeed been a roll of honor and pride to all whose names were worthily inscribed thereon, has this American pension list, and in its passing history will record the closing of a record and a relation honorable alike to our country and to the nation's pensioned soldiers. Some criticism has been made at times, in individual cases criticism may have been deserved, but there is probably no citizen of this republic who does not well know that loss rather than gain comes to our country with this decreasing pension roll.

JOKE ON MINISTER

Congregation of an Oxford Church Had Everything "Fixed."

The Rev. Mr. Hagaman of Oxford, Mich., was made the victim of a practical joke by his congregation last Sunday.

It was the annual meeting of the church and the question of hiring the preacher came up for discussion. One of the deacons put the question as follows:

"All those in favor of re-engaging Mr. Hagaman at the same salary will please rise." Not a soul in the church rose, even the announcer sitting down. The minister was almost overcome with chagrin and tears came to his eyes.

The deacon then said, "All those in favor of re-engaging Mr. Hagaman at an increase of salary, please rise." Every person in the building got up. The joke had been carefully arranged before hand and worked to perfection.

Social Event

The Colonial Dames, ten in number were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Mudgett on Front street Tuesday evening.

The home was handsomely decorated, the dining room being decorated in white astors and ferns, while the parlor was made beautiful with nasturtians foliage. A course supper was served at six o'clock. Souvenirs in the shape of a card with original quotations composed by Mrs. T. Merrill, were placed at each guests plate, and were very witty.

The evening was spent in games and social intercourse. Mrs. Hattie Porter was the winner of the prize, which was a dainty initial stick pin. The guest departed at a late hour voting their hostess a royal entertainer.

Cass County Correspondence

Over in Cass county lives a couple of very devoted young people.

Last week the youth went to Dowagiac and spent a day.

The girl would like to have gone with him and she let him know as much, through a mutual friend, when he returned. Being inclined toward poesy the young man wrote a note, replying as follows:

If I had a knowed you'd

A wanted to went,

I'd a-sure came an' took you,

You bet your last cent.

Not to be outdone the girl replied in rhyme.

Her note follows:

If I had a-thunk that's

What you'd a did,

You bet I'd a wrote you,

To take me, old kid.

STREETS REALLY WASHED.

Number of Bacteria Reduced in Proportion of 460 to 10—Cleaning Thoroughfares.

An example of what can be accomplished by honest endeavor, controlled by scientific knowledge, in the administration of affairs concerning the public is furnished by the work of Street Cleaning Commissioner John M. Woodbury, of New York, says American Medicine.

Not satisfied with the old and inefficient method of cart sprinkling and sweeping, he introduced the plan of washing the streets by means of compressed air machines, or with hose from the hydrants. Instead of laying the dust by sprinkling, he says the streets should be washed so clean there will be no dust.

During the last year an average of 60 miles of street has been washed daily, between the hours of one and four o'clock in the morning. By washing, Dr. Woodbury means applying the water with sufficient force to remove the gum which clings to the surface of the asphalt; this, he says, is the only sanitary way to clean such pavement.

The proof of his assertion is found, not only in the comparative freedom from dust but also in a more positive way by bacteriologist tests. The latter show that bacteria are very largely removed from the streets by washing them as described.

An agar plate exposed at a point in Fifth avenue just after the passage of a sprinkling wagon developed 460 colonies of bacteria. A second plate exposed at the same place for an equal time after approved flushing of the street showed only ten colonies.

Another proof of the efficacy of the plan adopted is the low death rate in the part of the city which has been so cleaned for a considerable period of time.

The four or five boys, who did such havoc with other people's belongings on Oak street, last Wednesday night, had better not attempt to carry this on again or it may not result as nicely as their precious experience. Between 10 and 12 o'clock on this night, these boys got into the grape arbor belonging to Mrs. Dr. Roe and helped themselves liberally to the fruit, besides taking the lawn mower and throwing it in the creek that runs back of her residence. Not satisfied with the mischief they had already done, they then broke the division fence between there and Mrs. Anna Tichenor's place, where they striped her peach tree, carrying away about two bushels. If these boys had asked for the fruit, there is no doubt they could of had all they wished for, without going to these extremes.

Jake Evans, living west of Mears, was struck by a northbound freight, four and a half miles from Pentwater, Mich., Wednesday, while walking on the track. Evans, who was deaf, turned and saw the engine just before being struck, but was unable to get out of the way. Death was instantaneous. The tragedy occurred only 20 paces from the spot where a little girl was killed two weeks ago.

Muskegon Heights council have granted a 30 year franchise to the $5,000,000 Grand Rapids-Muskegon Water Power Electric Co., to erect poles and string wires through that city. The franchise is practically unrestricted.

Charged with murdering Robert Nodhdurft, of Eau Claire, Mich., who mysteriously disappeared from a Big Four excursion train in Elkhart on return from Marion, Ind., August 24 and whose body was found floating in the canal four days later. William Griffin, of Berrien Center, Mich., and Bert Tidy, of Eau Claire, Mich., were arrested Wednesday and taken to the jail at Elkhart. At first it was believed Nodhdurft had fallen accidentally from the car platform, but it was afterward learned that Griffin and Tidy had fought with him while drunk.

William J. Welch was instantly killed Wednesday at noon by a west bound Michigan Central train. The horse Welch was driving jumped over the crossing gates and ran onto a train which threw the light wagon, horse and man four rods, demolishing wagon, and mangling the horse.

Welch's head was crushed and an arm and leg cut off. He was aged about 35. His wife died last December. He leaves a son, Floyd aged nine years.

Wednesday was Michigan day at the state fair and the weather was perfection itself. Tuesday's gate receipts, the officials have announced, totaled $5,687 more than the first three days of last year's fair. The feature of Michigan day was the dedicatory exercises, which took place at noon. Governor Warner, Mayor Codd and other state and city officials were present.

Miss Gertrude Catherman, of Kalamazoo, 17 years of age, attempted suicide in Bronson park, Wednesday, after she had engaged in a quarrel with her lover, and is now in a critical condition. The girl and her lover Lewis Foote, were in the park in the early part of the evening and quarreled. She procured a quantity of laudanum, after Foote had left her. She wrote a note to him in which she said she loved him still, but had nothing to live for now.

Cecil Smith, 3 year old son of E. A. Smith, of Kalamazoo, had the entire right side of his face horribly mangled by a large beagle hound late Wednesday evening. The child stepped from his home into the front yard and the dog sprang at him. The animal had to be beaten away from the child. Almost all the flesh on the right side of the face was torn away, as was also the ear.

First Grand Jury

Cassopolis, Sept. 13.—The first grand jury in the county in fifty years is now in session. The judge's charge aims particularly at violators of the liquor law, together with Sunday lawbreakers.

It is known that six indictments have been returned. As none but Dowagiac parties have been seen to enter the jury room, it is surmised that the indictments are against the saloon men of that city. Coy W. Hendryx, of Dowagiac was appointed special prosecutor for the jury.

Theodore Roosevelt's article in the October Scribner's will be entitled "A Colorado Bear Hunt," and will describe the expedition which he made last April with Dr. Alexander Lambert and Philip B. Stewart, accompanied by John Goff and Jake Borah, his guides and hunters. There were also a pack of hounds, a big pack train, and horse wranglers and other attendants for a coming expedition in the mountains. The illustrations are from the private collection taken by Dr. Lambert and Mr. Stewart.

At the sidewalk of one of the ferry houses in New York stood a police vehicle, backed against the curb awaiting its load. Walking leisurely in the center of the pushing, racing mob from a landing ferry boat was a tramp, all rags but placid of manner. At his side walked a bluecoat, who led him to the waiting patrol wagon. As the tramp was about to enter he bethought himself and standing on the wagon steps he leaned far out to one side, and to the driver he called in the drawling voice of a bored boulevardier: "Home, James."

But it was chewing gum, the child wanted the kind made in the garden of Eden, Mich., by Kate Noble and Women, and sold in Buchanan, mostly at BINNS' MAGNET STORE.

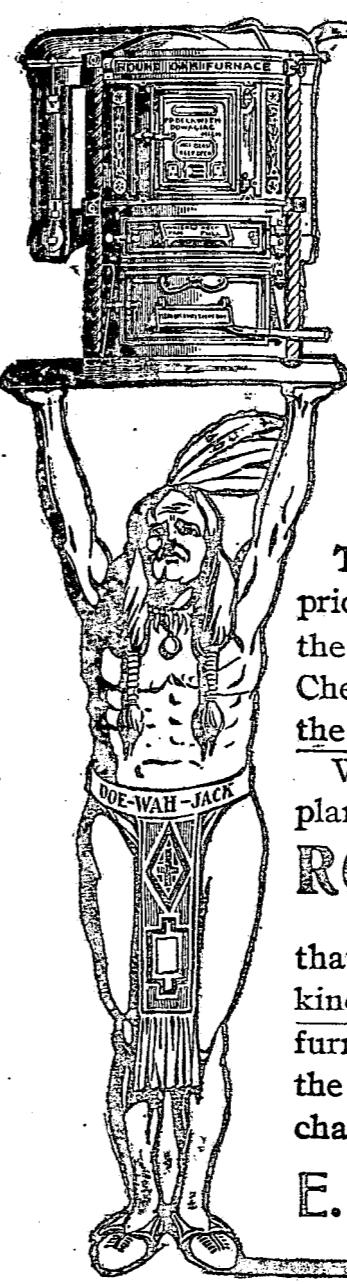

Over one hundred and fifty men are busily engaged working on the inter-urban road between Niles and Berrien Springs. It is thought that in about six weeks the road will be in running order. There has been some delay in the work on account of being unable to get cement, but now the work is being pushed on to the last pier and cross beams are being put in place.

Mr. E. J. Elson wishes to extend a cordial invitation to the public at large, to call and see his new jeweler Mr. Horace Shadel, who is now installed in his store. Dr. Belknap, one of the old practitioners, of Michigan, who lives at Niles, delivered an address before the Academy of Medicine at Kalamazoo, Wednesday evening in which he declares that more deaths result from typhoid fever under the new methods of treatment. He advocates a return to the methods of treatment used half a century ago. The doctor declares that there were but few deaths from the disease in those days. He says the germ theory was not taken up and that the disease was not known by reason of blood examination, but from certain symptoms. He states that he is meeting with more success in his way of treatment than are doctors who are treating by the new methods.

Four years ago Mrs. F. M. Roll, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., purchased some common red currants at a grocery store, and after making the fruit into pulp and straining out the seeds, threw the latter into the back yard. From these seeds sprang up four or five shrubs which were preserved and cultivated in the garden along with other currant bushes. They grew rapidly, and this year for the second time they have borne fruit. The shrub is as much a vine as a bush, while the fruit is unlike anything ever seen here before. When fully ripened it resembles a large black cherry, and in size is about midway between a large currant and a gooseberry. Its flavor is delicious. Some of the berries, as well as the vines, have been sent to Leo M. Geismar, in charge of the upper peninsula agricultural experimental station, who has not yet determined exactly what the fruit is. Some of the bushes or vines, together with berries, were sent to the state fair at Detroit.

Furnace Heat Is Best and Cheapest

Furnace heat is best, cheapest and most healthful—and we honestly believe the Round Oak the best furnace ever made.

Everybody knows the famous Round Oak Stove—the most popular in the world. This furnace is made by the same people—and it's just as good.

There are all kinds of furnaces at all kinds of prices—but to save fuel—(important nowadays)—the furnace must be air-tight and hold the fire. Cheap furnaces don't do this—so they're really the most expensive.

We furnish free a carefully prepared scientific plan for heating your home. Then we install a

ROUND OAK FURNACE

"As Easily Regulated as a Lamp"

that saves fuel from the first day and burns any kind of hard or soft coal, coke or wood. A furnace should be properly installed—to fit the needs of the house it heats. You take no chances with the Round Oak—nor do we.

Trial In Session This Week

Of Frank Sowalk, the Pottawatomie Indian, Accused of Trying to Wreck Train

The trial is now in session at Cassopolis, of Frank Sowalk, the Pottawatomie Indian, who stands accused of having endangered the lives of employes and passengers of the Michigan Central last June. The circumstances will be remembered as follows:

On the 2nd day of June, Sowalk came to Niles to market some ginseng, and when returning home, disembarked from his train at Pokagon and started to walk the distance between that place and Dowagiac. A few hours later he was found perched on a fence, alongside of the Michigan Central tracks, while some thirty ties were found to have been placed across the tracks at intervals for a couple of miles. The discovery was made by the engineer of a freight train; who was luckily able to bring his train to a stop, before he reached the obstruction. Had the discovery not been made until a few minutes later, a fast train, which was overdue, and which came thundering along a few minutes after the ties had been removed, would have been wrecked.

Sowalk was taken to Dowagiac and locked up. He was, it is claimed in a beastly state of intoxication and thought so the next morning, so his attorney Ketchum, declares, that he was arrested for drunkenness.

Alderman Northrup, of Niles, was subpoenaed to testify to the good character of the accused, who is a tailor, and who was in the former's employ at Hartford for some years. Robert McOmber, gate tender at the M. C. depot, will also testify that Sowalk was drunk when he left Niles on the 2nd day of June.

Mr. Ketchum says that the story about the Indian having a couple of traveling companions on the day, in question, is a fake.

Weekly Climate and Crop Bulletin Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 12, 1905.

The mean daily temperature for the week ending September 11 was 62.0 degrees, or 0.6 of a degree below the normal; the average precipitation was 0.46 of an inch, or 0.17 of an inch below the normal; the sunshine average 58 per cent. of the possible amount.

The weather during the week has been generally very favorable for field work and maturing corn, beans, buckwheat and sugar beets. The dry weather and sunshine has improved the quality of peaches and other fruit. Corn is maturing rapidly and cutting of the early varieties has commenced in all sections of the state, but is more general in the northern counties. Bean harvest is well under way and generally good yields are indicated. Buckwheat is, as a rule, well filled and harvesting has commenced in nearly all sections. Preparation of ground for winter wheat and rye is well advanced and seeding is quite general in the northern districts, but has barely commenced in the southern counties. Potato blight appears to be quite general and the prospect is quite poor, except in some of the northern counties.

The peach crop will be very large and plums are quite abundant, but the apple crop will be generally light.

Jesse James, Jr., Son of Robber is Relieved of $300

Jesse James, of Kansas City, pawnbroker, son of the notorious bandit of the same name, and himself a defendant six years ago on a charge of robbing a Missouri Pacific train at Leeds, Mo., was robbed of $300 by a prospective patron last Tuesday.

No one was in the pawnshop at the time but a clerk and the customer. While the clerk's back was turned the customer opened the cash drawer, took out a roll of bills and softly closed it again.

James says he knows who got the money, but refuses to swear out a warrant for the man he suspects. He says he can handle such matters on his own account.

EL LUCILE!

Grand Opera House, Chicago, Ill.

"Alice and the Eight Princesses," the new musical extravaganza that Julian Mitchell will bring to the Grand Opera house, beginning an engagement there on Sunday, Sept. 17th, is the latest work of Victor Herbert, who wrote the music and Glen McDonough who supplied the book. Mr. McDonough gives credit to those popular fantastical book, "Alice in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass," as the base upon which he founded his story. It is heralded as being their most ambitious effort. When we stop to consider that "Babes in Toyland," "It Happened in Nordland" and several other as equally successful works are also the fruit of their collaboration, expectation as to the merit of this, their new play, "Alice and the Eight Princesses," which is described as a musical extravaganza, must necessarily reach a lofty altitude. Of this, however, there is to be said, that if the author and librettist have furnished but even the slightest frame upon which to build, it can be depended upon that Julian Mitchell will contribute his share regarding elaborate stage management, detail and all those other brilliancies that have in these twentieth century days become part and parcel of the ultimate success of any musical work.

Julian Mitchell's career as a producer of light musical plays is an interesting one since the time that he first came into direct prominence in the early days of Hoyt & McKee and their great successes, as it was he who staged all the comedies of the late Charles H. Hoyt. After his leaving that firm he joined the Weber & Field forces at their music hall and there expended his time and positive genius in carrying to success and making famous their productions. After leaving them he branched out for himself and made out of "The Wizard of Oz," "Babes in Toyland," and "It Happened in Nordland," plays that are still fresh in our memory, such gorgeous spectacles that he easily proved his superiority as an American producer on the lines of light musical work. His fame has so spread that today no one questions the high position he now occupies and the people of this country are readily prepared to accept the imprint of his name on any musical comedy as a trademark of the highest standard.

The company, as is usual in all the Julian Mitchell productions, is one of unusual strength, and this year finds he has made no exception to that well established rule, "Alice and the Eight Princesses" being headed by Sam Chip and Eva Davenport. Others in the cast are, Bessie Clayton, Lotta Faust, Bessie Wynn, Smith & Cooke and D. L. Don, not forgetting the unusually pretty chorus contingent, to lend their charm to the brilliancy of the picture.

Electric Chair Record is Broken at Auburn, N. Y., Prison

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Record breaking celerity was the only unusual feature of the electrocution of Henry Manzer today in the death chamber of Auburn prison. The witnesses entered the room at 6:05 o'clock. Manzer was escorted to the chair one minute later. In another minute he had been pinioned in the chair and the mask had been drawn over his face. State Executioner Davis immediately made connections with the fatal lever and 1,780 volts coursed through the victim for 30 seconds. This was reduced gradually and then the full strength was again turned on. Manzer was dead in precisely three minutes after walking to the chair.

Niagara's Fall

Niagara river, in its course from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario, falls a distance of 727 feet. A survey by the United States engineers, who measured the flow of the river below the falls, shows that it discharges 330,000 cubic feet of water a second from one lake to the other. By a simple calculation it appears that in its descent of 27 miles from lake to lake Niagara river develops the equivalent of about 9,000,000 theoretical horse power.

No Respect for Mission of Stork.

A stork dropped down into Menominee the other day, crazed, perhaps, at the work marked out for it by Elijah Dowie. Unable to make its way through the telephone wires it set up a squawking that brought a crowd, as the visit of the stork usually does (saving the accompaniment of men and dogs.) In spite of its loud protests and awkward flapping, the creature was captured and placed on exhibition. Have the people of Menominee no respect for the mission of the "stork?" Do they expect Menominee to build up on such conduct? Has Menominee forgotten the sacred traditions that bind her to this bird, now losing time in captivity? What in thunder does Menominee mean? If Menominee is wise she will let that stork go. The man who holds it in captivity should be dealt with. Any old woman would know better.

The News evidently is jealous of Menominee's good fortune in capturing the stork, and is afraid that they will create a monopoly on the stork business. Menominee is wise, and is figuring on a large increase in its population before the next census.
