REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

County Officers to be Elected at the Election Nov. 6

The following is a short sketch of several of the men running for county offices on the Republican ticket, and expect to be elected at the fall election in two weeks

Samuel B. Miners, who has held the office of county clerk so successfully during his term, is on the republican ticket for re-election. To show that Mr. Miners is a man of sterling worth is shown by his past record in his home town of Royalton, which is a democratic town by a 55 majority.

Clerk

When running for the office of supervisor for the fifth successive time, was elected by a majority of 93 votes, showing that he stands high even among his democratic neighbors.
When running for the office of county clerk for the first time he carried his home town by a 50 majority. Mr.
Miners is a man of genial manners making friends wherever he goes.
He is also a man of the strongest integrity.

Chas E White, prosecuting attorney, of Niles, is on the ticket for re-election, and if ever a man was deserving of being re-elected, he is the man. During his term, he has made a most brilliant record, although under great difficulties. Cases that were of the weakest, were carried to a successful conclusion by the ear-est efforts of this young and fore-bearing attorney, and we can honestly say that the county's interests may be safely left in his charge. Mr.

White is not only a brilliant and successful attorney, but is a genius as well. We prophesy a complete victory for him.

County Treasurer Schultz is up for re-election on the republican ticket, and having filled his office so creditably to the public and himself as well, we feel assured that he will have the support of all in this election. Mr. Schultz, by his individual efforts, has formed the habit of making an official report every three months, thereby giving the people a chance to know exactly how the county's finances stand, four times a year, and such actions on the part of the treasurer are very commendable, and deserving of much praise

The name of John Burbank, a highly respected citizen of Buchanan, appears on the county republican ticket for the office of drain commissioner. Mr. Burbank has held this office during the last year to the perfect satisfaction of all, and was drain commissioner for two years at a previous date. We can highly recommend Mr. Burbank for we know him to be a trustworthy and honorable man, and of the strictest integrity.
He is thoroughly experienced in his office, and we are confident that he will be elected by a large majority

Frank Starkweather, of Niles, republican nominee for county sheriff, is a man of genial personality, honesty and integrity, a man who wins his friends through his kindness and jovial disposition. Mr. Starkweather is running against Sheriff Tennant, the present sheriff, and he is confident that he can fill the office to the better satisfaction of the public in general, and he asks the support of his party as well as his opponents party. Mr. Starkweather is well and favorably known in this place, as he has auctioneered many public sales

TRY ABBOT VOTING MACHINE

Important That the Voters Know How to Vote

It is very important that every voter in the city be conversant with the methods of casting a ballot on the Abbott voting machines which will be used at the election Tuesday, Nov.
6. Thursday a school of instruction was held in the city hall at Benton Harbor, but only a very small percent of the electors turned out to vote by the new system. One of the Abbott machines is now in the clerk's office at the city hall and voters not familiar with machine balloting are urged to call and City Assessor Morrison will be pleased to demonstrate the workings of the Abbott machine.

It would be a wise idea for Buchanan to follow in line and get the voters accustomed to our new Abbott machine.

ing nominee a helping hand, to gain an office which he hopes to fill to the satisfaction of the county and public.
Register of Deeds I. L. H. Dodd, another of our townsmen, who is on the republican ticket for re-election, is also deserving of mention. Mr.
Dodd, who has always been a resident of Buchanan, has filled his office during his term with the greatest credit to all. Mr. Dodd is not only loyal to his party, but is as loyal to his church. He always identified himself in church work, having been superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school for several years, and was teacher for a number of years.

We cannot speak too much praise for Mr. Dodd, who is so worthy of re-election, and we are confident he will have the support of his home town by a large majority.

WALKER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury Finds Him Responsible For Death of Miss Burk

Niles, Mich., Oct. 17.—William Walker was found guilty this afternoon of manslaughter for his part in the death of Miss Cleo Burk, in the Berrien county circuit court. The jury was out four hours, returning its verdict at 4:30 p. m.

Miss Burk died at her home in Summerville last January. Her death was said to have been caused by medicine intended to produce abortion. At the time of her illness she was working at the home of Walker's parents and circumstances pointed to the fact that he had given her the medicine.

Walker is 28 years old and the son of Joe Walker, a wealthy farmer living in the vicinity of Niles.

G. B. TREAT'S HOME BURNS

Fire Alarm was Sounded at 10:45 Saturday Morning

Saturday morning at about 10:45 the fire alarm was sounded, and it was soon made known that it was the residence property of G. B. Treat, on the corner of North Oak and Fourth streets, the fire having been caused from a defective chimney.

The fire department responded promptly, but not before the fire had gained some headway. Soon several streams of water were applied, and the flames quickly extinguished. By the kind assistance of the neighbors with the fire department, everything was removed from the house, so the furniture was not damaged in the least. More damage was done from breaking through the roof to get at the origin of the fire, and the great amount of water thrown. The loss is considerable, but covered with insurance.

First Reports of the Damage of October Blizzard Wild of Mark

The Berrien fruit growers are taking heart again. The freeze of the October blizzard did not do the extended damage at first reported. The orchards have not been killed and there is a fair prospect for fruit next year.

There are many pear trees that are now in full blossom, the warm weather following the snow storm and blizzard bringing the flowers to perfection. It is not unusual for trees to send out some blossoms in the fall and they are truly beautiful this year for they prove that the pear trees have not been killed as has been feared.

Immediately following the freeze it was reported that all the peach trees in the vicinity had been killed and there were men who wanted to place bets that there would not be harvested a half bushel of peaches in the county next year. Friday afternoon an expert made an examination of the Hamilton orchard, now owned by F. M. Mills, on the edge of Benton Harbor. Here are peach trees 2, 5, 6 and 12 years old and in the highest possible state of cultivation.
The orchard was carefully inspected and not a dead tree was found. Some of the buds were killed but there are plenty left for a good crop.

On low ground it is likely that many peach trees are killed, but the damage is nothing like reported.

The spirit of the men who grow fruit is illustrated in a real incident.
A Berrien grower was away from home at the time of the freeze and his wife sent a message that their orchard was destroyed. Soon a reply came back, "If it did not take the soil we are all right."

removed.
Dr. Orville Curtis, who is the in-present at the operation, and he reports the operation a success in every way, and that she is getting along nicely.

DEATH TRAP IN CORN SHOCK

Dastardly Outrage Results in Serious Injury of Fred Hill and His Son

Mason, Mich., October 19.—Concealed in a shock of corn an infernal machine severely injured Fred Hill and his 13-year-old son. The boy's condition is serious. The explosion was heard for miles around, and excitement in Wheatfield township, where it occurred runs high.

Hill and his son were out in the field husking corn. When they pulled over the "loaded" shock there was a terrific explosion. Both were knocked insensible. Hill's injuries are painful, but not serious. The boy was injured about the head and legs and is in a serious condition.
The farm is about eight miles northeast of here.

Officers investigated latter. They found that a loaded revolver had been placed so that the movement of the corn shock would pull a string and discharge the contents into a box of dynamite. The corn shock was blown to shreds.

Three years ago Hill shot John Hulbert, a neighbor, who had been paying attentions to his wife, but Hulbert recovered. A year ago a threshing machine at work on Hill's farm was practically destroyed by scrap iron that had been placed in the oats.

Sang at His Own Funeral

At a funeral recently in Sullivan, county, something occurred which was original, startling and somewhat sensational in character. After the sad rites had been conducted by gentlemen of cloth over the remains of the deceased, a phonograph was brought forth and placed on the casket and the assembled mourners and other friends heard the voice of the dead man singing one of his favorite hymns. This paradox of a man singing at his own funeral is believed to be the first of its kind on record.

AUTO STRIKES AN AGED WOMAN

Machine Driven by Niles Man—Mrs Horn Seriously Injured

The Detroit Journal contains the following, which probably refers to James Hatch as driver of the machine.

Mrs. Sarah Horn, 70 years old, of 826 Piquette avenue, was struck by an automobile driven by D. Hatch of Niles, Mich., at Grand River avenue and Griswold street, Wednesday afternoon. She was painfully bruised, and it is feared she suffered serious internal injuries. After receiving temporary treatment from Dr. Locke Mrs. Horn was taken home.

Equal to the Emergency

"So you break our engagement, Gwendolen!" he exclaimed bitterly. "Then in your presence let me end the life which you have blighted."

Drawing forth a vial marked "poison," he puts it to his lips, and drained it to the last drop. As he sank back unconscious, did the beautiful girl fling herself upon his breast in an agony of remorse and burst forth into frenzied sobs? Scarcely!

Hastily quitting the room, she returned presently, her lovely face tragic, yet composed. Kneeling beside the young man she forced between his lips the following: (1) One cup of turpentine; (2) one pint of milk; (3) a bowl of warm soapsuds; (4) a small bottle of aromatic ammonia; (5) a cup of black coffee; (6) a glass of mustard water; (7) a gill of vinegar; (8) juice of a lemon; (9) the beaten whites of six eggs; (10) one cup of flour and water.

"Algernon," she observed coldly, as he began to revive, "It is evident you did not know that I am a graduate of a correspondence course in first aid to the injured. My one regret is that, since it was impossible for me to ascertain whether the poison you took was an acid or an alkali, I was compelled to administer all the antidotes of which we had learned."

The International Live Stock Exposition Chicago, Dec. 1st to 5th

The views of agricultural college men and breeders on live stock subjects are worth reading carefully especially along educational lines, so that in giving our readers an interview with Prof. G. E. Day of Guelph, Canada, on the great International, it will be appreciated, Prof. Day said:

"One of the most encouraging features of the International is the enthusiasm it inspires in the minds of the young men who attend it, especially the young men from agricultural colleges, whose interest in live stock has already been stimulated by enthusiastic teachers. That which touches the young is a mighty force in the land, and who can estimate the influence the international is bound to exert in years to come, when these young men become leaders in their respective communities. Enthusiasm is infectious, example is greater than precept, and the forces set in motion in Chicago during International week are bound to make themselves felt sooner or later, directly or indirectly, in every stock-raising district on the continent.

"With such magnificent new quarters which it now occupies, and with such efficient management to shape its destiny, the International is bound to pass into history as one of the greatest forces at work in the interests of stock farmers.

A FERTILIZER TEST.

Way a Farmer May Experiment and Ascertain the Elements Needed in Soil.

The writer was recently talking with Prof. C. G. Hopkins of the University of Illinois on the use of phosphorus on the clover being grown at the university farm. The professor gave the following figures on the test on several experimental plots last year. Ten plots were used, two of which were check plots and received no treatment. The yield of dried clover hay in tons on the ten plots was as follows:

No treatment, 1.26.
Legumes, 1.21.
No treatment, 1.15.
Legumes, lime, 1.32.
Legumes, 1.21.

By comparing the above it will be seen that this land did not lack nitrogen, as the plowing under of the legumes did not increase the yield. The limed plot gave a slightly increased yield. The next five plots yielded as follows:

Legumes, lime, phosphorus, 2.91.
Legumes, phosphorus, 2.91.
This seemed to indicate that the lime was not needed, and without doubt this was the case.
Legumes, lime, phosphorus, potassium, 3.19.
Lime, phosphorus, potassium, 3.41.

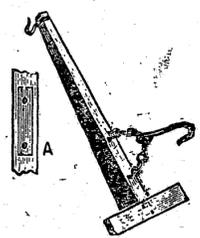

The above three plots also indicated that nitrogen was not needed, as the plots yielded about the same with and without the legumes. The story that this set of experiments tells is that the land needs phosphorus and potassium, but does not need nitrogen or lime.

What is to hinder our farmers from carrying on experiments like this on their farms and finding out just what elements are needed in their soils?

LOCUST STUMPS.

How They May Be Removed by the Use of a Home-Made Device and Without Digging.

The best way to remove locust stumps without digging is to use a stump-puller and pull them out. If they are not large, one can rig up a home-made lever puller or twister. The accompanying cut shows a home-made device which will answer the purpose if the stumps are not too large. The upright, explains the Ohio Farmer, should be of good material, eight feet long, seven inches thick at the butt and tapering to four inches at the top. At the butt mortise in a piece of plank, three feet long and seven inches wide. At 2 1/2 to three feet from the butt bore holes through the upright and insert heavy bolts with hooks or eyes at one end. On the opposite side put a thin iron plate as shown in A and screw the bolts up tight. Attach a hook as shown of 1 1/2-inch iron, two feet long. When ready to use fasten the hook over the top of the post, cant-hook style and hitch team to the top of lever.

THE STUMP PULLER.

Now is the time to subscribe for your winter reading. Call at this office, and see the bargains we offer you with the Buchanan Record.

SOME APPLES ESCAPE FREEZE

Fruit About Lakeside and Sawyer is Still in Good Shape

Apples around Sawyer and Lakeside were not killed by the late cold spell which ruined the fruit in many parts of Berrien county. For some reason this section of the county escaped destruction at the hands of the bitter cold and today the apples which were on the trees before the freeze are in as good condition as they were before the cold weather visited them. It is estimated by the growers in that vicinity that they have been saved hundreds of dollars by the unaccountable manner in which the freeze passed them by and th Lakeside Vineyard Company is among the largest producers who feel that their escape was miraculous.

The Lakeside Company has a great number of apple trees, heavily loaded with fruit and not an apple was frozen on any of the trees. They are as sweet and as perfect as they were before the cold snap and the company, along with the other growers who were fortunate enough to escape are delighted over their good fortune.

A Letter of Interest

We are in receipt of a letter from the Michigan Agricultural college, which contains a graphical account of the way the school is conducted, and is a letter of interest to all our readers, and we print the following: Agricultural, College, Mich.

October 22, 1906

Gentlemen:—

While your section of the state has furnished us a goodly number of young men for our special courses still we have not reached the farmers as we could wish. The Michigan Agricultural College is supported very largely by the United States government but the state contributes much. The benefits of the college ought to be widespread among the farmers themselves. To this end I urge you to send us from your section of the state as large a number of young men to attend these special courses as possible. The course upon which we are laying the greatest emphasis this year is the special course in general agriculture. Our daily program consists of the following topics and teachers:

From eight to ten daily stock judging under that prince of instructors, Prof. R. S. Shaw, who not only knows cattle, sheep and swine, but knows how to teach the boys how to judge them. At ten o'clock Dr. Waterman takes the class in veterinary medicine and anatomy. Without scientific language or unnecessary delay he leads the boys at once into the rules for detecting lameness or diagnosing the common complaints of horses, cattle, sheep and swine and teaches them the proper remedies and methods. Naturally he gives them much of the anatomy and considerable of the physiology. At 11 o'clock I take the class in hand to teach them how best to feed up the stuff they grow upon their farms and what feeds to buy to supplement that ration. At one o'clock Prof. Jeffery takes the boys in soils and crops, and they spend an hour every day in studying the structure of the soil and how to fertilize it. At two o'clock on alternating days they go to the library to study and the gymnasium to practice certain physical exercises which are bound to be useful to them, no matter if they are farmers throughout their lives. At three o'clock they go to the blacksmith or carpenter shop and put in two hours of hard work learning to shape iron and wood.

You can see what such a daily program continued for forty consecutive days mean, with the Saturdays put in at general work, like visiting herds or reviewing in the shops. The number of men that we have helped by a similar course now exceeds 1,000. They are scattered all over this state and in fact all over the United States. Experience shows that the course applied to good men makes invaluable citizens. Can you not send us some young men from your county? The Apples and pears came through the remarkable snow storm and freeze of Oct. 8 and 10 with less loss and damage than was feared, and growers are now picking the fruit and marketing it as fast as possible. Fruit that was on the trees ran some risk, but what was under the snow was absolutely safe.

While the dry leaves are on the ground, men accustomed to smoking on the streets should be very careful to notice that their matches are entirely extinguished before throwing away, for fear the leaves will ignite and start a blaze. Last Sunday either through the mischievousness of some children or the carelessness of some man in discarding a match, the leaves in front of where the new Methodist church is to be built, started to burn, and the fire continued until it reached the Marble Works and besides being in the ditch it crossed over into the lot between Smith's and the Marble works, and burned the fence, and might of considerable damage had it not been for people passing by, who extinguished the fast advancing fire. This should act as a warning, and by heeding may be the means of keeping us from having a more serious fire.

It is generally believed here that last weeks storm killed all peach, sweet cherry and plum trees. Some of the farmers intend to pull out whole orchards of their peach trees as soon as possible, but most of them will wait until spring to be sure that the trees are really dead. All apples that were on the trees are a total loss and those that were on the ground under the snow are good for nothing, but cedar grapes are only fit for the cider mill. Many farmers having large vineyards and apple orchards, were also heavy losers. Among them are Jacob Butzbach, with five acres of grapes and Philip Hiler, with several fine orchards.

Mrs. Fiske's Great Success in Chicago

No play ever presented at the Chicago theaters has received higher endorsement than the "The New York Idea," which Mrs. Fiske and her Manhattan Company produced at the Grand Opera house last Monday night, and will continue to act for the remainder of their fortnight's engagement. The performance which was received with the greatest enthusiasm was a positive triumph for Mrs. Fiske, for her notable company of associates and for Langdon Mitchell, the author of this delightful satire of present day New York society. Without exception the Chicago critics give Mrs. Fiske's newest offering most emphatic praise. W. L. Hubbard says in the Tribune:

"It is the most delightful comedy seen here in years, and in the matter of production and of presentation by Mrs. Fiske and her Manhattan company it is just about as near perfection as any reasonable mortal can ask to see. No one who wishes an evening of the most delightful sparkling entertainment will go amiss in patronizing "The New York Idea." Mrs. Fiske is fascinating. Never has she played with more consummate art and more captivating charm. The supporting company is virtually flawless, easily the best that the American stage possesses today."

"Mr. James O'Donnell Bennett in the Record-Herald says that: "Mrs. Fiske and her Manhattan company make one proud of our stage. "The New York Idea" brings Mr. Mitchell forward to the front rank of American dramatists and satirists."

Burns Mantle in the Inter Ocean: "It is brilliant in dialogue, clever in characterization, beautifully complete in setting. It is a long time since Mrs. Fiske has been so happily cast."

Forest Arden in the examiner: "The best play Mrs. Fiske has had in years, the most brilliantly written satire Chicago has witnessed in a decade, and one of the most amusing comedies of life in New York society ever penned."

The public has received the play as enthusiastically as the press. The brilliant satire and humorous situation evoke laughter that punctuates almost every line. After each act Mrs. Fiske and her associates are called before the curtain repeatedly. As usual with Mrs. Fiske, she has not hesitated to be generous in allowing her fellow-players an opportunity, and her own characterization of Cynthia Karlake shines in a cluster of finished performances by John Mason, George Arliss, Charles Harbury, Dudley Clinton and the other members of the cast. Next week will be the last of the engagement, which terminates on Saturday evening October 27. Needless to say she is playing to crowded houses and her two weeks stay promises to be the most brilliantly successful she has experienced in Chicago. Mrs. Fiske has
