HOSPITAL DRIVE UNDER 4 CHAIRMEN

CITIZENS URGED TO RESPOND WITH CASH DONATIONS TO KEEP INSTITUTION IN OPERATION

The Directors of the Hospital association held a meeting a few days ago and discussed fully the financial condition of the institution. As stated in a previous issue of this paper the finances, at the present time as usual, are very low and it was decided to start the annual fall drive for funds. The method of collecting the funds will be thru a committee representing the four wards of the city, each ward to have its own chairman and assistants who will make a house to house canvass. Those in charge of the different wards are as follows:

- Ward 1 Glenn Merrifield. Ward 2 Harry Berry. Ward 3 Herbert Roe. Ward 4 J. R. Semp e. Jesse Boyle was appointed chairman of the committee to solicit from the rural district. It is urgently requested that the community assist this committee in every way possible to make this drive a success, otherwise the hospital cannot continue.

Alonzo Howe, supervisor of the township was elected to the hospital board. This motion also provided that the supervisor should become a permanent member of the board. Ways and means of reducing the cost of operation of the hospital were discussed and every effort will be made to reduce running expenses to a minimum at the same time maintaining a high standard of efficiency. The hospital is badly in need of new equipment including a gas range, twelve new mattresses, pillows together with a supply of linen which should include sheets, pillow cases, towels, bath, face and surgical, also baby clothes. Also twenty-four double blankets together with numerous other bedding articles, tables, bedside tables, floor lamps knives and forks, teaspoons and desert spoons. It is urgently requested that the women's organizations of the city arrange to furnish the pillows and necessary linen. This material can be bought thru the local dry-goods stores at cost using standard material recommended by the hospital superintendent. Those interested in the welfare of the institution should find it possible to help donate toward the above mentioned articles.

NEW HOME FOR COUNTY MUSEUM

Exhibits numbering 60,000 at Three Oaks, all reminiscent of the pioneer days in Berrien county, will gain a permanent home within the near future, with the erection of the new building for the Warren Featherbone company and the bank of the E. K. Warren and Co. The new building will be erected north of the Three Oaks department store, where ground has been broken for the project. The bank will occupy up to date quarters in the new building, with every possible convenience for the efficient transaction of business. A new type of safety deposit box will be one of the innovations. With the moving of the bank the entire three story building which it now occupies will be released to the Foundation for the museum, with the exception of the room used by Charles K. Warren for offices. The museum is becoming of increasing significance and the scattering of the collection in three separate buildings is becoming more and more inadequate. It can neither be displayed properly nor is it safe from fire or theft in its present location. The rearrangement of the entire collection on the three floors of the office building will provide an excellent display space and will also give proper protection to the rapidly increasing collection. It has not yet been decided what will be done with the old Foundation property.

"GOOD FIVE CENT CIGAR" PROMISED BY EXPERTS The nickle cigar has come back for good according to the Bureau of Tobacco and Plant Nutrition of the department of agriculture. As a result, our colleges are filled with undesirable students, many thousands of whom ought not to be there. "The fundamentals of education must be taught in the home, but present tendencies have shifted the responsibility to the schools, with the result that we have suffered in our teaching of obedience, the habit of work, self-sacrifice, self-reliance and self-governance."

SENATOR FERRIS ATTACKS SCHOOLS

MICHIGAN MAN SAYS EDUCATION IS FAILING THROUGH TOO MUCH SPECIALIZATION Our schools fail to educate, "because they are over-organized and over-specialized," said U. S. Senator W. N. Ferris in an address this week before students at the Michigan State college. "The ten commandments are still in force, even though Judge Ben Lindsay of the Denver juvenile court says I am wrong. For that matter, compared with Lindsay, the late Robert Ingersoll, atheist, was an angel." The senator's attack upon Lindsay startled his audience and was one of several high lights in an address devoted to a general attack upon the modern school system which he charged fails. "They will say I am out of step with the times, but God help the times," Ferris commented in connection with his reference to Lindsay and Ingersoll. "The modern school system stresses 'schooling' instead of 'education,'" he continued, "and there is a fundamental difference. As a result, our colleges are filled with undesirable students, many thousands of whom ought not to be there."

TRADITIONS OF PAST AGES MARKS LIFE IN THE ORIENT

MISSIONARY TELLS OF LIFE IN INDIA

FIGHT FOR SOCIAL FREEDOM AND BETTER LIVING IS DESCRIBED BY FAMILY ON VISIT HERE Life in India, all the way from the poorest coolie woman who earn six cents a day for carrying bricks, on up to a personal visit with the Great Mahatma Gandhi was related this week by Harry Schaeffer, returned missionary, who with his wife and three children is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Enos Schram in their home on Cecil avenue. Women of India are divided into two great classes, high and low, said Mr. Schaeffer. The low caste women wear few clothes and do hard manual labor. Many carry bricks for the men who do the actual coal-m work. To see women with cooie baskets on their heads is a very common sight in that country. Their earnings are rarely more than half a dozen pennies a day. The high class women wear flowing dresses consisting of a skirt and an overdraping waist, which is nothing more than a strip of cloth seven yards long and one yard wide. This "sari" like the skirt is often made of the richest materials, any "flapperish" streak in the women being expressed in the colors and materials rather than in the length of their skirts. Only from three to four percent of the women are educated. At six years of age the become "engaged" to their future husbands and after a great deal of singing and ceremony are married at 12 and taken to live with the boy's parents. The high caste girl from that time on sees no men. Boys on the other hand mingle with the world in their businesses. One of the newest costumes among the "sheiks" of India as well as the older men in the wearing of shirts, put on in a flowing style. Women are never dress-makers, their clothes for the most part being without seams. Men, especially prepared for this work, sit in their shops and make any dresses that may be demanded turning out very beautiful work sometimes. A needle is an Indian known item in the average household, said Mr. Schaeffer, although the male seamsters have sewing machines, the "Singer" being very often seen. "Sheiks" as well as the more sedate type of men sit on the sidewalk if they desire a shave and a haircut, the pavements of public buildings are very often used as temporary barber shops. Deftness is one of the qualities of these street men, said Mr. Schaeffer. Only Englishmen and foreigners sit in barber chairs. Many priests who are unusually holy never shave or have their hair cut, sitting in rags and uncleanness. The thousands of temples are likewise unkempt. Practically millions of idols are worshipped by the people, many erected in public streets. The average earning for one day in a low caste family, whose father is a mason, is 16 cents, the man getting 10 cents and the woman 6 cents. Whole wheat cakes, made of ground wheat and water is the principal diet, many in the country living almost entirely upon this menu. Potatoes are not unknown but are expensive and rice is a common commodity among the grocers. Mahatma Gandhi, the great Indian leader was met by Mr. Schaeffer about two years ago, after his release from prison and hospital. His simplicity of clothes and manner were especially noticeable, attiring himself in a dress of the simplest style and material. He was preparing to go for fishing and praying into the mountains and wore only clothes of the very scantiest sort, said Mr. Schaeffer, on an extremely chilly day. Although the great reformer is a man of wealth he believes in living an extremely simple life. In his interview with Mr. Schaeffer he said that his spinning wheel and home woven clothes were merely symbols of his ideas. The spinning wheel stood as a symbol of home industries and personified the idea that the Indian country did not need West-is to materialistic. The Orient need a civilization its own. An industrial system with its crowded conditions would not relieve the lower classes in an already overworked country. But home industries would be a step near to a solution of the situation. Farmers are occupied in their own way with cultivating their fields only five months of the year. The very most, so small are their holdings. Weaving would help the classes also to better their conditions. Mr. Schaeffer said that Gandhi's great change came not long after his life had been saved by an English surgeon in an Indian hospital.

LONG DISTANCE SWIM LANDS GIRL IN JAIL

In an attempted non-stop swim from Lansing to Niles the waters of the Grand river proved too troublesome for Vilma Kiblinger, 18-year old daughter of state stenographer, whose home is in Niles. Details to the big happening vary although according to police the pretty typist, accompanied by a pair of stockings, started out sometime Sunday afternoon but instead of spending the night battling with the waters of the Grand, the would-be swimmer was put into the jail on charges of being intoxicated. Officers are looking for two young men who are said to have drugged Miss Kiblinger with the intoxicant.

FIRE RAZES BARN NEAR GLENDORA

NO CATTLE LOST IN BLAZE COMPLETELY DESTROYING MODERN BUILDING OF JOHN HOLDEN'S Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a large barn on the John Holden farm near Glendora Monday morning at 11:30. Mr. Holden was working in the fields when he saw the smoke from the building and hurried to the blaze, which had made great headway on the lower floors. He thought that the fire started on the ground floor of the barn. No cattle were lost in the blaze but a small amount of hay and many farming implements and smaller tools were destroyed along with other farming equipment. A chicken house near by was also threatened with the flames. The barn was modernly equipped and comparatively new. It was 100 by 50 feet and was especially noticeable for its size. Mr. Holden has been unable to place any definite value on the loss yet, although insurance was carried.

LOUISE KING TO ACCEPT $25,000

ARTHUR C. RICH, FORMERLY OF BUCHANAN IS SUED FOR $100,000; JURY'S DECISION CUT A long battle by Louise King to obtain damages from Arthur C. Rich, a former resident of Buchanan ended this week at Battle Creek. Rich will be remembered here where he was connected with the Rich Tool Company, later consolidated with the Clark Equipment company. Miss King, a college student, sued Rich for $100,000 after he was convicted of a criminal assault and sentenced to prison where he is now serving a life term. The jury awarded, Miss King $50,000 but Judge Walter North recently cut the amount to $25,000 on the grounds that the jury's verdict was too excessive. Acceptance of the minimized amount by Miss King has been filed in circuit court. "She will probably never get anything, anyway," was the comment John Bailey, her attorney made.

GRAFFORT REBUYS CIGAR STAND FROM CHAMBERLAIN

Phay Graffort has repurchased the cigar store on Front street in the Buchanan State Bank block which he sold several months ago to Harry Chamberlain and is again greeting the many customers in his cheery way. tal where he was brought after he had been pardoned. He has become less radical in his opinions, non-co-operation with the government having been especially modified, although his idea of passive resistance" is still retained. Gandhi has a great power over the Indian people and although he holds non-resistance as a great principle in his code, he still up-stands and "jots" wherever he appears as a public speaker. With the appointment of the Royal Commission to sit as a voice in the government, the strife between England and the Indian natives will decrease, Mr. Schaeffer believes.

CORN QUARANTINE SOON INTO EFFECT

BORER RESTRICTIONS WILL BE SET IN MOTION NEXT WEEK; TRAFFIC PROBLEM SOLVED

The state quarantine on corn borer will go into effect Tuesday, according to Commissioner of Agriculture Herbert E. Powell. The first shipment of sweet corn from the area infected by the insect pest is scheduled to arrive in Detroit from Lucas county in Ohio, Thursday. This means that Michigan's crop will begin to ripen in two weeks, Powell said. The state has to establish the early quarantine, according to the commissioner, not only to organize, but to prevent persons living outside the quarantine market from going to the Detroit market, and returning with corn. To avoid trouble with night motorists as was experienced last year, the department has purchased 288 "bomb" torches which will be placed along the highways half a mile from the quarantine stations to slow down traffic. A carbon searchlight will play upon large signs which will call upon the automobile driver to stop and submit to search. Each automobile going from the infected area will be searched. Traffic going toward Detroit, however, will not be stopped. Powell, who has just returned from a meeting of the corn borer regulatory offices at Toledo, reported that Michigan was judged there to rank first in the "clean-up" of cornstalks.

FOOT ROT APPEARS IN STATE SHEEP HERD

A foot disease called foot rot, which is not related to the dread "hoof and mouth" cattle disease, exists in a herd of sheep in Marquette county, according to reports reaching the department of agriculture from Dr. F. A. Hansen, of Marquette. Dr. Hansen, veterinarian for the agriculture department there, indicated he believed this to be the malady which conservation department foresters reported as having spread to deers.

Orders have been sent to Dr. Hansen to have the affected herd isolated and precautions taken that their salt lick is not exposed to deer. There is no hoof and mouth disease exist in the United States today as far as records show, according to the department of agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Pierce and mother, Mrs. Annie of South Bend spent Sunday at the Tom Lewin home.

What might have been a fatal accident happened Saturday when a team of horses driven by Thomas Leewin ran away Saturday afternoon. Mr. Leewin had stopped in the barnyard to talk to a neighbor who had just drove in as he did so one of the horses dropped his head for a bite of grass and in some way the bridle dropped off and as he lifted his head there was nothing to hold it, they gave a jump and started to run. They were hitched to a wagon with a hay loader behind. Mr. Leewin was thrown and although no bones were broken the skin was torn in many places and he was bruised all over. They ran in a circle, broke a moving machine all to pieces, the hay loader was broken, the roof of the corn crib smashed, and finally with two front wheels left they started down the stone road. As it happened there were no cars on the road. They ran to the pasture a distance of sixty rods where after much running they were stopped. Mr. Leewin is able to be about today.

STATE OIL WELL MAY START SOON

PRIVATE PROSPECTORS SEEK PERMIT TO DRILL AT BOYNE CITY

As soon as L. L. Linton and F. D. Barton of Saginaw convince Director Young of the state conservation department that they are financially able, they will be granted permission to sink a "wildcat" oil well north of Boyne. The men have petitioned for a Charter for a conservation commission has decided to give the leasing of 18,500 acres of land in director permission to give an option for a lease on only 2,750 acres.

One well alone would cost $10,000 according to the state geologist who recommended that in order to start work a bond of $2,500 be posted. The two oil drillers have machinery already for their prospecting. A "possibility" of some oil being in the northern vicinity has been reported in the survey of the land by the state geologist.

$10,000 MARKET TO OPEN SOON

NEW ORGANIZATION WILL SELL RETAIL AND WHOLESALE; LOCATION IDEAL

What has been declared to be the first attempt by growers associations in the middle west to make possible a grower-to-consumer contact on a large scale is being launched this week with the opening of the Michigan Fruit Market at the state line between Niles and South Bend.

The new building, built for a centralized fruit market has been built by Richard E. Gardner of South Bend and leased to the corporation for a period of several years.

More than three acres of land and several hundred feet of highway along the highway make the market easily accessible to the automobile customers. The building itself is set far enough into the lot to allow parking of cars however. Located on a double turn the white walls of the new structure can be seen easily by all passing along the national highway. It is less than five miles from South Bend, giving opportunity to city people as well as the growers of southern Michigan.

Retail as well as wholesale orders in truck or carload lots will be filled. It is an attempt to stabilize the direct from grower to consumer idea, doing away with the small stands with their excess profits and cut-grades of produce, according to Mr. Granger. It is also to meet the need of the consumers who motor from neighboring states each summer into the fruit belt of Michigan.

"We offer retail fruit stands, grocery stores and jobbers a supply station where they can get anything in fruits or vegetables in season in a few minutes and from a source that will guarantee quality and the lowest prices, where they formerly spent much valuable time searching over the fruit belt for quality, price and quantity," said Mr. Granger.

Aside from the fruits and vegetables all kinds of farm and garden produce will be on sale, including farm tools and other merchandise for sale to farmers. A fountain and refreshment room will be another feature of the market.

Organizations which will be active in stocking the market are: Bangor Fruit exchange, Benton Center Fruit association, Fremont cooperative company, Grand Rapids Growers association, Cooperative marketing association, Lawrence cooperative company, Berrien county fruit association of Coloma, Millbury fruit association, Onekama farm bureau, Paw Paw cooperative association, St. Joseph fruit association, Shelby cooperative marketing association, Sodus fruit growers association, South Haven fruit exchange, and Lehigh River fruit association of Spring Lake.

COOPERATION IS TOWN'S BIG NEED

Cooperation among all citizens of Buchanan is the greatest need of the village, according to Al W.
Charles, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"More than anything else Buchanan needs this one thing. Cooperation among the merchants themselves, cooperation between the merchants and industries, as well as closer relationship between business man and the buying public."

Mr. Charles pointed out that it was everyone's privilege to go where the values were the best and that if South Bend and other neighboring cities offer better values it would not be unethical to take advantage of them.

It is the duty of anyone living in Buchanan, however, to give the local merchant a chance to compete with merchants of nearby cities.
Local buyers do not compare prices nor shop with the idea of comparison enough. Citizens ought to place values offered by Buchanan merchants beside those obtainable in South Bend and then make their decisions. We see something we want in other cities and without comparing prices or values at all we make the purchase.
It is very seldom that the Buchanan merchant cannot give just as good bargains for the same amount of money as any other merchant in any other town, says
Mr. Charles.

Clothing and furniture are two items that citizens especially purchase in other towns without comparing home merchandise.

It is the duty of every citizen to cooperate in every way toward supporting everyone else in the village, said the secretary, and the manner in which the buying is done is a good test of one's loyalty.

A good sewer system and a municipal building were cited as two other needs of the community.
The former is slowly developing and a building to house the offices of the city government, public library and other community interests will follow in time. Cooperation just now between every citizen of the town is the one great need that will warrant a bigger and better Buchanan.

The Chamber of Commerce in its present membership tends to build up better feeling between all classes of people, said Mr.
Charles. Its membership is open to all men of the village who have the interest of the home town at heart. There are at present 100 members, an unusual number for a village of this size.

BLUES BEATEN BY TWIN BRANCH 6-4

JAMESTOWN TIGERS AND BIG CROWD OF ROOTERS TO BE HERE FOR HARD BATTLE SUNDAY P. M.

What promises to be a game of evenness will be played Sunday between the Buchanan Blues and the Jamestown Tigers. With the close score of 4 to 5 for Buchanan in their game earlier in the season with the Blues, Sunday's game promises to be doubly interesting.

The Tigers from the southern town have a reputation of playing extra inning games with the House of David team. They are bringing a large crowd of rooters with them. Stover will appear as pitcher for the local nine and the following will be the lineup for the Jamestown men: Opelt, Lane, cf; Cady, p; Austin, c; Ryell, rf; Erhart, lf; W. Cook, 3b; Paulus, 2b; Tharp, 1b; G. Cook and Crawford substitutes.

In a thrilling contest of wit and athletic ability the Twin Branch baseball players defeated the Buchanan Blues 6 to 4 Sunday afternoon at Athletic Park. Due to an injured middle finger over was compelled to retire on the Blues, Hamilton substituting in the seventh inning. The Blues opened the scoring in the third inning with three runs and the electricians echoed in the fourth with two runs and made it five in the sixth with four more. Hamilton pitched the other three. Young Stover having had a skin torn from his middle finger so that he could not throw.

Richards knocked a home run in the sixth inning with the bases full. Stover struck out Mikesell at that ended the slaughter. Artists at the bat were Stevens and Moore, each getting two hits and Moore scoring both times. Brown a former Buchanan player opened in the lineup for the electricians, getting on via an error and base on balls and scoring both times. Miller, captain, got a triple and a single, was on via an error and had a sacrifice hit to his credit. Two singles were also credited to Gallagher.

LOCAL GOLFERS ATTENDING FLIGHT

PROMINENT PLAYERS ASSEMBLED AT CHAIN O' LAKES TODAY AND TOMORROW FOR PROGRAM

A galaxy of stars in the firmament of lady golfers is assembled at Chain O' Lakes today and tomorrow to participate in the tournament of the Women's Western Golf association in which Orchard Hills has taken membership to permit the participation of its members. A bevy of our players are there today and more will attend tomorrow to witness the plays by women most prominent in golf circles.

Miss Van Wie of South Bend, is chairman of the flight, and has arranged a most interesting program.

Of particular interest to local golfers is the entry into the meet of Mrs. Walter J. East, of Chain O' Lakes, and Mrs. Penn G. Skillern, of Coquillard Woods. It is upon these two women that South Bend depends for honors. Both are shooting unusually fine golf. The form displayed by Mrs. East in the St. Joseph Valley tournaments and in match games at Chain O' Lakes club, demonstrates that she is playing even better golf than when she was runner-up in the Indiana Women's championship in 1925. Last week she turned in a card of 41-43-84.

Mrs. Skillern was practically unknown in the golfing field until last week, when at the Indiana championship tournament in Fort Wayne she qualified in the championship flight and won the consolation in that class, winning unusually praiseworthy mention in the reports of the Associated Press and the Indianapolis and Fort Wayne newspapers. The entry of Mrs. Skillern was announced today when information came from the headquarters of the Women's Western Golf association in Chicago, that Coquillard Woods had been admitted to membership.

An interesting feature in connection with the South Bend meet is that because of this tournament five new clubs have joined the association so as to permit entry of players in the competition. These clubs are Coquillard, of South Bend; Orchard Hills, of Buchanan and Berrien Hills, of St. Joseph, Mich.; Christiana, of Elkhart, Ind., and the Plymouth, Ind. club.

The interest displayed in the tournament by the Women's Western association is shown in the assured presence of Mrs. Robert Cutting, of Chicago, president, and of Mrs. James P. Gardner, Mrs. H. D. Raymond, both of Chicago, and past presidents of the organization, and Mrs. H. D. Fargo, chairman of the Edgewater club, Chicago and a seven handicap player.

The field of entrants from Chain O' Lakes will be unusually large, the list including 20 of the leading players of that organization.

Besides the heavy list of prizes offered for the various flights by the Chain O' Lakes club, several special trophies are being added to the list by members of the club, all coming without solicitation. The A. R. Erskine trophy, consisting of a coffee service, including pot, creamer, sugar and tray in Paisley pattern, will go to the winner of the championship class which will include players from "scratch" handicaps of 5. The T. M. Spidebaker trophy for the winner of the second flight handicap 6 through 9, is a set of exquisite plates. Mr. Spidebaker is also presenting a Senna oriental rug 4x5, for the victor in the flight for players of handicap players of 10 to 14. David Pollack is giving a doorway Chinese rug in blue yesteria, to the winner of the fourth flight for players of 15 to 24 handicap.

ORCHARD HILLS ANNUAL MEETING

STAG DINNER AND ELECTION TO BE EVENT ON TUESDAY NIGHT AUGUST 9TH AT CLUBHOUSE

The annual meeting of the Orchard Hills country club will be held in the club house Tuesday night, August 9th, immediately following a stag dinner which all of the members of the male persuasion are expected to attend.

This is an important meeting since certain club policies are to be discussed and fixed, officers and committees elected, and much other important business disposed of. It is a good time to air your views on country club activities, discuss and discuss the grounds and house committee and help elect men of your choice to run the club for another year.

The house committee has created considerable interest in the club this year, particularly among those who do not yield to the lure of the little white ball, by having the monthly stag dinners and entertainments. Food in abundance and of excellent quality is served and assurance is given that the forthcoming dinner will not yield in quality to those which are now but a memory.

DOG WATCHING CHILDREN BITES ICEMAN; IS SHOT

ING HIS DAILY ROUNDS IN LIBERTY HEIGHTS.

He had stopped a moment to speak to a group of children who were playing with the dog on Cecil avenue when the animal jumped at the iceman's leg. CHURCH MEMBERS NOT DECREASING

SHIFTING POPULATION OF CITY RESPONSIBLE FOR CONDITION DECLARES REV. H. LIDDICOAT

Church membership withdrawals are greater than new additions to the roll, said the Rev. Henry Liddicoat, in commenting upon reports from H. K. Carroll, church statistician, who recently in an address at Detroit charged that a decline in all evangelical rolls is going on.

The reason for the shrinkage in number of members is due very largely, according to Rev. Liddicoat, to the great shifting population of industrial workers. Although the number of new names added to the church roll each year does not equal the number who have moved away into other localities, the names are not automatically dropped. An inactive, non-resident membership has been devised to take care of the situation, said the local pastor.

The change in evangelistic work that has been revolutionized during the past few years is largely responsible for the decline said Carroll. Pastors no longer believe in the tabernacle method of educating the children and youths over a period of years. Additions to churches are therefore greater among the younger people.

Dr. Carroll charges that heavy losses are being sustained by all denominations, no matter how well they are administered. The truth of the situation is not yet fully realized by all denominations he said. In six different denominations there are losses totaling yearly 150,000 members, according to the authority.

The Royal Neighbor club will meet Thursday August 4 with Mrs. Harry Smith in her home on Third street.

CONGRATULATE LINDBERGH

The Boy Scouts of America were among the first to congratulate Colonel Charles Lindbergh after his epochal flight to Paris from New York City. A cable message to the young flyer by James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, said: "The congratulations of 840,000 scouts on your achievement so splendidly typifying the spirit of American youth."

To Lindbergh's mother in Detroit, Mr. West sent this message: "Eight hundred and forty thousand scouts join in congratulations on your son's daring and epoch-making flight. REPORT SHOWS INCOME SHRINKS

AUDITOR'S REPORT REVEALS THE STATE'S INCOME IS LESS THAN THAT OF YEAR AGO

A compilation of the state's receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1927, has been released by Auditor General Orval B. Fuller. Because some of the state's bills were not paid until the tenth of July an audit of disbursements is not ready. The total receipts amounted to $94,293,661.44, a decrease of $225,812.46 from 1926 when the total was $94,519,473.90. While receipts to the general fund and the institutional and revolving funds, over which the state government has direction for operating both increased, the trust and special funds decreased. The general fund increase amounted to $146,860.66, totalling $32,376,590.74. The institutional and revolving fund receipts leaped $335,347.33 to $6,974,516.95 while the trust and special fund decrease amounted to $904,040.15. These last funds are lumped, totalling $55,042,653.72. The trust and special fund income school interest fund of approximately $17,000,000, the highway bond sinking fund of more than $7,000,000, the soldiers' bonus sinking fund and many others. The auditor general intimated that a preliminary checkup of disbursements indicated they would be higher than last year when the total was $92,197,346.98. Last year the general fund, after credit and debit transfers, showed a plus balance of $1,008,470.53 while the industrial and revolving funds operated with a loss of $176,899.15. This gave the state an operating balance of almost $1,000,000 for the year. Governor Fred W. Green estimated in his message to the legislature last April that a general fund deficit of $5,282,000 would exist as of this June 30. This estimate was based upon an audit of the various fund and was alleged to have been incurred through debit and credit transfers of the previous administration.

Next Lord's day will be a shining example of the fact that Christianity embraces the whole life; it sympathizes with the desire to have a jolly good time and at the same time it affords help and comfort to those whose situation demand that. It is truly the opportunity of a life time.

WHEAT BETTER HERE THAN FIFTY YEAR AGO CROP

The earth is growing better, at least statistics from Buchanan vicinity say so. John Batten, reports that on the same land which his grandfather raised crops, he has bought 1300 bushels of wheat from 40 acres, an average of 30 bushels to the acre.

His grandfather, John Batten, just fifty years ago this month, was boasting of 1200 bushels of wheat from 60 acres, an average of 20 bushels to the acre.

The yield was considered exceptionally fine, the story of his good luck being told on the front page of the Record fifty years ago. Who said farming conditions are worse than ever before?
