HEARD ABOUT TOWN

After all you can't blame the people for electing Citizens to office. The constitution provides that only citizens may hold office.

Among the Irishmen along Front street and side streets this week are Sumner's Hardware, The Michigan Gas & Electric, Sands Grocery and the Buchanan Candy Kitchen.

According to headlines in the Greatest Newspaper in the World, the old reliable "Chicago Tribune," the nomination of Al Smith will cause a split in the Democratic Party in Michigan.

"Yeah" observed the candidate who also ran. "The trouble with this election was that the intelligent voter staid home. Both of 'em."

Fred Mead says that what this town needs is a strident home talent baseball team. Read his idea on the matter in another column of this issue.

We saw two robbers looking up a place of residence as we came to work this morning. Of course, they admitted that it is kind of early, but in view of the housing shortage in Buchanan, they said they thought it might take some rustling to get located.

We have it on reliable information that there are 37 couples in Buchanan who would get married this week if they could find a place to live.

The G. O. P. is out of luck— With pain it lifts its head to say— "Who got the number of that truck?"

One of the interesting sights we have observed in our perambulations about the village was the salesman of the Ford agency pulling the shoes off a horse. He did it handily. In fact you have to be a good horseman if you drive a Ford, they say.

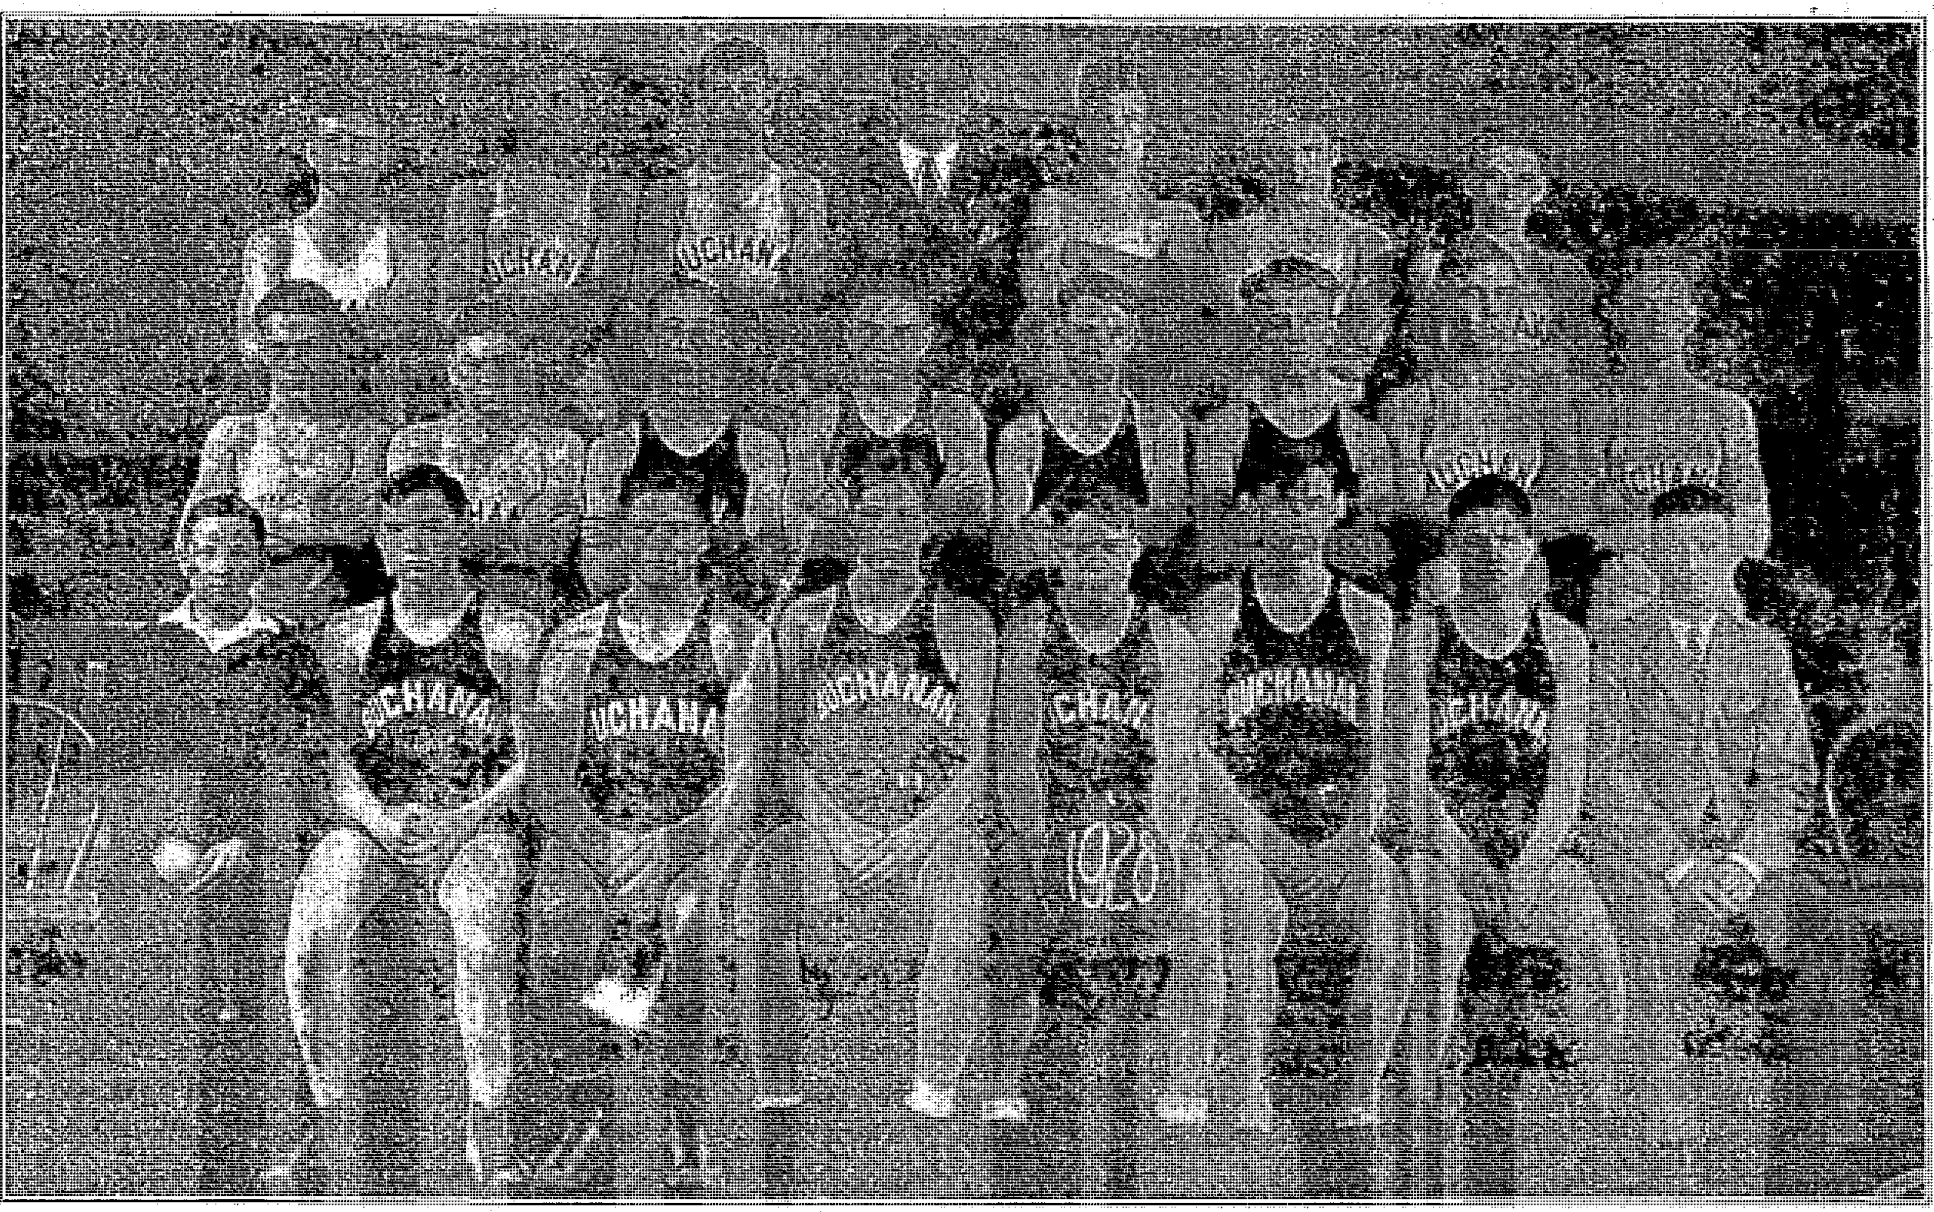

WILSON OPENS NEW CREAMERY ON LAUREL STREET

C. J. Wilson, former buttermaker at the St. Joe Valley Creamery, has leased the Parkinson building and is installing 25 feet of concrete in the rear, preparatory to opening the Wilson Home Dairy.

The telephone girls entertained Monday evening at the home of Ruth Lauer with a farewell party for Mrs. Mildred Plangan, who has resigned her position at the telephone office.

HOME ECON SCHOOL IS A SUCCESS

Heads Say Attendance Record Broken For Towns

This Size 325 OUT YESTERDAY

The success attained by the Record Cooking School held in the high school auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Alma Hunt may be gauged from the fact that 265 local women attended.

In addition to her lectures on cooking processes, fundamentals of cookery and special menus and dishes, the question and answer periods proved to be exceptionally popular.

Prizes were issued, those winning each day being as follows: Tuesday Mrs. Walter Dale, Mrs. R. Dill, Mrs. M. Reams, Mrs. E. T. Waldo, Mrs. Paul Wynn, Mrs. C. D. Hamilton, Mrs. Arnold, Letha Platz, Mildred Brewer and Thelma Jerue.

Wednesday Mrs. J. Richards, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Mrs. G. W. Merrifield, Mrs. O. L. Donley, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Paxton, Dorothy Kell, Mrs. Joe Fougue, Mrs. Eugene Steele.

The same school is being conducted at the Berrien Springs town hall today and Friday.

While skating in a rink in Mishawaka Sunday evening, Claude Koons fell and sustained a fracture of the elbow and a severe laceration over the eye.

The Bay-Leaf Rebekahs will meet Friday evening for their regular meeting, at which time the report of the delegates from the district meeting at Three Oaks will be heard.

RECORD IS OUT THIS WEEK IN A COMBINATION SUIT

That "something different" which you have noted in the appearance of the Record this week is due to the fact that two different and somewhat incongruous styles of type are used in the news stories.

The discrepancy is due to the fact that all day yesterday the Record linotype was out of commission, due to wiring trouble, and the mechanical facilities of the Niles Star were courteously placed at our disposal.

NEW MEMBERS VILLAGE GOV'T. SEATED TONIGHT

The city council will hold a meeting this evening for the purpose of inducting the newly elected mayor and councilman into office.

The only business taken up by the new body will be the determination of meeting dates, and the arrangement of bonds for incoming officers who may require them.

INDIANAPOLIS WIFE DESERTER IS NABBED HERE

Elmer C. Trees of Indianapolis, was arrested here last night at 5:30 by Chief of Police Fred French.

A unique feature of the golden wedding celebration which would not have been possible at the original event 50 years ago will be the presence of orange blossoms and carnations sent by airplanes from relatives near San Francisco.

FRANK FISK OLD PIONEER DIES SUNDAY

OPERATED FIRST THRESHING OUTFIT USED IN BERRIEN COUNTY

Frank Fisk, 87, pioneer school teacher, blacksmith, farmer and threshing machine man of this section, passed to rest Sunday morning, marking the end of a life history that was very intimately associated with the beginning and development of this section.

He was born May 21, 1840, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Fisk, a pioneer of Niles township. While a boy he had the misfortune to have a leg crushed by a rolling log, requiring amputation.

The state based its case mainly on the evidence of Harvey Letcher, local high school boy, who testified that he had sold Voorhees a skunk hide and a weasel hide, receiving fifty cents each.

The defense based its case on the unconstitutionality of the law and the insufficient evidence of the prosecution. The testimony of Letcher, Attorney Sanders contended, was offset by the flat denial of Voorhees; that he was even acquainted with Letcher, or had ever had dealings with him.

Mead further testified that he had bought hides from Andrew Lyddick and had left $4 in payment for them with Mrs. Voorhees, who turned the money over to Lyddick for him.

Attorney Sanders attached the constitutionality of the statute under which the case was tried, on the grounds that two purposes were included in the body of the law, in violation of the constitutional provision which holds that only one shall be expressed.

VOORHEES ACQUITTED FUR CHARGE

After over 6 hours of examination and arguments of pro and con by attorneys, the case of the State of Michigan versus Deb. Voorhees for purchase of furs without a license went into the hands of the jury at 3:30 p. m. Friday in the court of Al Charles and bounced back like a rubber check within three minutes, with a unanimous verdict for the defense.

Thus did another great case become part and parcel of legal history and take its place with the Standard Oil dissipation and other constitution-dissolving precedents.

The prosecution was handled by County Attorney George Book-walter, with the aid of Richard Condon and Clev. Homer, game wardens. The defense was conducted by Attorney Frank Sand-ers.

C. GLOVER GETS 277 MAJORITY

Results Give Victors a Clear Majority in Administration

950 BALLOTS ARE CAST

Constitute Record Poll in History of the Village

The completion of city politics in Buchanan for the next 1928 years was radically changed Monday by the avalanche of votes which swept the Citizens ticket into power by margins running in some cases almost two to one, and placing that party in full control of all departments of the government, with the presidency and four places on the council in its possession.

When the polls closed at 9 p. m., a total of 950 votes had been cast, the largest ever polled in a village election by more than 100. The results of the check of the straight tickets soon revealed that a heavy tide was running toward a sweeping Citizens victory, that party getting 354 unscratched ballots as compared with 232 straight for the Republicans.

Thus did another great case become part and parcel of legal history and take its place with the Standard Oil dissipation and other constitution-dissolving precedents.

The greatest success on the "split" went to Wilson Letter, Republican candidate for treasurer, who gained 98 votes on splits, but fell short by 24 of the votes polled for his adversary, Henry C. Eisels.

Among the trustees, Walter B. Shoop gained 55 votes on splits, and fell short by 69 of overcoming the lead which his opponent, Charles J. Bradley, had secured on straight.

The tale of the election is told by the following figures: For President— Claude V. Glover (R) 613 Harry B. Brown (R) 336 Glover's majority 277

For Treasurer— Clarence C. Runner (R) 441 Arthur Wray, Sr. (R) 498 Runner's majority 48

For Assessor— Henry C. Eisels (R) 457 Wilson Letter (R) 437 Eisels's majority 24

The occasion is the second anniversary of the opening of the store.

NEWS OF STUDENT LIFE GATHERED AND WRITTEN BY THE UPPER CLASS MEN OF BUCHANAN HIGH SCHOOL

28 STUDENTS CHARTER A BUS TO KALAMAZOO

BASKET TOURNAMENTS DELAY JUNIOR PLAYS

Through it is granted that some things are impossible they are few and far between in the activities of old B. H. S.

Having received the glorious news that our boys had successfully outplayed the Mason team, the students were determined to secure some means of conveying them to the city of Kalamazoo for the game on Friday, so a bus was ordered—the same good old bus which has miraculously withstood the wear and tear of the enthusiastic gang throughout the season. It was surprisingly easy to find the required number of students who wanted to go and see that excellent team of theirs. Then, on Friday morning about 25 terribly excited people flocked out to the waiting bus, bid goodbye to classes, and set out for Kalamazoo.

It puts it mildly to say that everyone talked at once all the way to the Normal gym. They didn't stop at merely talking, but seemed by mutual consent, to be staging a contest to determine the best lungs in the gang. Time was limited and so dinner was not in the program. Ten minutes were allowed in which the occupants raved how they in an attempt to find something to eat. The results of the search were varied in character, but no one starved. Finally the bus groaned "up the hill" in Kalamazoo.

Then, after the Buchanan team had "walked away" with their opponents, the party crowd scattered about the city and, about 6:30, piled into the bus and soon arrived in Buchanan once more.

COACH BRADFIELD SHARES GLORY OF TEAM VICTORIES

Buchanan's success in basketball this season is due in a great part to its excellent coach, Harold Bradfield.

The Maroons had a poor season as far as number of wins and losses were concerned during the schedule but "Curley Bradfield was not heard to say that the team was a good one nevertheless and that he had great hopes of its coming through at tournament time. This is exactly what it did and we are very proud of it, but only for Coach Bradfield's fine appreciation of winning rules plus his strict enforcement of the same. B. H. S. might never have tasted victory at a regional. As it was the basketball men while at Kalamazoo were allowed to be in bed at 9:00. They were allowed to eat heartily but only the best foods. They were allowed to take plenty of rest and to be under the careful attention of the coach every minute of the time when there were games to be played.

If the team had not been allowed to observe such training habits they might not have had extra energy necessary to take flight in the last minute of the game against Mason and St. Augustin. But this extra speed plus the exceptionally good basketball which Coach Bradfield has taught them this season carried them through.

Coach Bradfield is to be commended on his knowledge of what is best for his men, half the secret of championship team.

STUDENTS WRITE SHORT STORIES ON THE ART EXHIBIT

In an art appreciation lesson in the Hopkins room, the children were asked to write a short story about one of the pictures shown in the recent art exhibit, which had applied to them.

The one hundred fifty pictures shown, their interests centered upon the seven listed in the order of their popularity:

- "The Blue Boy," by Gainsborough.
 - "The Little Old Man of the Woods," Bacon.
 - "The Last Supper," Di Vinci.
 - "Can't You Talk?" Hollins.
 - "Golden Glow," Albert.
 - "Fighters," Amick.
 - "Winter," Eberhardt.
- The boys and girls in Miss Hopkins' room are drawing vegetable pictures to help them feel the value of fresh vegetables as body builders.

Everyone is so overjoyed with our basketball team that they failed to remember that three members of the team are on the Junior play lists, making it impossible to be in Buchanan and Detroit on the same night. So the Juniors are postponing the three one-act plays to be given by the class until a later date.

AG CLUB HOLDS INITIATION FOR 15 NEW MEMBERS

The Ag Club held its regular initiation party on Tuesday evening. Fifteen new members were taken into the organization. Not being acquainted with the way in which this club initiates its new members it is difficult to know whether the measures were drastic or otherwise. Assuredly, the people will be capable of furthering the progress of the club which they are entering.

120 HOSE IN WEEK'S WASH

After doing the week's washing, a Hiawatha, Kas., woman with eight girls in her family, hung out 120 silk stockings.

An automobile collision that came near being disastrous occurred Saturday morning on Front street opposite the Hammer Hardware when Lamar Aranson, driving an Oakland touring car, collided with the delivery wagon driven by Bert Hansen. The latter was driving down Front street east, when Aranson started to back out from the curbing in front of the hardware. Hansen saw the danger and jammed on his brakes, but not soon enough to prevent a collision. The front of the truck was considerably damaged, and the body moved on the chassis. Also several orders of groceries were badly scrambled.

Let Somebody Else Do Some of the Talking

IN ONE way it's hard for me to talk about Delco-Light. I'm apt to get enthusiastic and serve a lot of sound facts that seem too good to be true. So when I feel myself slipping I simply turn the microphone over to one of my good friends and let him do the talking. For instance:

Mr. Albert E. Hunt Home Economist says: "Delco Light is a wonderful power for those unable to have other power."

THE BIRTH OF A GREAT ENTERPRISE

W. S. BUTTERFIELD'S BIRTH-DAY PARTY CELEBRATION STARTS SUNDAY

Twenty-two years ago W. S. Butterfield rocked the cradle of the present chain of 74 theaters operating in the state of Michigan. The infant was the old Hamblin Opera House in Battle Creek where the spirit of progressiveness was typified by a complete remodeling, followed by a constant thought of developing a chain of theaters throughout the state. Today W. S. Butterfield Theaters, Inc., is one of the largest and finest circuits in the United States, embracing large, comfortable, beautiful theaters with the most modern equipment and stands as the triumphant culmination of growth and accomplishment.

But here it doesn't stop. Many years are yet to come—years of greater responsibilities. Conscious of this and the good will of our more than a million friends, bring about a keen realization of the greater obligation to serve, that comes with enlarged opportunities. We hope to merit, even in fuller measure, the high esteem of the people of Buchanan and vicinity and have given to them and the city of Niles a theater rich in welcome and comfort. And now with a hearty hand-clasp we bid you a cordial welcome on the occasion of W. S. BUTTERFIELD'S TWENTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY.

NOW ST. JOE VALLEY ASSOC. CAN GO AHEAD

Co-operative Agricultural Associations: In Liberty Warehouse Company vs. Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association, the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of a Kentucky statute authorizing and protecting the co-operative marketing of agricultural products. There are similar co-operative acts in 42 states, the court points out. The Kentucky act permitted exclusive contracts between growers of agricultural produce and a co-operative marketing association formed by growers, and provided penalties for breach of such contracts by both growers and persons inducing them to breach. The action was by the co-operative association against an incorporated warehouse alleging it had induced one of the members of the co-operative association to breach his contract and sell tobacco to the warehouse company. The Supreme Court held that the provisions for protecting the fundamental contracts against interference by outsiders are essential to the plan.

Joe Alt of Benton Harbor filed suit in Justice Elizabeth Forhan's court against P. G. Kinney, Baroda justice of the peace for $50 as results of an automobile crash Tuesday night.

The charge of Kinney's arrest was that of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and forfeited his driver's license for 90 days.

FRED MEAD WOULD ORGANIZE HOME TALENT BALL TEAMS INTO A LEAGUE

PLANS MADE FOR A HOME TALENT BASEBALL LEAGUE

BERRIEN COUNTY TOWNS ORGANIZE INTO ASSOCIATION

What baseball needs in this section to lift it from the ranks of a moribund and somewhat discredited sport to the position of being the one great game that it occupied years ago is nothing more or less, in the opinion of Fred Mead, than a county league of about six teams, pledged to cut out the hired player who has been instrumental in lowering the sport, and confining players entirely to home town residents.

Mead has, for years, been to baseball in Buchanan, what John McGraw and Miller Huggins have been to the sport in New York City, or Connie Mack in Philadelphia, his unselfish interest and unremitting energy in the interest of the sport having so far kept the game on the map here.

But baseball here, as in all small towns, is slipping. There is something the matter with it that the work of no single fan or group of fans can overcome, in the opinion of Mead, and that is the practice of importing the ringer—of running in outside talent at a high figure to weather crucial games, and the consequent bad feeling which the practice leaves, not only among the opposing teams, but in the ranks of the players themselves.

Something must be done, and Mead's idea of that something runs like this: The formation of a six team club, representing the towns of Benton Harbor, Watervliet, Thru Oaks, Niles, Baroda, and Buchanan.

The adoption of a constitution and bylaws patterned to some extent after those adopted by the Southern Wisconsin league, where such methods have increased the number of teams playing from 45 to 250.

The adoption of a rule that all players must have resided in the territory first, preceding since January 1st, preceding.

The division of territories between the two towns, fixing half way limits which will determine how far into the country each town may draw its talent.

The entire elimination of salaries, further than a division of the profits of each club among its own individual players, with an extra share going to the pitcher and catcher.

The elimination of the team representing the factory or industrial plant, which gives rise to the practice of giving men jobs to keep them in town for baseball.

All these rules, and others less important which are practiced in the Southern Wisconsin league would greatly increase the loyalty of the public to the hometown teams, and would make for a more friendly feeling among the towns included in the league.

The six towns above are located conveniently close together, cutting down travel expenses, and making it possible for the roots to follow their teams around the circuit.

It is the plan of Mead to interest baseball leaders in the towns listed as prospective members, with a view of having meetings called as soon as possible at each place. After each town is organized, the next move will be to arrange a central meeting of representatives of the league.

FARM STOCKS OF MICH. ARE SHOWN

Farm stocks of corn, wheat and oats on Michigan farms were all less on March 1 this year, than last year, Herbert E. Powell, commissioner of agriculture, and V. H. Church, agricultural statistician, have reported. Following the short corn crop of 1927 the stocks were only about half as large.

The total stocks of corn amounted to 8,579,000 bushels as compared with 16,249,000 bushels the year before. Wheat stocks amounted to 3,276,000 bushels this year as compared with 3,940,000 last year.

Oat stocks amounted to 18,690,000 bushels compared to 20,206,000 bushels last year.

The barley stocks of 21 per cent were one per cent more than last year as were the rye stocks.

It was estimated that 51 per cent of the 1927 corn crop was merchantable quality. This was 12 per cent below the average but was two per cent better than the 1926 crop.

IT SEEMS THE DOCTOR IS NOT ONLY ONE WHO GOT A LINDY LETTER

The Record has been informed that the item printed to the effect that Dr. Waldo had "perhaps" the only Lindy letter in town was in error, at least to the extent of the perhaps. It now transpires that Mrs. George Hanley, 204 Front street, not only has a Lindy letter, but hers has one more stamp on it than Dr. Waldo's. Mrs. Hanley's letter was written by Mrs. W. M. Cassell, a friend in St. Louis, who has often visited here. The letter has the "lucky horseshoe" stamp and also a large blue stamp bearing the picture of Lindbergh and the legend "Lindy Carries This Letter From Me to You."

Clean surfaces like this make it tough for the corn borer. After being plowed under, the borer comes to the top but can find no refuge. The pest is exposed and soon perishes. A clean surface makes the borer easy prey for birds and other animals.

UPPER PENINSULA COUNTIES WILL BE SURVEYED SOON

WILL GATHER COMPLETE INFORMATION ON SOILS AND LAND CONDITIONS

Six Lower and three Upper Peninsula counties comprising 4,167,280 acres of land will be completely surveyed, inventoried and mapped during the next four years by the Land Economic Survey Division of the Department of Conservation, according to George R. Hogarth, Acting Director.

265,000 acres in Iron county and all of Alger will be covered during the present year. The remaining area of Iron and all of Luce county will be covered during 1929; Presque Isle, Cheboygan and Otsego in 1930 and Montmorency, Oscoda and Alcona in 1931.

This will complete the Survey Division's work in eight counties, when 65 per cent of the present area of State land, and 39 per cent of the area north of town 20 will then have been covered. Complete information will be secured regarding soils, lakes and streams, farms, forests, game cover, water power, resorts, limestone deposits, shale, clay, marl and peat, and a host of other conditions of land in the northern counties, of value and interest to other Divisions of the Department of Conservation, farmers, business men, sportsmen and others who may need or desire this information.

Michigan has the distinction of being the first state in the Union to attempt a comprehensive inventory and survey. The work was started in 1922 and is now considered by the Department as being an invaluable adjunct to its work. Each summer since 1922, a crew of from twenty to thirty trained men has been kept busy gathering the information that has been so valuable to conservation affairs. Complete maps of counties covered, together with detailed reports are available to any who care to secure them at actual cost of printing.

Part of the crew of engineers are soil mappers who mark out on their maps just how much of each farm of wild forty is sand or loam or clay, and where the swamp land lays. This soil mapping is done in co-operation with the Soil Department of Michigan

State College so that the College can use such maps to give the farmers and county agents definite instructions in regard to liming, fertilizers and crops.

Part of the survey's crew are trained forest mappers who mark out the nature of forest growth and show the extent of marshes, the burned over land, the open plains, and where land has been cleared for farms. In the forest growth they also indicate the size of the trees and show whether the growth is dense or open and scattered. When the location of the abandoned and used farm land on this map is compared with the soil map for the same area, it shows on what soils farming has been successful and where it has failed. In this way new settlers can locate wild lands which have soils similar to those of the successful farming sections.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT

State pride is pretty certain to get in the way of the congressional reapportionment bill reported by the house census committee...

Census bureau estimates are that Missouri would lose four congressmen, New York two, Mississippi two, Kentucky two, Indiana two, and Louisiana, Alabama, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, North Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont and Virginia would lose one each.

Obviously the states will not enjoy losing a portion of their representatives and they may be strong enough to prevent the passage of the bill.

CO-OPERATIVES WIN BIG VICTORY

Co-operative marketing organizations won the most notable victory in their history when the supreme court of the United States decided that the Bingham tobacco marketing law of Kentucky is valid and constitutional.

It has an immediate application in Ohio in the case of the wool growers, who have a similar organization, with many of the same provisions in the contracts made between the organization and the members.

Every great advance in science, while promoting the greatest good of the greatest number, works a hardship on somebody and if the stars had never been discovered we suppose a good many people would have got well without an operation.

WAGE EARNINGS TREND UPWARD

Average per capita wages in American industrial plants are four per cent higher than they were three years ago.

The per capita earnings of workers at the present time are approximately the same as in 1925, employment and payroll, however, decreased proportionately last year compared with the year before when there was a higher volume of work.

Labor Statistics show that employes in 22 industries were averaging higher earnings in December 1927 than in December 1926.

It is apparent from these figures that industries on the whole are maintaining a relatively high earning capacity for their employes, and that the trend is toward higher per capita earnings whether employment increases or decreases.

THE DEEPENING OF LAKE CHANNELS

Congressman Chalmers of the Toledo district of Ohio, has initiated an important project for the benefit of lake commerce.

We have been doing a great deal of talk hereabouts for several years about the Great Lakes-to-the-Sea waterway.

When he was chief of engineering, Gen. Lansing H. Beach, now retired, was desirous of having some civilian propaganda start in favor of deepening the channels through the Great Lakes so that when the St. Lawrence waterway channel became available, the distributing channels through the Great Lakes would be deep enough to handle the shipping.

Out of this investigation should grow a practical and sensible plan providing for the construction and maintaining of deepened water channels in the Great Lakes and their connecting waters.

Well, it's come out that Davey Sturley in a burst of gratitude for favors received, gave our great party $100,000 to help pay off the last favorite son's deficit and about all there is left to hope for is that it won't be discovered that Mr. Kresge gave us $500,000 and we'd certainly hate to get into that class.

Every great advance in science, while promoting the greatest good of the greatest number, works a hardship on somebody and if the stars had never been discovered we suppose a good many people would have got well without an operation.

Congressman Chalmers is bringing the discussion of Great Lakes improvements back to a plane of good sense and proper consideration of the needs of machine highways of the central west.

The time for the young man seeking to avoid possible entanglements to go home as when the girl says, apparently in despair, "Of course you are stronger than I am!"

Our social position, at best, is such that we will now state in this public manner that we like women as well as anything.

The first man we intend to kick in the seat of the pants when the moon inherits the earth is Big Bill Thompson.

We've about given up hope that the railroads' passion for bobbing will ever get down to their heels.

Probably the most discouraging thing in this climate is to have the car washed.

MORE BATTLESHIPS, 21 AMERICAN NATIONS, THE FIRST AEROPLANE, A GREAT BEAR FIGHTER.

The Government proposes to spend $129,000,000 every year for twenty years on battleships of different kinds, including fast, necessary cruisers.

We could also afford flying machines to protect those fighting ships, which in modern war, without flying machine protection, would be as helpless as sheep among wolves, without shepherds or sheep dogs.

One hundred and forty delegates, representing twenty-one nations of North and South America, including the United States, are gathered in a great conference hall in Havana.

Canada, without relinquishment of loyalty to the British Empire, should be a leader in that conference, Canada's interests are in these American conditions, their independence and their future.

El Imparcial and other newspapers in Spain are displeased with President Coolidge's warm reception in Cuba, natural because this country took Cuba from Spain and gave the beautiful island to the Cuban people.

The original Wright brothers' air machine, first plane that ever carried a human being through the air under human control, is boxed up for shipment to England.

The Smithsonian Institution should have Lindbergh's trans-Atlantic plane also, and the Government should pay Lindbergh enough for it to make him independent for life.

Human beings as a whole, like individuals, do only one thing really well. The work of the human race today is scientific and industrial, making new discoveries in science, applying them to man's material welfare.

and other conveniences in a big building; later families move in and live comfortably.

After a few years, or centuries, of industrial, scientific development, this nation will move into the finished structure and find for amusement something better than bootleg whiskey, prize fights, crime waves, and struggling to get more money than it needs.

Anthony Rousch Mills is dead, age 77, at Sundance, Wyoming, and is probably in heaven now talking with Lahire, that famous French bear fighter of centuries ago.

Thirty-eight years ago, Mills, turning a sharp corner in the Black Hills, came face to face with a silver-tipped grizzly that knocked his gun out of his hand.

It was a good bear fight. Old Lahire's fight is made memorable by his first prayer that he had ever uttered.

S. B. OBSERVER
NOTES 52 BIRDS
HERE IN WINTER

QUAIL AND TURTLE DOVES
OBSERVED AS WINTER RESIDENTS

It was my good fortune this winter to have two companions who are true bird lovers, Mr. Melling and Mr. Steffes, accompany me on my observation trips. As three pairs of eyes can see more than one, we obtained better results than would have been possible for one person to secure. Through our combined efforts we recorded the following 52 species: Bobwhite, rusty blackbird, cardinal, crow, chickadee, brown creeper, ring-necked duck, mourning dove, purple finch, herring gull, goldfinch, great blue heron, Cooper's hawk, sparrow hawk, marsh hawk, blue jay, slate-colored junco, killdeer, kingfisher, golden-crowned kinglet, prairie horned lark, meadowlark, white-breasted nuthatch, crows, owl, robin, snowflake, song sparrow, tree sparrow, starling, tufted titmouse, downy woodpecker, hairy woodpecker, Canadian goose, Carolina wren, green heron, pine siskin.

Bobwhite
The quail or bobwhite is a well known game bird which has become comparatively rare in many parts of the United States. In our own state and county it is a bird that is seldom seen or heard. This winter I obtained a few records for each month. In December, five bobwhites were recorded on the fourth of the month, two on the 10th and 13 on the 26th. In January one was recorded on the 15th, 15 on the 27th, and 27 on the 31st. In February no records were obtained before the 10th. The total number for the winter was 63.

Cardinal
The cardinal, or redbird, is one of our common winter species, found most abundantly along the St. Joseph river, and occasionally on the campus at Notre Dame. In December this species was recorded on 21 days; in January on 25 days; 17 individuals were seen on the last day of the month. The next largest number recorded was nine, on Jan. 22. Only once was the song of the cardinal heard this winter, on January 24.

Crow
Our most abundant winter bird is the crow. Hardly any time of the day can a crow not be seen flying high over head, usually silent. One afternoon we counted 550 crows flying from the St. Joseph river toward Notre Dame. Their great attraction here is the hog yard, while they feed and fight with the gulls.

Mourning Dove
A small flock of doves spent the winter at St. Mary's, eight birds being the largest number we found on any day. In severe weather they would approach the farm yard for food and shelter, and on milder days they flew out to the fields. Usually we flushed them before we saw them near a high hedge. We obtained three records in December, 13 in January, and eight in February.

Herring Gull
This large and beautiful bird is very abundant here in winter. Graceful in flight, it becomes a pleasing feature of the wintry landscape. Like the crows, in winter the gulls are forced to approach farms to obtain food. A very interesting sight is to see a hundred crows and gulls rise as an airplane appears, and fly about in great confusion until the plane has passed overhead. One day we counted 152 gulls.

Blue Jay
Although not among the abundant species in winter, the blue jay was recorded frequently each month. The largest number obtained was nine on Dec. 23 and during January and February no records exceeded five individuals. A peculiar thing about the jay in winter is its absence in the afternoon, for when we failed to record the species in the morning we could never see or hear it in the afternoon.

PERRY WALLACE

Funeral services for Perry Wallace were held at the farm home in Niles township, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Feb. 29. Rev. Owens, pastor of the Baptist church of Berrien Springs officiated. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Perry Hector Wallace, son of Isaac and Emma Snyder Wallace, was born in Boone county, Ind., July 19, 1855, and departed this life Sunday, Feb. 26, at his home four miles north of Niles, aged 72 years, 7 months and 7 days.

When about eight years of age he moved with his parents to Argos, Ind., where he lived until a young man.

In the year 1875 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Horner at Bangor, and to this union eight children were born, two having died in childhood.

Thirteen years ago he came to Berrien county and settled on the farm where he passed away.

He leaves to mourn his death a widow, who is an invalid, and six children, Fred and Lloyd Wallace of Buchanan, Dora Wallace, Mrs. Etta Briney and Mrs. Helen McCoy, of Niles, and Mrs. Laella Page of Berrien Springs; also six grandchildren, a brother, John Wallace of Argos, and four sisters, Mrs. Alzena Harris of Winfield, Kas.; Mrs. Katie Duff of Argos, Mrs. Ida Behee of South Bend, and Mrs. Alice Dennis of Culver, Ind., besides other relatives and a host of friends.

GRANGE FIGHTS
FURTHER EXPENSE
ON RECLAMATION

At the recent hearings in Washington on the matter of further government appropriations for various irrigation projects, particularly Boulder Dam and the Columbia River Basin proposals, the voice of the National Grange was vigorously raised against the expenditure of any more money while a surplus in agricultural products exists, resulting in disastrously low prices to the farmers. Many officials of the Grange went to Washington to express the opinion of their organization that there should be no more government money put into developing farm land until the present conditions of food supply and demand shall very materially have changed.

The Grange takes the stand that the government has already expended nearly $200,000 for irrigation and reclamation work, and that much of the land thus reclaimed will not make a living for the farmers who go upon it; that nearly a million people a year are leaving the farms, yet a surplus of food products continues. For a long time the National Grange has taken a strong stand in this respect and its energetic attitude at Washington has blocked many irrigation projects that might otherwise have gone through.

Grange opposition is especially centered against the Columbia River Basin project and as the Grange in the state of Washington is very strong, the results of its action will have an important bearing upon the contemplated appropriation. Inasmuch as nearly 2,000,000 acres of new farm land would result from the completion of the proposed expenditure on the Columbia River Basin alone, the farmers of the Northwest are apprehensive as to the effect upon their business; consequently are making felt through the Grange their attitude of alarm.

According to evidence which has recently come to light it now appears that the announcement made in last week's record that Spring, gentle Spring had arrived, was slightly premature, temperatures ranging down to 10 above zero in the past week and freezing weather prevailing even through midday.

It seems the song of the fledgling Plymouth Rock is about as trustworthy an omen as the groundhog's shadow.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Charging that a nation-wide effort to commit the United States to Sunday legislation is now being made by so-called ecclesiastical reformers with the view of eventually bringing about a union of church and state, the Seventh Day Adventists held a religious rally in their church at Moccasin and Third streets Saturday and vigorously opposed the Lankford Sunday bill now pending in Congress. The Adventists say that the passage of this proposed measure would give the Sunday law advocates an opportunity to wedge into the United States Congress that would open the way for the passage of a national Sunday law.

"That the Sunday law advocates are specifically aiming a blow at the Seventh Day Adventists who have their world headquarters in Washington, D. C. is evident," according to Elder W. C. Hankins, pastor of the local church who produced a statement from the issue of November, 1927, of the Twentieth Century Progress, the official church organ of the International Reform Federation, in which the writer declared that:

"The purposes of the Lankford Sunday bill are: To resist the organized attacks upon Sunday by two of the most persistent foes of the American Sabbath, that is, the amusement business, especially motion pictures and vaudeville; and the Seventh Day Adventists with headquarters at Takoma Park, Washington, D. C."

"Because Seventh Day Adventists are a small denomination, the Sunday law advocates think we have no rights that they as a majority need to respect," the pastor continued. "They talk as if the Constitution guaranteed only the rights of the majority, and when Seventh Day Adventists are required by the Sunday law to keep two days as holy time, they say, 'don't give any of them of their religious liberty nor does it interfere with their personal liberty.' This proposed Sunday law will lock up, under its maximum penalty, every clergyman and office assistant in the world's headquarters of our denomination where they are promoting mission enterprises in all parts of the globe and also every employee of our publishing house where Christian literature is being produced for circulation in all parts of the world, in prison for six months, and require the payment of a fine besides of $500 for working in our own building on Sundays after having faith fully and conscientiously observed the Sabbath Day according to the commandment; and yet, according to their own statement, this would not deprive us of our religious liberty as guaranteed by the Constitution, nor would it interfere with our personal liberty.

"This shows how far these men who are substituting the precepts of God for the commandments of God have gone into the dark. Christ truly spoke of such as having eyes, but seeing not; and having ears, but hearing not; and their understanding darkened, and their fear toward Me is taught by the precept of men.

"These men have not only forsaken the commandments of God, but they have forgotten the ideals of the founders of the American Republic and the aims of the farmers of the federal Constitution. The Constitution of the United States expressly aims to protect the rights of the minority against the tyranny of the majority.

"The Constitution aims to protect the weak from being unjustly oppressed by the strong. If it is a weakness to plead for the rights of the weak, we plead guilty to that weakness. If it is a weakness to plead for the minority against the encroachments and oppression of the majority, we plead guilty to that weakness. Of one thing we are certain, even though all the forces of earth and hell are arrayed against us, God and the Constitution are arrayed on the side of the rights of the weak. The strong and the majority can take care of themselves; therefore, God and the Constitution protect the weak against the oppression of the strong." W. C. Hankins.
