C.C. SPONSORS FORMING OF A BOYS' BAND

R. R. Robinson, Veteran Band Director, To Start Drill After Close School

ALL BOYS WELCOME

Instructor Led Military Band In World War 15 Yrs. Experience

"Toot, bang, bang, omppa, omppa pom pom."
There's going to be a lot of happy homes around Buchanan full of weird noises this coming summer while the future John Phillip Sousa and Paul Whitemans do their scales and exercises on the saxophone and slide trombones.

And all because of an arrangement perfected during the past week between the Chamber of Commerce and Ralph R. Robinson, veteran band director and proprietor of the Music Shoppe here, to organize and drill a Buchanan juvenile band.

According to present schedules, the development of the juvenile music makers will start immediately after the close of school, when Robinson will open a daily class, to be held from 8 to 9 a. m. This instruction will be continued all summer, with special instruction also between 7 and 8 a. m. for those who may desire it.

"This represents an unusual opportunity for boys who want to learn to play any band instrument," said Robinson, "It not only affords them a chance to get daily instruction, but it automatically gives them an organization thru which they can function just as fast as they develop the ability to play."

Robinson is well qualified to develop and lead a band, having followed that work for 15 years, as a performer and leader of concert bands and orchestras all over the United States, in addition to service as a military band director during the World War. He was the organizer of the concert band of the city of Longview, Wash., and he organized the music department in the public schools of Trenton, a suburb of Detroit.

He is a graduate of the Baldwin Wallace school of Music, and for eight months he received special instruction in concert music and orchestration at Bohn, Germany. The boys who enroll in the Buchanan Juvenile band will receive complete instruction in conservatory training in music writing and composition, appreciation, instrumentation and the general history of music.

All Residents Asked To Help Shine Up City By Memorial Day

From Monday until Saturday of next week has been officially designated as Clean Up Week, by the official announcement of Mayor Claude Glover, who is politely inviting to residents and maintainers of business houses to attend to their outdoor spring house cleaning during that time, so that the city may enter the gala summer season in spick and span condition.

Before that time the street department will have finished treating all the unpaved streets of the city with calcium chloride to reduce to a minimum the dust. All owners of premises are urged to have the winter's accumulation of dust and rubbish assembled in readiness for the city trucks, which will make the rounds and cart away all deposits that have been placed in boxes, barrels or other containers near the street curb to make it convenient for the city employees in charge of the trucks to handle it.

DISMISS BILL IN FAMED J. TALBOT CASE

JUDGE RAYMOND DROPS ACTION IN CASE INVOLVING FORMER OWL HEAD

District Judge Fred M. Raymond, sitting in federal court in Grand Rapids, has dismissed the bill of complaint of John W. Talbot is a fugitive from justice, being sought by federal officers on a perjury charge as a result of testimony introduced some time ago in the trial of the case, which was interrupted when Judge Raymond announced that because of the testimony "someone should serve time in Leavenworth."

Elizabeth Vorhees Celebrates Birthday At Home of Her Son

Seated at the old oaken loom, over 100 years old, at which she has labored for 70 years, Mrs. Elizabeth Vorhees did her customary rug weaving stunt at her home at 438 Moccasin Avenue Saturday and then dined her best gown and walked over to the home of her son, Adelbert Vorhees, 701 Main Street, to be the guest of honor at dinner attended by three generations of her descendants, in honor of her 89th birthday.

Mrs. Vorhees lives alone in her house, saying that it makes it more convenient to follow her trade of rug weaving. For the sixty years in which she has been at Buchanan she has been weaving carpets and rugs for the entire community on the old loom, which stands in a room built to fit its six foot square frame. Every day she still sits on the old oak seat and works the pedals with her feet while she weaves the heavy frame back and forth by hand, manufacturing rugs. She no longer weaves carpets, but has a number of beautiful rugs which she made during the past winter and spring. The work and the coloring of the rugs which she makes today is as fine as in her younger days. She came to Buchanan in 1880 from Elkhart, in company with her husband and two first born children, settling first in a house on North Oak street, where her husband, Joseph Vorhees, established a shop for making kegs and barrels. Four years later they built the house where she still lives.

D. L. BOARDMAN

COMING OF CLARK CO. TO BUCHANAN TOLD BY MORRIS

The days when the Clark Equipment Company was a small concern known as the Sulphur Tool Company, doing business in a Chicago basement and looking wistfully for a location somewhere in the open country where an infant industry would have a chance to kick out its limbs and grow were recalled in a conversation with John Morris, pioneer Buchanan business man and town builder, who was doubtless more instrumental in locating that company here than any other man.

In 1905 Morris went to Chicago, equipped with pictures and description of the Rough Wagon factory building and the Zinc Collar Pad building, to scout for manufacturing industries to fill the empty quarters here. There he got in touch with Funk & Griffin, factory locaters, who connected him with what was then the Richards Manufacturing Company, operating in a half basement on Quincy Street, Chicago. Morris sent for Charles Pears to investigate the finances of the company and found it to be sound in that respect.

An agreement was finally concluded, whereby the Richards Manufacturing Company agreed to move to Buchanan if the town would pay the rent for three years. Morris raised $1,100 by a canvas himself, and the Richards concern finally agreed to accept that bonus. They entered these buildings and remained there three years, when the quarters became too small, and plans were laid for a new factory site. Aided by a contribution of $5,000 from the town, they built the nucleus of the present plant across McCoy Creek.

Morris was also chiefly instrumental in securing the Buchanan Manufacturing Company, a furniture factory which constructed in the early nineties the brick building on Days avenue now occupied by the Clark Truck tractor department. The founders of the company were John E. Alf, Alfred Richards, and John Rouch. This brick building was built in the early nineties and the Buchanan Manufacturing Company carried on a furniture making business there until the structure was purchased by the Clark Equipment Company.

Probably no other Buchanan man has been so intimately connected with the town's development as Mr. Morris. He was born in the old Buchanan house, now known as the Cottage Hotel, where his four brothers, Arthur, William, Jim and Royal were also born. His father, Garrett Morris, had come to New Carlisle from New Jersey, and was in business there for a number of years, serving for a time as postmaster. During his term in that office, Schuyler Wilcox, afterwards vice president under Ulysses S. Grant. One son, who was named Schuyler Wilcox, after his father's associate, enlisted in the Union Army in 1862 and died at Fort Hudson.

Garret Morris moved to Buchanan with his family in 1814, after making a short survey of Chicago. He was offered a business site at the corner of Lake Street and Michigan Avenue at a low price, but turned down the offer in view of what seemed better prospects at Buchanan. When he took over the Buchanan house, the residence now occupied by T. D. Childs was a part of the building.

In the Buchanan of Morris's childhood there was a tannery located immediately back of the present site of the Cress Watson barbershop, operated by one Mose Griswold.

On the location where the Cress Watson barber shop now is, hides were tanned instead of scraped according to Morris. One Mose Griswold for many years operated a tannery there, taking the hides brought in by the local farmers and preparing them for export.

On the site now occupied by the village hose house and council room there was a coffin factory operated by Jake Hahn.

Just back of the site where the Record office now holds forth there was, most fittingly, a soft soap factory, which made the soft soap used by the local farmers and also a hard soap for export.

Morris went to his first school in a building located on a site adjoining that now occupied by the Fulton Powers residence, his first teacher being a Miss Hart. Later in 1860 the school building which still stands on Dewey Avenue was erected.

JOIN INFANTRY WHOINELL WANTS TO WALK, SAY Y. G.

DEFENDERS OF COUNTRY WOULD SKIP YR. AND START IN CAVALRY

The disinclination of the present y. g. (younger generation) for using their feet for any other purpose than to step on a gas pedal and execute the Jew Hop and other late terpsichorean flings is reflected in the attitude of local young men in enlistments to the Camp Custer military training camp at Battle Creek, according to enlistment officer Fred Gombosi who is waiting in a receptive frame of mind for young men who wish to become proficient in the arts of war.

"Oh, yes, a lot of them want to go, but they all want to go to Camp Sheridan, Chicago," said

Gombosi, "In other words, they want to ride a horse."

The obstacle is that the government requires a year in the foot cavalry first, on the theory that it is best to learn to walk before they learn to ride. After that preliminary six weeks of infantry training the first summer, they would be eligible for enrollment in the cavalry branch at Fort Sheridan, or in other branches which they might prefer.

Would start at Top.

With the ambitious young warriors of Buchanan, however, it is the old story of wanting to start at the top and work down. Next year the government will in all probability include courses in aviation in the Citizen's Military Training instruction. However, the preliminary infantry training will still be required.

Those who are holding back on account of a disinclination for pedal activity are missing some of the fine opportunities that would more than make up for any sore "dogs" that might be incurred in foot drill, according to Gombosi.

One of the big features of the training for the young men who go to Michigan's two training camps this season will be rifle practice. Every young man who attends either of the two Michigan training camps will have an opportunity to qualify as a member of the Sixth Corps Area C. M. T. C. Rifle team, and take part in the national rifle matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, next fall.

A Sixth Corps Area team composed of the best rifle shot of the C. M. T. C. will be selected. These men will be given special instruction in rifle shooting and will compete in the national matches in September. This special training and attendance of the team at the national matches will involve no expense for those selected as members of the Sixth Corps Area C. M. T. C. team.

Athletics will be stressed at Michigan's two training camps, Mr. Newberry announces. He says sufficient funds are available for this purpose, and systematic coaching will include training in track and field events for a field day with the presentation of suitable prizes. A base ball league will be formed in each camp, with one of more teams from the personnel of each course—Baise, Red, White and Blue. A series of games will be played to determine the championship. There will be no expense attached to this 30 days training for any trainee. The government pays all expenses including transportation to and from camp at 5 cents a mile, food, uniform, shoes, socks, bed linen, medical and dental care if necessary. Every young man in Michigan in good health, of good character and between the ages of 17 and 24 years is eligible.

MUSHROOM FANS GET UP AT ALL HOURS THIS MORN.

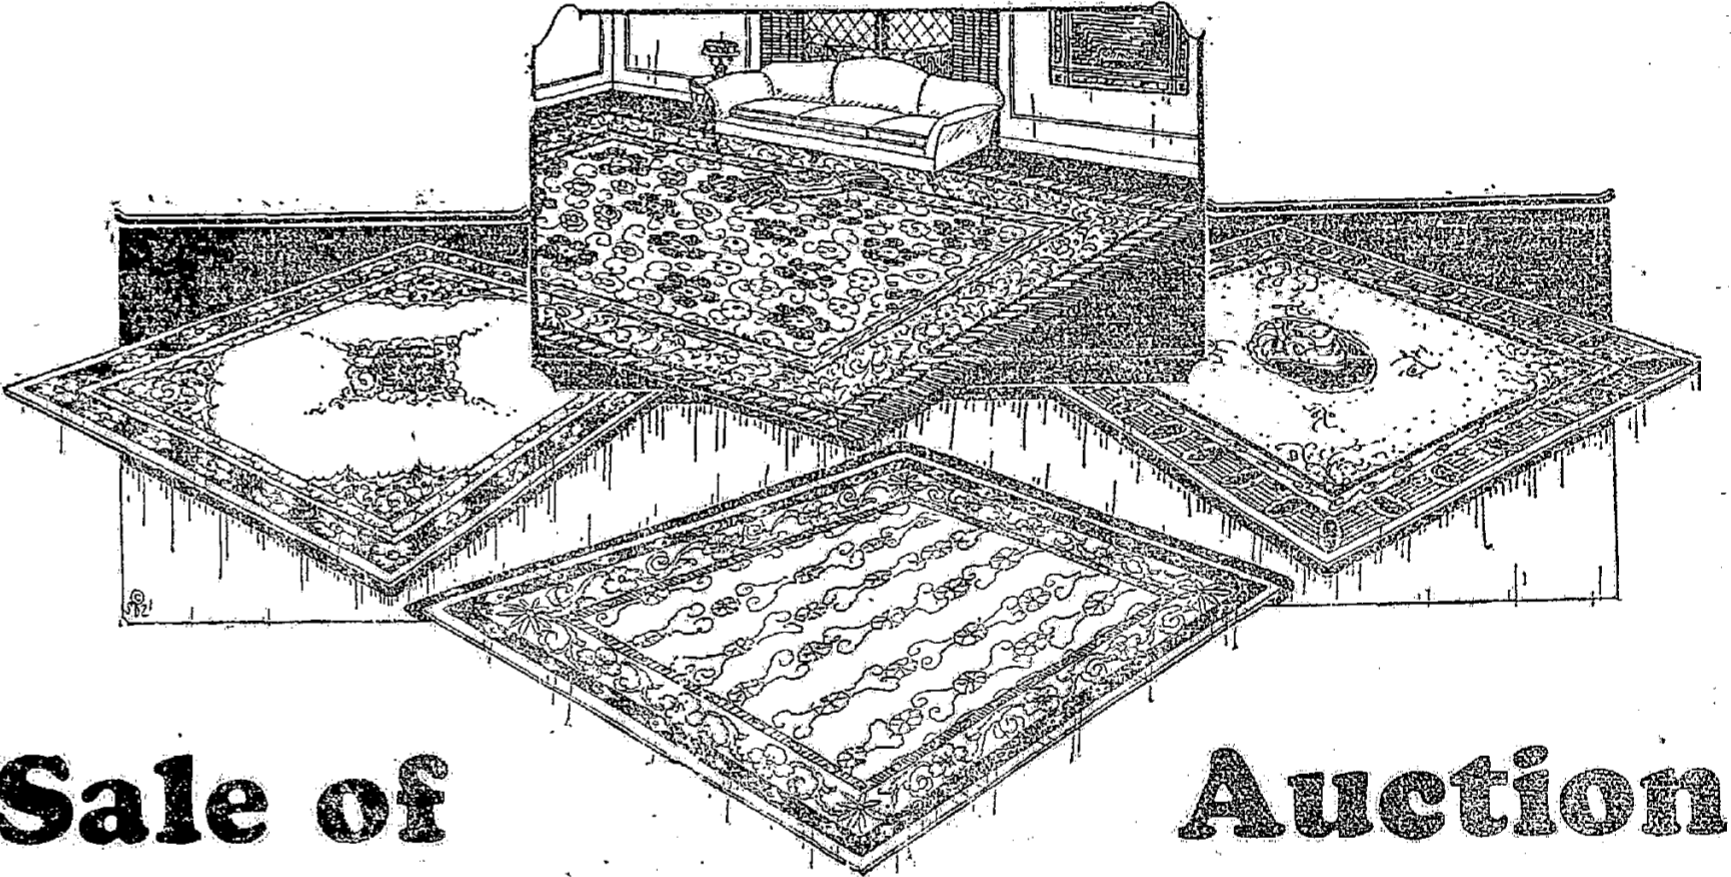

Merle Dunlap and Maurice Thrie were among the mushroom fans who sat up last night in order to be out at dawn to gather the fungi that sprang up in the wake of yesterday's rain. Little success had been reported to date in this vicinity, but it is expected that the rain and the warm weather of today will start the crop.

Activities of fungi hounds in the neighboring city of Niles are related in the following press report from that city:

Big hauls of mushrooms are reported near Niles following the warm weather of the past week. One party had 25 large sponge mushrooms this morning and predicted many more after today's rain. The sponge variety, the best known around Niles, have not been plentiful in many years. More rains and warm weather may aid hunters in finding enough for a meal or two. It is reported that a number of mushroom hunters have returned home with nothing to testify to their trip except a case of sunac poisoning. While some are more susceptible to this poisoning than others, the sunac is plentiful where mushrooms may be found, especially the low land type. Despite this fact, some of those who have been "bitten" continue to roam the woods.

The Galapagos islands, lying about 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador, are of extreme interest to zoologists in view of the peculiarities of their fauna and the bearing the facts have upon the evolutionary history of animals. What happens when one of the nation's largest industrial units suspends production for seven months out of a year, is partially revealed in the balance sheet of the Ford Motor Company showing the financial condition of the company at the end of 1927.

Some indication of how the Ford Motor Company's financial position stands at the end of 1927, its competitor, General Motors Corporation is shown in the figure for total assets which, in Ford's case stand at $742,056,101 compared with General Motors' $1,095,477,189.

BOWLERS END SEASON HERE MONDAY NIGHT

BLUES WIN 13 INNING GAME FROM DECATUR

Simpson Holds Visitors Bats Helpless Through Entire Session

WEAK SPOTS FIRMER

Boy, oh Boy—some ball game! Not even on the starfield fields where the mighty cleats of Tyrus pound the diamond and the murderous bat of Babe lifts, then over the garden wall did they see a better ball game Sunday than they did right here in Little Old Athletic Park, when the Blues played the Decatur 13 long innings to a two to one win.

Not one lousy run for the regulation nine innings. Then a gallop apiece around the diamond in the tenth. Then shut-out ball for three more innings, until the last half of the lucky 13th, when, just as the evening sun was setting over Michigan's hilltops far away, Miller scored single and Zeigler died getting him to second, and then Bussye lifted a lofty left-field spiral through the still calm evening air, and the Decatur infield came galloping to their cars to hurry home for a late supper.

In the first place, there was Buchanan's home talent pitcher, Simpson, whose iron right arm never faltered through the long thirteen sessions in which he held Decatur to 8 hits, none of which would have cost a run had it not been for an error through Neidlinger in the tenth. During the entire game and a half, Simpson's arm never let a man to first on balls, and never ceased burning up Zeigler's glove with his fast straight balls. He struck out thirteen batters and allowed eight scattered hits.

Neither team scored in the regulation nine innings. Woolfe, Decatur first baseman, was the first man of either team to cross the rubber. He opened the tenth with a hit to deep center, went to third on an error and scored on Neidlinger's infield out. Miller, stinging single to center and went second when the ball got away from Neidlinger. He scored a few moments later on King's triple. The latter died on third with the score that would have won the game when Zeigler grounded out to Farrow. Simpson bore down in the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth and Decatur faltered to threaten the scoring station.

Miller opened Buchanan's thirteenth with a single to center and took second on Zeigler's sacrifice. With but one out, Bussye, right-fielder and the latest Blue acquisition, scored Miller with the winning run on his hit to left.

Simpson had perfect control, no Decatur batter receiving a pass during the thirteen innings. He struck out 13 batters and allowed but nine scattered hits.

Watson, Decatur slinger, who pitched good baseball during his mound service, was removed in the twelfth. Smith finished the game for Decatur.

Miller and Proud figured in a fast double play in the seventh. The score:

Hess Tops Individual Players With Average of 17.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Drills Top City League Specials. Are Runners Up at Close.

The maple busting season closed in the alleys of the Buchanan Bowling League here Monday night with the Drill team of Clark plant topping the percentage column and the McCracken Specials in second place, and with Hess of the latter team topping the 200 bowlers who have patronized the alleys since their opening in December, with an average of 171.

The grand old indoor sport of pin cranking has met with great favor in its first season here, and some crafty bowlers have been developed, although the inexperience of practically all the players has placed local teams at a disadvantage in meeting outside teams.

Notwithstanding the end of team play, individual bowlers are still frequenting the alleys, which will doubtless be kept open at least part of the time during the summer for the benefit of those who may desire to improve their game for next winter.

In the final session last night the Specials cinched their position as league runners up by outcranking the Chevrolet, whom they thereby relegated to a tie with the Berrien County Electric Shop for fourth place.

At the conclusion of the league competition, prizes were awarded as follows:

First team—Drills, $20.00.
Second team—Specials, $15.00.
Third team—Foundry, $10.00.
Fourth team—Chevrolet, $8.00.

The Pharisees were a Jewish sect who were highly versed in the law and were extreme ritualists and formalists. The common people were exactly the opposite, namely, the unlearned and illiterate, who were content with fulfilling the absolute requirements of the Jewish law.

Recovering

"Oh, I'm coming along, thank ye," cheerily piped old man Tottenly, who was ill. "I'm getting weller all the time. I can unvail with my son-in-law a little, and hope to hold him level after a while. Yes, sree! I'll be strong enough to play checkers by and by."—Philadelphia Record.

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quiet corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips' Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1874.

5 years of service is only a starting point for Buick

—Skilled engineering and rugged construction make it the most durable of motor cars!

Keep in mind, when buying your new car, that more than three-quarters of all Buicks produced in the last twenty-five years are still serving their owners.

Buick endures—Buick stays young—Buick stands up and gives its best over a longer period than any other car—because it is endowed with an extra-rugged double-drop frame—Buick's world-famous Sealed Chassis and Triple-Sealed Engine—and the most nearly perfect oiling system ever developed.

You'll prefer Buick because it leads in beauty and luxury; and you'll prefer it, too, because it is the most durable of cars—and therefore the most paying investment.

All Buick models have Lovejoy Hydraulic shock absorbers, front and rear, as standard equipment.

5-cylinder, $1195 to $1995; Coupe, $1195 to $1995; Ignition Magnis $1195 to $1525. All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The C. M. A. C. finance system, the most desirable, is available.

SO Beautiful—

a car to be proud of wherever you go

Wherever the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is driven, it is singled out for attention and comment—for never before has a low-priced car embodied such superb styling, such exterior richness and such distinguished beauty.

Its low-swung bodies are built by Fisher, with all the mastery in design and craftsmanship for which the Fisher name is everywhere renowned. Beautifully headed and paneled... stream-lined on a wheelbase of 107 inches... and finished in gorgeous colors of genuine, long-lasting Duco—they rival the costliest custom-creations... not only in brilliance of execution, but in richness and completeness of appointments as well.

But equally impressive is the obvious ability of the Bigger and Better Chevrolet to meet every driving demand. Its improved valve-in-head motor is smooth, powerful and swift in acceleration. Its big, non-locking 4-wheel brakes are always dependable... always velvety in operation. And its ball-bearing worm and gear steering mechanism provides delightful handling ease under every condition of highway and traffic.

OBITUARY Fred B. Bailey, only son of George and Madeline Brogan Bailey, was born at this home in the city of the day, July 27, 1882, and passed away at his late home in Kansas City, Missouri, early Monday morning, April 30, 1923.

His boyhood was spent on his father's farm in Buchanan township and it was there he gained that acute knowledge of live stock that was to play such a prominent part in his after life and that enabled him to attain such high position which he occupied in the great live stock markets of Kansas City.

Although he left Buchanan some twenty-five years ago yet his frequent visits to his parents had kept him in touch with the old town and made him well known to a great many people who have come to Buchanan in recent years.

Fortunately Mr. Bailey was a 32d degree Mason, and an active member of the Mounted Guard of the Shrine.

He was also a member of the Country Club Christian Church of Kansas City. Funeral services were held at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, 204 West Front street at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, May 3. Rev. W. H. Staver of the Presbyterian Church officiated. Mrs. E. C. Pascoe sang "Jesus' Saviour, Pilot Me."

The sister members closest from his boyhood friends and Masonic brothers were: Ralph Allen, Herbert Ross, Jesse Vile, William Brodick, Harleigh Bly and Herman Hattenbach.

Burial was made in the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery and was under the auspices of Buchanan Lodge No. 68, F. & A. M.

M. C. Switch Engine Leaves Tracks Sat. Eve. North of Gallen

The engine of a pickup night went into the ditch at Babcock's crossing on the branch line of the Michigan Central, two miles north of Gallen about 10 p. m. Saturday, when the train tried to take the crossing too fast, while headed south.

The engine alone left the rails and landed on its side in the ditch, with engineer, Fred Noey, fireman, John Lein, and brakeman, Tom McGowan, in the cab unharmed.

The sole casualty was the conductor, Alva Myers, who was killed by the stove or the caboose with coal at the time and who was scalded together with his coal scuffle into the coal bin, gathering a few bruises enroute.

Several cars left the track but some turned over. The tracks were cleared the following day.
