

CITY WILL GET FALL TAX CUT

Buchanan Assessed Valuations Reduced $53,000 By County Board

2.60 TWP. AND HIGHWAY TAX TO BE DROPPED

City 3 Mill Tax Cut Offset by 30 Per Cent Increase in Valuation.

EXTRA SEWER TAX LEVY

May Be Refunded to Property Owners at Settlement of City Suit.

City taxpayers who are confronted with the apparent discrepancy of a July tax charge approximately equivalent to that of last year in the face of an announced lowering of the tax assessed to 11 mills may at least take comfort from the fact that an actual lowering of 2.60 mills will be made in fall tax levy due to the separation of township from city and the consequent liberation of town taxpayers from the township and highway improvement levies.

The reduction of the city summer tax levy from 14 to 11 mills, representing a cut of approximately 3 per cent, is an apparent rather than a real reduction as it is offset by an increase of about 30 per cent in assessments. This increase is due to the fact that the old separate town assessment has been dropped and the city now has the same assessment as is used for state and county purposes. Formerly the town assessed property on a basis of approximately 50 per cent of real value. The charter adopted on the change from village to city form of government requires that only one property valuation be used for all tax purposes. This required the levy of city taxes on the county and state assessment which is about 68 per cent of real value. The real benefit to the city taxpayer of the separation from the township will be realized for the first time next fall when the levies approximating 2.60 mills for township and highway improvement will be dropped.

An item in the tax this summer is an additional charge spread over the entire city for the extra expense above the contract price on the Third and Portage Street sewers. Part of this may be refunded to the taxpayers when the suit brought by the city against the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland is settled.

EX-BUCHANAN FOLK PICNIC AT PASADENA

Will House and George Joslin Engineer Second Annual Picnic.

28 FAMILIES ATTEND

Further indication of the spell which Buchanan casts over former residents may be gleaned from the following excellent account of the second annual picnic held recently by ex-residents of the city who now make their home in California. The Record is indebted for the account to Cora Inhoff O'Hara and Mary Inhoff DeVan.

One of the outstanding features of the former residents of Buchanan, Michigan, now living in southern California, was the second annual picnic held at Brookside Park in Pasadena, Calif., Sunday, June 15, with some of those in attendance making for the first time in thirty-five years.

Twenty-eight families, former Buchanan residents, turned out for this happy affair, a few more than attended the first event held at Long Beach last year.

Much of the credit for the success of the picnic is given to Will House, Los Angeles, and George Joslin, Long Beach, who attended to the details in promoting the pleasurable outing.

After a delicious basket dinner in the beautiful park, the guests spent a most enjoyable afternoon in renewing friendships and recalling events and incidents in their former home, Buchanan.

Several families were unable to accept the hospitable invitation due to unavoidable circumstances.

The following attended the picnic: Dr. Matthew J. Beistle, wife and mothers, 4303 Ninth Avenue, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blodgett and daughter, Ivah Jane, 404 Porter Street, Glendale.

William Bunbury and mother, 1739 North Garfield Place, Los Angeles.

Lyle B. Kingery Is Among Honored Michigan Alumni

The name of a Buchanan native son, Dr. Lyle B. Kingery, '14, '16, prepared thoroughly at Michigan for the career he has planned for himself. He spent six years on the campus as student and then stayed on as a faculty member, attaining the rank of assistant professor before deciding he was ready for competitive practice. He selected Portland, Ore., as a field for his endeavor and his rapid rise to a position of prominence has proven the soundness of his program of preparation. His specialty is dermatology and his philology. He is clinical professor in that field for the University of Oregon medical school, is a member of the staff of no less than seven hospitals, is an active research authority and has written much on his specialty.

Dr. Kingery is the son of Henry Kingery, 201 Moccasin Avenue, and visited here two weeks ago while en route to a convention at Cleveland.

One of the most charming wedding ceremonies of the 1930 June bridal season took place at 3 p. m. The wedding ceremony was solemnized on the porch of the beautiful farm home, which was profusely decorated in flowers for the occasion. A bower of rambler roses, white lilies and ferns had been erected on the porch as a background for the altar, the marriage ritual was pronounced under a floral arch that extended the full length of the porch. The ritual was read by Rev. Hubert Barnett of Peoria, Ill., former pastor of the Hills Corners Christian church, the double ring ceremony being used.

Valuations of All Tax Units of County Cut Save 3 Oaks and Watervliet.

BERTRAND CUT $22,000.00

Supervisors Valuations Are Subject to Review by State Board.

Buchanan city and township and Bertrand township fared proportionately well in comparison with the other tax units of the county in the reduction of equalizations effected by the county board of supervisors last week, Buchanan getting a reduction of $53,000 Buchanan township $20,000 and Bertrand township $22,000.

The total reduction of equalized values for the county was $989,000, spread over twenty-seven townships and cities only. Watervliet and New Buffalo, securing increases. Three Oaks received the largest reduction in the township class, amounting to $63,000. In the city class, Niles received the largest reduction, with a cut of $238,000. The Buchanan reduction of $53,000 was made in the face of an added $89,000 valuation of new buildings representing entirely new property placed on the tax roll in 1929-'30, the assessment year ending May 31, 1930.

The local reduction was $15,000 greater than the cut allowed the city of St. Joseph, which was reduced $38,000.

Owed Written in a Time of Depression
I've been a good fellow;
I've made all I spent;
I've paid all I borrowed;
I've lost all I lent.

I'm bait for each sliker
That drifts into town;
I buy when it's up and
I sell when it's down.

I live right along on

GALIEN MAN GETS $1000 PER ACRE STRAWBERRY CROP

J. MENSINGER GETS RECORD RETURNS FROM PATCH HE WAS ADVISED TO DIG UP

A gross of $1816.05 from a two-acre patch of berries which neighbors had advised him to dig and sell to the nurseries for plants was the record hung up this year by John Mensinger, Galien fruit grower, on his farm four miles north of that place. Mensinger states that one of the acres was an old setting and did not yield nearly so heavily as the acre of new setting, so that he feels certain that the latter plot grossed over $1,000. A total of 880 cases were picked and marketed at an average of $3.13 per case. In 1929 Mensinger did equally well, a larger yield making up for a smaller price.

From approximately 1 1/2 acres he secured 650 cases which he sold for $1,426.50, an average of $2.22 per case.

Mensinger says that he was advised by other fruit growers that there would be no market for fruit due to lack of general employment and that he had better sell the plants to the nurseries. He ascribed his success with the patch mainly to very careful cultivation. The acreage was planted almost entirely to Premiers.

Here and Hereafter
The following verse was contributed to the Record by Billy Smith, a veteran travelling salesman, who now makes Buchanan his home.

Sometimes, Old Pal, in the morning
When the dawn is cold and gray,
As I lay on the perfumed feathers,
Thinking thoughts I dare not say,
I think of the stunts of the night before,
And smile a feeble smile,
And say to myself, for the hundredth time,
"Is it really worth the while?"

Then I pick up the morning paper,
And I see where some saintly man,
Who never was soured in all his life,
And never said "Hell or Damn,"
Who never stayed out till the wee small hours,
Or jolled a gay Soubrette,
But preached on the evil of drinking,
The cards and the cigarette.

Cut off in the prime of useful life,
The headlines glibly say;
Or snatched by the grim reaper,
He has crossed the great highway.
They bury deep while a few friends weep
And the world moves on with a sigh;
And the saintly man is forgotten soon,
Even as you and I.

Then I say to myself "well Bill,
Old Scout,"
When you are called to take the dump,
When you reach the place where the best and the worst,
Must bump the eternal bump,
You can smile to yourself and chuckle,
Tho the path be exceedingly hot;
For when on earth you were moving some,
Now is that an unholy thought?

Then I rise and attach a cracked ice band,
To the crown of my battered hat;
And saunter forth for a cold gin fizz,
She is a great old world at that;
And I go on my way rejoicing,
What's the use of complaint or sigh,
Go the route, Old Scout, and be merry,
For tomorrow you may die.

NEW VARIETY CORN IMMUNE TO BORERS

VARIETIES DEVELOPED AT MONROE STATION RAISE HOPES OF FARMERS.

Michigan corn fields may be relieved from the toll taken by the European corn borer if the hope raised by the results of experimental work at Monroe with crosses of maize amargo with common corn varieties is borne out by more extensive trials.

Maize amargo is a bitter corn from South America. The corn borer will not lay eggs on the plant, but the plant will not mature grain in this climate. The work at Monroe has been to obtain crosses of the plant with ordinary corn, and to have the cross retain its distastefulness to the insect while at the same time it has the ability to produce a profitable crop of grain.

The work started in 1926, and has been continued every year under the direction of A. R. Marston, Michigan State College. He has successfully crossed maize amargo with Duncan, golden glow, red cob ensilage, and other varieties of field corn as well as with gold-on-bantam sweet corn and hullless pop corn.

In trials for resistance to attacks by the borer some of the crosses have been entirely free from injury when 55 per cent of the stalks of ordinary corn in the next row contained one or more borers. Moths of the borer confined in cages with the crosses preferred to lay eggs on the case itself rather than on the new varieties of corn.

No seed of these varieties is available for any use except the tests being continued at the Mon-

KONJOLA ENDED 17 YEAR SIEGE OF RHEUMATISM

THOUGHT SHE WAS HOPELESS INVALID BEFORE MASTER MEDICINE GAVE NEW HEALTH.

MRS. ALMINA ATTENBERGER
"I suffered from rheumatism for 17 years," said Mrs. Almina Attenberger, Route No. 4, Birmingham, Michigan. "The pains in my limbs were terrible. My right limb was almost paralyzed and it became impossible for me to walk. My liver, also, was in bad condition. In fact, it had bothered me since I was a young girl. I had frequent dizzy spells and was unable to stoop, which hindered me greatly in my housework."

"Konjola gave me the first relief I have experienced in years. In a few weeks' time my rheumatism was entirely banished. I have no more dizzy spells or speaks before my eyes, because my kidneys are now in a fine condition. Konjola gave me this wonderful health."

Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended. Konjola is both a medicine and a tonic, rich in up-building powers.

Konjola is sold in Buchanan, Mich., at W. N. Brodrick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

COOLING CREAM PAYS DAIRYMEN IN DIVIDENDS

LITTLE EXPENSE AND CARE PRODUCES QUALITY PRODUCT.

Cream which is cooled immediately after being separated is of better quality and should bring a higher price than cream which does not receive this inexpensive attention, according to members of the dairy department at Michigan State College.

Cream can best be cooled by placing it in a deep setting can where the temperature can be kept low. When the next cream is ready for cooling, that in the cooling can can be transferred to the can used for delivering the cream. The cream in the delivery can should be thoroughly stirred as each batch of cream is added. Both cans can be cooled the most easily by setting them in cold, running water.

Cream can be kept in good condition by placing a tank, barrel or tub on the pipe line between the well and the stock watering tank. This will furnish a water supply with little expense for piping. The tank for the cream cans should be covered with a roof to keep off the sun's heat.

Cold water cools cream much faster than cold air. When cream is delivered in hot weather, the can should be covered with a wet blanket while being taken to the station.

Well kept cream can be tested for butterfat more easily and more exactly than cream which is in poor condition. High grade butter cannot be made from low quality cream. Cream which is kept properly cooled will add dollars to the cream check.

100 PLANES IN MICH. AIR TOUR AT NILES JULY 11

CITY TO OPEN NEW AIR PORT WILL STAGE ALL-DAY AERIAL CIRCUIS.

Niles is one of three cities on the itinerary of the second annual Michigan air tour which are opening new municipal airports for the event. The tour will arrive at Niles on the afternoon of Friday, July 11, for an all night stop, and the local committee has arranged to stage an air circus program in connection with the event.
Approximately 100 airplanes of all makes, types and sizes are expected to be on the Niles airport that day. The air tour itself really is a traveling air show, more than 50 planes being entered by manufacturers and dealers. The purpose is two-fold, to promote interest in aviation and to keep the public informed as to new phases in construction of aircraft and their operation.
This will be one of the biggest summer events in this section, and it is expected to draw a vast throng of visitors from throughout the new municipal territory. Niles is making a sort of experiment in promoting aviation, with a view to determining whether an airport can be made to pay its way without excessive charges. To this end the committee decided to charge a nominal fee of 25 cents and to give free but controlled parking with it. The old airport, 80 acres, adjoins the new municipal field, and still is under lease to the city. This will be utilized for parking of cars, from which the air circus program may be viewed.
The air circus program will start at 1:30 o'clock with a parachute jump. The air tour planes will commence to arrive at 2:00. Air circus features will continue until 7:30 concluding with a second parachute jump.
Governor Fred W. Green has accepted an invitation to attend the event and be a special guest at a banquet to be held in the evening for the pilots and officials of the tour. Some of the pilots who will come with the tour and attend the banquet are widely known as crack aviators.

Daisy and King were the battery for the Watervliet nine, the former having 11 strikeouts to his credit and four hits against him when the game ended. Herb Schultz and Bodjack were the battery for Stevensville. Schultz had allowed the Meros only two ms when the game ended.
On Friday the Stevensville team will play the Dixie Gas and Sunday they will play the Buchanan Blues at Buchanan.

ST. JOE VALLEY SHIPPING ASSOC. HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

3 RENAMED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Organization Declares One Stock, two Patronage Dividends.

NET WORTH UP $5,800

State Secretary Farm Bureau Clark Brody Talks to Association.

Re-election of three directors and distribution of stock and patronage dividends amounting to $1,800 among 106 stockholders were the high points in the annual meeting of the St. Joe Valley Shipping Association headquarters held in the Buchanan headquarters of that concern Saturday afternoon, with president Jesse G. Boyle in the chair.

In addition to the annual 7 per cent dividend on $10,600 stock, patronage dividends of 1 1/2 per cent on the 1928-9 and of 2 per cent on the 1929-30 business were declared, approximating about $1,100 for the two year period.

According to the report of J. G. Fish of Benton Harbor, the auditor employed to examine the books, the net worth of the combined business, secured by listing actual value of the assets and the liabilities, amounts to $50,000, an increase of about $5,800 over last year. The net profit on the business was placed at 3.7 per cent. The directors re-elected were Glenn Haslett, James Reed and Albert Houswerth. The organization of the board of directors will be held soon.

Following the business meeting, the assembled stockholders listened to an address on the progress of farm co-operative buying and marketing by Clark Brody, secretary of the Michigan Farm Bureau. Brody stated that co-operative enterprises in Michigan had increased their business 200 per cent in the past six years. A total of 4,000 carloads of feed, coal, fencing, and other farm supplies are handled annually by the co-ops.

STEERS GAIN QUICKLY ON BARLEY RATION

REPORTS ON COMPARATIVE VALUES GROUND BARLEY, OATS, SHELLED CORN.

Barley proved to be a worthy competitor of corn in the experimental feeding lots at Michigan State College where barley fed steers gained more rapidly and more cheaply than similar lots receiving corn or oats.

The steers went on feed Nov. 26, 1929, at a weight of 377 to 381 pounds. The feed trial was closed June 4 with the steers weighing from 767 pounds in the oat-fed lot to 795 pounds for those fed ground barley. The steers receiving corn weighed 776 pounds at the end of the feeding period.

The costs per hundred weight of gains for the three lots were: barley, $9.13; corn, $9.72; and oats, $9.78. Prices for the different feeds were computed at market values. Each lot of cattle received all the silage they would clean up, and alfalfa hay was kept in racks to which they had access at all times. Each lot was fed equal amounts of linseed meal in addition to their grain ration.

The steers on the corn and on the alfalfa were about equal in quality of finish. The oat-fed steers had less quality. All three lots will be carried on feed until September.

Auto Output First Half of 1930 Over Same Period 1928

It is estimated that total automobiles output for the six months ending June 30, 1930, will be slightly more than 1,000,000 units under the production for the corresponding period of 1929, the former record for the period, but slightly in excess of production during the first six months of 1928. Preliminary figures for the first five months of 1930 and an estimate of slightly under 400,000 units for June would bring the total production for the first half of the year to around 2,865,000 units.

Actual production for the first six months of 1929 was 3,413,804 units from which figure the current year's estimate shows a decline of those to 1,050,000 units, or 30.7 per cent. Production for the first six months of 1928, a period which it is considered offers a better basis for comparison than the abnormally high production period early last year, amounted to 2,326,509 units, over which the current year's estimate would show a gain of 40,000 to 50,000 units.

Automobile registration in eleven states in May totaled 59,274 passenger cars, compared with 54,638 in April and 76,990 in May last year. In the reporting states, Ford registrations were 23,602 passenger cars, or 40.5 per cent compared with 22,565, or 41.26 per cent in April, and 23,872, or 31 per cent, in May, 1929. Ford registrations showed an increase of 4.5 per cent over April but a decrease of 1.1 per cent from May, 1929.

The industry, exclusive of Ford registered 34,672 cars in May, a gain of 8 per cent over April, but a decrease of 35 per cent from May, 1929.

May automobile registrations for 18 states indicate that retail automobile sales for the month were about 75 per cent of sales for the same month last year, says a statement authorized by W. P. Chrysler, chairman of the board of the Chrysler Corporation.

MICHIGAN TO SELL HIGHER GRADE LAMBS

IMPROVEMENT IN QUALITY WILL MAKE MEAT MORE APPEALING.

Legs of mutton and lamb chops from Michigan will have a greater appeal to the consumer's palate, and the farmers who sell the animals from which these cuts come will receive a better price as a result of a sheep improvement contest which is being conducted in 24 counties of this state.

Buyers for meat packers readily detect lambs which will not furnish good cuts of meat and the buyers refuse to pay, within 50 cents to $3.00 a hundred weight of the top market price for such animals. Farmers who do not know that the price discrimination is made against undocked and ram lambs sometimes, accuse the commission house which sells the lambs of failing to protect the farmer's interests.

The contest is supervised by members of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State college. Demonstrations of good flock practices have been held in several counties, and personal visits have been made by the animal husbandry specialists to some farms where unusual problems have occurred.

The specialists state that docked lambs can be protected from the attacks of flies by the use of such fly repellants as pine tar, a mixture of powdered boric acid, charcoal and lime in equal parts, or one of the coal tar products.

Counties which have the greatest number of shepherds using improved practices in their flocks will receive prizes offered by Detroit livestock commission firms.

PRESIDENT OF GENERAL MOTORS KNOCKS TARIFF

SAYS HIGHER TARIFF WALLS WILL CUT DOMESTIC PROSPERITY.

The pending Hawley-Smoot tariff bill should be defeated in Congress, if the nation's prosperity is to be maintained, according to A. P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corporation. Commenting on this subject President Sloan says:

"There can be no disagreement on the fundamental fact that the economic position of the United States has completely changed during the past two decades. This makes it essential that we should modify our fiscal policies in harmony with the altered set of circumstances that now exist. This is particularly true of our tariff policy."

"The commercial relationships of the various countries of the world are extremely complicated and involved. While an obligation incurred through an individual transaction is discharged in gold or its equivalent, we must not lose sight of the fact that collectively, over a period, exports can only be paid for in imports or, in other words, merchandise or service rendered of one kind or another. We cannot sell unless we buy. We have during the past twenty years, become a creditor nation. As a creditor nation relatively large amounts are due us yearly from overseas countries on account of interest charges and return on investments. These obligations like we must be discharged through purchase, directly or indirectly, of goods or services, all of which tends to increase the necessity of overseas trade.

"The productivity of our industrial organizations due to labor saving machinery and increase of facilities, has been greatly expanded in recent years. Higher efficiency in production per man-hour and the so-called technological unemployment factor adds its influence to the general picture. All these circumstances and others, which I have not mentioned, should make us realize that additional restrictions in the way of raising the height of the tariff wall in principle introducing barriers in the currents of our world trade are bound to have an adverse influence on our domestic prosperity through reducing our ability to produce, hence adding to unemployment.

"I feel that the failure of the proposed tariff bill would have a helpful influence. It would serve notice to the world at large that the United States recognizes the important principle that it must buy if it is to sell. The long discussion incident to the development of the proposed tariff measure has been unfortunate. It has had an injurious reaction on our commercial relationships with other countries; it has started up many retaliatory movements, some of which have already come into effect and others are bound to follow. We must remember that we are dependent upon the goodwill increasingly important customers.

Traffic Fatalities In Larger Counties Show Big Increase

The following are the fatal accidents occurring in Michigan for the first four months of 1930 as just received from the Bureau of Vital Statistics, for Counties having more than six fatalities.

Table with 2 columns: County, 1930, 1929. Rows include Kent, Muskegon, Oakland, Jackson, Ingham, Macomb, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Van Buren, Monroe.

The record this year, compared with last year's, shows a decrease in the number of fatalities in the unenviable first and second place with tremendous increases; while Oakland county, usually in the lead, is in third place with a reduction of two, while Monroe county, which held second place at the close of 1929, is down to twelfth place with a fine reduction of six fatalities, with an increase of 23.8 per cent for the entire state, while the increase in registration is only 19.4 per cent, shows there is plenty of room for improvement in walking, driving or enforcement or all three of them and as much as the passenger car is killing at least 75 per cent and the pedestrian accounted for 90 per cent of the fatalities, it looks as though you and I can help whether walking or driving.

If you are in doubt as to what you should do as a pedestrian, just watch some school child seven years of age cross the street, then do likewise for they are taught to Stop, Look, Listen.

Before you cross the street. Use your eyes; use your ears. THEN use your feet.

Famous Violinist Added to Faculty Univ. of Michigan

The School of Music of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, has just announced the engagement of the distinguished violinist, Wassily Besekirsky, as head of the violin department, services to begin with the summer session on June 30. Mr. Besekirsky will take the place on the violin faculty made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Samuel F. Lockwood.

Mr. Besekirsky came to this country from Russia about fifteen years ago and was prevented from returning to Europe for a heavily booked concert season on account of the war. He was so delighted with America that he immediately took steps to become a naturalized citizen and was granted full papers at the expiration of the requisite time. In America he has won distinction as teacher of large classes of talented students in Boston, New York and Providence and has also won wide recognition as a performer having appeared under the most dignified musical auspices in the great music centers and as soloist with the Russian Symphony orchestra, with Stravinsky in New York and in numerous appearances under Stokowski with the Philadelphia orchestra.

Mr. Besekirsky was born in Russia and received his early training under his father, also a distinguished violinist of the Belgian tradition, won wide recognition at the Conservatory at Moscow, was Professor of Music at the Odessa Conservatory and in addition won recognition as a performing artist. When seventeen years of age he attracted the attention of Dr. Carl Muck who arranged a debut concert in Berlin which was so successful that engagements throughout Europe soon followed.

His coming to the University of Michigan will provide a valuable addition to its most capable music faculty.

27,129 Patients Registered in Year at U. of M. Hospital

Last year a total of 27,129 patients were registered at the University of Michigan hospital, according to a report of Dr. Harley A. Haynes, director, included in the annual report of the president of the University for 1928-29, which has just been published. This enrollment was almost equally divided between men and women. Most of those registered came from the state of Michigan, with only 795 from outside. Wayne county contributed 7,780 patients; Washtenaw was next, with 5,759.

Nearly 1900 patients, however, came from Oakland county, and nearly 1,200 from Genesee. Every county in the state was represented.

Dr. Haynes reports a grand total of 1,223 beds available for patients in the various divisions of the hospital, 724 in the great central building. Nearly 18,000 patients occupied these beds during the year. The largest number, seventeen per cent, coming for general surgery, sixteen per cent, registering for treatment in internal medicine, thirteen per cent for skin diseases and another thirteen per cent for children's diseases. Nearly twenty-five per cent of those treated were between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five years of age.

The total income of the hospital was a little over $2,600,000. Of this amount, Dr. Haynes points out, only fifty-four per cent represents room and ward charges, though many hospitals make these charges cover all additional services rendered. At the University hospital each patient pays, in addition, only for whatever services may be required, such as X-rays, appliances and drugs, the charges for which are based upon actual cost as nearly as can be determined.

Novel Contest Failed
 More than 900 manuscripts were submitted by ambitious authors in The Atlantic Monthly prize novel contest for a purse of $10,000. Judges were busy for three months reading the offerings, then were compelled to return each to the author, not one being found that reached the standard the magazine had established.

The story is not surprising. Literary talent has not been brought under the rules of mass production. Something more than a purse of gold is necessary if the divine spark is to be kindled. Only at infrequent intervals has the world of letters been enriched by the open contests for a medal or a sum of money. The best authors, as a rule, do not enter the contests. Others respond because it offers them an opportunity, if, perhaps, they are able to produce.

James Whitcomb Riley always turned down those who were anxious to employ him to produce what they sought. He simply explained he was not engaged in contract labor, and should he make a contract, he felt entirely certain the muse would desert him. Poems and stories need to have something from the heart, something from the problems and experiences of human life and struggle, if there is to be a basis on which real writing may be done. The prize package offer fails to provide that necessary part.

Chicago's Theatrical Blundering.
 Chicago is not using the best method in the war on gunmen ordered by officials following the murder of Jake Lingle, reporter for The Chicago Tribune. There will be no net results for order and decent government by noisy and furious conduct by the police. Gathering in the hoodlum element provides a sensational newspaper story for one day. Orders for a police shakeup show lack of tactical information and absence of sound judgment. Hoodlums will hide out, gangsters take a vacation, the criminal element will return and resume activities after the storm blows over.

Rounding up the hoodlums and gangsters is about as important as capturing a messenger along a battle line and paying no attention to the commanding general who is directing the battle. There are hundreds of underworld criminals in Chicago, all directed by a few men, and every sensible officer in that big city knows the name and location of the vice overlords. These men, with their ill-smelling millions, rest in peace while their hired hands are manhandled by policemen who are fooling no one by strenuous activities. Why not lay hands on the vice kings? Why putter around with the results and not try to seek the cause? The police tactics in evidence there are so old they have the odor of stale cheese.

Chicago is petulant and impatient, the Lingle murder makes trouble as the city is trying to prove its orderliness and promote the coming world fair there. It is putting on a rodeo with the crooks, but it is curing nothing. The crooked politicians will remain in office and continue working with the crooks when the rodeo is ended, vice lords will lose profits for a few weeks, but they can stand that, there will be bribes paid as usual. Chicago knows, and every other city knows, that crooks locate only in cities where they have an established relation with city government, and so long as they have that relation and pay their bribes they will stay. Let Chicago go ahead with all her theatrical raids and police gestures, but that is not the way to clean up the gangs. The net results will be nothing.

Making Prisons Pay Their Way
 There has been extensive discussion of prison conditions and ways and means to improve them. The demoralization of prison populations and the uprisings that result are due in part at least to the overcrowding and idleness. Yet very little has been said about the economic, along with the social, aspects of keeping prisoners employed.

With the increase in prison population there is corresponding increase in cost of establishments and maintenance. There must be extensive building to meet the urgent demand for additional room. Yet it would seem feasible and in every way desirable to industrialize our prisons to such an extent as to make them self-sustaining. Such a policy at the same time would give the idle employment, make them more content and would serve the humanitarian ends so strongly urged by sociologists and welfare workers.

There was a time when even incidental industry at prisons was opposed by both labor and capital as competitive, and therefore unfair. To have the federal or state governments "go into business" in competition with private enterprise was regarded as undesirable. Yet in many states prison industry is carried on to some extent and with good results.

Our prison population now has increased to more than 85 to the 100,000 general population. In 1904 it was only 69. The cost of maintaining this population, on the major part of it, in idleness falls on the public, including all engaged in industry. When a man is taken to prison he is removed as a competitive factor in his accustomed trade ranks

Why, from an economic standpoint, should he be isolated if he is able to earn his living?

The Patchwork Quilts
 Quilting bees or parties were common in Michigan's early days, the custom hardly has gone out of style in all rural localities. Men would have a corn husking on the same day, or a woodchopping, some excuse for being near the gathering at meal time. In those days every home had a bag or box in which bits of cloth were placed for later use as quilt scraps or carpet rags. The quilt scraps were cut over a pattern of cloth or paper, the colors arranged as the bits were sewed together, the blocks completed and then came the quilting, the work of putting those long lines of stitches diagonally across the quilt. Sewing machines were not used in the early day, the stitches were made by hand. The quilt would be stretched in the quilt frames, placed on the backs of four kitchen chairs, the women seated at the side of the quilt and the work of taking stitches and talking was put under way.

Early day customs called for gifts of a number of quilts and many times a blue and white woolen coverlet as a wedding present for a son or daughter. The favorite daughter might get one of the quilts made by the busy hands of grandmother. There are homes today where such quilts are owned and treasured. There are many men and women whose wedding presents included the quilts and they are shown with pride today.

In most places in the state quilting has disappeared, new quilts are not being made, factory-made bed clothing has become the most fashionable wedding presents, but the finest of all these products fails to arouse the sentiment that attaches to one of grandmother's quilts. One will visit with the days that are gone while inspecting the many beautiful quilts Michigan women have sent in for display.

The Old Timer's Corner

OLD TIMERS GATHER TOGETHER FOR "AULD LANG SYNE"

Well, the picnic was a success. The day was ideal, not too hot and not too cool. The tables set on the lawn with plenty of room and none to spare. About two hundred or more set down and ate so much they could hardly navigate. I think one reason was that they had talked so much before "supper" with other "old timers" that even to exercise their jaws in eating was an effort. A lot of old timers were with us who had never been with us at these affairs before—Will Wood, Will Osborne and a lot more. It seemed mighty good to see these and we hope they liked themselves well enough to want to come again next year.

We were greatly disappointed in the crowd from Chicago. Only a few of the old "stand by's" came over. Mr. Buck and Mr. Aleshire, both of whom had promised to come, were unable to get away at the last minute. Many people asked me about them and we hope to have them there to see you all next time.

Maybe some of our readers think that "Old Timer" spends too much time talking about the picnics we have each year—but I can assure you that if you would come to one of them you would talk about it, too. It just fills a "long felt" want to see the old girls and boys now getting well along in years, but all are able to tell of some prank that you had "well nigh forgot" and to enjoy living over the past with you for all too short a time at these picnics.

The program was good. Everything was well done and not overdone. The dinner was the best we ever had. They will have to go some to do as well next time—but I suppose it will be even better. If it is I will certainly "bust" next time for sure, for I came very near doing it this time.

I want to assure all the old timers that were present that we appreciated their being there and hope they will be able to be with us next year. The day and date will be given in plenty of time for you to make your plans to come, and we shall certainly look for you everyone, and a lot more that couldn't be there this time.

I had a long letter from Milton Platt, which I read to the "bunch" and many other messages were received from those who would like to have been there.

A reunion of the class of 1894 was held that day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pears on Front Street. The original number of graduates was "13" of whom three are dead. Six were present. They were: Dr. E. J. Beistle, South Bend; Mrs. Jennie Edith Jennings of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Adeline Kelsey Tarbell of Mishawaka; Prof. Earl S. Light of Elkhart; Rev. Ed G. Frye of Cleveland; Dr. C. B. Roe of Chicago. Two of our old teachers of high school days were with us, Miss Lilly Abell of Buchanan and Mrs. Anna Ivings of San Diego, Calif. Mrs. Ada Slocum Montague of New York City, Mrs. Lottie Thayer Smith of Los Angeles and Mrs. Mrs. William Sloice of Constantine, were unable to come. Those that were present on our Harry I. Bronson, Lloyd Dumboldon and May Brewer. We all had the pleasure of seeing May's mother at the picnic and hope to see her many more times.

So last Saturday, June 28th, was a busy and happy day for yours truly.

OLD TIMER:
 Kept Tab on Her: Mrs. Knags: You can't fool me. I know you through and through. I haven't been your wife 42 years for nothing. Her husband, I should say you have not. Your monthly allowance checks will prove that.

Bad Advice:
 "Dad, gimme a penny?"
 "Son, don't you think you're getting too big to be forever begging for pennies?"
 "I expect you are right, dad. Gimme a dollar!"

From Record, issue of July 3, 1890

Benton Harbor has her population marks set at 3,600. Harvey Rough has been south the past week in the interests of the wagon works.

The camping out season is on in full force, with a party from this place at Hudson Lake this week. Benton Harbor will celebrate the best of her ability tomorrow. Among the attractions will be a bicycle tournament.

Misses Annie Treat and Lizzie Straught have finished the course of State Normal and returned home. They have both contracted to teach in Champion, Marquette County, the coming school year at good salaries.

The extremely hot weather we have been having during the past week has made it necessary to use the utmost care regarding health. There are a number of alleys around town that have not been cleaned this spring and some of them smell pretty loud. There is also an occasional pig pen that might be cleaned. It is also the habit of some housewives to throw their slops in a hole close by the back kitchen door. These are as perfect disease breeders as it is possible to contrive. If you are too lazy to make any other disposal of slops and must have a place about the premises, keep a barrel of lime and throw some of it over the place every few days.

Notwithstanding the fact that one lady came near being killed by the nuisance, the practise of leaving cows tethered along the streets continues. They have no business to be left any such way. The committee on sports has contracted with an aeronaut to make a balloon ascension and parachute jump in this place as one of the leading attractions of the young people's picnic August 6. A number of other important entertainments will be provided.

The hot weather of the past week has been pretty tough on the human family. More cases of sunstroke than is common for a whole summer are reported, and a large number are fatal. Forty deaths from this cause are reported in Chicago Sunday.

Henry Lough has brought quite a number of curiosities from Florida. Among them is the tanned skin of a diamond-backed rattlesnake, 8 1/2 inches wide and quite long. It may be seen in his jewelry store. It will make you want to go to Florida on a picnic.

Large sizes in black alpaca coats just received, Weaver & Co. 1015 Main Street, Grand Rapids, Miss Beach's Curling Club, Sold by Mrs. J. P. Binn.

For 15 cent fast black hose that will not crack or stain, the feet go to S. P. High.

Game Department Studies Annual Growth of Trout

What is the normal annual growth of an adult fish? The fish division of the department of conservation is learning, so far as rainbow trout are concerned, and the facts seem to indicate that there is no consistent growth.

Of 35 adult trout measured in two successive years, the growth ran from a half inch to four inches. Every spring when trout are captured for spawn stripping at Junction Dam on the Manistee river, they are examined for tags. The trout, after the stripping and before they are carried on over the dam, are tagged with a numbered metal tag. Records for each fish show the late location,

What would modern navigation do without the channel buoys, those floating markers that keep ships off the shoals? In a very real sense, the advertisements in this paper are channel buoys, placed for your protection—for the safeguarding of the family expenditures.

These advertisements are the signed statements of reputable firms who seek your patronage on the single basis of giving value for every dollar spent. They are honest statements, the only kind an advertiser can use and remain an advertiser.

People who get the most for their dollar in the market places are those who keep an eye on the channel buoys. Day by day, they follow the advertisements to learn what and where to buy to the best advantage. Make this a habit. Study the advertisements in the interest of shrewder buying.

State Protects Wild Life of Isle Royale

With the tourist colony on Isle Royale increasing rapidly every year and the necessity of added protection to the island's forests and wild life, two representatives of the department of conservation are now stationed permanently at the place.

The two men are: Richard Lahli, conservation officer, who is guarding the wild life and supervising the commercial fishing industry in the vicinity; and Ellsworth St. Germain, fire warden.

The island, during the summer, is headquarters for a large colony of commercial fishermen. Recently a patrol boat was sent to the island and is being used constantly to patrol around the island on the lookout for possible forest fires.

The two men will be on the island until snowfall and will return again next spring as soon as ice conditions will permit.

Hugh E. Green, chief conservation officer, and H. R. Sayre, chief warden, recently made an inspection of the island and conditions there.

"Two years ago," Mr. Green said, on a visit to the island we found it necessary to go to the island lakes to see moose. During the last trip we saw at least twenty-five of them feeding along the lake shore. All of the moose we saw seemed to be in good shape and apparently came through the winter well.

Petrol Scouts Trace Oil in S. E. Michigan

Spurred on by the fact that five successful oil wells have been brought in in Southeastern Michigan, prospecting companies and individual drillers have taken lessons on thousands of acres in that locality. They are positive that there is an oil dome in this section, starting in the lower part of Washtenaw county and extending in the shape of a great inverted 'Y' down into Monroe and Lenawee counties and thence across the state line into Ohio.

Although at the present time the oil development in this section compares almost insignificantly with that of the Mt. Pleasant and Muskegon fields, past circumstances and the discovery of oil in small quantities seem to bear out the confidence of those interested in this field. Up to the present time the difficulty appears to have been the lack of proper drilling facilities and management. New capital is now being attracted to the field and the possibilities for the production of oil in large quantity are becoming distinctly brighter.

Some years ago the Deerfield Oil and Gas Company and its predecessors drilled three oil wells in Dundee township in the western part of Monroe county. These wells found oil in small quantities and are still producing. Sporadic thrusts for oil has been made in the locality for some time, but were usually abandoned by the drillers not because they believed that oil was not to be found, but because of physical difficulties which their more or less makeshift equipment could not overcome.

Last year saw the beginning of a more intensive effort to develop the field. In March Cilly and Sheehan started drilling on the Huntley lease, which is located about four miles northwest of the original wells. After numerous failures the drillers are now down to a depth of 2,260 feet or 65 feet into the Trenton pay sand, and are planning on drilling 100 feet deeper before shooting the well.

History also lends substance to the possibilities of oil in this territory. The first well of record in Monroe county was drilled in 1857 on what was known as the Bullock farm, located in Dundee township. It is said that this well flowed freely when the Trenton limestone was struck at 2,160 feet, and then for some unknown reason the well was plugged.

A bright feature of the Monroe county drilling has been the fact that the five wells already shot in Dundee township have produced oil and none have turned out to be "busters." The oil produced tests higher than the Pennsylvania grade and is of such quality that it will bring about $3 a barrel at present market prices. It is the oil of the Mole Oil company to achieve a daily production of 250 barrels, which they estimate will warrant the construction of a pipeline to the field. The present output of the field is being shipped to a Toledo refinery.

Leases for oil and gas rights to thousands of acres in Deerfield township surrounding the field, have been acquired by S. W. Lowrey of Dearborn, who is active in the development of lower Michigan fields.

While a roll call of Monroe county's oil fields at the present time would not loom large, it is the actual presence of oil and the possibilities which make it significant.

Monroe county, in close proximity to Detroit and Toledo, lends itself to the imagination as an oil producing center. It would be a simple matter to run an oil line from the new field to the great refinery of the White Star Refinery Company, located at Trenton which has sprung up during the last year and is being expanded continually.

It is known to have oil in paying quantities. Developments at Mt. Pleasant and Muskegon have proved successful and Monroe may be touched next by the magic wand of "Black Gold." It is certain that the remainder of the current year will see an intensive effort being made on the part of drilling companies and leaseholders in that section to produce greater results.

U. S. Rushes Plans For $550,000,000 Building Program

Plans and specifications for a nation-wide program of federal construction are being pushed to completion by a staff of 200 men working under the direction of the supervising architect of the Treasury Department and it is expected that $500,000,000 in contracts will be in force before Jan. 1, 1931.

Perry K. Heath, assistant secretary of the treasury, told the striking low growth over cities, canals and munition dumps to our shores, "contrary to the usual searchlights of the anti-aircraft troops, operating with the sound locators, picked up the planes while far out over the lake." Guns operated by the 51st anti-aircraft regiment were quickly trained and efficient registration could have been effected before the planes were within damaging range of stadium of Soldier Field, Grant Park.

This mimic defense was a part of the military tournament and exposition staged under the auspices of the sixth corps area headquarters under command of Major General Frank Parker, at Soldier Field, which started June 21 and continued each evening until June 29th.

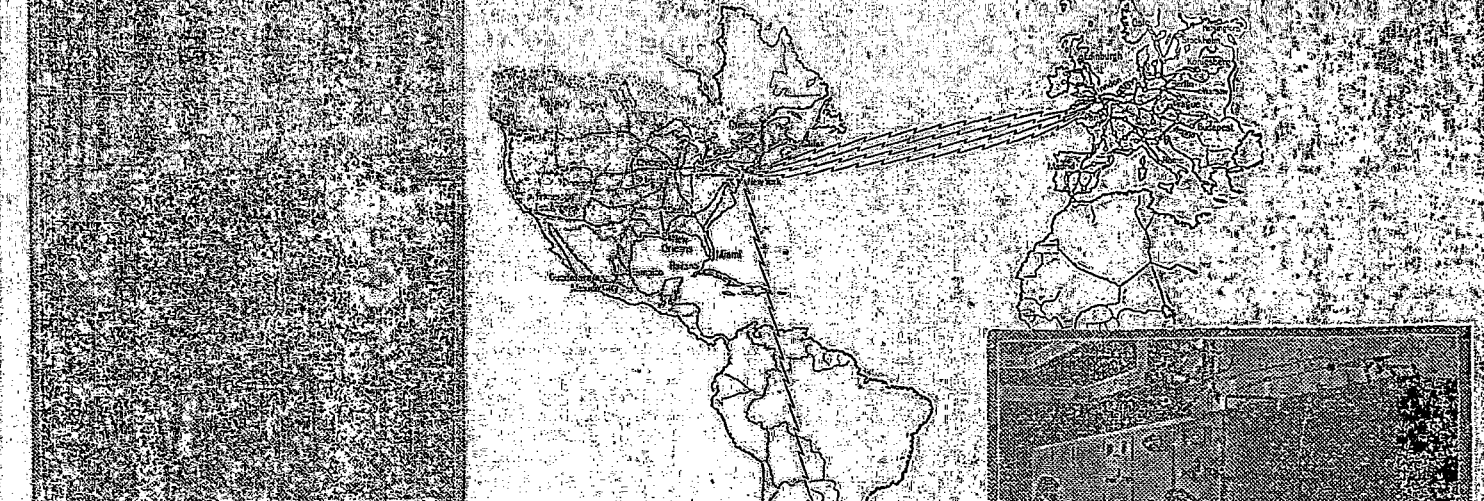

A novelty in the tournament was the picturesque exhibition and night by various foreign groups including veterans in native dances with colors and banners and groups in native costumes. Italian, Polish, British, Scandinavian and French groups presented colorful spectacles on their respective nights. On June 26th the Czech-Slovakian representatives were specially honored by participation in the tournament.

The exhibits by all branches of the service on display beneath the stands were most interesting and instructive to the crowds assembled early to view them. A famous exhibit of historic firearms was brought from West Point. Artillery used in the Civil War, an assortment of uniforms of the soldiers of all wars, engineer equipment field, gas masks, an anti-aircraft battery, a communication post in the Civil War, decorations and colors of all wars, models of the famous Ohio River and Saint Ste. Marie locks, seacoast gun models, chemical warfare weapons, a flight tutor that gives a sensation of flying, complete air corps exhibits in brief, weapons and equipment representing the most interesting field for all branches of the military service were displayed.

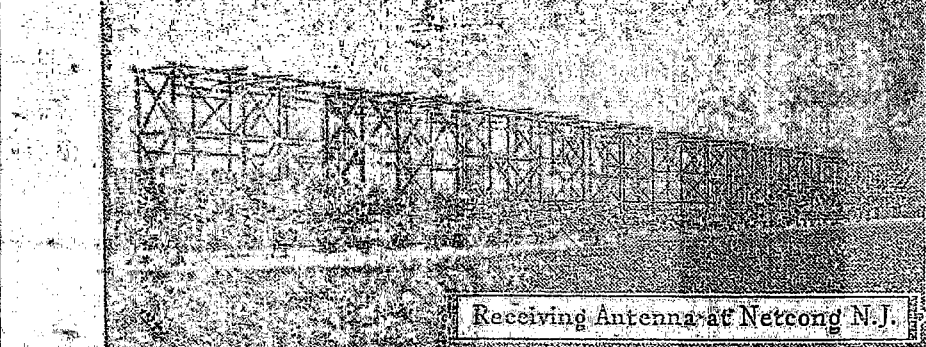

The new telephone cable laid between New York and San Francisco is considered the fastest in the world, it being possible to send messages in each direction at the same time.

Radio Telephone Circuit of 5,300 Miles Connects Bell System Telephones With South America

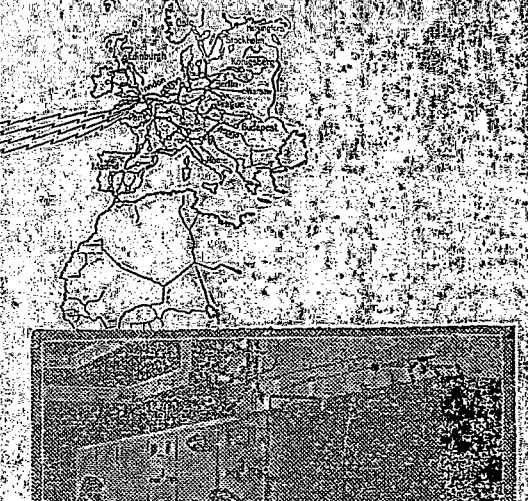

Overseas Switchboard at New York

Overseas Switchboard at New York

Receiving Antenna at Netcong N. J.

Power Panel and Control Turret

Slowly, but surely, progress in the science of communication is shrinking the earth's surface and conquering time and space. A little more than three years ago, the first commercial radio telephone cable ran from North America to Great Britain was opened by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. From the very beginning this trans-Atlantic telephone service has been popular with the public, and it has steadily gained in use. It will now have its forty radio telephony circuits operating between the continents of North America and Europe.

On June 28th was inaugurated the operation of the same company of telephony service between North and South America, and the inauguration of 20,000,000 telephony circuits in the United States, as well as all the telephony in Cuba, and all the telephony in Mexico and Central, with its telephone station in the Argentine Republic and the cities of Santiago, in Chile, and Montevideo, in Uruguay. Thus, we are shortening the distance between our southern neighbors as we have already shortened the distance across the Atlantic Ocean to the continent of Europe.

The first link between the continents of Europe and North America was a long wave radio telephone circuit which has since been superseded by three short wave circuits. For various scientific reasons, the first telephone link between South America and the United States is a short wave circuit 5,300 miles in length, which connects the overseas radio stations of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in this country with the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation's stations in the vicinity of Buenos Aires.

This service will be in operation for eight hours daily, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., New York time. The rate for a three minute conversation between New York and all points on the Province of Buenos Aires is 72¢. For calls to and from other parts of the United States, the same charges will be added to this base rate as are now applied to the rate for trans-Atlantic service.

During the first twenty-four hours of service between the two continents, all calls were received from various portions of the United States to Buenos Aires and to Santiago. The service was opened by Mr. Walter S. Gilbert, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, after introductory speeches had been made by President Hoover and Acting Secretary of State Colton. The President of Uruguay, President Juan Campeseguy of Uruguay, and Mr. Colton, the Acting Secretary of State, to the Uruguayan Minister for Foreign Affairs.

The President, as will be remembered, visited these South American countries shortly before he took office, and he expressed his appreciation at being able to converse with these gentlemen again by means of the radio-telephone.

Let us, for a moment, consider the pathway of Mr. Hoover's call from Washington. Dr. C. M. Hoover's voice traveled from Washington to the overseas switchboard located at the offices of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at 24 Walker Street, New York, and from there by wire to Lawrenceville, N. J., where the overseas transmitter amplified Mr. Hoover's voice and sent it over the thousands of miles to the receiving station located a few miles from Buenos Aires. When people talk from South America, their voices travel to a transmitter located at Hurlingham, Argentina, and from there, by radio, to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's receiving station at Netcong, N. J. Here the voice is re-amplified and sent by wire over the regular telephone system to the person speaking on the American end of the circuit.

For the present there will only be a single talking circuit composed of two radio channels. These channels will be operated on three different pairs of wave lengths, each pair being used for a different time of day. Running in a direction at a slight angle to the meridian and having its center near the Equator, the circuit counters more favorable average conditions than exist on the trans-Atlantic circuits, which makes for more reliable transmission. Because of these generally better conditions, and also because of the comparatively short twilight period, extreme variations in the quality of transmission over the circuit are materially reduced. Shortly after the ceremonies at which President Hoover, Mr. Gilbert and others were present, the operator began putting through the calls already filed by a score of subscribers at both ends of the circuit. While most of the calls were from people in New York City, some of them involved such distant points as Los Angeles, San Francisco, and in South America, Santiago.

President Hoover's greeting to President Juan Campeseguy of Uruguay contained the following, which expresses the President's views on the importance of international communication:

"These increasingly numerous ties, created through the cooperation of scientific endeavor and commercial necessities, form the material part of the strong bond, the other part of which is intellectual and spiritual fraternity, that fortunately exists between our two countries."

The net earnings from 217,000 telephones were required to pay the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's total 1929 tax bill of $3,927,943.37 on June 30. The company's state tax was paid in the form of a check to Auditor General O. B. Fuller, and goes in to the Michigan primary school fund. The total tax payment represents $632 for each telephone in service during 1929.

Since 1911, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company has paid into the state treasury more than $20,250,000, of which $2,224,000 has been paid during the last five years, the record showing that the tax paid the state by the telephone company this year was $2,237,097.71 larger than that paid a year ago.

Assessed valuation of the company was $3,102,017,500, an increase of $1,017,500 over the 1928 assessment. Of that total $17,500 represents the assessment on three small companies purchased by the Michigan Bell company this year. The tax rate was $1.64 per $1,000, the highest ever levied.

The state tax paid this year is the largest in the telephone company's history. The total tax paid by the company for 1929 amounts to $10,866 per day.

Total Income of Univ. of Michigan Over Nine Million

Facts of interest concerning the financial status of the University of Michigan as a huge business corporation are revealed in the report of Sheriff V. W. Smith, vice-president and business manager of the University of Michigan, included in the president's report for 1929-30, just published.

Thus it is shown that a saving of over $50,000 was made for the state in the appropriation of $350,000 for the purchase of the site for the Michigan League building, the great women's club, recently completed to which $1,000,000 was contributed by the women graduates. Something over $11,000 also being saved through an interchange of power with the Detroit Edison Company, which purchases extra power generated at the University Power Plant.

A total of 4,642 tons of coal are used annually to heat and light the University. This is almost double the amount necessary seven years ago.

There were 1,174 students who received loans (totaling nearly $144,000) outstanding last June. These 1925 were made to men 179 to women. The average amount of these loans is $125.61. The men are overdue and ten per cent of the women.

The endowment funds, in the hands of the treasurer, of the University amount to almost $2,800,000. These with trust deposits and trust funds bring the total of the invested securities of the University to nearly $3,900,000.

The annual income from the tax of three-fifths of a cent levied by the state Legislature now amounts to $4,920,852.55. The income from students amounts to $1,298,057.36. The hospital receipts amount to $2,683,319.33. These, with the appropriations for buildings, rents, interest on funds and miscellaneous items, bring the total annual income of the University to $9,032,079.92.

Repetition. "Well," asked the speaker at the retailers' dinner of a gentleman who had bravely listened to him, "was my speech to your liking?" "Yes, certainly, it was a grand speech," he replied. "I believe now, was there any part of it that seemed to hold you more than another?" The speaker inquired. "Well, no," he replied. "I believe you were right in your opinion."

"The Georgia court," he said, "has decided that it is not only the right but the duty of a woman to assist her husband by back-seat driving." "A ray of light appears, however, if back-seat driving has now become the law, or if the land perhaps it will become fashionable to disobey it."

CAMP WARREN TO OPEN FOR SUMMER PROGRAM MON.

JUNIOR GIRLS ASSEMBLY TO BE HELD FIRST WEEK WASHBURN DIRECTOR

Summer activities at Camp Warren, the vacation ground of the Berrien County Sunday School Association, will begin Monday, July 7, with the assembly of juniors for girls, age 9 to 11.

Fred Washburn of Benton Harbor is superintendent of the camp this year. Mrs. Washburn is the director of the girls' camp and O. Nelson, secretary of the Berrien County Sunday School Association is the educational director. They will be assisted by a staff of competent young men and women.

The Berrien County Sunday School Association has expended $20,000 in the grounds and improvements. The camp is located on the shore of Lake Michigan north of Benton Harbor, and comprises about 30 acres of ground with a frontage of 1,000 feet on the lake, with a fine sandy beach sloping gently into the lake. The grounds contain beautiful wooded hills, a fine athletic field, tennis courts, baseball diamond, golf course, etc. A large dining hall will accommodate 150 at one time and a large auditorium takes care of public meetings. There are fifteen cottages, equipped with running water and electric lights.

Who May Attend Camp. Any boy or girl in Berrien County, or neighboring counties, who is 12 years old and over may attend Camp Warren. Good sportsmanship and fair play is expected of all the campers.

The cost, exclusive of transportation, is $1 for eight days. $1 should be sent with application to assure reservation. A little extra money to cover notebook, pencil, hand work, candy, ice cream, etc., will be needed.

2-3 Year campers should bring sufficient clothing for large bathing suits, and should include such equipment for baseball, tennis, and other games the camper may be interested in. Also bring a Bible, blank sheets, pillow slip, bathing suit, brush and comb, tooth brush, etc. A camera will prove a delight to the camper.

The program of activities includes athletics, swimming, games, fellowship, study courses, good social times, nature study, camp craft, personal interviews, inspirational addresses, camp fires, stories, self-expression, hikes, handwork, treasure hunts, and all-round development.

A high grade faculty and group leaders are carefully chosen. One leader for each year is appointed. The leader is housed in the cottages with the campers. Campers never go onto the lake, or leave the grounds without a leader.

Vesper Point. Vesper services are conducted at the close of each day, on Vesper Point overlooking Lake Michigan. Here one can sit under the trees and watch the beautiful sunset over the lake. A quiet and reverent attitude is maintained at this service for it is the daily worship service of the camp. One can really feel the presence of God as he hears the whisper of the wind through the trees and the leaping of the waves on the beach looks into the glorious sunset extravaganza in color painted by the hand of Nature. Campers agree that this is the best hour of the day.

Patriotic Orders Say that Flag is Displayed Wrongly

Due to the complaints on the part of American Legion and D. A. R. members that the flag is being improperly displayed on holidays in Buchanan, the Record reprints the following rules regarding the etiquette of display:

The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority. It should be displayed on national and state holidays and on historic and special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of building, the union of the flag should go clear to the head of the staff unless the flag is at half mast.

When the flag of the United States is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, i. e., to the observer's left. When displayed in the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes or drapings of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the flag.

When displayed over the middle of the street as between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

When flown at half staff, the flag is first hoisted to the peak and then lowered to the half staff position, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the peak.
