Buchanan Township

New zoning discussed at meeting

Buchanan Township's proposed new zoning ordinance was discussed at a combined meeting of the township planning commission, the township board of trustees, the city commission and the city plan commission Monday night

Township planning commission chairman Ken Huston pointed out changes made in the proposed new zoning map from the original plans when work on the ordinance was begun two years ago

Much of the land in the west central part of the township has been changed back to agricultural from recreational status Huston said this was the result of feedback from residents

The general thrust of the new ordinance is to protect agricultural lands and keep population from becoming too dense Minimum lot size was 15,000 square feet for all classes under the old ordinance, passed in 1970 Under the new ordinance, only lots zoned residential may be 15,000 square feet Lot sizes for all other classes have been raised, ranging up to five acres for agricultural areas

Dr Kenneth Jones brought up the idea of having the township and the city share expenses to hire an electrical inspector Buchanan Mayor Richard Gault said he had thought of having a joint building inspector

Gault also proposed that the township and the city study the possibility of extending a sanitary sewer from the foot of Rynearson Hill, in the city, through the township by way of Brookway Drive to Schirmer Parkway

Gault said the sewer was needed because the developer of Metea Court has indicated a desire to expand the court He added that the sewer would also benefit township residents in the area

Gault also suggested that the city and the township cooperate in building a storm sewer system in the same area

Dr George Roche (second from right), president of Hillsdale College, was the guest of honor at a reception given by Clark Equipment Co. President Bert Phillips (right) at The Lodge on Monday night. Roche, who has gained national attention while at Hillsdale for refusing Federal education funds and refusing to comply with the rules and regulations that go with them, is seriously considering running for the U.S Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Robert Griffin Roche said his stance in regard to the Federal government is "based on my belief in the private sector and my belief in the individual. My interest in running for the Senate is precisely to take those beliefs to a wider platform." Roche and Phillips are shown talking with Mayor Graham Woodhouse of Dowagiac and Mrs. Judd (Mary Lou) Leighton of Niles

Buchanan boy killed by car

The Blazek boy, a fourth grade student at H C Stark Elementary School, ran into the path of the westbound Humphreys auto after he left a Buchanan school bus on Holmes Drive and was crossing Niles-Buchanan Road to his home

Phase I left hanging by hunters

Mayor Richard Gault said Monday night that the hole on Front Street will be filled after foundations are poured The hole was dug by John G Yerington Co. as part of the controversial Phase I work It will be covered until spring with either compacted gravel or cold patch asphalt The city will pay no penalty to Yerington for having the work stopped, Gault said, and part of McCoy's Creek will still be uncovered this winter Gault said Front Street work is being held up because the city still hasn't gotten easements on the sidewalk (left). Gault said he has had indications that easements are still forthcoming "Many of the owners are deer hunting," he explained

Ten teachers present grievances

Ten Buchanan Middle School teachers presented grievances at a special meeting of the school board last Thursday.

The teachers said that the present six-period day at the middle school violates their contract because the periods are 55 minutes long and the contract calls for periods to last a maximum of 50 minutes.

The teacher contract provides for 27 class periods per week, not to exceed 50 minutes in length, three team planning periods per week, not to exceed 50 minutes, and five individual planning periods per week, not to exceed 50 minutes

Last year the Middle School operated on seven-period day with 48 minutes per period. The school board approved the change to six periods, for the purpose of simplifying scheduling, last spring

However, at the time the change to six periods was approved, the duration of those periods was not set The 55-minute periods were set up in a schedule made by Middle School Principal Dale Cryan and Counselor Tom Kingsbury last summer Apparently, neither Cryan, Kingsbury, Superintendant Dr Earl Hogan nor any member of the board realized that the 55-minute periods violated the contract.

Board members questioned the teachers, led by teacher's union President Dennis Iler, as to why the teachers didn't inform the board of its error in time to change the schedule

The teachers answered that they weren't aware of the length of periods until they received their schedules a week before school started

Board member William DeVos pointed out that, with thirty 55-minute periods per week, the teachers were actually spending less time in school than they were last year with thirty-five 48-minute periods.

The teachers, however, complained about the loss of preparation time under the new system (there are now only five planning periods per week as opposed to the eight called for by the contract). They also said that students of middle school age don't benefit by sitting in class an extra seven minutes

Teacher Polly Donley said, "Fifty-five minutes is too long to have middle school kids in class. They get restless. It's not conducive to learning I could not have foreseen last spring the disadvantages of a six-period day, but after living through it I can."

The teachers old contract ran out last June 30, and many said they expected period length to be among those items to be negotiated But contract talks bogged down in a dispute over what group would be designated to negotiate for the teachers That dispute was only recently resolved when the Buchanan 5-C Education Association won a teacher's election to determine the bargaining agent.

Most of the teachers favored return to the seven period day, but one, Don Trull, admitted that to change schedules now would cause chaos He said he favored extra compensation for the extra teaching time he put in or remaining on the six-period day while shortening the length of the periods

Superintendent Hogan said that logistics make it difficult to go back to the seven-period day in the middle of the school year.

Kingsbury said it would take at least a month to six weeks to build a new schedule

"There are many variables to consider," he said, "including teacher qualifications, bus schedules, physical space and sharing teachers with other schools."

Hogan's suggested remedy was to place the matter in negotiations with teacher representatives He said the board and the administration would abide by any agreement reached through negotiation.

Board President Jeannette Mahan said the board has 30 days to reach a decision on the grievances.

Galien woman arrested after argument with hunter

Mrs Muriel Welbaum of Olive Branch Road, Galien, was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon last Thursday, November 19 after an argument with a deer hunter who was hunting on her property

Joe Baker, also of Olive Branch Road, told Berrien County Sheriff's deputies he was hunting on property at the corner of Olive Branch Road and Dayton Road Thursday afternoon when he heard shots and bullets began striking nearby trees.

Baker said he saw a lady with a .22 rifle. He tried to run away, but she caught up with him and told him he didn't have permission to hunt on her property. According to Baker, the lady, Mrs Welbaum, swung the barrel of the gun in his direction but he pushed it away with his hands

According to police reports Baker said he then followed Mrs. Welbaum to her home, where her husband, Orville Welbaum, ordered Baker off the property.

Baker said he then went to the road in front of Welbaum's house and fired his gun into the air until it was empty, then went home and called police.

Baker told police he didn't know the Welbaums, but claimed that their son, Jack Welbaum, had given him and two other hunters verbal permission to hunt on the land. The other hunters were not present when the shooting incident took place. Baker said Jack Welbaum had refused to give them written permission, saying his word was good enough.

Mrs. Welbaum said Monday that she didn't fire her gun until after she had yelled and waved at Baker to get his attention. She said she fired into the air, not at Baker, hoping he would hear the gun and turn around.

Mrs Welbaum stated that her son never gave Baker permission to hunt on the land

The Welbaums said they have had problems with unauthorized hunters on their property for 45 years and that last year her son's house, which is located on the property, was broken into

Mrs Welbaum was arrested at about 6:30 Thursday night, approximately two hours after the incident took place. She spent the night in the Berrien County jail in St Joseph and was released on $2500 bond Friday morning.

Sheriff's deputies confiscated the rifle and a .410 shotgun at the Welbaum residence. "The police said we had a real arsenal there," Welbaum said

Commercial, residential values rise in Buchanan

The Buchanan City Commission held a special meeting Monday night to discuss the recently completed reappraisal of commercial and residential property in the city by United Appraisal of Ohio

Assessor Ray Pease and Robert Hudson, a representative of Cole, Layer and Trumble of Dayton, Ohio, the firm that bought United Appraisal, presented figures which showed that the value of residential property in the city has gone up to $13,764,210, an increase of $2,014,309 over last year's value, arrived at by applying a factor of 1 47 to the 1963 Cleminshaw appraisal figures

Commercial value was listed at $7,552,310, an increase of $442,819 over last year's value, arrived at by using the factor of 1 47

Last year's assessed values are used in determining property taxes for 1977, and the new appraisal will not take effect until the 1978 assessments are made

Of course, last year's property valuation has not been completely decided yet Applying to last year's values the alternative factor the city has considered using, 1 63, shows a much smaller increase in residential values and a loss in commercial values. The commission has scheduled a special meeting for Tuesday night to iron out the dual-factor problem, which had its origin in last spring's tax protest

Whichever method the city uses to raise the money required of it by the state, the new appraisal shows an increase of $321,301 in total assessed valuation when industrial property is included

Pease explained that part of the commercial property was an estimate because one commercial property owner wouldn't let the appraisers come onto its property. He said the property was the Clark Equipment Corporate Building.

Hudson had to field several questions from city residents who were concerned over assessment notices received in the mail last week

Many people were concerned that the appraisers, who are currently involved in an assessment hassle in Niles Township, didn't survey residences closely enough

One woman asked that she invited the appraiser to come in and inspect her house and the appraiser refused. Her assessment notice showed a $3500 increase in valuation

Hudson said that estimates were made on some homes because owners were either not at home when the appraiser came, or they were home and they wouldn't let the appraiser in

Sometimes you can get a general impression of the home from standing at the door and talking to the owner," he commented

Hudson said appraisers made two trips to every residence in the city. The first trip was done door-to-door on foot and the second time the appraiser went by in a car

In between, the appraisers gathered sales information, listed characteristics of the homes and measured them

"Between that and talking to the owners, you get the market value," Hudson said He said appraisers knocked on every door in Buchanan

Hudson explained that the service purchased by Niles Township was not the same as the one Buchanan bought

"The people who worked on this job were different," he said "Also, the Niles job did not require door-to-door inspection of property In this job we had to go door-to-door"

Property owners may discuss their assessments with representatives of United Appraisal during the two weeks beginning Monday, November 28 and ending Friday, December 9 Dates and times of reviews are listed on the assessment notices

Ag in Action

A cantaloupe for $30; Ah so!

For those who think food is high in this country (and it's not when you work less time to earn it than at anywhere else in the world), then you need to travel around the world and check how much better off we are than others

Recently, an American livestock producer was visiting a Japanese supermarket and found a cantaloupe priced for $30 That sounds almost unbelievable until you find that just a few feet away in the meat counter he found beef priced at $40 per pound, and at the bread counter, there was bread at nine cents a slice Japan's rate of inflation is currently at ten per cent and that's had a lot to do with its food prices being among the highest in the world However, inflation is only part of the story

Japan is an island economy, about the size of California, but with a population about half that of the United States Farmland has always been scarce, and, as in this country, it's shrinking into parking lots and buildings The high price of red meat in Japan is tied to this problem because Japan has no wide open range, or large acreages of lush pastures, and therefore its beef raising is very limited This is why the Japanese eat only about eight pounds of beef per person per year, compared to our 120 pounds per person.

Beef would be popular there, but the price understandably keeps consumption down as the Japanese stay with fish, poultry and soybean substitutes Also, understandably, U S livestock producers would like to ship more beef into the Japanese market Any increase in beef sales would be another boost in U S. farm exports, which is already the largest single factor in helping correct our serious imbalance of trade

No doubt, most cattle producers would sell at considerably less than $40 a pound, too.

Disagree?

To the Editor

I, Lene' Mollberg, being of sound mind . . I think, disagree with my brother, Dewey, 100 per cent on the Phase I Project

I believe re-routing the creek so that we lose 16 parking spaces is very smart, besides, look how clean the city keeps the creek next to our building. You don't see any old tires, bottles, cans, sticks, logs, etc , cluttering our beautiful little creek

I also believe we should make a city park out of the downtown area, trees, benches, flowers, etc., and maybe move the city to Kathryn Park

As for our city commission, we just lost two good ones, so when the city manager leaves and draws his retirement, maybe we can send the new city manager and the two new commissioners to Kalamazoo and have them programmed so that they may follow in the footsteps of their predecessors

Just three things our city fathers didn't overlook when they voted, yes

1 Re-routing the creek 6' on Mollberg property

2 Curb line was to stay as is, instead of moving into street 10 feet

3 Brick walk was to be layed on concrete, pad in mortar instead of being layed in sand

I am sure they haven't overlooked anything else, but maybe we ought to re-route the St Joe river through town, I hear the carp are awful hungry and yes, let's all buy a golf cart, as suggested by the Architect, Ray Enfield, then we won't need as many parking spaces

Sports articles

Dear Editor

In response to a couple of newspaper articles about this years Buchanan football team

Without a doubt the two senior ball carriers are good football players

When you consider the fact that they were given the ball 95 per cent of the time, there is no wonder they were the leading yardage gainer and scorer Any of the other backs given the same number of opportunities would have had the same statistics

How much better it would have been for the team and their morale if the coaches would have played each player at least one half of each and every game Part of the time on defense and part on offense, if the player so desired

As small as the squad was this year this would have been very feasible.

The years results couldn't have been any worse and I'm sure with each one knowing they were going to be used the results would have been better

With this knowledge each player would have tried to do his best

The addition of two sophomores to the squad in the middle of the season was a very big mistake

It took the morale from the squad because these two didn't even have to earn a starting place by showing their ability They were just given a spot!

Last year at least one of these players wouldn't stay on the J V team, because he would have had to spend time on the bench

He chose to go back to the freshman squad where he could play more of the time

It makes you wonder what the coach promised the boys this year.

I'm sure the coaching staff needs to take a good look at the results and change their attitude and thinking if Buchanan is ever to become a football school again

Sincerely,
A Local Sports Fan

Bucks hope to go far this year

The Buchanan Bucks are heavy favorites to win the Blossomland Conference championship this year, and many people think they'll do much more than that. And with good reason, for the Bucks are loaded.

They return all five starters from last year's 21-6 team that made it to the Class C state semifinals before losing to Redford St. Mary. Guard Joe Kyles was the only senior starter last year.

"We've got some talent," understates new Head Coach Mike Rouse

Heading the list of talent is 6-4½ forward Gerald Busby, called by Rouse, "one of the most exciting players in the country."

Busby, who averaged 30 points a game after Christmas last year, was a first team all-state pick. With 1,004 total points in his two varsity seasons, he will become the leading scorer in Buchanan history this year, passing Ken Garrett Busby has already been heavily recruited by national college powers

Rouse says Busby is an excellent ball handler and rebounder with "more moves than Joe Namath"

"Gerald is also a good shooter," says Rouse, "but he can improve on that more than any other part of his game"

In addition to Busby, the Bucks have:

--Mo Kyles, a 6-2 senior with a 33" vertical jump. Kyles is a good shooter, and led the team last year in rebounds per game, according to Rouse. "We might have the two best ballplayers in the state right here in Mo and Gerald," he says. Kyles will play guard

--Greg Frazier, a 6-3 senior who will play center Frazier is a strong rebounder and Rouse says he has improved his jumping ability since last year. "Greg has a lot of potential, but he isn't consistent yet," Rouse says. "He might be the key to our season, because opposing defenses will concentrate on Gerald and Mo"

--Joe Watts and Ronnie Williams, juniors who both saw a lot of action last year after being promoted from the junior varsity Rouse says the 5-9 Watts isn't far behind Busby and Kyles Watts, a good defender and deceptive ballhandler, will play guard while the 6-0 Williams will line up at forward Williams excels at boxing out for rebounds and Rouse calls him "probably our best defender"

"I'll be disappointed, the players will be disappointed and I think everybody in the community will be disappointed if we don't have a very successful season," Rouse says "The only thing that could stop that is injuries to key people."

Lest fans think the Bucks already have a lock on the 1978 state championship, Rouse warns that it isn't going to be that easy.

"We're not as strong as the '76 state championship team," he says. "We don't have the bench, and we don't have the size, but we're quicker."

Rouse's offensive and defensive plans will make the development of bench strength imperative. He plans to use a movement offense and a pressure defense, and he'll have his Bucks running all the time.

"We're going to use our quickness. To the average fan our offense will look like run and gun, but it's all organized Everything is centered around getting good percentage shots

"It's a team-oriented offense and it's designed to have eight men in double figures If they want to shut Gerald off they can go ahead -- we'll still beat them"

Buchanan will use a variety of defenses and will feature full court pressure most of the game.

"Our defense will excite our fans," says Rouse. "We hope to get a lot of baskets off it."

Rouse warns fans to be on the lookout for breakaway dunk shots Three Bucks can dunk the ball now, and he hopes to make it six by the end of the season.

Currently, the Bucks' top three substitutes are 6-0 sophomore David Price, 5-7 junior Rydell Tutson and 6-0 junior Al Ward Price, reportedly an excellent shooter, saw some varsity action as a freshman last year

"Don't be surprised to see Gerald and the rest of the starters sit out for short rests," Rouse says "If they're doing what I want them to do they'll all be on the bench before six minutes are gone

"We plan on using our bench a lot The only way to develop a good bench is to let them play You have to have a good one, because sooner or later you're going to have to go to them, and they have to develop confidence."

Tod Cornwell (6-0), Jeff Butler (5-10) and Brad Pointer. (5-9) round out the 11-man varsity.

Buchanan has been practicing behind locked doors, obviously pointing for the November 29 opener here against Niles The Bucks lost to the Vikings 82-64 in last year's opener They went on to drop three of their first four games before getting straightened out

"There are no distractions with the doors locked," Rouse says "The kids like it that way too."

Rouse is satisfied with his team's progress so far

"The biggest thing going against us is that they're learning everything new," he says Rouse is Buchanan's third head coach in three years. Jon Bohannon coached the team last year after Bill Wilson took the Bucks to the state championship in 1976

"They get along very well," Rouse says of his team "They play together well and they seem to pass and move much better than last year. Summer ball helped them a lot"

Buchanan scrimmaged 26 teams last summer, including several from Class A schools. Last weekend the Bucks traveled to Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo for scrimmages with Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills and Kalamazoo Central

This is Rouse's first head coaching job. He coached Buchanan's junior varsity to a 9-11 record last year. Before that he spent four years at Ann Arbor Pioneer, two as a varsity assistant and two as jayvee coach.

He has also coached at Whitmore Lake. At Pioneer, he coached 6-10 Bob Elliott, now a college star at Arizona

Rouse coached Buchanan's cross country team to a 13-1 dual meet record and the Berrien County championship this year

Tony Pastrick will coach the junior varsity this season and Bob Storm will again handle the freshmen

Rouse said he expects Brandywine, River Valley, Lakeshore, Dowagiac and Edwardsburg to field strong teams in the Blossomland Conference

Indiana power South Bend St Joseph replaces New Buffalo on this year's schedule. The annual Holiday Tournament will be played at Lake Michigan Catholic in St Joseph this year, with the host school, Berrien Springs and River Valley providing the competition

Girls down Chiefs with fast break

Dowagiac came to Buchanan last Thursday for a rematch of an earlier two-point loss to Berry's Beauties. The Chiefs took a good shot at ending the home team's unbeaten string before succumbing to a scorching fast break in the fourth quarter and losing, 44-33

Buchanan took a 16-11 lead in the first quarter but was held to just 11 points and four field goals in the next two frames Both teams were victimized by turnovers and sloppy play, but the Chiefs were able to tie the score at 24 on a fast break basket by Kathy Leitke with 2 21 left in the third quarter

Neither team was able to score from the floor for the rest of the period but Buchanan regained the lead on free throws by Tracee Hargreaves and Sharon Rottman

Patience Vanderbush scored the first basket of the fourth quarter to give Buchanan a five-point lead, but the Chiefs fought back to 31-29 with just over four minutes left

"At this point, the Bucks' rebounding dominance of the shorter Chiefs began to tell With Vanderbush controlling the boards and triggering the fast break, the Bucks scored 13 of the next 15 points to take a commanding 44-31 lead

"When we're running we do other things well," said Coach Ray Berry "We play better defense, we shoot better -- everything seems to fall in place better"

"Tonight we played good ball for the first four minutes and the last four minutes"

Vanderbush led Buchanan with 14 points and Rottman and Hargreaves added 10 apiece.

Vanderbush pulled down 18 rebounds and Rottman snatched eight

Vicki Williams had 13 points for Dowagiac and also led the quick Chieftain defenders with six steals. The victory was Buchanan's 17th without defeat while Dowagiac fell to 13-4

Dowagiac won the junior varsity game 31-19, handing Dale's Dolls their 11th loss in 17 games Michelle Smith led Buchanan with 11 points and Sherry Vanderbush added 7

Niles lost four starters, but still has talent

Buchanan will meet a junior-dominated group of Niles Vikings in next Tuesday's season opener here

The Vikings lost four starters from last year's 18-5 Class A district champs Tim Garner, Kevin Seitz, George Seals and Tom Donley

"Those four will be difficult to replace, but we have a good group of juniors," said Niles Coach Dean Adams "Twelve of our 14 players are juniors"

Adams has been experimenting with several different lineups and hasn't decided yet who will start next week Three who will probably start, however, are 6-4 forwards Terry Crocker and Jason Arnold and 6-3 guard Steve Schnelker All three started at one time or another as sophomores last year, with Crocker seeing the most action

Senior Brad DelHarba, a 6-3 forward, is another possible starter Senior Jeff Lodge, a 6-0 guard, is the only other returnee.

Heading the list of graduates from last year's junior varsity are two junior guards, 5-10 Gary Lunger and 6-2 George Allen.

"As the season goes along, we'll probably start all juniors," said Adams "This is building year, but we feel we have the talent to win quite a few games."

Adams has been Niles' head coach for the last 11 years The last ten have been winning seasons

"Buchanan has all their good players back," he said of next week's opener "I think it will be a good game Bench strength will play an important part. We have nine or ten good ballplayers we can put in there, but we don't have a superstar like Buchanan does"

Though the Vikings don't have any one outstanding player (Crocker is the leading returning scorer. He averaged eight points per game last year.), any team that can field a starting lineup that averages over 6-3 figures to be tough.

Until about 1450, diamonds were worn only by those of royal birth Agnes Sorel, a mistress of King Charles VII of France, was the first commoner to wear diamonds. She was only 18 years old at the time.
Even today, the possession of a fine diamond makes anyone, of any age, feel like royalty. You're invited to inspect our selection. Diamonds are the perfect gift.

Five Buchanan women were injured in this car Friday when it veered away from a traffic jam and crashed into a tree on US-12 a mile west of Galien Injured were the driver, Linda Sears, 802½ Commercial Street, and passengers; Brenda Ford, 806 South Red Bud Trail, Laura Hanover, 501½ Main Street, Fanella Bendenfield, 423 Arctic Street, and Vickie Witt 303 East Alexander Street. All but Brenda Ford and Laura Hanover, both listed in good condition, were released from the hospital by Monday The women were returning home from work at the Gerber plant in Three Oaks.

Gaels need to work for successful season

A lot of things have to fall into place for the Galien Gaels to have a successful basketball season this year.

According to Coach Mike Heckathorn, the Gaels need improved shooting, improved guard play and strong rebounding from a 6-0 front line to improve on last year's 5-16 record.

Five lettermen return from last year's team, but only 6-0 forwards Matt Koziel and John Gunn saw much action Otto Parson, a 5-7 guard, was last year's seventh man. Sophomore Steve Benson is the only non-senior on the ten-man squad

"Although we have a lot of seniors, we're inexperienced in almost all aspects of the game," Heckathorn said. "Improved shooting is a definite need"

Koziel, Gunn and Parson will be joined in the starting five by 6 0 center Doug Barnett and 5-9 guard Jerry Woodrick

As he was in football, Koziel will be Galien's leader on the hardcourt this season With a 12 3 points per game average last year, he is the leading returning scorer

"We'll need a good job from Koziel," Heckathorn said "He's a decent shooter and strong on leadership, When he was in last year we did well"

Barnett and Gunn will have to give Koziel a lot of rebounding help, since, at 6-0, none of the three can be compared to Bill Walton

"We're really counting on Barnett and Gunn," said Heckathorn "They have to do a job on the boards for us to stay in contention"

Heckathorn thinks Gunn, who averaged 6 8 points last year, has the potential to become a good player

"He has good offensive moves and a decent shot All he needs is a more positive mental attitude -- PMA"

Parson is the only returnee with any experience at all at guard Woodrick played foward last year

"Parson has to provide some good guard play," said Heckathorn "Our guards are going to have to improve early in the season if we're going to be competitive"

David Wright (6-0) and Benson will be Galien's sixth and seventh men.

If Wright shows improvement like he did last summer he could challenge for a starting position," Heckathorn stated "We brought Benson up because of his strength We needed to develop a swing man from our underclassmen"

According to Heckathorn, Benson isn't the only sophomore who may see varsity action this year "We have some very strong sophomores on our junior varsity team. Depending on individual performances, we may have to bring some of them up"

Galien teams under Heckathorn have been strong defensively Defense was the hallmark of the 1974-75 and 75-76 teams that twice went to the Class D quarterfinals and totaled 41 victories against only eight defeats

The Gaels will probably go with a zone defense again this year "Traditionally we've played a zone," said Heckathorn, "and this year we're small and we have to try to keep people as close to the basket as we can."

Heckathorn feels the early season will tell the tale for the Gaels They open November 22 against a strong Edwardsburg team and meet Watervliet November 25

"If we can come out of the first game not too shell-shocked, hopefully we can play well against Watervliet," he said. "The players think if we get off to a good start we'll do well."

Judging from the recently completed football season, it would be unwise to sell the Gaels short They were in every game until the final gun, although they weren't expected to do much when the season began

Heckathorn hopes the confidence gained in football will help his basketball team "I'm hoping the senior leadership and momentum created in the last three or four football games will carry over into basketball," he said

Chuck Hoffman will coach Galien's junior varsity

Blossomtime sets theme

"Festivals in Review" has been chosen as the theme of the 1978 Blossomtime Festival according to a recent announcement by Phyllis Dowsett, executive director of Blossomtime, Inc

Any member of the International Festivals Association, of which Blossomtime is also a member, may be selected as the theme for floats and for individual community pageants

"Since the members of the Association include such spectacular and varied festivals as Pasadena's Rose Festival, the Kentucky Derby Festival the Indianapolis 500 Festival the Circleville, Ohio, Pumpkin Show and the St Paul Winter Carnival, to mention just a few, we believe the 1978 theme gives Blossomtime participants an exceptional opportunity to display their creativity," Mrs. Dowsett commented "Any Michigan Festival, such as South Haven's Blueberry Fete or Coloma's Gladiolus Days, may also be chosen as the theme for a Blossomtime float or pageant"

Blossomtime, Michigan's oldest festival, is scheduled for April 30 thru May 6 The traditional Grand Floral Parade, in which community queens and Miss Blossomtime will appear on elaborate floats depicting "Festivals in Review," will be held on Saturday, May 6

TURKEY TIPS

Want your Thanksgiving turkey to be attractive, juicy and delicious? Then remember this number – 325

Yes, roast your turkey in a 325 degree F oven This low temperature assures better flavor, appearance, less shrinkage and less loss of juices

How long should you roast your turkey? Check a reliable timetable But I recommend the turkey be out of the oven 20 to 30 minutes before your guests arrive The turkey will absorb the juices and will be much easier to slice, if you let it stand 20 to 30 minutes before carving

How do you know when the turkey is done? Insert a meat thermometer into the thickest part of the breast or inner part of the thigh muscle Be sure the bulb isn't touching a bone

The temperature should register 185 degrees F If the thermometer is inserted into the center of the stuffing, it should read 165 degrees F

Remember a stuffed bird takes longer to bake.

When not cooked properly, a stuffed turkey can allow bacteria to multiply and possibly cause illness to those who eat it

Avoid over cooking the turkey. A high temperature (such as 450 degree F) dries and toughens the meat, and causes flavor losses.

So roast your turkey in a 325 degree F oven and enjoy your delicious holiday meal

VICTORY FOR THE CARVER

On your mark Get set Go! Stab, stab Splatter, splatter Your new outfit is ruined, you're embarrassed and the turkey seems to be victorious You've failed in your attempt to carve the bird

Skillful carving of turkey is an art

The carver needs to know the bones and muscle structure of the meat So examine the turkey before cooking The proper cutlery or tools are needed

The standard carving set contains a knife with a curved blade about eight or nine inches long and a matching fork Be sure the knife is sharp

Plan the roasting time so the turkey can stand 20 to 30 minutes before carving Remove the skin from the carcass Remove wings and legs from the body of the turkey Separate thigh and drumstick

Cut off slices of dark meat from the large muscle Separate the breast from the back

Set the breast on a flat surface and loosen the breast muscle by slipping the knife between bone and meat The white meat can then be eased and lifted away from each side in a whole piece

Place the breast muscle on a carving surface and slice the white meat, holding the knife at a 45 degree angle

When carving at the table, the carver may stand or sit The platter of meat should be placed in front of the carver, with stacked plates close by Before serving, carve enough for everyone

You've won the battle!

President Mahan called the meeting to order at 5:30 p.m., stating that the purpose of the specially called meeting was to hear grievances of the Middle School teachers.

Dr. Hogan explained that previously the Board could have this final disposition of a grievance in a closed session; but with the so-called "Open Meeting Act" of April 1, 1977, hearing of a grievance must be held in an open meeting with the Board. Further, Dr Hogan explained the grievance procedures as outlined in the teachers' contract, that is, at Level One, the griever would attempt to resolve the problem by verbally discussing the situation with his building principal; Level Two, a written form of the grievance would be presented to the Superintendent; Level Three would be the presentation of the written grievance to the Board of Education, who would give its written answer within one month.

Dr. Hogan further stated that his answer to the grievances was placed in front of the Board and was substantially as follows. (dated October 18, 1977) that the problem would be placed in negotiations with the teachers representatives within two weeks; and if as a result of the negotiations the decision is to return to the original procedure, the administration would do so If as a result of negotiations some other procedure would be prescribed, the administration would conform with that decision.

At the request of Member Luke, the written grievances were given to the Board Members to read

No dog-hating ogres here

If you think the Berrien County Sheriff's Animal Control Department is made up of a bunch of dog-hating ogres, you should have seen Deputy Wallace Casto Monday morning.

Casto spent two hours Monday digging two collie-shepherd puppies out of a den in the hill behind Buchanan American Legion Post 51. The pups are the offspring of a wild collie-shepherd that made its home behind the Legion Hall

Casto said he first learned of the wild dogs when people called the Buchanan Police Department to complain about the mother's barking.

Casto was assisted by Buchanan Patrolman Francis Morley in digging out the pups, who were hidden at the back of a ten to twelve foot long and five foot deep tunnel. The pups' mother barked at the officers all the while but wouldn't come near the den. Casto said she apparently raided garbage cans for food He said she will probably have to be tranquilized to be caught

Casto said the eight to ten week old pups, both female, will be taken to the Berrien County dog pound, where they will be held for the required four days and put up for adoption

Flowers For Algernon

By Peggy Blumka

Strong emotions carried the show when Buchanan High School opened its dramatic season with Flowers For Algernon last Thursday.

The story is about Charlie, a mentally retarded man whose mental capacity is greatly increased by an operation previously performed on a mouse, Algernon. With the increase of his knowledge comes the knowledge of his ultimate regression. Most people react to Charlie's problem as something funny while others show real concern for Charlie as a person

Charlie, played by Jim Schroeder, was well portrayed. A confused person looking for a hold on his sanity, he fought between the "old" Charlie and the "new" Charlie Emotion was strongly conveyed by this character.

Before the operation, Charlie had a teacher who was concerned for him, Alice Kinnian. Kim Pilarski played this role exceptionally well.

Doctors played an important role in the show Dr. Strauss and Professor Nemur, aided by Burt Seldon, developed the idea of the operation Nemur, done by Paul Firehammer, was the very demanding scientist who saw Charlie as an object without emotion Strauss (Erik Mollberg) and Seldon (Larry Hawks) were the scientists who held a humanitarian perspective of Charlie's case, though Strauss easily slipped into the role of a demanding scientist when his reputation was at stake.

Throughout the show, Charlie had flashbacks of his childhood These were effectively done with the use of spotlights worked by Greg Zeug and Duane Fleetwood Charlie's parents, played by Sue Spalding and Mark Entenman, were well rehearsed parts The transition of the parents from facelessness to recognizability was a good technique Sue Trull, playing Norma, was the perfect "bratty" sister. Later, when she grew up, she carried the part through excellently. John and Patrick Dougherty played the younger Charlies well.

Charlie's one and only job was at a bakery The job was given to him by a friend of his uncle The friend died and left his wife, Mrs. Donner, in charge Joanne Wilcox, as Mrs. Donner, was very concerned for Charlie both before and after the operation. The age and expression of a woman in that position was well done Fellow employees were played by Sue Spalding, Paul Walters, Barb Zelmer, and Bill Lehman Their joking at Charlie and amusement at his actions were expertly carried out

Ridiculed by nearly everyone, Charlie found the situation was no different at a party given in his honor Sheila Fitzgerald, Laura Hanlin, Bill Lehman, Cary Moon, and Barb Zelmer were effective snobs.

Mrs. Mooney was Charlie's landlady. Sheila Fitzgerald was convincing as the concerned Irish woman keeping an eye on her boarder

The play was presented by the Buchanan High School Drama Club under the direction of Ms Ruth Barsdof. It was written by David Rogers from the novel by Daniel Keyes. David Gault was the student director Sarah Gault was the house manager. Sue Kreidler, Brenda Blumka, and Maggie Moon were in charge of make-up

Witnesses report on convention

"As Christians, we must be determined to run confidently to the end," a Sunday afternoon audience of 1,207 was told at the Assembly Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses in Holt, Michigan

Delegates from the Buchanan area gathered last weekend for a two day conference of the group which was highlighted by the thought provoking Bible subject, "Maintain Your Confidence Firm to the End", delivered by John Casino, district overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses from Brooklyn, New York

Drawing much of his discussion from the Bible book of Hebrews, chapters three and four, Casino stressed that this world's system because of its pressures, apathy and distractions makes it very difficult for a Christian to maintain his confidence

Among those in attendance were 15 who symbolized their dedication to God by water baptism They heard Casino encourage all to maintain clean lives, to continue to have fellowship with fellow Christians, and to gain the accurate knowledge found in God's Word, the Bible

Niles-Buchanan YMCA offers winter exercise programs

Has your waistline been widened by countless fall football weekends spent laboring in front of the television set, fueled only by a six-pack of beer and several plates of fattening snacks?

Maybe you ought to consider signing up for Aerobic Dancing or Activetics at the Niles-Buchanan YMCA. These are two of the eight exercise classes offered as part of the YMCA's winter exercise program, which begins January 9, just a week and a day after the New Year's bowl games

In case you're not familiar with aerobic dancing, Instructor Suzanne Runyan offers this explanation.

"Originated by Jackie Sorenson, aerobic dancing is a series of simple dances intended for both dancers and non-dancers It's designed to improve the cardio-vascular system and tone skeletal muscles It's a fun way to become physically fit"

Instructor Lynn Rapant says activetics is a program of continual motion She emphasizes that all the exercises are fun

In case your taste runs to more conventional exercises, the "Y" also offers a men's fitness class taught by Ted and Tad Majerek that's certain to turn armchair Abe Gibrons into lifesize replicas of Bert Jones

The "Y" is also offering the following classes. Aquanastics, taught by Adrienne Sullivan, Ballet, taught by Janis Chaney; Belly Dancing, taught by Margaret Haines, Slim and Tone, taught by Marcia Blair, and Yoga, taught by Pat Buckley

All winter programs will start during the week of January 9 The "Y" has both day and evening classes scheduled for most programs, with a baby-sitting service available Monday through Thursday mornings at a small fee For more information, call the YMCA at 683-1552
