

1968 License Plates On Sale Here Saturday

Saturday will be the first of two days new license plates will be on sale in Buchanan, announced John MacDonald, manager of the Secretary of State's branch office in Niles.

New license plates will be sold at city hall Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30, and again during the same hours Feb. 10. Deadline for driving with 1967 plates is Feb. 29.

MacDonald noted that the Secretary of State's office has issued a ruling that the deadline for using 1967 commercial, pickup and trailer plates has been extended to Feb. 29. Previously a deadline of Jan. 31 had been announced.

He also reminded area motorists of the state requirement for purchasing plates in addition to having a registration or title and an application properly filled in, motorists must have in their possession a certificate of insurance or valid insurance policy, or pay an uninsured motorists' fee of $35.

Certificates of insurance are available from insurance agents. Application forms for motor vehicle registration are available at the police station or from local auto dealers. MacDonald suggests that motorists complete the forms before attempting to purchase plates to avoid unnecessary waiting in line.

For those who do not purchase their plates here this Saturday or next, hours of the Niles branch office are 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and from 8:30 until noon on Wednesday and Saturday. The office is located at 211 North Front St., Niles.

Buchanan post office now has an adequate supply of new 6-cent stamps, reports Postmaster Charles Wesner. He added that an ample supply of 1-cent stamps also is available.

"The only thing we haven't received yet is a supply of new stamped 6-cent envelopes," said Wesner.

The postmaster pointed out that the new stamps come in several pre-packaged quantities for convenience of the user. Books containing 32 6-cent stamps and 8 1-cent stamps are available at a cost of $2, and the new 10-cent air mail stamps come in books of 40 for $4.

In larger quantities, coils of 100 6-cent stamps may be purchased for $6, and coils of 500 stamps are available at a cost of $30. Coils of 100 10-cent air mail stamps may be purchased for $10.

Schools Get First Payment of Taxes

A partial payment in the amount of $536,177.43 was made to Buchanan schools Friday, reports Betty Hamilton, city treasurer. This represents 93 per cent of the school district's share of winter taxes collected in December and January.

A payment of $150,354.79 was made to the county as a partial payment of its share.

Hunter Loses Finger

A 14-year-old hunter lost the index finger of his left hand in a hunting accident Friday afternoon, according to Niles State Police. The victim was Mark Knight of 2700 Copp Rd., Niles.

Troopers said Knight had dropped his shotgun and the barrel apparently became plugged. The victim shot at a rabbit and the barrel ruptured. He was treated by a physician.

Galien Citizens Committee To Be Discussed

A citizens committee may be in the making to study needs of Galien school district following the recent defeat of an operational millage.

At a special meeting Monday night Galien Board of Education instructed Supt. Harold Whipple to draw up guide lines for a citizens committee to study needs of the district. The board will discuss formation of such a committee and its function at its regular meeting Monday, Feb. 12.

Also discussed Monday night were administrative salaries. Board members agreed that administrative salaries agreed to at the regular meeting Jan. 15 would have to be held to, in lieu of the millage defeat.

'ROUND THE TOWN'

Have you been wondering what's happening in the rural areas lately?

Well, I have too! Friday marks the first anniversary of the closing of the Buchanan substation of the Berrien County Sheriff's department. Since the substation was closed residents in the southern portion of the county have been denied their right to know what is happening and have been denied the protection for which they are paying.

Prior to the time the substation was closed by Sheriff Henry Griese, the Record had ready access to complaints investigated by deputies. However, since the closing of the Record has had to rely on the telephone for contact with the department in St. Joseph and as a result very little news has been available. The standard daily reply by the deskman is: "Nothing."

Even when this reporter is aware of an incident the response often is: "I don't know, I haven't read the complaints."

The complaints are still available to newsmen, the only problem is that the Record does not have the staff to make a daily trip to St. Joseph. As a result very little is known about what the department is doing in this end of the county.

Of course, maybe the answer is that nothing is being done. I know that many times patrols are on duty in the southern half of the county and deputies are doing the best job they can. I also know that many times no one is assigned to patrol areas 4 and 5 (the southern half) and at other times only one man is on duty for both areas.

Many other times deputies assigned to this area are called back to St. Joseph to perform minor duties, again leaving the southern half of the county without protection while deputies close to the Twin Cities remain in their assigned areas.

There is little doubt but that closing of the substation was a political maneuver in the running battle between Sheriff Griese and city supervisors, but it was a stiff price for residents in one-half of the county to pay.

It's about time the "high sheriff" woke up to his responsibilities to all the residents of the county. This is election year and even if he doesn't give a darn for us rebels he still needs votes to win.

Maybe "Southern Republicans" should come up with their own candidate?

Commission Proceedings
Buchanan, Michigan
January 22, 1968

A regular meeting of the Buchanan City Commission was called to order by Mayor Witt on Monday, January 22, 1968 at 7:30 p.m.

Bucks Face First Grid Loss Over League Ruling

Conflicts in scheduling may force the first gridiron blemish on Buchanan's perfect 34-0 conference record, reports Ray Berry, athletic director.

The conflicts may force Buchanan to forfeit the 1968 and 1969 games to Edwardsburg. In six years of the Blossomland conference Buchanan has yet to lose to a league opponent.

A similar situation of forfeiting games in 1968 and 1969 is faced by another conference member, Coloma.

The problem was created by a rule passed when the league was expanded to eight teams to admit Edwardsburg and River Valley. The possibility of conflicts were resolved the past two years by Buchanan and Coloma opponents, but this year Edwardsburg and Cassopolis have been either unwilling to look for another opponent or have been unable to schedule one.

Alternate solutions have been suggested and rejected, and it appears that the problem will be turned over to the conference at its March meeting.

Rivalry vs. League
The conflict between Buchanan and Edwardsburg is that the Bucks are contracted to play traditional rival Niles on the night league scheduling has the Bucks and Eddie's playing in Coloma the problem results from a conflict between the traditional Coloma-Waterloo game and a game between Coloma and Cassopolis.

At the time the league was expanded, a rule was adopted to schedule conference games on the second thru eight Friday days and play non-conference opponents on the first and last Fridays.

Buchanan is contracted to play Niles on the fourth Friday thru 1969, and has contracted Niles for the first game beginning in 1970 in compliance with the league rule. A conflict has been avoided the past two years when Brandywine agreed to meet Buchanan on the first Friday.

Coloma's problem involves the eighth Friday of the season. For the past two years Edwardsburg co-operated with Coloma to play on the ninth Friday instead of the eighth week. The Coloma-Waterloo game is traditionally played on the eighth Friday, a tradition of 42 consecutive years.

Position Made Clear

Since the Niles-Buchanan rivalry is one of long standing and the game cannot be changed to the first Friday until 1970, Berry said Buchanan made it clear at the time the rule was adopted that it would honor its contract with Niles. This position has been repeated since to allow Edwardsburg time to schedule another opponent that night. However, to date Edwardsburg has not scheduled another opponent and as a result has an open date.

Explaining the background of the conflict, Berry said that at the Sept. 25 conference meeting he informed Leo Hoffman, Edwardsburg athletic director, that a schedule conflict existed between the two schools. The matter was discussed by the conference and Berry was led to believe it was up to the two schools to resolve the matter financially.

On Oct. 16 a conference meeting was held and at that time athletic directors ruled that Buchanan would forfeit to Edwardsburg. The directors also agreed that a $1,000 settlement to Edwardsburg would be proper for the lack of a home game in 1969. Berry said he informed the group that he would have to discuss the matter with his administration. The official Buchanan position then became that it would pay Edwardsburg the difference between the gate of a game with another opponent and the gate of the 1967 Bucks Eddie's game.

On Nov. 1 Berry said he received contracts in the mail from Edwardsburg for 1968 and 1969. The 1969 contract called for a forfeit fee of $1,200 to be paid by Buchanan for not fulfilling the playing date.

Berry said he returned the contract for 1969 and informed Edwardsburg that Buchanan was ready to accept the conference decision on a forfeit in the standings as well as reaching a financial settlement, but that under no circumstances would Buchanan sign a contract for a game that is not to be played. For the same reason, Berry said no 1968 contract would be sent to Edwardsburg. He pointed out that if two contracts were signed for the same night the matter would then become a matter for the state athletic association, instead of See BERRY, Page 3

'Same as Last Year' Costs Merchants in Taxes

Some businessmen are failing to take full advantage of depreciation in declaring their personal property, declares Rudolph Rodighero, city assessor.

He noted that each year many people who feel they are commercial and industrial personal property statements simply return them marked "same as last year." By doing this, they fail to take advantage of depreciation of equipment, such as fixtures, sign, furniture, etc.

Rodighero also noted that the deadline for filing such statements is Feb. 16. Forms were mailed Jan. 5 and anyone not receiving one, who should, may contact Rodighero at city hall. As of Jan. 29 only 19 of 146 persons had returned the forms.

"If these statements are not returned by the deadline, I must use last year's statements, resulting in a loss of depreciation for those people," said the city assessor.

Commercial and industrial personal property statements are required to be filed for tangible personal property under Michigan General Property Tax law.

Plan Special Collection For March of Dimes

A special March of Dimes collection will be made Friday night during halftime of the varsity game with Edwardsburg, reports Lorraine Mills, Student Council president.

Cheerleaders will carry a blanket around the gym and spectators will be asked to pitch coins into the blanket.

Make First Run With New Fire Truck

Buchanan township's new pumper was put into action for the first time last week when firemen were called to the Perry Ryder home at Clear Lake to extinguish a blaze. Chief Charles Wesner said he was real satisfied with operation of the new truck.

Wesner blamed the fire on a defective oil furnace. He said the floor and joists near the furnace ignited, causing an estimated $300 to $400 smoke and fire damage.

New Law Trips Many Motorists

Motorists, beware! That is the warning issued by local police agencies to call motorists' attention to a new state law. Under the law which became effective Jan. 1 an outside rear view mirror on all cars, regardless of age.

That many motorists are unaware of the new law was pointed out Thursday, when Deputies Dave Hanner and Fred Reeves were patrolling in the southern end of the county and issued tickets to 40 drivers.

By pre-arrangement with Justice Harold Jackson, the tickets are being treated as warnings and no fines are being levied, provided the offender has a rear view mirror installed before he appears before Justice Jackson.

However, Justice Jackson warns that persons appearing after Feb. 5 will be treated as regular offenders.

The drive on violators last week was a means of drawing the public's attention to the new law. Law enforcement officials report that even among persons who were aware of the new law, some were under the impression that it applied only to new cars coming off the assembly line this year.

Purpose of the law is to increase driving safety. Trucks and other commercial vehicles must have two outside mirrors, one on either side.

Adult Education Classes Planned

Preliminary plans for a second session of adult education classes are being formulated, reports Dwight Rhodes, director. He said classes will begin during the week of Feb. 19.

To help in setting up the program, Rhodes called on interested persons to make their suggestions known to him by calling the high school office.

"The purpose of the adult education program is to serve Buchanan by offering courses that will be of benefit to a large number of residents. Courses are selected on the basis of expressed interest by residents as well as those subjects believed to be of interest," said Rhodes.

He added that courses leading to the high school diploma are not offered at present. However, a number of courses being planned can be of help to an individual in bettering his job position or developing a hobby or skill.

THE ONE THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY — This is one fish story in which the big one did not get away. The top of this car was all that was above water when it was discovered in the St. Joseph river along Red Bud Trail Tuesday. Deputy Stanley Wolkins is investigating the incident, believed to be malicious destruction. The rear and side windows were smashed. There were no tracks leading into the river and it is believed the auto had been in the water some time. It took some ingenuity on the part of Walt Ross to keep from getting his feet wet, but this was one that didn't get away. —Record Photo

FFA Chapter Receives Grant for Swine Project

Receipt of a $130 grant from Sears Roebuck foundation was announced this week by How and Lahting, vocational ag teacher and advisor to the local Future Farmers of America chapter. The grant is administered thru the vocational educational division of the Michigan Department of Education and must be matched by the local chapter.

The funds are to be used to establish profitable livestock projects on members' farms. The local FFA chapter plans to develop a swine project and two gilts already have been purchased, with two more to be bought later.

The cross-bred gilts are given to boys under a contract with the chapter, under which boys will repay the chapter with pigs when they reach 8 weeks old. These pigs will then be given to other members under a contract. The project will involve all members of the chapter and after all members have started individual projects, excess pigs can then be sold and funds used to finance chapter activities.

Lahting said the local chapter is working with Dr. Dale Purkhiser, extension swine specialist from Michigan State University. Selection of boys to start the project was done by a committee consisting of John Greening, Ron Gwin and Brad Batchelor.

The first two gilts were placed with Ron Camp and Batchelor.

Courts, Law Enforcement Head List of New Bills

By DON R. PEARS, Representative 43rd Dist.

As the deadline for requesting bills approached last week, a total of 1,065 bill drafting requests had been made by House and Senate members. Most of these bills are still being prepared for introduction. As of Jan. 23, a total of only 82 bills had been officially introduced—58 in the House and 24 in the Senate.

Bills dealing with courts and law enforcement dominated the bill introduction action last week.

Submitted in both the House and Senate were two bills designed to permit local authorities to declare a state of emergency in cases of civil disorder. They propose to give local officials powers to prohibit sales of liquor and firearms, and to impose curfews.

Another bill (HB 3306) deals with mob violence. It provides penalties for violent actions taken by mobs and makes all participants in such actions equally liable for prosecution.

Also concerned with noting is House Bill 3293 making it a felony to interfere with a fireman in the performance of his duties. Along with other House members, I cosponsored this measure.

Court Reorganization

A proposal to expand membership on the State Court of Appeals from nine to twelve, and creating four new circuit judgeships around the state was introduced last week. The bill also would provide for temporary appointment of three additional judges to the Appeals Court, making a total of 15, in times of extremely heavy workloads.

Companion bills dealing with probate judges were submitted. These measures would eliminate the provision for six probate judges in counties of more than one million population, and provide for eight probate judgeships in counties with over two million people.

Legislation dealing with municipal judges was introduced, with provisions for 15 judges on municipal courts of record. Current law allows for 12 judges on such courts.

The "fair housing" bill, defeated by a narrow margin in the House during the special session last month, was introduced by Senator Charles Zollar last week in the Senate. The bill is designed to prohibit discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Special Senate Election

The Republican candidate for the vacant State Senate seat in the 23rd District will be Gary Byker, a real estate broker from Hudsonville. Byker scored a convincing victory over 12 opponents in the January 23 primary. The special election to decide the Senate race is scheduled for Feb. 19.

Byker received 8,847 votes in the primary, compared to 5,174 for his nearest challenger, former Senator Fred Hilbert.

The Senatorial seat being sought by Byker represents Ottawa, Allegan and Van Buren counties, and Yankee Springs Township in Barry county.

Looking for Career? Male Nurses in Demand

By Elmer E. White

Michigan Press Association

Male nurses are in short supply. The situation, which parallels the shortage of all registered nurses, is forcing salaries upward and opening new career opportunities for men.

Yet, few men ever apply for nursing positions, possibly because nursing has traditionally been thought of as "woman's work." Arthur W. McClatchey, supervisor of the Saginaw branch of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, stresses nothing could be further from the truth. McClatchey states, "MESC receives more requests for male nurses than we can furnish. Even licensed practical nurses start at $240 (per month), rapidly advancing to $400."

Saginaw does have several registered male nurses. Almost all of these are top administrators or in specialized jobs. Male RN's start at about $500 per month, with extra pay for specialties and added responsibility. Nursing directors throughout the city are asking for more nurses, especially male nurses.

Low salaries probably kept many men from entering the nursing field, but recent upgrading of pay scales now being monetary as well as humanitarian rewards to those in the profession, Owen W. Pinker, vice president and director of William Beaumont hospital in Royal Oak, points out that the average salary paid to a four-year nursing graduate at his hospital is $750 per month.

Pinker, who is also president of the Tri State Hospital assembly and a past president of the Michigan Hospital association, predicts the average salary for four-year nursing graduates will reach $1,000 per month by 1970.

Miss Eleanor Tomp, executive secretary of the Michigan Nurses association, agrees that salaries are improving, although she feels Pinker's figures, "may be a little high." Most authorities agree that male nurses have better chance of advancement in the nursing profession than their female colleagues. Miss Tomp attributes this to the fact that most men are family breadwinners. They tend to get additional preparation, frequently to the master's level, in nursing administration. They are also more consistent in the labor market, she says, since they do not take time off to raise families.

John A. Doherty, executive director of the Michigan Health Council, believes that men have a better chance of advancing to director of nursing but notes that many prefer to become nursing specialists, such as certified anesthetists.

Most men rate "extremely well" in nursing, Doherty maintains. Some are offered as much as $18,000 per year for nursing director jobs in larger hospitals. He points out that men who served as medics in the armed forces should be especially interested in the profession.

How do female nurses feel about men entering the field? The newly elected president of the Michigan Nurses Association is a male registered nurse, John Wick.

Official Seal

The Great Seal and the Michigan Coat-of-Arms may look alike, but use of one is specifically regulated by law. The other may be used more indiscriminately.

The Great Seal is, in fact, the Michigan Coat-of-Arms with the inscription, "The Great Seal of the State of Michigan A.D. MDCCCXXXV," imprinted on the circumference. It is used only on official state documents—such as commutations, pardons, extraditions, warrants, land patents, Governor appointment, certifications of appointed and elected officials, and similar state papers. The Seal authenticates all documents on which it appears. For this reason it is illegal for anyone to use the Great Seal for any other purpose.

The Coat-of-Arms, however, is used on the Michigan State Flag, letterheads and envelopes, state publications, and even on doorknobs in the Capitol. Although its use is more permissive, the Coat-of-Arms may not be altered in any way when reproduced.

Both the Great Seal and the Coat-of-Arms were designed by Lewis Cass, Governor of Michigan Territory, and presented to the Constitutional Convention of 1835. Several changes of the characters in the Seal have the league, and Buchanan might be suspended.

Berry also pointed out that Buchanan offered to play Edwardsburg after the regular season, but this was rejected by Edwardsburg.

Richard Dougherty, assistant superintendent, supported Berry's stand. He stated:

"The Buchanan athletic department has been consistent from the start in its position regarding the Edwardsburg game. We were against the proposed change in scheduling, which caused the problem. It was voted thru, we accepted it, and stated that we would make every effort to change our Niles game which was previously scheduled."

"Ray Berry was able to make a change with Niles beginning in 1970. Niles was very cooperative in this matter, but their long-standing commitment had to be honored and this was the best possible solution."

"We recognize the conference jurisdiction concerning the forfeit of the game and will concede to their wishes. We feel we have been completely above-board and consistent in our dealings with the conference."

"The same problem in scheduling held true with Brandywine for the two years, when by league rules the Bobcats should have played Buchanan on the night contracted for the Niles Buchanan game. Brandywine, however, agreed to reschedule the game with Buchanan to the opening date to avoid the problem of forfeit and open dates."

Reports to School Board

The matter came into the public spotlight recently when Supt. Ota Weeks reported the problem to Edwardsburg School Board.

In the report of the meeting carried in the Cassopolis Vigilant, it said the "board is looking to the coaches in the Blossomland league to take appropriate action against Buchanan for its 'high handed attitude.'"

In an interview with the Record, Supt. Weeks said nothing had been done about the matter as yet, but that Edwardsburg will be contacting the league at the March meeting. He added that recommendations will be made, but declined to disclose the nature of the proposed action against Buchanan.

Weeks acknowledged that Edwardsburg had not scheduled another opponent for the fourth Friday in 1969, adding that it wouldn't be the same drawing card as the Bucks.

Since the 1968 game would be played at Buchanan, if scheduled, Edwardsburg is primarily concerned with the 1969 contest and the potential loss of gate receipts.

Cooperated With Coloma

It is ironic that while Edwardsburg is proposing action against Buchanan over the conflict in scheduling, caused by the league rule, the Eddie's cooperated with Coloma in rescheduling that game around the Coloma-Waterloo game for the past two years.

In 1968 and 1969 Coloma's conflict is with Cassopolis and apparently the Rangers are taking the same position as Edwardsburg is with Buchanan.

Ted Lenhardt, Coloma athletic director, told the Record Wednesday that no decision has been reached regarding the conflict. He said he has turned the matter over to the Coloma School Board.

The league has already agreed that Buchanan should forfeit games to Edwardsburg in 1968 and 1969. However, what else is proposed at the March meeting of the league could resolve the matter or could split the league.

Indian Hills Students Get Hot Lunch

Indian Hills school children enjoyed a "treat" Tuesday in form of the first of a series of once-a-month hot lunches to be served at the school under the sponsorship of the Indian Hills Community Club.

Mrs. Albert Rottmann, chairman of the arrangement committee, stated that the hot lunches were planned, not only to provide a special treat for the children, but also to provide an opportunity for the mothers of the school district to become better acquainted as they worked together on a project planned to benefit their children.

Highly favorable and appreciative response from students was reported by Mrs. Rottmann, who said that some children requested that the hot lunches be served more frequently than presently planned.

Menu selections for the prepared hot lunches included sloppy-joes, hot dogs, celery and carrot sticks, ice cream and cupcakes. A small fee is charged for the hot lunch for which vegetable sticks and cupcakes were donated by room mothers and napkins are furnished by Inter City bank. An area dairy furnished ice cream for the initial hot lunch.

Serving on the arrangement committee with Mrs. Rottmann were the club president, Mrs. Robert Letcher, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs. Jay Combs and Mrs. Eugene Huffman.

A group of six mothers present to assist with the serving included Mrs. James Kelley, Mrs. John Wieglesworth, Mrs. James Mav, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Lou Newsom and Mrs. Robert Sawver.

1968 Wheat Signup Begins

All ASCS county offices in Michigan are accepting farmer's intentions to participate in the 1968 feed grain and wheat programs. Applications will be accepted thru March 15, announced Frank J. Light, chairman of the ASC State committee.

The 1968 feed grain program for corn and grain sorghum is designed to reduce total feed supplies in order to strengthen prices. Bumper crops at home and abroad last year led to an unusual world-wide rise in grain production. The big world crop has pressed hard on US prices.

Light stated that to compensate for the increased production last year, the Department of Agriculture has set a goal of about 30 million acres to be diverted from production of corn and grain sorghum in 1968. This is 10 million more acres than were actually diverted in 1967. To achieve this objective the program has been changed for 1968 to provide for diversion payments for all producers who set aside more than 20 percent of their farm base acreage.

ing and refunds, but that they could be easily avoided if taxpayers would read their instruction booklets carefully and review their returns before filing.

Stoepler pointed out that the instruction booklet that taxpayers received by mail usually provides all the information necessary to prepare a complete and accurate return. Taxpayers with unusual problems can get the correct answer from Internal Revenue.

He added, however, that Internal Revenue Service personnel cannot answer questions that relate to the newly enacted Michigan State Income Tax Law. He said, inquiries pertaining to Michigan Income Tax Law should be directed to the nearest office of the Michigan Tax authorities, not to the Internal Revenue Service.

As a suggestion for receiving prompt action on the processing of refunds, taxpayers of the area should mail their Federal income tax returns in the envelope enclosed in their tax forms package, he said. Use of the pre-addressed envelope will route the returns directly to the IRS Service Center, thereby eliminating a processing step.

Bucks Ranked Sixth

Buchanan's undefeated basketball squad was ranked sixth among Class B teams in the state in the weekly poll by the Associated Press. The Bucks were ranked 12th in the United Press International poll. Last week they were ranked 9th and 15th respectively.

To Discuss State Tax

John Blodgett, a representative of the Michigan Department of Revenue, will speak on "The New Michigan Income Tax" at the Buchanan Lions club meeting Thursday, Feb. 8, at 6:15 p.m. in the American Legion home.

New Grandson

Mrs. and Mrs. Dennis Ruff of 520 Hickory St. Niles are the parents of a 6 lb. 7 oz. son, Donald Jonathan, born Jan. 24 in Pawating hospital. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. W. Ruff of 113 West Chicago St. and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of 2714 Reynolds St., Niles.

Mistakes on Tax Returns Costly

How many American taxpayers had their Federal tax refunds delayed last year because of incomplete or inaccurately prepared returns? Several million according to A. M. Stoepler, district director for Internal Revenue.

In 1967 the processing of 2 million returns was delayed because taxpayers forgot, or entered incorrect Social Security numbers, he said. In addition, he stated that 222,000 failed to attach W-2 forms and 315,000 forgot to sign their returns.

The IRS representative said that these errors delay processing.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers By SIDNEY N. MANNING District Manager

A very important change in the Social Security law makes it possible for the disabled widow or disabled divorced wife of a worker to receive disability benefits at age 50. This also applies to the disabled widower who was dependent upon his wife at the time of her death.

Under the old law a widow could not get social security benefits until she reached 60 unless she had a child in her care who was entitled to payments based on her husband's earnings.

Now a widow whose husband had worked long enough under social security can be eligible for monthly benefits as early as age 50 if she is severely "disabled." A widow is considered "disabled," if she has a mental or physical impairment so severe that it keeps her from performing any gainful activity, and the condition has lasted (or is expected to last) 12 months or longer. Age, education, and work experience, which are considered in the case of the disabled worker, are not considered.

In general, you can be eligible for widow's benefits only if you disability started before or within 7 years after your husband's death. However, if you received benefits as a widow with children, you could be eligible for the new benefits if you disability started before the other payments ended, or within 7 years after they ended.

Payments can start with the 7th full month of your disability. The first month for which benefits can be paid is February 1968.

If you were divorced from your husband before his death after 20 or more years of marriage, but were receiving support from him at the time of his death (or he was under a court order to provide support), you may also be eligible for the new benefits.

The amount may be as low as 50 per cent of the benefit the deceased worker could have received, or may be as high as 82 1/2 per cent, depending on the age at which the widow begins to get benefits. For example, if you became disabled at age 50 and began receiving disability benefits, you could receive 50 per cent of the amount your husband would have received, if you started getting benefits at age 65, it would be 60 1/2 per cent.

As under the old law, the full amount of a widow's benefit—payable at 62—is 82 1/2 per cent of your deceased husband's retirement benefit. If you start receiving widow's disability benefit at an earlier age under the new law, the reduced rate will continue after age 62 as well.

About 200 disabled widows and widowers in the tri-county area will be eligible for $75,000 in monthly payments over the next 12 months as a result of this change.

If you believe that you or someone in your family may be eligible under these changes in the law, get in touch with us at the Social Security office. The address is Goldblatt Building, Fairplain Plaza, Benton Harbor. The phone number is 927-2441.

In addition to our regular daily hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. we are open Thursday evenings until 8 o'clock for those unable to come in during the day.

What is there for the people to do in the summer and at night when there is no game? They either take to the streets or go to neighboring towns.

To me this seems foolish because for business purposes I would think you would like to have their business. I left Buchanan for the armed forces and by the time I came home for the first time our town was all closed up at 6 p.m. If this continues our town is going to grow old and die.

What is needed in our town is a show, or open the Youth Council, or provide year around services for the youth of Buchanan. These people will be the ones who will run Buchanan in the future so something must be done now.

You have a curfew but who pays any attention to it. The police department has our town scared to death. They use their authority far beyond their control. Yes, they bring in the young violators, but what is done to stop further violence?

So people, take heed to what has been said and do something for the youth of Buchanan. Help the youth to help themselves.

Thank you, Pfc John W. Matlock 2nd Maint. Supt. Co D.S. 60th Support Group APO Seattle 98749

Neibauer says that potato men should find the discussion and illustration of symptoms, causes and control factors useful. He pointed out that simple precautionary measures, like varieties, crop rotation, and soil acidity levels, can often prevent common scab in potatoes. The publications also list disinfectants and spray mixtures for disease control.

Three Scouts Achieve Eagle Rank in Troop 41

The awarding of Eagle Rank to three Senior scouts highlighted the family night Court of Honor program held in the Methodist church Tuesday night for scouts of Troop 41.

Eagle Scouts Russell Stephens, Terry Walker and Mikel Daron received scouting's most coveted award, Eagle rank, in a colorful presentation ceremony by their commander Leo "Unk" Slate.

Offices held (and honors achieved) by these scouts while following the Eagle trail are as follows: Russell Stephens, assistant patrol leader, senior patrol leader, troop treasurer and junior assistant scoutmaster; Terry Walker, assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, troop scribe and junior assistant scoutmaster; Mikel Daron, assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, senior patrol leader and nature instructor on the Camp Madron staff.

The court were: Second class, Neil Beaverson; First class, Rodney Wesner; Star rank, Gary Beaverson, Terry Rundborg, Ronald Aalfs and Bill Davison.

During the business session it was decided the troop would attend troop camp at Camp Madron the seventh week of the season.

Arrangements were begun for the annual Swiss steak dinner to be held at the Methodist church Saturday, Feb 17, from 5 to 7 p.m. Proceeds will be used for troop expenses during the coming year and it is hoped that the troop will raise enough money to pay half of each boy's cost to attend troop camp this summer.

Plans also were discussed for Boy Scout Week. Last weekend the troop braved the elements on a rather wet, foggy overnight camp-out which had been planned for a Klondike Kamp had the weatherman co-operated. Thirty six boys and five leaders attended.

Communications Theme For Pack 42 Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 42 held its monthly meeting last week at the American Legion home. The attendance award went to Den 4 for having the most parents present.

The program emphasis for the month of January was communications and the dens that make up Pack 42 presented a sampling of their projects in this area.

The meeting opened with a demonstration of messages in semaphore given by John Trautman and Steve Hawks.

Den 4's den chief Phil Poter of troop 48 assisted by bears Dino and Gino Jackson, and Tom Trull gave a demonstration of Morse code. Other den members presented a puppet show of "Little Red Riding Hood".

Working on the puppet show were Mark Beaverson, Kit Ott, Menno Jochem, Wayne Sumner, Randy Bicard, and Bruce Hull.

Den 2 collected news items from the other dens, wrote stories, and printed a newspaper which was distributed at the meeting to Cub Scouts and parents.

Bernard Ullom, who is employed by Electro-Voice, set up a display of communication equipment for the meeting.

James Mitchell read a story and the audience of Cub Scouts and parents supplied the sound effects which were all recorded by Ullom and played back to the audience could hear the resulting sound.

KNOW YOUR MICHIGAN LAW
By Attorney General FRANK J. KELLEY

(This is one of a series of public service articles explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Where should a will be placed for safekeeping? The answer, of course, is that a will should be kept in a safe place where it can be readily obtained by the maker and also be available to a proper party when the time comes to file a petition for probate of the will. Wills must not only be kept safe from the threats of fire and flood, but also from the possibility of theft or destruction by persons who have a motive to oppose the testator in the making of his will.

Sometimes an original of the will is left with the lawyer if he has a proper and safe place, and a true copy is given to the maker. By this method the maker knows what is in his will, but if a copy is lost the original is still available. Also, easy access to the will in a lawyer's office allows one to change his will at any time.

Another method of placing a will in safekeeping is by filing it with the probate court. As a matter of fact, the law concerning the filing of wills with the probate court was changed just last year by Act No. 279 of the Public Acts of 1967. The law now provides that any will in writing which is enclosed in a sealed wrapper, having endorsed thereon the name of the maker of the will, his place of residence, his social security number or Michigan driver's license number, if any, and the day when, and the person by whom it is delivered, may be deposited by the person making the will, or by any person for him, with the judge of probate in the county where the maker of the will resides. The law provides that the probate judge shall receive and safely keep the will and give a certificate of deposit therefor.

The new law further provides for return of the will to the maker or to his authorized representative under certain safeguards. Under the new law upon the death of the maker of the will, the sealed wrapper containing the will is publicly opened by the probate judge. The law then provides the proper steps to be taken to initiate probate proceedings with notice to all parties concerned. The cost of filing the will with the probate court is $1.

You should consult an attorney if you have any questions concerning the making of your will.

Two Lose Licenses

Drivers' licenses of 519 Michigan motorists were suspended and those of 466 were revoked during the past week, according to the Michigan Department of State. Two Buchanan motorists were among those whose licenses were reported revoked for attaining an unsatisfactory driving record and failing to appear at a reexamination. Christian Lynn Peterson of 307 Main lost his license, as did Henry Worsam of 314 Miller.

Charge Two Drivers

Two area drivers were charged with careless and or reckless driving during the past week. A local 16-year-old driver was ticketed in the area of the high school Friday noon by Patrolman Leon Kendall. He was referred to juvenile court. Jack Lee Smallwood, 20, of Niles was ticketed Friday night by Sgt. Dewey Bieard at the intersection of West Front and Detroit after he allegedly "fish-tailed" and nearly collided with another vehicle.

Sentenced to Jail

James S. Nelson, 17, of Route 1, Wagner road, Galien was sentenced to serve two days in the county jail and fined $25 plus $8 costs when he appeared before Justice Harold Jackson on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was given the alternative of serving another 15 days in lieu of payment. Nelson was arrested at the high school Friday night after the game by Patrolman Leon Kendall.

Good Grooming Should Be Goal

Besides taking off the extra weight, you'll improve your appearance. Every woman wishes to be attractive. To aid you in reaching your goal, The Pennsylvania State University has an excellent correspondence course titled "Personality and Grooming."

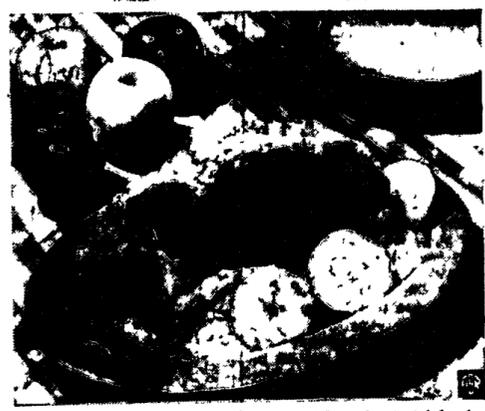

One section of the course is devoted to exercises for slimming and improving posture. Maybe you haven't thought how essential good posture is to being attractive. Illustrations show you how to practice good posture while doing your housework.

Another feature of the course is a set of guidelines that can help you bring out the best in you—self and in other.

To get your copy of the course, send your name and address with $1.75 to Grooming, Box 5000, University Park, Pa. 16802. Make your check or money order payable to Penn State University. The fee covers all mailing costs and the material will be mailed promptly. You can study the lessons at your leisure, then file the information for handy reference.

Fresh Apples Complement Corned Beef

The emphasis is on flavor rather than frills in this tasteful pairing of favorite family foods. Hearty and homey, the Fresh Apples and Corned Beef Platter features tart and tangy all purpose Washington Winesap apples as the perfect taste complement to savory corned beef with cabbage wedges. The Washington Winesap, a late-harvested, rosy red apple, with a tangy flavor, and crisp, fine-grained flesh, will keep both flavor and shape as it's being cooked with the meat and cabbage. The addition of caraway seeds adds a pungent touch to this easy-does-it dinner.

- Fresh Apple-Corned Beef Platter
- 4 lbs. corned beef
- 1 stalk celery and leaves
- 1 carrot, thinly sliced
- 1 small onion, quartered
- sprigs of parsley
- 1 tsp. caraway seeds
- 4 Washington Winesap apples, cut in 1/4 inch rounds
- 1 medium cabbage, cut in wedges

Cover corned beef with cold water, add celery stalk and leaves, finely sliced carrot, quartered onion and parsley sprigs. Bring to boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer until meat is tender (about 4 or 5 hours). About 15 minutes before serving time increase heat, add caraway seeds, apple rounds and cabbage wedges (secured with picks). Bring to boil, cook 5 minutes, reduce heat to simmer and continue cooking about 5 minutes more or until apples and cabbage are tender. Place corned beef on a platter and surround with cabbage wedges and apple slices. Serves 6.

New Rules on Deductibility Of Medical Expenses Paid

(The following article is the second in a series of four articles on year-end tax planning prepared for this newspaper by the Committee on Federal Taxation of The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

The income tax laws permit a deduction for payment of medical expenses if they exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. In this regard, however, only part of the cost of medicine and drugs is classed as medical expenses — the part that exceeds one percent of your adjusted gross income. Any reimbursement you have received must be deducted from the amounts you paid in order to compute your medical expense deduction. (If the reimbursement was for medical expenses deducted in prior years, it is considered as income in the year received.)

New Rules

Here are some new rules on the deductibility of medical expenses this year.

1. Medical expenses include insurance premiums to cover hospital and doctor bills. Up to $150 of such premiums are deductible (if you itemize deductions) without regard to the 3 per cent limitation. Anything over $150 paid for such insurance becomes part of the calculation subject to the 3 per cent limit.

2. There is no maximum medical expense deduction in 1967.

3. Insurance premiums for disability income, accidental death and dismemberment, sight loss are not deductible.

A popular and legitimate means of reducing taxes is to alternate between years in using the standard deduction. In the year itemization will be used, payment of deductible items in December will result in a lessening of income tax while in the year the standard deduction will be used, payment of items due near the end of the year should be postponed until January. You cannot, however, obtain a deduction by paying a bill that is not due (i.e., making a prepayment or "advance payment" on medical or dental work to be performed at a later date).

Examples of Expenses

Examples of medical expenses in addition to those already enumerated include payments to laboratories and nurses, the cost of X-rays, hearing devices, dentures, and transportation expenses relative to illness. If you use your automobile for transportation to doctors, hospitals, etc. you may use a standard mileage rate of $05 per mile to determine the deductible cost.

Your planning should also consider any wages or payments received under a wage-continuation plan while absent from work on account of sickness or injury. If payments received during the first 30 days of absence are not more than 75 per cent of your weekly wage rate, they may be excluded from your gross income up to a maximum of $75 per week. This exclusion, however, does not apply for the first week of absence unless you are hospitalized at least one day during your absence. If you are absent from work for more than 30 days, payments received applicable to the period beginning with the 31 day of absence may be excluded up to $100 a week regardless of whether they exceed 75 per cent of your weekly wage rate.

Philosophers' Stone

Salt, sulphur and mercury formed the main ingredients of the Philosophers' Stone. The stone was the substance which all alchemists believed to be the one essential ingredient for making precious metals.

Inklings by NORMA

Well, hello again! So nice to be back with you, thru Inklings, in these pages. When Lyle Sumner, at long last found time to resume his popular column, "Around the Town," I guess he just ignited a spark of new inspiration in his old . . . that is, former co-worker; and away we go, with some girl-talk!

Do you realize January is actually over . . . all eleven weeks of it . . . snow, mush, rain, blizzard, mud, fog and piling leftover pine needles out of the cleaner hose?

Way back on January 2, the view of the winter days and months ahead stretched gray and bleak . . . interminable post-holiday hibernation and we've been taunted by those constant airline commercials which offer, in soothing melodies, a "second summer," "up, up and away," "number one to the sun," and a chortling Bob Hope suggesting Miami Beach without the wife!

They're going to have to change their tune, though, for tomorrow (Friday) is Groundhog Day and all us little native citizens of the Frozen North are going to uncurl ourselves and start looking for our shadows. Why, as a matter of fact, it's only 49 days until spring . . . and 147 days 'til the 4th of July (Just think . . . frosted lemonade and potato salad under the maple tree . . . Old Glory on a staff, reaching for a breeze . . . and how will we stand that heat?)

Already now, the pussy-willows down by our pond have started to squeeze out of their buds Buchanan Floral and Coleman's Flower Garden are filling their greenhouse trays with growing Easter plants. The hardware and farm stores in town are stacking bags of grass seed along their aisles, and the ladies' apparel racks are bulging with airy frocks in cotton-candy colors. One eager local gardener, Oa Coleman, reports he already has tomato plants two inches high in his small basement window greenhouse (veteran green thumb that he is, I suppose he's planned his strategy for when they're two FEET high and it's still snowing).

Anyway, it's February, and there are glimmers of a new season peeking through here and there . . . just enough to save us from despair when we have to keep the house lights on all day, or endure the other choice of tepid sunlight thru dirty windows.

It's true . . . these are the days, more than any other, when daily housework gets to be like stringing beads . . . with no knot in the string . . . and we gals begin to wonder if we'd be any good at politics, or writing a novel, or super-sleuthing for the F.B.I., or learning to fly, or diving for treasure off the Bahamas. And after considering all possible adventures, we settle for scrounging up a new recipe and a centerpiece of violets, and having a ladies' luncheon . . . or we start painting the bedrooms . . . or we find adventure on the shelves of the local library.

Well, now, that's not really such a comedown from those heady thoughts of treasure hunting off the Bahamas . . . just a little colder . . . a little drier . . . and a little cheaper. How long since you pulled on your galoshes and munched down to that lovely brick-and-glass treasure house on Front street hill? There are thousands of adventures inside, all neatly bound. Waiting for you.

In case you're a little out of touch with the Buchanan Public Library, did you know you can select from the shelves the means of learning such new skills as tray painting, gem cutting, making mosaics, ceramics, pottery, needlework, oil painting, making musical instruments, papier mache, gardening in a small greenhouse, soap sculpture, or sky-diving, to name a few (That last is the one with only one real lesson).

Why, just the other day, I found my mid-winter inspiration in a book there by Gertrude Parke entitled "Going Wild in the Kitchen" . . . and despite what you may be envisioning from that title I'll have you know I've been learning all about such culinary adventures as preparing frog legs salad, game bird pie (yes, four and twenty blackbirds), bear stew, dandelion scallop, marinated fiddleheads, braised nettle greens, stuffed grape leaves, geranium cake, rose petal ice cream, clover blossom and cowslip wines, and even roasted possum with persimmons. Since Friday is indeed Groundhog Day, I've been studying with special interest the recipe for Woodchuck a la King. Would you be free for dinner at our house Saturday night?

Actually, I'm sincerely suggesting a visit to our library, if you're not already a steady customer. If you're like me, a perusal of the shelves after a long absence makes you wonder how you could have let all those potential months of good reading slip thru your fingers. If crafts and hobbies are not your cup of tea, there are new books arriving all the time, offering the newest fiction, the latest on world affairs, history, philosophy, true adventure and humor, biographies . . . anything at all you'd like within the magic of books to carry you "up, up and away," without benefit of jetliner.

Incidentally, Librarian Mrs. Claude Lauer has announced a new library policy doing away with the rental system for new books. Any of the newest volumes (except those few not loaned out at all) may be borrowed, rent-free, for seven days. All others are of course 14-day books, as always. (And I just noticed, I've been so gleefully "going wild in the kitchen" I owe a four-day fine. I wonder if they offer a discount for voluntary publicity-writers.)

Well, I had many other things to talk with you about, since we haven't gotten together for so long, but I just counted my copy pages and I remembered so well that certain white-shirted gentleman at the Record office who always sweetly restrained himself with a mere anguished groan when confronted with a full-page Inklings column, and I think it would be nice if we left him some room for some ads, don't you?

Since this is the beginning of a new month, and our conscience is really stirring as we continue to seek the comfort of our hearth, let's just close with better words for what we've really been trying to say from the first paragraph:

"Not 'til the fire is dying in the grate, seek we any kinship with the stars"

Bumper Beauty

Solid steel bumpers on automobiles, in addition to providing protection for passengers, perform an important styling function. To enhance their gleam, bumpers on modern cars are plated with two heavy layers of nickel beneath a light chrome finish. A semi-bright first layer of nickel protects against corrosion while a second, bright layer resists nicks and scratches.

THE ART OF HAT MAKING — Mrs. David Goldberg gives pointers to Mrs. Arthur Blake during a hat-making presentation before the Town and Country Homemakers club. Mrs. Goldberg displayed several hats she had made and demonstrated the art of hat making. —Record Photo

Create Touch of Spring With Hat-Making Hobby

Now that Christmas decorations have all been packed away and hopefully the last of the pine needles banished for another year, it is time to look toward Spring.

Members of the Buchanan Town and Country homemakers club, thinking "what could be more springlike than a new hat," invited Mrs. David (Letty) Goldberg, whose avocation is hat making, to show them her hat collection and share some of the secrets of hat making.

Mrs. Goldberg presented a variety of hats and millinery materials and she and her audience seemed to enjoy modeling the chapeaux. She admitted that tho not all of the hats displayed were her creations, all had been "home-created" by either herself or her sister, Mrs. Russell Kelp of Detroit. In fact one of the hats that seemed to be the most popular was designed by Mrs. Kelp. This hat consisted of an exaggerated derby-style frame covered with white coconut cloth, a shaggy jersey-backed millinery fabric, and accented with a soft band and draping scarf of pink, yellow and white "striped" chiffon.

Other hats of interest were a head hugging cloche completely covered with red white, and blue carnation type flowers and a pointed plexiglas cap covered with blue-green organza flowers.

Millinery became one of Mrs. Goldberg's hobbies about five years ago, when her sister persuaded her to enroll in a night school class in millinery.

The course was taught in Detroit by a professional milliner, Mrs. Jenny Caradus, who had been in the business for more than 40 years having worked for several well known designers in New York and also having had her own custom millinery salon in Detroit.

Mrs. Caradus suggested that her students study pictures of hat styles they liked, as well as looking at actual hats in the custom millinery salons and she taught them to analyze how a hat was constructed without touching it or turning it over to see the inside. Students could learn, she said, by watching the techniques used for the hats, that other students were making, for she encouraged her students to each try something different rather than all create hats of the same style.

Students, under her careful direction also learned to re-style hats they had worn and were dissatisfied with, as well as learning to design original creations.

"Collecting the materials for making hats is part of the fun," said Mrs. Goldberg. Hat frames of buckram or linnen in variety of desired shapes may be purchased from millinery suppliers. For those of a more adventurous nature or wanting something special, frames can be made by using buckram or linnen, purchased by-the-yard, which is dampened then smoothed and stretched over an object with the desired shape and allowed to dry.

Mrs. Goldberg revealed having made frames on canister lids, small mixing bowls, and even on a basketball which she borrowed from a very surprised teen-age cousin. Hats are also made with "soft frames" of pelt or shaped from hoods of felt or straw, she said.

Once a frame style is selected it can be covered with many types of materials, singly or in combination fabric, flowers, straw, and feathers. For the woman who sews, a remnant from her sewing basket might be sufficient to make a matching hat for the ensemble look, or when purchasing her material for a dress or suit she might allow a little extra yardage for a hat, particularly if it is to be a large one, she suggested.

Mrs. Goldberg also suggested methods for working with various materials and equipment.

"The surprising thing to the beginning milliner is that all of the suggested materials are easier to handle and the methods easier than they appear," she stated.

Altho most of Mrs. Goldberg's hats were designed for her own use or for family weddings, she has on several occasions designed hats for friends on request and helped others with original designs.

Her most ambitious hat project to date is the pheasant feather creation she has been wanting to make for several years and which is now possible, thanks to the generosity of several successful Buchanan area pheasant hunters.

Several club members were reported to have been observed leaving the meeting discussing the new hat that they planned to make.

If Mrs. Goldberg has her way, Buchanan will see an increase in attractive Easter bonnets being worn by town women this spring.

Nancy Rotzlen of Gallen, wore a floor length princess line gown of cornflower blue crepe with a matching lace overlay on the bodice. The gown was enhanced with a full-length floating panel of crepe secured at the back of the neckline by a bow. She carried a bouquet of white glamelias and wore a blusher veil held in place by a lace cap.

The bridesmaids, Miss Avallne Juhasz of Niles, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Janet Klingerman of Gallen, each wore an ensemble identical in color and fashion detail to that of the maid of honor and each carried a similar bouquet.

Paul Juhasz Jr. of Niles served as his brother's best man. Groomsman were Joel Johnson of Niles and Robert Klingerman of Gallen.

For her daughter's wedding, Miss Ballard selected a turquoise knit suit complemented by a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Juhasz chose to wear a beige suit accented with a corsage of white carnations.

Guests were received at a reception in the Elks' Temple in Niles immediately following the ceremony.

The bride attended Gallen high school and the bridegroom, a graduate of Brandywine high school, is employed by the J & C Construction company in Niles.

The couple will reside at 110 Ontario St., Niles.

Hankerson Gets 29 Points Bucks Save Perfect Record on Free Throws

Free throws provided the winning margin Friday night as the Bucks took a 72-70 victory from the Cassopolis Rangers to keep their perfect record intact. Coach Ray Berry's squad now boasts a 70 league record, and 90 season mark.

With Chet Hankerson setting the pace, the Bucks scored on 17 of 25 shots from the foul line in the final 8 minutes of play. Only four of 21 points in the final period came from the floor. In setting the pace, Hankerson scored 11 free throws in the fourth quarter.

The Rangers were high for the game, quickly jumping to a 30 lead. A free throw by Bill Rauch, jump shot by Hayward Miller, and long shot by Pat Sexton put the Bucks in command.

Coach Ray Berry's Bucks opened a 10-5 margin before the Rangers started closing the gap. With 1:36 minutes to play in the first period, Cass tied it at 12-12 on a long shot by Bernard Thomas and a free throw by Thomas put the Rangers in command.

Hankerson took a pass under the bucket from Francis Brown, and scored a two-pointer and the Bucks were ahead 14-13. A jump shot by Hankerson and pair of free throws by Rauch gave Buchanan an 18-14 margin at the end of the period.

That first period saw Rauch set the scoring pace with four free throws and a field goal, for 6 points, with Hankerson, Miller and Sexton each getting 4.

The first period also set the pace for a contest controlled from the beginning by referees' whistles.

Seven fouls were whistled against Buchanan and seven against the Rangers. Miller was taken out of the lineup after being called for his third foul with 4:15 minutes remaining in the quarter.

Teamwork Key
Teamwork provided the punch that enabled the Bucks to widen the gap early in the second period. Bruce Pelkey sank a pair of free throws and then scored on a shot from the corner after Brown stole the ball. Shortly after that Pelkey passed to Rauch for a two-pointer from under the bucket and Brown passed to Hankerson for another two-pointer. A jump shot by Brown gave the Bucks a 28-21 margin and a long shot and pair of free throws by Sexton widened the gap to 32-21.

By the end of the period the Rangers had cut the gap to seven points, 40-33. At halftime Pelkey, Miller and Rauch each had three fouls and Thomas had three for the Rangers. Whistle blowing slowed slightly with six fouls called against Buchanan in the second quarter and five against Cass.

The two squads matched points early in the third period, but fouls soon began to tell. Miller was called for his fourth and Brown soon picked up his third.

The Bucks began to get whistle-shy and appeared afraid to rebound, giving the Rangers a chance to close the gap to 48-44 during a 3-minute cold spell.

Hankerson broke the scoring lull with a jump shot and a free throw by Rauch ended Buchanan's scoring for the period,

Cass Takes Lead
At 1:51 Pelkey picked up his fourth foul before Cass started a scoring drive that saw the Rangers tie the score on a layup by Greg Hilton with 24 seconds remaining and go into a 53-51 lead with 2 seconds on the clock.

Buchanan scored only 11 points that period as the Bucks were called for nine fouls. Cass scored 20 points and were whistled for three fouls.

Hankerson tied the score during the first minute of the final period, just before Miller drew his fifth foul. In all, Miller played less than a full quarter of the game.

Robert Mickens broke the tie for Cass with a jump shot and another jump shot by Thomas Morse gave the Rangers a four-point lead. Hankerson sank a free throw before Charles Tietzor sank one for Cass as Hankerson picked up his third foul. Hankerson then scored on a pair of rebounds as Mickens was called for his third foul.

Enjoying only a two-point margin with 6:21 to play, Cass began to stall but the Bucks still were whistle shy and afraid to mix it up.

Foul Shots Pay Off
When Mickens was called for his fourth foul the picture began to change. With 5:29 to play Hankerson sank one of two shots to make it 58-57 Cass.

Rauch sank a two-pointer from underneath the basket to put the Bucks out in front 59-58 with 4:45 to play. A pair of free throws by Hankerson gave the Bucks a three-point lead before Tietzor scored one for Cass as Hankerson was called for his fourth foul.

Sexton sank a pair of foul shots to make it 63-60 with 4:02 to play and at 3:41 Hankerson sank two more to make it 65-60. Cass was picking up fouls, right and left as the Rangers tried desperately to get control of the ball.

Pelkey scored on two free throws to give Buchanan a 67-60 margin with 3:22 to play before Tietzor sank a jump shot for Cass. Pelkey drew his fifth foul at 2:27 after Hankerson scored on two more foul shots, and at 1:31 Hilton scored on a jump shot for Cass, making it 69-64.

Rauch was called for his fourth foul and Tietzor took the opportunity to score two points. Hankerson followed with a free throw and with 31 seconds remaining in the game Buchanan enjoyed a 70-65 margin.

Sexton was whistled for his third foul with 22 seconds remaining and Morse sank two shots. Brown then scored the winning margin on two free throws as Morse picked up his fourth foul, and it was 72-68 with 8 seconds to play. A last-second jump shot by Tietzor ended scoring as the Bucks held out for a 72-70 victory.

57 Fouls
In the final period Buchanan was called for six fouls and Cass for 14. For the game the Bucks were whistled for 28 fouls and Cass for 29, for a

Matmen to Host Chiefs, Bobcats, League Tourney

Buck matmen will face their biggest week of the season starting Monday as they host two tough opponents and the Blossomland conference tournament.

Monday night at 7 o'clock Coach Doug Borgert's squad will host the Chieftains of Dowagiac. Dowagiac won the Coldwater Invitational tournament in which the Bucks placed fifth and pinned Niles earlier this season. The Chieftains come into Monday's match as a definite favorite.

Thursday night the Bucks will host conference rival Brandywine. The Bobcats have always been the Bucks' strongest competition in the league and earlier this season handed Buchanan its first loss to a conference opponent. Local matmen will be looking to avenge that loss. The match is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock.

On Saturday the Bucks will host the annual Blossomland conference wrestling tournament. This tourney will feature preliminary matches in the afternoon, followed by consolation and championship matches in the evening. The Bucks are five-time defending champions and will be out to make it six in a row.

Still on the questionable list for next week is Rich Spaulding, who has been a consistently strong competitor during his four week varsity career. He is a three time conference champ, but has been out of action since the holidays due to an injury.

Returning to action this week is Ozzie Brown, who was ineligible first semester. Brown was 138 pound champion last year in the conference tourney.

It should be a big week for the Bucks and for local wrestling fans.

New Buffalo Claims 64-55 Win Over Galien

Altho improved in some areas, the Galien Gaels lost a 64-55 contest to New Buffalo Bison Friday night in a game played in New Buffalo's new gymnasium. The loss gave the Gaels a 5-6 season and 4-6 conference mark.

Friday night Coach Jim Anderson will take his squad to Bidgman and Tuesday night the Gaels will travel to Eau Claire. Both teams are members of the Red Arrow conference.

Galien got off to a slow start against New Buffalo and trailed 11-7 after 8 minutes of play. At halftime Galien trailed 32-23, but a big 21-point third period put the Gaels in command. 44-42 Galien cracked in the final quarter as the Bisons scored 23 points to take a convincing victory.

Exchange Student Brings Touch of Chile to Galien

Galien high school students are getting a new awareness of the country of Chile this semester, thru the presence of Miguel Plaza de los Reyes Zapata, an exchange student from Concepcion. His visit in this country is being sponsored by the Council of Churches under its Youth for Understanding program.

Miguel, 15, arrived Jan. 10 and is attending school as a senior. He is a house guest of two Galien teachers, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunejager, for the next six months.

For Miguel, life in Galien is somewhat different than in his home town of Concepcion, a city of 300,000 in central Chile. One of the big differences is the snow which blanketed the area until the January thaw. It was not the first time Miguel had seen snow, but in Chile snow is present only in the mountains.

Altho his career after school is not definite, Miguel is interested in attending college. See STUDENT, Page 3

Dobbin was formerly a member in "good standing" but the mounds of the gas buggy have crowded him out.  The city planning commission

The Courthouse Round-up by the

Berrien County Record
 Special Correspondent

Without a doubt, it is the season of candidate making in Berrien county. Men and women with an eye on one of the 11 elective offices involved in this year's elections are already reaching the point of commitment.

It is, by far, one of the worst times for any office seeker. The risks are high and the doubts are a hundredfold. Even for the veterans of the election wars, the time is a trying one.

The key decision, of course, is the final one—whether to run or not. But the process of reaching the final step is both complicated and tricky.

A newcomer to the political arena as well as the veteran officeholder must first decide if he wants the job. Then there is the tough task of quietly contacting party leaders to assess their feeling if the candidate is already in office, the contacting is a lot less complicated and may even be done by the party leaders during the months before other hopefuls begin to stir.

Once the contacting is done, the candidate has to determine whom he's running against. Challenging incumbent officeholders have little problem here.

at its meeting last Monday evening in the city hall approved a Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored program for renumbing houses in Buchanan.

The commission also continued its study of a proposed building code for Buchanan. The study was started last summer and involves detailed regulations for all types of residential construction. The city has no building code at present.

Mrs. Cleland Eagley, co-chairman of the Match of Dimes fund drive, has reported that Buchanan mothers in their march Tuesday evening to collect contributions to fight polio, totaled in $720.71. This brings the total collected so far in the drive to $899.11.

Jodean Reinholdt has been named the Betty Crocker Home maker of Tomorrow in Buchanan.

The Buchanan police department has started a training program for the safety patrol boys stationed at the high school and Moccasin school.

But the potential candidate for an office without an incumbent is in a bind. New opposition could develop anytime up to the filing deadline.

At this point there are also three other major problems confronting the hopeful. One is money. The other two are the availability of possible campaign workers and the impact of the effort on his family.

Money is a key factor. A campaign without opposition for a county office could cost as little as $100. With serious opposition, the cost could go over $5,000. The need for financing, if the candidate lacks in resources, is critical. Sources for the cash must be found, which do not tightly bind the candidate. A wrong estimate could prove disastrous in the closing days of the campaign.

The availability of workers is a real problem too. In the early stages of the decision process, it is a matter of possibilities. Too long a delay could result in potential workers shifting elsewhere.

Though the process is the issue of the effects on the family. A breadwinner must determine if his present job will still be around if he loses and if he wants to give up the time required to campaign and then to continue in political life. The time involved is about twice the amount candidates usually foresee.

Once the potential candidate solves the problems leading up to the key decision, he or she is ready. Plans for the campaign, a program, and the tight organization which usually surrounds the winner, all come next.

Clark Purchases Two UNIVAC Computer Systems

The basic plan for a vast multipurpose business information system that will utilize two UNIVAC 1108 Computer Systems has been announced by Clark Equipment Company.

The new UNIVAC 1108 systems, products of Sperry Rand Corporation's UNIVAC division, will be delivered and installed in Clark Equipment's corporate headquarters here in the fall of 1968. They will be used in the corporate-wide system which the company identifies as AIDS (Advanced Information Development System).

Don Dantine, director of management services for Clark, whose department is responsible for the development of AIDS, said "Some of the major benefits which will accrue to us as a result of the use of these large time sharing computers include: (1) substantial system and equipment savings, (2) providing of specialized services which would not ordinarily be economically justified, (3) elimination of redundancy in storage of data, and (4) providing of expanded data processing capabilities at our remote sites without the loss of control or the sacrifice of flexibility. We thus will have a corporate wide data processing utility."

The initial systems configuration includes two UNIVAC 1108 Computers, a single input/output control, high speed drum operating system storage, high speed drum data base control storage, medium speed PAST-RAND data base storage, magnetic tapes for archival and low access storage and remote terminals.

The remote terminals will consist of 23 UNIVAC DCT 2000's to be located at 12 Clark plants within the U.S. and Canada. In addition, more than 200 Teletypes will also be used for time sharing, inquiry, data input, data output, message handling and order entry terminals, at some 125 Clark locations.

WHEN ARE CHILDREN TOO SICK FOR SCHOOL?

Each child has his own pattern of illness. There should be no absolute rules, but the usually healthy child should stay home: 1) if feverish, 2) if symptoms such as headaches, drowsiness, runny nose, nausea, diarrhea are sufficiently severe to be disabling, 3) if he is likely to disturb others in the class, 4) if it is impossible, due to his ailment, for him to profit from school.

There is no reason, except for rare medical contraindications, for a child to be in school without immunological protection from the available vaccines.

Course Tells Why Sap Rises

What makes sap rise in plants, even to the tops of tall trees? Is it pushed or is it pulled?

Walter L. Heldeman of Pennsylvania State university says you get a good explanation of why plants' sap rises from their correspondence course on Plant Life.

According to the Penn State course, sap is pulled by a force exerted at the tops of plants. As moisture transpires from leaves, more water is pulled up.

the plants' tubes to replace that evaporated.

Water moves inside plants through the vascular systems, which are networks of tubes. The vascular network which carries water upward is mostly in the wood of plants' stems.

To learn more about the basic life processes in plants, study Penn State's correspondence course. Anyone can enroll simply by sending his name and address with $2.50 to Plant Life, Box 5000, University Park, Pa., 16802. Make checks payable to Pennsylvania State university. A course copy comes to you by mail.

CITIZENSHIP IS A TWO-WAY STREET

The individual who takes no part in community activities, who fails to support community institutions, deprives himself as well as others of the benefits of community action. Support of civic and philanthropic activities and institutions provides the services and facilities which an individual can supply but which every citizen at some time may need.

View from your Window

What do you see from your window? Another house across the street? A wheat field? A pine forest? A placidly flowing river, or an endlessly crashing sea? Your view, of course, depends on where you live.

The kind of church you go to—whether it is Gothic in style or white frame, a pale pink stucco built in a Spanish manner, or a domed cathedral, depends, too, upon where you live.

But whatever the size... whatever the shape... the Church is the Church. God's House assumes many forms on earth, but in all of them you will find His teachings, His word, His spirit.

Go to your church next Sunday.

Miss Kathy Lynn Montgomery has been named 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Buchanan high school. She attained the honor by scoring highest in a written knowledge and attitude test given senior girls here Dec 5.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery of 116 North Detroit, Kathy remains in contention for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000. She will be awarded a specially designed silver charm to mark her local achievement.

The Homemaker of Tomorrow program, now in its 14th year, is sponsored by General Mills. Some 603,798 girls registered for the program this year.

Started during the 1954-55 school year, the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow is designed to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. Just send your letters to the Berrien County Record, Buchanan, Michigan. All letters must be signed by the writer, although the letter writer's name may be withheld on request for good reason.

There are two copies each of two new books in the Buchanan public library. They are "The Diagnosis and Treatment of Speech and Reading Problems," by Dr Carl Delacato, and "How To Teach Your Baby to Read," by Dr Glenn Doman. I would recommend the first book to the parents of any child who is having a reading problem. I would recommend the second one to the parents of any child under school age.

I have met these men and they are honest and sincere in trying to help children. They are devoting their lives to a new idea which they are trying to prove. They have been successful in helping thousands of children, for whom all hope had been given up.
