WISNER'S

CORNER DRUG STORE
FILLING PRESCRIPTIONS IS THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF OUR BUSINESS

"Doggone, Mrs. Spaniel, you've got a fortune there!"

"Yes, thank you. At today's prices they'll bring a tidy sum, I guess. Wonder how much, friend Foxhound?"

"I'd say a hundred bucks apiece, charming lady!"

"Flatterer! Why, when my grandpa was a pup, he brought only $25. That was 20 years ago, of course, but he became a Champion!"

"My good woman, don't you realize how much prices have gone up since then? Look at hamburger, for instance..."

"Oh, Mister, how I'd love to look at hamburger!"

"Stop it—please! My point is that the price of nearly everything has gone way up in the last 20 years. Except electricity. And its dogs don't use electricity. That's unfair. I'm going to raise a howl about it!"

"But we do use electricity in lots of ways. It cooks our food and warms our baths and whisks our spare hairs off the furniture. The only reason my Mistress can help me tend and train these babies is because electricity saves her so much time and trouble every day!"

"Hm-m—guess you're right, gorgeous gal. . . . And it'll please you to know that the average family gets twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 20 years ago!"

"Twenty years ago—when Grandpa was a pup—and hamburger was . . . how much did you say hamburger was?"

"I'll have to scratch up the exact figure for you. But now I must run along and pick up a scent. Electricity and I—forgive me—do a great deal of work for a cent. Yip, yip! Good day, Mrs. Spaniel."

Though this story's all fun, its facts are all true. Many things are scarce and expensive these days, but electricity is plentiful and cheap. One reason it's so cheap is because of your wider use—but another big reason is because America's business-managed electric companies constantly seek and find new ways to keep it so.

Michigan Survey Analyzes Sales Tax Amendment

Both Sides Of Measure To Be Voted On At Nov. 5 Election

FIRST INSTALLMENT

The following is the first of three installments of an excellent analysis of the proposed sales tax amendment coming before the Michigan voters at the Nov. 5 general election. The analysis was made by the monthly circular publication, Michigan Survey, an organization sponsored by groups of private citizens interested in better financial administration for the state. The installments will be printed from time to time as space permits.

Sales Tax Amendment
Michigan voters will be called upon November 5 to determine whether one cent of the retail sales tax shall be returned to local units. The proposed amendment will read as follows on the ballot:

"Shall one cent of a levy on each dollar of sales under the State sales tax on the present base be returned to cities, villages, townships and school districts; half apportioned per capita among cities, villages and townships according to county populations, and half apportioned to school districts on the basis of the primary school census; and in addition annual grants be made to school districts from general funds in ratio to sales tax revenues of preceding fiscal years, but not less than that borne between such grants in the fiscal year ending 1940 and the preceding year's revenues?" (Note that "one cent" and not "one third" of the sales tax would be returned and that the amendment specifies that the levy shall be made on the "present base". It is said that adoption of this amendment would put the sales tax in the Constitution and give it a more permanent status. At present it is a statute and may be discarded or revised in the discretion of the legislature. A brief history of the sales tax in Michigan indicates how it grew from an emergency measure to the state's most important revenue source.

History Of The Sales Tax In Michigan
The retail sales tax came to Michigan in the middle of the worst economic depression the world has ever seen. Until 1933, the real property tax had supplied ample revenue for state purposes, but when the 15-mill property tax limitation was adopted in 1932 it became imperative that the state seek a new source of revenue at once in order to leave the sharply reduced proceeds from real and personal property taxes for the exclusive use of local government.

The 1933 legislature adopted the retail sales tax as the best solution to the problem. This action made Michigan one of the first states in the nation to put such a tax into effect, although the idea and practice was not new. Other countries had been using it for years. In 1935 the sales tax law was amended to clarify it and make it more equitable by exempting certain types of sales previously taxed. Again, in 1939, changes were made in the law in the effort to strengthen it and make evasion impossible.

Even with these needed changes in the law, it was not until the new

Department of Revenue took over collection of this tax in January, 1942, that any real continuity in policy became possible. The consistent enforcement and collection practices maintained by this department, together with the increased purchasing power of Michigan residents, has produced a huge annual revenue. Today this tax constitutes the financial backbone of the state, and in spite of early opposition to the form, the sales tax has probably come to Michigan to stay.

The most the state ever received from the property tax in any one year was $29,500,000, but in the first year the new sales tax produced almost $35,000,000. Since 1934, the annual revenue from it has climbed steadily. In 1935 it reached almost $39,000,000. By 1940 it had grown to $59,000,000, and in 1945 it was nearly $116,000,000. The 1946 revenue from this tax alone was more than the state collected from all taxes in 1934. It was over $33,000,000 higher than total state revenues from ALL sources in the year of its enactment—1933.

Recently local units have been trying to get a part of this revenue distributed among them to assist in carrying out their many important functions. This movement had its beginning in 1945, when the cities instituted a campaign for distribution of state surplus revenues. This move was defeated when the legislature established a $50,000,000 post-war reserve fund that took existing and anticipated state surplus revenues out of circulation. Two years later the legislature ear-marked this reserve as a veteran's post-war fund.

In 1945, the Tax Study Advisory Committee (appointed in 1943 in answer to the cities' request for state assistance) recommended that the sales tax be reduced from 3% to 2½% with the provision that any city might adopt a ½% local sales tax if they wished. This local tax was to have been collected by the state and returned to the levying cities in full. The proposal was not adopted, but it formed the basis of present city agitation for distribution of sales tax revenues to them.

In place of the solution recommended by the Tax Study Advisory Committee, the 1945 legislature revised the existing intangible property tax law to provide more revenue, and adopted a new 10% tax on retail liquor sales. The proceeds of these two taxes were earmarked for distribution to cities, villages and townships. These measures produced about $13,000,000 in fiscal 1946.

Early in the first 1946 special session of the legislature, a bill calling for outright distribution of 1/6th of sales tax revenues among the cities, villages and townships on a population basis was introduced in the House. Later, a Senate bill was introduced calling for distribution of up to $16,000,000 annually on a population basis, 2/3rds to the cities, villages and townships and 1/3rd to the counties. This distribution was to be made from sales tax revenues in excess of $90,000,000 a year. These bills were not adopted.

HOLLYWOOD

Thursday-Friday-Saturday, Sept. 5-6-7, the Hollywood will present two big screen hits that the entire family will enjoy. The first feature will be "Blondie's Lucky Day", with Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and Larry Simms. America's favorite fun family hits a new bank in daffness. This, and more, takes place in the new of the "Blondie" series. It shouldn't happen to a Bumstead, but it does when Dagwood tries to solve the housing problem, and lands in the doghouse (as usual). Blondie's mad—Dagwood's broke—and you'll be hysterical, watching the screwy antics of this fabulous family.

The second hit will be "Roaring Rangers" with Charles Starrett as the Durango Kid, and with Smiley Burnette and Merle Travis and his Bronco Busters. The story takes place during the railroad land-boom of the last century, with the Durango Kid pitted against three villains and their henchmen. With the aid of his pal, Smiley, the "Kid" brings law and order to a town which had been wide open to land-grabbing, gun-shooting rangers, Merle Travis and his Bronco Busters, Western musical aggregation, hit the bull's-eye with their novelty musical acts.

Sunday and Monday, September 8-9, the screen treat will be "Two Sisters From Boston" with Kathryn Grayson, June Allyson, Jimmy Durante and Lauritz Melchior. Youth and beauty, love and laughs all are combined in this delightful film. The comedy is in the hands of Durante of the irrepressible humor, expressive nose and beret manner. He's the piano-playing singer in a bowery beer hall.

Tuesday and Wednesday, September 10-11, the feature attraction will be "Dark Corner" with Lucille Ball, Clifton Webb, William Bendix and Mark Stevens. It's a startling drama of strange emotions, a gripping story of a strange obsession and a love tinged by the terror of an unseen danger. "The Dark Corner" is being acclaimed as one of the most absorbing mystery dramas ever to reach the screen.

Why Milk Price Increased

On September 1 the Buchanan dairies increased the retail price of milk to 16 cents per quart for the reasons given below.

On June 30 last, the O. P. A. discontinued the government subsidy on milk production. This made it necessary to advance the price paid the farmers for milk to make up for the aid formerly given by the government. We accordingly advanced the price to farmers and for some time absorbed this additional cost without passing it on to the consumer.

However, because of this and other advances in handling and processing costs it became necessary to advance the retail price, as was done by all other dairies of this district. Other dairy products received corresponding advances in price.

In view of larger comparative advances in cost in other food prices, milk still remains well within the economy class in living costs.

Meet our Boss:

MRS. ROE

Who's the Big Boss of any business? That's easy—the person or persons who own the business!

In the case of Michigan Bell, our Big Boss is "Mrs. Richard Roe" and thousands of other thrifty folks who have invested in Bell System securities and provided the money for enlarging the system and improving the service.

Now let's see what Mrs. Roe's investment helped make possible. Here are just a few examples:

- From 1920 through 1945, it has permitted the Bell System to increase the number of telephones in service from 8 million to 22 million—almost 16 telephones for every hundred people in the United States.
- It has provided the facilities for handling a record-breaking billion and a half toll calls in 1945, compared to 360 million in 1920.
- It has financed the development and installation of dial telephone equipment so that now 4 out of 5 telephones in Michigan, for example, are dial operated.
- It has paid for the construction of 75 million miles of wire and cable throughout the nation, and accomplished many other improvements too numerous to mention.

If this progress is to continue—more money will have to be obtained from more investors through the sale of additional Bell System securities. And, since investors naturally want a fair return on their savings, telephone rates should be sufficient to permit paying a reasonable rate of return.

Michigan Bell's "cost of living", like yours, has been rising rapidly. If it continues to go up, late increases may become necessary to insure adequate earnings. In any event, Michigan Bell wants telephone rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to operate the business efficiently... pay good wages... give a fair return to investors and, thereby, protect the future quality of the service we give you.

Sugar Allotment Enough For Canning Says County Agent
Canned goods closets full of fruits and vegetables, canned this summer, will give the same feeling of security as a bin full of coal with a storm approaching. Every modern homemaker realizes by now that she needs canned or frozen foods to help provide her family with an attractive, well-balanced diet. Through the winter months, says Edna Deo, home agent for Berrien county. A carefully planned family food preservation campaign is needed this year more than ever. Hazardous methods result in too much of one food and not enough of another, Mrs. Deo explains. First, a list should be made of the foods that will not be available, fresh, and the amounts your family needs. It is recommended that the diet consist of at least two servings of fruits and two servings of vegetables, other than potatoes, be served each day. Those who use the excuse that they haven't enough sugar to can fruits should figure out their family's canning allotment. Each person may have 10 pounds of sugar for canning. If 10 pounds of sugar is used to can 40 quarts (as is recommended) that means 160 quarts of fruit for a family of four. This amount will give each member of the family enough fruit for more than one serving daily over the seven months of winter period, or until fresh fruit is available again. To be sure fruits and vegetables are canned properly, Mrs. Deo suggests you obtain from the county extension office, the most recent USDA and Michigan State College bulletins on canning and freezing.

Shade Trees Need Added Attention Because Of Drouth
Dry weather in many sections of Michigan should cause home owners and farmers to give special attention to the health of shade trees on lawns, or along roadsides, according to Dr. Paul A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State College. A tree that is dying or leaning precariously at the top or ends of the limbs needs special attention to restore its good health. To do this he suggests: (1) a protective mulch over the ground at the base of the tree; (2) fertilizer to provide needed nourishment; (3) extra water for the roots during the growing season. He explains that trees growing under natural conditions in the forests are protected by a thick mat of dead leaves and twigs which conserves moisture and provides food. Trees on lawns and along roadsides are without this protection and as a result are generally unprepared for drouth. Therefore, the first move to save a tree that looks sickly is to restore the natural mulch by covering the ground around the tree with leaves or other decomposed material. It should be several inches deep and cover an area at least two-thirds the branch spread of the tree. The longer the mulch is left under the tree, the more good it will do for the tree. To give a tree extra nourishment, Professor Herbert says to apply a pound of ammonium sulfate for each 800 square feet of ground space beneath the tree. Have the ground well soaked with water before the fertilizer is applied and afterwards gently water it. Most feeble or sickly trees need extra water as well as food. Allow a stream of water to run on a wide area beneath the tree, Herbert suggests.

37 Tuberculosis Deaths In Berrien County During 1945
Tuberculosis killed 1145 men and 613 women in Michigan during 1945 according to the records of the Michigan Department of Health. During this year 5,472 new cases of the disease were reported. In Berrien county there were 37 tuberculosis deaths and 66 new cases reported in 1945. In Michigan two-thirds of the females who died from tuberculosis were younger than 35 while two-thirds of the males who died from the disease were older than 40. To assist in the discovery of tuberculosis in the early stages when it can be cured the Michigan Department of Health is operating three X-ray units each of which can X-ray 50,000 persons a year. Among large groups of supposedly healthy persons the X-rays show that about one in each 100 has tuberculosis.

Crisp, Cool Salads Please Family For Summertime Meals

The wise homemaker, on finding the family in an August eating slump, will resort to cool, colorful and refreshing salads to lure the eye and whet the appetite. Roberta Hershey, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State College, says the housewife will find it much easier to make pleasing salads than to cook foods that will please on hot August days.
To make salads attractive, take more care in arrangement. Consider the rim of the salad plate the frame of the picture. Place the lettuce so that the outer edges are just within the rim—never hanging over the edge. Foods of harmonizing color should be used. Don't forget a few garnishes to complete the salad picture.
To preserve the crisp, fresh appearance of garden vegetables, have them thoroughly chilled. Prepare the foods for salads a day in advance, and keep them in the refrigerator overnight. Miss Hershey suggests: For a texture contrast—use something crisp with something soft. For example, use celery in fish, egg and vegetable salads, use shredded cabbage or lettuce in shrimp, vegetable or fruit salads.
Tomato slices or wedges, parsley, watercress, sliced cucumber, lemon grapes, pickles or sliced green olives are excellent for garnishes in fish salads. Fruit salads become more colorful with halves of strawberries, cherries, fresh mint, cubes of red jelly, grapes or nuts as a garnish. Pop up vegetable salads with aspic, cheese or a sprig of parsley.
Mayonnaise and French dressings are made with salad oil and will have to be used sparingly this summer. A good homemade boiled dressing is fine with meat and vegetable salads. Tart fruit juices give excellent contrasts, in flavor with naturally sweet fruit salads.

Michigan Boys In Conservation Camps Stage Deer Drives
Deer drives have become the highlight of the weekly Michigan Boys' Conservation camps at the conservation department's Higgins Lake training school, as since late July fawns and does, it is believed, would not be too much disturbed by the censusing.
For the deer drive, some of the boys are stationed at counting posts around three sides of a square mile area to count the deer that run out as the rest of the boys move in on the fourth side, beating the brush and shouting as they follow through on blazed paths. Game division men who conduct the drives say the boys proceed entirely competent last season, tallying approximately the same number of deer on successive drives in the same area.
Earlier this season the boys' principal wildlife field trip has been to Reedsburg dam, to see an experimental controlled burning area, burned to improve its value as chicken range, and Dead Stream area, flooded to furnish better wildlife habitat.
The boys' camps began July 1, are continuing until August 24. Each of the 450 future sportsmen getting a week of intensive training under conservation department specialists this season represents a local conservation club which selected him and paid his camp expenses.

Berrien to Send Numerous Entries to State 4-H Club Show
Berrien county will send a large number of entries to the State 4-H Club Show at Michigan State college, East Lansing, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 3 and 4. J. D. Johnson, county 4-H club agent announced today. The first spot-war show has a premium list of more than $18,000-in-advance provided through the office of the state commissioner of agriculture, Charles L. Figg, from legislative appropriations.

A. G. Kettunen, state club leader and manager of the show, reveals that more of the livestock will be exhibited under tents this year owing to the crowded facilities of the campus and the big construction program underway.

Judging and demonstration contests will take place both days. All exhibits must be in place on Monday, September 2, as judging will begin at 9 a. m. Tuesday. Exhibits will remain in place until 5 p. m. Wednesday.

The night program will be held in the college auditorium on Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and will feature the dress parade.

With Tuesday, September 3, scheduled as Farmers' Day, a large number of parents and leaders of 4-H club youth from Michigan are expected to come to Lansing for the 31st holding of the state show. Exhibits from Berrien county will include dairy, garden, clothing, food, canning and electrical, names of exhibitors will be announced at a later date.

The following 4-H members will take part in demonstration contests: Allen Cable and Gaham Kolberg, of Berrien Springs, will demonstrate the proper filing of saws, Lois Reed and Marjorie Jean Sebasty of Buchanan, will present a demonstration on the proper care of wool skirts and sweaters, Bobbie and Betty Womack of Buchanan, will demonstrate the use of a canning equipment cupboard.

Six 4-H members from Berrien county will enter state 4-H judging contests: Joan Weaver, Niles, and Bob Norris, Berrien Center, will take part in the dairy judging, being placed high in the State Elimination Contest on August 12 and 13.

Mildred Zech, Berrien Springs, and Bobbie Womack, Buchanan, will enter the canning judging contest as two of the three representatives of nine southwestern Michigan counties.

New Buffalo Man
Telephones Food To Starving Greeks
George N. Karagiannis, New Buffalo, is rushing shipments of cane sugar and other hard-to-get food items to the starving people of Greece during Europe's food crisis. Greek War Relief Association leaders report, lately he telegraphed 245 pounds of food to the GWRA for 7 families in Greece.

The food, which cost George $89.25, is packed by the Greek War Relief Association into convenient 35-pound food parcels, each selling for $12.75. The one price includes the cost of the food, its packing, shipping and local delivery in Greece.

By sending food through the Greek War Relief Association, Karagiannis saved not only considerable money but precious time. Association leaders explain that the parcels were delivered not more than 24 hours after he placed his order with GWRA's office in New York.

Two unique parcel features permit this delivery speed. First, the Association, mass, purchases and ships the 35-pound food parcels to Greece, stockpiling them in central areas to permit easy delivery by truck. The second is the cabling daily of orders which cuts ordinary package delivery time from four to six weeks.

Hence, when an order is placed with the Greek War Relief Association for a 35-pound food parcel no time need be wasted selecting foods, hunting cartons, packing, insuring, finding a carrier able to ship the package or of providing for local delivery to the person named in Greece. GWRA parcels enter duty free.

Karagiannis' purchase of food is the real and constructive method of conserving food in America today to fight famine in Greece tomorrow. Whenever a person deposits $12.75 with the Greek War Relief Association for a food parcel, he is participating in a food program that has a government allocation for essential fats and oils for overseas shipment.

What these seven packages can do is surprising. GWRA nutritionists select the 35 pounds of food suitable to Greek tastes, no item need be discarded because the Greeks do not know it. Experts estimate that the 35 pounds will feed an average family of a man, wife, and from four to six children the better part of two weeks. A family now subsisting on starvation diets of 900 calories per person daily, on receipt of a parcel can expect to raise its daily caloric intake 350 calories per person.
