Three Hollywood Patriots Serving Uncle Sam

Many American actors, musicians, writers and artists of both sexes have joined the services to help win the war. Three screen stars are pictured above in their new roles. Left, Mr. John D. Hertz Jr., better known as Myrna Loy, who has been appointed assistant to the director of military and naval welfare, North Atlantic area, American Red Cross. Center, Capt. Clark Gable of the U. S. air forces is now an aerial gunnery instructor in England. He is pictured demonstrating the technique of handling the waist gun. Right: The government issue haircut somewhat deglamorizes him, but it's still Tyrone Power, who recently achieved a commission as a marine.

Hatfield presided over the hearings of five juvenile traffic violators, six run-away youngsters, six neglected and dependent children, and 40 delinquent offenders. Of the 40 delinquents, nine were girls and 31 boys.

The court has observed a gradual decrease in the number of crippled and afflicted children who are eligible for treatment at public expense now that parents are working. This is reflected in the fact that only five crippled and eight afflicted youngsters were cared for during August.

Judge Hatfield pointed out an interesting sidelight when he revealed that although some two hundred families have been clamoring for babies to adopt, none of them appeal willing to offer free homes to normal, healthy youngsters between five and nine years of age.

A LABOR DAY PRAYER
 By Ruth Taylor

On this day consecrated to the workers of the nation, we come before Thee, O Lord with humble hearts. We are all of us workers in the vineyard of the Lord. Give us strength for service to our fellow men.

Let us not feel that our task is too heavy for our abilities and weight down our hearts and our spirits with self pity.

Let us not dodge the burden that is ours, feeling that we are it but the task of the other man, it would be so much lighter. Let us not make excuses as to why we have not fulfilled our allotted work.

But rather let us lean upon Thy power, and Thy strength, relying on Thy promise to carry us through and realizing that our ability cometh only from Thee — and is therefore not limited by the task before us. Help us to understand that the reward of doing one duty is the power to do another. Let us not, when we succeed as workers, be overwhelmed by pride in our possessions, or from vainglorious boastings about our work and our accomplishments. Keep us from hypocrisy, both personal and national.

Help us to feel our responsibility toward our brother worker, that he may live and grow in the sunlight, unafraid and strong in the night. Let us never look with scornful eye upon our fellow worker because he does not work, live or worship as we do. Help us to work to clean our own house, that we may help our neighbors to clean theirs. Keep us from all hatreds, prejudices, resentment — all things that defile.

Help us, O Lord, to always do our best. Our work is for Thee. And let us bless Thy holy name, working and rejoicing as the men, in the silence of the bondsmans, fearful of a master.

Through Thy omnipotent wisdom cometh both the work and the power to work. Let us stand firm where Thou hast placed us. Let us use our strength to honor Thee in all things, and grant that we may finish our course with the work well done, that Thou may say at the end, "Well done, Thou good and faithful servant."

In the name of Him who called us to the vineyard, we ask thee Amen

That the full impact of the war is gradually being felt throughout Berrien county was revealed today when Probate Judge Malcolm Hatfield announced in his monthly report that inheritance taxes amounting to $79,105.81 were computed or paid in August.

During the past thirty days the court closed 37 old deceased estates, opened 35 new deceased estates, discharged nine guardianship estates, appointed six guardians for minors and two guardians for adult incompetents, committed seven insane, one epileptic and two feebleminded cases to state institutions, ordered eight child adoptions confirmed, appointed commissioners on two grants, restored two adults to legal soundness of mind after they had received treatment at the state hospital for the insane, permitted two adults to change their names, approved three notary licenses, and performed one secret marriage.

Safety Factor for Heart
Discussing recently reported investigations which showed little effect on the hearts of normal persons from rigorous participation in various sports, the Journal of the American Medical Association says that "Perhaps it is safe to believe that in the majority of instances the legs or other elements of the musculo-skeletal system would tend to give out before the heart, thereby serving as a factor of safety."

CAN VITAMINS CHANGE GRAY HAIR?

Read the amazing experience of Gray-haired people in Calcium Pantothenate tests: sponsored by Good Housekeeping magazine.
According to this report:
Age—did not seem to affect results. The earliest response occurred in a 50 year old, the latest in a 23 year old.
Color—began to appear near the roots of the hair. The color may re-appear all over the head at the same time. In unpigmented areas, perhaps on the temples or the back of the head, may show traces of color first, after which the color will spread to other parts of the head.
Time—varied from 1 month to 6 months.
Results—88% of those tested had positive evidence of a return of some hair color.
Now thousands use GRAY VITA which contains 10 mgm. of Calcium Pantothenate (the same amount used in tests above) PLUS 450 U. S. P. units of B<sub>12</sub>, the vitamin necessary to healthy nerves. Try GRAY VITA. See what a difference it may make in this way you look 30 days supply, $1.50, 100 day supply $1.00. Phone write.

Forests Provide Revenue

Forests covering about three-fifths of the land area in Sweden have been figured at 1,000 acres per 100 inhabitants, and provide through their products about half the country's revenue from exports. Logs by the million sweep down the rivers to sawmills and wood-working plants in the south. Regrowth of spruce, fir and pine is carefully guarded by the government.

Name Doesn't Prove Thing In Case of Little Family WACO, CALIF. - There is nothing "small" about the Little family or their all-out aid in the war effort. Five of Mr and Mrs. James Little's six sons are already in the services and the other, a horticulturalist at the University of California at Los Angeles, is awaiting his call. In addition, Mr. Little is engaged in war industry, while Mrs. Little raises "food for victory" with the help of a hired man on the family farm in Kern county. Daughter is secretary to a Minter Field army officer.

The Little sons include Keith, a second lieutenant in the army engineer corps, Douglas, an aviation cadet, Kenneth, an ensign in the naval air corps, and Malcolm, of the coast guard.

Lawrence Kline Gets Disability Discharge Lawrence Kline, son of Mr and Mrs Jerry Kline, Sr, of the Band of the River, arrived here last week, accompanied by his wife, to make his home here, having received an honorable discharge from the navy because of disabilities resulting from action. He saw very active service, both in the North Atlantic previous to the entrance of the United States in the war, and later at the Battle of Midway, where his ship, the Destroyer Hamann, was sunk under him. This battle has been designated the turning point of the war in the Pacific and perhaps one of the decisive battles of all times.

Kline served in the North Atlantic on the Hammann before Pearl Harbor, conveying cargo ships from Iceland to Russia, Ireland and England. His convoy was attacked a number of times by submarines. Following the battle of Midway Kline was assigned to shore operations on the west coast. Last February he was sent to hospital and remained there until Aug 21 when he was discharged from service. He has received a service pension. He was married Dec 8, 1942, to Deborah Shippae of Spokane, Wash, the ceremony being performed in San Francisco. On his discharge his physicians recommended that he do light work for a time before attempting any heavy labor.

Aviation Cadet George Lauer has been transferred from Glenview, Ill, to the army pre-flight training school at Corpus Christi, Texas. He spent a week with his aunt, Mrs Earl Hartridge, before reporting to his new training station.

Wednesday evening meeting, 7 45 The reading room in the church is open each Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock. "Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Sept 5.

The Golden Text (Psalm 37:37) is, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 21-3), "And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p 76) "The sinless joy, - the perfect harmony and immortality of life, possessing unlimited divine beauty and goodness without a single bodily pleasure or pain, - constitutes the only veritable, indestructible man, whose being is spiritual."

An Epitaph The following beautiful and comforting inscription, appearing on the tombstone of Benjamin Franklin, was written by Franklin himself and indicates the spiritual stature of the man:

The body of Benjamin Franklin, Printer (like the cover of an old book, its contents torn out and stripped of its lettering and gilding), lies here, food for worms. Yet the work itself shall not be lost. For it will (as he believes) appear once more in a new and more beautiful edition, corrected and amended by the Author.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Travel Note. A resident of New Jersey took his beautiful young wife and seven-year-old son to Newark and placed them on a train bound for Chicago where they were to visit. A couple of hours later, when he was about to sit down to a lonely dinner, he received a telegram that had been filed by his wife in Philadelphia. It read "Everything all right just hang onto the tickets." The message left him at a complete loss until he happened to reach into his pocket. Then he found that instead of giving the Pullman and railroad transportation to his wife, he had kept it. Despite the reassuring wire he was much worried until he received another telegram. It seems that when the wife discovered she was ticketless, she began to cry and the gallant conductor, moved by the tears in her lovely eyes, fixed everything up, the husband merely having to go back to the station, and deposit the tickets.

Bargain. In the days of the great financial madness, a Wall street broker riding the crest of the wave, bought an estate on Long Island. Having acquired it, he spent approximately a quarter of a million dollars fixing it up for his wife's pleasure. The well-known crash left him flat on his back so far as finances were concerned. His wife cast him aside and finally reached a point where he is living in a furnished room. The other day he encountered a financial writer whom he had known well in flush days. The broker informed his friend that he would sell the Long Island show place, closed for some time, for a mere $25,000. The friend, interested, asked him how much it cost him to keep it closed. The reply was $30,000 a year for caretakers and other expenses. No sale.

Nip Truck Arthur Szyk, the artist who is a regular one-man army blasting at the Axis with his cartoons in color and black and white, has come into possession of one of the terror leaflets shivered down by Jap fliers on our brave defenders of Bataan. It depicts Death, in skeleton form, dressed in a Nazi uniform strutting amid the destruction and desolation he is creating. The pyroist is that the Japanese cartoonist, who headed his drawing, "SURRENDER before it is too late," copied the figure exactly from a drawing by Szyk which appeared in his book of cartoons, entitled "The New Order," published in 1941. Some copycats, those Japs.

Guarantee. Ethel Smith, lovely young exponent of Latin-American music on the Hammond organ, at dinner at Dinty Moore's the other evening, was telling Spencer Tracy and Ralph Bellamy of her recent trip home from Rio through submarine infested waters. She was frightened the whole voyage she admitted the competency of the life-saving drills gave her some confidence. At that point, their waiter, apologizing for the intrusion, addressed Miss Smith. She recognized him as the ship's bartender who had been in charge of her lifeboat and who had assured her that he would personally look after her safety. For that, she thanked him and then declared "Boy, was I glad to get on dry land... you see, I can't swim!"

This & That Dept. Glad to know that Albert E. Mizrah, once a New Yorker but now a private in the army air corps, stationed at Miami Beach, Fla., is a regular reader of this department. His fiancée, Miss Eva Steinhart, Detroit, sends him clips. A local intellectual claims he has devised a fool-proof plan for eliminating Hitler at long range. "Don't ask how - ordinary mortals like you and me wouldn't understand." But it seems that it has something to do with a powerful poison transmitted by wireless.

A little music shop at 47th street and 7th avenue advertises "Heavenly trombone - blows outta this world."

End Peeper. For years, Lucille and Eddie Roberts, who scored a hit at their Rainbow Room debut a few months back, worked to improve their magic act. They succeeded by adding the part where Lucille, blindfolded, does an amazing bit of "mind reading" in which she calls out names, addresses, thoughts, etc. Now the Roberts, having cancelled all engagements, are traveling with an special USO unit playing southern army camps. But though it's the best part of their act, they must omit the mind-reading skit because military officials are afraid they might read the mind of an officer or soldier entrusted with a military secret.

Mail Christmas Gifts Overseas

Sept. 15 - Oct. 15

Packages Mailed After Oct. 15 Not to be Sent Without a Written Plea From Service Man

The Christmas shopping season is here—even though the weather is still warm.

Mailing of gifts for army and navy personnel overseas must begin by September 15, if many of the men and women in our armed services are not to be disappointed, and September 15 is less than a month away.

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post to army men and women overseas only between September 15 and October 15. After the latter date, such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ask for a Christmas gift, so gifts must be mailed on time. The navy also urges that gifts be mailed between September 15 and October 15.

Reasons for the early mailing dates are the vast distances that the parcels must travel to reach our men at war fronts and stations the world over, frequent transfers of thousands of men from one location to another, which means forwarding of the mail and consumes additional time; the necessity for giving preference to reinforcements, arms, munitions, medicine and food in allotment of shipping space, which often means that the shipments of gifts must wait. And it is most urgent that gifts be delivered to the men in time for Christmas, to keep their spirits high.

The only way to insure against disappointment for the fighting men is to buy at once and mail early—mail your gifts as soon as possible after the September 15 starting date.

Those who have relatives or friends in the service should remember that we have fighting men in Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, England, Sicily, far-separated regions of Africa, the Near Eastern countries, Australia, many of the South Pacific islands, India, China, South America, and other areas.

Weeks are required for a ship to reach many of these stations. There can be no assurance, of course, that the first ship sailing for any of these locations will have space available to carry Christmas parcels. Gifts may have to wait until vitally needed supplies and equipment have been shipped, to assure victory and to save the lives of our men. If the parcels are not mailed early, that delay may prove to be just enough to prevent their arrival by Christmas day, with consequent disappointment to the men who are offering their lives for their country and ours.

Mail of all kinds is vital to the spirit of fighting men. Every officer who has inspected our army and navy postal facilities overseas has reported that thousands of fighting men disregard mess call when it conflicts with mail call, and get their letters first. Officers at our large military and naval stations report that the spirit and efficiency of their men receive a distinct lift when mail is distributed, and that a delay in mail service caused a decided decline in spirit with a consequent letdown in efficiency.

A desolate soldier or sailor who thinks he has been forgotten at Christmas obviously is not at his best. So the gifts must be mailed on time so that they can arrive on time.

Rules for Christmas mailings to the fighting forces overseas were made public in June for the guidance of early shoppers. They include:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 16 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas parcel" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

The parcel must be well and strongly packed, in a container of metal, wood, strong fiber board, or similar material, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. The cover should be such that it can be opened readily in censorship. The contents should be packed tightly.

Perishable goods, such as fruits that may spoil, are prohibited. Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel, or damage other packages.

(Since the armed forces are being plentifully supplied with food and clothing, the army and navy recommend against these gifts.)

Addresses must be written clearly and completely. In addition to the return address of the sender, a parcel for an army man should show the name, rank, army serial number, branch of service, organization, army post office number, and name of post office through which the parcel is routed. A typical address for an army man: Private John R. Doe (Army serial number) Company F, 167th Infantry A. P. O. 810, c/o Postmaster New York, N. Y.

The address on a parcel for a navy man should include the name and rank or rating of the addressee, the naval unit to which he is assigned and the navy number assigned thereto, or the name of his ship, and the fleet post office through which the parcel is routed. A typical navy address: John M. Jones, Seaman first class, U. S. Navy Naval Air Station Navy 199 (one nine nine) c/o Fleet Post Office San Francisco, Calif.

or Lieutenant Roger W. Doe, U. S. Navy U. S. S. Minnesota c/o Fleet Post Office San Francisco, Calif.

Device Rescues Bomb Victims

Quickly Locates Fragments Of Metal in Body of Wounded Man.

NEW YORK—The scene is a U. S. army hospital "somewhere in the southwest Pacific." Enemy bombers have just been over in force, says Universal Service Casualties. Many surgeons and nurses are working with cool, desperate haste over the more seriously wounded.

On the operating table, mercifully unconscious, is a young enlisted man. Jagged fragments of a Jap bomb have plowed into his chest, neck and shoulder. Chunks of metal are embedded inches deep in his tissues, dangerously close to vital organs and arteries.

The surgeon knows they must come out—at once—if the wounded man is to live. But how? They cannot be located by an ordinary metal surgical probe. Nor is there time for X-ray photos.

Through the gauze mask that covers his nose and mouth, the surgeon speaks:

"The locator, Nurse!"

A nurse quickly places a small box, looking much like a portable radio receiver, on a stand beside the operating table.

The surgeon picks up a metal rod connected with the box by a wire.

Finds Object.
He passes the point along the patient's back. A needle on a dial on the face of the box rises—fluctuates—comes to a halt. The doctor makes a pencil mark on the patient's skin at that point.

Then, with a scalpel, he deftly lays open skin and muscles. As he proceeds, he inserts the locator rod, now covered with a sterile rubber envelope to prevent infection, into the incision to check further on the location of the metal fragment.

Thus, in a few minutes, he reveals the metal in the soldier's spinal column! With a delicate born of years of practice, he withdraws the blackened, sharp-edged piece of steel without injury to the surrounding tissue.

The soldier not only lives, but in a few weeks is back at the front.

He owes his life to the Berman locator, remarkable electro-magnetic foreign body finder, invented by Samuel Berman, 47-year-old veteran of World War I and electrical engineer for New York's subway system.

The locator, all those who have used it or seen it used in the operating room testify, not only finds the foreign body with the utmost precision but does it with the speed essential to saving lives when seconds count.

How does the locator work? In the probe are two finely-wound coils, one at either end. The locator is hooked to a 110-volt alternating current source, and will function with automobile storage batteries if an inverter is employed.

How It Works.
In the locator box are radio tubes for amplifying the exceedingly fine electrical responses Berman explains.

"The locator circuit is accurately balanced so the indicator needle is approximately at zero on the millimeter scale. When the probe approaches an extraneous metal object (such as a foreign body in human tissues) the reaction between the metallic object and the magnetic field surrounding the probe disturbs the original electrical balance of the circuit and the indicator needle rises on the scale in proportion to the degree of unbalance, which, in turn, depends on the composition of the metal, its dimensions and its proximity to the probe.

"As the probe approaches the hidden foreign body, the indicator needle rises and as the probe recedes from the foreign body the indicator needle falls on the scale. By this simple indication, the foreign body is readily located, its exact position being at the point where a maximum meter indication is obtained."

Two Choo-Choos Prove To Be Two Too Many

DES MOINES, IOWA—It's bad enough to have one train hit your car, but two—that's many too many, says I. L. Blackburn, truck driver who escaped damage by a lucky leap.

Blackburn's semi-trailer truck stalled on the tracks. He jumped out when he saw an east-bound passenger train approach. At the same moment a west-bound freight appeared on the horizon. Both trains struck the truck simultaneously.

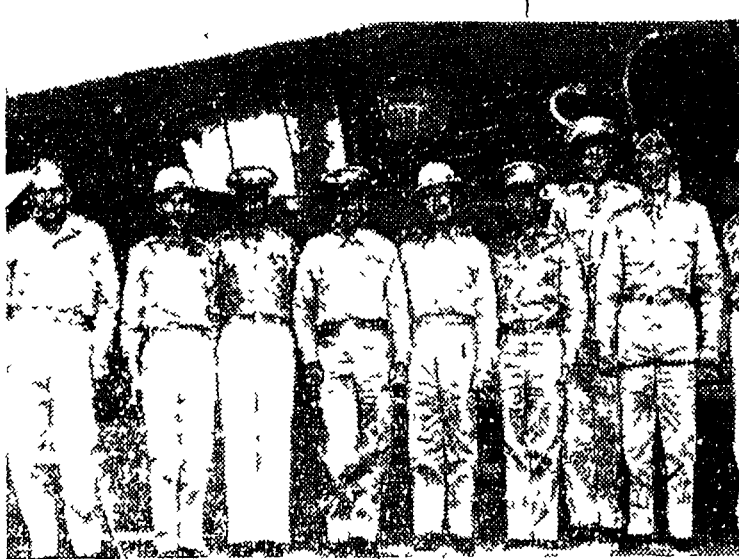

Truck and merchandise were scattered many hundred yards, and passengers on the trains were shaken, but Blackburn escaped without a scratch.

Skips Advice in Vision, Decides to Be Drafted

NEW ORLEANS—Uncle Sam in person proved more persuasive than the Lord in a vision, so Euclid Homer Lous, Negro minister, decided to register for war service.

Louis told R. H. Carter Jr., U. S. commissioner, that because of advice received in a vision from the Lord, he deemed it unwise to comply with the regulations. In the U. S. marshal's office a little later, Louis announced he would comply.

HOLLYWOOD

Super Spy Film Reveals Truth About Berlin!
See what happens when enemies tangle in a maze of sabotage and espionage, and forbidden love! An O-R-A-E—Commander "goes over" to the enemy and falls for a beautiful Nazi! It's the sensational story of the greatest conspiracy in modern history! And it's revealed for the first time with all its breathtaking thrills with — in Columbia's "Appointment in Berlin," showing at the Hollywood theatre Friday and Saturday, Sept. 3-4.

This exciting new screen drama stars George Sanders and Marguerite Chapman, who are splendidly supported by such popular players as Gale Sondergaard, Onslow Stevens and Alec Craig. It was produced by Samuel Bischoff under the direction of Alfred E. Green.

Coral Sea Battle Re-tought in Film
They re-tought the Coral Sea battle for "Air Force," Warner Bros. picture about our air activities in the Pacific war area. On the sidelines could be seen a giant bomber's nose as it approached a Jap battleship. The bomber was the "Many Ann," the Boeing B-17 heroine of "Air Force," the story of its exploits in various engagements in the Pacific area. The picture will be at the Hollywood theatre Sunday and Monday, Sept. 5-6.

Young George Volochati, seaman, first class, United States navy, who was wounded at Midway and happened to be in Hollywood on a such furlough, was a visitor on the set and, naturally enough, was quite absorbed in the proceedings.

It was a very tense scene. The men in the giant Flying Fortress aimed their bombs and released them. The Jap ship was hit and exploded.

After the take, Producer Howard Hawks turned and smiled at George and said, "Tell me, do you

Sings For Yanks In Aleutians
It took the war to convince Frances Langford what a really small place this world is.

Shortly before starting her current Universal picture, "Cowboy In Manhattan," which will be seen at the Hollywood theatre Friday and Saturday, Sept. 3-4, Frances was touring Alaskan army camps, entertaining the soldiers.

At a spot on one of the most distant of the Aleutian islands, there was no building large enough in which to give the show. So, in a pouring rain, Frances stood on a tree stump and sang. Out of a corner of her eye she think we put it over as well as you fellows did out at sea?"

"Well," George laughed, "Your people were a lot more excited than we were. We never have time to get nervous."

Thrills of the Turf In "Harrigan's Kid"

Thrills of the turf and poignant heart interest mingle in "Harrigan's Kid," dramatic story of a young jockey, trained in the shady tricks of the track, who finds regeneration in a new conception of sportsmanship. The picture introduces to the screen a new find from the New York stage in Bobby Readick, young actor who recently scored on Broadway in "George Washington Street Race" and "All in Favor." Much of the picture was filmed at noted race tracks and race horse breeding farms. The film appears at the Hollywood theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 7-8.

'Pearl of Africa'

Stanley, noted African explorer, called Uganda the "pearl of Africa." It is still considered a pearl of productivity. It ranks second in the British empire in cotton production. Sizeable exports in coffee, gold, sugar, hides and skins, tin and tobacco also make Uganda valuable. Ivory once led all exports, but development of plastics cut deeply into the ivory market. Now the protectorate suffers from a surplus of elephants.

Protoge of U. S.

Uncle Sam has long been Liberia's best customer and biggest supplier. Traditionally a protoge of the United States, Liberia was colonized by freed American slaves in 1822. Independence was established in 1847. Government and constitution were based on the forms adopted by the United States. The capital, Monrovia, was named for James Monroe, fifth President of the United States. English is the official language. Beyond the coast towns primitive jungle life is characteristic, with tribal dialects the rule.

Curbs Appetite

To prevent squirrels from eating garden crops, spray the plants with either a solution of 3 ounces of Epsom salts in a gallon of water or one teaspoon of lysol disinfectant in a gallon of water. The repellent will wash off in a heavy rain and must be renewed.

Opal's Colors an Illusion

The brilliant colors of the opal belie the true nature of the stone, which is colorless; they are the effect of a platy structure. This breaks up white light into its component spectral colors in the same way a prism does.

OPA Direct All Lacking Ration Book III on How to Get It

War price and rationing boards are now able to accept applications for war ration book III from those civilians who may not have received the book, the Grand Rapids district office of price administration announced today.

Applicants for babies born since the book was first issued must show proof of the birth by birth certificate, hospital statement, adoption papers or physician's or minister's affidavit. Applicants who claim they received all the books for the family excepting that for the head of the family must fill out a new application. (This type of omission was possible because the application originally required such a person's name twice and many applicants overlooked this requirement.)

Persons who applied and who received none of the books called for on the application or just a part of those applied for must surrender their original stubs and must fill out an affidavit attesting to the facts in addition to filling out another application blank.

Ration boards do not have copies of Book III on hand. Distribution will be handled through state mailing centers after receipt of applications forwarded to them by the local boards.

The late Edsel Ford persuaded his father to abandon the old model T car for one with a conventional gear shift, he developed the Ford company's Mercury model; later he took an "energetic" part in the World War II conversion of the company to a producer of vast amounts of war material—four-engine bombing planes, aviation engines, tanks, jeeps, amphibious jeeps, anti-tank units.

The colonel's "kids" had come upon a broken-down French tank, abandoned before the Yanks reached North Africa. They were told it would never run again.

That was a dare to boys who loved machinery. They worked on the old tank until it grunted and lurched across the field!

The story of "those doggoned kids" is true—and so is its peculiarly American moral.

The boys sweated those extra hours, not at bayonet point, but freely—for fun and satisfaction. They saw a job to do, rolled up their sleeves, and pitched in! Call that "free enterprise," call it American initiative. Whatever you call it—it made America grow!

And that same spirit built America's electric companies. Many of the business men who manage them today were linemen, clerks, meter readers. Ordinary folks who saw a job to do, rolled up their sleeves, pitched in. . .

Result? Better service at lower prices than ever before! The average American family gets just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago. And, at the same time—

These companies under experienced business management are supplying over 80 per cent of America's wealth of electric power! Power for war production. Far more power than in all the Axis countries combined!

Big War Show to Start at 2 P. M.

Clark Equipment and Buchanan Steel Corp. Products to be on Exhibit

A free military demonstration, the army salute to agriculture, industry and labor, will be shown at Niles today (Thursday).

Soldiers are to arrive in a motor convoy carrying them on a tactical training mission which will provide a program of education and entertainment for residents of Berrien county.

The task force will erect a tent city where the soldiers will live, provide an exhibition of modern weapons of mobile warfare, give a brief program of entertainment, exhibitions of various army drills, realistic sham battle and conclude the program with a retreat review.

The display of vehicles and weapons will be open from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m., on 4th, between Main and Sycamore.

The parade, to be led by the visiting army units, will start at 5 p. m. and the line of march will be from intersection of St. Joe and W. Main, going east on Main to Oak and east on Oak to show grounds.

The sham battle and short entertainment program will begin at 6 p. m. at 17th and Oak.

Units of the task force on a field problem involving travel through Michigan are the 792nd military police battalion, under command of Major Clyde C. Hodge, which was assigned to Camp River Rouge near Detroit at the time plans for the army salute caravan were made, but now is stationed at Camp Waterloo near Jackson, Mich., units of the 20th armored division from Camp Campbell, Ky., commanded by Captain J. J. Scanlan, and a small party of entertainers in Khaki.

The 792nd M. P. battalion will be accompanied by the 728th M. P. battalion band from Camp River Rouge because it has no band of its own. In the armored forces detachment are two 33-ton medium "General Sherman" tanks, two of the light "Honey" tanks, an amphibious jeep called a "Seep" and heavy trucks and trailers to carry the tanks between cities visited by the army salute caravan, and other vehicles.

Civilians are invited to inspect the army equipment, take pictures and have specially trained soldiers give explanations. There will be no admission charge nor "Hands Off" signs. One of the purposes of the caravan is to acquaint people on the home front with the equipment of their army.

The entertainment program at Niles on Sept. 2 will be opened with a concert by the military police battalion band under the baton of Staff Sergeant Lawrence (Larry) Fogelberg.

Musical numbers will be provided by Pvt. Harry E. Mumma of Chicago, bass singer known professionally as Michael Stewart, to radio listeners because of his national network broadcasts; Junior Leader Corp. Verna Nelson, What Cheer, Iowa, singing member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill., who was with the St. Paul Opera company, Pfc. William H. (Red) Hodgson, cornetist and co-writer of "Music Goes Round and Round," who presents novelty numbers, and Corp. Carmen DeGudice who does clarinet specialties.

At Lakeside, Morgridge of Niles will present the army officer who will be master of ceremonies. Representatives of agriculture, industry and labor will be introduced. An officer from the army air forces will give a two-minute talk. Chaplain Harry C. Rickard will give the invocation. Chaplain Rickard replaces Chaplain Samuel E. Tempin, originally scheduled to be with the army salute caravan, who was assigned to Buchanan.

Two wounded soldiers, back in the United States recuperating after hospitalization following overseas service, will give brief messages to farmers and workers who are backing up their comrades in combat zones.

In addition to Leader Nelson, WAACs on the program will be Third Officer (Second Lieutenant) Margaret Moore of Lancaster, Pa. and Leader (Sergeant) Mary Jane MacGuire of Detroit. These three WAACs will present a brief skit.

There will be exhibitions of army drill, including a race over a portable obstacle course. The sham battle, involving tanks, land mines, aerial bombs and artillery fire, will be described over a signal corps public address system by Lt. Charles G. Chan, who formerly was an announcer for a radio network in New York City.

The task force will say good night to the flag with a solemn retreat ceremony which includes a parade. An outstanding feature of the event from the point of view of Buchananites will be the presence in the reviewing stand in front of the high school on Main street and at the camp ground first. The sham battle will be staged by Henry Rosenthal, employe in the Clark foundry. He represents the CIO section of labor, having been accorded that honor because he has five sons in service, three in the United States, one in England, and one in Australia.

The A. F. of L. section of labor will be represented by Joseph Cain of the Niles Kawneer plant, who was selected because he had lost one son in U. S. navy service and has another son in that branch. Agriculture will be represented in each stand by Claude Haslett, and industry management will be represented by Richard Nugent, president of the Round Oak company of Dowagiac. Other guests in the stands will be Brigadier General J. P. Hopkins, now retired and living at Cassopolis, and Lieut. Colonel Joseph Merek of Sawyer.

Major Wayne King, former well-known dance band leader, will be master of ceremonies at the show which starts at 6 p. m. at the camp grounds on M-60. It is emphasized that the show, the exhibit and all other events will be open to the public without charge. The public is invited to feel free to ask questions, to handle all the devices and equipment and work the gadgets, to climb over the tanks, and to learn as much as possible.

A party of fifty of the soldiers in the demonstrating unit will visit the Clark plant from 2 to 4 p. m. today. They will be divided into ten parties of five each and each will be assigned a guide who will take them through all departments, explaining the war production program here.

A party of five will also visit the plant of the Buchanan Steel corporation. A General Sherman tank, famed for its sterling service in the North Africa campaign will be on display from noon until 1 p. m. today at the axle parking lot.

There will be fair trucks and equipment on display in both the exhibit and in the parade. Among the farmers exhibiting will be Stewart Batterson of Buchanan, who will have a tractor and corn picker, and Paul DeWitt, who will have a tractor and hay baler.

The Clark Equipment company will have an extensive exhibit representing practically all of their war production, which will also be represented in the parade. The Buchanan Steel corporation will have a representation of a number of parts for war equipment made at the local plant. Shop employes from both local plants are invited to be present in the parade.

Each twenty-five dollar war bond purchase allows the purchaser one ticket for the drawing if bought previous to the drawing, from Sept. 1 to the day of the fair either at the post office, bank or at the fair grounds.

Admission to the fair is 25 cents. Breadingmakin' Fun. Breadingmakin' is fun and is much like gardening. That is, one carefully prepares the "groundwork," distributes seeds or plants, and keeps them warm and moist.

Elder and Mrs. Forrest E. Myers of Mishawaka and Mr and Mrs. E. J. Hayden of Benton Harbor were guests Sunday of Elder and Mrs. V. Lee Coonfae.

Sweden's Factories Distributed. Sweden's 19,000 factories are well distributed. Peacetime payrolls included about 416,000 workers. Craftsmanship has held its own with mass production. Other specialties are cream separators, ball bearings, telephone equipment, motors, electrical devices and porcelain.
