

ARMY, NAVY TESTS AT B. H. S. APRIL 2

County Federation of Women's Clubs Holds Convention Here Today

Recent Grads and Seniors Are Eligible

Now Here's the Proposition

One of the queerest things in this life is how little money it takes to make big fools

It's sure been a hard winter in January it froze the peaches, in February it froze all the canned goods, in March it froze the butter and in April it will freeze the labor supply

Sandy's Specials In Clark Equipment's casting mill The gliding cranes are never still And there in Sandy's furnace pot The soup is always getting hot He throws an iron bedstead in, A flock of pigs, a coupling pin, A little sand, a little rock, And this and that goes in the crock And there it boils and seethes about Till you can gosh — what stuff comes out!

And in that place where flame flowers bloom They got a paint and powder room Where, when the eight hour shift is up, The boys go up and pretty up, Put on their neckties and their tails And polish up their finger nails, And hang their work duds on the line And yell, "Hi, bud, how do I look? Have I got this here tie on straight? So long, I got a heavy date," Which is just fine for boys that make The soup for Adolph's belly ache

On Bond Buying I don't want to tell anyone else what to do with his money. This is a note to myself What do you mean, Walking around in Nylons without runs, When MacArthur needs guns? You've killed a lot of people, Scherf, But what have you done To hustle Adolph under the turf? Oh! you bought some 10-cent stamms? Well, well. An occasional dime Isn't going to reconstruct a griddle For Goering's middle You'd better fork over to your Uncle Sam, Or you'll be sitting in the Nazi stables Writing publicity for Goebbels —Margaret Scherf

Aliens to Enroll in Americanization Classes at H. S. Guerrillas to Reorganize to Get Official OK

The county-wide maneuvers of all Berrien County Guerrilla bands which was to take place at Sodus on Sunday evening, March 23, has been postponed until Sunday, April 11, it was announced today by Probate Judge Malcolm Hatfield.

The two week adjournment was necessary, Judge Hatfield stated in order that the Guerrillas might have time to comply with a new plan which was submitted by Coordinator Leslie Simpson at Monday night's meeting of the Berrien County Council of Civilian Defense for inclusion of the Guerrillas in civilian defense.

Judge Hatfield added that he not only wholeheartedly accepted the new proposal of Coordinator Simpson on behalf of the Guerrillas but that it was endorsed by all members of the Berrien County Council of Civilian Defense including John Benson, Floyd Morley and Arthur Simpson Sheriff Al Hastings, Prosecuting Attorney Karl Zick, Chairman Harry King of the board of supervisors and ex-coordinator Worth Jean, Jr. were also present at Monday night's meeting

Y. C. Makes Plans For Tournament in Table Tennis

Committees Work on Book Keeping, Maintenance

With 40 young people signed up for the Youth Council achievement program for YC emblems, work continues on the lesson programs

A table tennis tournament has been scheduled for the nights of April 8, 9, 10 Miss Maude Slate, supervisor, will take entries. The set-up for the tournament is being arranged by Miss Slate, with the aid of Miss Margaret Quinlan, coach Winners of places in this tournament will be entitled to represent the local youth council in matches with outside teams It is hoped that matches with Dowagiac or Niles teams may be arranged for the open meeting to be held in middle April, at a date not definitely decided

Lesson schedules are as follows: Table Tennis, Tuesday evenings, Craig Robinson; Wednesday evenings, Cynthia Johnson, Thursday evening, Margaret Quinlan

Badminton, Tuesday and Thursday evening by Margaret Quinlan, Pool, Tuesday and Thursday evening, by Warren Vergil

Spencer Gibbs has assumed charge of maintenance of pool tables. A committee is to be named to cover maintenance of all game equipment. Miss Doris Buller met Monday afternoon with Miss L. Quade of the Buchanan high school to set up forms for book keeping on costs of all installations at the recreation room and on current maintenance costs. The committee includes Barbara Zoleman, Winifred Anderson, George Snodgrass and Dale Fuller The committee is at work on ascertaining first costs. Because three months have elapsed since the set-up, some accounts are difficult to break down but it is hoped that costs of each game set-up and of general installations and equipment may be closely approximated

Special honorable mention for the week goes to two ninth grade girls, who thoroughly cleaned up both laboratories at their own initiative

Grace Church to Help Buy Dog For Blind Evangelist

Bad weather conditions, labor shortages or other factors could change the bright April prospects overnight," Baum said, "but it appears now that there will be increased supplies of fruits and vegetables for the home front next month"

7 Days Left To Complete Quota

Mrs. J. C. Strayer, Chairman, Asks For Special Effort to Raise Remaining Sum

With a week remaining to raise the quota of $3,500 for Buchanan by March 31, Mrs J C Strayer reported a total of $2,601.88 raised by yesterday noon, or nearly $900 under the goal

Mrs Strayer requested that people of the rural sections be informed that if they had money to give, but had no way to bring it, they should notify her by post-card at once and some one would come after the funds

She stated also that if a household canvass were deemed necessary, such a canvass might be made if volunteer workers were forthcoming

The committee working on the Buchanan Service Map at Buchanan public library, now has over 400 names on the list and nearly as many pins on the map Not all these men went from Buchanan but all had lived here and are known here Buchanan people might be freer with their money if they would bear in mind that their own relatives and friends are potential beneficiaries of the Red Cross Fund In other words, they are going their part in the field and now the folks at home are called on to give $3,500 to provide them with the life-and-death essentials in an emergency Are we going to short-change them by failing to take full care of our own by failing to raise the full amount? After all, close to 200 of them read the Record.

Increased Supply of Fresh Produce Due by Mid-April

End of Temporary Shortage of Fruits, Vegetables for Civilians Seen by A & P Experts

Point rationing combined with inclement weather and other factors has created a temporary shortage of most fresh fruits and vegetables, the nation's largest buyer of fresh produce reported today

"However, large supplies of fruits and vegetables, which should be adequate enough for the increased civilian demand, should become available the middle of April," Harvey A Baum, vice president and general manager of the A & P Tea Company's produce-buying affiliate, the Atlantic Commission Company, predicted "Some of Florida's late crop of vegetables will be on the market then and other growing areas also will begin harvesting in volume, barring unforeseen events"

Housewives increased their purchases of fresh fruits and vegetables approximately ten per cent during the first two weeks of point rationing of canned foods, Baum estimated on the basis of his company's movement of fresh produce to A & P stores Demand for produce in the food chain's stores increased by 232 freight carloads from March 1 to March 13, he added

Baum said his company's field buying offices in the nation's major growing areas reported this week, increased demand, coupled with unfavorable weather conditions which destroyed a large part of Florida's early vegetable crop, had helped create a temporary shortage. He listed other factors contributing to the smaller supply as labor shortages in some areas, transportation difficulties, and the increasing amounts of fruits and vegetables needed by the rapidly-expanding armed forces

"Bad weather conditions, labor shortages or other factors could change the bright April prospects overnight," Baum said, "but it appears now that there will be increased supplies of fruits and vegetables for the home front next month"

Oranges and carrots are the principal items of fresh produce available in heavy quantities to the nation's housewives this week, Baum reported Fair supplies of grapefruit from Texas and Florida and lettuce from California, Florida and Arizona are on the market also. New England apples are available in large quantities in the northeast while a good supply of northwestern apples also is in the market. Moderate supplies of onions,

Turns Out Record Quota War Work

Last week the Record was informed by a local Red Cross worker that there was a woman on Liberty Heights who had a work record worthy of mention We called on the lady, Mrs Fred Harman, at her home at 215 Sylvan ave. After some persuasion, including the plea that her boy in service would like to read about it,—we finally got the following partial list of work she had produced Knitted 36 sweaters, two scarfs, one helmet, sewed 20 child's sleepers, 17 night gowns, 30 shirts

All this was done directly as part of the Red Cross program, during two months in which she spent three hours a day two days a week at the Red Cross sewing headquarters at the Presbyterian church In addition she has done a great deal of work outside, including seven sweaters sent to as many boys in different places in the United States and in Alaska and Australia

Maroons Lose to B. Harbor in Tournament

Coach Van Ryzin Issues Call For Spring Track Work

By Jack Green The Benton Harbor Tigers administered a stinging 56 to 32 defeat to the Buchanan Bucks Friday night in the semi-finals of the class "B" tournament and then went on from there to win the final from Niles 52 to 23

Buchanan fans can indirectly lay the blame for the Bucks' defeat on Hitler If the paperhanger hadn't picked on Uncle Sam the United States wouldn't be at war and therefore the state tournament would have been run off as usual and if the state tournament had been played Buchanan would not have had to play Benton Harbor as the Tigers would have played in the class "A" bracket

Buchanan was very much in the ball game in the first quarter trailing 10 to 7 Buchanan with a free throw and "Zook" Trapp with a basket from side court opened the scoring for the Bucks, followed by Topash with a two-handed long and a free throw and Snodgrass credited with a free throw

In the second quarter, after Pete Dretzler missed two free shots, Trapp, J B Anderson, Topash and Snodgrass made baskets along with Buchanan's second gift toss to bring Buchanan's half-time total to 16 while Benton Harbor collected 28 points

The Tigers kept right on running away from the Bucks in the third period outscoring them 15 to 10 Dretzler with two beautiful left handed push shots later followed by Topash with a one-hander and Snodgrass scored for the Maroons points which left them still trailing 26 to 43

In the final period Topash swished in two buckets and Dick Snodgrass a free throw for all of Buchanan's points Standard bearers for what charge Buchanan had Friday night was Topash and Snodgrass offensively, Topash with 13 points and Snodgrass with 6, and Trapp and Dretzler defensively

Coach VanRyzin has issued a call for boys who are going out for track to come out now.

Hold Box Social To Buy War Bond

District No 1 of the Berrien County Jr Farm Bureau will sponsor an old fashioned lunch box social on March 26 at 8:00 p. m. C.W.T., at the Bertrand "Twp" hall located two miles south of Buchanan on the Portage rd Entrance will be provided

The proceeds from this box social will be used to apply on the $10,000 war bond, which the state office is buying. The farmers and Senior Farm Bureau members of Berrien county have cooperated very well with the Junior Farm Bureau, and as a result the juniors have sent a check for $1,000.00 through March 31

The Senior Farm Bureau, however, have challenged the juniors that if they raise a total of $1,200.00 they in turn will give the juniors a check for an additional $100.00 to be used for this cause. As a result of this challenge the southern group of the Berrien County Junior Farm Bureau are sponsoring a lunch box social as a means of raising the extra money. While this money is being used by the state organization to buy the bond, upon maturity the money will be turned back to the county to be used for the benefit of rural youth

Everyone is invited to participate in an evening of old fashioned fun and at the same time contribute to a worthy cause.

Sees Launching of U. S. Destroyer

Principal Bailey and Miss Quade to Supervise

Application blanks for the qualifying tests on Friday, April 2, for the army specialized training program and the navy college training program are now available at office in Buchanan High school, Pierre Bailey announced today

Properly filled out, these applications will admit qualified seventh school seniors or recent graduates to the tests Each applicant may indicate on his blank whether he prefers the army, or the navy which includes the marine corps and coast guard

Prin. Pierre Bailey and Miss Lucille Quade, commercial instructor at Buchanan will serve as supervisors for the qualifying examinations to be given on Friday, April 2, for the army specialized training program and the navy college training program

Students desiring to take these tests leading to college work at institutions under contract to the army and navy may make application for them through the principal's office Successful candidates will be enlisted or inducted into the army or the navy and sent to college at the expense of the respective service Students selected for the army program must undergo further screening during thirteen weeks of basic military training before they are finally qualified for college attendance

The new plan provides for the examination of all male students who have attained the seventeenth and have not reached their twenty-second birthdays by July 1, 1943, and who have graduated or are expected to graduate from secondary schools prior to that date. It is designed to provide information useful to the armed forces in—

(a) selecting students for college training under the Army Specialized Training Program,

(b) classifying all others in respect to relative trainability.

The purpose of the Army Specialized Training Program is to train, at the college level, men in technical and professional skills required by the army Engineers of all types, doctors, psychologists, linguists, physicists, mathematicians and students of foreign areas are needed in large numbers, and the army has established this program in those colleges and universities where such training can best be given

The eligibility of an individual for the Army Specialized Training program is not fully established until he has successfully completed the normal twelve or thirteen weeks of basic military training immediately following his induction into the army Success on the proposed test, however, will provide the candidate with a certificate of qualification which, upon presentation at the time of voluntary or regular induction, will assure his assignment to a replacement training center as a potential Army Specialized Training program trainee. If it is then determined that he is potential officer candidate material, he will be assigned to an army specialized training unit as an enlisted man on active duty, receiving the pay of a private seventh grade, to pursue a curriculum of study for which he has shown himself qualified Individual choice of curriculum will be given serious consideration, although the army will assign each candidate to the curriculum for which his aptitudes indicate him best suited

It is requested that the widest possible publicity be given in the school and local community to—

(a) the purpose of the program, (b) the qualifications required of applicants.

(c) the availability of admission forms, (d) the place of administration of the test at 9 a. m. on April 2.

Those students who prefer the navy program should fill out the "Admission and Identification Form for Navy College Training Program Test (V-12)." Those who prefer the army program should fill out the "Admission and Identification Form for Army College Training Program Test (A-12)." Those who have no preference may use either card, noting that they have no preference. In either case, the card properly filled out should be presented by the candidate to the supervisor at the time of the test, 9 a. m. on April 2, 1943.

The supervisor you have already designated will handle the administration of the test to be used for both the army and the navy candidates Please emphasize to him the vital importance of carefully following the instructions sent to him What is judged to be an adequate supply of tests will be sent (Continued on Page 4)

MEET THE MAN WHO HELPED MAKE MICHIGAN HIGHWAYS GREAT

LLOYD B. REID, present State Highway Commissioner, has come up through the ranks of a highway department that has built for Michigan the best road system in the Nation.

As an on-the-job highway engineer and as a key administrative official, Reid has worked on every phase of the ten-year program that has given Michigan motorists 5,000 miles of new roads—made the State second to none in quantity and quality of farm-to-market, recreational and industrial highways — and at less cost to taxpayers than in any previous period.

Under his leadership, expert engineers with years of road building experience can be counted on to continue the tradition of good roads in Michigan.

If you believe in good roads and if you believe in supporting the constructive policy which has brought good roads to Michigan, then vote April 5 to continue Reid, State Highway Commissioner.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I've been meanin' to ask you for the last couple of weeks, Judge, what you think of this prohibition talk that keeps croppin' up every so often."

"I've heard some of it too, Henry, and I feel like this about it..."

"It comes from a comparatively small group of reformers... the same type that plunged us into prohibition during the last war. And, as we all remember, into nearly 14 years of the worst crime and gangsterism this country has ever known. Everybody had all the liquor they wanted only it came from bootleggers at exorbitant prices and the government was deprived of millions and millions of dollars in taxes."

"It seems to me, as I told my Congressman down in Washington last week, that we've got all we can do here at home to help win this war without wasting time arguing about things we know, from sad experience, won't work."

him but if these are insufficient, write the undersigned for more. Please note that the tests are not to be opened until 9 o'clock on April 2 but the quantity of tests sent will be indicated on the sealed envelop of tests.

All male students (subject to the limitations noted in the second paragraph of this letter) should be encouraged to take the test. Those not meeting qualifications for either army or navy college training should complete the army admission form, but the "Signature of School Official" should not be affixed in such cases.

All qualifications previously announced for acceptance into the Navy College Training Program (V-12) continue to apply for the army all male applicants in the following groups are eligible to take the test as army candidates.

(a) High school and preparatory school graduates who will have attained their 17th but have not reached their 22nd birthdays by July 1, 1943, regardless of whether they are now attending college.

(b) High school and preparatory seniors who will be graduated by July 1, 1943, provided they will have attained their 17th, but have not reached their 22nd birthdays by that date.

(c) Students who will have attained their 17th but have not reached their 22nd birthdays by July 1, 1943, who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continuing their education in an accredited college or university.

To be eligible for officer candidate school or the army specialized training program, a man must be morally and physically qualified, and must evidence potential officer qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

Men now enlisted in any branch of the armed services are not eligible to take this test.

The qualifying test will be given on April 2, 1943, at all high schools and colleges in the United States at which there are applicants.

Very truly yours,
Ray G Wood
Regional Director

Co. Church Council Will Give Training in Camp Leadership

The Berrien Council of Churches through its education committee will promote a series of institutes for training in camp leadership during May. The council has also outlined a program of research into the problems of juvenile delinquency in the county.

Committees in both of these fields made their reports of projected work, Thursday, before the monthly meeting of the executive board at the Y M C A at St. Joseph. Four Berrien county organizations, the Y W C A, the Y M C A, the Berrien County C E Union and the Y M H A, were invited to affiliate with the council.

The Rev. Gerald Maggart, of the First Congregational church of St. Joseph heads the education committee which proposes to set up institutes in each of the five areas of the council to train local persons who may desire it, in the varied phases of camp leadership and administration.

These institutes have been planned in anticipation of a full camping season at Camp Warren on Lake Michigan, whose management was taken over by the council during the past year.

The delinquency committee, chaired by Harry Kreider, executive secretary of the Twin City Y M C A, outlined a four-fold program for the next few months in which it will seek to gather complete data on the problems of delinquency in Berrien county, to enlarge and orientate the present personnel of the committee for

Conserv. Dept. Has Pines for School, Community Forests

School and community forests will get all the seedling pines they are able to plant this spring, the forestry division of the conservation department reported today, in announcing liberalization of rules for distribution of planting stock.

Tree planting in state forests has been suspended for the duration, and the distribution policy of the department is being liberalized so available stock may be used for reforestation by other agencies.

Free grants of seedlings formerly were limited to 5,000 for each school or community forest or county and township roadside plantings. Trees now are to be allotted up to the capacity of the cooperating agencies to use them.

Further modification of the rules, permitting planting of tree stock on lands held by any public agency, such as a Kiwanis club or chamber of commerce, as well as upon government-owned lands, will make the little pines available for planting of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and similar youth agencies.

This availability of planting stock coincides with a nation-wide Boy Scout tree planting campaign.

Conditions under which trees are available for private reforestation projects are the same as in previous years. They are sold for reforestation only, at the approximate cost of production and packing. Prices range from $2 a thousand for jack pine seedlings, and $4 a thousand for white and red pine seedlings up to $750 a thousand for white and red pine transplants.

The conservation department's forestry division is urging that spring tree orders be placed now for delivery shortly after the frost leaves the ground at Higgins Lake nursery in April.

Secret Service Warns of Theft of Govt. Checks

Checks Sent to Service Men's Dependents Fertile Field for Forgery

The United States Secret Service is conducting a "Know Your Endorser" educational campaign, and is urging the public to be on guard against the theft and forgery of government checks, warning that the issuance of thousands of checks to service men's dependents are being mailed monthly.

As a part of a national "Know Your Endorser" campaign, merchants, bankers and others are being asked to cooperate in the cashing of government checks, and in this connection the Secret Service is issuing an advisory commercial checks, urging that you have all checks endorsed in your presence.

Merchants are requested to follow the following procedure when they cash a commercial or government check:

1. Have customer endorse check in your presence.
2. Demand absolute and positive identification.
3. Write on back of check type of identification presented.
4. If person accepting check should OK the endorsement with their initials.

To Safeguard proper delivery of your check:

1. Paint your name plainly on the mailbox — even if you are living with another family and "in care of John Doe" has been given as part of the address.
2. Write the postmaster of the city where you used to live if you've recently moved, or write to your present postmaster if you've moved to another part of the same city, giving both old and new address with a request to forward the check.
3. Immediately advise the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (either Allotment or Family Allowance Division—or both), Navy Department, Washington, D. C., or the Office of Dependency Benefits, War Department, 213 Washington st., Newark, N. J., of any change of address.

Ask the postman to notify you when checks are delivered — by blowing his whistle or ringing the bell a certain way each time he delivers the familiar government envelope.

5. Endorse your own check — and don't do it at home. Wait till you present it for payment.
6. Cash your check the day it arrives, preferably at the same place each month.

New 'Secret' Road In Alaska Revealed

Gives Anchorage Highway Link With Interior.

PORTAGE, ALASKA — With the vital Alaska railroad cut-off tunnel just broken through and the strategic Alcan highway officially opened, Alaskan army authorities have permitted the announcement of still a third important transportation link in the territory.

The hitherto secret, Glenn highway from Anchorage to the Richardson highway, via Palmer, opens a previously impassable route between the Cugach and Tall, Leena mountains. Cutting through high passes and over swamps, it gives Anchorage its first connection with the interior aside from the Alaska railway.

The highway was constructed in secret and has been in operation for some time. It is known locally as the Chukolnok highway.

Crews working from both ends of the 13,000-foot Alaska railway bore met in the middle almost directly under the center of the glacier-covered mountain. The new tunnel will slash 60 miles from the haul necessary to get supplies from the seacoast to the interior, through elimination of that much twisting road-bed which frequently caused serious trouble in winter.

Major Gen. S. E. Buckner, commander of all troops in Alaska, pulled the switch which set off the final blasts beneath the mountain and asserted as he did so that the tunnel would "prevent the enemy from knocking out the most important piece of transportation in Alaska."

Speakers said the tunnel was the fourth longest in the nation and noted that the construction crews diving from both ends had missed a "perfect" connection by a mere half inch in elevation and an eighth of an inch in line.

One of the good things that comes from the war is the interest in first aid. Everywhere, even in small villages, first aid classes are being formed and the members of the class learn the correct manner of handling the injured.

So widespread is the interest in first aid that our humorists and cartoonists are using it in their strips or columns. I have spoken before of one class in which the young man being treated for a "supposed" broken leg was allowed to fall off the table and really did break his leg in putting him into the ambulance. He was "not pushed far enough forward and the door being forcibly closed struck his head and caused concussion. The humorous comment was that with a few more lessons this class could be sent against the enemy.

A daily cartoon about youngsters shows the little heroine trying first aid methods on youngsters whom her boy friend had damaged in order to give her the necessary cases in which to practice.

As a matter of fact, the first lesson taught by the instructor to a first aid class is that they are not learning to be doctors but to do the right thing until the doctor arrives, thereby preventing complications and saving life. Many physicians, including myself, can testify to the skill and judgment of the members of these classes. I have taught first aid classes and have worked with members of the Red Cross and St. John's Ambulance corps.

My point in writing about first aid is to emphasize the importance of the first lesson given by the first aid instructors which is that what not to do is as important as what to do.

Dr. H. E. McDermott, editor of the Canadian Medical Journal, says: "There is great value in a wide-spread knowledge of first aid methods and there can be nothing but encouragement of the movement. At the same time experience shows that enthusiasm to learn and practice first aid must be kept within proper bounds. The first aider must realize his limits and never exceed them. That is the first and great commandment in his work."

"First aid is largely a combination of physiology and common sense."

Paper Shortage Causes British Curb on Books

LONDON — War has sharpened the appetites of the British for new books. But for the duration the people will have to go hungry, or else be satisfied with the older literary works.

Paper shortage and the bottleneck in the bookbinding trade, due to the shortage of labor, have restricted the output of new books. And many of the established authors are spending their time on war work.

Unknown writers have a slim chance of making names for themselves, because publishers do not dare risk putting valuable paper into a book which might not sell. Even if a new writer should get his book into print, the public probably would not know about it, for there is little space for book reviews in the newspapers.

American books cannot be brought into Britain for resale without import licenses, and those are granted only in cases of medical, technical and educational books.

The result of all this is that there is less writing and more reading in wartime Britain.

Temple Bar in London

The Temple Bar in London was a stone house above which the heads of traitors used to be exposed. It was torn down in 1876.

Egypt's Trees

The principal trees of Egypt are the date palm and sycamore. Many other trees, principally fruit trees, have been introduced there and flourish when sufficient moisture is furnished. There are no forests.

Pillars of Hercules

In ancient geography the two promontories, Calpe (Gibraltar) in Europe and Abyla in Africa, situated at the eastern extremity of the Strait of Gibraltar were called the Pillars of Hercules. They are sentinels, as it were, at the outlet from the Mediterranean into the unknown Atlantic.

Professional Listener

Mrs. J. E. Bishop of San Diego, Calif., has opened a new profession in the field of human endeavor. It is that of professional listener. "Everyone knows it is a relief to tell your troubles to someone," she says. "But you cannot always tell your friends and relatives. Our service permits you to unburden yourself to a stranger. We guarantee absolute secrecy, confidence and offer advice."

Prince Edward Island

Prince Edward island is probably the first part of Canada touched by Jacques Cartier in his voyage to the New world and almost from that time it appears in the early story of Canada. It was first occupied by the French, who have left their mark upon it in the nature of old fortifications and the considerable Acadian population still found on the island.

Dwarf Trees Recain Favor

New and improved root stocks for fruit trees have done much to re-ignite interest in dwarf trees.

Uniforms for Teachers? A Yale professor suggests that teachers be provided with "suitable uniforms or insignia of office" as an inducement to stick to their profession. "The Red Cross has demonstrated the value of the psychological principle involved in such a device," said Prof. Clyde M. Hill, education department head, in an editorial in School Management. The educator said it was natural for teachers to want "to share in the honor we accord all men and women who undertake the more hazardous exploits of war."

distest holes of Africa—killing, suffering, sweating.
 Of course, everyone is now eager to join the armed forces, or to get in a defense plant, or some other war work. These things are necessary. However, there is another duty which the American people have not stressed enough in their minds. It is a duty which is vitally important, for it determines the strength and lasting energy of a nation. This is education. Advancement in studying has been completely forgotten by some people. Boys have no choice, but here's where you girls can take over. Boys below draft age should get all the additional education they can before going into the army. The army will greatly benefit by it. The educated are the leaders, and they are keeping the battle going, holding onto faith and the life of America.

After this war our soldiers will be very tired and exhausted. They will be depending upon the trained, those who have prepared, to rebuild their former way of living. Someone must be ready to take over after these men have fought so gallantly.
 Yes, it is up to us to decide to carry out this duty. It can't be forced on anyone, yet it would be an unwritten red, white, and blue glory to work and strive to further your country. You owe it to your education!

DON'T SPOIL THE LAWN!
 During the months of March and April students insist upon walking across the wet, muddy lawn. Naturally the people don't appreciate this and it's up to each one of us to stop it. Not only will it make our school and town more attractive but will help conserve shoes.

Denny Lyons Visits Journalism Class
 Denny Lyons, a cadet at Howe Military Academy, visited school during his spring vacation. He was glad to be with his school chums again. His studies at Howe are much the same as they were here. They have military discipline at Howe, however, and they don't play with yo-yos. Denny likes military life and returned to Howe Sunday.

Ode to the Kiddies
 The Yo-yo kids are here again, back from their younger years. They also have some rubber balls, those darling little dears. Baby has its rattle, Kiddies have their toys. But nothing beats the yo-yos, brought by the senior boys.

Philip Hawks tuned in an article that was a mess. As the teacher handed it back she said with biting sarcasm: "You are better fed than taught!"
 "Yes'm," replied Philip cheerfully. "I feed myself!"

"Why are you so down-cast?" asked Mr. Sukup. "Don't you feel well, Bert?"
 "No," was the mournful reply. "Well, in that case, you have my permission to see Mrs. Lamb." When Bert had left the room, Mr. Sukup said, somewhat sarcastically, "If anyone else has spring fever, pay the nurse a visit."

News Notes

High Light of My Favorite Books
 by Paul Montgomery
 "Rhodes of the 94th" written by F. N. Litten was about Lieutenant James Rhodes who manages to save three buddies in an experience on an island. This is a story that is based on Selridge Field, so there are many things about Michigan. The story ended by Jimmy being awarded the Cheney Medal.

"Sons of the Admiral" was a story about Christopher Columbus' sons, Diego and Ferdinand, who gain their way up through the Spanish Court, and finally clear their father's name after his death.

Thumbnail Portrait
 Craig Robinson and Arthur Elbers are the only two boys in the graduating class whose fathers are teachers at B. S. Craig is the blonde whose baritone voice can be heard echoing throughout the halls. Craig was born in Long View, Washington, on August 13, 1924. He likes all food except spinach, and his pet peeve is winter. When asked how he felt to have his father as a teacher, he replied, "It's all right as far as I'm concerned. My financial backer is always around when I need him."

 Arthur is a dark haired boy who was born in Holland, Michigan, on Oct. 14, 1925. He has no favorite food, but he does have a favorite bructet. When asked how he felt about his teacher-father, he answered, "I'm resigned to my fate. There are no special advantages, in fact, the advantages equal the number of disadvantages."

Minstrel Program Corrections
 Due to the fact that some of the characters were printed incorrectly in the Minstrel Program and others, in the Record there are two corrections to be made. Donald Bailey took the part of "Sawed Off" in place of John Coleman. The part of "Cornstarch" was played by Lynn Hahn instead of Lynn Trapp as it was printed in the Record. Wanda Lauer, the fifth dancer was unable to be present as she was recovering from the measles—Phyllis Ainsworth.

Band Items
 The intermediate band that was established by selecting scholars from the varsity and junior band has progressed rapidly. It has received a new set of books. A few members have graduated to the varsity.

The Youth Council of this city is having a musical revue to help pay for new music and games.
 Mr. Bailey may do "The Dance of the Flutes," if Phil Hahn sings his version of "Mi Five by Five." Here's hoping it's a success. By the way you will get a twenty-five cent wax stamp or cash for every ten tickets you sell.

Boost Stamp Sales
 Students of H. S. your bond and stamp sales are failing. This slows up victory. It's all right to buy candy bars at that machine but for goodness sake don't be a glutton. The F.F.A. held a meeting March 16. It lasted from 8:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. Refreshments were served afterwards.

Make it your business to write to a service man each week. They want mail to tell them of home. Things happening here may not seem important to you but a boy over there in Africa would be very pleased to receive a little news from Buchanan. When you stop and think what those boys are doing for us we should feel very ashamed not to spend a small part of our time to make one of them happy.

Spring! Ah, spring, this wonderful weather, When we all romp and play together, We see the bikes and roller skates, We hear the robins with their mates, We go on picnics and on hikes, We see the children with their tricks, But with the good there's always

And when it rains it makes us sad, We go inside where we must stay, And play outside another day, Each and every year does bring, A lovely season we call spring.

Grade School News
 Arthur Brown brought some pussy willows to his first grade room last week. They were nice big ones. The children decided to draw them in an art lesson. They learned a poem about pussy willows, too.
 The children in Mrs. Morley's room have decided that spring is here because the robins are here. Jimmie Brown saw some white crocuses on the way to school. The boys are playing marbles, and the girls are roller skating.
 They have fun counting marbles after guessing how many are in the glass jar. They like spring.
 Patsy Kellogg is a new pupil in Miss Fritz' room. She comes from Hartford City, Indiana.
 The boys and girls in Miss Kinney's third grade are very proud of their spelling record for last week. Twenty-one of the twenty-nine children present received perfect scores on their mastery tests. They are, Ella Mae, Elaine, Maurice, Tom, Donald Carbon, Gordon, Betty Clemens, Connie, Catherine, Jeannine, John Housman, Lois, Geraldine, Harry Dolores, Jack, Victor, Dick, Kenneth, Jean and Verda.

The children were very pleased to have so many mothers attend their operetta last week. They want to thank the mothers who were so helpful in making the costumes.

Old Man Mumps has again visited Mrs. Fuller's fourth grade. The latest victims are Edward Hartman, Richard Ravish, Kathryn Fargas, Wilma Seymour, Russell York, and Russell Volkman.

The pupils in Miss Ekstrom's fifth grade are following the early pioneers westward into the interior of North America. The time is about the time of Daniel Boone. Covered wagons are the vehicles of travel for the family and the household equipment.

Miss D Lovell's fifth grade painted and framed pictures that stand on the window sill. These pictures are of the Revolutionary War and the Rocky Mountains. The children had a choice of their subject matter.

Miss B Lovell's sixth grade has read and enjoyed Longfellow's poem "The Village Blacksmith." They are now learning the poem in geography the fifth grade is making maps of Alaska.

 Mrs. Reams' room sold tickets for the "Grade Minstrel Show" and received $21.15 in all. Now we are selling tickets for the "Youth-Council Revue." This show is sponsored by the "Buchanan Faculty-Club." The show will be held in the high school auditorium on April first and second at 8:00 p. m. The admission is 30 cents for adults and for children.

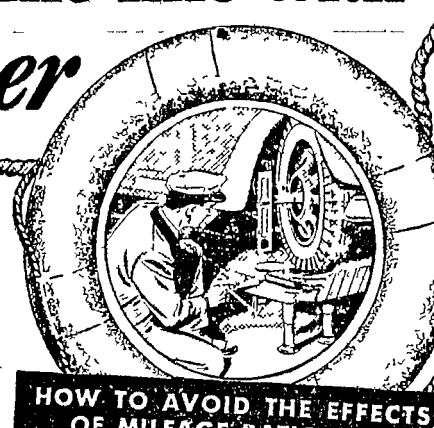

Kenneth Ferris, of Miss Alleshouse's room, seems to be an expert salesman. As a reward for selling $3.00 worth of tickets, he received a complimentary ticket which he sold, making himself 30 cents commission. Kenneth's contribution helped to bring the room's total to $23.20.

What do you think when you read a grade school news report? If you think that someone just sat down and scribbled on a piece of paper, you're mistaken, Miss Alleshouse's sixth graders really work hard on their news reports, but even so, most of them are rejected. However, since the beginning of the present semester, seven people have succeeded in having at least one of their articles published in the paper. These seven are: Edwina Trapp, Pauline Stretch, Charles Ainsworth, Phyllis Ainsworth, Nona Morton, Donna Hellwig, and Wanda Lauer.

Others are also striving to have one of their creations printed in the school news column.
 The children in the second grade are enjoying making chalk drawings of spring flowers for a bulletin board display.
 The children in Mrs. Wilcox's third grade are working on bird houses. We have some twigs in bud in our room, and will watch the leaves come out.
 The children in Miss Kappel's third grade have been reading about food. We have had fun planning a "square meal." We have also enjoyed "popping" out table balloons on the board. Each time we know the answer to a multiplication on the board we "pop" the balloon in which it is found.
 The fourth grade in Miss Gausling's room has been writing spring poetry. We have enjoyed it very much. We have collected all the verse and made it into a book. Lucille Backus made and designed the cover for our "Spring Poetry Book."
 The kindergarten children are interested in drawing houses, spring flowers, boats, and rain. John Topash brought some pussy willows.

HOW TO AVOID THE EFFECTS OF MILEAGE RATIONING
 Don't wait till your car gets in trouble from slower speed and lessened driving. Have your car inspected and lubricated at frequent time intervals instead of mileage intervals. Feel free to consult any Studebaker dealer about car operating problems at any time without obligation.

GANGWAY FOR TANKS.

LOOK up at the transmission lines that crisscross America—then close your eyes and think of them as highways of power that are the very arteries of our industry. Traveling over them is the energy that makes tanks and guns and planes.

The mechanization of warfare has brought about enormous demands for power to build the war machine. Today, in this country, we have five times the power that was available in the last war—it is the greatest power-devouring war in history. During the past year, this Company delivered 370 million horse-power hours to large industries.

As a horse can do the work of ten men, multiply that figure by ten to find the number of man hours that it represents. The power was available because experienced business management had provided wide margins of security in planning its facilities for public service in peace and in war.

Home of Maritime Law Visby, Sweden's "city of roses and ruins" was once a great power in the Hanseatic league and the "Visby Maritime Law" of those days now forms the basis of maritime law in many countries. Oldest Irrigation System The oldest irrigation system in the Western hemisphere is at Mission Espada near San Antonio, Texas, Built by the Franciscan Fathers four centuries ago the system provides water for crops

Canoe of Carib Origin Although the word canoe is used more commonly in America than anywhere else in the world, it is not an American word. It was picked up by Spaniards, according to Sir William Craigie, joint editor of the Oxford dictionary, from the Caribs, taken to Spain, then to France, from which country it was brought to America.

Cape Hatteras Cape Hatteras is a low extent of land on the North Carolina coast, forming a part of a sandbank Here the coastline turns from northeast to due north and severe storms are frequent; so are shipwrecks The first Hatteras lighthouse was built during John Adams' administration This first structure of sandstone, 112 feet high, was completed in 1798 It was located more than a mile from the shore, but the Atlantic kept eroding and eating away the sandy bank that forms the dangerous cape until the old tower had to be abandoned in 1870

Real Pea-Soup Fog Blots Out London Impenetrable Mist Is First Since War Started. LONDON.—The first old-fashioned pea-soup fog since the war started settled down on London recently. It can now be said so impenetrable was it that King George's car took an hour to creep from Buckingham palace to the King's Cross station, normally no more than a 20-minute drive—and it was only done at all with the aid of policemen walking beside the royal car flashing torches. The density of the fog varied in different parts of the city, and the arrival of the blackout time did not make conditions much worse than they were already. The districts blanketed with the thickest fog, whether by day or night, had to clear all traffic from the streets, and even pedestrians had the greatest difficulty in finding the way. There was at least one case wherein ten buses adopted a solution that many individuals found to be the only one, namely, moving forward slowly in a follow-the-leader fashion. Arc lights and kerosene flares were lit up at important intersections during the blackout, pointing boldly skyward. They cast a pale glow that seemed like an oasis in a desert. This correspondent was assigned to explore the trail the full length of Fleet street and out what was going on in the world outside. When the journey began all that could be seen with the aid of a bright flashlight was the sidewalk curb close to one's feet. People passing near could be heard but not seen. Church bells striking at midnight served as buoys out at sea, telling a fogbound strapper his whereabouts.

Mechanized Army Admits Need for Apache Scouts FORT HUACHUCA, ARIZ.—Today's mechanized army still has a job for the Apache scouts, a hold-over from the Indian wars. These rugged sons and grandsons of the tribesmen who made life miserable for pioneer settlers now number only seven in active service. With the fort's strength increased from two regiments to a full division of Negro troops, Col. Edwin N. Hardy, commanding officer, has proposed that the scouts be increased to 30. "Many jobs can be done only on horseback—fencing the fences, keeping cattle out of the reservation, guarding water sources, acting as fire guards and similar duties," he said.

Only Gate's Remains Railings about the parliament and administrative buildings of the Northern Ireland government at Stormont are going for scrap, but the great ornamental gates will be retained. The gates are essential for traffic control, authorities said. Railings are needed more for scrap metal.

Pig Bank Yields Harvest; It Goes for War Bond

KEARNEY, N. J.—Annoyed at how readily he succumbed to the temptation to rob the "piggy" bank in which he saved his silver, Martin Scharloo, a shipyard worker, four years ago conceived the idea for a novel bank. The idea worked, and today Scharloo has a $1,000 war bond, his wife has a $50 fur coat and he has been having a wonderful time with $117 that is left over. Although it combined excavation, plumbing and horticulture, Scharloo's idea is really quite simple. He dug a hole, placed in it a gallon jug. Put a long pipe in the jug through which he could deposit silver dollars and half dollars and then covered up the hole. To conceal the pipe he planted a rose bush on the spot. Recently he discovered his "bank" wouldn't take any more money. He dug it up and found it contained a total of $917.

It Seems Some People Really Never Do Learn

FOLKESTONE, ENGLAND—Britain, which has been a haven for hundreds who have escaped from Europe in small boats, saw an attempt to reverse the story when two British subjects of Italian parentage were arrested for an attempt to cross the channel to France in a 15-foot punt. Lorenzo Ogri, 20, and Nicodemo Vanucci, 18, told police they planned to give themselves up to the first German they met in hope it would lead to their repatriation.

He attended Placer Junior college at Auburn.

Local Boys Use Music Talents In The Service

Harry Frew, Lee Pierce and Robert Russell Are Star Performers

Three Buchanan men now in the nation's armed forces, Lee Pierce, Harry Frew and Robert Russell, are using their musical talents to good effect. Most recent is the report from Lee Pierce, who was one of 200 selected from the Great Lakes Naval Training Chorus to sing before Mme Chiang Kai-shek in Chicago Monday. Sgt. Robert Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Russell, is director of the chapel choir at the army air base at Colorado Springs, Colo. Recently his mother gave the Record a copy of one of the Chapel Hour programs directed by Sgt. Russell. As one of the three soloists, he presented "Comfort Ye My People" from Handel's "The Messiah." Harry Frew, son of Mrs. Louis Proud, has been appointed to direct the camp orchestra at Camp Barkley, Texas. The organization to begin practice as soon as the instruments are assembled it will have 100 members and will be known as the Camp Barclay Symphony Orchestra. It will make a tour of the Texas camps. He is now a member of the army medical corps and is giving lectures on hospital work to new recruits. This job had been held a short time previously by the noted motion picture actor, Lew Ayres, while he was at the camp.

4-H Gardeners Pledged to "Feed A Fighter in '43"

Michigan's rural youth, together with those in other states, are enrolling en masse in the 1943 National 4-H Victory Garden contest to produce adequate supplies of essential vegetables and garden fruits on home plots for their entire family's use. Enrollment in this state jumped from 3,000 in 1941 to roundly 10,000 in 1942, and a still further increase is anticipated this year. One million 4-H Victory Gardens are the 1943 goal. Government officials emphasize that the more food each community grows for its own use, the easier it will be for the country to meet its military needs for garden fruits and vegetables. They also point out that the annual garden product needs of a man in the armed forces, which include 34 pounds of tomatoes, 250 pounds of potatoes, and 168 pounds of leafy green and yellow vegetables, can be produced on plots of 3/10 to 1/2, 1 to 1 1/2, and 2 1/2 to 3 acres, respectively. The primary purpose of the activity is to encourage army 4-Hs to utilize as much space for family gardening as possible, and to plant early and often, throughout the year. As incentives to achieving outstanding gardening records, honor awards are offered by Sears, Roebuck. These recognitions for helping to "Feed a Fighter in 1943" include medals to four county winners, $25 War Savings Bonds to eight champions in each state, and all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago to eight sectional participants, who as national winners will each also receive a $100 War Bond. The contest will be conducted, along with other 4-H wartime projects of production and conservation, under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, State Agricultural Colleges, and County Extension Agents.
