Millage vote April 18

On April 18, the Buchanan Board of Education is calling a special election in which it is asking voters to approve the renewal of last year's additional 2.4 mills for operating expenses. Although the new appraisal of Buchanan's industry indicates that the state equalized valuation for the district will be lower, the board decided not to seek more millage but to work on a budget compatible with the expected decrease in revenue.

For the past two months the board has been working with the administration, with the teachers, with the budget committee and with representative citizens within the district, to determine where necessary budget cuts can be made and to reduce expenditures wherever possible.

Seeking more discussion and advice from the general public, the board is devoting much of its April 11 workshop meeting to discussion of the millage election and is inviting any interested persons to participate. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. at the high school. The superintendent of schools, Dr. Earl Hogan, said he is hopeful the meeting will generate good ideas and a better understanding of the problems facing schools throughout the country. He said that after the public meeting the administration plans to make available more information about the election.

Township Board to study roads

The Buchanan township board is trying out the idea of taping their meetings. Two women attended the meeting, one with her own tape recorder. Between them, they had the floor eleven times with such questions as whether it was legal for people to smoke at the meeting and whether or not it was all right for the clerk to take her notes in pencil.

The board appointed Michigan National Bank and Inter-City Bank as the depositories for their funds. They set their regular meetings for 7:30 p.m. on the first Monday of every month and the second Tuesday after the first Monday. Because their second meeting is the same night as that of the Buchanan plan commission, the board was unable to accept an invitation to meet with that body.

Fire Chief Dick Flenar reported that there had been ten fires during the first quarter of this year. He had prices for first aid kits and spare oxygen bottles, and it was decided to instruct him to get brackets for the bottles. A bill for $3200 was paid from revenue sharing funds to rebuild the tanker.

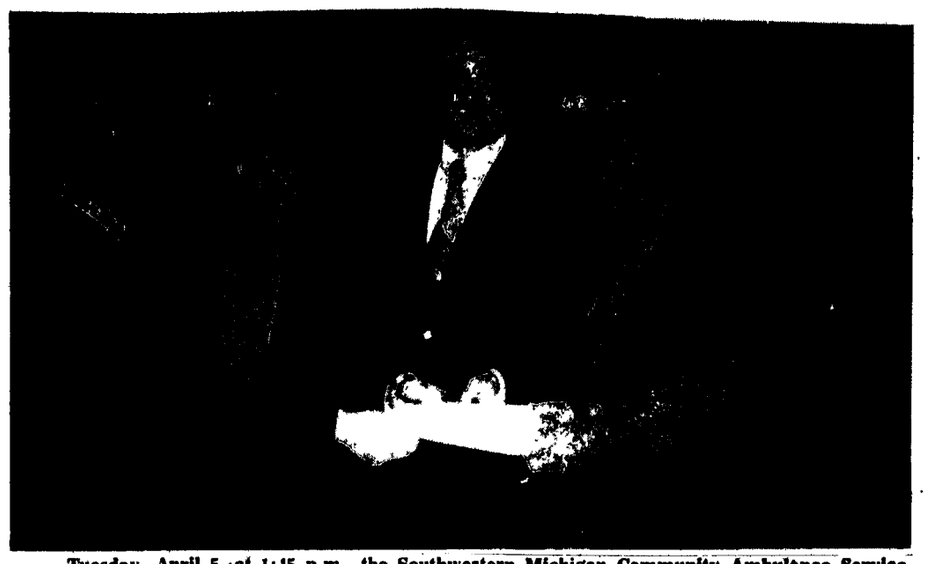
A resident on Andrews Road asked if a 25 mph sign couldn't be put back in the vicinity of the school farm, and she was told that this would be a responsibility of the county.

The board will meet with the county road commissioner Thursday to give suggestions on what roads to fix this spring. They have in mind Elm Valley from Boyle Lake to Wells and Wells from Elm Valley to the Galien-Buchanan Road, and Broceus School Road between Andrews and Reed. A visitor suggested that something should be done with Moccasin Bluff.

Bill McIntosh reported that there had been $270,000 in building permits issued in March, most of that for the Co-ops.

It was voted to exchange tires for the fire truck at the Co-ops to obtain snow tires. It will cost $100.

It was announced that Kellogg Architects of Kalamazoo have been retained for the work on extending the township hall. It will cost $300 for the preliminary work and $2500 for the actual work on the building.



Tuesday, April 5, at 1:45 p.m., the Southwestern Michigan Community Ambulance Service (SMCAS) was presented a check in the amount of $1,000 by the Niles-Buchanan New Car Dealers Association to be used to help finance the construction of the SMCAS's new facility located near the intersection of U.S. 12 and Chicago Road (Business Route 12) just west of Niles.

The Niles-Buchanan New Car Dealers Association is made up of the following member businesses: Lee Dennis Briggs Olds-Cadillac; Joe Hayden, Inc. -- Ford; Kennedy Motors Inc. -- AMC; Tyler-Linville Chevrolet Inc.; Earl A. Noble Pontiac, Inc.; Gene Wesner Chevrolet Inc.; and Campbell-Farr Ford Inc.

Representing the SMCAS and accepting the check was: Gene Wesner (left) of Wesner Chevrolet Inc. and a member of the finance committee for SMCAS.

Representing the Niles-Buchanan New Car Dealers Association were: Doug Campbell of Campbell-Farr Ford Inc.; Harry Greer of Joe Hayden, Inc.; Terry Linville of Tyler-Linville Chevrolet, Inc. and Lee Dennis Briggs of Lee Dennis Briggs Olds-Cadillac.

Congress adopts teachers unemployment legislation

Freshman Congressman Dave Stockman (4th-MI) Monday said that Congress had adopted legislation which he initiated designed to prevent teachers from collecting unemployment benefits during Christmas and Easter vacations. Stockman said that the amendments to the unemployment insurance bill "will save hard-pressed Michigan property taxpayers nearly $50 million per year."

The 4th District Congressman explained that a new federal law passed last year mandated that teachers and other local government employees be covered under the regular Federal-State unemployment insurance programs.

"While I do not necessarily quarrel with this objective under legitimate circumstances where a teacher, for example, is truly laid off, I take strong exception to the absurd idea that teachers should be eligible to collect benefits during normal and customary vacation periods," he said. "Yet, this would have been the practical effect of last year's legislation in Michigan and a half-dozen other States which do not have a waiting period prior to eligibility for benefits."

Stockman said that he was originally appraised of the situation four weeks ago during a meeting with local school superintendents in Berrien Springs, Michigan. "With the help of Senator Griffin and Congressman Vander Jagt," he noted, "we were able to get corrective amendments included in the Senate unemployment insurance bill that, fortunately, was pending clearance at the time I learned of the problem."

The St. Joseph Republican called this legislative success a "clear demonstration that grass roots citizens can force Washington to listen if they take the initiative to make their problems known."

Stockman said that the original legislation was just one more example of Congress' tendency to "leap before it looks". "Congress did not intend for teachers to receive unemployment benefits during vacation periods," he said. "But in overlooking the complex interaction between Federal and State unemployment insurance laws, last year's law would have forced schools to make these payments beginning January 1, 1978.

"I am most pleased that by taking the initiative and working with local school officials, we were able to spare Michigan property taxpayers this totally unjustifiable new cost burden," he concluded.

City plans an industry salute

By D.E.N.

As its theme for Michigan Week, the Buchanan Area Chamber of Commerce plans to recognize Buchanan's industry and salute the contribution of these companies to the well-being of the area.

A committee headed by Doug Bobo and Bob Baldwin is hard at work contacting the area industries to plan special promotions during that week. Other members of the committee include Dave Casey, Ann Desenberg, Joe Garbert II and Don Nichols.

Plant tours are planned and the industries will be provided space for their own exhibits in the business district. The chamber is working closely with the companies, the city, the schools and with labor leaders to salute the companies which provide employment, a favorable tax base and innumerable services to the community in which they are doing business.

New president of the chamber, John North, and his board of directors have made efforts to involve people in the various phases of Buchanan community life. The observances planned during Michigan Week, May 16-22 will be high-spotted by the annual dinner on May 17 at which the area industries will be officially saluted.

Buchanan Township annual meeting

A good crowd attended the Buchanan Township annual meeting Saturday. Supervisor Dr. Kenneth Jones gave a "state of the township address in which he reported that the township was in excellent financial shape, and that the board wouldn't request extra tax levy to finance the construction of an addition to the township hall". This addition, he explained, would provide for more office space, a record room, and enlarged meeting space. Jones expressed disappointment over some of the letters that had appeared in area newspapers and said they contained misinformation and were often based on untrue rumors.

The preliminary 1978-1979 budget of $123,451 and the 1977-1978 operating budget of $101,620 were approved. The audit showed a cash balance of $22,355.64 plus $56,260.20 in certificates of deposit.

Fire chief Dick Flenar reported there had been 41 fire calls during the year resulting in over $140,000 in losses.

A donation of $500 to the Buchanan Public Library was approved after a motion to give only $100 was defeated.

Diabetes Association dislikes saccharin ban

The FDA's announcement of the proposed ban of saccharin has triggered questions and concerns from both individuals and Congress.

Diabetics are in an uproar, as the possibility of the ban becomes a threat to their only "legal" sweetener. Hoarding of saccharin has been apparent at most food outlets.

Dr. Donnell Etzwiler, President of the American Diabetes Association (ADA), stated that, until further data becomes available, the Association does not recommend major changes in the use of saccharin by the American public.

Donald C. Corning, Chairman of the ADA-Michigan Affiliate, spoke in Washington last weekend at a meeting of the Sub-Committee on Health and Environment to express the views of diabetics and their concerns.

Corning's brother died from diabetes at the age of 37 and his teen-age son was diagnosed as a diabetic at the age of two.

"Good diabetic control comes from insulin, diet and exercise. The hardest to control is the diet. The closer my son got to his teen years, the harder the control became. He is learning to be self-reliant. If all non-nutritive sweeteners are removed from the market, he will either go without or cheat.

"I recognize the fact that all of us can live without a sweetener (and live a normal life). But I am not naive enough to think this will happen.

"As a person who has watched his loved ones suffer and die of diabetes, I will do all I can for the 10,000,000 diabetics in the United States to provide them with some form of safe sweetener."

John B. Bryan, M.D., President of ADA-Michigan Affiliate, has sent a letter to ADA-M's membership asking them to write to their Senators and Congressmen to explain in their own words what the elimination of saccharin will mean to their life.

Congressman James G. Martin (North Carolina) has introduced a bill which would permit the Secretary of HEW to weigh benefits against risks in deciding whether to ban a food additive.

Dr. Bryan stated that it "....adequately covers all the areas of concern resulting from the problems created by the saccharin ban."

A "girls only" math contest was held at St. Mary's College, South Bend, Saturday, March 26, from 9:30-11:30 a.m. Teams from nine high schools competed in the contest. Buchanan was the only Michigan school represented.

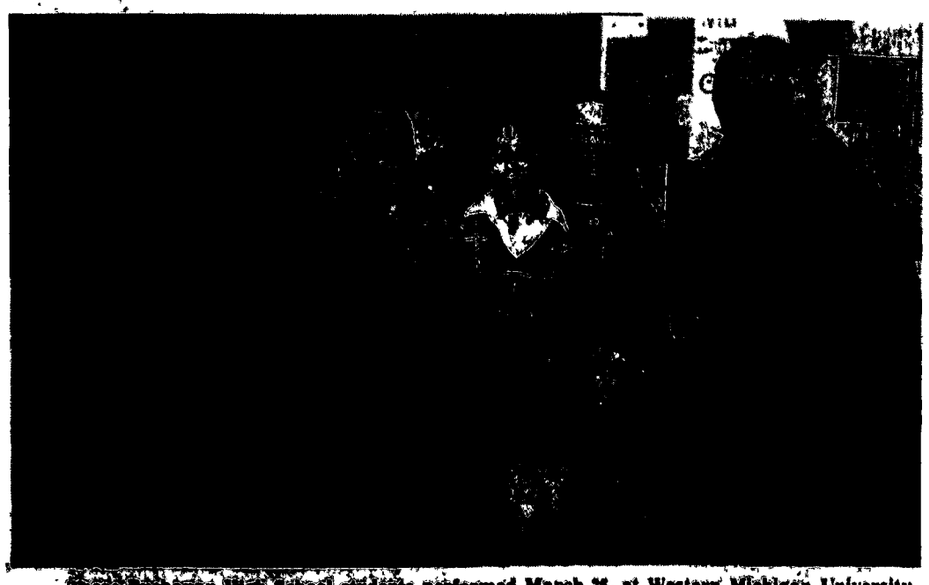
One function of the contest was to dispel the myth that girls cannot excel in mathematics.

Other high schools competing were Washington, St. Joseph and Adams, all of South Bend; Elston and Rogers of Michigan City; Marian of Mishawaka, New Prairie and Concord. South Bend Adams was the winner.



Twelve Buchanan High School students performed March 26, at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, in the State Solo and Ensemble contest (standing l to r): Joann Wilcox, Sue Trull, Janice Unger, Michelle Hamilton, Arrah Beatty, Jon Roti Roti and (seated at piano) Dee Dee Hall.

Sue Trull and Arrah Beatty received I ratings. The others received II ratings.

Agriculture In Action

Show and Tell

Many of us involved in agriculture keep trying to tell the homemaker that she's getting a bargain when it comes to food. Of course, she really is when we consider that we spend less of our take-home pay in this country for food than anywhere else in the world. Sometimes we need to do more showing than we do telling, and this is what two young farm couples in Illinois did recently.

Customers in the Jewell Supermarket at DeKalb, Illinois, thought some kind of confidence game was underway when the farm couples, Dennis and Debbie Rehn, and their neighbors, Connie and Ed Peterson, stopped them at the checkout counter

After the introductions, the young farmers offered to pay for all the food items in a lady's cart, if she would pay for non-food things that she had picked up

The deal was agreeable, and the purchases were separated The shopper was surprised to find that about 60 per cent of her cart-full was composed of such things as soap, stockings, paper products, and the like

Dennis and Debbie, Connie and Ed, were illustrating something else that has bothered farmers for years--the fact that from 20 to 50 per cent of all supermarket shopping involves non-food items.

"Yet it is all piled into grocery carts, and it's computed in with the grocery bill," they complain, even though much of what is bought has no relation to grocery costs. . .people get confused, and they talk about the high price of food

Besides having some fun, the young farm people were helping to create public awareness of actual food costs

Meanwhile a study of food marketing operations reveals that well over half of the bill for marketing farm foods now goes to labor

There is evidence that wage increases without comparable improvements in productivity, have been the biggest single factor in increasing the farm-retail price spread.

It's true that food prices have risen considerably over the past 15 years, but the farmers' share of the average retail food dollar remains virtually unchanged.

Likes Morse

Members of Buchanan School District

As a consequence of the recent decision of the Buchanan School Board regarding Band Director, Michael Morse, an attempt was made to have an open meeting of Parents and School Board members, which has been denied by the Board It was mentioned anyone could attend the next school board meeting, April 18th at Indian Hills, but no information on personnel matters would be discussed

Plans are underway to circulate a petition in support of Mr. Morse, to gather data relevant to the issues raised by the Board and to formulate a position

The items stated to Mr Morse, i e , no improvement in teaching and lack of discipline can be readily refuted The Band has improved this year as can be seen by the ratings received at festivals and Marching competitions Music students under Mr Morse concertedly report the discipline in our Band is markedly better than other area Bands

Mr Morse has shown cooperation with school personnel, has taken over direction of the school chorus and the Middle School strings and was recommended to the Board for tenure by Dr. Vanderbush and Dr Hogan

Question What Board Member has attended festivals and Marching competitions? What Board Member has been present during class periods for evaluation? What information does the Board have that the administration was not aware of? Why is the community not allowed to know the facts? Does the School Board truly represent the District?

Answers to the above questions should be made available to all

PBB

Dear Editor,

For several years now, we have provided you with information about the agricultural community in Michigan and believe that you have learned, by experience, that we are a reliable news source Yet, when the biggest story ever to involve Michigan agriculture comes along -- we have failed you! I'd like to offer some "excuses" and apologies and try to rectify some of the misinformation which has resulted

We're very proud of the credibility we've built with you and we have hesitated to speak out on the PBB issue for fear it would be interpreted as an effort to "save" our affiliate rather than the factual information you had come to trust We winced every time we read or heard that Michigan Farm Bureau sold contaminated feed, that Michigan Farm Bureau was on trial, that Michigan Farm Bureau stood to lose vast amounts of money if the tolerance levels were lowered Our over 60,000 member families winced, too, and have indicated it is past time that the record is set straight

First, a short explanation of what Michigan Farm Bureau is a free, independent, non-governmental, voluntary organization controlled and financed by member families and designed to serve the farmer legislatively, economically and socially It was "born" in 1919 and today is made up of 69 county Farm Bureau units When a member joins his county Farm Bureau, he becomes a member of the Michigan Farm Bureau and the American Farm Bureau Federation Through the years, farmers realized the need for additional economic services and, to meet those needs, affiliate service companies were formed. Farm Bureau Services, Inc was the first of these, incorporated in 1929 There have been several formed since that time, as member need dictated I won't list them all, because it is Farm Bureau Services, Inc , in which you are most interested at this time This is the company named in suits connected with the PBB contamination. It is completly separate from the Michigan Farm Bureau Each has its own legal identity and each operates financially independent of the other If, as some reports indicate, Farm Bureau Services, Inc, should "go down the drain" as the result of suits, the only financial impact it would have on the Michigan Farm Bureau is that we would have some office space to rent at the Lansing Headquarters, and we would have to hire some personnel and bookkeeping services which that company now performs for us I hope that clarifies that Michigan Farm Bureau does not stand to lose vast amounts of money if PBB tolerance levels are lowered The reasons Michigan Farm Bureau is supporting H B 4115 are.

1. Authority to test all animals suspected of PBB contamination would be provided Such authority does not now exist

2. All herds would be removed from quarantine because animals testing above 0.3 ppm of PBB would be destroyed

3 Owners of animals testing below 0 3 ppm of PBB could have their animals removed if they believed such levels of contamination were causing herd problems, posing a health hazard, or for any other reason This provision would be discretionary with each herdowner

4. Indemnification would be provided at the appraised value of the animal before contamination whether they test above or below the 0.3 ppm tolerance. No animal with low level contamination would need to be sold at the lower salvage prices because the owner would be paid the full appraised value before contamination

5 Owners of contaminated animals could resume normal operations while reserving their right to pursue further legal action against the responsible parties.

6. All contaminated animals could be eliminated from the market with the least disruption to farmers

These reasons should assure you that it is Michigan agriculture with which the organization is concerned

Many of our farmer members who have been involved in the PBB tragedy have been frustrated because only those with a "sensational" story are covered by the press You'll be hearing more from them in the days ahead and I hope you'll give them a listen I'm sure you'll find that they, too, have a story worth sharing with public. And, it will help you do a more balanced and objective reporting job, a goal for which all responsible journalists strive

If you have any questions regarding this issue, give us a call anytime. If we can't answer the questions ourselves, we'll make every effort to put you in touch with someone who can

Sincerely,
Donna J Wilber, Manager

Easter meditations

By Bob Hudson, Minister
Church of Christ

Sunday, people by the hundreds will make their way into the churches of our community. The attendance of every church will swell as we celebrate the most important Christian holiday of the year, that which has been designated Easter.

I have often wondered how many of those who fill the church on Easter Sunday ever realize the true significance of that special day. The reason I wonder is that for many who come, Easter Sunday worship is among the few Sundays they attend church. Surely the impact of the Easter message has not reached their hearts, or they would be there every week. Why do I say that?

Easter celebrates the central truth of the Christian gospel, "Jesus died for our sins according to the scriptures and was raised again for our justification." Good Friday is good only because on the first day of the week the tomb was empty God had raised Jesus from the dead'

The significance of the resurrection is best set forth by Paul in two very important passages of scripture. The first is from I Corinthians 15 where Paul says,

"If Christ is not raised, then our preaching is vain and your faith is worthless, you are still in your sins." Verse 17 Then again in Romans, chapter one, verse 4,

"Jesus Christ our Lord was declared to be the Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead, according to the spirit of holiness

The impact of these verses taken in harmony with each other declares that we have a right to place our faith in Jesus, to hope in Jesus, to call Him our Savior for one reason and one reason only--God raised Him from the dead The resurrection, declared Paul, vindicated forever our preaching, our faith, our hope

When we see Easter in that context, we will be done with our frivolous celebration Its place in our life will be of the highest honor The celebration will be one of joy and exultation

"Christ the Lord is risen today, Hallelujah!" will be our theme, and this not just one day a year, but everyday of our life

Milk Producers welcome price supports

The U S Department of Agriculture's announcement last week of plans to raise government support prices for milk used to manufacture dairy byproducts effective April 1 will mean an increase in prices dairies pay for raw milk beginning that date

The increase in support price -- from $8.26 per hundredweight to $9 00 -- will mean an immediate increase in the price dairy processing plants pay for milk used to make such byproducts as cottage cheese, butter, nonfat dry milk and cream. An increase in the price the plants pay for milk used for bottling purposes (fluid milk) is expected later.

Agriculture Secretary Robert Bergland announced the upcoming support price increase March 22

"The Secretary is to be commended for recognizing and responding to the economic needs of dairy farmers," said Glenn Lake, North Branch dairy farmer and president of Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) MMPA is a milk marketing cooperative owned and controlled by about 5,900 dairy farmers

"The move will help keep dairy farmer income in line with production cost increases," Lake said He said milk production costs have continued to increase in recent months, market weakness during that period has resulted in a downward turn in wholesale milk prices

Bergland's announcement means that on April 1, the beginning of the marketing year, the government's price "floor" for manufacturing milk will go up 74 cents per hundredweight. Because current market prices are down to near support level, the prices dairies pay for milk used for manufacturing will go up by about that amount (There are 11.6 gallons in a hundred pounds of milk)

And since the formula for determining the wholesale price of fluid milk is linked to the wholesale price of manufacturing milk, the price dairies pay for fluid milk will go up, too, probably early this summer. The increase in fluid milk wholesale price is likely to be an amount comparable to the increase in manufacturing milk price.

By law, the Agriculture Secretary must set a dairy product price support level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity at the beginning of each marketing year. It can be adjusted during the year. Secretary Bergland said he will review the price support level in six months.

Parity is the relationship between the cost of production and prices received for farm goods. It is an indicator of farmers' buying power.

Bergland's announced support price will be 83 per cent of parity, up from the current 80 per cent updated on October 1, 1976.

This Week At Fernwood

Ancient Art of Bonsai

The ancient art of Bonsai highlights the Fernwood schedule this week. According to history, Bonsai originated before the eleventh century in China, moved on to Japan, then slowly to the West One of the earliest exhibitions in the western hemisphere was in London in 1909 The same year it was introduced in New York Japanese for tray is "bon" thus Bonsai or tray planting

The Bonsai Workshop is under the guidance of Cheryl Owens of Elkhart, Indiana Mrs Owens has studied with bonsai masters in Georgia and California, and travels to Chicago regularly for bonsai workshops and study She is a past Vice President of Bonsai Clubs International and currently is a board member of the American Bonsai Society Among the topics the workshop will include are picking a plant for training, pruning, shaping, wiring, soil mixtures, and display Each class participant will leave the workshop with a bonsai in training Friday evening April 15 Mrs Owens presents thru the Fernwood lecture series, "Bonsai Around the World" Cheryl recently visited the origin of this ancient art in the far east. Her slide presentation will confirm the exquisite beauty and priceless value of some of the world's oldest plants, dwarfed trained trees that have been handed down from generation to generation with extraordinary care.

Your child can raise those table bouquets or delicious vegetables that we all enjoy. Fernwood's Children's Gardening Series will begin Saturday, April 16 It is scheduled as a morning activity from 9:00 a.m to 12 00 noon The dates are Saturday, April 16, Saturday, May 14, Wednesday, June 15, Wednesday, July 6 and Wednesday, August 17. Each class member will be guided through the steps of successful seasonal gardening Each child will have the opportunity to participate in Fernwood's Fall Harvest Show, September 3 and 4. Assisting the class will be Peggy Bormann, Fernwood greenhouse attendant There are still openings in this class.

The first of two sessions on Spring Birds will be from 8.00 a m.-11:00 a m. on Saturday, April 16 Under the direction of Fernwood Naturalist, Mike Champagne, class members will walk the Fernwood grounds in search of the spring migrants which have arrived Tips on how to identify them by sight and sound in addition to learning many interesting facts about the birds are part of each spring bird session

The Fernwood trails are becoming a carpet of color as more and more wildflowers come into bloom. The delicate yellow beauty of the Trout Lily is the latest to herald the arrival of spring

Each Sunday at 2 00 p m throughout the 1977 season general tours of Fernwood will be conducted by Fernwood Naturalist, Mike Champagne.

Consumers frightened by media coverage of PBB

"PBB is still a problem in Michigan — not in our food supply, but in the minds of consumers who have been frightened by media coverage of the sensational and emotional rather than scientific facts — and kept alive by politicians who have decided its a profitable bandwagon for their own personal gains"

That's the opinion of Robert Rottier, Newaygo County farmer, an opinion shared by other Michigan farmers who were in Washington, D C this week to meet with Congressmen regarding issues of concern to agriculture

Rottier was one of the first farmers in the state to have his herd quarantined and destroyed because of high-level PBB contamination One of his visits in Washington was with Rep Broadhead who has introduced legislation at the federal level to lower PBB tolerance levels The young dairy farmer, along with others who had been involved in the PBB problem, told Broadhead and also Senator Riegle's staff, that they — as farmers and consumers — were confident that the FDA's tolerance level of 3 ppm contains a more than adequate safety factor

Spokesmen for the 122 Michigan farmer-delegation met with Washington, D C news people on the last morning of their 4-day visit to the nation's capitol. The group was headed by Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau Smith expressed the hope that the testimony of one of Michigan's Congressmen, David Stockman, would be carefully considered by Senator Riegle's Subcommittee on Science, Technology and Space which conducted hearings this week Stockman testified at the committee's PBB hearing in Detroit on Wednesday, March 30

"Senator Riegle's committee has the opportunity to make a real contribution to the welfare of all citizens if the result is constructive legislation that would help prevent future accidents such as the PBB tragedy," Smith said "Farmers are concerned about the kind of testimony which seems to be getting the most attention. We believe the factual information contained in Congressman Stockman's testimony could go a long way toward erasing the unnecessary fears consumers have about their food supply We're proud of the wholesomeness and safety of Michigan-grown food products They're the best in the nation!"

Smith praised the farmers who participated in the Michigan Farm Bureau's annual Washington Legislative Seminar, for adding urban legislators outside of their Congressional districts to their list of contacts "Although these legislators are well-educated, knowledgeable people, they have no opportunity for input from the agricultural industry unless we, as farmers, take the time to communicate with them," Smith said "This is important because these legislators are called upon to vote on bills which have a direct impact on our farm business."

In addition to contacts with Congressmen, the farmers also met with Secretary of Agriculture Robert Bergland and other USDA officials This is the 17th consecutive year the farm organization has sponsored the legislative activity for its members

Sports finalized plans for Berrien County Olympian and CANAMER Games

Sports area plans are being finalized for the 1977 Berrien County Olympian and CANAMER Games The first sports area chairmen meeting was held on March 26. Individual sports area chairmen's requests for changes and affirmations of existing sports standardizations were presented to the joint Board of CANAMER at a meeting in Windsor, Ontario, on April 2 and 3.

The annual all-star Blue-Gold basketball game will be held on July 15 with Olympian week immediately following July 17-23 The CANAMER Games will be held the weekend of August 12-14 in Ontario, Canada.

This year's CANAMER Games program will consist of boys' and girls' basketball, girls' softball and volleyball, soccer, golf, swimming, tennis, track and field, and chess. The Olympian sports events will be all of these plus bowling, girls' gymnastics, table tennis and wrestling. The decision of whether or not bowling will be on the CANAMER Games program was to be made at a joint Board meeting of CANAMER to be held in Windsor, Ontario, on April 2 and 3

The sports chairmen and the general public are reminded that any of our county youth may compete in the age group immediately above their own if they elect to do so, at the Olympian level to be eligible for CANAMER competition, but then they must compete at that elected age level in all other events as well.

Oliver Edwards, CANAMER Board Chairman stated that he was well pleased with the enthusiasm being shown by past participants of the games and with the number of adults volunteering to get involved in CANAMER activities this year.

At the March conference, Kay Masini, CANAMER Administrative Coordinator, stressed that the sports area chairmen carefully consider attitude, friendliness, and sportsman-like cooperation and the endeavor of the participant to put forth its best effort along with athletic ability in making their selections of participants for the CANAMER team. She stated that only rarely will a good athlete not have these qualities, but CANAMER's main objective is not to win in the sports events themselves, but to win friends from among the competitions, and to provide a healthy experience for the kids, the adult volunteers, and the hosts during the CANAMER weekend.

Chuck Gordon, vice-chairman of the CANAMER Board informed the chairmen that they were each eligible for Board membership and as such could better direct their input into the CANAMER program.

Ocie Mitchell, Sports Coordinator, emphasized the necessity of having an improved communication between the chairmen, the CANAMER staff and himself.

Ken Platt, Public Relations Director, stated he planned to have some of the chairmen included in radio talk programs going to the public, and including their input into newsletters to be sent to all CANAMER sports area chairmen within the County.

NOTICE TO THE BUCHANAN TAX PAYER

Doctor Jones our new Township Supervisor did in fact order two building inspectors to Red Tag stop order building March 15th on the rabbit cage. In my opinion this is a waste of taxpayers money. This is about as injust as the proposed ordinance that is about to be presented to the Buchanan Township. This is not to be considered a joke, this can happen to you. Under the new proposed zoning ordinance, in my opinion, it will take the rest of your rights away and leave you paying just taxes on your land.

Signed
Fred E. Hankins

(No. 1 CAR KILLER)

This year alone, rust will cost motorists an estimated $8 billion. But your new car doesn't have to join the millions of cars that rust out each year. Because Ziebart Rustproofing is available. The exclusive Ziebart process was developed to get inside the car body, where rust actually starts on bare metal. Ziebart Rustproofing is applied to rust-prone surfaces inside and under your car That's what makes it so effective Over 2 million satisfied customers have found that Ziebart Rustproofing protects the appearance and the value of their cars Let Ziebart do the same for your new car!
