Federal Housing Trailer Camp to Be Enlarged by 50 More Units

Now Here's the Proposition

A Memorial Suggestion
The following letter is not published as any counter suggestion to the project inaugurated by the Navy Mothers Club, but as a good idea suggested by a local woman.

The memory garden idea is not new, as it has been carried out in other places. For many years an Episcopalian church in north Chicago maintained a beautiful Memory Garden on its grounds, where many people planted memorial trees and shrubs commemorating dead whom they wished to honor. In addition autographed copies of poems by famous poets emphasizing the memorial idea are framed and hung on one of the walls of the church. At the time when this project was being actively carried on by the pastor was (and perhaps still is) Robert Vincent St. John, a well-known Chicago poet.

The letter by Mrs. Clara Mmth follows:

To Patriotic Buchanmites
This is a suggestion. Why don't we of Buchanan put up a Victory Memorial Garden spot, with a service board with all the names and addresses of each young man and woman in the service, also a photo of each one on it. While we could not have a garden spot at each block so have one for all. Every one here could donate something to mark the spot as a memory, such as the place, the lumber for the Bulletin board, the seat or seats, flowers, flag pole, and the picket fence around the spot. Let two or three boys from the Scouts raise and lower the flag each day and have charge of the care of the flag. I will be willing to give the flag in memory of my brother who died in the first World War. A good spot I would suggest is on the corner of Portage and Front St. Instead of parking cars, use it as this garden which would be a welcome to any one no matter which direction you come into town. Also when a service man or woman comes home he or she knows his or her spot. It is also a good spot to go and meditate. Let's have suggestions. Don't hesitate over a few dollars. There is plenty spent otherwise.

50 Trailers To Be Installed By End of Month

Nine Arrive During Past Week; Haynes & Haynes of Elkhart Install

The Federal Housing Project authority began a 50 percent enlargement of the trailer park housing facilities here during the past week, nine more trailer houses having arrived from Battle Creek, out of a total of 50 additional to be located this month.

The trailers which have arrived to date are nearly all new, unused units, of the Indian type of standard trailers, 4-person capacity. They are being placed at the east end of the present units on the land leased by the government from the William Bost property north of River street (formerly the William Bampton property). The contractors are Haynes & Haynes of Elkhart, who are doing necessary excavating and other site preparation. At present there are 100 trailer houses and seven utility trailers on site, representing the first locations. The addition will be fifty trailer houses and four utility trailers. The house trailers are of a newer and better type with more floor space than the first installations.

The enlargement of the local trailer colony is in answer to a pressing demand for living quarters for workers in the River street plant of the Clark Equipment company.

By Doris Fuller
Buchanan high school will meet Dowagiac high school in one of the most important home games of the season at the local gymnasium Tuesday, Feb. 8, the reserve curtain raiser starting at 7 p. m.

A fast contest is expected with the Chieftains, as the Buchanan five defeated the visitors by a nine-point margin earlier in the season, and they will be here for vengeance. A second home game will be played here with the New Buffalo Saturday evening, Feb. 11. New Buffalo will bring a strong team with a good record.

In a local contest in which the Maroons played their best for the season, they were beaten by Niles' fast Vikings 26 to 35 Tuesday evening in a gym packed with roaring rosters.

In the first quarter Buchanan had a 2 point margin of 8 to 6 over Niles. Buchanan held control over the ball but was unable to use it at all times. Sleepy Jim Anderson was in there fighting every minute trying to keep the ball for the Bucks.

In the second quarter Niles made a steady gain with 19 points and Buchanan with 17. Eugene Werner replaced Louie Gray at left guard.

The third quarter, Jack Mitchell a newcomer on the team, substituted for Don Voorhees. Later Don Voorhees replaced Jack after he had one personal foul. At the end of the 3rd quarter Niles held a gain of 4 points with a score 23 to 27.

Near the beginning of the 4th quarter Eugene Steinginger substituted for Don Voorhees. Buchanan played her hardest in the first and last quarters. In the last minute Niles sent in three substitutions. The final score was Niles 35, Buchanan 26.

Buchanan's high point man was Jim Anderson with 9 points and J. B. Anderson closely following with 7. Niles' Zorke was high point man with 16 points. Buchanan's beginning lineup was: center, Don Voorhees; forwards, Jim Anderson and J. B. Anderson, guards, Stibbs and Gray. Substitutions Wesnor, Mitchell, Steinginger and Hagley.

The reserve team lost to Niles 31 to 13. Bill Blake was high point man with 8 points. Niles had a lead over Buchanan the entire game.

Telegram Does Not Give Details

Had Been in Service Three Years; Was Serving as Pilot of Navy Bomber

The impact of World War 2 fell heavily on Buchanan again this week with the announcement received late Tuesday afternoon that Lieut. Hubert McClellan had been lost in flight action.

The telegram received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McClellan, 113 N. Oak, gave no details of the scene or character of the action. It is known that he had been serving as pilot of a navy bomber in the Atlantic area.

He enlisted in the naval air service in January, 1941, taking his training at the Pensacola, Fla., naval air school. He was stationed for a year and a half in patrol duty in the Panama Canal Zone, and was later transferred to the North Atlantic area. For some time he was on routine patrol duty over the Atlantic. The character of his more recent service is not known here.

About the same time that he entered service, his twin brother, Lt. Howard McClellan, enlisted in the army air service and has been a pilot of army bombers since, most of his service having been in ferrying bombers from the U. S. to combat areas all over the world.

Hubert McClellan was graduated from the Buchanan high school in 1936 and from Western Michigan college, Kalamazoo, in 1940. He was born in Buchanan June 15, 1918, and had lived his entire life here previous to going to college and later to military service. After entering service he married a girl from Jackson, Mich. More details of his life will be given next week.

He had very many friends here who mourn his loss and who extend their deepest sympathy to the stricken family.

She was then escorted to the meeting place in Yorkville, a German section of New York City. There she saw Storm Troopers in German military uniform, "gangs" in brown Nazi style. One of these troopers explained to Miss Waring that they would give her "hair the Ayran fire test. A lock of her hair was snipped and burned. As it neither curled nor changed its blond color, she was admitted.

Through her Bund affiliation she secured a position as confidential secretary to an American Fascist leader whose group was affiliated with the Bund. There she became acquainted with the leaders of Fascist activities in America, and was able to contribute materially to the conviction of William Dudley Pelley and others.

Before and after her experience as a government under-cover operative, she had wide experience as a journalist and as a writer on national and international affairs.

Court Reports Emotional Cases Result From War

Such Cases Often Miscalled Insanity, Says Judge Hatfield

That more and more people are beginning to feel the full impact of the war was illustrated when the monthly report of Probate Judge Malcolm Hatfield revealed during the first thirty-one days of 1944 he had been consulted relative to 19 cases of emotional instability.

Worried wives, husbands, parents and children had erroneously interpreted such recent symptoms as nervous mannerisms, fears of all kinds, sensitiveness, moodiness, restlessness, overactivity, withdrawing, temper tantrums and the like in their relatives as mental disorders and so a result requested Judge Hatfield to accept petitions to have such persons sent to the Kalamazoo State Hospital for the insane for treatment.

Although Judge Hatfield convinced the relatives of all 19 persons that their loved ones were displaying symptoms of emotional instability and merely required the services of a psychiatrist and not treatment at the Kalamazoo State Hospital he was forced to commit one epileptic and two feeble-minded children and eight insane adults to state institutions. The most prevalent symptoms among the insane patients were definite persecution complexes such as imagining that they were being poisoned or constantly watched by persons who wished to do them bodily harm. Several of the patients thought they were talking with God and deceased friends. One was convinced that her boy was dead even though he was recently home on furlough.

Throughout January the court closed 31 deceased estates and admitted 26 new deceased estates to probate. It also appointed guardians for seven minors and three incompetents and closed nine guardianship estates.

WILL YOU WRITE A LETTER to a Prisoner of War . . . tonight?

Maybe he's one of Jimmie Doolittle's boys. Perhaps he was left behind when Bataan fell. Anyway, he's an American, and he hasn't had a letter in a long, long time.

And when you sit down to write, tell him why you didn't buy your share of War Bonds last pay day.

"Dear Joe," you might say, "the old topcoat was getting kind of threadbare, so I . . ."

No, cross it out. Joe might not understand about the topcoat, especially if he's shivering in a damp Japanese cell.

Let's try again. "Dear Joe, I've been working pretty hard and haven't had a vacation in over a year, so . . ."

Well, better cross that out, too. They don't ever get vacations where Joe's staying.

Well, what are you waiting for? Go ahead, write the letter to Joe. Try to write it, anyhow.

But mister, if somehow you find you can't finish that letter, will you, at least, do this for Joe? Will you up the amount of money you're putting into War Bonds and keep buying your share from here on in?

Students Should Plan for Future, Not for Today

A student before teaching his sophomore year should have chosen his vocation of the future. In most schools a student can follow a specified plan which may be college preparatory, commercial, general. The college preparatory course has most of the requirements of the better colleges. The business course allows most students to go immediately into an office or the business world quite well prepared. The general course has hardly a proper foundation for college or business work. The main reason for taking a general course is inclination and only a desire to receive a diploma. But remember, things do not always work out as you planned, so prepare for the pitfalls of life. The world will advance rapidly after the war and in order to be a success you must also advance. Those are the main reasons for the college and business courses. You will always see a mentally alert student choose a plan for the future, the college or business course.

Louis gave a short talk on the structure and use of the spectro-scope. The spectro-scope, is used to find unknown elements of a substance. Bill and Maurice demonstrated several experiments dealing with the effects of air pressure. They used a small model of the Magdeburg Hemispheres invented by Otto Von Gulich, which are two iron hemispheres so made that when the air is exhausted it takes eight teams of horses to pull them apart. They demonstrated the effects of centrifugal forces upon rotating bodies by the use of a hand powered rotator. The next meeting will be held Feb 16.

Pick Up That Paper

Most students keep themselves neat and attractive personally and mentally. But the visitors would not know it, as they look at the paper-littered floors and halls. It seems that if there were a real pride in neatness and cleanliness, the student would also try to make the school an attractive place. It will not be a hard job if all cooperated. So use some energy and pick up paper lazily tossed by some uncaring student. Do it now and others will follow your example.

THIS LITTLE ELECTRIC BULB

WANTS TO BE PATRIOTIC

How about it?

WHAT has the lamp bulb you forgot to turn off when you came up out of the basement got to do with helping to win the war?

Obviously not very much—if it is of the size common in basements (25 watts) the cost of the electricity to light it all night would be only one penny.

But multiply this lamp by millions of other lamps which people forget to turn off in attics, in closets, in unoccupied rooms—every day—and you get some idea of the part you can play in the conservation of critical resources.

Your Government is urging you to conserve fuel, gas, water, electricity, communications and transportation. While there is no shortage of electricity and we are supplying enough power to take care of wartime industrial demands and all civilian needs, as well, when you avoid wasting electricity, it saves fuel, manpower and transportation—and less use of the bulb itself saves precious tungsten used in radar.

Use all the Electricity you need but don't waste it.

Support the 4th War Loan Drive
...and get what you want most... sooner!

YOUR BOY... our boy... that nice boy across the street. Yes, most of all, you want him to come home. And every day that we help shorten the war, the better his chances. Every day? Every minute... even every second! Surely, you'll do your part. Right now, that means put every possible dollar into the 4th War Loan Drive!

And here are some other dreams War Bonds can help you realize: to own your own home—what a typically American ambition! To educate your children—more important than ever after the war. And after Tokyo falls, you'll want to climb into the old family bus—or the new one—and go see places. War Bonds will come in mighty handy.

Let's all back the attack!

...YOU DON'T HEAR THEM COMPLAINING

Wherever they go, those U.S. fighting men are leaving calling cards of bullets and cold steel. No complaints from them about long hours, lack of food, and giving up the comforts they used to know. Their motto is "get the job done—get it done now".

What are you doing to help? Are you buying all the U. S. War Bonds you possibly can? Are you putting 10% or more of each pay check into those all-important Bonds? Millions of American boys are giving up everything for you. It's up to you to do this for them.
