St. Joe To Play Buchanan Here

St. Joe, Runner-Up Last Year, With 14 Letter Men Back, Favored by Dope

The Buchanan high school basketball team will inaugurate the 1944-45 cage season on the home floor Tuesday evening, Nov. 28, when they take on St. Joseph in an opening Class B conference game. Coach Decker, the new tutor in the sport, is careful about estimating the prospects of his team. Last year under Coach VanRyzin, the team started out well, but slipped when two key players, Topash and "Bones" Miller, quit school to enter military service. This year the team has five lettermen back with considerable first string experience. They are J. B. Anderson, Donald Voorhes, Louis Gray, Gene Steininger, Gene Wesner. They have two more letter men with some first-string experience in Owen Rifenberg and John Hagley. Other contenders for squad membership are Norman Ehler, Don Gray, Bill Blake, Bill Lauver, Max Polley, Bill Hess, George Snodgrass.

This assemblage of aspirants will be boiled down to a squad of ten as the season gets under way. Nineteen boys are out for the reserve team which will be coached by Lester Miller. St. Joseph is regarded as a formidable opponent, with 14 letter men back from the team that fought it out for first place with Niles in the district tournament last year. The St. Joe team emerged the runner-up. Coach Decker has had considerable experience in basketball tutoring, having coached the squads of Bridgeman, Fremont, Hart, Everett high schools, Lansing, and Flint.

Mr. Morley states that the Buchanan total will approximate $5,000 at this time or 66% of the quota. Chester March Gets 17-Point, 245-Pound Deer

Drags Game 2 1/2 Miles to Camp; Vanguard Now Back With and Without Biggest deer and biggest story of the 1944 hunting season to date was brought back by Chester March, Bakertown, who brought in a 17-point buck weighing 245 pounds dressed.

The story is that after shooting the deer March had to drag it 2 1/2 miles or thereabouts into camp. He shot the animal near Gould City, 2 1/2 miles from Pike Lake in the Upper Peninsula. With him went Lloyd Follet of Bakertown and two men from Niles. One of the most successful returning parties and their bags were the following: Art Walkins, 7-point buck; Henry Walkins, 11-point buck; Loraine Geminder, 8-point buck; August Nehring, 4-point buck. These boys shot their deer 35 miles north of Cadillac.

A party of five Clark Equipment men arrived home Tuesday morning with two deer—the successful hunters being Lyle Erskine (9-point, 181-pound buck) and Clem Savoldi (spike buck, 134 pounds). Those who went along were Ray Hewitt, Phay Wilcox, Simon Burka, Messrs. Erskine and Savoldi report that the secret of their success lay in the fact that they were not merely "road hunters," that is they were not afraid to go back in the woods where the animals were. The other three boys got several shots but missed, so the deer were also afraid to come out in the road.

Jack Leggett and Jack Hemminger, two tenderfoot hunters out on their first trip, each got a deer on the first morning with their first shot. Leggett's deer was a 6-point 180-pounder. Hemminger's deer was a three-point 130-pounder. In the party were John and Gale Hemminger. They hunted at Sharon in the lower Peninsula.

Merle Dunlap brought back a spike point 100-pounder which he shot at Wolverine, Mich., on the first morning out. A party which has not arrived home yet hunted near Rapid River and telephoned home the following results: Lewis Poplar, 8-pointer; Leo Davis, 8-pointer; Fred Schutze 6-pointer.

Chuck Hess Writes
Cpl. Charles (Chuck) Hess, son of Mrs. Charles Hess, Sr., of the Wagner district, now serving in France, writes as follows:
Somewhere in France
November 5, 1944

Dear Mr. Hawes
I have been reading several of the boys' letters in the Record. They certainly have some startling experiences.

I can't say that my experiences have been very startling but I'm enjoying France and her people. I guess I can consider myself lucky to have time to meet them and their families. In my letter that I wrote home sometime ago I mentioned how wonderfully we were treated by everyone. I thought that it would calm down a few months after the villages were liberated but we seem to still be the idol of all the people.

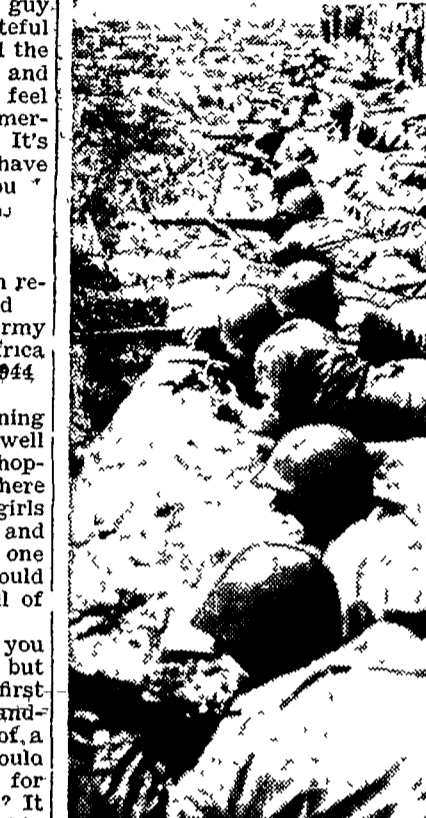

Not long ago I had the opportunity to be invited to dinner at a French home. I asked my buddy to come along because I thought that with what French he knew and I had learned it would help the conversation along. The family owns a fish market. It's a rather nice family of two daughters, father and mother. The girls are both good looking, one is dark and the other a blonde with smiling eyes. She learned some English in school and speaks it timidly, only half sure that it's right. Her father speaks our language well. He had spent a few years in college in England. He told us he had fought in 1918. His experiences are something that no one would like to see in print. I tried to get him to talk about something more cheerful by telling him about our America, my home town, New York, and the Statue of Liberty. He liked that and began telling me about Paris and all her night spots. He soon forgot all about war as we sat down to dinner. The highlight of the meal was fish. I don't know what kind it was but I was told it came from the sea somewhere around Cherbourg. The French have a reputation for good cooking and the girls and their mother really made the fish taste delicious. The mother insisted that I have melted butter poured on mine and I insisted that she shouldn't because it is difficult to get in this part of France, but you can't argue with French so I gave in. It was certainly good fish.

A noticeable happening to my eyes was that each dish of the meal is brought to the table separately. The first dish is usually some kind of soup. It is the style of most of these old countries. No dish is brought until every one has finished eating the one at the table. Being a rather slow eater I usually held up the next dish but no one seemed to mind. Before the meal was finished the lights went out as they do in towns not yet back to normal. The father left and brought back a small acetylene lamp that he put in the center of the table so we could go on eating.

After the meal my buddy and I arose and began singing songs that many Americans sang in 1918, Auld Lang Syne and It's a Long Way to Tipperary. The family sang right along with us because they had learned the songs in French. This made them very happy and they all thanked us by kissing us three times on each cheek. This is an old French custom and you can guess that the American boys like it, especially by the girls.

It made the family happy to have us at dinner with them. By some way the French make the lowliest-feeling person feel like the greatest and most important guy in the world. They are so grateful to the Americans. It makes all the loneliness and homesickness and personal disappointment we feel look small. They say vive l'Amerique and call us the liberators. It's a wonderful experience to have people feel that way about you. Charlie.

Behind Firing Line

As if they didn't have enough shooting, these American doughboys came back from the front line at Anzio beachhead for a rest, bang away at targets on the rifle range, somewhere in Italy.

Celebrate 59th Anniversary of Wedding Today

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davis Married in Buchanan Nov. 22, 1885

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Davis, 402 Berrien, are celebrating two late November occasions—Thanksgiving and their wedding anniversary.

This year they came right together on Wednesday and Thursday evening at the Church of Christ anniversary comes as usual on Nov. 22, not even F. D. R. being able to change that. And Thanksgiving day comes on Nov. 23, as some local people may be dimly aware.

The wedding anniversary was all started 59 years ago, on Nov. 22, 1885, when Benjamin F. Davis and Josie Snell stood up in front of the then Methodist pastor, Rev. Thomas, before the altar of the old brick church that stood at the corner of Days avenue and Smith street. The only other survivor who was present at that ceremony is Ray Frame.

Mr. Davis was born Sept. 22, 1857 at Norfolk, Ohio, and Mrs. Davis was born Aug. 3, 1860, at Alton, Mo., which makes them respectively 87 and 84 years of age. They have lived in their present home at the corner of Berrien and Alexander since 1897. Mrs. Snell has been a member of the local Methodist church for nearly 60 years. They had three children: Robert C. Davis of Berrien Springs, Mrs. Bess Reimke of Buchanan, and Ben F. Davis who passed away six years ago.

At the age of 87 Mr. Davis averages two or three trips for the six blocks down town and back per week, with a couple of hills to negotiate on the return route. Mr. Davis has a living brother, Elmer Davis of Marcellus, who, with his wife, has just completed 52 years of married life, also a sister nearly eighty years old near Kalamazoo, and another sister in Missouri 96 years old. Mrs. Davis has no surviving relatives of her parents' family, as she was an only child. Her father was killed in the Civil War.

Colored People Cooperate in Opening Church

Methodists, Baptists Plan Joint Services Every Other Sunday

Some weeks ago the Rev. D. D. Houston of Elkhart, Ind., organized a group of residents of the trailer park and housing project for the purpose of establishing an African Methodist church. Later Rev. Houston presented his Elkhart choir in a concert at the H. S. auditorium, realizing a sum sufficient to purchase a house and lot where services could be held. Last week Rev. Emory G. Davis, pastor of the Franklin A.M.E. church of Niles, was appointed by Bishop J. A. Gregg, presiding Bishop of this area to succeed Rev. Houston in developing the new church. The church is located on Fulton street, three doors west of Portage avenue, south side of the street. Many of the residents are of Baptist faith and with the cooperation of the Rev. W. M. Anderson, one of the employees of the Clark Co., a schedule of services has been arranged. On the first and third Sunday of each month services will be conducted by Rev. Anderson for those of Baptist faith and in the second and fourth Sunday the services will be conducted by Rev. Davis. Sunday school each Sunday at 9:30 with the regular worship service at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. The Rev. R. B. Alexander of the Second Baptist church of Niles is cooperating with Rev. Anderson for the Baptist services.

"We believe that this development will render a great service to the city of Buchanan; however, with the cooperation of the local ministers and church people much can be accomplished for the good of all," Rev. Davis and Rev. Alexander said today in suggestions for this project will be gratuitously received, Rev. Emory G. Davis, 807 Sycamore St., Niles, phone 1028 or Rev. R. B. Campaign to Sell Christmas Seals To Start Nov. 27

"D-day" for what may well be the most vital tuberculosis Christmas seal sale in Michigan's history will be next Monday, November 27. According to Curtis M. Wylie, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, the theme of the campaign is: "This is a War to Save Lives."

Many local residents will receive their seals in the mail Monday and all are requested to make their returns as soon as possible out of consideration for our post office. Although the sale to support tuberculosis control work lasts until Christmas, it will be a great help to postal employees if returns are made before the big Christmas rush of mail begins.

Mr. Wylie stated that for the first time in recent years the tuberculosis death rate in Michigan is increasing. "An intensive educational and case finding program," he said, "must be carried out to stop this war-caused increase." The association's work is made possible by the seal sale, Mr. Wylie pointed out in urging all Michigan citizens to buy and use tuberculosis Christmas seals. "You are fighting for your own home," he said, "when you join in the war to save lives."

Both Philip Murray, president of the C. I. O. and William Green, president of the A. F. of L., have endorsed the tuberculosis Christmas seal sale, according to Mr. Wylie. He stated that both labor leaders are keenly aware that wartime conditions, such as undue physical and mental strain, long hours of work, inadequate diet and crowded housing have lowered resistance to tuberculosis.

Mr. Sparks will show motion pictures of 4-H club week activities at Michigan State College, East Lansing, and activities at Washema camp at Carey lake.

Helen Ailsworth, Sophomore, First to Buy 6th War Loan Bond

Students of the Buchanan high school will take a leading part in the 6th War Loan campaign according to Supt. H. C. Stark, who is assisting chairman John Kobe in this matter.

Kobe had tendered his resignation County Chairman David Siegan of Benton Harbor on account of pressure of his own business and the latter came to Buchanan, spending two days last week in attempting to get a new chairman. Failing to get one, he induced Mr. Kobe to reconsider his resignation with the understanding that help from the canvass would be secured from the schools and any other source possible.

John Ethers, history instructor, and F. B. Heezen, mathematics instructor, will be in charge of the campaign by the students. They will divide the town into districts and appoint teams for each district which will cover the entire community. They began Monday in the canvass of the high school in the town. The first bond was bought by Helen Ailsworth, a sophomore. The county quota this year is $5,500,000—or about 6% less than that of the Fifth War Loan drive. Community quotas may be determined by taking the quota for the 5th drive and subtract 6%, according to Chairman Siegan. Since the Buchanan quota for the Fifth War Loan drive was $730,000, the present quota would be $686,200, on the above-named basis of computation.

The Sixth War Loan

In announcing the sixth of its series of great-war loans to start November 30 and run through December 16, the Treasury is calling again upon the American people to save and to make their savings available to the Government to help in winning the war. While the amount of money asked for—$14 billion—is $2 billion less than the objective of the fifth war loan, it is still a gigantic total that will take hard work by the selling organization and the united support of the public to put it across. Of the $14 billion total goal of the Sixth War Loan, the quota for sales to individuals has been set at $5 billion and it is here that the principal sales effort will be concentrated. It is just this kind of money that is most needed to hold back inflationary spending and thus lessen the pressures that are tending to drive up prices. Since most subscriptions in this category however, come in relatively small sums, the individual amount of individual solicitation and effort is divided to build up the aggregates called for.

Reaching the goal of $5 billion for individuals will not be easy. Apart from the general problem of inertia mentioned at the outset of this article, it is true that many people not enjoying large income increases, and squeezed by higher costs and taxes, simply do not have the means to subscribe very much, especially after two war loans already this year. At the same time there is plenty of evidence of more than enough money in the hands of the people as a whole, if it can only be reached.

That great numbers of people still have ample funds to spend on luxuries and amusements is apparent on every hand. Transportation facilities, hotels, theatres, night clubs, cocktail bars, etc., are everywhere jammed. Gambling is rife, in New York State alone the state receipts from pari-mutuel betting during the first half of the current fiscal year totalled over $21 million, up 56 per cent from last year and indicating total bets and receipts at the race tracks in excess of $350 million. What the total of recorded and unrecorded bets would be for the country as a whole is anybody's guess.

Such items as the following, selected at random from recent issues of the daily press are significant. Fall shoppers to spend record $67 billion in 1944. Florida trains sold out for a month. Of course, a lot of people have money. . . . All they can buy is a luxury such as travel. . . . Circulation of $500 and $1000 bills expanded sharply in August. . . . Playhouses bulging with standees, Broadway jammed with night strollers, and the fall gold-rush is on. . . . Not an empty seat in a score of theatres, not a vacant room in a hundred hotels. . . . And on the week end of the Notre Dame-Army game people were sleeping in the parks and shooting galleries. . . . They know where they're coming from, but they're new faces in the Alley every night and they've all got money to (Continued on page 5)

WHAT ABOUT RECONVERSION?

By Ruth Taylor
You know how we run a word to death. Well, the present fad is for the word "reconversion." It is a good thought-provoking word—but there is one meaning of it which I don't think has been properly discussed, and which is even more important than business reconversion.
It is the reconversion, not of man power, but of mental power, of unty power. The force that backs our fighting men is not merely force of arms. It is the force of coordinated thought. It is practical working together.
We have learned in war how important it is to put aside our personal preferences and to do a job that is in the common interest. Are we, when the war is over, going to forget our hard-learned lesson and slump back into a selfish way of life? Are we going to scrap the plant we have built, the cooperative machine that did the job? Are we going to revert to bickering among ourselves?
Why cannot we reconvert this moral force and carry on our crusade? All we need, to do is to change the objective of our war to fight conditions, not men.
We have had a man-power shortage because we had to produce so many weapons or destruction. Cannot we, if we turn the same energy to effect, have full employment producing those things which make life more enjoyable?

Instead of building the paraphernalia of war, cannot we build homes? If we fought slum conditions, poverty and disease with one-tenth of the energy we have put into fighting people, we would destroy an olden enemy and assure the future for those who follow. We have worked hard to make our soldiers healthy and strong—to face death and mutilation. Cannot we work as hard to make our children healthy and strong, to wipe out the plagues of disease?

When in forums, my audience expresses concern about the problem of peace, I ask how many are doing community war work. Most of them are. Then I ask how many gave as much time to their community in peace. The silence is awful. However, there was a man once who broke it by saying, "We get it."

Reconvert to peace by all means—but do a complete job with the same energy used in war. Can't you see what a Utopia America could become? And WE could bring it about!

A Prayer of Thanksgiving God of our fathers at this Thanksgiving time our hearts are filled to overflowing. Our eyes, once wet with tears, are drier now... and broken hearts are surely mending because of Thy blessings unto us. A mighty fortress is our God... And that Divine guidance which has always been our priceless heritage is showing us the way! For this we offer thanks Thou hast stood beside our leaders... our loved ones, departed... and those who have remained at home. Thou hast given us courage and led us victoriously into battle... to build those things which Thou hast taught us to be righteous! For this we offer thanks. May we in turn bring to Thee, as proof of our devotion, the day when righteousness shall cover the earth... as the waters cover the sea.

He received 10 months of training in anti-aircraft at Camp Haan, Calif, and was then transferred to training as a combat engineer at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Monford Taylor reports that he has not heard from his son, Sgt Homer Taylor, prisoner of war in Germany, since late in August when he got word that his son had been transferred from Stalag Luft 6 in East Prussia to Stalag Luft 4 near Dresden in South Germany the former camp being threatened by the Russian invasion.

HOLLYWOOD

Gilderleeve as Pair of Hosts Harold Peary enacts a triple role in "Gilderleeve's Ghost," newest of the Gilderleeve comedies, appearing at the Hollywood theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23, 24, 25.

Peary plays the role of Gilderleeve and, in addition, the ghosts of two of his ancestors who put their heads together to think up schemes to help Gildy win the election as chief of police of Suhlmerfeld.

The scheme involves Gildy in difficulties right from the start, and he finds himself involved with two scientists with homicidal tendencies, a vicious gorilla, and a lovely girl who periodically disappears in front of his eyes. To add to his troubles, he manages to convey a most realistic impression to everyone that he is completely insane when he catches gorillas that aren't there and complains of being plagued by a beautiful girl who apparently doesn't exist.

How he vindicates himself and becomes a hero forms a climax to a picture full of laughs.

Chief supporting players include Marion Martin, Richard LeGrand, Freddie Mercer and Margie Stewart.

Cowboy Capers in Canteen Film "Cowboy Canteen, the Columbia picture showing at the Hollywood theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23, 24, 25, has in it the heartiest gang of entertainers ever corralled in one rooftop, too-much, musical. They give out with a $1,000,000 worth of entertainment. It's filled with hard riding, smart songs, lusty gags, grand gals, and great guys. It's a Western jamboree of joy.

Besides the star, Charles Starrett, "Cowboy Canteen" boasts a cast of expert cowpunchers and entertainers. There are Jane Frazee, Vera Vague, Tex Ritter, Dub Taylor, Glenn (Big Boy) Williams together with The Mills Brothers, Jimmy Wakely and his Saddle Gals, Roy Acuff and his Smokey Mountain Boys and Girls, The Tailor Mads and Bill Hughes.

The picture was directed by Lew Landeng from the script of Paul Gangelin and Felix Adler.

New Hair Style Shown in "Reveille," a new hair style designed to wake up the women of America to the importance of being feminine, is introduced by Ingrid Bergman in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Gaslight," in which she is starred with Charles Boyer and Joseph Cotton, appearing on the Hollywood screen Sunday and Monday, Nov. 23-27.

A distinct departure from the tailored mannish trends of the moment, the coiffure will prove as much at home in a defense plant as in the ballroom.

It features upswept locks and soft, modified bangs. A chignon extends from the crown of the head to the nape of the neck. There are no loose, hanging ends to be caught in power machines, and yet the effect is one of ultra-femininity. A special feature of the style is the fact that it can be adopted by women with either short or long hair.

"Reveille" was inspired by the 1870 gowns created by Irene, and designed by hat-stylist Sydney Guilaroff to meet the exacting requirements of these wartime days.

Paul Von Henrdit Ditched the "Von" Paul Henrdit, appearing at the Hollywood theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 23-24 in Warner Bros' "Between Two Worlds" had a genuine title, with a "von" in front of it. But he has shed it officially and finally and hopes that any person who recalls it will cooperate by forgetting it.

"It may have snob appeal but I detest that," he says.

Paul is—or was—legally an Austrian, and this invariably confuses the record takers who are putting everybody's name on file these days. This is why, he left Austria before the Germans took over, so he is by no means of German origin. But he was born in Trieste, which was once Austrian, but at the time of his birth belonged to Italy. For several years he lived in England. Now he is an American, a "First Paper Yankee," he calls himself. His father was a Swede.

By the time the record-takers get all this down, they are quite willing to forego wrestling with a title that's harder to spell than trinitrotoluol.

Katherine Mums, sp (W) 3/c, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Murry Hudson, storekeeper 2/c, as she sang "Be-cause," "O Heavenly Father," and "At Dawning" (Cadmair).

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT THE SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

AS WE MOVE closer to victory, it wouldn't be surprising if you were saying to yourself—"What's the big idea of asking for all this additional money now? Isn't the war almost over?" No sir, it is not! Not by a long shot. Of course, for many months now you've heard mostly about the war with Germany, where our greatest effort is concentrated. That's why many people have the idea that the war's practically over. But make no mistake about it—nothing could be farther from the truth! The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way. The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way. bulldozer blades, that cost $67,417 each. More amphibious tanks—more aircraft carriers—more supply ships—more gasoline and oil than it took for the invasion of Europe! Care for the Sick and Wounded And lest anyone forget, we shall need more battalion aid stations—more clearing stations—more evacuation hospitals—more convalescent hospitals—more hospital ships. For many, many years the sick, wounded, and otherwise disabled veterans will require medical attention and care. That's the least Uncle Sam can do in appreciation of what they've done for us. Winning the Peace—for Your Country If we're to win the peace as well as the war, the cost of living must be kept down and the purchasing power of money preserved. A reckless inflation that would necessarily be followed by the catastrophe of deflation—with its unemployment, bankruptcies, misery and heartache—must be prevented at all cost. Let's make no mistake—a dangerous period lies ahead. The American people have nothing to fear, however, if they show in the future the same common sense they have shown in the past, and continue to put every penny over their shoulders into the purchase of more and more War Bonds. Winning the Peace—for Yourself Want another important reason? Yourself! There isn't a better or safer investment in the world today than War Bonds. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Never in our entire history has it been so necessary to save as right now. We'll need money, individually, for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—and we'll need a lot of it. As you can see there are many reasons, important reasons, why our Government must have the financial support of everyone, and have it for many months to come. Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.

MOST THANKFUL INDEED will be the mothers and fathers of the sons who will be able to join them in the intimacy of the family circle on Thanksgiving Day this year. But there will be many homes in which service flags hang, where vacant chairs will be mute evidence of the fact that sacrifices must continue—sacrifices that are making it possible for us to give thanks now that our cities have not been bombed, that our people have suffered no starvation, that our children are safe.
