JULY 10 THRU JULY 16

Gilligan's Playmate? Bob Denver, rubber-faced star of the classic 1960s sitcom, "Gilligan's Island," plays a window dresser who wants to bring to life his favorite mannequin played by Barbi Benton, the former Playboy centerfold. This oddest of couples are the guest stars on the July 17 episode of ABC's "Fantasy Island."

Times are changing, and so are brides and grooms. A growing number of first-time wedding couples are placing independence or a career before marriage and are saying "I do" in their late 20s or early 30s.

Likewise, the number of second marriages is growing. They accounted for over 30 percent of the record 2.4 million weddings last year, according to statistical surveys.

These couples, and often each partner, have already established a working home. They bring to their new home an ample supply of linens, kitchen utensils, cookware, appliances and tabletop items, the traditional shower or wedding gifts.

Shopping for the ideal gift for the present or future needs of this bride and groom can, therefore, be a confusing task. What does one buy the couple who together already own many household basics?

First, look for versatile items that can be used in many different ways or that blend with almost any style of decor. Two such items are brass or decorative china accessories.

One ideal shower gift is a brass shell-shaped dish, available in two sizes, filled with unusual scented soaps for the bathroom.

Later, the dish can be used as a butter or preserve server, a paper clip or jewelry holder for the desktop or bureau or as an accent piece that blends with either colonial antique or ultra modern decor.

Bridal gift-giving has always included purchasing the couple's chosen china pattern.

However, if the couple already has a set of casual or formal china, give them an accessory piece such as a serving bowl or platter in a decorative pattern that complements the existing china.

Whether used as a serving dish or as the base for a holiday centerpiece, the complementary accessory items will be welcomed gifts.

Consider the couple's entertaining style. A silverplated wine cooler can add the final polish to a formal table setting.

Enhance the romantic ambience of those early months together by giving gifts appropriate for just the two of them. Silverplated cognac cups with engraved initials, china Irish coffee cups with silverplated holders or continental champagne glasses.

To add character to the gift include a celebrated bottle of cognac or champagne or a recipe for Irish coffee.

Another way to make a wedding gift memorable is to present it in an unforgettable manner.

A tall bell-shaped, Cherrywood full-lead crystal vase may look beautiful displayed in a tissue-filled box, but imagine the dazzle of the vase filled with colorful and exotic fresh-cut flowers.

Another approach is to invite the couple to a pre-wedding party and serve drinks with congratulatory toasts from a crystal decanter with matching barware.

Later, present them with the set as a reminder of a special evening spent with friends.
