

BOND SALES HERE UNDER 1/5 QUOTA

Sen. Benes, Brother Ex-President Czechoslovakia, Talks Here Mon.

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners Sez:

It's hard for an 'ol timer to tell the differences these days between the new teachers in town and the new girls in the freshman class

On Winding the Clocks

This scrivener had his attention called Monday by an observant soul to the fact that the town clock had been started and was again measuring the progress of eternity, after a rest of some weeks

There was some debate over the reason of the lapse. There had been a cold spell of a couple of weeks during which the mercury had plummeted down near frost line, but that hardly seemed enough to stop the clock

Anyway the clock has never frozen up since it was moved from the bank corner and divorced from the drinking fountain business up to that time it was usual during any weather under ten above to see the old post wrapped in a cloak of ice and the hands standing in rigid fixation

It seemed likely in this case that it just ran down because of lack of time by any of the city officials to wind it. To date the clock seems to be assigned to the jurisdiction of the police department, although why that department should be detailed to such menial duty rather than the street department or the city commission is not clearly explained in the city charter

It seems only fair in these days of specialization that the city have a full-time clock-winder. The idea is not without its precedent. A few years back when the payment of salaries to football players came under scrutiny, some of the Big Ten colleges commented on the difficulty of assigning the players to nominal jobs in which they did very little work but drew salaries enabling them to live in the style befitting a grad star. One such, we remember, had the job of winding the time piece in the college clock tower. Whether it required winding daily or weekly seems beside the point — in either case the duties were certainly reasonably light

To such as object we would pose the query: Why should the chief of police have to wind the clock any more than the city clerk? Or the chairman of the finance committee of the commission? Or, for that matter, the mayor? Here is a department that seems clearly apart from all other jurisdictions. Unless the chief of police, the fire chief, the mayor and other officials agree to draw lots and abide by the decree, there is an element of rank unfairness in just dumping the job on somebody because he happens to ride past it more frequently than the others.

Justice, in this case, seems to demand that there should be an official clock-winder, with a salary fitting the dignity of the office, and perhaps also a special uniform. In the time this scrivener has before the weekly deadline it is hardly possible to outline such design. It's color should of course be such as not to subject him to the indignity of being mistaken for a policeman. Since it would be some time between windings, there should be some sort of small but dignified office containing a comfortable seat around the base of the post.

Unless some such measure is taken, it will be inevitable that there will be recurring lapses into idleness on the part of the village time piece, during which us of the proletariat who cannot afford a wrist watch will be wholly at a loss to know when to go home nights, except for the losing of the taverns at such times as the taverns happen to close

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Falconbury of Gary, Ind., came Sunday to spend two weeks at their farm on M-60, east of Hills Corners. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ashbrook of Buchanan were Sunday evening guests.

Miss Lucille Long is spending this week in Florence, O., with her aunt, Mrs. J. S. Fisher.

Lectures at H. S. Auditorium to Talk of Hour Club

Buchanan Members May Hear Richard Struna at Niles Tonight

Senator Vojta Benes, a statesman, educator and writer of international repute, and brother of former President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, will present one of the "Talk of the Hour" numbers before members of the club of that name at the high school auditorium next Monday evening, Sept. 27, starting at 8 p. m.

Anyone who wishes to hear this number and remaining lectures in the series may secure season tickets covering the Benes lecture and the rest at the reduced price of $4.50 for dual memberships and $2.25 for single memberships from either Mrs. Ernest Newberry or E. C. Kaye.

Senator Benes will give his famous lecture, "Czechoslovakia in the Storm of Ages."

Senator Vojta Benes, called by his American friends "Czechoslovakia's Paul Revere," is internationally famed as a statesman, educator and speaker. Before he became Senator, he was a member of the National Assembly. As the head of its public school system, he rendered his country an outstanding service. He has written a number of books, including "10,000,000 Prisoners" (Chicago, 1940) and "The Mission of a Small Nation" (Chicago, 1942). In the same year that Hitler completed "Mein Kampf," Vojta Benes published his book, "For a Better World."

His brother, Eduard Benes, is now Czechoslovakia's president in London. At the Teachers College in Prague, from which he graduated in 1897, Vojta Benes became a devoted disciple of Thomas G. Masaryk, one of his teachers, who later became the first president of the Czechoslovak Republic. As a teacher, Vojta Benes taught the Masaryk brand of democracy to his pupils. It was under Benes' leadership that the fine national school system of Czechoslovakia was organized. After studying the school system of the United States in 1913, Mr. Benes wrote an outstanding book, "The School in a New Democracy."

Masaryk and the Brothers Benes worked together during the world war to liberate the provinces of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia from Austro-Hungarian yoke. The end of the war saw their efforts rewarded, and Vojta Benes returned home to employ all his strength and talent in the service of the new Czechoslovakian Republic's school system. He used the schools to create a spiritual and moral strength in the nation.

In 1924 Benes entered the National Assembly and served as a member for ten years, after which he became a member of the Senate. As Senator he was responsible for the passage of the famed Czechoslovakian school law, which established junior high schools throughout the republic, much to the chagrin of his nation.

In spite of personal danger he returned to Czechoslovakia to try to help save what was left of the republic. The Nazi armed forces, however, took complete possession of his country and he was forced to flee. His secret escape was dramatic. Since that time he has been in the United States crusading for the ultimate resurrection of his beloved Czech Republic.

Senator Benes is an excellent speaker and has conquered the English language. As a first-hand observer of events in Europe he is well qualified to give a vivid and dramatic picture of modern history in the making.

The tickets of Buchanan members of the "Talk of the Hour Club" will also be honored at the lecture by Dr. Richard Struna at the Methodist church in Niles at 8 p. m. this (Thursday) evening.

Dr. Struna will speak on a Russian theme, out of his experience as a soldier and a prisoner of war in that country. He was an officer in the German army on the Russian front for two years during the first World War, and afterwards was a prisoner for two years in Russian prison camps.

After the war he came to America, entered the profession of medicine and practiced several years.

H. J. Post Is Speaker Over NBC Hook-Up

George Spatta to Talk at Portage-Prairie Club Hall Following End of Radio Program

The Foremen's club of the Buchanan plant of the Clark Equipment company will participate in the Convention-by-Radio of the National Association of Foremen following a dinner meeting at the hall of the Portage Prairie Home Economics club on Portage road next Saturday evening, Sept. 25. The program begins at 7:15 Central War Time.

The convention will have a most pertinent interest to the local club because one of its members and former leaders, H. J. Post, will be one of the speakers over the nationwide NBC hook-up originating in the auditorium of the National Cash Register company in Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Post has served as president of the national organization during the past year, and has spent most of his time working in the interest of the organization all over the United States.

The list of speakers also includes Lt. General William S. Knudson, former head of General Motors, Paul C. Hoffman, head of the Studebaker Corporation, Charles E. Wilson, executive vice president of the War Production Board, and others. The Vincent Lopez orchestra will furnish music.

The theme of the program will be "Unity Amongst the Whole Supporting Force Behind Our Boys in Uniform." Following the conclusion of the radio program, George Spatta, executive vice president of the Clark Equipment company will give a talk commenting on the theme to the local club.

Inspiration for this unique event, the first of its kind in radio broadcasting history, was drawn from the request of Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, that convention travel be pared to the bone so that war production and heavy troop movements might have the right of way on the nation's already heavily burdened transportation lines.

More than 2000 foremen attended last year's Chicago convention from points near and far in the United States and Canada. This year's convention, which may also be the briefest in history, will permit virtually all members to attend, and yet lose no time in the production of the goods of war.

The Convention-by-Radio will feature a one-hour broadcast over some 150 stations of the blue network beginning at 8:15 p. m. Eastern War Time. Point of origin will be the auditorium of the National Cash Register company in Dayton, Ohio. The office of the National Association of Foremen is in Dayton and this year's convention will celebrate the 20th anniversary of its establishment.

The network portion of the program will not be confined to Dayton, but will move from point to point to pick up speakers or features as scheduled. Local foremen's clubs will meet simultaneously throughout the country, participate in the broadcast reception, and in addition conduct their own programs of dining, speaking, and entertainment, with each local program following a similar pattern, but with details adapted to local conditions.

The program is expected to draw a large listening audience in addition to speakers of national prominence, the proceedings will be spiced with music and entertainment of top-notch caliber. Further program details will be announced soon.

Calls For Turnout at Church Council Meeting Monday, Sept. 27

Urge More Interest Among Church People in Vital Community Problems

Sept. 21, 1943

A Letter to Buchanan

Have you enjoyed the sort of publicity Buchanan has claimed during the last few months? Remember—"Mother Shoots Love"; "Buchanan Pair Held For Rape"; "Fined for Contributing to Minor's Delinquency," etc.? Victorious literature is among some of our homes unsolicited, our newsstands are catering to the popular demand for "trashy" reading. Does it concern you, personally, that young men of 21 years and over, full of the zest of living, have nowhere to congregate for relaxation after working hours, except in our local taverns? When the predicted depression follows the cessation of war, will you be willing to share your bread and clothing with the increasing numbers of illiterate, improvident workers now settling in Buchanan, who, with no thought of the future, are spending their money like children?

Against these evils, and dozens of crying needs which may prove even more menacing to the future welfare of yourself and your family, the Buchanan Church Community Council is laboring in the birth-pangs of organization. It is natural that the ministers of the city are deeply interested in this organization, and are giving it earnest support. But this is not enough.

Are you a member or leader of a group trying to follow a definite line of constructive work in the community, perhaps along educational interests — a parent-teacher group, a mission-study group, a reading club, religious education group, a child-study group, or so on? Then your place is definitely at the annual council meeting to be held next Monday evening in the Methodist church. Are you a member or leader of a group interested in direct social welfare — a temperance group, a Red Cross unit, city welfare and relief, etc.? Then get yourself to this annual meeting! Are you a member or leader of a group interested in promoting recreation which is keeping with the standards of the Christian living, such as the Men's Christian Brotherhood, the Boy Scout movement, the Girl Scouts, the Recreation Center, and similar groups? Then get yourself, or a responsible representative to the annual council meeting next Monday evening! And again, are you a member of a church, whether here or in your home town? Then have the courage of your convictions, and lend your presence and your voting power to this church community council.

One of the hundreds of individual groups working alone in Buchanan may accomplish good; but those same hundreds of individual groups working cooperatively through one organized channel, can make a tremendous impact against the evil influences that are threatening to engulf our community. Your own home and family are endangered through this ineffectual, scattered opposition to, and tolerance of, these crying community needs. Let us organize and sustain a personal interest in this Buchanan Church Community Council. There should be not less than one thousand right-minded citizens at this initial meeting of the year next Monday evening. Are you "right-minded"? Then prove it! Answer this call personally.

Dowagiac Chiefs Trample Maroons

Stove City Brings Heavy and Experienced 11

Jack Mitchell, Sports Reporter

"Buchanan's—inaugural—football game with Dowagiac wasn't what the Bucks' fans expected. The reason was that the score at the end of the game stood, Dowagiac, 46, Buchanan, 6. Most of Dowagiac's scoring was done by a little rabbit-back by the name of Gwilt, who was responsible for 24 of the Chiefs' 46 points. Hippensteel accounted for 12 points, while Bregen registered 6. Arter figured in the scoring by kicking three placekicks after touchdowns, Brasier accounting for one.

Buchanan's scoring was divided between two backs on a long pass from D. Stibbs to R. Topash who scored standing up.

Highlighting the game were three runs by the Chiefs' "scooter-halfbacks" of 60, 50 and 35 yards from the line of scrimmage, all three good for touchdowns.

The line-ups of the game were: Buchanan — J. Anderson, re; Steminger, rt; Borst, lg; J. B. Anderson, center; Zupke, lg; Bromley, lt; J. Miller, lg; Letcher, qb; Rifenburg, rh; Stibbs, lh; Topash, fb.

Dowagiac — Russon, re; Duran, rt; D. Griffiths, re; Vanderberg, c; Robinson, lg; M. Griffiths, lt; Stafford, lg; Arter, qb; Gwilt, rh; Brezen, lh; Hippensteel, fb.

Officials for the game were R. Morse, C. Canfield, R. Root.

"Buchanan's next game will be at South Haven Friday, Sept. 24.

Public Waits For 'Big Buyer'

Possible For All to Find Place to Buy to Limit Without Being Canvassed

"We've got a long ways to go by Oct. 1," is the situation in the Third War Bond Drive, both for the campaign workers and the buyers, according to Chairman Oscar E. Swartz.

Granting that quotas are usually reached in a last-minute rush, there will have to be "some rush" this time if the mark set is reached.

The following summary handed to the Record on Monday evening by Chairman Oscar E. Swartz, makes that clear. The figures on Sept. 20 were:

E-Bonds—quota $337,500, bonds sold $116,068.75
F-Bonds and G-Bonds—quota $43,750, sold $11,026.
2 and 2 1/2 pct bonds, 7/8 pct bonds and C tax notes—quota $360,750, sold $2,500.
Total quota $750,000, total sold $139,594.75

It is felt that there is a widespread belief that "big buyers" will come to the rescue at the last minute and make up the quota, relieving the general public of a responsibility for extending themselves. Whether or not this is true, this attitude can defeat the purpose of the drive. It will not be a success in the real sense unless all take part to the extent of their ability.

The campaign leaders state that there is a dearth of workers for a thorough serious canvass. But the public knows the drive is on and they do not have to wait to be canvassed. If few can volunteer as workers, all can volunteer as buyers, and obviate the necessity of individuals adding to already full work quotas. Machinery for buying is already set up in the local factories and the remainder of the public need only find a place to apply.

It is true that there is a time drag in getting the bonds after application is made. This again is not a valid reason for hesitation in buying. You know that you will eventually get the bonds. They are being written by volunteer workers donating their time. There is a dearth of competent writers who can devote such time. But there is assurance that such work will be covered.

If you prefer not to be "canvassed" personally, you can render that entirely unnecessary by being your own personal canvasser. Among those heading the drive, and quite receptive to bond orders, are the following: Chairman Oscar E. Swartz, business men's committee, Joseph Roti Roti (chairman), Atty. Bill Denenberg, G. M. Wistner, chairman of E-Bonds fathers, H. H. Banke in addition, there are the former channels of sale, including the postoffice, the Union State Bank and the Hollywood theatre, which has been for many months a main place for War Bond transactions.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."
"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."
"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the war-alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. This entire industry stopped making whiskey months ago and has been working night and day producing nothing but war-alcohol."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that really is."

Why Were The Saints?

By Ruth Taylor

Over my desk I have a motto which is to me a daily reminder of what is needed in these trying times. Let me share it with you. "Why were the saints, saints?" Because they were cheerful when it was difficult to be cheerful, patient when it was difficult to be patient, and because they pushed on when they wanted to stand still, and kept silent when they wanted to be disagreeable. That was all. It was quite simple and always will be.

The days of the saints are not past. The need for saintly people was never greater. The tragedy of defeat brings its own courage for moments of crisis, but the road upward to victory is honeycombed with pitfalls for the unwary. We need now and will need even more when we face the great problems ahead of us before peace is established, leaders and followers who are alike moved, by unselfed devotion to the highest ideals.

We will have need of cheerful people, those who can be cheerful when it is difficult to be so, who are more interested in bringing happiness and prosperity to others than in selfish devotion to the highest selves want.

We will have need of patient people, those who can wait under difficulties, who do not need to rush through to the end, who must have everything happen at once as they want it, and who must live now as they think they should.

We will have need of persevering people, those who will push on when they are so tired they want to stand still, who will carry through the task before them even when heart and body fail, who do not give up under fire of criticism or complaint.

We will have need of thoughtful people as well as those who know when to talk and when to be still. We will have need of agreeable people, those who are trained in the habit of being kind and courteous even when tempted to be disagreeable. We will have need of self-controlled people, those who will not fall into the traps of hatred toward any group, whether it be of class or creed or color.

Call them saints if you will, it is those kind of people we will need, that we do need today, and it is the kind of sameness that is within reach of every one of us. It is a daily task, a daily problem. Try it for one day, and the next, and the next. You may fail every now and then. I do. We all do—but, if we keep on trying, the effort will become a habit and we will find our problems solving themselves.

"Why were the saints, saints?" Because they kept on living what they believed. It was quite simple and it always will be.

Consumers May Buy Grapes From Grower For Use

Growers in Dark Over Meaning of OPA Order Limiting Sales to Processors

Although most of the other provisions of the new regulations on grape sales seem quite misty, it is plain enough that individual consumers may buy from individual growers up to 100 pounds at an unregulated price.

Under a federal order of the War Foods administration which became effective at midnight Sunday and Monday night, growers will be permitted to sell Concord grapes only to processors. A WFA representative, John Halpine, Jr., met last evening with processors and inspectors at the Hotel Vincent, at Benton Harbor, to work out a plan for disposing of the crop.

It is understood that reliable sources, that in the event processors cannot absorb the supply from local vineyards that Halpine will have authority to divert supplies back into fresh fruit channels.

Buyers declare that processors in other states can absorb all of Michigan's crop.

Crop inspectors place Michigan's 1943 grape crop at 44,200 tons. Processors are able to absorb 24,000 tons of that amount in the local area.

The object of the War Foods administration order is to divert grapes from fresh fruit channels into processing channels. The finished products in the form of jams, jellies and fruit butters are thus available for purchase by representatives of the armed forces, lease-lend buyers, and civilian purchasers.

Until the OPA establishes a price for Concord, growers and buyers will be in the dark. Certain buyers who have orders from jelly companies are taking grapes subject to payment at levels to be established by OPA. Grape men are reported to be seeking $100 a ton.

Keeping Abdominal Muscles Developed

As youngsters when we wanted to show one another how strong we were, we tightened the upper arm muscle and the whole strength of the body was supposed to be in proportion to the size of our upper arm muscle.

I went with an older brother to see Sandow, the strong man, and my brother pointed out the ridges of muscles across the front of his abdomen.

"That's what shows the strength of a man," my brother told me. "If you see those ridges stand out, it shows the man is strong everywhere. Why, Sandow's abdominal muscles are so hard he uses them for a washboard!"

I believed this at the time and in a sense have always believed it, because the strength of the abdominal muscles has so much to do with the general health of the body, the proper working of the heart, lungs, stomach, liver, intestines. Well developed abdominal muscles give the body the proper posture—abdomen is drawn in, chest stands out, head is erect—thus enabling all the organs in chest and abdomen to have room to work.

A report from a European physician points out that actual disease of the organs in the abdomen can be caused or aggravated, when the organs fall downward due to lack of support by the abdominal muscles. This falling down of the abdominal muscles is called ptosis. By examining 100 bodies in which these organs were down low, he found that the distance the organs had dropped was in proportion to the weakness or weight of abdominal muscles.

Now it is not difficult to keep the abdominal muscles developed sufficiently to hold-organs-in place. It requires just a little thought and a little exercise daily. At all times we should try to stand and sit erect, stand as tall as we can. The exercise is "trying" to touch the toes, keeping knees straight. The slightest bend of the knees puts the work on the legs.

Owners of Motor Vehicles Urged to Check Anti-Freeze

Owners and operators of motor vehicles who plan to use anti-freeze saved over from last winter are urged by the office of defense transportation to have the liquid tested before putting it into the radiator to make certain that:

(1) It is not of a harmful oil or salt (corrosive) type

(2) Its anti-freeze strength is not impaired

(3) It contains sufficient acid and rust inhibitor

Norman J. Partritz, district manager ODT, points out that anti-freezes of the deleterious salt or oil type should not be used or reused. With the addition of acid and rust inhibitor as needed, permanent type anti-freezes (the ethylene-glycol type) can be reused safely so long as they have the required strength. They can be easily tested and if found weak, ethylene-glycol should be added, to give the required anti-freeze strength.

Since time and use expand the strength of acid and rust inhibitors in permanent type anti-freeze, fresh inhibitor should be added if litmus paper inserted in the solution turns pink or red, or if the solution looks rusty. This can be checked by allowing a sample of the solution to stand overnight in a clear glass container. If the solution is suitable for use, it will clear up practically water-white or with at least a trace of the original solution's color. Acid and rust inhibitor does not increase anti-freeze strength.

In adding new anti-freeze to any type of used anti-freeze, ODT advises, do not mix alcohol and ethylene glycol, since the mixture cannot be correctly tested. Wherever possible, it is advisable, when adding inhibitor or active anti-freeze, to use new materials of the same brand as the original and to follow carefully the manufacturer's instructions on the container.

Judge M. Hatfield Will Speak at Wis. Teachers College

Probate Judge Malcolm Hatfield will leave for State Teachers college at Plattville, Wis., Thursday evening where he will deliver two lectures Friday in the college auditorium before fifteen hundred teachers of the Southwestern Wisconsin Educational association.

Alternating with Judge Hatfield at the regional meeting of the Wisconsin Educational association will be Jack Morrow, former editor of the Japan Times of Tokyo.

On Oct. 15 Judge Hatfield and Mr. Morrow will journey to Minneapolis where they will each deliver two lectures before the Central Minnesota Educational association.

By taking his annual vacation a day or so at a time, Judge Hatfield is able to present to educational administrators and teachers in various sections of the midwest approved methods whereby they can discover and diagnose those emotional maladjustments of students that lead to juvenile careers of crime. Since Howard Higgins, president of the International Teachers association, announced last summer that Judge Hatfield, because of his high professional competence, had been listed for Who's Who on the American Platform, the Judge has had far more requests for lecture engage-

Wash Garbage Pail
Although thrifty housewives don't put as much into the garbage pail these days as they used to, still this utensil is a household necessity. To keep it from being a source of unpleasant odors, it should be emptied regularly, and should have a weekly soaking with warm soapy water. Rinse with scalding water, then set in the sun to dry before re-using.

Sweden Pure Nordic
Sweden worked off its zest for empire building in its youth, has no colonies, no immigration problem. Population, virtually all native born, is pure Nordic in type. Extremes of wealth and poverty are unknown. Ability to get things done is taken for granted. Ordinary comforts are within reach of the majority.

Thrilled No End!

A group of nervous, excited youngsters raced through the upper halls, thrilled with the joy of a new life—the seventh grade. But after awhile the thrill wore off and all that was left was the drudgery of plowing through overcrowded halls and worrying about home work assignments. Soon, however, something happened to awaken the thrill—the seventh graders were issued their lockers. This time the feeling "stuck" and was renewed, every time they worked their "combs" or hanged their coats up in the small steel cabinet. By the close of the first week, they have decided which teachers they like and which are their favorite subjects. There are very few favorite subjects, but there are more than a few teachers.

Mr. Hyant, a former instructor, called at Mr. Stark's office Monday.

Miss Graves attended a M E A meeting in Paw Paw Wednesday, Sept. 15.

The band will play for all the home games. They would like to play for at least one away game.

Lana Turner Concerts

New Soda Fountain Dish

If Lana Turner were a man she might aptly be called the Tom Edison of the soda fountain.

Since she plays a soda seltzer in her newest film, "Slightly Dangerous," coming Sunday and Monday, Sept. 26-27, to the Hollywood theatre, the blonde Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star is on intimate terms with fountain confections. She has even evolved a few of her own, one so tasty it has hit the studio commissary's menu as the "Banana Royal."

Consisting of a banana, cottage cheese, prunes, fruit corn flakes and whipped cream, the dish is rapidly becoming a Hollywood favorite.

"Slightly Dangerous," a hilarious farce dealing with a romance, an amnesia masquerade, and comical complications galore, teams Miss Turner with Robert Young for the first time. The film was directed by Wesley Ruggles. Players include Walter Brennan, Eugene Pallette, Howard Freeman, Dame May Whitty, Pamela Blake, Florence Bates, Alan Mowbray and others.

New Singing Role For Dooley Wilson

Dooley Wilson, who sang "As Time Goes By" in the picture "Casablanca," will be seen in a similar role in Universal's "Two Tickets to London." The film, starring Michele Morgan and featuring Alan Curtis, comes Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 28-29, to the Hollywood screen.

Wilson sings two numbers in the new romantic action melodrama, "Lead Kindly Light" and "You Are My Sunshine."

HOLLYWOOD

Don Terry Given Role of Villain

Whenever Universal studios produce a special action or adventure picture, Don Terry usually is to be found somewhere in the cast.

Terry, who has built up a reputation as a screen hero in such adventurous film productions as "Don Winslow of the Navy" and "Don Winslow of the Coast Guard," Universal's chapter plays, appears in "Sherlock Holmes in Washington" as a villain. The film comes Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23-25, to the Hollywood theatre and Terry's role has action. That's the main consideration, Terry says.

Co-stars in "Sherlock Holmes in Washington" are Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.

Barry Sullivan, New Movie Star, Halls From Stage

Barry Sullivan, Hollywood's newest leading man, owes the start of his career as an actor to his height.

When Sullivan was attending Temple University and playing on the football team, the dramatic coach, especially tall boy, to play opposite the leading lady, who happened to be a tall girl. The football team was lined up, and the tallest player told to step forward and accept the lead in the play. That was Barry Sullivan who stands almost three inches over the six-foot mark.

Subsequently, Sullivan went to Broadway and, became a star, playing opposite every big name actress of the New York stage. Producer Pine chose Sullivan to appear in one of his Victory Shorts, called "We Refuse to Die," which dramatized the tragedy of Lidice.

Sullivan did so well in his first movie appearance that Paramount signed him immediately to star in "High Explosive," the new thriller which comes Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23-25, to the Hollywood theatre, with Chester Morris and Jean Parker in the other two top spots. The picture concerns the highly dangerous handling of TNT, or nitroglycerine, in the nation's victory program, and according to reports, is dynamic and powerful movie entertainment.

Abundant in Sea Water.

One of the easiest substances to dissolve, sodium chloride or common table salt, is seven times as abundant in sea water as its nearest rival, magnesium chloride, another easy-to-dissolve salt. All in all, in 1,000 parts of sea-water about 35 parts are dissolved solids usually called salts. The sum total of the salts in the seas is so great that if they were dried out and spread on the present land surface, it is estimated they would cover it more than 150 feet deep.

Uncle Sam Turns "THUMBS DOWN ON WASTE"

"CONSERVATION OF FUEL, MANPOWER AND CRITICAL MATERIALS IS A 'MUST' IF WE ARE TO ACHIEVE THE MAXIMUM WAR PRODUCTION EVERY AMERICAN WANTS."

From a joint statement by Messrs. Ickes, Eastman and Nelson

YOUR Government through the War Production Board and other agencies asks for public cooperation in a voluntary program to conserve fuel, manpower and critical materials in order to achieve maximum production for war.

To accomplish this result, we are urged by the Government to ask all citizens to avoid waste of coal, petroleum products, water, gas, electricity, transportation, and communications.

There is no shortage of electricity as such either for war needs or essential civilian use, but electricity is made largely from fuel and certain critical materials are required in connection with its production and use. As a result, electricity is indirectly involved in the program.

The War Production Board warns that no effort should be made to curtail uses of electricity necessary for public safety and health including eyesight conservation, plant protection, transportation, and production purposes.

The program applies to all electric customers, but more specifically to those who use electricity for commercial purposes. We are listing below the steps for voluntary conservation by commercial customers as recommended by the W.P.B.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

Potato Industry Grows

Starch factories and dehydrating plants that have sprung up in northern Maine since Pearl Harbor prove that America's uses for the potato are increasing. Maine's Aroostook county has the loam and climate to win top rank among the nation's potato regions. It normally grows one-ninth of the nation's crop. Its farms average 270 bushels per acre against a national average of 130 bushels. Increased acreage needs only the co-operation of the weather to make a record crop in 1943.

Do you know a fellow like Joe?

JOE'S MY KID BROTHER. We've always stuck together and I've sort of watched out for him these last few years.

Well, Joe's in Africa now. His wife gets her allotment from him, and I guess when that's taken out of his check he doesn't have much left. Privates don't get paid much you know.

I figure this way. Here I am, making more money than I ever did before. You bet I work for it! But Joe's working hard too... and not just from 7 to 5, either.

We've been taking 10 percent out of my work every week for War Bonds... They're going to come in mighty handy when the War's over, we figure. But I got to thinking about Joe. What's he going to have after the War?

So we talked it over, my wife and I. We think Joe should get a cut of the bigger money, too. So now I'm buying an extra bond every month—in Joe's name.

Maybe you've got somebody in the War, too. If you have, couldn't you squeeze out an extra bond now and then, for your "Joe"?
