Tales of An Old Town

An Attempt to Reproduce a Cross Section of The American Scene, As Witnessed Here Through the Past Century

No. 2—Being a Continuation of the Story of Weesaw Twp
The continuation of this story may read at times something like the "hegats" sections of the Old Testament, calling the roll of the first settlers.

About the time Joseph G. Ames platted the town of New Troy in 1837, he was followed there by Timothy Atkins, Ezra Stoner, Charles McCracken, and John Pidge, all of whom took up timber claims and built sawmills on either side of the Galien river.

Charles McCracken, grandfather of Mrs. George Cassler, was township clerk 1844-46. His unexplained disappearance was one of the mysteries of the early days. Several arrests were made, but no conclusive action was ever taken.

Joseph Ames was the first supervisor and Ezra Stoner the first town clerk. Alpheus Hill, native of Connecticut who had settled in Ohio, came to New Troy in 1840, moving later in 1846 to the locality afterwards known as Hill's Corners. One of his sons, Edward, kept the first store in New Troy.

In 1840 the township had 123 inhabitants, in 1870 1243. Among the early settlers were William Solomon and Hiram Gould. Gould built a sawmill on the north side of the Galien river on the present site of New Troy in 1838. Luman Northrup and F. Finnigan took over the Gould mill Old timers classified Finnigan and Northrup as "pettifoggers"—signifying that although they were not lawyers, they pleaded cases in the lower courts.—Nelson—Willard.—Joseph Ames and Ezra Stoner built the "North Mill," on the south side of the Galien river at New Troy. Comfort and Union Pennell were early settlers, also Benjamin F. Pennell, son of Comfort. In 1852 Ambrose and Thomas Morley came from New York state to set up a new mill on the site of the old Gould mill, known as the "North Mill." Later (in 1863) this mill was converted into a flour mill which is still operating under the management of Dean Morley, a descendant.

In the sixties Alonzo Sherwood, son of Seth Sherwood of Buchanan township, bought 250 acres in Weesaw and 240 acres in Lake township and engaged in large scale lumbering and farming. A horse power railway was operated for several years from his Oak Grove sawmill on the town line road to Brown's pier on Lake Michigan. The forest fires of 1871 destroyed both the Oak Grove sawmill and the railway. In his first ventures Sherwood had been financed by Perry Fox and Capt. George Richards of Buchanan. After the fire he borrowed money from Mr. Womer, a rich farmer on Portage Prairie to rebuild his sawmill. After about ten years, business reverses overtook Sherwood and he left for the West, leaving his creditors to salvage what they could.

For a while Horace Wagner, brother of the late Ira Wagner, lived on the Sherwood farm, until after the turn of the 20th century. Other settlers were Samuel Washburn, who settled on what is now the Cleveland avenue road in 1842, also Hiram Wells, who settled on the same road just across from what is now the Wolverine Gardens. Henry Searies settled at Hill's Corners in 1845. Ephraim Murdock settled on the northwest quarter of Section 34 about 1842. Robert Eaton settled in 1846 on the southwest quarter of Section 25, later owned by A. T. Hall, Hugh Lamb and wife and sons came from New York state in 1851 and settled on the northeast quarter of Sec. 26. His sons settled as follows: William on Sec. 25, Alexander and Thomas on Sec. 36.

G. A. Orris settled first in Chickaming township but soon moved to Weesaw. Among his descendants now living in the Gardner district in Weesaw township are William Orris and Charles Orris, the latter living on the old Orris homestead, in the possession of the family almost 100 years. William Orris lives on the old Hagley farm. The Hagleys were also among the early settlers. Michael Hagley, great grandfather of Fred Hagley, brought his family over from Germany in 1853. Michael was a brother of Mrs. Andrew Conrad and also of Mrs. Kool, grandmother of Mrs. Ida Kool Roundy, Gottlieb Hagley, father of the late Warren Hagley, was the second son of Michael Hagley.

It is related that another son, John, married Melinda Weaver. A diphtheria epidemic which swept the district took three of their five children and the funerals of all three were held at once in the Gardner school house. Ous Stearns and family came from Ohio in 1849 and settled on what was later known as the Godfrey Boyle farm, now the George Hartline farm. Mr. Stearns built the large house which is still standing, the first house west of the town line road between Weesaw and Buchanan townships. Here is the place to throw in a little sidelight on those days Ous Stearns was widely known in the old pioneer times as a "good neighbor," as neighbors were then known. This meant that he was always a standby in times of extremity, a main dependance in sitting up with the sick in those days when there were so many illnesses. And he cared for the sick, but when they died he was a main dependance in "laying out" the dead, when there were as yet no undertakers.

He was also quite a humorist and a "tall story" teller. The "tall story" did not mean taking liberties with the truth but was a species of pioneer American humor. For instance, whether in the "big house" referred to above or in a previous pioneer house we do not know but he built a fireplace in one of his homes. A neighbor visited him and asked how the new fireplace worked. "It's got, too much draught," replied Stearns very seriously, "the other day I came into the house and my old cat sat on all her kittens were in front of that fireplace hanging on to the rug with all their claws dug in. That draught was just about to pull all of them up the chimney."

A post office was established in New Troy in 1860. The first postmaster was Ambrose Morley, who was followed in succession by Dr. Bostwick, George B. Hiller and Charles Smith. In 1890 Ambrose Morley was running a hotel in New Troy that year the village contained 170 inhabitants, 35 dwellings, a church, post office, hotel, school house, four general stores, a drug store, two blacksmith shops, a wagon shop, a mill, grist mill, and one physician. The first school in New Troy, known to the old timers as "Troy," was taught by Miss Louisa Hill. At one time in the early days there was another town called Kirkstown, 1 1/2 miles west of New Troy, named after Dexter Curtis, who owned the sawmill and was nicknamed "Kirk".

Cpl. Canfield Tells of Landing on Bougainville

The following consists of excerpts from a letter from Cpl. Clarence E. Pritchett, U. S. Marine Corps, which was reproduced with the accompanying cut in the Advocate-Messenger, of Danville, Ky. Cpl. Pritchett was born and reared in Buchanan and vicinity and attended schools here, leaving about six years ago. He has two sisters here, Mrs. Lester Canfield and Mrs. Clarence Canfield. His friends here will enjoy the following:

"I was in the Bougainville campaign which is why you didn't hear from me for some time—I guess you know by the papers that the Marines did a good job and slaughtered a great many Japs. They were piled up like corded wood!

"The bulldozer is a handy machine when it comes to burying japs. They just scoop them up, push them into a hole, and cover them up. They build a road over the top of them for good measure, makes a good foundation for a highway.

"I didn't get a scratch all the time I was there. A few close ones but they don't count. "One little incident I remember was one day when we moved into a strip of jungle that had been occupied by the Japs about half an hour before, and of course, they always leave behind a sniper or two to worry you.

"I had just stopped the tractor and stood up when one of the little yellow devils cut loose. The first shot went completely wild but the next one brushed my hair. "The two boys I had for crewmen, one from Minnesota and the other from Massachusetts, let go with the machine guns, and some fellows riding on the tractor fired their weapons; and the Jap lost all interest in the war from then on—I'll bet he had 200 bullets.

"I never wore my steel helmet much until then but after that I felt un-dressed without it. "I was in on the initial landing which was a successful operation. The Japs did what they could to stop us, but it was duck soup for the Marines who would have been mad if we'd have had everything our own way. The landing was made on a Monday morning and the day before I attended a fine church service. The chaplain gave us a talk that helped a lot. Guess I did more prayin' during the time on Bougainville than in all the rest of my life put together.

"The air raid is something you never quite get used to. We'd been through them before Bougainville, but the last one is as bad as the first! Dive bombing is more terrifying than any other because it seems the bomber itself is coming right into your fox-hole with you. You'd swear he was aiming at you—sometimes he comes so close.

"I saw many Jap planes shot down and apparently, all Japs are not intent upon dying for their Emperor, for I saw some of them use parachutes.

"A pretty sight it is when at night the searchlights catch an enemy bomber in their beam, and you see all the anti-aircraft guns open up. It looks like millions of little lights crisscrossing the sky and prettier, even when the bombs drop in flames—it is like a movie; but when you think the plane up there had a load of destruction to lay in your lap, all possibility of the enjoyment you'd receive from a movie is gone.

"I didn't pick up any souvenirs; was just interested in bringing back myself as a souvenir. Describing the feeling of lying in a foxhole with Jap planes overhead, Corporal Pritchett says they sound like a Model T Ford, and adds: "You can hear the click-click-click of the bombs when"

Maroons Slump To Lose 47-28 to Berrien Springs

Last-Quarter Rally Fails to Overcome Early Lead of Berrien

(By Doris Fuller)
Friday night, Feb. 8, Buchanan was beaten by Berrien Springs 47-28 on the latter's court before excited followers.

In the first minutes of the beginning quarter Buchanan really was going hot. Later the boys just couldn't get that ball for their own. The score at the end of the quarter was Berrien 10, Bucks 5.

The second quarter is usually Buchanan's best quarter, but the Bucks couldn't keep the ball. The Shamrocks did a lot of stalling in this quarter. Maroons had better practice those free shots before Friday's game with New Troy. At the end of the second quarter Berrien Springs lead by 4 points. Berrien Springs 16, Buchanan 12.

In the third quarter the old "jinx" must have overworked a little. Berrien has two good assets—long shots and long throws which nearly always caught Buchanan off guard. The score at the end of the quarter was Berrien Springs 32, Bucks 15.

In the last quarter Buchanan came back with plenty of stamina but it was too late. Berrien was too much in the lead. The one dangerous Maroons lost to Berrien Springs 47 to 28.

The reserve team lost to Berrien Springs 34-40. The Shamrocks held a lead the entire game. Buchanan was high point man with 8 points, followed by Max Polley and Owen Rifenberg with 7 points each.

Friday night, Feb. 25, Buchanan plays New Troy on the latter's court.

Scholarship In U of M Offered BHS '44 Class

Charles H. King Is Chairman Selection Committee

A better opportunity than ever before is being offered the graduates of Buchanan high school this year to attend the University of Michigan through its recently greatly enlarged scholarship program.

C. H. King has just been named chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the University of Michigan Club in Buchanan which has charge of evaluating applicants for awards. Other members of the committee named by President Dr. M. J. Converse are R. G. Van Deusen, Fred Smith.

The scholarships pay the tuition for the freshman year and will be renewed for each of the three remaining years as long as the holder's performance warrants such action. Along with the cash value, receiving one is a definite honor both to the individual and the school and the committee.

The Alumni Club's committee will evaluate the applicants on the basis of (1) scholarship and being in upper third of class, (2) moral character and good citizenship, (3) leadership and evidence of ability to profit by the opportunities offered by the university, (4) financial need will be a factor if there is a choice between two applicants.

Alumni Undergraduate Scholarships have been offered in previous years. The Buchanan club each year has recommended two. This year in addition there is one of the University List awards. The Alumni scholarships are limited to 100, and divided among those communities having clubs. There is a University List scholarship for each accredited high school in Michigan.

To apply for either of these, the student should ask his principal or superintendent for three forms from the University which he already has. He fills these out and returns two to the principal, the other one going to C. H. King, the Alumni club committee chairman.

This scholarship committee interviews all applicants and decides which to recommend for the Alumni Undergraduate and which for the University List awards. The number which can be named for the former necessarily is limited. These will compete against students picked at other schools throughout Michigan for the 100 available scholarships.

On the other hand, each school can have as many applicants for the University List as it wishes. These students compete against each other, since only one senior from each school can receive this honor scholarship.

However, no school or committee can assure a student that being evaluated and approved means he or she will receive one of the scholarships. These are granted only to those students whose applications measure up, who successfully pass a battery of psychological and achievement tests, and who satisfy an interviewing committee from the university that they are of university scholarship caliber.

The deadline for the applications is March 10. As soon as these are filled out, they should be mailed to R. O. Morgan, Alumni Office, Ann Arbor.

Lt. Jeanne Bovee Writes of Australia

The Record has received a letter from Miss Jeanne Bovee, former physical director for girls, now with an army medical unit in Australia. She writes:

"I have seen a good deal of Australia aboard train, tram, ferries and afoot. The Aussie trains are much different from ours. Here you can stand on the platform and gaze at the scenery, or if you prefer, you can hold your head out the window at any time. However it is a good plan to close all the windows and then duck as you pass through tunnels, or you will be covered with dirt and soot. The nice surprise on these trains is that at seven in the morning the porter raps at your door and hands you a cup of hot tea and some cookies, while you are still in bed. Wouldn't it be nice if our trains adopted that policy?

"I have enjoyed the Record so much. It always brings back memories of the happy years I spent in Buchanan.

"Sincerely, Jeanne Bovee."

The boys get quite a kick out of 'Tokyo Rose', a Japanese woman who breaks in on our radio and talks to us. She always sends a lot of Japanese propaganda. She usually signs off with 'Well, boys, if you have any complaints to make, send them in to me.' Some of the boys think it could be Amelia Earhart. But no one seems to pay any attention to her. They have a swimming period here practically every day but I'll be darned if I swim in it. Too many sharks to dodge to suit me. They even follow the ships for the garbage. And I'll be darned if Mrs Rough's son, Ray, is going to be shark bait. Day before yesterday I had a chance to see a navy nurse, and boy, she ever looked good after not having seen a white girl for two months. The Japanese carry the women right with them. Your son, Ray, I got a Christmas card from the Navy Mothers club and sent them a 'thank you' note. Enclosed with his letter was a Japanese currency bill for ten yen.

Richard Troutfetter Writes Dear Mr Hawes I have received two letters from friends in Buchanan, due to you placing my last letter in the Record. I want to thank you and others on the Record staff who made that possible. I am much in favor of the column you have on boys in the service. I think the best column you run is the one entitled "Tales of an Old Town". It is very interesting to learn what the town was like many years ago. That is my main point of interest when I receive your weekly copy.

Well I will wait for a close but I will be waiting for either the Record or a letter from you. Sincerely yours, Pvt Richard Troutfetter

Editorial Note—We hope that all our readers and especially those in the armed services understand that there is a ruling against printing the addresses of servicemen who are overseas on ships outside the territory of the United States if there is the name of a military unit or a ship in the address. This ruling (which is more of a request from the government than a ruling) is made because if too many addresses were printed which designated units in particular areas, it might be that the paper would fall into the hands of those who could estimate the disposition of our forces, and report to the enemy. This request from the Bureau of Voluntary censorship also includes some limited areas in the United States that are designated "defense areas". For that reason the addresses of service men, such as Troutfetter, now overseas, are not printed.

Lt Stahl Writes J S Stahl, former instructor and coach on the Buchanan High School staff, now a lieutenant (junior grade) in the naval air training center at Rodd Field, Corpus Christi, Texas, wrote recently as follows: "I have seen Bob Six twice in the past week. He is a Marine sergeant, located approximately 400 miles from here. Bob recently successfully passed an examination for Aviation Cadet. So he is standing by for orders. I am proud of him, he has come a long way. "I am still Athletic officer for the Cadet Battalion. We now have the largest advanced squadron in the navy, and it seems to be growing. We have 611 cadets aboard at present and will grow to 650 I am sure. We have land based bombers here and they fly as far as St-Louis on navigation hops. I hope to catch a hop north in the near future. Best regards, Jim Stahl

Dean Wilcox Writes Dear Mr Hawes, I am a Sea Bee in the U.S. Navy, stationed in the New Hebrides. Before enrolling for the service I was employed at the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. I get your paper, though not until it is a month or more old, but still I enjoy reading the news of my home town. I am writing a few lines for the Record to let the folks back home know what this island life is like. When you first land it is tough, no camp, no chow hall, no showers, no toilets—you have to build all these yourself. But we sure have swell showers now, built from old oil drums. But they do the job. Then you have the flies, which are like Jap Zeros. You are lucky at chow if you don't eat a few. Then there's the little mosquitos with the malaria germs and ants of all kinds, lizards and numerous other bugs that you sleep with if you try to sleep but after the Sea Bees have worked six months as we have you would not know the place. A swell chow hall, nice showers (cold water of course), good living quarters, and good eats except for the great amount of spam and mutton we get here. And that all takes plenty of good hard working hours, in addition to the work we do which I don't dare mention. We had a few calls from the Zero boys when we first landed here, but now they are all busy elsewhere I guess.

"We were all a little scared but when we started for the beach we were so busy there was no time to be scared. A thrill went thru everyone. The Naval ships were blasting the beach with gunfire and our dive bombers were bombing and strafing Jap gun installations.

"I was not over 100 yards from shore when we noticed bullets kicking up water around us, and we saw three Japs start a light machine-gun down on the beach and as soon as we spotted them their names were mud. They went down under a blast of machine-gun bullets.

"The Nips sent over some plane while we were landing but most ended up in the sea. The landing was successful and a credit to the Marines."

Students Should Get Their Education Today

Through the years of the first structure of our country men fought and died to make our nation possible. Education was one of the developments given to all, the rich and poor. In the early years boys and girls had to walk many miles to get to school through the storms and blizzards. Through all their hardships they honored and appreciated the school and the people who devoted their lives to teach them, and they lived up to what they had learned. This respect for learning is missing in our youth today, pupils skip and do not study. Teachers devoting their lives to the pupils' service cannot help but feel the lack of interest by the pupils in education. If young people lacked capacity for learning there would be an excuse, but our students have full mental equipment. Appreciation for learning can be shown by attending classes regularly and studying. Devoted parents are still sacrificing for youth. So if you are not ill or have some other handicap, attend school regularly so you can obtain an education now. These school years are your most receptive years for learning. LEARN TODAY IN ORDER TO SERVE BETTER, TOMORROW.

Roger Wissler, the handsome seventh grader, is the vice-president of his class. He is an ardent fan for all sports, but his favorite sports are horseback riding, basketball and ice skating. He has a little hayseed left in his hair from having lived a year on a farm near Baroda. He was born here, thus he is a true son of Buchanan. He likes all types and kinds of food except macaroni, cheese and spinach. He hasn't made up his mind for plans for the future, but we all know that he will be a success in whatever he chooses.

DAR Makes Historical Contributions

An enviable record of historical contribution to the community has been achieved by the Fort St. Joseph chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, since its organization May 13, 1913.

Among achievements of the Fort St. Joseph chapter has been marking of the graves of two Revolutionary heroes—Edward Otis, Buchanan cemetery, and Eliza Chilton, Silverbrook.

In 1922 the site of Carey Mission was marked by a boulder containing a bronze plate. The tablet was unveiled by Doris Eager, now Mrs. Harold Hunziker, and Marvin Harger, children of chapter members.

Three years later—Oct. 15, 1925—the chapter presented to the Berrien county board of supervisors an oil portrait, framed and marked, of John McPherson Berrien, for whom the county is named.

This painting, presented by Mrs. A. F. Bither, then regent, and unveiled by Mary Eleanor Moon, now Mrs. Paul Howes, hangs in the rotunda of the court house in St. Joseph.

Other activities have included presentation of Good Citizenship medals to senior girls in the Niles and Buchanan high schools, awarding of medals for outstanding work in United States history and providing of flag codes and flags to schools.

Mrs. Glenn Smith, Buchanan, is the present regent.

Farm Fertilizer Is Scarce Article

The fertilizer situation is growing more serious each day according to Robert Koengshof. Labor shortages in the manufacturing plants are delaying preparation of fertilizer but delays in distribution are still more serious. Limited manpower in the shipping department coupled with decreased trucking facilities are slowing down the rate of delivery of fertilizers after they are made. These distribution troubles extend from the factory clear down to the local dealer. The result is that a large volume of fertilizer cannot be handled in a limited time shortly before the planting season as has been done in the past. Because of the slow-down in delivery there must be a continuous flow of fertilizer from factory right out to the farm during the remainder of the winter. If this steady flow is not maintained, many farmers will not get fertilizer until after planting time. The solution to this problem is the immediate ordering of fertilizer by all farmers and the acceptance of delivery of fertilizer just as soon as the dealer can supply them. The farmer who gets his fertilizer into his own barn during February is the man who will have fertilizer when he starts planting.

Personal Booklets for Telephone Numbers

FOR your convenience in telephoning, and to help reduce wasteful calls to "Information", we have reprinted "Telephone Numbers", a booklet for listing names, and addresses, and telephone numbers that are frequently called.

You can have copies free for the asking!

There are two handy sizes, one for pocket or handbag and one for home or office use. They are alphabetically tabbed and indexed for quick reference.

More than a thousand operating hours are wasted each day by calls to "Information" for numbers that are listed in the Telephone Directory. Here is how you can help eliminate that waste of switchboard and operators' time:

1. Call "Information" for a number only when it is not listed.
2. If you must call "Information", write the number down in your personal directory so you will have it next time.

To obtain copies of the booklet, call, write or visit the Telephone Business Office.

HONEST INJUN!

Your electric bill may be more but electricity costs you less!

That's what the professors call a "paradox"—it sounds screwy but it's really true.

If we say simply that the price you pay for electricity today is only about half what it was fifteen years ago, you don't believe us.

You figure that we're wrong because your electric bills are about the same now as they were then—or even a bit bigger. How can electricity be so much cheaper?

Like most folks, you forget all the electric appliances you added over those years. You were building up your use of electricity while our rates were coming down. The more you used, the lower the rate you earned. But even though the present price is a lot lower, you're using a lot more electricity.

That's the way it is. HONEST INJUN!

Today, the average American family gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did fifteen years ago.

What's more, while war has sent many other prices soaring, the price of electricity has stayed at low pre-war levels—thanks to the friendly, experienced men and women who serve this company—and serve you.

But even though electricity is cheap, and unrationed, PLEASE DON'T WASTE IT.
