68th FIGHTER SQUADRON
SINGLE ENGINE
APO 705

6 May 1944

Subject Commendation

To Those Concerned
1st Sgt. Woodrow W. Crittenden was a faithful and loyal member of the 68th Fighter Squadron since its activation. For a period of thirty-two months Sgt. Crittenden was the non-commissioned officer in charge of Technical Supply where he did an excellent job, often in the absence of a Commissioned Officer, in taking the responsibility. He is to be highly praised for his work while in the combat zone at Guadalcanal where his effort, ability to search out and secure parts and equipment from any available source kept many planes flying when these were in no way obtainable from the regular sources of supply. His conscientious work and thorough knowledge of the work was the making of this department at all times.

Due to his ability for leadership and the highest respect of the men and officers of this organization he was promoted to 1st Sgt. where he has shown himself to be a very valuable man. He is commended for his excellent work throughout the entire time that the writer has known him and had the pleasure of working with him these twenty-seven months overseas.

am leaving the squadron which in a sense I regret for there is none better and Sgt. Crittenden had much to do with the making of this feeling true. My best wishes for future continued success are left with him.

Karl P. Conradi,
Major, Air Corps,
Executive Officer

Tales of An Old Town An Attempt to Reproduce a Cross Section of The American Scene, As Witnessed Here Through the Past Century

By Fred Richter

This may be an unusual article for your readers—which it is intended to be.

It may be of interest to the old timers who attended a one-room country school. There's probably a lot of you old boys that had that experience, but let's just take me for an example and see how it falls with your experience.

There's not much I can say of the first two or three years of those times—probably the bringing of an apple or a bunch of peaches from the woods, Johnny Jump-Ups, Jack-In-The-Pulpits, and the sort, for the teacher I loved so much to show them that I loved them perhaps as just looking for an example and see how it falls with your experience.

Let's go back to the "taking up" of school in the morning, with we kids singing from that little book called the "Long Knapsack," maybe a song like this: "Twenty froggies went to school down beside a rustling pool. 'We must be in time,' said they. 'First we study, then we play. That is how we keep the rule.' Twenty froggies went to school. Or another called 'The County Fair', which went like this: "We will take our squash and chickens. And our bedquits and our pigs. How they say the chickens. When they see us, they'll say 'ug' maybe a song like this: "Twenty froggies went to school down beside a rustling pool. 'We must be in time,' said they. 'First we study, then we play. That is how we keep the rule.' Twenty froggies went to school. Or another called 'The County Fair', which went like this: "We will take our squash and chickens. And our bedquits and our pigs. How they say the chickens. When they see us, they'll say 'ug' maybe a song like this: "Twenty froggies went to school down beside a rustling pool. 'We must be in time,' said they. 'First we study, then we play. That is how we keep the rule.' Twenty froggies went to school. Or another called 'The County Fair', which went like this: "We will take our squash and chickens. With The Boys In Service (Continued from Page 1) states I have been at Camp White, Oie, Fort Lewis, Wash. Camp Howze, Texas, and now at Luma, Ariz. While in Canada I saw Pfc Walcox, who was taking some equipment up to White river. Which makes me think this isn't such a big world after all. It is surprising how many names I remember in the paper, as it has been 13 years since I left Buchanan. Yours truly, Leo Pierce

Leo Pierce Writes—Lee Pierce MPM 3/C. writes from England. I'm somewhere in the British Isles. It is a beautiful place. Some spots have to be overlooked but it is very clean place. The houses are of stone or brick, each with a stone wall around it. When we loaded up I saw their bring some Clark lifts aboard. I was glad to see them. I walked with them and looked them over. "There's a part I made, and another," I thought to myself. It sure would be swell to be making them again. They have other Clark-made equipment here too. Yours truly, Leo Pierce

Scores Highest in Marksmanship—Mi and Mis John Eilers received a letter this week from this son, Arthur Eilers, now training with the surveying station of the field artillery at station at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He reported that in the marksmanship tests he had scored highest in his unit in cabin shooting with a mark of 185 out of a possible 200. The next highest score was 172. A score of 135 qualifies as "marksmanship" of 160 as "sharp shooter" and of 175 as "expert." He was the only one of his unit to receive a rating as expert, although he had never been used to handle guns previously, and a number of the others had followed hunting as a sport in civilian life. The cabin is the official personal weapon for aiming the field artillery.

Ned Thurston, seaman 1 c arrived home Sunday from N.Y. York City, to spend an 8-day leave with his parents, Mi and Mis. William Thurston. Another son, Thomas Thurston, seaman 2/c, came Sunday from Birmingham, Wash., to spend several days with his wife, Mildred, and his parents.

Weldon Poorman, son of Mrs. Myrtle Poorman, who is with an anti-aircraft unit in Italy, has been promoted to the rank of Corporal.

How to Succeed
Beverly Weaver

One of the main essentials of success is to have brains and know how to use them. High school graduates have a warehouse of facts which they earned through hard work and diligence. These facts are helping hands as they try to attain success. They realize what it means to have a common knowledge of life.

In order to attain your wishes you must attract attention to yourself. One minor way is to make your appearance and personality attractive to others. After gaining their interest you may follow up by showing them your individual capabilities. Thus you would gain one step toward success.

As the old saying goes "a friend in need is a friend indeed." This is so in any field of work. As a single person you are weak, but with others you are strong. Thus a colorful spirit you can set yourself apart as a leader, thus placing yourself apart as an individual, not as part of a group.

The main thing for anyone to decide before preparing himself for a job is whether it interests him. Without interest you have no ambition. Thus it is so important to find a job that will hold a lasting interest for you. Always remember that intelligence must be tempered with enthusiasm.

"To him who hath health, brains, and ambition, nothing is impossible."

Students' Obligations

After many years in the lower grades you and yourself in high school. There is one thing every new high school student should remember—high school students have certain obligations in your junior high years you may still occupy yourself with very simple or amusing games but as you advance in high school you are supposed to act as young ladies and gentlemen. Any person above the tenth grade is expected to be above childhood and be on the way to young manhood and womanhood. When any student does acts of vandalism it is reflected on the rest of the students. So before you ridicule others or make a scapegoat of the other fellow always remember that you will pay but so will your friends and school.

WHY telephones are hard to get

For a long time, almost all new telephone apparatus that could be made has had to go to the Armed Services. Factory space and manpower cannot be diverted to make equipment for civilians.

Despite all that, since National Defense got under way in 1940, Michigan Bell has added close to a quarter of a million telephones. That was made possible only by using up all our reserve equipment and by stretching to the limit the facilities we had.

We've crowded our switchboards and cables beyond their normal capacity. Where any residential service could be supplied, we've usually put in party lines instead of individual lines. And we've repaired and returned to service all usable old apparatus.

Orders for telephones essential to the war are filled promptly. Other requests for new service are handled under a definite procedure, as present users give up service. But there is a long and growing waiting list.

We believe you would want us to meet war service needs ahead of comfort and convenience for civilians. And we appreciate your understanding and co-operation.

A SHOCK FOR HITLER

PERHAPS the greatest shock to the Axis—the least expected development—has been the rapidity with which the United States was able to organize and equip a mighty offensive and the ability of our armed forces to meet and defeat their long trained war machine.

Small compared with the supreme sacrifices of the men on the fighting fronts on land and sea, the production accomplishments of men and machines in American industry have made their successes possible. Behind the production, and never too little or too late, is the gigantic massing of electric power—over 80 per cent of it supplied by business managed electric power companies.

It is possible because of long range planning and teamwork in the American Way—teamwork that includes all of our employees from those on far flung battle fronts to those with their hands on the switches that release the power to war industries.

The men who endure the hardships of battle may be confident that we will continue to support them with an avalanche of power, for here in America we have more electric power than the Axis Nations and all their satellites combined.

Since 1929, the average cost of electricity to our household customers has been cut in half.

Dr. Tenney Presents Recital Program

Friends and relatives of a group of young men and women who are studying in the vocal music classes of Dr. George Tenney gathered Friday evening, May 26, in the charming Tenney home, Fernwood, on the St. Joseph, for a recital.

The coolness of trees, flowers and bushes, the trickle of brooks heard from the large studio windows of the spacious living room helped dispel the unusual heat of the evening.

In this beautiful setting the pupils of Dr. Tenney entertained their guests. Robert Steinbauer of Niles was the guest artist, playing excerpts from Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and Gretchen Ward Kaye of Buchanan was accompanist, giving magnificent support to the singers.

Following the recital Mrs Tenney in her gracious manner welcomed the group to her home for a social hour, during which cooling refreshments were served.

Those taking part in the recital were: Verne King—"The Lord's Prayer" (Mallote) and "For You Alone" (Geel); Annette Lundquist—"Morgen" (Strauss), "Violet" (Mozart), and "Waltz Song" (LaForge); James Aldrich—"Under the Rose" (Fisher), "Recess of Peardard" (Wood), and "Of Man River" (Youmans); Barbara Housman—"Caro Mio Ben" (Giordani), "The Lass with the Delicate Air" (Arne), and "Ave Maria" (Schubert); Nona Lueders—"Lullaby" (Brown), and "The Last Rose of Summer", an old Irish air; Mrs Leslie Bishop—"In the Time of Roses" (Reichardt); Dr Milton Converse—"Thy Beaming Eyes" (McDowell) and "Sylvia" (Speaks); Catherine Perkins—"Du Bist Die Ruh" (Schubert), "Were My Song with Wings Provided" (Hahn), and "Villanelle" (Del Acqua); Estelle Beland—"Sing Again" (Protheroe), "The Window Pane" (LaForge), and "The Cry of Rachel" (Saltar); Robert Steinbauer; Mary McNeal—"Flower in the Clannied Wall" (Mason), "Lullabye" (Kriessler), and "Spring Fancy" (Densmore); James Hausman—"O Moon of My Delight" (Lehmann), "Kasimir Song" (Finden), and "Kiss Me" (Sullivan); Eulalia O'Toole—"Luxemburg Garden" (Manning), "O Lovely Night" (Ronald), and "Lift Thine Eyes" (Logan); June Wessendorf—"Do Not Go My Love" (Hageman), "A Heart That's Free" (Robyn), and "Ti Bacio" (Arditi); Edward Irvin—"Aim, Arm Ye Brave" (Handel), "Ship Mates o' Mine" (Sanderson), and "Holy City" (Adams).
