First Graduate Local School-Shop Apprentice Course Gets Diploma

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners Sez

Jim Achenbottom, th' well known Clark street Democrat, sez this is the first time in his life he ever saw so many bellyaches caused by too little gas

Gus McGillicuddy don't ever mean to tell a lie, but in the course of a lifetime spent kuddin' himself, he hez got purty hazy about the truth

There's nuthin' new We had neighborhood war clubs on Moccasin avenue the last forty years

To Shorter Shirt Tails I sing the shorter shirt tail—For it has been a sin To wear a rearward curtain Descending to the shin And if an out-cropt shirt tail Should shock my maiden aunts— I'll get myself a hammer And nail it on my pants

I sing the shorter shirt tail I think it's been a sin To wear that extra yardage So as to keep it in And though the shorter shirt tail May mean a rearward chill It's still the sorter shirt tail I've liked, and always will

Hev you fell down yet? Well, friends and neighbors, it's been a hard week Especially the landings. Any minute in any hour of the day all you had to do was to put your hand to your ear and you hear the dull thuds of the local citizens bounding on the sidewalk on their heads or as the case may be.

The ol' noze ending a story, we went out to find out While lying on the sidewalk at Main and Front we watched the passing throngs. By noticing them especially after they had gotten by you could tell pretty well whether they had fallen down or not. One out of every 9 1/2 of the passers carried the evidence. By sampling a number of the crowd by the well-known Dr. Gallup method, we achieved a sort of running, not to say galloping, idea of the situation, as follows: during the past week 62 2/3% of the population of Buchanan has reversed ends in traffic, of this 62 2/3% approximately 51.387% were repeaters. On the per capita basis, there has been an average of 17 falls per capita in the week. After long and exhaustive computation, your reporter reached the conclusion that if all of the Buchanan people who fell down in the past week were laid end to end they would sure be a sight.

Donald Snider Is Certified As Toolmaker

Is Guest of Honor at Banquet at Methodist Church

Donald Snider, son of Mr and Mrs Ira Snider, 304 Days ave, received a diploma as a journeyman toolmaker, issued by the state board of control of vocational education, at a dinner meeting held at the Methodist church Friday evening with 3rd and 4th year school apprentices, and representatives of the Clark Equipment company, Local 468 CIO-UAW, the local schools and the state board of control of vocational education present.

Added significance was given to the event by the fact that young Snider was the first to be graduated under the local school shop apprentice system, and also the first apprentice in Michigan to be graduated under the new plan of joint sponsorship by industrial management, union, school, and the state.

Snider was able to complete his course in advance of the other fourth year apprentices from the fact that he had completed his high school work before entering the course, and consequently was able to devote more hours to the shop work, which constituted the heavy part of the course. He had completed 726 shop hours, which included work in every department of the local Clark Equipment plant with the exception of the River street housing department. He had completed 704 hours of school work including night courses in Mathematics, Blue Printing, Blue Print Reading, Trade Technology, Mechanical Drawing and State Requirements, the total constituting the required 8,000 hours of the course. His completion of the course gives him the status of a tool maker, with the right to become a union member with regular wage. He began as an apprentice machinist, but transferred to toolmaking after two years.

George Chubb, acting as chairman, called attention to the fact that there were present only five third and fourth year apprentices, out of beginning classes of eight and six members, a total of fourteen. Most of those dropping out went to the army or navy. Those remaining are: Donald Snider, Richard Tumbleton, Carl Longworth, Herbert Schwartz, and Gerald Weaver of the third year apprentices.

Following the banquet served at 7 p m George Chubb took over and introduced the speakers. Charles King representing the management members of the joint committee, spoke on the value of apprentice training as a preparation for possible opportunity. Supt. H. C. Stark and Emory Toogood, school shop coordinator, spoke on the development of the apprentice work in connection with the schools and of the record of Donald Snider, the first graduate. Arthur Pudell gave a few remarks representing the union members of the joint shop committee. A. H. Klein as head of the personnel department and one of the original organizers of the apprentice course spoke on its significance to the industry. A slight turn was here given to the program when he invited all the guests to rise and stand silent with bowed heads, then announcing that it was in consideration of those who had thought that Notre Dame could beat Michigan.

Attention was called to the fact that the safety record of the apprentice system had been entirely free of accident or injury to date, and had been a "record of good work safely done."

Dr. Strayer, as president of the school board, then presented young Snider his diploma. The latter was then called to his feet and spoke briefly on his appreciation to all who had made possible the apprentice course.

L. W. Johnson, state supervisor of war work and representing the State Board of Control of Vocational Training, then talked as a representative of the State Board of Control of Vocational Education. He gave an interesting talk on examples of advancement made by individual apprentices who had come to his notice.

It was stated later by A. H. Klein that there are two apprentice appointments to be made for which applications should be made for boys or girls desiring such training.

Mr and Mrs Glenn Boyce, Chicago, Eugene Boyce, Glendora, and Mrs Henrietta Babcock and son Ray, Galien, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Ada Boyce.

Grisly Tragedy Is Narrowly Averted In Buchanan Grill Fire

Year-Old Baby Victim Portage Prairie Flames

Son of Merritt Pinkerton Dies 8 Hours After Fire Injury

Merritt Lloyd Pinkerton, year-old son of Mr and Mrs Merritt Pinkerton of Portage Prairie, died at Pawating hospital at 7 45 p m Friday, from burns received at his home seven hours before.

His mother had run out of the house to open a gate to help Mr Pinkerton drive back cattle which had gotten out of an enclosure. When she came back to the house in a few minutes she found the baby with its clothes aflame. She screamed and her husband came and tore off the child's clothing. A neighbor, Mrs Cecil Fay, who lives about 200 feet from the Pinkerton home, also ran in and helped to rub the child's body with ointments, in an effort to mitigate the effect of the burns. Then the baby was hurried to the Pawating hospital, but all efforts to save his life failed.

It is believed that the child opened the door in front of a cook stove in the room and his clothing came in contact with hot coals. The Pinkerton home is a quarter mile west of the Vite corners, and is three and a half miles south of Buchanan. The baby was born Jan. 15, 1942, just nine days after fire had entirely destroyed their home, together with all furnishings.

Surviving are the parents and seven sisters and brothers, Jack, Frances, Ann, Robert, Ruth, Walter, Louis and Judith, all at home. The funeral was held at 2 p m, Sunday from the Swem Funeral Home with Rev A C DeVries of the Niles Evangelical church in charge.

State College To Hold Farm Meet At Co-ops Feb. 11

Problems of Farm Equipment and Poultry to be Considered

Can you buy an electric motor for your pump if the present one burns out? Can you hire help to meet your labor requirements during the 1943 production season? Can you meet the 1943 production goals with your present equipment?

If you cannot answer "yes" to the above questions, attend the agricultural engineering and poultry meetings to be held Thursday, February 11, at the following times and places:

9:30 a. m. CWT—Basement of Vincent Hotel, Benton Harbor
9:30 a. m. CWT—Berrien Springs High School

1:30 p. m. CWT—Buchanan Co-ops
1:30 p. m. CWT—Three Oaks Town Hall

Michigan State College is sending two men to these meetings to help you with your equipment and poultry problems. Time will be allotted to allow you to ask questions and present your problems.

The shortage of labor and the scarcity of new equipment and repairs require every effort be made to prevent breakdowns during rush seasons. Every effort should be made to make the most efficient use of present equipment.

A motor that is used only once a week on an emery wheel can be used for many other jobs. A burned-out motor on a water pump or milking machine may cause more than just a serious inconvenience.

Home made devices can save many man-hours of labor on your farm this summer. Among these devices are transport buck rakes, grain elevators, self feeders, feed carts, and one-man-bay-racks. These and other subjects will be discussed at the meeting.

Four Dozen Eggs More This Year From Each of Your Chickens

Even more eggs are required for quotas in 1943 than the record production of 1942. Would you like your poultry flock to lay four dozen eggs more per bird this year? If you would, you should attend one of the meetings listed above.

You must conserve your tires. These meetings are coming right into your community so you can do this.

Four poultry subjects will be discussed at these extension campaign meetings:

- 1. Wartime Feeding Problems
- 2. Physical Fitness Program for 1943 Poultry.
- 3. Comfortable Laying Houses for More Winter Eggs
- 4. Preserving Egg Quality on the Farm.

Michigan wasted $2,000,000 worth of eggs last year. Eggs are valuable food. We need every one we can get in our war effort. Much of this loss can be prevented if the eggs are properly taken care of on the farm as soon as they are laid.

The hardest job in the poultry business today is rearing good pullets for next winter's layers. Healthy well developed pullets develop into profitable layers while sickly, poorly reared pullets do not. Your success with your poultry flock next winter depends on how you raise your chicks that will soon be going into the brooder house.

The supply of red meat is low. Poultry meat will help to take the place of this scarcity. Chickens develop into meat rapidly. This is one way Michigan farm folks can help in increasing the meat supply by growing an extra brood of chickens this year. Use your brooder house twice this year, not just once.

Sleeping Man Nearly Trapped In Basement Fire

Eddie Sandara, Night Police, Wakes Roy Howard as Flames Threaten

What might have been a gruesome tragedy was narrowly averted last Wednesday evening when Roy Howard, Shelburn, Ind., ran out of the flaming basement of the Grill restaurant with his head swathed in a coat to protect from fire and smoke, after he had been aroused by Eddie Sandara, night patrolman.

The fire was first seen about 11:40 p m in Wednesday by Patrolman Sandara, who was sitting at the counter of the Grill, night beside the large floor register which opens into the center of the room. Suddenly Sandara saw small streams of smoke filtering up in the crevices between the outer steel casing of the register and the wood of the floor.

He ran to the basement entrance in the rear. Opening it he was met with a puff of smoke. He could see the roof of the basement, consisting of the floor and the joists under the floor, afire over a wide area. He ran back and sent the considerable number of patrons out, fearing that the floor might collapse. Informed by one of the restaurant force that a man was sleeping in the basement, he ran back and awakened Howard. Howard was asleep in a bed on the further side of the furnace and almost against it. He was sound asleep when Sandara awakened him, with the floor in flames over his head. He threw a coat over his head and ran upstairs to safety.

He had come to Buchanan recently to work in a local factory from Shelburn, Ind., the former home of the Grill proprietors, Lois Skinner and Mrs. Andrew Harrigan. He obtained work but because of the shortage of rooms, he had secured temporary permission from the Grill proprietors, whom he had known in Shelburn, to sleep in the basement.

Sandara turned in a fire alarm and then drove to the fire station, telling the fire crew the nature of the fire and how it could be got at. The fire department did an excellent job of extinguishing the flames, but they had gotten such a start that it was necessary to use water. A few are also spearing pickerel through the ice with fair success but no large specimens have been caught.

Story Of The Trail Of The Lonesome Cat

How Three Huntsmen Hunted 7 1/2 Hours, Up Hill, Down Dale, on the Bob Cat's Trail

It might have happened 75 or 100 years ago but the fact is it happened last Saturday.

It was about 7 a m of a Saturday morning that those three veteran huntsmen, Melvin Lohmaugh, Lawrence Lohmaugh and Leonard Copper hit the hot trail of a lean and hungry bob cat—if you can imagine anybody hitting a trail at 7 a m on a morning like last Saturday. It was at the crossroads on the Red Bud Trail near the Fred Wallace farm from that time on they followed the trail of the cat back and forth across the north Buchanan district until 2:30 p m when the trail ended with the cat fifteen foot up in a tree back of the Bill Diment home. Up until that time they had followed it winding westward past to the upper Berrien Stone Road and southwestward across the old Fuller place, past the Miller school and west over the Hemminger and Letcher places, then circling back across the Postlewaite and Montague places, past the Colvin school and down back of the Diment place.

During the quest the three huntsmen passed the remains of two pheasants and four rabbits, which the bob cat had killed but had not eaten unless he had sucked the blood. Several times he had taken short loops back, passing the hunters in so doing and then perching on the opposite side of a stump or tree and craftily watching them until they turned back on his trail.

In such cases the hunters passed close to the cat as he shifted around the tree which concealed him. When he was finally traced, Melvin Lohmaugh took a head on run and hit him in the heart with five BB shot, which brought him tumbling from his perch for the coup de grace. His pelt is worth perhaps from $5 to $10, according to Lohmaugh.

Maroons Trim Niles 38 to 34

Also Defeat St. John's, Benton Harbor, to Take 4 Out of 5 Since Jan. 1

Buchanan (Jack Green) Tuesday night and came home with something they have been looking forward to since beginning of basketball season—a win over Niles.

This game was a killer-diller to the very end, as one team wasn't more than a few points ahead at any time except in the 3rd quarter when the Bucks got down to playing good old Buchanan type of firewagon basketball, scoring 17 points to take an 8 point margin over Niles.

In the first quarter Niles got off to an 8 to 5 lead but the boys from Bucktown closed the gap in the second quarter to trail 14-13 at the end of the half.

In the third quarter the Bucks decided to quit fooling around and really went to town, stealing the ball at will and from the Niles five and completely outplaying them at every turn.

"Zook" Trapp, the fiery little pepper-box of the Maroon team, Pete Dreitzler and "Bob" Topash were all over the floor and this time accounted for 14 of the 17 points. In the 4th period Buchanan relaxed a little to give the boys from Niles a chance, letting them score 12 points to our 8, to end the game in a thrilling 38 to 34. Pete Dreitzler got 5 of Buchanan's 8 points.

This game was won for two of the Bucks former teammates, Bob Rumsey, who is going to the Army and Lyle Watson, who is in the Navy, and who scored the winning point against Niles last year.

Snodgrass and Buchanan highlighted the game at many points with their flashy defensive playing.

Trapp with 11 points, paced both teams in scoring, while Topash had 7 points.

Buchanan's second team lost 49-22. Voorhees had 10 points for the losers.

The Maroons also defeated the St John's Catholic team of Benton Harbor Friday evening 61 to 44, breaking the seven-game victory string of that organization. The two wins of the past week mean that the locals have won four out of their five starts since the first of the year.

The scene is laid in a rooming house at a girls' college, which is invaded by the masculine collegiate element in that season when "the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love". The spring dance on which these blithe young gentlemen are led by the dormitory's inmates forms the theme of the play.

The entire cast will be as follows: Mildred, Nallie Cham, Walter Beckett, Edward Vanderclose, Miss Ritchie, Evelyn Gaul, John Hatton, Bob Yeoman, The Lippincott, Roy Knapp, Doc Boyd, Bernard Fay, Buck Buchanan, Bill Dunlap, Mady Platt, Minda Wissler, Frances Penn, Janice Pierce, Alex Benson, Willa Miller, Kate McKim, Phyllis Sherwood, Sally Prescott, Janet Haslett, Sam Thatcher, Maurice Nelson.

ON DELINQUENCY INCREASE

It is estimated by the University of Michigan that juvenile delinquency will increase in Michigan during 1943 from 20% to 50%, based on the experience in other countries that have been at war nearly 3 1/2 years, and on an assessment of the special war time conditions that prevail in this state.

These conditions which may tend to lead to an increase in delinquency in the juvenile element include participation of both parents in war work with consequent less home supervision, overload on schools in communities experiencing an influx of war workers, poor home conditions because of inadequacy of living quarters where population grows without corresponding growth of housing facilities, the growing shortage of youth leaders through drafting of teachers and other leaders of young people, and the tendency toward general social disintegration and demoralization that stems naturally from war conditions.

According to Buchanan police, there has not been more but less juvenile delinquency in Buchanan in 1942. Apparent delinquency, that is it seems that in spite of police record there may have been an increase in carelessness of attitude on the part of youth.

The testimony of a young woman college student from Buchanan bears on this.

"The students are not studying as usual this year," she reported. "There is not a serious working attitude. Why? Oh, we figure it's here today, gone tomorrow. What's the use? Of course our prey lectured the student body on their responsibility for increased seriousness because of the war but it doesn't seem to have registered."

You can put yourself in the place of the boy or girl student and see how this can be. This is doubtless most true of the youth over which army service immediately depends, whose education is now progressing "on borrowed time."

The fact that there has been to date less delinquency here should tell no one to sleep. Discount the possibilities and the problem would flare over night.

Not discounting the work of school, home, or other agencies, it seems likely that we have been temporarily playing a luck to date in the apparent absence of juvenile delinquency.

EFFECT OF RECREATION ROOM

It is the hope of those who have had a very great deal of time on the Buchanan Youth Council Recreation Room that will be a factor in control of undesirable conduct on the part of youth.

It is believed that directed time is opposed to undirected time will tend to lessen the tendency to wrong use of time. Up until the recreation room was opened the only gathering places for the youth of the community were the ice cream parlors. The Buchanan ice cream parlors are not dens of iniquity, and are decently conducted. But it is evident that the operations of young people there could not be directed. The result was that they sat there at all hours, spending a little money and much time, and constituting a major problem in using up the seating capacity.

Their activities consisted mainly of the formation of little knots of aimless conversation, and aimless drifting from one parlor to another. The time spent in long confidential conversation, participants leaning on their elbows, was doubtless innocent enough in most cases. But it was certainly not creative spending of time. And it is equally certain that the substitution of active, energy-consuming play for such aimlessness is all to the good.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR

ITSELF The domain of Brazil, the only Portuguese speaking nation member of the Pan American Union, covers only a little less than half the total area of the South American continent. Rudyard Kipling, seasoned traveler, wrote of it as "A world in itself." The proportions of the country are gigantic. The consequent variations in life, climate, topography, resources and products are in keeping. Brazil's frontiers are so far flung that they meet with those of seven of her sister republics in South America, and embrace a country larger than our continental United States; larger than all of Europe, excluding Russia. Nearly half the population of South America makes home of Brazil. From the equatorial jungles of the basin of the majestic Amazon in the north, Brazilian territory, with an Atlantic coast line of 4300 miles, sweeps through pleasant and productive uplands far into the south temperate zone. These central and southern uplands are the heart of the Brazil of today. Here are the most fertile lands, the best grazing areas. From here come the famous coffee, base of about three-fifths of the total value of the nation's exports. From here come the cotton, fruit and livestock, hides, wax, tobacco and other items, which, with rubber and nuts from the Amazon country, Brazil offers in exchange for her needs in machinery, tools, fuel, wheat, chemicals, automobiles and iron and steel products. Here, too, in a region of half a million square miles, less than a fifth of the country's area, lives sixty per cent of a population of forty-four millions, seventy of every hundred at work in agriculture or stock-raising.

Brazil is sending to the arsenals of democracy manganese for the manufacture of much needed steel; and oil from the castor bean essential to the lubrication of the high-speed engines of fighter, bombers and pursuit planes. The turn of world events promises to reestablish Brazil as one of the rubber centers of the world.

Rio de Janeiro, the capital, is a city of more than a million inhabitants. But there is no congestion even here. Famed as one of the most beautiful capitals of the world, a city of marble, palms and broad avenues, "Rio" is also center of commercial, social and cultural development, seat of a government that has given education high place in its activities.

The Brazilian constitution divides power between national and state authorities. The President is the supreme authority, charged with directing the policies and maintaining the welfare of the state. He initiates legislation, may nominate one candidate in elections to choose his successor, but by a two-thirds vote of a two-house parliament, can be overridden in his veto of legislation.

As in other countries new or old, the form of government represents a people's evolution. Unlike that of many of the young nations of the New World, however, from discovery and first colonization by the Portuguese Alvaros Cabral at the turn into the Sixteenth Century, down through the rule of the Marquis of Pombal, "the great marquis," through independence and constitutional monarchy in the reigns of the Dom Pedros, father and son, to the coup d'etat of November 15, 1889, out of which came the federal republic, the romance of Brazil tells of change after change without violence or bloodshed.

The nation has been a growth, not an eruption. Its natural wealth has hardly been touched; its native genius hardly revealed. Its potentialities are far beyond present reckoning.

A&P Sealing Method For Coffee Bags to Conserve Materials

A new method of closing coffee bags which will save more than 3,000,000 pounds of vital metal annually has been developed by technicians of the A&P Tea Company and made available to the entire coffee industry, officials of the food chain announced today. A machine which crimps the top of the paper bag, effectively closing it without requiring the use of the paper-covered metal strip which formerly sealed the opening, was perfected by technicians in the company's laboratory. In order that the saving of metal for the war effort shall be as great as possible, the announcement said the new development is available free of charge to any company using this type of closure.

A total of 800,000 pounds of metal and a large amount of paper is expected to be saved each year in A&P's operations alone through use of the new technique, it was said. If the entire industry adopts the new method, an estimated savings of approximately 3,200,000 pounds of metal will be affected. Five of the machines were made at A&P's Brooklyn plant from spare and discarded parts and most coffee concerns probably can construct the machines from materials already in their repair shops.

Once Prohibited We can thank Hernando Cortez, conqueror of Mexico, for the discovery of chocolate as a drink. When Cortez was sent out by the Spanish government to explore this New World discovered by Columbus he went in search of gold. In Mexico he and his men were entertained royally with strange food, such as corn and strange drinks such as chocolate. The Spaniards liked it and took it back to Spain. Spanish ecclesiastical circles condemned chocolate as immoral. But people were fascinated by this new vice and tried it on many occasions.

Annual Meeting Co. Farm Bureau Held Sat., Feb. 9

R. W. Blackburn, Nat. Leader, to Speak; Meeting Held at Berrien Springs on Central Time

Since the Farm Bureau has been working for nearly a year to get Michigan on Central Time, the annual meeting of the Berrien County Farm Bureau will be held at the Berrien Springs high school auditorium, Saturday, Feb. 9, beginning promptly at 10:00 a. m. O. W. T. The speaker of the day will be R. W. Blackburn, secretary-treasurer of the American Farm-Bureau Federation. This meeting will be the first in a series to be held on the Central War Time schedule.

The morning session will be given over to the election of directors for the Berrien County Farm Bureau and its affiliated Oil Company of Eau Claire. An address by Blackburn will highlight the afternoon session. This will be preceded by a report of the resolutions committee and a short program by the Junior Farm Bureau. A complimentary dinner will be served at the Methodist and United Brethren churches by the ladies of the churches and also at the high school by the Hinchman Ladies Aid. Following this the Berrien Springs high school band will play at 12:45.

Mr. Blackburn, a former president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, was a member of the board of directors of the A. F. B. F. from 1930 to 1937 when he became secretary of that organization. The special legislative work he has done in Washington for some time has thoroughly familiarized him with national affairs as they effect the farmer.

Six hundred farm people were present at last year's annual meeting. An equally large or greater number are expected this year in spite of war conditions.

Local Rationing In a Nut Shell

When War Ration Book Two is distributed late in February, the person registering for the family must state the excess number of cans of rationed goods of eight-ounce size and larger owned in the family. The rationing schedule now in effect is as follows:

COFFEE
Coupon 28 good for 1 pound valid through Feb 7

SUGAR
Both coffee and sugar coupons are from the same War Ration Book 1

GASOLINE
Stamp Number 4 from Basic Mileage Ration A Book, worth 4 gallons of gasoline, good beginning Jan. 22 and through March 21. Stamps in B and C books, also values at 4 gallons, good for the period as noted on the front of such books. Stamp Number 3 expired Jan. 21.

Let's Work Now!
 Everyone—well, nearly everyone around school, seems to have a weary look during examination week most of us stayed up late in the evening "cramming" for exams. Now that the examinations are over, we all let down in our work and don't work very hard, waiting until June when we take our finals. We know, 'sa funny thing, but the students who work during the year don't have to "Cram" for their examinations. They seem to know more about their studies, too. Maybe if we all decided to work hard each day of the school year we wouldn't feel so worn out at the end of the semesters. Let's try it!

Winter
 I think winter is a wonderful thing. The snow flutters down on each bird taking wing. Children running and romping about. Throwing snowballs with each little shout. And the moon shining on the new fallen snow. Looks like diamonds with its lustrous glow. With skating, sliding and all kinds of sports. Little red noses and cheeks of all sorts. Now, do you see why I like winter best. Even though people say it's a pest — Connie Roti, Seventh Grade

HOLLYWOOD

Doughboys Don't Forget Pal Joe E
 Joe E. Brown's grin is wider than ordinary these days — and for a good reason.
 When he reported at Columbia for work in "The Darling Young Man," rousing comedy, showing at the Hollywood Friday and Saturday, Feb 5-6, he was summoned to the mail room. There he found a bulky parcel, weighing 75 pounds.
 Opening the package, he found a lengthy letter from the service men in Alaska whom he visited a few months ago. The letter was signed by 7,458 men. Joe counted the signatures.

In "Bandit Ranger"
Tim Holt Wars Crooks
 The exciting adventures of a young Westerner in attempting to unravel a murder mystery and ferret out the brains behind a daring rustler gang, provides tigger-fast action in Tim Holt's latest Western, RKO Radio's "Bandit Ranger."
 The young cowboy's dangerous mission makes him a fugitive from the law and turns his best friends against him until the time comes when he is able to point out the killer.
 Young Holt is teamed romantically with the popular Western heroine, Joan Barclay, who plays the sister of the murdered victim. The supporting cast is headed by Cliff Edwards (Ukulele Ike), noted entertainer of stage and screen, who is seen in the role of Ike, a western Beau Brummel and close friend of the courageous rancher.
 Picturesque outdoor setting, fast riding and liting cowboy music add to the appeal of the picture, which will be seen at the Hollywood Friday and Saturday, Feb 5-6.

American Doughboys
 "Do Not Like 'Jive'"
 Jeanette MacDonald has discovered that American doughboys have given jive songs back to the juke boxes.
 The star of M-G-M's "Cairo," romantic musical comedy coming to the Hollywood Sunday and Monday, Feb 7-8, learned this startling truth after singing to several thousand soldiers and sailors on camp tours recently.
 Their favorite, she disclosed, was "Indian Love Call."
 But, just to make sure of pleasing everyone, her latest picture has both classic and swing tunes—with a medley of nostalgic American folk songs added for good measure.

Jackie Cooper in Navy Film
 Ideally suited to his particular talents is Jackie Cooper's role as an ambitious young member of a U. S. gun crew in RKO Radio's "The Navy Comes Through," a thrill-packed action picture of America's campaign to stamp out the German U-boat menace in the North Atlantic. It is Cooper's skill with radio that results in the capture of a Nazi supply vessel and three undersea craft. The picture will appear on the Hollywood screen Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb 9-10-11.
 Featured in the top roles are Pat O'Brien and George Murphy, at the head of a cast which includes, in addition to Cooper, such screen favorites as Jane Wyatt, Desi Arnaz, Max Baer, Carl Esmond, Frank Jenks Frank Fenton, Ray Collins, John Maguire, Lee Bonnell and Joey Ray.

Bonita Grows Up
 Bonita Granville is a child actress no more.
 She plays the first adult role of her highly successful screen career in Dashiell Hammett's mystery-romance, "The Glass Key," which comes Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb 9-10-11, to the Hollywood theatre.
 Bonita keeps good company in her graduation from a fledgling Stars Bran Donlevy, Veronica Lake and Alan Ladd head the cast.

ADVICE TO FIRST AIDERS

HIS TAG SAYS HIS HEAD'S BLOWN OFF!

DON'T WAIT TILL IT'S A "STRETCHER CASE"

- DO'S AND DON'TS FOR APPLIANCE CORDS
1. Take a firm grip from grease and moisture.
 2. Keep cords free from grease and moisture.
 3. Don't let them get "kinked."
 4. Have frayed or worn cords repaired at once.

MAKING your electrical appliances last for the duration is one more way of helping on the Home Front... Electrical helps were never more important. Time and labor saving, they match to work at the twist of a wrist—invaluable aids to homemakers pressed for time by the demands of serving their country in all sorts of war effort while keeping the Home Fires burning, too.
 Among the many lessons Wartimes teach us is that of how important just a little extra care may be—with an electric appliance it may mean only a drop of oil in the right spot at the right time—a frayed cord replaced before it causes a short circuit, or a blown-out fuse—a tightened screw—to keep an appliance working—these thoughtful preventives are more precious than pearls.

'You Lucky Bum'

A Fort Leavenworth selectee scrambled into his new uniform and rushed to telephone his girl that he was really in the army at last. On the way to the phone booth he brushed past a captain without saluting. "Wait a minute, soldier!" the captain snapped. "Didn't you forget something?" The brand-new trainee felt through all his pockets and shook his head. "Look at my uniform," the captain suggested helpfully. The recruit regarded the trim officer, still puzzled, then his face broke into a broad grin. "You lucky bum!" he exclaimed. "You got one that fits."

"Hiya, Sarge. What's Cookin'?"
Night comes down fast on the desert. And the wind dies for a while—and the dust settles. But off to the north there's the dull, deep thunder of the howitzers pounding the defenses of Bizerte. Out of the darkness—into the faint light around the field kitchen—steps a soldier. His face is hard and drawn and caked with desert dust. Across his shoulders are slung two extra helmets—a German rifle—won on patrol. As the warm, satisfying aroma of hot Irish stew meets him . . . his face lights up—his eyes are suddenly younger, brighter. "Hiya, Sarge. What's cookin'?"
To see that our men in uniform have the food they need to make them the hardest, toughest fighting men on earth is a gigantic task. Moving that mountain of food to camp and pier, for our own troops, and for our Allies, is primarily a railroad job. And while the railroads are performing this vital task—they must also continue to carry the great bulk of all food for civilians. Wheat from the Northwest—citrus fruits from California and Florida—
