Margaret Semple Part of Trio to Present Program

Program Relayed From U. of Mich. Broadcast Studio at Ann Arbor

The story of the development of the Buchanan Youth Council since its beginning in 1939 will be told over Station WKAR, East Lansing, Mich., at 1.15 p. m. in Buchanan time, Wednesday, Dec. 1.

The broadcast will be presented as an inter-community program, with Miss Gail Foster, senior in Hastings high school asking the questions about the Buchanan project and Miss Margaret Semple, junior in the University of Michigan and supervisor of the Youth Council employment project last summer, giving the answers.

The program is one of the first of the "Communities in Action" series to be presented this winter by the Adult Education Department of the state university.

Insure Against Worry

For adequate protection and FREEDOM FROM WORRY, one should carry an equal amount of fire and windstorm insurance due to the "Fall of Building" clause in any Standard Michigan policy.

However, we can give you more protection for less money. By adding "Extended Coverage" to your present fire insurance policy, you would be protected against direct loss or damage by windstorm, cyclone, tornado and hail, explosion, riot, riot attending a strike, civil commotion, aircraft, smoke and vehicles.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"
 "In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U. S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"
 "It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"
 "Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'"
 "Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

Any Meat Dear When It Spoils

Farm families able to butcher, or successful deer hunters, or city families able to purchase plump cockerels or cull hens can save meat ration points by properly canning meat.

But that meat will be "dear" if it spoils—costly to the home budget and stealing from the total food supply needed for war and civilian use. Meat canning offers few difficulties if rules are followed closely, according to home economics extension specialists at Michigan State College.

Three essential rules are:

Be certain meat is fresh and well flavored.

Pack meat hot in jars or cans.

Process under pressure by the clock.

Fresh meat may be canned as the animal heat is gone, or the meat may hang for a few days to chill if the weather is cold. Frozen meat may be canned, but the quality is not improved by the freezing. Only good tasty and tender meat should be canned, the experts say.

Tough, tasteless meat becomes no better for being placed in a jar or tin and processed.

Meat is cut in suitable sizes of about one pound for packing. The pieces are pre-cooked with water in a kettle for 12 to 20 minutes in a moderate oven or until the red color is nearly gone from the center of the pieces. Then the pieces are placed in jars and liquid added to within a half inch of the top and the cover put on. Pint or quart jars may be used, but none larger than a quart.

Pressure cooking insures safe keeping for days, weeks or months. At 250 degrees F., or with the dial reading, correctly, 15 pounds pressure, a quart jar of chicken with bones would require 75 minutes of processing. A quart jar of beef would take 120 minutes or soup stock 45 minutes under similar conditions.

Complete directions in brief form are contained in the Michigan State College Extension Bulletin 204, "Meat Canning", available on request to Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Father Wm. Cogley Writes on Juvenile Delinquency Theme

The Cure of Juvenile Delinquency there is much talk of juvenile delinquency but few practical suggestions for its cure are few and far between.

Here is the one big problem they all seem to miss—you can't cure a moral problem by recreation. What is needed is Christian homes, and as a nation the United States is not getting them.

Delinquency means a failure to observe moral rules of conduct. Recreation will not cure this. It may keep the child "out of mischief" for a certain period of time, but it will not build character by itself. The child must obey the laws of God and the community for some other reason than that, because of his recreation, he doesn't have time to break them.

There are two sources from which the child may obtain this necessary moral training—in the home and in the school—not the one or the other—both must do a continuous job.

But if the school is not interested in moral training, then the whole burden falls on the home. The parents should be able to give this training and the tragedy of it is that many of them are not capable of it.

If parents have no scruples about going to shady movies and reading indecent magazines and allowing publications with suggestive pictures in their homes—or if they frequent the taverns—there isn't much hope that they will give a sound moral training to their children.

Supernatural Motive

Mrs. Callender showed a syrette, a miniature syringe which is made from tin extracted from two tin cans. These syrettes are being provided every man overseas so that he can give himself a hypodermic and avoid shock from wounds. One million of them are being produced a day. Therefore she sold two million tin cans are needed daily.

But even if the parents were not guilty of the above offenses, they will have a hard time if they neglect religion. The day when the child obeys because papa and mamma "says so" is past. There are too many outsiders who will give him reasons for not doing what mother and dad tells him.

The parents must have a sound moral foundation for obedience. They must give their children the supernatural motives. The child must be taught to obey not because father and mother say so, or because he will be punished if he obeys, or because he will be a radical when he grows up, but because there is a higher power above all mothers and fathers and above police.

Parents must teach the child about God. But if they don't believe in a God who has a right to lay down rules of conduct for them as well as for their children,

Plan to Salvage Discarded Clothing

Women's Home Salvage representatives from various townships in Berrien County attended a meeting Wednesday night at the St. Joseph city hall to make plans for a county-wide two-week discarded clothing and rags collection drive to be Nov. 22 to Dec. 4. The clothing is to be stored for use in foreign countries as soon as they are liberated from Axis rule.

The meeting was conducted by W. H. Ehrenberg, County Salvage chairman, Mrs. William McKindley, Berrien County Women's Home Salvage chairman and Miss Gale Callender of Detroit, state director of the War Production Board's salvage program.

The county drive will be part of a nation-wide appeal for discarded clothing. Plans were discussed for the designation of a place in each township to be used as the central collection agency. And, central collection depots for all the localities will be announced later by the various township representatives.

Various means of collecting clothing were discussed, through the churches, schools or by delivery truck. Each township representative will work out her own plan.

After the clothing has been collected it will be sent to the cleaners. For this reason rag and clothing collections are to be kept separate, as the rags will be sold locally for use in this country and will not be cleaned.

The Cleaners and Dryers Association of Michigan and its members has agreed to clean all clothes collected for six cents a pound. The county cleaners to participate in this program will be announced later.

After the cleaners have finished volunteer workers will sort the garments into men's, boys', girls' and women's and infants groups and into sub-classifications specified by the W.P.B. Salvage division. Arrangements are being made for rooms for sorting.

Any discarded clothing, not clothing which will have to be replaced at the store when it is donated, is acceptable even though it has moth-holes, burns or tears.

Headgear is not acceptable, nor are leather goods, rubber goods, neckties, corsets, spats or slippers for men and boys.

All material must go through the cleaning process. Churches participating in the program may retain 10 per cent of the clothing they collect for their own use, but this must be taken by them before cleaning.

Mr. Ehrenberg announced that the next tin can collection will be early in the spring. He asked that tin cans be saved until then.

How to Clean Synthetic Materials

Synthetic materials like nylon and vinylon are very easy to clean, for they are not harmed by acids or alkalis. Neither are they weakened by water, and, since they take up very little moisture, most stains remain on the surface and are easily washed off. Bleaches may safely be used on nylon and vinylon.

Search for Oil

Britain's only previous intensive search for free pumping oil lasted from 1919 until 1921. Limited licenses to search and drill anywhere were then issued to private contractors for the first time. A dozen deep test borings resulted. The first of these, at Hardstoft in the Midlands, became England's record producer by averaging seven barrels a day for several years. The others were unproductive.

Plastic Bullets

A machine gun, which uses plastic pellets and compressed air instead of expensive bullets and gunpowder, yet provides all the racket and recoil vibrations of a wartime anti-aircraft weapon, has been developed by engineers.

How to win a Battle

When they took the beachhead at Bougainville, the Yanks fought as a team. Planes overhead... destroyers off-shore... invasion barges slipping in with sharp-shooting leathernecks.

It's an old American custom, this business of working together. And it's paying off in victories... on battle-front and home-front alike.

For behind the lines, on this side of the seas, another battle is going on... the battle of transportation... a fight that is growing bigger with every passing day.

As part of the nation's great railway system—which carries 80 per cent of our fighting forces and nine-tenths of the Army's fighting equipment and supplies—we of the New York Central know that this battle is being won... by the same American spirit of teamwork that is winning the war over there.

Teamwork between the armed services, the Office of Defense Transportation, the Interstate Commerce Commission, other government agencies, and the railroads...

Teamwork on the part of organized shippers...

Teamwork among the individual railroads themselves, working and fighting together in a common cause.

This is the kind of shoulder-to-shoulder effort that is winning the battle of transportation... that is enabling the railroads to carry, for 1943, record loads of 725 billion ton-miles of freight and 80 billion passenger-miles.

And the endless torrent of loaded trains, rolling day and night across the land, thunders an overwhelming answer to Axis dictators—whose "intuition" told them that free men in a democracy could never work together, and win!

how can they sell their children on the beauty and necessity of morality.

The Wrong Approach to the Problem

The approach to the juvenile delinquency problem is all wrong. Civil authorities see it only as a "social problem", a community problem in its effects. They only deal with the symptoms and not with the causes. Perhaps you have heard the round-table discussions over the radio about delinquency. Educators, sociologists, psychiatrists take part in them. Did you ever hear them speak about religion as a cure? They talk about playgrounds, youth centers, etc. But they do not teach the root of the problem, which is moral.

Co. Church Council Fuses With County S. S. Association

An important meeting was held Friday evening in the Methodist church at Berrien Springs when the Berrien County Council of Churches held its annual meeting. The meeting was held in the church building at Berrien Springs and was attended by a large number of church members and laymen. The council discussed various matters of interest to the churches in the county and adopted resolutions regarding the needs of transient war workers, a militant stand against the forces of gambling, liquor and prostitution in Berrien County.

New Machine Guns Rushed to Yanks

WASHINGTON—The war department disclosed that a new submachine gun, small enough to be carried in an ordinary brief case, is now in mass production. Known officially as the M-3 machine gun, the new .45 caliber weapon weighs less than nine pounds, compared with the 12-pound "tommy gun" which is capable of firing 450 rounds a minute.

Submachine Rifles Can Be Carried in Brief Case.

The new gun is of all-metal construction and has a collapsible metal stock. When the gun is in a closed position, its length is only 22 inches. The gun's unusual weight distribution and its comparatively low rate of fire make it highly accurate whether used as a pistol and fired from the hip, or whether—with stock extended—it is fired from the shoulder. Working parts of the M-3 machine gun are fully enclosed to protect them from dirt, water and mud. The new gun, described by Col Rene R. Studler as principally a few pieces of tin, breaks down in three principal pieces, none more than a foot in length.

PT Boys on Inside Track, Says Hittle

I have been receiving the paper right along and have sure enjoyed reading it. The "men in the service" for it lets me know how a lot of my friends are making out. There isn't many left around Buchanan any more. I have not been too busy for the last couple of weeks, but before that we were out and right, so had rather a hard time getting my mail. We are just waiting right now for orders to get ordered away and I will notify you of my change in address a little later. I have seen a little bit of New York since we got here and find it one of the best cities for shore leave I have yet run across. Every one treats you swell, and there are plenty of girls for all that. That's what makes it a nice liberty town. Every one wants to show us a good time and they usually do. The mc-quito fleet is very popular out here. You know every one wants to know all about the thrilling B-2 bombs. Of course we tell them all we dare to, which isn't too much. The equipment, etc., of the boat are kept pretty much in the dark. You hear a lot about the speed of these boats, but there are very few that actually know just what they will do. Well, I have worked to do, so will have to drop anchor here. I would just like to thank you again for sending the paper, and I will notify you of my change in address a little later. I imagine you will put this in the paper, so I'll say hello to every one, and tell them to drop me a line at any time. I always enjoy hearing from the home town. My address is Harold Hittle F 1, C M T B Rm 27, c/o F. P. O., New York City, N. Y.

Old Rent Law Is Invoked

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—Arizona has discovered in musty statute books a law providing penalties of $100 to $500, or three months in jail, for discriminating against prospective tenants who have children. County Attorney Harold R. Scoville filed a justice court complaint under the rediscovered act, charging a Phoenix landlord with refusal to rent an apartment to a war worker's wife. Scoville said she told him the family of five has been paying $120 a month for a one-room cabin, because they could rent nothing better.

Britain Takes Ban Off Ringing of Church Bells

LONDON—Britain's church bells, reserved as an invasion signal during the early war years, may now be rung at any time, Herbert Morrison, home security minister, informed the house of commons. The ban was partly lifted April 20, to permit the bells to ring on Sundays and religious holidays, but now, Morrison said, they can be rung "for any purpose at any time provided their sound is not liable to be mistaken for a signal in connection with air raids or a gas attack."

Way He Can Double Up

CARLTON, ORE.—John Kirsch, farmer, has solved the manpower shortage. He had two tractors and only himself to run them. He set the controls of one and started it driverless across the field. Then he jumped aboard the other and followed. Before the first one reached the fence he ran it down and turned it around. And so on—for 300 acres.

QUESTION BOX

Q—What is vitamin B, and what vegetables or foods are highest in this vitamin? S. L. A—Vitamin B is a complex mixture of chemical compounds, required to aid the utilization of foods by the cells of the body. Liver, navy, kidney and soy beans, buckwheat, whole wheat flour, ham and pork, beef, kidneys, liver, yeast, peas, and various nuts contain this vitamin.

Thanksgiving Day
As the Pilgrims landed they looked with eager eyes to the vast land with an abundance of energy and ambition they began to form the seed of the future America. The spring passed bringing cold, hunger and disease. They prayed to their God asking for relief from this crisis. Out of the death and misery came spring sending forth shoots of grain and vegetables. Thus, in gratefulness, Governor Bradford, in 1621, set the last Thursday of November in each year as a day of fasting and prayer to thank the Lord for his goodness in the year. We, the modern Pilgrims, have a lot to be thankful for; the peace, the government, and for each other. As you sit down to your pumpkin pie and turkey think of those across the sea, the Poles, Norwegians, and Czechs. Thank the Lord for your country and for the privilege to live as you wish on this Thanksgiving day.

Thanksgiving Day
Once again it is Thanksgiving. In a fighting world we're living. But we should so thankful be. And pray for the boys across the sea.

This year remember, we're at war. For Thanksgiving dinner eat less, not more. Save the food for our brave Allies. We'll send them turkeys, cakes and pies.

The pilgrims landed long ago, in a land of barren waste and snow. But in their frugal, thrifty way, they made a happy Thanksgiving day.

Teachers' Vacations

The high school teachers spending their Thanksgiving vacation in Buchanan are Mr. Bailey, Mrs. Sukup, Miss Swartz, Mr. Elbers, Mrs. Dunbar.

Those who are leaving town are Miss Quade, Mr. Razer, and Miss McNeil.

Miss Carnagan, Miss Reilly, Miss Graves, Miss Sundquist, Miss Robertson, and Miss Bell will spend Thanksgiving out of Buchanan. The teachers remaining here will be Mrs. Reams and Mrs. Fuller and possibly Mrs. Huston.

Students Study School Government
A government of the people, by the people for the people. This is not only taught in the history classes but practiced by the entire school. A constitution on student government has been written by the students for the good of the school. It is important that the students have a voice in the affairs of their class and the school because then they will feel responsible for their school activities. The cooperation of every student is needed in putting this plan through. Get acquainted with the constitution. Each faculty adviser has a copy.

Winter Coats
When winter winds are blowing and snow is falling, out of moth balls or store windows come the winter coats. The teddy bear coats that were so popular last year seem to be heading the list for the girls at B H S again this year. Several other coats popular with the girls are knee-length and finger-tip boots; coats and smart loose coats—tied about the waist with extremely long belts. The boys this year are going in for finger-tip Chesterfields, Mackinaws, and leather jackets. With these kind of coats we shouldn't have to worry too much about the coal shortage.

B. H. S. to Select New Cheer Leader

The Buchanan High School decided Thursday, Nov. 11, to elect new cheer leaders for the basketball season. They will remain in office for one year. They will be chosen by the students of Buchanan High.

Miss Bell, one of our grade teachers, will give instructions to anyone who is interested in trying out for cheer leader. Come on gang! Let's go! This is almost leap year so we are making a special appeal to the boys. In former years, "Sid" Hagley, Lee Pierce, Clyde Shaffer and Gene Myers were some of our outstanding cheer leaders. So come on boys! Let's beat the girls in cheer leading.

Clarence McIntosh, home on leave from the navy, visited Mrs. MacNeil's fifth hour English class Tuesday, Nov. 16, and talked on place he had been while serving in the Navy. Clarence was a former member of B H S. Neil Durks is also home on leave from the Navy.

Italian Women Dredge Sewers for Water

Women of Naples dredge the sewer for water. Their water supply system was destroyed by the Germans. As Allied troops pushed past Naples, a landing by the British Eight army at Termoli on the Adriatic coast further strengthened the Allied advance.

They are also going to play basketball in the gym on Tuesday nights.

Substitute Teacher
Ruby Clark, a bright senior girl, was the substitute teacher of the Spanish Class Tuesday. She wishes to be a language teacher in her later life and she proved Tuesday that she will succeed.

Thoughts on Thankfulness
Thursday, Nov. 25, is our day of thinking over our blessings. It's hard for us to be thankful when our brothers, fathers, and sweethearts are fighting in the war. It's hard to be thankful when our boys have to go into battle and kill men, just like themselves when a boy they were taught that to kill was breaking one of God's rules. If we could only know what they go through for us and our freedom, we would be grateful that we don't have more of these bloody wars. Here at home we ought to be thankful that our houses haven't been bombed and that every time we hear the sound of an airplane we don't have to run for an air-raid shelter or any hole we can find to be protected. We aren't awake to the fact that we're the luckiest people in the world, right now. We go on living our lives the same as we have been, maybe we don't have meat every day, or we run out of points before the time's up, but have you ever thought about those starving women and children over there, who don't see food for days?

Not all of us can help with the U. S. O. or work in defense plants or many of the other things that can be done, but we all can buy war bonds and stamps and be very grateful that we aren't compelled to do more. These and many more are the things we ought to be thankful for and if we think hard enough we are sure to find them.

Grade News—H. S.

Miss Carnagan's pupils made a large basket of fruit for Thanksgiving. The work was all free hand paper cutting. They learned to write the names of the different kinds of fruit, too, and made a booklet of their writing.

Miss Robertson's second grade is studying about workers who carry out messages. We have been reading about the tip of a letter from us to the receiver. We are planning a trip to the library.

Miss Reilly's second grade enjoyed a trip to the library. They all received library cards and bookmarks.

Patsy Dumbotten is in the hospital at Rochester, Minn. She received a letter from the second graders this week.

The children in Mrs. Histon's third grade are working with Miss Bell's fourth grade on an opera for an assembly program.

The cast of characters has been selected, and most of the children have their lines all learned.

The third graders are learning the harder addition and subtraction combinations now, also "carrying" in addition.

Three new books have been added to the library corner in Miss Bell's fourth grade. These books are "Little Cat Lost" by Elvina Garner, "The Balls of Amsterdam" by Ruth Holberg and "Dody and Cap-tin Jinks" by Helen Ferris.

The children are enjoying them very much, and they have all found that library reading is a very interesting pastime.

Mrs. Fuller's group of fourth grade children have enjoyed making cut-out figures of Pilgrims, Indians, evergreen trees, and a church for a large scene of the First Thanksgiving. This project resulted in an interesting quiz as well as a lesson in perspective arrangement.

Yvonne Lehi, a member of Miss Frankland's fifth grade, has moved to Grand Rapids, Mich., where the family will make their home.

The pupils in Miss Eckstrom's fifth grade are studying the southern states of the United States. They enjoy their map work.

The freeze in Miss Ekstrom's room has been completed. Janet Decker is now attending school in Niles. Miss Sundquist's sixth grade enrollment again stands at the figure 43.

Dale Rifenberg was welcomed back in school this week. He was absent for a month due to the scarlet fever case at his home.

Posters have been made which will advertise the Book Sale to be sponsored by the Intermediate Grade Mothers Club on Dec. 3. The best posters will be on display in several public places.

Miss Reams' room has been working on a hunting freeze which should be completed this week. Gilbert Forbes, Shirley Cato and Lyle Good are in charge of putting the freeze together.

Dewey Avenue News
Jane Lehr left Miss Schlegman's kindergarten today. She is moving to Grand Rapids. Jane was one of the best singing helpers in school. The children went down town to get orange crates. They were very hard to find.

The children in Mrs. Radewald's third grade are enjoying the "Little House in the Big Woods" which is a story of pioneer life in Michigan. They are working on posters to illustrate the story.

The boys and girls in Miss Kubsch's room have begun their study of the Congo region. They have a new book called "Visits in Other Lands" which they enjoy reading. The trip to the Congo was made by the members of the class with their imagination.

New food charts have been made by groups working together. There are charts showing foods for vitamins, foods for bones and teeth, foods for building muscles, and foods for energy.

John Finney from Berrien Springs has entered the class while Times Earnest has left the group to return to Alabama.

HOLLYWOOD

Cowboy Hero
When Bill Boyd, the invincible Hopalong Cassidy of the screen, was a kid he had two ambitions. He wanted to be both a cowboy and an engineer when he grew up. But cowboy most of all. As it happened, whether through fate or Bill's own forceful disposition, he was both.

Bill first tried his hand at many things. He worked his way straight across the continent as a lumberman, a carpenter, an engineer, an oil driller, an orange picker, and finally as an extra in the movies.

Boyer-Fontane, New Film Team, at Hollywood Soon
Charles Boyer and Joan Fontane are slated together for the first time in "The Constant Nymph," the new Warner Bros. picture which will have its premiere at the Hollywood Theatre Sunday and Monday, Nov. 28, 29.

The film has an impressive supporting cast headed by Alexis Smith, Brenda Marshall, Charles Coburn, Peter Boyle, who is in a sympathetic role, Dame May Whitty and Jean Mun. Others in the cast include that veteran actor, Montagu Love, Edward Cannell, Joyce Reynolds, Doris Lloyd and Joan Blair.

"The Constant Nymph" tells the story of Lewis Dodd, a young composer who is loved by Tessa Sanger, an adolescent girl he has always considered a child. He married a beautiful society girl too late to find out when it is too late that he has always loved Tessa.

Based upon the popular novel by Margaret Kennedy, the picture was directed by Edmund Goulding from the screen play by Kathryn Cola.

Oberon Remotes Wedding Ring for Movie Marriage
Maile Oberon broke her vow to wear her own wedding ring, and none other, in her movie roles, when she was married to Carl Esmond for the filming of Columbia's "First Comes Courage," which will be presented at the Hollywood theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, with Euan Aberne as Miss Oberon's co-star. Merle explained that she would hardly want the ring given her by Alexander Korda on their marriage, to symbolize her wedding to a brutal Nazi invader of a Norwegian town, even in a motion picture.

Presidents Promoted Canals
Canal building in the United States began during the first decade after the Revolution with construction of a passage around the Connecticut river falls at South Hadley, Mass. The first canal for general passenger and freight use was the Middlesex canal. Finished in 1804, it bore packets between Boston and Lowell for nearly 50 years.

Keep Iron Clean
Be sure your iron is clean when you store it. If there are starch spots on the sole plate, try removing them with a cloth wrung from soap suds or a very mild scouring powder such as whiting or silver polish. Finish cleaning by wiping the iron with a cloth wrung from clean water and polish with a dry cloth.

THE next time you pay your electric bill, remember: A large part of that money goes to blast the Axis!

Yes, over 15c of every dollar you turn over to us, we turn over to the federal government as taxes. In terms of the entire industry, that's over 400 million dollars—enough to buy more than 1500 giant bombers—at a quarter-million each.

And that's not all! Over 8c per dollar in addition goes to local and state governments—for your schools, roads, police and fire protection.

Altogether, from every dollar you pay us, we pass along at least 24c as taxes. And we do it willingly—in the face of higher costs and lower prices. Since no other electric power is federally taxed, we are often asked: "How can you manage?" Well, by business management—which is another way of saying: efficiency—economy—careful planning!
