City Passes Ordinance to Protect Asphalt Pavement From Fires

67 Tons Piled Up During Drive

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hill Corners says:

The human race is purly well divided into two classes—them as gloat becuz they hev things an' them as grunt becuz they don't

If you had some' tires t'd be nice to take a long drive these days, ef you had some gas

The Whistle Deep in the middle of the night I had a horrid dream, And I kicked off all the bed-clothes and woke up with a scream

I dreamed I was a warden and my duties were immense—

'T was the whistle-blower for Civilian Home Defense.

I heard the Japs and Germans and the other Axis dregs

'Tere headed for Buchanan with their cases full of eggs

I was told to blow the whistle right off, PDQ, and so

I tried to blow the whistle but the whistle wouldn't blow

I yanked down on the lever that is made to blow the thing

And I tried to ring the whistle but the whistle wouldn't ring

Or when it did, it sounded like a faint hay fever sneeze,

Or like the autumn breezes softly sighing in the trees

It sounded like a maiden's sigh who ponders with regrets

On the absence of her lover with the Army Air Cadets.

It sounded like the gurgle where the bubbling brooklet sings

When I tried to ring the whistle and the whistle wouldn't ring

And so there was no warning and the lights shone brightly on

And the Japs came on and blew us and the town to hell-and-gone

They blew me and the whistle thirty miles above the town

I met the captain going up as I was coming down.

And as he aimed a glancing kick he said, "You numbskull you, You were told to blow the whistle, but no one could hear it blew!"

So I handed him the whistle and I said: "Go junk the thing I tried like heck to ring it but the darn thing wouldn't ring."

Letters from England Mrs Mabel McIntosh loans the Record two letters from her sons, William McIntosh and Charles McIntosh, both serving with the American army air forces in England

Both were written soon after the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to William (E. B.) McIntosh Both are written with the idea that Mrs McIntosh had not heard about the award, since they evidently did not realize that the news was in papers all over the United States a few hours after the award ceremony.

Babe writes: "Mom, I have a great big surprise for you and I know that you are going to enjoy hearing about it. I can't tell you all the details, but the main thing is that on Sept 12 I was decorated with the most beautiful medal that you ever saw in your life It is the "Distinguished Flying Cross." A major general planned it on me and said: "Nice going, sergeant." Mom, I am the proudest soldier in the world It looks fine pinned on my coat and everyone looks at it. Did you know that I am a sergeant now. Yep, I'm getting right up there."

Chuck writes: "Well, Mom, I am sure a happy boy, as I have seen Babe and we see a lot of each other. He looks very healthy and fat."

Enforce Ban On Burning Leaves On Pavements

Fires Destroy Blacktop; Act Punishable By Heavy Fine

The Buchanan people who burn leaves on the pavements in the future will be arrested and fined if caught, according to Chief Paul Kane, who stated that a number of such acts by people not aware of the consequences had been reported.

The new black top pavements can be damaged or even set on fire if the fire is hot enough. At the very least the flames will burn all of the tar which is the sole binder, leaving only soft crumbling stone—which will be thrown out by the first car or truck that hits it. The offense is covered by a city ordinance and can be punished by fine up to $100

Notable Speaker at B. & P. W. Public Affairs Dinner

The Buchanan Business & Professional Women's club will hold its annual Public Affairs dinner at the American Legion hall Monday evening, Oct. 19, with Miss Dorothy McAllister of Grand Rapids as the speaker.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m., and the program meeting will follow. Miss McAllister will speak on the topic "Hemisphere Solidarity." She has had a wide experience in public affairs and in social investigations and studies.

She was a speaker on the program of the Institute of Public Affairs, at the University of Virginia in 1936, and at the Institute of Social Progress at Wellesley College in 1941.

She was a member of the Michigan Constitutional Convention in 1933, helped to write Michigan's Unemployment Insurance Law as a member of Gov. Murphy's Social Study Commission in 1937, was a member of the White House Conference on "Children in a Democracy (1938-39), and was appointed by President Roosevelt as a member of the National Advisory Committee of the Office of Civilian Defense in 1941.

The tickets to the banquet have been listed at $15. A few are unsold and anyone interested should see Mrs. George Russell

100 Attend Meet Berrien I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs Here

One hundred members and guests attended the Berrien County IOOF and Rebekah Association meeting Tuesday night in the IOOF hall. The president, Harry Pierce of Niles, presided at the business meeting.

It was voted to discontinue the meetings for the duration, the present officers to hold over until the meetings are resumed.

Glenn Hammel, Kalamazoo, the grand master of the IOOF of Michigan, was guest speaker.

Moving pictures of the battles of Midway, Coral Sea and the Ice Carnival in Chicago were shown by George Smith and Marlin Kean. Lunch was served by the local Rebekah lodge.

Music for dancing was furnished by Bailey's orchestra of Berrien Springs.

Maroons Lose To Niles 20-0

Niles Takes Advantage Of Breaks; Statistics Of Game Even

Two forward passes and a blocked kick spelled 20-0 defeat for Buchanan at Plym park, Niles, Friday evening, in a game in which statistics indicating team power were nearly even.

Niles gained 106 from scrimmage to 103 for Buchanan, gained 40 yards on forward passes to 15 for Buchanan, lost 70 yards on penalties to 10 for Buchanan. As a result, the net yardage of each team was Buchanan 103, Niles 76. But at leastness in the breaks did the business as it usually does.

The story of the game was as follows: Paul Potokar set up the first Niles touchdown and then passed to Crocker on the third play of the second quarter for the score. In the closing minutes of the first quarter, Potokar and Blank had rushed the ball from the Niles 33 to the Buchanan 30 yard line, with Potokar contributing two first downs on the march. Then in the second stanza pitched a pass to Crocker, who romped some 25 yards to score standing up.

The tally came on the third play of the second quarter, and Wilson trotted out to boot the ball between the uprights with room to spare.

Vikings Penalized Buchanan's left halfback received the kick and was dropped all in his tracks. Coach Art Van Ryzan's Bucks held the ball for eight plays, gaining one first down on a penalty on Niles for unnecessary roughness, before being forced to punt.

After an exchange of kicks, Niles took over on its own 47 at the start of the third period. What gains the team made with a running attack were nullified when the Vikings were penalized 15 yards for illegal use of the hands. Smith punted to Buchanan's 26.

Handily promptly lost two yards and Bachman, manning up of the visitors' attack, picked up three. On the third play after the kick, Bachman attempted a pass and Pete Potokar swept in to snare the ball on the 25 and scamper to the goal line, making the score 13 to 0. Again Wilson kicked the extra point, and coach Jim Tuma's Vikings led their old rivals by 14 points.

The rest of the third period and the early part of the last were played for the most part deep in Buchanan territory.

The desperate Bucks yanked out all the stops after that and fought their way down to the Niles seven-yard line behind the stellar running attack of their fullback, Bachman. With the ball on the Niles seven, Bachman received a bad pass from center and fumbled, recovering back on the 20. The Tumamen tightened at that point and the Bucks lost the ball on downs when Hanifley's pass, intended for Couchman, fell out of reach.

Adams Blocks Kick, Scores The fourth quarter was played for the most part in Buchanan territory. Midway in the last period, however, Vargo punted out of bounds on the Bucks' 15 yard line. Three plays failed to bring a first down and Bachman went back in to punt formation, standing in the shadow of his own goal-line. Kermit Adams, an end, broke through the weakened Buchanan line to block the kick, and fell on the ball in the end zone for the last score of the game. Wilson missed his try for a third conversion.

Vote Receipts To Civilian Defense Set-Up

Scrap Bought by Frank at $10 Ton; To Be Used For Sirens, Medical Supplies

A second drive to salvage metal scrap in Buchanan with the Buchanan school children as the scouts will be held next Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 20, according to decision made at a meeting in the office of Rev. Lamb Tuesday night.

The second drive will be held with a goal of raising the 67 tons of last week to not less than 75 tons. Anyone living in Buchanan or within a few miles of town who has scrap to contribute is asked to notify either Rex Lamb, Tel. 12, or H. C. Starik, Tel. 40. It is expected that a relatively few trucks and helpers will be needed. High school boys will again do the roughest work. All scrap for this collection should be at the curbs or at least easily available by 1 p. m.

At a vote of the committee attending, it was decided that the receipts from the entire drive should be turned over to civilian defense, with the object of installing a more effective siren system and buying supplies for the medical unit of the civilian defense set-up. The scrap has been contacted by Philip Frank at $10 per ton. The receipts from the drive Friday afternoon were $670 worth of metal.

The committee discussed the purchase of three or four revolving sirens made by the Federal Electric Company, selling at $250 each. This type has been tried in Niles and found quite satisfactory. The sirens now in use here is not suited to air raid warnings.

With The Boys in Service

Hubert McClellan recently wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McClellan, that he had been advanced to the rank of Lieutenant, Junior Grade, in the Naval Air forces. He is serving some where on the Atlantic, having been moved from the Canal Zone.

M. C. McQuivey is now instructor in pharmacy at Fort Lewis, near Tacoma, Wash., having completed training in compounding drugs in the pharmacy department.

Edward Hempel writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hempel, from Pearl Harbor that he had recently been over in Honolulu to see a football game, and that he had met both Richard Noe and Judson Walls, both serving in the navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hagley hear regularly from their son, who is with the navy off the West Coast.

Evt. Robert J. Soucek, son of G. V. Soucek, R. R. 2, Buchanan, Mich., has successfully completed a special course of instruction at the Signal Corps' school at Camp Murphy.

Pvt. Soucek was selected for this specialized training on the basis of his aptitude as measured by a written examination. He graduates from the school well-fitted for more important service in the American Army.

Tales of An Old Town

An Attempt to Re-produce a Cross Section of The American Scene, As Witnessed Here Through the Past Century

On the Opening of the First Roads Through the Forests

Part II How many people of America realize that a present-day four-lane motor thoroughfare on a week-end is one of the most exhilarating sights in the world and that it can be matched no where else in the world?

Or that its smooth flow of traffic, looked at impersonally, is a sight as majestic and as breathtaking as a Niagara? And that aside from the mere physical spectacle, it is a moving human sight, fraught with tremendous human interest?

Only in the greater cities and the capitals of Europe can a similar amount of traffic be seen (it might be well to add that we are talking of the conditions just preceding the current unpleasantly known as World War No. 2) And there it was jerky and spasmodic, without the rolling rhythm of American traffic.

And if you wish to deal in that rather sentimental and indefinite quantity, "romance," there is more of that commodity in five minutes of modern highway traffic than in a year of the old Coach roads, for all their antique stage coaching and blowing of post horns.

But the story of the roads from the beginning to the present, if fully and well told, would be a worthwhile tale, and even this sketchy series on local roads could be interesting enough if it were all available. On a guess we say the oldest roads in the immediate vicinity of Buchanan are River street and Terre Coupe Road.

For these two streets are the remaining segments of the old Terre Coupe road by which the wheat raised in the prairie sections of Niles township and Bend of the River were wagoned to the mill at Terre Coupe, now known as Dayton. Since that mill antedated Buchanan by several years, since the farming section of Niles township was the first by several years to be developed in Berrien County, it is assumed that the road antedated the town by several years at least.

Wheat was then a main product on the prairie farms. Old-timers in Buchanan can remember the string of wagons that used to roll across the River street bridge to the mill in the fall 75 years ago, backing up for several blocks waiting unloading.

When Buchanan was platted in 1942, the town plat cut across the road from Niles township to the Terre Coupe mill. Until then there was a winding road that joined River street at its present termination at Fourth and Portage with the present junction of Terre Coupe Road with Front street. Thus River street from the bridge to "Portage street," and Terre Coupe Road from Front to the old cemetery by the Boyle farm, are remnants of our oldest road.

The roads wound those days without much attention to section lines, the contour of the country and the condition of the ground being the main determinants in the routing.

Opening the necessary roads was the first business of the local township authorities. The township board ordered them opened for the common convenience, and the building was done for the most part in payment of the highway tax. Non-residents were assessed on their properties the same as residents, but the latter usually worked out their assessments. Non-residents paid cash and these were the only money receipts for road purposes except as the town meetings sometimes voted a special assessment for some urgent thoroughfare. The debates over such appropriations were usually quite hot and the decisions were made by calling for the "ayes" and "noes."

When a new settlement was made, a road became necessary.

The road would be first surveyed and then, if it was to be a main road, the timber must be chopped out to make an open way four rods wide. The resident owners of the land were notified by the pathmaster when and where the road, the timber must be chopped. Axes, handspikes, a yoke or two of oxen to haul logs out of the roadway, or to some mny place for a "corduroy road" were the essentials.

Chopping down the timber would start from the outer edges where it would be felled in a straight line—and then—from the center the trees would be felled each way so the logs fell at right angles with the road, the tops making a jagged brush fence next to the standing forest on each side. The larger stumps might be grubbed out but the smaller trees and brush would be only cut low enough so that the wagon axles and hubs would clear them.

Collection Averages 30 Lbs. Per Capita; Average Good Compared With Other Cities

Well, folks, hats off to the school kids of Buchanan who dug up 134,165 pounds, 67 tons and 165 pounds, of scrap in the drive Friday, to the business men who furnished the trucks to haul it in, and to the high school huskies who loaded it.

The Record hung up by Buchanan compared very favorably with that of other cities. Taking the 1940 census of 4,016 for Buchanan as a basis, it meant an average of 30 pounds per capita. Although there are more than that many people in Buchanan now, because of influx of war workers, the 1940 figure seems fair enough, for the new population could not furnish much scrap iron, as they have not lived here long enough to accumulate and most of them have comparatively temporary quarters in rooms and apartments, the accumulations of this and that being left behind in former homes.

South Bend with a population of 105,000 gathered 1,250,000 pounds, or an average of about 12 pounds per capita. Thus Buchanan did 2 1/2 times as well.

The feat of the youngsters who scouted the scrap astonished even the most optimistic. The organizers of the drive had not dared to hope for even 60 tons. Some thought that there would not be enough scrap to cover the bottoms of the 26 trucks that took to the streets to collect it.

But when the trucks came in piled high, unloaded it and came again, and again, people began to take notice. The scrap was sold to Philip Frank of the Buchanan Salvage Company. It overflowed the Frank yard on Oak street. The overflow went to the Frank yard on Portage street.

Trucks were furnished by the following: Buchanan Co-ops, Inc.; 2, Sand grocery 2, City of Buchanan 2, A. P. Sprague 1, E. Arney 1, American Railway Express 1, William Nelson 1, Clayton McCollum 1, Fooman Horn Stores 1, Deeds 1, Buchanan Lumber Company 1, Boy Scouts 1, City Market & Grocery 1; Frank Hickok Coal Yard 1; Miller Lumber Co. 1, Hattenback's Coal Yard 1, Ed Hess 1, Richard Boyer 1, Reamer's Market & Grocery 1, Sam Rakowski 1; Sands Market 1, Nelson Hawks 1, Wilson Dairy 1.

The following is believed to be a complete list of the boys who helped load the scrap on the trucks. The Record would be glad to make the correction if any omissions are reported.

John Elbers and Emory Toogood instructors, also joined the work as truck drivers.

Gordon Beckett, Miss Ruth Arbogast and Mrs. Marie Strawser of Elkhardt, Ind., were guests at luncheon Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bostwick.

Miss Geraldine Pazder was a week-end guest of Miss Shirley Erskine, Battle Creek.

Flames Believed to Have Had Origin In Wiring

Fire Destroys Part of Ira Snider House

Fire believed to have had its origin in defective wiring damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Snider, 304 1/2 avenue, on Friday evening, partially destroying the northwest part of the double house and destroying or damaging furnishings and wall paper of several rooms.

When the fire was discovered by Mrs. Snider it was burning up the wall between the kitchen and a rear shed room. It was then centered around an electric light switch and an outlet for a power washer, lending weight to the belief that defective wiring was the cause. A call was sent in but the flames spread rapidly and had ignited the entire interior of the shed and its roof when the fire department arrived.

The new fire department pump received its baptism of fire and did excellent work. Although the fire had gained rapid headway and the wooden walls and wall paper made excellent burning material, Chief Cramer and his squad soon had it under control and it was extinguished with a minimum of damage to building and furnishings.

The flames were confined almost entirely to the shed room in the rear of the Snider apartment, but the heat and smoke were driven through the kitchen, dining room and living room until even the paint on the front door was blistered. All of the papering downstairs and part upstairs was damaged beyond repair. A washer, refrigerator, several cupboards and their contents, other furnishings and a considerable amount of clothing including sheepskin coats hanging in the rear room were destroyed. The fire department members and several people carried out many of the furnishings in the living, dining room and kitchen, saving them from damage.

On the exterior the shed and the west end of the kitchen addition were badly charred. The apartment in the south half of the building was entirely unharmed.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Army's fighter planes are the finest in the world and develop speeds up to 400 miles an hour. They cost approximately $100,000 each, provide fighter escorts for the huge flying fortresses, and combine speed, range, altitude and blistering fire power.

America's plane production plants are working over-time turning out thousands of these fighter planes. War Savings Bonds will help pay for them and the American people are committed to at least ten percent of their income to finance their cost in War Bonds. Every American, buying his share every pay day, will make it comparatively easy to supply our army and navy air corps with these supreme Eagles of the air.

The Young Peoples Circle of the Portage Prairie church will have a weiner roast Friday evening in the home of Miss Hester Scott. The business meeting will be in charge of the president, Miss Mary Reish.

Higher Math. Is Needed to Adjust Fuel, Oil Ration

WASHINGTON—Fuel oil users in the rationed area will do well to brush up on long division, study higher mathematics, and get a slide rule.

They will need that equipment in order to check up on whether their rationing boards are giving them an equitable share of heating oil this winter.

Whether consumers do so or not, the rationing board is obliged to figure out how much fuel oil each is to get. Just how they will figure it was "explained" by the Office of Price Administration yesterday.

A percentage of past fuel consumption and a floor area heat-loss formula both will be used as guides by local boards in determining individual rations.

will be determined," Mr. O'Leary said. The two constants fixed by O. P. A. for all zones into which the rationed area has been divided are 7,300 and 5,600. The higher figure will represent low heating efficiency for the house, the lower figure will represent high efficiency through good insulation and economical oil burner performance.

The constants reflect efficiency factors that can reasonably be brought to standard (insulation, clean burner, combustion, storm windows, etc.), whereas the range is provided to cover variables that can not be accurately combated, it was explained.

Application of Formula.
To show how the formula will establish the ration range, the O. P. A. gave this example:

The floor area of a house is 1,800 square feet. The degree-day figure for the zone in which it is located is 5,000. The two constants, as stated above, are 7,300 and 5,600.

In the formula, the floor area is multiplied by the degree-days and the product divided by the constants. The result is the ration range in gallons of fuel oil. O. P. A. avers that in this example the range will be from 1,607 to 1,223 gallons.

After the range is determined, the exact ration to be issued will be computed on the basis of a percentage of last year's consumption.

Adjustment to Normal
The amount of fuel oil used in

Adjourn Politics
Certainly, petty, partisan politics—politics for the sake of personal or party advantage—should be adjourned until our enemies have been defeated.

But, in wartime, it is more important than ever that, if we are to come out of the war with constitutional government, with the freedom and the liberty of the citizen still existing, still available, we have a two-party system of government, where the minority party is accurately and justly critical of the actions of the majority party.

If we do not have that kind of government, then we will have a dictatorship. A dictatorship of the world is the thing against which we are fighting. We need none here. Hence, it behooves every citizen of this country to go to the polls and to make sure that, on Election Day, representatives are sent to Congress who will see to it that sound, practical methods prevail in connection with the fighting of the war and that, while the war is being fought, those in power—the Administration—do not here establish a dictatorship.

It is conceded that, up to this time, this Administration has been bewildered, its war efforts confused. There has been a multiplicity of contradictory orders, rules and regulations. The business of many a small businessman has been ruined. Taxation, the source of the sinews of war, dried up. The crops on many a farm have gone unharvested. Many a dairy herd has been sold because of lack of farm labor. During the coming planting and growing season, many thousands of acres of land will remain uncultivated.

There has been waste and extravagance unbelievable in the Government's war efforts. We have today in the Army more men than can be adequately trained, equipped and transported. Bigness, instead of efficiency, seems to have been the watchword. Favoritism and special privileges to certain groups at the expense of the farm and small town population have all too often prevailed.

As your Congressman, I have opposed the granting of special privileges. I have opposed waste and extravagance, advocated equal opportunity, demanded economy and efficiency. I have opposed the fallacious New Deal policies and have insisted that common sense, sound methods be followed. Because of my opposition to the New Deal philosophy they, the Communists and certain pressure groups, have been, and are, out to defeat me.

There are plenty of "yes-men," plenty of rubber stamps, in Washington. You have too many of that kind. I have never been—I never will be one. If re-elected, experience will be my teacher, common sense my guide, my sole purpose a desire to serve you, to defeat our enemies, to support in every possible way the men who have been sent to the war; a determination that, when the victory has been won, our men shall without delay return to their homes and their loved ones.

Two Constants To Be Used
This figure in the formula is known as a "constant." Actually, Mr. O'Leary explained, two constants, a high and a low, will be used to establish a ration range. Any ration within this range would be presumed as sufficient to maintain a 65-degree daytime temperature for a house of standard heating efficiency.

Therefore by applying two different figures as constants to the formula, maximum and minimum rations required to heat the house the example house last year" adjusted to normal, was 2,400 gallons. Last year's consumption is adjusted to normal by comparing last year's degree-days with normal degree-days in each sub-zone and making a proportionate change in gallonage of fuel. Two-thirds of this amount is 1,600 gallons—so that is the ration the house with 1,800 square feet would get as it is within the ration range.

Whenever the two-thirds figure falls below the ration range, an adjustment will be made to raise the ration issued to the floor of the range, or to 85% of last year's consumption figure—whichever is lower.

Local rationing boards won't have to work out the formula mathematically for each individual. O. P. A. will furnish tables listing the range floors and range ceilings for houses of given sizes in each of the thermal zones into which the rationed area has been divided. The range can thus be determined at a glance, it is said.

Rationing boards will however have to determine the exact ration by applying the last year's consumption figure to be found on the householder's application blank. —Wall Street Journal

Farm Machinery Rationing Board Makes Allotments

The newly appointed farm machinery rationing board consisting of Martin H. Kretschman, chairman of the Berrien County A. A. committee, as chairman, Fred Gleason, Benton Harbor and J. G. Boyle of Buchanan as the other two members has issued purchasing certificates for corn pickers to Russel C. File, E. M. Morris, Fred Greshen, Frank Vandenburg, Carl Fienkert, Stuart Batterson, Charles Hullinger, Mike Tobler, Morgan Loinaugh, John Seyfried, Arthur and Forest Gardner. Certificates for manure spreaders were issued to J. G. Boyle, Chas. C. Heckathorn, Lawrence Donner, Berrien County Social Welfare Board and Wm. F. Noffke. Floyd Mathewson, Harry H. Mielke, Ward Letcher, Gerald Wilson, Ray E. Newstrom, Berrien County Social Welfare Board, Fred Greichen, A. F. Newman and Jack Hovan have certificates for purchasing tractors. Erick L. Nerlikowski for a grain drill. The Berrien County Social Welfare Board for a Tandem 8-ft disc harrow and Henry Doberstein a hammer mill. Certificates for purchasing vacuum pumps were issued to Nading Bros., Walter Rozell, Richard Kaehn, Weston Brook Farm and Calyafon Hewitt and to Wm. Koebel for an Allis-Chalmers All-Crop Harvester.

Applications to purchase a small gasoline tractor and a milking machine were not approved because of insufficient information.

A & P Enriches All Its Brand Flours

In a further step in its programs of cooperation with health authorities in the nation's wartime nutrition program, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company announced today a change in its "Iona" brand family flour and "Sunnyfield" brand pastry flour to conform to "enriched" standards.

Frank M Tully, in charge of flour-buying operations for A&P, said the changes will place all of the company's brands of flour as well as its bread in the "enriched" class. "Sunnyfield" brand family flour and A&P bread were "enriched" more than a year ago.

Tully explained that "packages" of the three brands of flour moving to retail outlets in the near future will carry the label "enriched" and a statement that the flour contains more than 1 1/2 milligrams of Vitamin B1, or thiamin, 6 1/2 milligrams of niacin, the pellagra-preventive found in many common foods such as liver, kidney and other wholesome meats, and 6 1/2 milligrams of iron.

Both the "Iona" and the "Sunnyfield" family flours are all-purpose flours, Tully said, while the pastry flour, milled from soft wheat, is intended primarily for pies, cakes, other pastries, biscuits and similar food products.

"Americans' preference for delicate white bread has brought about milling processes which have given an extra-fine product, but which have been responsible for the loss of much of the vitamin and mineral values of wheat flour," Tully pointed out. "This loss is now counteracted by addition, after the milling process, of the 'B complex' properties that bring the white flour closer to parity with whole wheat flour."

Navy Mothers Club

Members of the Paul E Thurston Navy Mothers club met Friday night in the Methodist church for the regular monthly business meeting. It was voted to purchase a war bond and to donate to the Pearl Harbor benefit fund.

The committee for the social meeting, Oct. 23, includes Mrs E N Schram, Mrs Leonard Dalenberg, Mrs Fred Hall and Mrs. Louis Lohmaugh.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

Mrs Joseph Roti Roti will attend a pre-nuptial personal shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs August Lemmer, Kalamazoo, honoring Miss Shirley Lemmer, bride elect of Ensign Donald Roti Roti.

Comrad Class

The Comrade Class of the Portage Prairie church met Tuesday night in the home of Mr and Mrs Everett Young. Roll call topic, "A Hallow'en Frank" Mrs. Ernest Housworth led the devotionals. The lesson "Understanding the Bible" was presented by Mrs. Helen Smith.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. Robert Kell and sister, Mrs. Larry Morgan were co-hostesses Wednesday evening in the Kell home at a miscellaneous shower, honoring their sister, Miss Esta Mae Lichtenbarger.

W. B. A. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Buchanan review of the Women's Benefit Association was held Tuesday night in the W B A. hall Mrs Howard Barbour was appointed treasurer pro-tem for the remainder of the year. Plans were completed to attend the W B A rally at Kalamazoo Thursday, Oct. 15, when the guard team of the local review will participate in the pageant.

Contest prizes were won by Mrs Franklin Wallace, Mrs.

Frank Chain and Miss Maude Slate.

The committee for the social hour included Mrs Howard Barbour, Mrs. John Luke and Mrs Fred Carbon. A cooperative supper and hard time party is planned for the next meeting, Oct. 27.

Truck Hits Bump

The driver of the truck, William Stocker, of Elkhart, Ind, told police that Mr Weaver apparently fell from the truck, when it struck a bump as he was driving north on South Falcon street.

A party of 11 officers, members of the Indiana State Guard units stationed in South Bend, will pay the respects of the guard to Mr Weaver, in Peru tonight, it was announced today by Major Howard A. Noble, commanding the Second Battalion, First Infantry.

"This has been repeatedly described by the president as a 'total war' and he has frequently emphasized that all of the people must fight it if they hope to survive. We feel that Mr. Weaver is just as much a war casualty as though he had been wearing the uniform of one of the armed services," Major Noble declared.

Louis Nekvasil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nekvasil of Bakerstown, is now in Australia, according to a notice from the war department.

James Nekvasil was a victor six days last week with his parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Nekvasil of Bakerstown, while on furlough from Fort Ripley, Little Falls, Minn. He is now assigned to military police service

James Kennard Slocum is in the air corp mechanic service at an air base near Glendale, Calif. He entered the service Feb 19, 1942, and has passed through three mechanical training courses, receiving three diplomas. He writes to his parents, Mr and Mrs John Slocum, Victory street, that he is enjoying his work very much

The following letter has been received from Bob Ferris at Camp Carrabelle, Florida. Bob is learning to handle a twenty-ton wrecker. One of the interesting jobs he had recently was helping to set a derailed locomotive back on the track

How are all of you? First I am going to tell you something. Monday night I sat here on the bed with $4 in my pocket and the boys started a crap game. I got the urge myself. I figured I could lose $2 so I started in. So I started in I wound up with $68 in my pocket, Tuesday morning I gave the captain $60 to save for me. I am away ahead of the game so I will not play again. That is my furlough money and I will not touch it. I was not going to tell you about it but I made it and saved it, so what is it to be about?

This afternoon A and I went to the beach just for a ride. He was showing me some things about pulling trees. I spotted a bunch of fishermen pulling in a big seine, so we went and watched them. I wish you could have seen it when they pulled that 5,000 foot seine on the beach. I'll bet they had two or three truckloads of fish. All kinds of ocean fish I wish I could name them all for you. One was a 4 1/2 foot shark. I saw it snap an eight-pound ocean trout right in two. I sure won't want one of them after me. They gave me the shark. We brought it back to the camp and everybody had to look at it. I cut it open so we could see what it ate. It had large fish in it and crabs. We have not been working much here, but I am going to learn this wrecker and it will take lots of time, so I won't have time to write much.

Your son, Bob. George Riley will be graduated this (Thursday) evening from the radio school of Northwestern University, as one of the honor men in a class of 200. The valedictorian received a mark of 98 and Riley received 96. He will spend a few days at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs H. W. Riley, following which he will go to Jacksonville, Fla., for a five-months course.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall received a letter from their son, Fred, Jr., on Saturday, the first in five months. He seemed to be in good spirits and said that he had received a large bunch of letters from home that morning; all written a considerable time before. He said that he could tell very little, but that his relatives should trust to luck and be patient. He had gained weight and was in the pink of condition when he wrote. He also wrote that he had "swell eats and very good pay."

Becomes Flying Cadet. Frank Benak is spending a six-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Benak, Sr. At the end of his furlough on Saturday he will report to Chanute Field, and will be dispatched from there to some field in the San Antonio area for pre-flight training, as a preliminary part of an eight-months course as an army air cadet. He had been graduated from a course in airplane mechanics at Chanute Field, and was engaged in a special course in the airplane motor when his call came to report for aviation cadet training.

Hunters Are Asked To Salvage Rifle and Shotgun Casings

The half million small game and deer hunters invading Michigan's woods and fields this fall are asked by the department of conservation to cooperate with the Michigan Salvage Committee by saving all their shotgun and rifle shell casings.

The Michigan Retail Hardware Dealers' association has been enlisted in the drive, and all hardware stores in the state will serve as collection centers. They will cooperate with the various county salvage committees.

With use of several million shells likely during the small game and deer seasons in Michigan, it is believed that a huge quantity of valuable metal could be salvaged. The Michigan Salvage Committee has suggested that hunters cut off the cardboard and paper sections of their used shotgun shells and turn in just the metal bases. Sportsmen's clubs, it was said, could perform a valuable service by salvaging what may in some cases be enormous quantities of brass now lying about rifle ranges and trap shooting grounds.

While it was announced a short time ago that sportsmen would have no difficulty this fall in obtaining shotgun shells, it was reported then that ammunition for the more popular caliber deer hunting rifles was practically off the market. The Michigan Salvage Committee, in asking sportsmen to save shell casings, said "Hunters should be convinced that if they salvage used shells, they may be able to hunt for a much longer time. It may be that we will be able to obtain ammunition loads but not shell casings, and in that situation, salvaging the brass shells is in order."

Advices Use Of Spray Outfits To Fight Farm Fires

Michigan farmers face a season's greatest of the year in fire hazards as heating plants are started up and forced to keep homes, barns, milk houses and watering tanks usable in winter months.

Three fire preventive pointers and some advice on protecting against freezing those spray rig tanks kept filled to fight possible fires are offered by C. H. Jefferson of the agricultural engineering department of Michigan State College.

First of the fire preventers is to have good roofs so that if sparks fly out of chimneys they will be less apt to start blazes. If sparks fly out of a chimney the chimney probably has an accumulation of soot or carbon.

The soot ought to be cleaned out. Similarly if smoke comes out of flues or cracks in a chimney, there is need for timely repairs, Jefferson points out.

Heating plants should be kept in shape, cleaned out around the grates and dampers kept under control to prevent overheating.

Recently the college recommended greater use of estimated 20,000 power potato and fruit spray rigs, as fire fighting devices. Water under high pressure can be used to smother a fire with fog and put out a blaze with a small quantity of water.

Two county fair programs recently proved spectacular demonstrations of the idea. At Allegan a corn crib fire was extinguished in 55 seconds with 30 gallons of water. Similarly, at the Newaygo county community fair, a spray rig put out a fire in about one minute, too soon to permit C. C. Mullett, county agricultural agent to obtain photographs.

In zero weather the spray rig tanks need an anti-freeze solution, such as one made by adding 2.87 pounds of flake calcium chloride to each gallon of water. For added to a solution safe at zero. For 20 below, still another half pound is added to the 10 below zero solution.

4-H Girls War Motto: Make and Mend for V

Four-H Club girls in this State are all out for their wartime motto to "Make and Mend for Victory" by turning their old knockabouts in clothing into knockouts. In short, they are being patriotic by salvaging everything in their wardrobes to eliminate buying anything made with or from vital war materials which they can get along without, to help win the peace.

They are learning to make their old clothes look like new through a thimbleful of dressmakers' alteration and restyling ticks—such as lengthening or shortening hems or sleeves in dresses, skirts, and coats, eliminating "baggy" at the back, taking in waists, and reclaiming used wool garments. So that time will be used to best advantage in war work, however, the clubsters are considering the following points before altering and restyling a garment. Is the original fabric good enough to survive the change? Is the color becoming—if not, can it be dyed? Is the style adaptable to the change?

The girls are receiving training in establishing a "second front" with their old garments in connection with the National 4-H Clothing Achievement contest, in which the Spool Cotton Company is cooperating with the Extension Service in stimulating interest by providing county, State and national awards for outstanding accomplishments, exhibits, and demonstrations of the participant's handwork.

Recognitions for superior work by the clothing achievement clubsters include gold medals for county winners, and all-expense trips to the 21st National 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec 2, for State honor recipients. Twelve college scholarships of $200 each will be presented to blue award group comprising two winners from each

Editorial

Attention, Seniors!!
 Statistics show that the general public tends to follow the action of celebrities and copy their ways of living to some extent. What is the reason for this? It is because celebrities are important, and everyone wants to be important.

The leaders in every group are looked up to by the rest in school. The young students, still struggling to find their way from room to room, need someone to depend upon. They have to learn the ropes as we all do. Thus, they rely on the actions of the seniors, who have had much experience, to guide them.

In fact it is the seniors' duty and responsibility to set a good example for underclassmen. Don't forget, seniors, that when you are tempted to shout in the halls or ignore your work in study period, you are being watched. That is now what is expected of you from new and younger students.

Seniors want to take a pleasant impression of the school with them when they graduate, so why not leave one behind too?

Don't be a doornail! Wake up and step lively! Are you prepared to carry this burden? You can now obtain free education, so take advantage of it. Study and work hard now, so you will be qualified to take your place among the other great workers in our national emergency. Your time is coming. Are you ready to meet it?

News Notes

F. F. A. Initiate New Members
 "Oh, Mabel, your lipstick's smeared!"

"Gee, Alice, that dress makes you look slim."

These are just a few of the cracks thrown at the new members of the F. F. A. Club, who were being initiated last week.

The boys wore girl's dresses, knee boots, straw hats, lipstick, and carried a sack with a pumpkin.

Library

The war is having an effect on the high school library. The increasing demand for educational material about such subjects as engineering, mechanic trades, aeronautics, nutrition, and war subjects has created the necessity of supplying our library with up-to-date material of that type of reading. The librarian, Miss L. Cernahan, is waiting to receive from the American Library Association a detailed review of the approved list of the latest books on the market appropriate for the high school library. The list will be available this month. After checking the book order list with the A. L. A. list, the book order will be placed in the hands of Mr. H. Stark for final approval before being sent to the book supply house.

The book order is made out by all the teachers who wish to make requests for certain books that would aid the students in his classes. The librarian then adds to this list spreading the order to cover all departments, to fill in where the library is understocked, and to satisfy the demands from the students for different types of books.

"I am very sorry when I am unable to give the student the kind of book he requests," said Miss Cernahan. "Have you any books on dive bombing, on the armored forces, West Point, Annapolis, the secret service, the submarine service, nursing, machine tools, air corps, aircraft carriers, vitamins, careers, Walt Disney's art?" is what I hear every week from the many boys and girls who talk with me in the library. Craig Robinson will be my shadow until I have placed on the shelves some new books to satisfy his voracious reading appetite. I believe I have a book on the order blank for everyone of the above mentioned subjects, and many more," concluded Miss Cernahan.

ATTENTION SOPHOMORES!
 Your class officers for this year as follows:
 President—Donna Vie Burrus.
 Vice-President—Norma Vergon.
 Secretary—Roland Ingleight.
 Treasurer—Merton Lee Hanlin.
 Class advisors—Mr. Van Ryzin and Miss Wagness.

It is reported by the county chairman of the Junior Red Cross that the afghans made last year in the Buchanan schools are in service. One was sent to Alaska and the other is somewhere, with our expeditionary forces.

MAIL SOLDIERS' XMAS GIFTS BEFORE NOVEMBER 1.

READ THE RULES—The following rules, issued by the Postoffice Department in cooperation with the Army Postal Service of the War Department, apply to the mailing of Christmas parcels for members of our Armed Forces serving outside the continental limits of the United States.

TIME OF MAILING—Christmas parcels and greeting cards should be mailed during the period beginning October 1 and ending November 1, 1942, the earlier the better. Each package should be endorsed "Christmas Parcel." Special effort will be made for delivery in time for Christmas.

SIZE AND WEIGHT—Christmas parcels shall not exceed 11 pounds in weight, or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. However, the public has been urged to cooperate by voluntarily restricting parcels to the size of an ordinary shoe box and the weight to six pounds.

USE CARE IN PREPARATION—Remembering the great distance this mail will be transported and the necessary storage and frequent handling, it is absolutely necessary that articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappings of sufficient strength to resist pressure of other mail. Each parcel is subject to censorship and delay may be minimized by securing covering to permit ready inspection of contents.

PROHIBITED MATTER—Intoxicants, inflammable materials, poisons or compounds likely to damage mails are unmailable. No perishable matter should be included in parcels.

HOW TO ADDRESS PARCELS—Addresses must be legible. Parcels addressed to overseas Army personnel should show in addition to the full name and address of the sender, the name rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, A.P.O. number of the addressee and the postoffice through which parcels are to be routed. Units located within the continental United States may be addressed direct, using name, rank, organization and location.

POSTAGE MUST BE FULLY PREPAID—The rate on parcels of fourth-class matter (exceeding eight ounces) being the zone rate applicable from the postoffice where mailed to the postoffice in the care of which parcels are addressed.

GREETING MESSAGES PERMISSIBLE—Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas," "Don't open until Christmas" and the like may be placed on the covering of the parcel if it does not interfere with the address. Cards may be enclosed and books may bear a simple dedicatory inscription.

INSURANCE AND REGISTRY—Gifts of value should be insured. Articles of small size and considerable value should be sealed and sent as first-class registered mail.

MONEY ORDERS—The Army Postal Service recommends use of postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of Armed Forces outside the United States. These are cashed at A.P.O. in local foreign currency at rate of exchange on date of presentation.

School Dismissed Oct. 19-20 To Hold Pupil Conferences

The first reports of child progress in grade school work this year will be conferences. School will be dismissed Monday and Tuesday, October 19 and 20, at 2:30 p. m. in order to have more time for conferences. Teachers have planned definite periods for these conferences.

Their plans for reports of pupil progress this year consists of two conference periods and four written report periods. The conferences will be in October and in April. There will be one change in the home reports for grades fourth, fifth and sixth. In these grades there will be A, B, C, D, and E grades and notes. The grades will tell the parent of the rating of your child, and the note will be concerned with individual growth and progress.

The Slacks Question
 A much debated question has arisen in school, "Should girls wear slacks to school?"

One boy's opinion, "Awful!!! Especially if they are broad. They would look like a circus tent." Another boy said, "It's all right if they know when and where to wear them, but school isn't the place for them."

Here are some of the girls' opinions, "Not unless it is cold out doors and they wear them for comfort." A second girl said "I suppose it's all right for some girls, but slacks, big hips, and short girls don't combine."

So students what's your opinion on this subject?

Navy Bound
 Kenneth "Speed" McGowan has enlisted in the Navy. He will leave for Detroit October 15. Speed is a senior at Buchanan High School and all his friends wish him the best of luck.

Junior Class Meeting
 The Junior Class meeting was held during home room October 1 and October 6. Jean Skinner was elected president, Clayburn Gooch, vice president; Judy Lindsley, secretary; and George Zupke, treasurer. Mr. Sukup was elected class advisor.

Mr. Ross Batten started to work as engineer in the school recently.

Mr. Swanson from Lansing visited Mr. Stark last week.

Mr. Stark substituted for Miss Dorothy Lovell last week.

Junior Red Cross Drive Completed

Miss Ekstrom has reported that the Junior Red Cross drive has been completed in the grades. The total sum collected was $20.38. A benefit motion picture is being planned to raise money for a fund for materials to be used locally.

The Debate Club Adds New Members
 J. B. Anderson, William Ellsworth and Bob Yoder have joined the debate club.

Red Cross Work Proceeds Under Guidance of Miss Wagness
 Twenty-six high school girls have organized a Sewing Unit of the American Red Cross and will meet regularly every Monday evening from seven to eight. At present the girls are making overalls for three year old boys.

Junior Red Cross Welcomes Alumni to Dance October 16
 Tomorrow night the Junior Red Cross is sponsoring a dance for the students and alumni in the high school gymnasium. The purpose of this dance is to raise money for the Junior Red Cross project. The Youth Council Dance Band under the direction of Phil Hanlin will furnish the music.

Dewey Avenue

We have enrolled some new children in kindergarten. We now have 45, in the morning, and 48 in the afternoon. We have been thinking of ways to make our room more attractive. We have decided to paint some flower pots, plant some sweet potatoes, and some ivy. One way we are going to help our room look nice is to keep it clean and neat. We put our own materials away every day, and have special helpers to check our work.

Two new pupils have enrolled in Mrs. Heim's first grade. They are Tommy Milner and Peggy Middleton.

Miss Conway's second grade has been busy decorating the room with a panel of brightly colored autumn leaves. And, of course, everyone is working hard on the room's Junior Red Cross project—a collection of humorous cartoons clipped from various magazines. The scrap book, when finished will probably go to the hospital for service men.

Mrs. Wilcox's third grade has a new pupil this week. His name is Billy Gene Middleton. We are sorry to lose Lulu Belle Scott who moved to Paxton, Ind. We are making nature study booklets. Miss Kappel's third grade has been writing poetry this week. Some enjoyable poems have been handed in by the class. Many of them handed in very attractive illustrations with their poems.

Miss Greussing's fourth grade has had an interesting time this past week studying about the habits and uses of the camel in hot desert lands.

In addition, the class has been busy collecting material for a Red Cross Scrapbook.

Grade School News

Eight pupils in Miss Carhagan's first grade have their names on the Dental Honor Roll which is made out by Miss Lamb after the county school dentist has examined the mouths of all the children in the room. It is hoped that during the year many more children will have their name added to the roll by having the necessary dental work done by the family or the school dentist.

Healthy teeth is one of the first steps toward good health. The new workers in Miss Morley's room this week are Housekeeper, Joe, Bookkeeper, Jean; Closetkeeper, Norma; Flowerkeeper, Jimmie G.; Boardkeeper, Fred; Doorkeeper, Gerald.

The caterpillars brought in by the children in Mrs. Morley's room have come to sleep in shells and may sleep there all winter.

There is a nice string of keys in the room for Uncle Sam. So far 31 have been collected. Also a little old train and a piece of iron and a knife have been brought for the scrap iron drive.

The basket of colored vegetables on the bulletin board was made by the children last week. Now that they are reading about fruits and vegetables it will be fun to make the home over into a market.

The children in Miss Fritz's room are making a frieze for the front of the room. They are illustrating the story, "Blue Barns."

The helpers for the next two weeks are Richard Bestle, Bertha Brown, John Yaege, Lestra Hanlin, Richard Toll, and Donald Boyer.

The boys and girls in Miss Kinney's room wrote letters last week. Some wrote to men in the service. The girls wrote to Miss Bovee, who is in Springfield, Missouri. The girls sent the letters by Air Mail.

Donald Carbon brought a sack full of gourds to school. They are all shapes and sizes.

We are so happy to have Mr. Swem bring his films up and show them to us last Thursday. They were very interesting.

The boys and girls of Mrs. Fuller's room are working on their scrap books. One section is being used for health pictures illustrating facts learned in their book, another section is being used for miscellaneous pictures of interest.

Miss Ekstrom's fifth grade and Miss Lovell's fifth grade are having some rivalry in an arithmetic match of addition and subtraction. Miss Graves will test both grades and the one having the highest percentage of problems correct will win the contest.

The spelling words in Miss Ekstrom's room are words commonly missed by students.

There is a sign on the blackboard which reads "Keys for Uncle Sam." Nearby there is a string for the old keys which the children are trying to fill.

The scrap drive is on. Each child is asked to canvass his neighborhood for scrap.

The children in Miss Jeffrey's room are making a joke book to send to a person who is unable to attend school because of illness. Margaret Batchelor is in charge of the making of this joke book.

For a health lesson the children in Miss Jeffrey's room counted the calories they ate in three meals. Many of the children ate more calories than they needed, but some of them did not eat enough.

The fifth and sixth grades in Mrs. Flynn's room are learning to salute and display the flag properly. Miss Graves gave us a booklet which we studied. Each grade has built a food house. A large number of vegetables and fruits have been used.

Our room traded library books with Miss Ekstrom's room. All the boys and girls are reading books and writing book reports. Someday in English class we are going to give oral book reports. We contributed $1.52 for the Junior Red Cross. Friday is scrap day! We expect to do our part to collect scrap.

Twenty-three of the children in Miss Reardon's room have their names on the Dental Honor Roll. We hope that by the end of the year that everyone will have his name on the roll.

Doris Hawkins was the first one in the room to complete the set of sixty-four multiplication problems.

HOLLYWOOD

Boy Meets Ghost!
 Have you ever seen a ghost? Willie Best, famed Negro comedian, has seen three of them, and in three different movies!

The ability to react properly upon meeting a spectre has been one of the main reasons for Willie's popularity during the past few months. He reaches the peak of his career in 20th Century-Fox's "Whispering Ghosts" which will show at the Hollywood theatre Friday and Saturday, Oct. 16-17.

During the course of his experiences aboard a mystery ship, Willie meets several assorted spooks and phantoms, plus several characters who are interested in doing him in. These hair-raising episodes are not particularly suited for people with high blood pressure, but Willie manages to see them through with excellent fortitude—and lots of laughs!

Tom Holt Real Son Of the Old West

"A grand guy to ride trail with" is the way old-timers describe Tom Holt, star of RKO Radio's "Thundering Hoofs," which will be seen at the Hollywood theatre Friday and Saturday, October 16-17.

Despite the fact that stardom came to him at the age of 21 years, young Holt is as friendly and unaffected as any of the "waddlers" who ride and rope with him in his outdoor pictures. On location 'sides he takes his turn at the "chuck wagon" with the gang. Between scenes he squats on his heels in the shade of a tree and exchanges stories of the trail with them, or stages a roping or shooting contest if there is time.

Tarzan Battles Civilized Customs

Tarzan upsets civilization and civilization upsets Tarzan in Johnny Weissmuller's latest adventure as the jungle monarch, in "Tarzan's New York Adventure," coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 18-19-20, to the Hollywood theatre.

Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan don the garb of civilization and battle to regain custody of their foster son, Johnny Sheffield, abducted in the jungle by a circus operator.

Weissmuller's dive from the Brooklyn Bridge climaxes the picture and many comedy episodes occur when he battles with the complicated customs and usages of a civilized city.

"Flying With Music" Unreels Gay Latin-American Musical

A superlative cast of entertainers, including Marjorie Woodworth, William Marshall, Jerry Bergen, George Givot, Edward Gargan, and Norma Varden, is featured in the new Hal Roach musical comedy, "Flying With Music," which is to be shown on the Hollywood screen Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 21-22. The streamlined production was directed by George Archambaud, and among the new song hits introduced are "If It's Love," "Rotana," "Pannies For Peppino," "Caribbean Magic" and "Song of the Lagoon."

The story of "Flying With Music" unwinds in the romantic Caribbean, where the beautiful blonde heroine of the story is seeking a dream-lover. A tiny West Indies town, a lush tropical jungle, a primitive native settlement and a blue Caribbean lagoon were all constructed with utmost fidelity for the requirements of the script.

Some Pointers On Popularity
 It would probably surprise the average young woman no end to learn that while she is yearning to be a glamorous movie star, glamorous movie stars are yearning to be just average young women.

Mary Morris, the flashing brunette who plays the feminine lead opposite Leslie Howard in "Mister X," the comedy melodrama at the Hollywood theatre Wednesday and Thursday, October 21-22, confessed in a recent interview that "there are times when I want desperately to be just a normal young woman without obligations to anyone but my family and friends."

"People in other vocations go away on a holiday when they get tired of working," she said. "A screen player is like a prophet—no honor at home, but the minute she bobs up somewhere else, she's depended upon for interviews, photographs, autographs and everything else she would like to forget."

Girl Scout Leaders Are Badly Needed

Helping children to have a normal, happy childhood, training them through fun and play in those attitudes that the citizens of tomorrow must possess—that is a part of the total war effort that is vitally concerned with the very things we are fighting for. Youth cannot be deferred. Children are growing-up and it is our duty to lead them toward the best that civilization has achieved.

Girl Scout leaders are needed. If you have had any experience with young girls, and would like to do something to help your country, you will find a real place in Girl Scout activities. At present there are several vacancies in leaders and assistants and Mrs. Arthur Allen or Mrs. Glenn Vandenberg will gladly give you any information you may wish in this matter. Now that the world is in such a chaotic stage, children need supervised work and play more than ever. Girl Scouting is one of the finest ways to train girls to be of service, teaching them self confidence and giving them a chance to learn by doing.

Good-by, now—
 I'll tell you all about it when I see you!

BE BRIEF—
 AND HELP SPEED WAR CALLS!

It's a fact that by keeping your own telephone conversations short you can help the war effort. Central office equipment can handle only so many calls at a time. Some of them may be important war messages, and war calls must go through. By cutting down the length of your calls you help free the equipment for handling war calls speedily and efficiently.

Because the telephone is vital to all war activity, many local offices and long distance lines are crowded with calls. In normal times we would install enough new equipment to handle the added load. But we can't, now, because of material shortages. So it boils down to this: Every one of us has a duty to help keep the lines clear for war.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

1. Keep all your telephone calls as brief as you can.
2. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls.
3. On a Long Distance call, give the number of the telephone you are calling, if possible.

And please don't call Information for a number when it's listed in the directory. Help save the wires for war!

WAR CALLS MUST GO THROUGH

MY CREED.

I believe that a member of the legislature should really represent the people of his district, whether in the House or Senate. I believe that, in a government by majorities, the interest of the people as a whole, rather than a minority pressure group, should govern his actions.

I believe that every group, no matter how small, has a right to be heard and to present their side of any controversial legislation, and that their claims to recognition should be most carefully considered, and I pledge myself not to turn a deaf ear to any reputable constituent.

I believe no representative of the people should place himself under obligations to any interests which might influence his vote as a Senator, and pledge myself to avoid any such entanglements.

I believe the most important business of an American citizen is that of government, which affects every phase of American life, as we so well know now that we are at war.

I believe that it is the duty of every American citizen to vote, and therefore urge you to plan to cast your ballot on Nov. 3.

Let's Go to the Polls, Nov. 3rd!

Survey Shows Most Mich. Cars Keep To 35-Mile Limit

Michigan motorists are in most cases observing the new 35-mile-per-hour limit, according to speed studies made by the State Highway Department.

The Council of Churches has existed since last spring. It was formed at the suggestion of officials of the Berrien County Sunday School association, by 66 persons, representing 26 churches, who met at Berrien Springs on April 19.

One of the Council's first functions has been to administer the physical property of the Sunday School association, which consists of Camp Warren north of Benton Harbor on Lake Michigan.

The Council of Churches was organized after the Sunday School association surveyed its work, and decided that it could give it a broader scope and effectiveness through an organization which would include all faiths, Protestant, Jewish and Catholic and avoid the limitations imposed on the Sunday School association.

The Berrien County Sunday School association is incorporated as a not-for-profit corporation with power to own and hold property and endowments. Under present plans, it will not be dissolved, but will retain its corporate identity and will continue to hold title to its property.

The approach of the Council of Churches is to maintain no staff of its own, but to lease Camp Warren for a period of days or weeks to a church or Sunday school. The leasing organization pays enough in rent to cover fixed camp costs such as insurance and repairs.

Observing Nat. Business Women's Week Oct. 11-17

The local chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club observes National Business Women's Week, October 11-17, through its theme, "Women's Work in the War."

The window display at the Desenberg Clothing store carries out the theme through posters and by a letter written by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to Dr. Minnie L. Maffett, President of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

"It is my thought the National Business Women's Week this year should be dedicated to the mobilization of women in war work in the broadest sense."

"It is my hope that the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will adopt this suggestion."

to the war effort are still so much in the making and so greatly varied and so widely scattered that a complete over-all picture is not yet available. But already many reports emphasize women's all-out response—in the far-reaching theatres of the war, on all sectors of the labor front, and among the ranks of the volunteer.

A Scrap Suggestion

Out at Oakridge cemetery stands an old cannon. For many years during our brief visits to this spot we have gazed on this relic of a past war when many heroes made history. Now we are engaged in another war and heroes are once again making history, but they need guns, ammunition, planes, etc. to continue on.

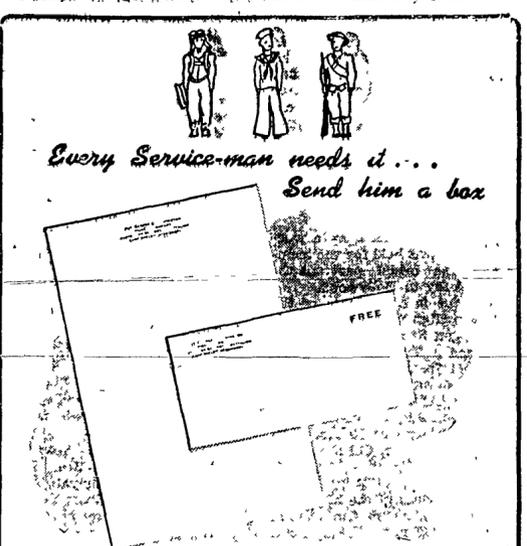

You have noticed that this cannon is aimed directly at Buchanan. Now try and picture an active field piece in the same position sending out pounds of destruction into our beautiful little city. (This could happen) but it won't if we keep tanks, guns and all war material rolling out to our boys.

For sentimental reasons we love this old relic, but for patriotic reasons—What are we waiting for Buchanan. This once dangerous war machine could once again speak out for democracy against the lowest most savage enemy humanity has ever faced.

HARRY F. KELLY BROUGHT BUSINESS EFFICIENCY INTO THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

When Harry F. Kelly first took office as Secretary of State, January 1, 1939, the department was obsolete in its methods, dilatory in its service, hog-tied with red tape! Before his first term was over, Harry F. Kelly had streamlined the entire department, upped its efficiency month after month, and brought its economy to a high point.

Today, the department, doing an annual business in excess of $80,000,000, is a model of ably directed operation. Its 9 divisions and 170 odd-branches function with the precision of a fine watch. It operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, in its Registration and Title Division to benefit the police and public alike.

To Harry F. Kelly, and to him alone, goes the entire credit for this amazing transformation! You can depend on his achieving the same high degree of efficiency, in all state departments, when he is elected Governor of Michigan on November 3rd. HARRY F. KELLY Republican Candidate for Governor This advertisement is one of a series sponsored and paid for by citizens of this county to make you better acquainted with Harry F. Kelly.
