Tales of An Old Town An Attempt to Reproduce a Cross Section of The American Scene, As Witnessed Here Through the Past Century

Stories of the First Local Telephones, as Told by John and Oscar Morris

There is on exhibit this week in the window of the Gnodtke Drug Store a primitive telephone receiver-transmitter, made in the days before the electrical telephone perfected by Alexander Graham Bell in 1876 had come into common use.

The set was in use in the drug store of Dr. Dodd, located in the present quarters of the Gnodtke Drug store, with a single wire connection to his home at 207 Days avenue, in the house occupied until recently by Richard White. The set is now owned by Oscar Morris, son of John Morris, pioneer of telephone installation in Buchanan and in Berrien County.

The set was obviously made by the firm of Howard & Slater, that firm name being printed in gilt letters on the circular iron plate which served the double purpose of receiver and transmitter.

The telephone worked on the principle of vibration, and was not unlike the present microphone. Connecting the drug store with the Dodd home was a small wire, about the size of the lead in the ordinary pencil, which was strung over the tops of intervening buildings. It was stretched, tightly over Front street to the top of the present Hotel Buchanan building, thence to the top of the present Redden building on the opposite corner, thence across to the old Pears building, known as the Beehive and razed a few years back for the construction of the Remington Machine Shop.

In the center of the circular iron plate (about four inches in diameter) used as receiver and transmitter is a hole, through which the wire extended, with a button on each terminal to make the call the speaker would first tap the iron plate. This tapping would be audible all through the room where the set was installed.

When Oscar Morris was a boy his father lived the second house from Dr. Dodds, where Mrs. John Morris still lives. He often talked through the telephone, being much interested in all such devices because of the connection of his father with the business. He states that the sound of the voice came through loud enough so it could be heard in the room 15 or 20 feet away. However, the quality of the voice was not nearly so defined as in the present sets, as it had a tiny, muffled sound. There was of course no need for a ground wire, until Dr. Dodd installed a magneto set, when he extended a second wire to the ground.

Without doubt there were a number of such sets, as the firm of Howard & Slater evidently had placed the devices on a production basis. But the only similar set Morris knows of is one of different make found in an old Niles building demolished about two years ago. It was found by a Mr. Benson, who now has it installed as an antique in his store.

Morris' interest in things telephonic springs from his father, John Morris, a pioneer in more lines than one in the development of Buchanan. Mr. Morris died on June 12, 1931, at the age of 83 years, 11 months and some days, having been born June 30, 1848.

He first became interested in the development of telephones as a relatively young man of 33 years in 1881. In that year he was approached by a Mr. Ayers, representing the Michigan Telephone company who was interested in initiating the use of the new thingamobobs in this state. Ayers came to Morris, then a local restaurant operator in a wooden building—on the present site of the Jakway Chocolate Shop.

Always alert for promising new developments, Morris agreed to try. During the coming week he and Ayers sold the required $300 in coupons Morris for his part canvassed the farms. There were no autos then, of course, and Mr. Morris made much of his canvass on foot, walking across the plowed fields to interview the farmers at their work. Morris went himself to Detroit and delivered the coupon books to a Fred Forbes, then manager of the Michigan Telephone Company. He accepted them and material was ordered for the lines. A crew was soon at work installing a grounded system.

The first telephone established in Berrien County was in Niles, with Charles Hurts as manager. The second was in Buchanan with John Morris as manager. The first intertown telephone conversation from Buchanan was between the mayor of Niles and the president of the Buchanan village council, William Pears. The two officials courteously expressed a desire that the relationships between the two towns might be as happy in the future as they had been in the past. A casual review of the newspaper wars between the two.

Buchanan Track Team to Kazoo Regional Meet

Maroons Take Middle-Berth In Big Seven Meet at St. Joseph Friday

(By Eugene Anderson)

The regional class "B" track spectacle will be in Kalamazoo Saturday. As usual, Three Rivers, fresh from winning the Big Seven Conference, will present a well balanced squad which has won all its track meets this season. Meyers will be Buchanan's leading entrant. The speedy half-miler, who has been subject to defeat only by Niles great negro flash in that event, Jeffries, will be rated along with the Viking as a leading contender for first place honors. The Bucks dash star, Dickow, should place in both 100 and 220' Curtis of Three Rivers seems to be the only dash man able to outpace Dickow in these two events consistently. Luke, speedy 440 yard dash man, turned in a very poor fourth in that event. Buchanan finished behind both Niles and Dowagiac, whom they had previously beaten in a triangular meet in the half mile relay. Three Rivers was the winner of the meet with 54 points, Niles was second with 43, St. Joseph was third with 36 1/2, Buchanan was fourth with 18; Dowagiac was fifth with 16 1/2; and South Haven was last with 6 points.

Buchanan placed fourth in the Big Seven Conference track carnival at St. Joseph Friday. Niles, Jeffries again bested Fred Meyers in the half-mile by the scant margin of margins. The Bucks were able to pass Jeffries in the last 220 yards, but was beaten when Jeffries passed him in a terrific finish. Dickow, after being beaten by Curtis of Three Rivers and Kämmer of Dowagiac, in the 100-yard dash turned on his speed and ran a close second to Curtis in the 220 Luke, running in the first division, was second to Niles Kennedy. Welch placed fourth in the shot put behind three Vikings. The Bucks relay will be the locals leading entrant in that event. Troutfetter will also compete in this feature. Luke will be entered in the 220 as well as the 440. Welch will be the lone entrant for Buchanan in the shot put. The 880 yard relay team will be composed of Troutfetter, Luke, Trapp, and Dickow. Couchman, miler, and Maxson, high jumper, will also make the trip to Kalamazoo. The Bucks will, without doubt, gather no firsts but should be able to give a good account of themselves where outstanding stars from all parts of Michigan gather. Many records will be on the chopping block this year, and this year many are expected to fall.

WANTED, TOILET AND STORAGE FACILITIES AT ATHLETIC PARK

A movement has been initiated by the Buchanan Park Board for the erection of a small building, 18x20 feet in dimension or thereabouts, which would provide toilet facilities, adequate tool and equipment storage, and facilities for a ticket booth at Athletic Park.

It is the idea of the Park Board that this building should be placed in the angle between Smith street and the drive entering the park, to control the entrance during football games or other events to which admission may be charged.

The park board believes that this is an improvement which is now past due. First, a word on toilet facilities. Consider such occasions as the county high school band festival held at the park two years ago. At that time about 2,000 people were gathered at the park, including not less than 400 members of guest high school bands from over the county. In addition there were hundreds of high school students, their families and friends, from other towns. They spent in the neighborhood of two hours and a half at Athletic Park, as the guests of the city. A similar gathering was present at the Niles football game, last fall.

Does it not seem a mere common sense and common courtesy that on such occasions the city of Buchanan should have in provision the decent amenities of life for its guests? Is it not a reproach to the city that such facilities are not available?

Furthermore the recreation facilities of Athletic Park are used by scores, by hundreds of people, young and old, all through the summer months. Can it be said that the provision for both comfort and health of those attending are complete without the recommended improvement? The Buchanan Youth Council has voted this spring to spend a sizeable sum out of their own treasury, from money raised through the community calendar and from the

A narrow strip of farm territory extending northeast and southwest between Gallen and Berrien Springs was visited Monday evening by a heavy hail which stripped about half the leaves off the trees in some places, damaged severely strawberries, raspberries and other small fruit, and probably thinned the tree fruits. It was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain which is known to have extended beyond Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Howard Whamond, Milwaukee, Wis., is spending several days with her mother, Mrs. Clarence Cripe, Portage Prairie. Mrs. Whamond visited in the Cripe home over the week end.

John Elbers Directs; Curtain On Auditorium Stage to Rise at 8 p. m.

A cast of ten representing the 1942 graduating class of the Buchanan high school will present the annual Senior play in the high school auditorium Friday (tomorrow) evening, May 15, the curtain rising at 8 p. m.

John Elbers, director, states that "Come Easy" by Fay Metcalf was selected this year on two considerations, the cleanliness of the plot and the domesticity of the scene. The play representing one of those heart-warming home scenes in which we can often recognize the good qualities and the faults of our immediate home circle. The drama brings the characters out in bold relief, tending to make us more tolerant of the shortcomings of others by bringing out the reasons that lie beneath their actions, which is not always possible in real life.

The play deals with the family affairs of the Wards, consisting of Mrs. Ward, her four children, Sammy, Pamela, Victoria and Marcia, their uncle Bill, a fake Italian count who gets between in the love affairs of Marcia and Tobie Drake, and other characters.

Cast-of-Characters: Mrs. Ward, a friendly woman, is played by Meryl Myers; Sammy Ward, a healthy, goodnatured boy, Phil Sands; Mr. Daye, a genial, white-haired man of sixty, Jean Dahyple; Pamela Ward, a rollicking young girl, Lynae Ingelright; Tobie Drake, a boobyish young man, John Marsh; Count Riccardo Di Luca, a handsome, pleasant-mannered Italian, Dick Bromley; Miss Victoria, a rather naughty woman of 60, Vanessa Paul; Rita Davis, a charming young girl, Jacqueline Blotti; Clyde Massey, an average young man, Robert Six.

Moore Resigns As H. S. Principal, Bailey Appointed

Paul Moore, principal of the Buchanan high school for the past six years, and previous to that an instructor in science for several years, tendered his resignation at a meeting of the Buchanan school board Tuesday evening.

Mr. Moore leaves the profession of teaching to re-enter industrial work. Before he began teaching he worked several years as an industrial chemist in the employ of one of the large automobile companies. The opportunities in this work are now abundant and more remunerative than teaching. The many local friends of Mr. Moore wish him success in his change of occupation.

His place here will be filled by P. T. Bailey, principal or teacher in Bridgman high school for the past 16 years. Mr. Bailey was graduated from Hillsdale College and received his Master's degree from the University of Michigan.

WERE LUCKY

AS THE AMERICAN army bombers roared toward Tokyo in their bombing raid in April, the crews held their earsphones to a Japanese radio announcer telling how fortunate the people of Japan were in their freedom from danger of bombing raids.

SUDDENLY THE TENOR of the broadcast changed. It was "bombs over Tokyo" there and then. Then and there that imagined good fortune changed into impending disaster. Disaster real and present and the forecast of disaster to come. The boat, as Mr. Churchill remarked the other day, was then on the other leg.

THE ANNOUNCER WAS just a bit mistaken. Japan was not, and won't be free from the danger of falling bombs. That is a reckless boast to make these days, on any part of this weary old world.

ISN'T ANY place that's entirely free from the danger of bombing? The more the inhabitants of any spot on earth are aware they're free, the more likely they are to get it. But it seems most logical to believe that at the one spot on the face of the civilized earth that is comparatively safe, granted the necessary precautions, that spot is here.

WE HAVE RECENTLY been told Chicago—and of course Buchanan—are nearer some of the German air bases in Norway than New York City. It is presently possible for German bombers to come here with bomb loads and empty them over the cities of the Midwest. With the understanding that they would then alight here and become prisoners for the duration.

BUT WE HAVE the satisfaction of knowing that the going would be tough, very likely much too tough. Localities near the east and west coastlines might be struck by seaplanes that could then conceivably return to their seaborne bases, if they escaped the anti-aircraft fire and the fighter units that would most surely reduce that chance to a minimum.

But they can't do that here. Not yet, anyway. In so many ways we of the Buchanan community are so tremendously fortunate. True, a hundred and fifty of our finest and best loved have gone to meet the danger. That's why we're safe. But in the meantime we can count our blessings. A part of them might be listed.

We of all peoples could be attacked only with a maximum of risk to the attackers.

We of all peoples who are in the war can yet listen to the humming of an airplane overhead without the least reason for a quaking of the pulses.

We of all peoples are least likely to feel the pangs of sugar-raising not withstanding.

We are the people who, notwithstanding all present and possible limitations on auto travel, will yet enjoy more car miles per capita than any other nation ever enjoyed in the piping times of peace.

We of all peoples are the least likely to rake the ashes of our homes for a remnant with which to start life over.

SO LET'S TAKE a part of what we, of all peoples can save, through the comparative safety of our properties and the comparative low cost of abundant supplies of food and clothing and buy a bond. Buy bonds regularly. They will help to keep things as they are.

ing the war job you could do? Are you relying on others to protect you and dodging your civilian defense job because it is hard work? Are you skumping on full time, and not giving over time? If you are, you are serving the Axis.

Do you stand on your rights? Do you demand preferential treatment for yourself, or your community or your group? Do you refuse to do your part in this war until you are paid to do it? Are you a "mercenary" soldier, not a "citizen-soldier"? Do you think only of yourself and your narrow circle of life instead of the nation as a whole? Do you demand the privileges of democracy and ignore its responsibilities? If you do, you are serving the Axis.

Do you discriminate against your fellow Americans? Are you a disseminator of the poison of hatred with which Hitler is trying to gas this country into confusion? Do you generalize about racial and religious groups—passing on as gospel truth the lies handed out by Herr Goebbels and his emissaries—forgetting they are not groups but individuals, neighbors with whom you have grown up, who have lived with you, suffered with you, sacrificed with you and rejoiced with you? Do you fan class hatreds with stories of greed for money and power, suspecting both industry and labor of treason, forgetting that they know they have just as much to lose in this war as have you? If you do, you are serving the Axis.

Now is not the time for a divided allegiance! This is our war—the war of all of us. This is the UNIFIED States of America. We are Americans all. Don't serve the Axis!

TAKE CARE OF YOU...

Yes, that's right! Who's going to do it if you don't? How long has it been, by the way, since you had a thorough physical check-up? Wouldn't it be a good idea to go, right now, to a capable Physician? Tell him all about yourself, and those "troublesome symptoms." A little expert advice now may help you to steer clear of some sizable bills later. And, besides, who wants to be moping around all the time, hampered by "half-way" health? Will you make that date with your Physician? That's fine! Then bring his prescription here.

Where U. S. Troops Are Meeting Japs

Above is a view of the rice fields of Appari, on the northernmost tip of the island of Luzon, which is the principal island of the Philippines. M. S. C. Advises Outwitting Moths In Care of Clothes

Higher wool prices give good indication that winter woollens are going to be worth more next fall and thus need extra protection against moths and larvae

This is a warning issued by members of the home economics extension service at Michigan State College

Pointers devised by the U S Department of Agriculture are suggested as war measures which homemakers can take in their battle against the moths Good housekeeping is an essential, as moths may be present in almost any home at any time of the year Floors and rugs should be kept well swept and moths should not be permitted to get started underneath a rug

Moths like hair, feathers and fur as well as wool, but usually do not bother with clothing that is worn frequently Cotton, linen or silk need no protection against moths, so these articles can be stored separately from wool garments, gloves and shoes

Dry cleaning kills moths So does a good sunning accompanied by a brisk brushing Washing with a strong solution of neutral soap is another moth killing procedure

Once clothing is free of moths or eggs, the storage follows Containers can include paper bags, paper wrapping, sealed boxes or storage in trunks, chests or tight closets Moths will not eat through paper, but will take advantage of any tears or holes in the paper Trunks and chests should have tight fitting lids Closets designed for wool storage should not have cracks in the plaster or around baseboards

War Jobs for Women

Lieut. James Hoey of New York shows a group of members of the American Women's Voluntary Services how to slide down a pole in his firehouse. The women have enrolled for defense training courses. The organization announced a shortage of trained switchboard operators and auto drivers and steel products, railway supplies, school and office supplies, machinery, automobiles, agricultural and mining implements

And not to be ignored in any reckoning is the fact that this republic is the only country in South America with a seacoast on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with good ports on both, open to the trade of the world

A veritable treasure chest though Columbia undoubtedly is, the gem supreme, in the mind of the true Colombian, is the fact that liberation from the yoke of Spain came at the hands of the Great Liberator himself—Simon Bolivar. It was Bolivar who led the army of patriots to victory in the decisive Battle of Boyaca, August 7, 1819, but it was Santander, "the Man of Law" who established the constitutional regime of New Granada, the republic of Colombia as we know it today. "The sword has made you independent," said Bolivar, after the battle. "The law will make you free"

On The Edge Of Tomorrow

It won't be long now before the younger generation at least starts to get its feet off the ground and to try out its wings as the vanguard of the scheduled shift in transportation from ground to air. Airplane ownership for Buchanan has now probably reached about the same point that automobile ownership had reached in 1905. There are now three airplanes owned by Buchanan people, none of which are owned by a single individual. Of the 19 privately-owned planes stored at the Niles airport, three belong to Buchanan groups. The Buchanan Flying club with nine members owns one Cub trainer together. A trio composed of Robert Dempsey, Louis Poplar and Bud Dalenberg, owns another, and still another is owned by Sarah Gilman and Bill Gowell

In addition Lee Roskay, airport manager, has four planes which he uses in his student training program. These Cub trainers are rated from 40 to 65 horsepower, have a cruising speed of about 80 miles an hour, and a two-passenger capacity. They are much safer for amateur operation than faster planes, and can be landed at a speed as slow as 30 miles an hour. This low speed for landing Samuel, Emory Ferris, Ivan Dallingland crack-ups, which have been far between at the Niles airport

All the planes mentioned above are used only for practice training. However, there are several private planes owned for business uses at the airport, including a four passenger plane owned by Jerry Tyler of the Tyler Sales Fixtures corporation, a two-seater owned by Clayton O'Hara Niles banker, and another owned by J A Kerr, Niles hardware man

Use of these planes has been considerably involved in red tape regulations since the entrance of the United States into the World war in December. Now anyone flying even his own plane cannot take off without a clearance sheet signed by the airport registrar, which happens to be the wife of the manager, Mrs Lee Roskay. On return he must also sign a landing sheet. If he carries any passengers, he must give the name, occupation and address of each one. If the plane owner flies across country to a distant destination he must furnish a complete report of baggage carried and the list must not include a camera

Recent recruits to the group of Buchanan student fliers at the Niles airport are Mrs Louis Poplar and Glenn Lear. Among those who have received a private pilot's license or who have had some training to that end are Louis Poplar, Robert Dempsey, Oscar Hall, Roscoe Hanover, Rolland greatly reduces the possibility of rymple, Sarah Gilman, Dr Kenneth Gamble, Earl Fuller, Bill Gowell

Last fall a Civilian Pilot's Training Program school was held under government auspices at the Niles port, in which the students first had to complete a ground school course, which included courses in rules and regulations of air traffic, navigation, meteorology, aerodynamics. Textbooks used are government bulletins on Civil Air regulations, navigation and meteorology

After the ground school was completed a test was given and five students receiving highest grades were given free flying instruction, including from 35 to 40 hours of instruction and solo flying. At the end of the instruction the student was eligible for a private pilot's license. With this he is eligible to fly his own plane, and may carry passengers but may

Take Dandelions To Kill Cutworm

There's something new added to gardening

In a year when Victory Gardens are recommended, the shortcuts and safeguards provided by science include a simple trick of digging up dandelions, chipping them up in a chopping bowl, adding Paris green and strewing the bait out to catch cutworms

The suggestion comes from C B Dibble, Michigan State College extension specialist in insect control. An extra dividend is obvious if the dandelions are dug out of a lawn the lawn shares in the improvement

Dibble reports it takes about a half bushel of dandelion greens to make bait for a large size city lot garden, or about an eighth acre. The greens are chopped and then three to four ounces of Paris green are mixed thoroughly with the choppings. The bait should stand through the day and then be spread over the garden area in the evening. There should be about 10 pounds of the moist bait for a garden the size of a city lot

Baiting is to be timed about when the first garden seedlings are coming up but before early cabbage is set out

Other tips are provided by K C. Barrons, garden specialist of the college horticulture department. He suggests fertilizing and discing before a garden is plowed, if the area happens to be sod. The plowing should have been done last fall, but many new garden areas still are in the planning. The discing breaks up the sod so that smaller clods are turned under. The smaller chunks of turf rot faster and thus permit better moisture retention than if large sod strips were plowed under for the garden

So Careful! Our forests are vital to victory. Claude R Wickard, U S Secretary of Agriculture, points out that 20 million acres of unimproved land are annually represented thousands of planes, ships, guns and equipment that should, but don't go to our fighting men. Fresh Food Drive Is Alleviating Shortage of Tin

A & P Cooperates With U. S. To Double Consumption of Vegetables, Fruits

Tin priorities and the curtailed use of cans for food should present no immediate problem for local housewives as fresh fruits and vegetables are being made available in steadily increasing quantity and variety, J F Greene, divisional sales director for the A & P Food Stores, declared today

He announced the inauguration of a nationwide advertising and promotion campaign to feature fresh fruits and vegetables designed to provide vitamin and mineral-bearing fresh produce at reasonable cost and in greater quantity

"There are four main purposes behind this campaign," Green said. "First, the A & P has pledged its cooperation in the government's nutrition drive—the program which calls for 100 per cent increase in the national consumption of fruits and leafy green vegetables and a 70 per cent greater use of citrus fruits and tomatoes for the sake of the nation's wartime health"

"Second, because the huge increases in production demand greater efficiency in distribution, the A & P is increasing its effort under its long-standing policy of giving support to growers in marketing heavy crops at seasonal peaks

"Third, we believe that in the present crisis, it is doubly essential that American housewives should be given every opportunity and aid in setting a good table—and that one essential of the good table is a goodly supply of foods

"And fourth, if she is to maintain the proper dietary balance for her family, the housewife must be able to get these foods at lowest possible cost in order that this be done we are moving fresh produce from farm to retail store by the most direct routes, in shorter time and with fewer handlings and less cost than by any other commercially-employed methods"

Several media will be used during the promotion and advertising campaign, Greene said, but, as in the past, greatest reliance will be placed on newspaper advertising

Stress will be laid during the campaign on home canning programs being sponsored by the government as part of the nutrition drive, the food chain executive said. Not only will it bring a wide variety of perishables before the consumer but will emphasize commodities in heavy production periods and thus aid the grower in moving his crop and giving the housewife the advantage of favorable buying

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR

Colombia, Age-old Treasure Chest If the coffee bean has been given place of honor in the matter-of-fact ledgers of commerce where is kept the account of the Republic of Colombia, the emerald is gem serene in the romance of a country whose legend reaches for substance far back of history's record of the New World

When Columbus, on his fourth and last voyage, sailed along the Colombian coast, but without making any attempt at settlement of the country, on a high plateau in the Andean Cordillera, not far from where the capital city of Bogota now stands, there was prospering the kingdom of the Chibchas. It was a nation of highly civilized aborigines not unlike the Incas of Peru. The Chibchas knew about the emerald, and may have worshipped it

After Columbus came Alonso de Ojeda, in 1502. Several times he tried to conquer the Chibchas, and failed. In 1536 three expeditions, one led by Balacazar, first lieutenant of Pizarro himself, and another by the tactful Jimenez de Quesada, converged on the lofty kingdom. Quesada's diplomacy prevailed where force had failed. By agreement with the Chibchas his headquarters, now Bogota, was laid out near the old Indian capital, and explorations were started in all directions

The opening of mines was begun in 1540. Today, clustered around the emerald in this Andean treasure chest, are platinum, gold, silver, and copper. Most of the world's emeralds now come from Colombia. And it is a fact not widely realized that the stone is the most precious of gems. Carat for carat, a flawless emerald may easily bring three times the price of a flawless diamond

Only Russia, at times, has been able to take first place from Colombia in output of platinum. The extent and wealth of Colombian gold deposits is still largely conjecture. It is thought that her entire Pacific Coast has been formed by gold-bearing alluvial. Great stretches have never been explored except by Incan hunters. As the Pan American highway and tributary roads push on these and other areas can be opened for mining

Colombian territory covers 439,828 square miles. Within the nation's borders the Andean mountain system splits into three parts, joining again in the extreme south. So the rivers run north and south in the valleys between the mountains. The climate varies as widely as do the altitudes. Tropical along the coasts, it is temperate in the higher regions inland. Bogota, with an elevation of 8,564 feet, is cool and healthful the year around

There is a corresponding variation in products prominent in export trade are coffee, cocoa, sugar cane, tobacco, bananas, hardwoods from the vast forests, and vegetable ivory. These, with its precious stones, its platinum, gold, silver and other minerals, Colombia offers in exchange for much of that which it still needs in the way of foodstuffs, textiles, iron

News Notes

Sugar Rationing Completed
Sugar rationing is over and everyone is or should be satisfied. The program went along smoothly and students enjoyed the short vacation. The rationing program is the biggest registration ever carried out in America. Some people had rather strange ideas about the rationing program. For instance one woman walked up to the desk carrying a paper bag to use to hold her ration of sugar. She thought that the sugar itself was rationed out. It was interesting to watch the people register. All those who did see it were inspired by the spirit of cooperation. If Americans continue to cooperate with each other and our government, we shall be assured of a quick and glorious victory.

Do Not Lie!
"Eut mamma, it was just a little white lie," pleaded little Joey. That scene is enacted over and over every day. Maybe not the same words but the same principle—a little white lie, they may not seem to be much at the time, but as you get bigger, they seem to get bigger too. They grow and grow until they get so big they get bigger too. They grow and grow until they get so big they get you the nickname of "Public Enemy No. 1". Moral—don't tell even little white lies.

Child Health Day
May first, formerly May Day, was proclaimed Child Health Day on February sixth by President Roosevelt.

At the time of the proclamation he advised that all children over nine months of age be vaccinated for small pox and diphtheria before June first. These are the two diseases for which we have the surest means of prevention. In the proclamation the president stressed that the health of our children is of vital importance to the strength of the nation.

The proclamation which is printed on a green sheet of paper, appears on all the bulletin boards. Please read it students.

At their destination they rosted wieners and had "bairrels" of fun. Mrs. Morely, Miss Weaver, and Mr. Stahl were the chaperons.

'All Through the Night' to Show At Hollywood Theatre
"All Through the Night," which will appear at the Hollywood Theatre Wednesday and Thursday evening, May 20-21, stars Humphrey Bogart, whose recent hit performance in "The Maltese Falcon" and "High Sierra" have put him in the very front ranks of popular film stars.
For the first time since censorship decreed that the screen should glorify no criminal at the expense of officers of the law, cops are villains in this picture.
And retired gangsters and their mobs step into the hero roles, by proving the coppers' undoing!
The picture is Warner Bros. "All Through the Night," and according to its star, Humphrey Bogart, it is right up the alley of a lot of his most ardent fans, self-styled ex-mobsters.

Tested tire gauges used here to insure accurate pressure, give longer tire life.

"Look, Pop—our Standard Oil dealer's gonna help keep our tires rolling!"

You know how important it is to have correct tire inflation. Tires underinflated 30% lose at least one-quarter of their possible life. But you can't get correct inflation with inaccurate tire gauges—and it's a fact that many gauges now in use are inaccurate by a number of pounds.

To guard you against this danger, Standard Oil has equipped its men with devices for testing the gauges of all Standard Oil dealers. A constant inspection is maintained so that faulty gauges can be discovered and adjusted.

This is just one of many steps taken by Standard Oil in setting up its Car Conservation program. Right now your Standard Oil dealer is featuring an approved Car Conservation Schedule. The sooner you get started on this program, the longer you'll keep rolling. See your Standard Oil dealer today. Remember, a nation on wheels is a stronger nation. First Victim of Pacific Coast Blackout

Two members of an army beach patrol are shown looking at the stranded Malton line steamer, Malina Ala, which ran aground near Astoria, Ore., while en route to Hawaii. The steamer was the first victim of the West coast blackout, having run aground when she lost her bearings because of darkening of lighthouses during an air alert.

Before You Move . . .

BE SURE YOU CAN GET A TELEPHONE

● Before you decide to move or build, the Telephone Company will be glad to advise you whether war restrictions will permit you to have the telephone service you will need.

Even though telephone service is furnished now in the locality to which you plan to move, it may not be possible to supply you with any service, or exactly the kind of service you want.

Drastic restrictions of telephone installations have been ordered by the War Production Board in the interest of conserving war materials.

Except as needed for war purposes, or by those responsible for public health, welfare or security—

1. Telephone service cannot be provided at some locations.
2. Party line service, only, can be furnished in many cases.
3. Extension telephones cannot be installed in residences.
4. Additional apparatus may be installed only on a limited basis.

In so far as material and war restrictions permit, we shall provide the best possible service, and we look forward to the day when we again can give the kind of service wanted, "when and where wanted." But now, and for the duration, war needs come first. That is part of the price of protecting liberty.

Sunday Service at 11:00 a. m. Subject "Mortals and Immortals"

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Wednesday evening at 7:45

The Reading room in the Church is open each Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock.

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 17.

The Golden Text (Romans 8:5) is, "They that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh, but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Job 14:1-2) "Man that is born of a woman, is of few days, and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down like the grass also as a shadow, and continueth not."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 190) "Human birth, growth, maturity, and decay are as the grass springing from the soil with beautiful green blades, afterwards to wither and return to its native nothingness. This mortal seeming is temporal; it never merges into immortal being, but finally disappears, and immortal man, spiritual and eternal, is found to be the real man."

corporations in the past leads to the conclusion that the wish has been more than realized. They also expressed their best wishes for the success of the telephone, and indulged in the prophetic wish that the telephone system might be extended to make possible conversations all over the United States, "but not in our time."

Oscar Morse remembers the first toll station as it stood in his father's restaurant. It consisted of a tall wooden box standing against the wall, about eight inches square and about six feet high. On the side was a crank and the home of Charles Diggle, the women of the two households being great friends. It is believed that this established the Buchanan tradition which gives women an A-1 priority in the use of the telephone.

Wanted—Toilet and Storage Facilities

sale of sponsorship cards; to buy recreational equipment such as badminton, shuffleboard and archery sets in addition to the present tennis courts. An outdoor oven and other facilities for picnics are to be provided. But it is a known fact that the use of the park for such recreation has been limited because of the lack of toilet facilities, and the expansion of the use of the new facilities will be inhibited by such lack.

Now as to the need for adequate toilet and equipment storage. The most casual survey of the conditions under which equipment was cared for at the park last summer would indicate that any private person of common sense and business management would not have tolerated any such waste of his own properties as was in evidence then and there. Tools and recreational equipment were stored in a flimsy shack under an old bleacher. So rickety was this construction that it was impossible to protect it. The park was unfortunately frequented at unsupervised times by a few individuals of pronounced hoodlum tendencies. To such the easy availability of the equipment was too easy a temptation. If the floor of the store room was locked, they could, with little inconvenience, gain access through rotten planks of the old bleachers which formed the rear of the building. But so flimsy was the entire structure that it was usual for them to merely break off locks or yank off entire doors as fast as they were repaired or replaced.

As a result the loss or breakage of valuable equipment was of rather astounding proportions. Archery equipment was smashed. Iron racks were broken up and strewn over the city hose used in springing, the hose was cut or damaged in other ways. When the fun-of-ordinary breakage palled, they could, and did, lug some of the equipment 150 yards across the park and throw it in the mill race, in which it was observed by citizens floating on its way to the river. Police supervision may have been inadequate, but no amount of supervision could have assured the protection of equipment cared for in that manner. The general laxity encouraged even more responsible park users to an easy attitude and instead of properly putting away articles the equipment was thrown into a general heap, over which anyone who wished to use any part of it could paw and sort his wants out of a tangled pile.

This is not meant as any indictment of any city administration. But it is a fact that in the case of a city whose only supervising body was a city commission already overloaded with their own affairs and with their entire time available for civic duties taken up by a street problem of large proportions, nothing was likely to be done—in fact nothing was done to prevent such losses.

It was for that reason that citizens who became aware of conditions worked for the creation of a park board with a legal basis which could attend to the special problems of the park. To this plan the city commission readily assented. Such a board was created late last summer. During the winter the experience and the usage of other cities was canvassed and a park ordinance drawn up as a basis for procedure. This ordinance was published last week and will go into effect Monday, May 18.

It is the fundamental recommendation of this park board that if the city can afford to have any park at all and any recreational equipment at all it can afford to take care of such properties. If that is accepted, then it would seem indisputable that provision for proper care should be a prerequisite to any other investment whatever.

Yet recreation will go on, at least to the extent usual in years past. There needs to be a place to store some equipment. Tennis nets should be taken down nightly, which should be materially reduce the replacements required. There should be a safe place for hose and spraying fixtures, at least during the season in which they are in use. If the Buchanan Youth Council buys more equipment out of its own resources for the general use of all young people of the city, it would seem reasonable that there be a place to care for it.

TO SUM UP, THERE IS NOT NOW AVAILABLE AT THIS MAIN PLACE OF CIVIC RECREATION SUCH FUNDAMENTALS OF DECENT AS ANY CITIZEN WOULD DEEM NECESSARY FOR THE COMFORT AND HEALTH OF HIS OWN GUESTS, OR SUCH FUNDAMENTALS OF SECURITY AS HE WOULD DEEM THE MER-

Operators For Multigraphs Are Wanted by Gov.

Multigraph operators will be appointed to Government work jobs in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States, it was announced by the United States Civil Service Commission today. Both men and women may apply under the new announcement. Pay is $1,440 a year, although some vacancies at $1,260 will be filled by qualified persons willing to accept the lower salary.

Within the past five years, applicants must have had at least 6 full months of paid experience operating a power-driven multigraph machine, of which 3 months must have been in setting and distributing type and in the composition of complex forms. In filing application, they must clearly show that they can operate the machine without further instruction. Appointees in Government jobs will be required to set and distribute type for and to operate a multigraph machine in the printing of circulars, letters, and forms, and to read proof and make corrections.

No written test is required. Filing application is all that is necessary to be considered. Eighteen years is the minimum age limit, but there is no maximum. Applications must be sent to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first or second-class post office.

Bald Eagle Found To Be Violator State Game Laws

Bird lovers and fishermen may not agree on the verdict, but the circumstantial evidence against a distinguished bird of the neighborhood, as assembled by Ford Kellum, manager of Iosco state game area, is incriminating.

Enroute from town to area headquarters, Kellum came upon a 15-inch largemouth black bass in the middle of the road, still alive enough to be moving its gills though its head was torn as if it had been shot. Since the bass was out of season as well as out of place, Kellum took particular note of it.

Next day in town here he heard Lynn Creager, superintendent of projects at Camp Skeel, tell of the unusual happening he had witnessed the day before, relating how a bald eagle, carrying something very heavy, had become frightened and dropped its load. Kellum compared notes, found time and place matched exactly with his finding of the big bass.

Carriage fish is one of the bald eagle's favorite foods, but it is seldom that they catch their own game men say.

UNTIL OUR BOYS STOP DYING!

Stop asking what you can do to help win the war! Start DOING it! Pledge to buy 10% of your weekly salary—when the Volunteer Minute Man knocks at your door—May 11th or 12th.

REMEMBER
WE'RE AT WAR!

This authentic map shows it can happen here . . . just as easily, just as soon as on the Pacific Coast!

Do you realize that California and Michigan are almost exactly the same distance from Tokyo? As a bomber flies . . . shortcutting over the top of the world . . . it's only about 5,000 miles from either point.

And if the Japs should ever get a foothold on the Aleutian Islands or Alaska, their bombers would be within five hours of vital military objectives in Michigan . . . within minutes of your home and family. Fantastic? Here's what one of our statesmen said in Washington the other day:

"Routine attacks on the north central section of the United States by air should be expected. These attacks will not be mere suicide attempts but sound military operations." Yes, some peaceful Sunday morning a Rising Son of a Gun may look down through his bombsight . . . and see your home!

Remember Pearl Harbor! Buy Bonds . . . and keep on buying them for the duration!

Women's Contribution to Defense The Business and Professional Women's program has been formulated and we have been advised that careful study of it is our most valuable contribution to defense at the present time.

We are told that at the present the greatest contribution we can make is a familiarity with our program, knowing exactly what it contains. That contribution we should make. If we cannot do more, we certainly must not do less. We have got to prepare to take the offensive.

The only way left is to fight our way out by intelligent, offensive action. B&PW are working to take the offensive, if this war is not won, "The Alternative—and we must face it—is Defeat and Loss of Freedom."

When we view the present spectacle of the way the human race has of working out its adjustments, it is easier to appreciate justly the contributions which women have made to the civilized phases of the life of the human race and the various careers they have chosen for themselves and have so ably carried on in the home, in business and in the professions. Equal or greater contributions will be necessary as a result of the present conflict.

Our direct and primary interests demand the defeat of Japan first and above all else. Our conflict with Japan is part of the Axis grand strategy only by accident. War between the United States and Japan has been inevitable for half a century, it is a case of direct conflict of interests. The war with Japan and the outcome of the struggle will decide our future for a long time to come.
