Bumper-To-Bumper Traffic At Police Ball

The second annual Buchanan police ball was one of the real highlights of the social season to date, according to some 300 guests, most all from Buchanan. The 300-odd swingers and swayers were dancing bumper-to-bumper much of the time, only the skillful traffic routing of Chief Flat-Foot Jack Krugh and his force of Bum Bouncers preventing jams and possible accidents. However, no tickets were issued for traffic violations, though several were reported to have run stop signs.

The orchestra was not so massive as last year, but the volume fitted the dance hall and the price fitted the budget much better than in the case of the elite ball of 1950, when instead of buying clothes the cops had to pawn their overcoats to pay the bill.

This year they operated well inside their budget and will have a nice assist on their official ensembles. Chief Krugh dropped the "I" in his title for the occasion and became Chief Krugh, turning out a quality of sandwich and other eats which demonstrated that he was well trained in other matters than police procedure.

Fifty fugitives from justice are reported to have bought summors and to have failed to show up for the event.

Giant Delphiniums Bloom At G Mitchell Home

On Monday evening of last week this writer saw some giant delphinium blooms in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mitchell, 306 Clark street.

The tallest of the plants measured over six feet high, 73 inches to be exact, of which the flower spike was 43 inches of beautiful variegated blue. Right beside this stalk was another spike of lavender delphinium that measured 15 inches around the largest part of the bloom.

Off to the west was a bank of fresh-painted marigolds and petunias that will form another beauty spot late this summer.

The flowers are on a vacant lot belonging to the Mitchells, south of their home and cornering on the west side of Clark and Alexander. Ten years ago, when they bought the land, the lot was a stretch of sand, growing only weeds and the grass. Most of it is now in a thrifty lawn, with flower beds on the west and north sides.

The present growth represents a great deal of work. When the Mitchells came the hillside descended steeply from the south side of the house to Alexander street. Now the pitch has been modified by two concrete walls of stone and cement, one at the house, and another lower down, with a lawn between them and the flower garden and mole lawn below. A great many tons of stones have been hauled through the years, and many loads of black soil and manure to get the present result.

In addition the flowers are given extra attention by stock manure. This spring Mr. Mitchell hauled a load of manure and two loads of black dirt to the site of the flower bed just planted to zinnias, marigolds and petunias.

In the rear of the Mitchell house is a lawn enclosed by a fence of wooden slats raised by stone terraces on the south and west sides. In one corner is a fireplace and concrete and field stone built by Mr. Mitchell. All around the home are the evidence of Mr. Mitchell's cunning in concrete work. He works seven days a week now, and does his home work in spare time.

Thank for the Free Publicity

The Record is indebted to H. W. Riley and the City-Trib for two spots of free advertising in the form of quips concerning a classified advertisement calling for "red and black" raspberry pickers. After Mr. Riley had contributed the suggestion that plaid raspberry pickers would also be nice (sorry, we haven't his copy at hand), a follow-up appeared in the "L. O. Tye" as per the ensuing.

Oh, Forget It! I'll go to Missouri and look for a Job Picking Blue Whortleberries.

Were H. W. Riley a qualified raspberry snatcher, he would know that the "red and black" in a Berrien County (Mich.) Record want ad (Line, June 27) applied to the raspberries and not to the pickers. The pickers are black and blue.

Any qualified berry picker knows that when black raspberries are green, they are red. All red raspberries (Continued on Page 3)

H. B. Erwin Will Serve 45 Days In County Jail

Charge Is Reduced From Felonious Assault To Assault And Battery

Houston Blaine Erwin was sentenced to 45 days in the Berrien county jail at the trial held at the city hall Thursday morning before Justice of the Peace Rex Lamb.

Previous to sentence the charge against him had been reduced from that of "felonious assault" to "assault and battery," in view of the fact that his victim in the stabbing affray of June 14, Herman Potokar of Niles, admitted the assault. When the charge was reduced it came within the jurisdiction of the local court for sentencing. The unusually long sentence or conviction in an assault and battery charge was due to the aggravated nature of the case.

The fight occurred on South Oak street about 11:15 p. m., June 14. The two boys had developed bad blood, allegedly on jealousy grounds, at a carnival the previous week. Potokar came to Buchanan on the evening of June 14 and alleged that Erwin and some friends had "run him out of town." He returned to Niles and assembled several youths there and returned later.

They caught up with Erwin on South Oak street and Potokar, a much heavier man, set in to give him a beating. Erwin drew an electrician's knife, known popularly as a "Texas Jack," and cut Potokar twice, a stab wound on one side of the upper abdomen and a long slash on the other side, the two wounds requiring 17 stitches.

Potokar was taken to the Niles hospital, where it was found that the knife had not reached any vital spots, largely because of the fact that Potokar bears considerable flesh in the punctured regions. Erwin had appeared before the local justice and had waived examination on a charge of felonious assault. He was committed to the county jail to await arraignment before the Berrien county circuit court.

Later, on advice of his attorney, Edward Donoghue of Niles, he changed his plea and asked for an examination. In addition to the 45-day jail sentence he will pay fines estimated at $25.

The Story of Buchanan

THE STORY OF THE MISSION IN THE WILDERNESS (Installment 2)

Back to the low north and east of where the marker is set is the site of the former Carey Mission. Not only was the first farm in the Buchanan vicinity opened here, but also the first school and the first Protestant church.

The little caravan of personnel and supplies, traveling by ox-power, arrived at the site selected for the new mission late in October in 1822, after a ten-day trip covering approximately 100 miles of wilderness trail from Fort Wayne. They pitched their tents on the eleventh day in falling rain. The next day was Sunday and Isaac McCoy conducted what was undoubtedly the first Protestant religious service in this section.

They went immediately to work building the structures for the mission. McCoy was then in ill health, owing to his many experiences and exposure in the wilderness. He laid the floor and built the chimney for the schoolhouse, which was opened Jan. 26, 1823, and was so ill because of his labors that he was not able to conduct the religious services.

Perhaps the experience of a pioneer missionary establishing a mission in the wilderness can best be understood from the selected experiences on two trips from Fort Wayne to the Carey mission with supplies.

The first spring after the mission was established it became necessary for Mr. McCoy to go to Ohio for more funds. This was the worst time of the year for travel in the wilderness, the snow that had accumulated all winter under the trees was melting, the streams all high and the ground covered with water. Mr. McCoy had been too ill to preach for some time, when he set out through rain and flooded country on horseback. They found the Elkhardt river too high to cross, and had to circle around by the source.

But the funds were secured and the supplies purchased. On April 16 they left Fort Wayne for the trip about 100 miles by the wilderness trail to the Carey Mission. McCoy tells the story as follows:

"The waters were so high and the roads so bad that one wagoner refused to proceed with his team and I was under the necessity of storing the load. With three wagons, one of which was our own, we set off in company with Mr. and Miss Wright, who were hired to assist in the school, six hired men and one Indian boy, and a horse and a pack of cattle and 110 sheep. St. Mary's river was deep at this time and we had no other craft than a large canoe with which to cross our wagons, baggage, persons. Some of our oxen were unwilling to swim, and were dragged across by the horns. We had not proceeded more than three miles when we discovered that the earth was so soft that we could not get forward with our loads without more force of team. We camped and sent two men back to Fort Wayne, and procured two additional oxen and one horse. A sentinel guarded the sheep all night to prevent mischief by wolves. We had not gone two miles on the second day when we were compelled again, by bad roads, to lighten our load and sent one man back to Fort Wayne to arrange to get this property secured.

"On the 18th one yoke of oxen failed so that their owner turned them loose. Some deep creeks were exceedingly troublesome and the sheep had to be dragged through the water. It rained on us incessantly. At Elkhardt river we halted and made a portage (large canoe hollowed from a tree trunk) out of a single tree, intending to transport some of our loading down that river and the St. Joseph to our place. The road along which we had thus far come was considered, even by the government express from the military post at Chicago, to be impassable, but the need at the mission of such property as we carried with us had impelled us to make extraordinary efforts thus far.

"On the 24th we had our canoe in the river in which we ferried our wagon, sheep and so forth; the horses and cattle swam. After crossing the stock I took a few men to collect them and select a camping place a short distance below, leaving three men to load the portage with property which was to be freighted down the river, and brought to our encampment.

"We had just settled ourselves at our camp when we discovered the portage coming down, and we went to the bank to assist in landing it. Before it reached us it became entangled in a tree, from which it was not disengaged without taking water. The current was swift as a mill race, and the portage was no sooner disengaged from one tree than it ran foul of another and capsized. The cargo was entirely turned into the river and everyone plunged in to save what he could. By great exertions we saved 8 1/2 barrels of flour, two barrels of corn meal, a little seed corn, a box of dried fruit, and a few articles of clothing. Some things were rescued from the water nearly two miles down the river. Our peas, potatoes, one barrel of flour, one of salt and other property to a considerable amount were lost, and some of that we saved was much damaged. Our potatoes and some of our corn were for seed, the lost food we would greatly need at the station.

"Weary and wet we surrounded our little fire in the woods, talked over our misfortune."

This went on. The risk of loading the wagoner to again and launching it down the river was taken as the only way of getting the remainder to the mission. The sheep strayed, it took a whole day to recover them and get them across the river. The wagons were driven as far as Bertrand's house (where Bertrand now is) and the party went on to the mission by horseback. They can just in time for flour had run out and the 62 at the mission had been on short rations.

It was necessary to return to Fort Wayne at once to replace the seed and food lost in the canoe upset. A man was employed to bring two wagon loads. The terrible condition on the roads and the high waters in streams led the wagoner to drag a makeshift tree canoe to float part by water. The second canoe upset within four rods of the first accident, the loss in corn, seed corn, flour, peas, and seed potatoes being greater than on the first occasion.

On the return to the mission runners were sent out in all directions to find food and seed. On the 12th they were engaged in dragging a makeshift tree canoe to float part by water. The second canoe upset within four rods of the first accident, the loss in corn, seed corn, flour, peas, and seed potatoes being greater than on the first occasion.

Spent 36 Years at Mullen Corners Farm Until Death of Wife

Orrin L. Mullen, 80, a resident of the Buchanan community for 45 years, died at the Quick Convalescent home, Niles, Thursday after an illness of nearly four months. He had been bedridden for the last two months, and his decline was gradual.

Notes From Service Men

Wounded Soldier Tells His Story

Recently this writer approached a youth in uniform on Front street, evidently not a local man, with the story query as to whether the colonel knew he was here.

He said that he had been wounded and hospitalized and was now able to get out to visit relatives. So we asked him to come to the office and give his story. In the office he protested that he was not known here and his name was not of interest but said he would tell his story. Here it is:

He was with a tank outfit in the 7th Cavalry, Second Division, one of the occupation units in Korea before the war broke. The unit left the United States in May of 1950. He was on patrol duty along the 38th parallel when the North Koreans struck.

No trouble had been anticipated, he said, and the surprise was total when North Korean planes bombed the unit at 10 p. m. June 20. In fact the unit was very much "relaxed," enjoying themselves socially when they heard the planes overhead. Only a few bombs were dropped and the planes circled off without flying low for machine gun strafing. They were gone before a single anti-aircraft gun could be shot.

At a minute or so past midnight Korean troops attacked. They came without the fanfare of yelling, gong-beating and horns that marked the later Chinese Communist attacks. The troops had built an extensive perimeter defense after the bombing, but when the North Koreans came they were not able to stop them. The North Koreans were evidently battle-wise, and attacked with precision and effectiveness. The Americans were nearly all void of any combat experience, in addition to being greatly outnumbered. They knew neither how to effectively defend themselves or to stage a counter-attack. They were consequently badly out-maneuvered and mangled. One pocket was surrounded and wiped out before relief could be organized.

The American troops have now learned their lesson, said the boy. Now they know how to attack in any terrain, from the wet rice paddies to the dry, dusty, arid lands. They can take care of themselves, take care of their equipment, defend, charge, or do anything the situation requires. That was not the case when the first North Koreans struck in June, 1950.

The boy was wounded in October, 1950, during the retreat of his unit when they were shelled back by the attack of the Chinese regulars near the Manchurian border. He was evacuated by a hospital ship at Wonsan. Taken to Honolulu by ship he was flown from there to the United States, reaching the U. S. Army hospital at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., on Jan. 2, 1951. He was released there in February, 1951, and sent to the Reception Center at Fort Custer, Mich.

Dennis Batchelor Gets Hall Of Fame Citation

Dennis Batchelor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Batchelor, 114 West Fourth street, is back at his home for a 14-day furlough after completing his boot training at Great Lakes. He is wearing a clasp engraved with "Hall of Fame" citation received by his company, the 429th, for the all-time record made by that unit for weekly victories in athletics, drill, band, seamanship, and other competition. A flag was awarded for each victory. The previous record set by any company at Great Lakes was 27 flags.

He arrived here at 12:30 p. m. Thursday to spend two weeks with his parents, after which he will return to the Great Lakes station for 14 weeks of schooling for the post of machinist's mate.

Glen Walter To Train As Electrician's Mate

Glen Walter arrived in Buchanan Thursday to spend 14 days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walter, Sr., on Old M-60, after completing his "boot" at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Illinois. He will leave at the end of the furlough for either Great Lakes or Jacksonville, Fla., for eight weeks of training as an aviation electrician.

Don and Joyce Stibbs and son, Robert, have returned from a trip to the Sioux and Northern Michigan.

Mrs. John Zemola has returned from Chicago and a visit with her son and daughter and their families. She was a guest of honor at a dinner party given in the Hungarian Village on one of the evenings. The family also made a trip to Milwaukee, Kenosha, and Lake Geneva, Wis.

Arrange Parking In Athletic And Memorial Fields

No Bottleneck Liable In Exit From Athletic Field Says Krugh

The Buchanan Business Association and others allied in plans for the July 4th evening fireworks were keeping their fingers crossed as the Record went to press Tuesday afternoon, notwithstanding the weather bureau reports that showers on that day would probably be confined to the morning.

The fireworks committee, headed by Dale Nelson as the chairman on arrangements, with Jack Wilson as the official shooter-offer, reported that they had lined up the fireworks display and were merely standing by waiting for the signal.

This year, instead of sending abroad, the committee secured the fireworks at a considerably reduced figure from the Picone brothers, makers of fireworks, at Coloma. The display will consist mostly of aerial pieces this year, with only the American flag and the grand finale as set pieces. This is to avoid the narrow escapes in handling the set pieces on the two previous programs.

The pieces will be fired from the western end of the Chamberlain hills, the aerial pieces from the bottom of the gravel chute in the Emerson Longfellow property, and the set piece from the top of the chute.

Parking will be arranged in both Memorial and Athletic Fields, with Jack Krugh and the Buchanan police department in charge, aided by a number of volunteers. There will be no difficulty in getting out of Athletic Field following the program, stated Krugh. Last year a single line of traffic cleared Memorial Field within 15 minutes.

Opera Star Will Open Friendship Garden Program

Eugene Conley, Metropolitan Opera, Firestone Singer, Sings July 14

Eugene Conley, one of the Metropolitan Opera Association's most brilliant talents, will open a regular International Friendship Gardens musical festival season July 14.

On July 7, Soprano Henrietta Chase and Baritone Hans Alton will present a joint recital in a special benefit program that is not part of the regular Garden series. All 1951 musical programs will be presented on the Theatre of Nations island stage in Lake Lucerne.

Florence Smith, musical director of the Gardens, said the committee that has prepared the 1951 program was elated over the Conley appearance.

"We have been trying to present Mr. Conley for some time," Mrs. Smith said. "He is one of the Metropolitan Opera Association's most popular stars and is familiar to all America through his radio and television performances for Firestone."

F. Virgil Stauffer, the executive director of the Gardens, said that the 1951 floral show will be an extra attraction for music lovers. Thirty-six varieties of roses are blooming throughout the 100-acre site and all varieties may be found in the unique Peisian rose garden, he added.

The Gardens are located on the branch of US-12 passing through Michigan City, about two miles east side of Michigan City on the east side of the highway. A large sign denotes the entrance.

Well, the present postoffice money orders which have been in use for many years, are now a thing of the past. An entirely new form has taken its place, which began July 1. These new forms can be cashed at any post-office or bank, without the deduction of a fee when the money order was cashed at a different postoffice than the one drawn on. Some postmasters will like the new forms and some will not. Time will tell, which is best, the old or the new.

Clear Lake Woods

The spectacle of the Northern Lights on Sunday evening was a wonderful sight. Like great beacons they spanned the sky, displaying many colors.

Saturday evening the lake was dotted with boats, with the fishermen patiently waiting as reports were read. Doc Butler brought in two large ones. Eight-year-old Gary Zanni, using a casting rod and reel for the first time, hooked a 13-inch bass. Lawrence Rosenquist and a couple of others fished near the diving board and pier brought in large-sized bass also. Ticks trailing in without any luck, think somebody must have magic signs.

38 Michiganders Killed In July 4th Auto Traffic In '50

With a better than average Memorial Day traffic experience on record, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard urges all Michigan motorists to exercise added precautions again during the Fourth of July period. "Last year," Leonard said, "there was an average of eight traffic deaths daily for five holiday periods. During the recent Memorial Day period there was an average of about four, three on Memorial Day, seven the previous day and three the day following."

"During the four-day week-end of the Fourth last year 38 persons were killed on Michigan highways, the highest toll for that holiday on record. There were, however, only eight the previous year, showing that careful driving does save lives."

"The number of traffic fatalities during the 1950 holiday periods can be cut in half this year if everyone will cooperate. The Memorial Day record was a start in that direction, but it was still not as good as it could have been. The Fourth can be much safer."

"The calendar is also helping to save lives this year. The Fourth, as did Memorial Day, comes on a mid-week day and many persons will not be taking long motor trips such as they do when the holiday extends into a week-end. Nevertheless, traffic will be very heavy and hazardous."

"State Police patrols will be increased over the holiday, but every driver must cooperate by exercising added precautions to insure maximum highway safety. "Whether you plan a short drive or a long trip, take it easy and enjoy a safe and sane holiday."

FARMER-LABORER-NEIGHBORS

SURE you made my tractor, and I keep your dinner pail full. Yes, and I grow the cotton and wool for the clothes you're wearing. And your family is wearing and eating the products of my farm. You use machines to make my tractor, and I use the tractor to grow your food and clothing. That's just being good neighbors and good citizens.
 But it takes a lot of time and work to keep a farm producing enough to meet your wants and the wants of your boss. This doesn't leave much time for the individual farmer to look after the economical purchase of the supplies you make and the efficient marketing of the farm products you buy. That's why we farmers have our farmer cooperatives. Our cooperative marketing associations do a better job of providing you with quality farm products and our cooperative purchasing associations keep us supplied with the latest and best of your equipment. As a result, you get better food and clothes at lower prices... and we have better equipment, and possibly more of it, for producing that food and fiber.
 Yes, our farmer cooperatives help us do our part to be better neighbors.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF!

But Also-- Believe In Us!

Lowest Prices?
 No — we do not generally have the lowest price, because if we were buying merchandise from you, we think you would try to sell us what you thought was best. We would know you knew the merchandise, and were passing along to us knowledge which we were not in a position to get. We would treat you as you would treat us.

Pressure?
 No — we think that pressure selling is a thing of the past, especially among home folks. We have to stand back of what we say, so we say only what we can back up. We respect your right to visit us without looking forward to unwarranted pestering.

Quality?
 YES!!! But quality for each dollar spent — that is our motto. No one can build anything that someone else can't build cheaper. But that does not mean it is a better value.

Services?
 YES!!! We have good service — BEFORE — DURING — AFTER THE SALE! Before you buy we provide a display for your selection. During the completion of the sale we provide information. Terms to suit your budget. Delivery arrangements to suit your needs. After delivery we provide a complete repair service, complete installation and delivery service, satisfactory adjustments when warranted or exchange of purchases. A "one-stop" service for your convenience.

SO — BELIEVE IN YOURSELF — BELIEVE IN US! WE SOLICIT YOUR PATRONAGE — WE GUARANTEE SATISFACTION!

Navy Mothers Club Plans Raising Fund For Rehabilitation

The Paul E. Thurston Navy Mothers club members met Wednesday evening in the Royal Neighborhood hall and made plans to sponsor an ice cream social in July to raise money for navy rehabilitation work.

Commander Margaret Hanover conducted the business session and named Mrs. Gerald Mitchell and Mrs. Claude Hess to arrange the place and date for the social.

The group voted to donate $10 to the homecoming committee to be given to the hospital service committee in July for Percy Jones General Hospital in Battle Creek. Mrs.
Claire Coleman and Mrs. Bertha Hanover were received as new members. The monthly social meeting will be held Wednesday evening July 11, and the committee will include Mrs. A. H. Mollberg, Mrs. Leon Forbes and Mrs.
Mabe, Knight.

Sea Food
The food supply provided by the drifting "pastures" of plankton is essential for the survival of the demizens of the sea. It is the basic source of nutrition, as indispensable to fish as the grasses and vegetation are to land animals.

Streamlined Postal Money Order

Patrons of more than 42,000 postoffices will find the new and more convenient money order available Monday morning, July 2, Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson announced today.

Principal changes in the new money order system will make it possible to have a money order cashed at any of the nation's postoffices or it may be collected through any bank in the same manner as the depositing or cashing of a check.

The new money order appears in the form of a punched card instead of the customary paper slip and purchasers will fill out the same form and pay the same fees as has been required in the past. The regulation that money orders must be cashed at specific postoffices has been eliminated.

Under the old system, it will be recalled, a money order had to be cashed in the office to which it was issued. If it was cashed at a postoffice in another city an additional fee was charged.

The new system makes available to the Postoffice Department the most advanced electronic business machines. One machine, the IBM type 808 proof machine, has been especially developed for the new money order purposes and it combines all the advantages of the modern proof machine in widespread use by banks and large department stores throughout the country. Another of the principal machines to be used with the new system is the Electronic Statistical machine, workhorse of the 1950 census tabulation.

The Postmaster General described the inauguration of the new money order system as the largest single accounting change ever made in postal history and said that the development comes after exhaustive study by the Postoffice Department, the General Accounting Office, the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board.

The Department urges users to remember that the new money orders must not be folded, stapled, spindled or mutilated in any way since they are to be issued on punch cards and processed by machinery.

Last year more than 300,000,000 money orders, totaling upward to five billion dollars were issued and paid by the Postoffice Department.

The new money order system will be under the management and supervision of Assistant Postmaster General Osborne A. Pearson, who directs the Department's Bureau of Finance.

All new money orders will clear Federal Reserve Banks in the same manner as Treasury checks or other cash items. The Federal Reserve banks will then turn over the paid money orders to the proper regional postoffices.

The new money order system is in keeping with the program to modernize and improve the operation of the postal service, as well as to effect economy and the better to serve the general public.

Nurse's Report Tells How Cancer Money Is Spent

Mrs. Olive Kelsey, County Cancer Nurse Gives Glimpses

(The following selections comprise less than half of the report of the Berrien county cancer nurse, Mrs. Olive Kelsey, for July.)

May was a rather quiet month but it gave me a chance to start catching up on some of the back office work that has accumulated in the past 12 months. From the way things look now I should be able to get caught up sometime this summer.

There were some educational lectures given and considerable literature given out. Meetings were held for the Progressive Baptist Church in Benton Harbor, the Parents' Group at the Emmanuel Missionary College, the Womans' Auxiliary of Sawyer, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Auxiliary in Niles, a Girl Scout group in New Buffalo; a womans' group in Coloma; a neighborhood group in Sodus; frammans' Auxiliary in Niles, class at the Junior College in Benton Harbor, students of the Bridgman school; and three films were loaned to Mr. VonKrohn at the St. Joseph Sanitarium to be shown to various groups there in the hospital. A total of 700 pieces of literature were given out.

During May the work with patients started to drop off a little for some reason. We seem to have more patients who need financial help and many who call in to ask questions but we only have a few who need dressings. The majority of the patients on whom we are making house visits are up and about and just need to be seen to know that everything is going as it should. A total of 111 home visits were made, 11 calls were made on physicians, 8 new patients were referred, 2 patients died, 2 patients were referred with transportation (a total of 35 trips), drug bills were paid for three patients and 2,604 dressings were given out. That is the smallest number of dressings dispensed in many a month.

The patient who moved to Elkhat did have to have some medicine to relieve pain before he left so this was purchased. Another patient needed some medication which was ordered by her physician for a decubitus ulcer on her back and this was purchased. Still another patient who is taking some hormones had to have a refill on her prescription and we paid part of the cost for that. The total cost for this medication is $650 per bottle. The patient can afford to pay $5 without too much hardship so I have let her pay this, then we have made up the difference. She now has her hospital bill paid in full and has repaid us. Her loan in full so the next time she needs medicine I know she will want to pay for it in full. She does so appreciate all we have done for her.

A physician referred a patient who was badly in need of x-ray therapy but who had used up every bit of her money and all her hospital insurance, that was why the doctor asked us if we could help. He thought the patient could go back and forth each day but she became so weak that she had to be hospitalized for five days. When she returned home we provided the transportation for her for 15 more days and we did agree to help her with the x-ray bill.

A lady came in to find out about financial help for her mother who was starting x-ray treatments for a breast lesion. After she found out how much it was going to cost and that she could make arrangements to pay it regularly, not all at one time, she decided she could take care of it without help. However, I did assure her that we would be glad to help if she needed it.

I made a follow-up visit on one of the patients for whom we had provided transportation so she might have a series of 24 x-ray treatments and now six weeks after the completion of her treatments she feels just wonderful. She and her husband are busy making plans for their first vacation in many a year.

I had a new patient who is from one of the DP families in the county. She is a very charming woman who speaks surprisingly good English. Her story was that while in a concentration camp she had had some trouble and the doctor there had told her she needed to have surgery. She was moved out of that camp before it could be done and then she was sent to the United States. With getting settled and her own physical difficulties until now but does realize she must have some care. She went to a local physician and was advised to have a biopsy. Then someone advised her that she should come to the Cancer Society for financial help and advice. She was quite concerned about what a biopsy was and did want someone to explain it to her. We referred her back to her physician and told her if her hospital insurance did not cover her expenses we'd see what we could do to help her.

It was very gratifying, to say the least, to see the look of gratitude on this lady's face when she left the office. I have not heard from her since that visit but imagine I will before too long.

One of our colostomy patients who I only hear from when he needs some dressings, came in the last of May. He works every day in a factory and feels so wonderful that he just won't go back to his doctor for a check-up, in fact he hasn't been back for almost a year. Each time that he sends his wife in for dressings I tell her she must see that he takes the time to go in and be checked in order that he doesn't neglect himself, but as yet he hasn't gone. I hope now he will do it since I have tried to impress on him the importance of keeping in touch with his doctor.

Report Trip Galien, Buchanan Youth To Ark. Broiler Dist.

(By J. D. Johnson, Co. Ag. Agt.)
Berrien county's 4-H poultry project winners, Jaycee Seyfried of Galien, and Marjorie Mitchell and Robert Kuntz of Buchanan, along with Mrs. Johnson and myself, returned last Saturday from an extremely interesting trip to the northwest Arkansas broiler producing region. Sponsors of the trip include the Farmers' Hatchery of Glendora, and Graham's Hatchery of Benton Harbor, Morley Mills of New Troy, Buchanan Co-ops of Buchanan, Schroeder Poultry Market of Three Oaks and the X-L Poultry Market of St. Joseph.

The trip through Indiana, Illinois and Missouri provided an opportunity for us to see the heart of the corn belt and the Missouri Ozark region. The broiler industry, plus a rapidly expanding dairy program, has made northwestern Arkansas a very important agricultural area. The broiler industry amounted to over $30,000,000 in 1950 with the greater part centered in two counties. Broilers are raised on small as well as large farms as practically all of the feed is purchased. A few of the larger producers have their own mills for feed grinding and mixing.

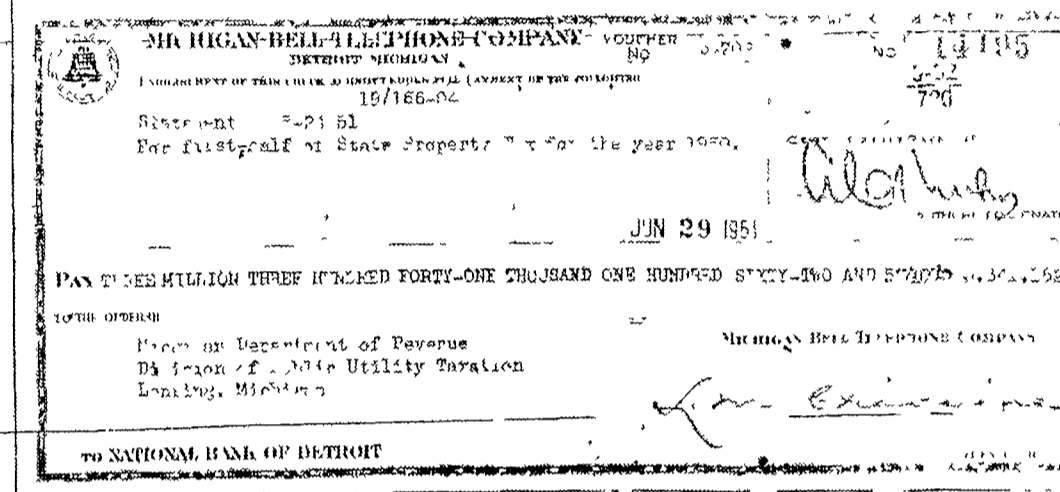

All broilers are kept inside for the 11-12 weeks from hatchery to marketing time. Brooder houses are large, oftentimes 300'x20' or 30' in width. J. O. Kump, manager of the Arkansas Farm Bureau poultry processing plant at Bentonville, Ark., showed us how they process some 16,000 birds per day in a plant opened in 1947. Kump says that is about 10% of the total number of birds processed per day in the area. Some 300 workers are employed at this one processing center. Completely dressed broilers and fryers are then sold in all central states as fresh dressed or frozen poultry.

The development of markets for birds produced in the area was at one time a serious problem but with the locating of poultry processing plants in the area it is now possible for every producer to sell at the going market price for the day. Nearly all broiler producers in the area at one time had smaller layer flocks but have switched completely to broilers after once trying them. Eggs from hatcheries selling checks in the area now come from an egg producing section of Arkansas some 200 miles south of Bentonville. The majority of broilers now being raised are a crossbreed of New Hampshire Reds and Indian River. The resulting birds are white with a few black-tipped feathers but no dark pinfeathers.

This was the duck which won the National Chicken of Tomorrow contest this year.

We certainly believe that this type of trip for outstanding 4-H poultry project members will increase interest in the possibilities of the poultry business for Berrien county as well as providing a very interesting trip award.

The only change in the standard 52-card deck of playing cards in recent centuries has been the joker.

Michigan Bell Contributes To Primary School Fund

The state's Primary School Fund is richer by $3,341,162.52 as this check is turned over by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to Revenue Commissioner Louis M. Nims. The check covers half of the company's state property tax of $6,682,325.04 for the year, a $600 increase over 1950. The money is earmarked for the Primary School Fund, and Michigan Bell is the largest single contributor to that fund.

Tri-County Show Holsteins July 9, Youth Fair Grounds

Holstein breeders of Berrien, Cass and VanBuren counties are grooming exhibit animals for the annual Black and White Show, to be held at the Berrien county Youth Fair grounds Monday, July 9.

The show will again be sponsored by the Berrien County Holstein-Friesian Breeders' Association, according to president Robert Veritz of Berrien Springs.

Glen Casey of Williamston, has been secured as official judge for the show this year. This will be his second appearance as judge for the local show, having previously judged the 1949 exhibit Program for the day will begin at 10 a.m. with registration of entries. A junior judging contest is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. for 4-H and FFA members in the county. Berrien county 4-H Club agent Leonard Hill reports that this will be a part of the Berrien county 4-H Day judging contest to select a county judging team for entry in the state 4-H Day judging contest.

Judging of the exhibits will start at 11:30 with the bull classes and will continue with the female classes after a potluck picnic lunch at noon.

Everyone interested in Holstein cattle is invited to attend according to Veritz. Other officers of the local association include vice-president Charles (Ted) Payne of Galien, secretary-treasurer, Thomas Lozmack of Three Oaks, and directors Doan Staub of Galien, and Howard Westfall of Berrien Springs.

Winners County 4-H Dairy Judging Will Have Special Award

Members of the 1951 county dairy judging team will have special award for them this year according to Leonard J. Hill, county 4-H club agent. The five members of the team will receive an award trip to the International Dairy Show at Indianapolis, held the first of October.

Each year a county dairy judging team is picked and this team competes in State Dairy Judging contests. The first state contest is held August 9 when state eliminations are held. The winners there are eligible to compete at the final state contest held at the State 4-H Club Show. There three 4-H members and an alternate are picked at this time to be on the State Dairy Judging team to represent Michigan at the National 4-H Judging Contest held at Waterloo, Iowa.

Elimination For 4-H Demonstration Teams Set For July 6

A demonstration elimination contest will be held July 6 to pick demonstration teams to compete at the State 4-H Club Show. According to Leonard Hill, county 4-H club agent, the event is held at this time so that the members giving demonstrations will have some time to perfect their demonstration before State Show, which is held the latter part of August.

Miss Mary Woodward, assistant state 4-H club leader, will be present to help select the outstanding demonstration, and to give pointers on giving a good demonstration.

Hill states that 4-H members can give a demonstration on any 4-H project they are taking. This is a two demonstration, will have awards for the best one given at State Show. There are Prof. Foods' and D. Shashina, Demonstration.

Members giving demonstrations can gain valuable experience by taking them. Hill states that he knows of several instances when 4-H club members have given a demonstration several times they have gained a considerable amount of practical experience.

The members who are selected at this elimination will have a chance to appear at the Berrien county Youth Fair held Aug. 15-19.

How to make Wise Tracks to a Beauty

How do you buy a new car?
Are you one of those people who buy on love at first sight?
Or do you check cars feature for feature, price for price—then pick the one that gives you the most for your money?
Whichever you are, we'd like to suggest that you come in and see our 1951 Buicks.
It's a sure bet that you'll go for the swift, smart look of a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—you'll fall seriously in love with the pace and power of its bonnet-filling engine. And it's a cinch you'll go for the room and richness of those Buick interiors—the serene smoothness of Dynaflo Drive² and all-coil springing.

But don't let your emotion be the only judge—be sure to get the practical picture too.
Note that the power that gives you such a big kick here comes from Buick's famed valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which means you get a lot of miles from each gallon of gas you buy.

Note that the silken ease you enjoy with Dynaflo² goes hand in hand with real money savings in maintenance costs.
Above all, note what a Buick's price tag includes—how much more sheer automobile you get in a Buick than the same money would buy elsewhere.
How about making tracks to our showroom right soon—checking thoroughly into the matter—and see if you don't fall in love with a smart-buy Buick?

- NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:
