Install Equipment for Factory Pre-Employment Classes at H. S. County Trucks to Gather in Rural Areas

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners Sez: Jim Aichenbottom, the well known Clark street Democrat, sez like these days, 'ratson' an' all — is still cream puff business compared to what it used to be, if you remember back fur enuff!

The Absent Legion Where are the lads that once we knew Along the home town avenue — Young Joseph with the jaunty air And Bob built like a grizzly bear, With husky trunks and pins like kegs, And Red with slender sprinter's legs And Mack and Lee with friendly smiles, And William of the winning wiles, And Cliff who used to ride the wind Per motorbike with girl behind, And Jack with hair so black and curled?

In what far corners of the world Fare those, who just a year away were our companions night and day? Only last year such lads 'ez these Were cutting rugs at Thomases, And now they plow the seven seas In dread-war's bustling argosies, Or fight upon the sandy plains Of El Guettar or El Almain, In one a land they man the gun And ride the plane against the sun — These are the things a year has done!

An Idea for the Solution of Dog Problem Ava Schram reports that the classified which he placed in the Record last week asking for a home for an estrayed fox terrier mother and three puppies brought replies, including eight from in and around Buchanan and one from Galien. The dog and her puppies were taken to a farm on the Red Bud Trail. This is an idea for handling at least a part of the dog problem. Let the police impound the dogs and advertise them. Then responsible people who may wish to get one of the dogs can acquire them by paying advertising and other expenses

The Kiddies Are Not That Dumb This department is asked to clear up a misunderstanding regarding the so-called "purchase" of a Clark Tractor by pupils of the Buchanan Schools. An impression seems to have gained currency that the great big bad Clark Equipment put one over on the poor little school children by selling them a $900 tractor for $1285. What happened was that the Buchanan schools borrowed a Clark Tractor of local make and placed it in the hall at the high school merely as a goal or measuring stick for stamp sales. What the pupils did was to buy stamps which they now hold — they never really bought any tractor. When they had bought the $1285 stamps, to have and to hold, and to ultimately make $4 for each $3 for their investment, the tractor was driven back to the Clark plant which had kindly loaned it as a stimulant to the school effort

Kane Expects to Sell 450 Bike Plates by May 1

Indications point to a bargain counter rush for new bicycle license plates this week end, with 450 shiny new plates on sale by Chief of Police Paul Kane at the very reasonable price of 50 cents each. Last year Kane had 400 plates of which 395 were taken. Last year it was necessary to go to one of the local school buildings and impound about 35 bicycles with expired plates before the license rule was taken seriously. Kane stated that he expected to get rid of most of the 450 license plates

The instruction will include general mechanical information, machine operation, blue print reading. Equipment now installed includes four lathes, a surface grinder, a shaper and a milling machine.

Tales of An Old Town

An Attempt to Reproduce a Cross Section of The American Scene, As Witnessed Here Through the Past Century.

Story of Red Bud Trail Strange how time to come becomes time present and then time past with the smoothness of a flowing stream and things that only yesterday were current and alive so soon are only a tale that is told. That is the way it is now even with so recent matters as the Red Bud Trail, so soon to be again resplendent with spring beauty. How many people could tell you off hand how old the Red Bud trail is, or how it came about? Doubtless there are students in the Buchanan High school to whom the Red Bud trail seems a fixture of the landscape, not quite so old but nearly as old as the St. Joseph river itself. Yet less than ten years ago it was in some people's minds about half a joke. It's not a joke now, it's as accepted and as taken-for-granted in this man's community as ham and eggs or air raid warden.

The Record has been permitted to see and copy part of a letter sent by Cpl. Robert Ferris, located somewhere in Australia, to his sister, Miss Alta Ferris, now in Pine Crest Sanitarium, Oshkemo, Mich. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ferris, 103 Michigan. The letter follows in part: "I received your letters yesterday, 2 mailed on the --- and two on the --- of ---. Today I received Lucille's two letters. All ways tell me about her I am going to answer her letter today. Things are quite the same here, from five until two but I'm just a roustabout man. I work on any machine or drive any truck they have. I like it best of all as a steady job. The time sure goes fast. The people here are okeh but they cannot give like the Americans for they do not have things like we do at home. Wages here are about half the size they are at home. Well Sis, I'd better sign off and write to my girl Lucille and let her know how much I appreciate her letters. I give here and weigh 169 so you can see I eat well. "Signing off now, Sis Write soon and often. Your brother, Bob."

Says Visit to War Hospital Would Educate

Mrs. McFarlin Visits Son Recovering at Mare Island, Calif.

It would be quite educational for such Americans as have not heard about the war to spend several months in the Mare Island hospital Vallejo, San Francisco, where wounded veterans of the land and sea battles of the South Pacific are being treated, according to Mrs. Margaret McFarlin, just returned from a visit of six weeks with her son, Harry Crittenden, now convalescing there. Crittenden, a chief machinist's mate on a U. S. war vessel, had incurred an infection which blinded him while fighting on land in the South Pacific. He was in eight major battles before being invaded. He said that they fought through jungles where bodies of unburied Japanese lay thick and it was believed that infection by mosquitoes from these bodies caused his blindness. He was first sent to Mare Island for treatment for shell shock, and at first it was not believed by doctors that he was blind. His claims to being blind were considered as a part of the mental condition. Examinations by a specialist showed, however, that the brain of the man affecting his nerves had really caused a temporary sight failure. He was then given malaria fever to counteract that poison. His sight has been improving since and he is now able to see well with one eye and can distinguish dimly with the other. He is permitted to leave the hospital each night and Sundays to stay with his wife and two daughters at Vallejo. Mrs. McFarlin visited six weeks with him at his home there. She also visited with another son, Victor Crittenden, for six weeks at Moguel, Arizona.

Seniors Choose "Mrs. Miniver" For Class Drama

"Mrs. Miniver" has been chosen as the play to be presented by the senior class of Buchanan High school on May 14, in the school auditorium. Mrs. Vera Dunbar is directing the play which is the stage version of Jan Struther's best selling novel. The cast consists of: Herry Arlick, Mary McNeil, Marlin Myers, Wilma Morgenthau, Bill Montgomery, Mary Hickey, Barbara Hausman, Jessica Doak, David VanEvery, Florence Ferris, George Johnson, Paul Montgomery, Joan Scherry, and Jackie Stark. The play varies somewhat from the screen play, but it is still the same heart-stirring story of the effects of the war on an English family. A college director from Maryland said "Seldom have we had a play that so wholeheartedly stirred our audiences. 'Mrs. Miniver' is timely — vital — living drama." Tickets will be sold by members of the senior class, and reserved tickets for the play will be available at DeNardo's Ice Cream Parlor after May 7.

Installation of Third Annealing Oven Completed

Installation of the third annealing oven for heat treatment of castings from the local foundry was completed last week and the plant now has a battery of three in operation. This complete installation effects a time saving of four hours on every oven load of 13 tons of castings, according to Supt. Herman Hess, in addition to a substantial saving of manpower. Whereas formerly the heat changes necessary to treatment were made by heating and cooling one oven, the castings may now be placed in one oven heated to 1600 degrees, kept there four hours and then the entire carload taken out, permitted to cool to the "black" state or to about 600 degrees, and then placed in another oven and reheated and held at 12 degrees. The first heat is a toughening process, the second a "normalizing" process.

Country Teachers Asked to Get Cans to Schools Friday Evening

Arrangements have been completed to collect tin cans in Buchanan on Friday afternoon, May 7, according to Mayor C. J. Wilson. The people of Buchanan are asked to have their cans thoroughly cleaned and flattened and placed in containers of some sort at the curb in front of their home. They will be collected by the trucks of the city street department for carrying at Niles on the following day. County School Commissioner Edward Murdock announces that arrangements have been made for the county highway department trucks to collect cans from the rural areas at the rural schools Saturday morning, for delivery either at Benton Harbor or Niles. Meetings of country teachers are being held at which the teachers are to be instructed to ask their pupils to furnish information and promote collections, both at their own homes and at the homes of those who do not have representation in the schools. The cans are to be prepared and set at the roadside at the rural schools by Friday evening.

New Raid Warning Signal in Effect in Mich. on May 1

Lansing.—A new air raid warning signal system will go into effect in Michigan at 12:01 a. m. May 1, it was announced today by Capt. Donald S. Leonard, state director of civilian defense. The new system will supplant all other signals now being used and signals will now be uniform throughout the state. The change is being made, Capt. Leonard said, for the increased protection and convenience of the public, to permit quicker and more efficient mobilization of citizens defense corps personnel, and to relieve the strain on communication facilities. The new system is an outgrowth of regulations put into effect in Sault Ste. Marie several months ago by the U. S. citizens defense corps of Michigan, and since approved by the eastern defense command and adopted in a number of states. The principal features are: 1. Introduction of a public "blue" warning signal — a two-minute steady blast on horns, sirens or whistles — to indicate a raid is probable. 2. The sounding of the "red" public warning — the familiar fluctuating note on sirens and intermittent blasts on horns and whistles for three minutes — to indicate that a raid is imminent. 3. Introduction of an additional "blue" public warning — a two-minute steady blast — to follow all "red" signals, to indicate that the raiders have passed, but may return. 4. Introduction of a new "white" or "all clear" signal to indicate that all danger is past and normal activities may be resumed. This signal is a one-minute steady blast followed by two minutes of silence, a second one-minute blast and another two minutes of silence, and a final one-minute blast. The sounding of the "blue" warning will mean, "Probability of an enemy air raid — enemy planes appear to be headed in your direction — get ready." This is the signal for the mobilization of civilian protection forces and the blackout of homes and business houses and offices. Traffic will continue to move, with vehicle headlights dimmed or on low beam, and pedestrians may proceed as usual. The blackout will not be complete, in view of the fact that vehicles will be moving with dimmed lights, but skyglow will be reduced materially, depriving enemy planes of what would otherwise be a valuable beacon. The sounding of the "red" signal will mean that enemy planes are in the immediate vicinity or overhead. All remaining lights — except a few specified emergency lights — will be blacked out, street cars and buses will unload their passengers, pedestrians must take shelter, and all traffic, except emergency vehicles, will stop. The sounding of the "blue" signal following a "red" signal will authorize persons to leave shelter and traffic to resume cautious movement. Civilian defense personnel will remain mobilized, and homes and business lights will continue to be blacked out. A community will thus be prepared to return to the "red" condition without delay if the raiders come back. When the "White" or all-clear (Continued on Page 3)

"Quite a stack of newspapers I left you yesterday, Judge. Aren't you in the newspaper business, are you?"

"No, I just enjoy reading different papers so my nephew George sends them to me whenever he takes a business trip. I got a big kick out of some he sent me from several counties where they still have prohibition. Particularly from some headlines that read 'Drunk Driving Arrests Rise',

'Bootleggers must post Ceiling Prices', 'Federal Agents seize 'Trick' Liquor Truck'. Doesn't that go to prove, Joe, that prohibition does not prohibit?"

"I watched conditions pretty carefully during our 13 years of prohibition in this country. The only thing I could see we got out of it was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor. . . plus the worst crime and corruption this country has ever known."

Peaceful Meal in African War Zone

Axis nuisance raids in North Africa are so frequent that the pilots and ground crewmen of this advanced U. S. bomber base in Algeria find it much more comfortable to have their meals in slit trenches, where they can go right on eating while the Jerries or Eyties are having their fun. This base is near the Tunisian border.

Mich. P. T. A. Meet to Talk War Problems

Effect on Children to be Theme of Meet at Saginaw on May 3-4-5

(Dr. Alice Sowers)

Centering its work on the actual problems of children in this state, the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers will hold a conference of representatives from local associations at Saginaw May 3-4-5. Conditions producing an increase in the juvenile delinquency, child labor, the need for day care of children, man power, and the school and the home in the war, will be subjects presented to the delegates by key people throughout the state who are working in these various fields and who will be present at the convention to bring first hand knowledge.

The conference will have a double purpose to train local leaders who will carry on work in the interests of children in their own communities the ensuing year; and to bring first hand information of conditions and possible contributions through parent-teacher associations. During the past year P.T.A.'s throughout the state have assisted in or carried on such war activities as testing blood donors, rationing, organizing first-aid, home nursing and nutrition classes; making surveys of the available nurses, preparing hot lunches, as well as carrying on the long term objects of the association which center in the welfare of children and youth in home, church, school and community.

According to Mrs. James C. Parker, state president, there has never been such a need for trained leadership in the field of child protection nor a fuller understanding of school problems as there is today. The conference is an attempt to meet this present need.

A symposium on "Manpower and the problems of children" on Tuesday, May 4, will include talks on "Day Care of Children" by Mrs. Ruth C. Rogers, consultant on Day Care, State Welfare Commission; "Juvenile Protection," Mr. James Sterner, sociologist, Child Guidance Institute, working now in the Willow Run area, "Child Labor" and "Youth Employment," Mr. John W. Gibson, Department of Labor and Industry, "Schools and Manpower," Dr. Eugene D. Elliott, Superintendent of Public Instruction, "The Home and Manpower," Dr. Alice Sowers, Family Life Institute of University of Oklahoma, "Nutrition and School Lunches," Mrs. Olga Nickle, nutrition division, Michigan Council of Defense. Following the talks conferences will be given by the various speakers and delegates, with specific problems in these various areas, will be given an opportunity to discuss them with these experienced workers. Featured throughout the conference will be Dr. Alice Sowers who comes to Michigan as the representative of the National P.T.A. Congress. Dr. Sowers is a specialist in the field of Family Life. Now, director of the Family Life Institute of the Oklahoma State University, she formerly was specialist in Family Life and Parent-Teacher Education for the National Congress, under the Rockefeller Foundation. During this time she travelled in all parts of the country, assisting with the development of programs of parent education and working with colleges, state departments of education, parent-teacher officers, and others interested in adult education.

A native of Ohio, Dr. Sowers took her B.S. degree at Miami University, Oxford, and her M.A. degree in education at the University of Cincinnati. A practical house-keeper and a civic worker, Dr. Sowers will bring a practical and workable contribution to the delegates. As was activities chairman for the Oklahoma P.T.A. Congress she will bring a present knowledge of the association's place in a world at war.

Major Roswell P. Rosengren, of the Corps of Engineers, chief of Technical Information, Washington, is being assigned from the War Department to bring the delegates direct information on "The Man in Service and His Education."

OPA Again Warns Gasoline Dealers

A warning to gasoline dealers that they must conform to gasoline regulations was sounded this week by the Berrien county war price and rationing board.

Simultaneous with this warning, holders of gasoline ration books were urged to cooperate with their service station operators by observing these regulations.

Eleven western Michigan gasoline dealers were recently named as defendants in proceedings before an administrative tribunal of OPA in which the enforcement section of the district office of OPA seeks to suspend those dealers' right to transfer and use gasoline for such period as the hearing commissioner determines proper in each particular case.

Such periods may run from a few days up to the duration. Many other dealer violators whose offenses were not so serious received strong warning letters. They were reminded that only the gas attendant may detach coupons from a ration book and that it is illegal to accept loose coupons in exchange for gasoline. Also, the holder the coupon book must write on the back of each coupon his license number and state before a dealer may accept the coupon to return for gasoline. Gasoline dealers were also warned that it is illegal to transfer gasoline into a car unless the books and coupons correspond with the license number and the type of ration shown by the sticker on the car provided in the regulations.

Gasoline dealers and car operators who are carefully observing the regulations look to the office of price administration to carry out its duty to the public in leveling its guns at violators, the Berrien county war price and rationing board said.

The Pacific salmon, one blue back is known as the red salmon and the humpback as the pink salmon. Authorities state that the varieties with the deeper color usually have the most fat but beyond this there is little difference in nutritive value.

"Share-The-Ride" Program Renewed

The office of price administration, in an effort to assist in the good work already done by the office of defense transportation and the office of civilian defense in gaining the cooperation of motorists in preserving their cars, have renewed their efforts in the "Share the Ride" program.

Plant transportation committees have asked plant workers to make every effort to comply with this plan, and recent checks indicate excellent cooperation between workers and "Share the Ride" committees.

They Burned Down The Old Pine Tree

Just a bit of carelessness on the part of the railway section crew has deprived the village of Dayton of one of its oldest landmarks, a beautiful pine tree which has stood midway between the old Arnold blacksmith shop and the railroad longer than the oldest resident can remember. Whether it grew up in its wild state or was planted there by one of the first settlers no one knows. There was at one time a house standing near the tree but this house has been gone some sixty years, more or less. The grass in the lot where the tree stood is generally rather heavy and it was the habit of the railroad employes to set this grass on fire each year and let it sweep across as if it was no one's business.

The tree had started somewhat to decay on the bottom and this caught fire and burned out the inside of the tree next to the ground and the heavy wind of last Friday was too much for it and it blew over. The writer of this article will probably miss it more than anyone else, since he makes two trips down to the railroad with the mail every day except Sunday. The writer also says he remembers this tree ever since he was just a kid and it seems this tree has always been of the same height to him. And he often thought what a story it could tell us about the early days of the village if it could speak. It surely was an old-timer.—Fred J. Richter

"The Sun is MY Time Clock"

... HE IS AMERICA'S GREAT PRODUCTIVE WORKER!

THE average farmer works from sun to sun and then some. Last year farmers of the U. S. A. brought in a bumper crop and now they are being asked to produce even more, so as to feed our armies, our allies and the civilian population. It won't be easy, but with any kind of luck with the weather, the farmers will produce more food in spite of labor and machinery shortages.

Certainly farmers deserve and should receive the fullest cooperation in this gigantic task. In so far as electricity can help, we are making every effort to assist in keeping electrical farm machinery running and in developing every possible source of electrical farm equipment.

We salute the farmers of America who meet the challenge of the elements, working through torrents of rain or scorching sun with the same faithful dispatch of duty—tending livestock and crops with steadfast efficiency. We are proud to be partners with these "unheralded and unsung" heroes in the attempt to do everything possible to aid in the increasing of food production for the nation.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

AMERICA LEADS IN ELECTRIC POWER!

Wartime shortages that have developed in many other necessities fortunately do not apply to the electric power supply... Thanks to the foresight of American business management, this country has available more power than all of the Axis nations combined—five times as much as America itself had during World War I.

HOLLYWOOD

Three Comedienne and Bear Provide Hilarity
Three comedienne and a bear provide hilarity in one of the most unusual sequences ever filmed in a Hollywood studio.

Sherlock Holmes Mystery Thriller
Superlative performances by Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce and Lionel Atwill give a peculiarly distinctive importance to Universal's latest mystery-detective drama.

"China Girl" Exciting Hit
One of the most powerful pictures to come out of the present times will be shown next Wednesday and Thursday at the Hollywood theatre.

Meaning of 'N B' on Letter
'N B' at the bottom of a letter stands for the Latin phrase nota bene, which means 'note well'.

"Yankee Doodle Dandy" tells the life story of America's greatest showman—George M. Cohan. And it tells that story in the grandest way possible—through the songs and plays that he wrote—his vaudeville and legitimate stage career and through the inspiration he gave to others.

Typical of the indomitable Chinese women is Gene Tierney in her portrayal of Miss Young in "China Girl". The film, which stars George Montgomery and Lynn Bari with her, depicts her adventures in the heart of China.

Through rousing action keynotes "China Girl," Gene Tierney's sympathetic portrayal adds to the impressiveness of the film.

Heading the featured cast of the film, which was directed by Henry Hathaway, is Victor McLaglen. Ben Hecht produced and wrote the enthralling screen play.

Pupils Witness Demonstration of Liquid Air

A demonstration was given by Dr. John Sloan in Buchanan High school Tuesday, April 20, on "Liquid Air." His report on liquid air was surprising to most of us. Liquid air is not wet, it is extremely cold. A cake of ice is warm compared to liquid air. The air forms a cloud, and if you throw it in the air it will turn into a vapor. Dr. Sloan forced the air into a clarinet and played a tune. When liquid air was poured on mercury it became three times harder than iron. When placed in the air it became so brittle it broke when it was touched. With a banana frozen in the liquid air Dr. Sloan pounded nails in a board. One experiment was especially interesting. A piece of cotton was placed in a gun, liquid air was dropped down the barrel of the gun with a match, a cork was placed in the muzzle of the gun making a tremendous explosion. Another experiment that proved to be interesting was mixing liquid air with another substance then dropping a match in it. It caused a light much more brilliant than an incendiary bomb. We all enjoyed Dr. Sloan's demonstration on the science of liquid air.

Thumbnaill Portraits

Jan 20, 1925, was a red letter day for the Burruses. This was the day red-headed Donna Vie Burrus was born. She carries the American flag for the B. H. S. band, and she's the sophomore class president. Donna Vie does on hamburgs and chocolate sodas, and her favorite melody is "As Time Goes By." Red seems very prominent in her life because she can usually be seen riding around in a little red coupe.

Students Parade

Thursday morning, April 22, the high school and grade students marched in a parade to the River Street plant of the Clark Equipment Co. The parade was led by the tractor purchased by the students with war stamps, which was followed by the high school band. The tractor was returned to government officials by Mr. Stark. All the students went through the main building of the River Street plant.

Grade School News

Last Thursday morning the first grades presented their grade assembly program. They dramatized the story of "The Easter Bunny." All the children in both rooms had parts as animals, birds, trees, flowers or children. Those having speaking parts were: Beverly Marelli as Spring; Wally Schurmer as Bunny Rabbit; Kathryn Bliss as Chickadee; Shirley Nordin as a wild flower; Dolores Stineback as Robin; Sandra Hanlin as Red Fox; Arthur Brown as Black Bear.

Library News

Some of the books in the school library have been ill-treated. These books and other popular ones are used quite a bit and they will be used quite a bit more, so we should try to keep them in nice shape. Treat the reference books with care, too. There has been a paper shortage and books will not be replaced, so let's take better care of our periodicals and books.

Students Buy Army Tractor!

The Buchanan school students are very proud of the fact that they raised enough money in war stamps and bonds in two days to make possible the purchase of an army tractor. A stand was set up in the hall for the sale of war stamps. Bonds were purchased from Mr. Elbers. Many sophomore students bought bonds which made that class rank first. The tractor was located for several days in the lower hall of the high school building, so that most of the students had a chance to see it.

Robert Letcher, Art Reed, and Bob Koenigshof went to Lansing, Michigan, last week to attend a farm meeting.

The Buchanan scouts are to have another court of honor in May. One week before the court of honor is to be held, they will have a court of review to see whether or not the scouts know all the tests.

Seventh Graders Hold Mock Trial

The seventh grade held a mock trial Friday afternoon in history class.

Captain Percival E. Williams, portrayed by Paul Montgomery, was accused of treason. He was caught stealing ammunition from the Americans and turning it over to the British.

The people who participated were Betty Rifenberg, judge, James Ott, prosecuting attorney; Dwight Helm, defense attorney; Jo Anne Renbarger, bailiff, and nine people on the jury. There were eight witnesses on the stand.

When the jury went out everyone was biting his fingernails. The jury did not agree with each other so the case was dismissed until sometime in the near future.

Dewey Avenue News

The children in Miss Schloeman's kindergarten have planted a garden and put it in the window to watch for the baby plants. We are learning a poem about a baby plant coming from the heart of a seed.

Maria Sebasty brought some frog eggs to Mrs. Heim's first grade. The children are finding it very interesting to watch the eggs hatch, and they are also enjoying the book Wagtail which Mrs. Heim is reading to the class.

Jokes

Seen in the local newspaper: "Owing to the over crowded conditions of our columns, a number of births and deaths are unavoidably postponed this week."

"I paid $100 for that dog. He's part collie and part bull," boasted the dog fancier.
 "Do tell!" exclaimed the visibly unimpressed friend. "Which part of him is bull?"

"Well dad," huffed and puffed the youngster as he swept into the office, "I just ran up to say hello."
 "Too late, son," sighed the old man. "Your mother ran up to say the same thing and took all my change!"

Jokes

The company commander was concerned about the food served to his men. It was his habit to ask the soldiers about the chow and what they had had at the last meal. Of Private George Kitch he asked: "Private Fitch, what did you have for dinner?"
 "Taters, sir."
 The captain turned to a sergeant. "What does he mean by 'taters'?"
 "It's only his bloomin' ignorance, sir," said the sergeant. "He means spuds."

Clock Beetle Well Lighted

The clock beetle of South and Central America has two bright headlights and a "landing light" on its abdomen.

All these are brought by Easter bunny.
 Don't you think that it is funny? What this small hare, indeed they're not rare, could hop around. In one big bound, to all the different little towns? Paul Montgomery

The Easter Bunny

The Easter Bunny was hopping around outside the garden gate. He stayed so very near the fence, hoping not to meet his fate. He's so afraid of hunters you know. And his face he's shy to show.

You should hear the children's cries. When they look into his eyes. They know that Easter is nearly here. And he is one that brings them cheer.

He brings them candy, rabbits, and such. He has soft fur we love to touch. I wouldn't hurt him and neither would you. For to us he is always true.

When we awake on Eastern morn Our Easter clothes we then adorn. We hurry downstairs as fast as we can. And eat the candy as fast as we can.

Then at night we go to our beds, And on the soft pillow we lay our heads. And dream again until next year. When Easter again will bring us cheer.

Betty Rifenberg

The Problem

Easter eggs, all yellow and blue, Or any color that fits your hue.

It isn't a time to dress up for parades. Easter is a time as you've heard said, When our dear Lord arose from the dead. He died for the sins we commonly do, For we're His children and He loves us true. Keep in mind when Easter comes around, Our dear Lord arising from the ground. So commit no sins and do no wrong, And go to church when the bell calls ding dong. By Comme Roti

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

It's Ten Minutes to Midnight!

Wake Up, Americans... Your Country's Most Fateful Hour Is Near

THE hour when the final die is cast, when decisive victory hangs in the balance. The hour which will decide the future of you and your children... a future of joyous freedom or a future of endless serfdom.

Yes, it is ten minutes to midnight. And when the first stroke of that fateful hour begins to sound, it will be too late to throw your weight into the fight.

The time to do that is NOW.

Now, when your dollars can keep the production lines humming. Now, when your dollars can buy the tanks and guns and planes and ships our soldiers need to fight a winning war... the only kind of a war we can afford to fight. Now, while there are still ten minutes before midnight.

Your country is asking you to lend your dollars in greater amount than ever before. It is asking for 13 billions of dollars extra this month... 13 billions for the weapons of war to make sure that it is our side which dictates the peace.

If we do not win, the money you fail to lend now will be worse than useless to you. If we win, as we must, the money you lend now will be returned with interest... for you to spend on the good things of life... for you to enjoy in a free and safe world.

So dig down, Americans. Answer the challenge by buying War Loan securities this month with every idle dollar you have except what you need for the barest necessities of life.

Don't wait for the War Loan Volunteer. Beat the gun by going to your bank, investment dealer, broker, Post Office, or bond booth today.

Have your money in your fist... the fist that can deliver the knockout blow to the Axis. But hurry...

For it is ten minutes to midnight...

The hour that can strike the knell of doom—or the blessed song of freedom.

Your dollars can call the tune.

at present when the siren sounds for the first time. "An important advantage of the new system is that people will have greater protection through the introduction of the 'blue' period to follow all 'red' periods. When a community reveals its conditions under the blue signal, it resumes many of its activities, but is prepared to act quickly if raiders return. Wardens and other civilian defense personnel remain at their posts, and a partial blackout is in effect. "In this transition period, pedestrians can leave shelter, street cars and buses resume service, and other traffic moves again, and industries resume production. All are still on the alert, however, and can act quickly if the 'red' signal sounds again." Capt Leonard warned that no one can guarantee that a community will have enough advance notice of a raid to permit the sounding of the 'blue,' or blackout, signal before bombs start falling. "It is possible the blue signal raiders might appear over a city undetected, and start their attack without warning," he pointed out. "In that case, the first public warning would be the 'red' signal, calling for complete blackout and a half of all normal activities. "In most cases, the sequence of signals will be 'blue,' 'red,' 'blue,' 'white.' But the only thing of which everyone can be sure is that a 'blue' signal will always follow a 'red,' and that there will always be a 'blue' signal before the all-clear is sounded." For its own protection as well as greater freedom of movement during the 'blue' periods, Capt Leonard urged that the public become thoroughly acquainted with the details of the new system. He added that this was advisable also.

in order to be prepared for test trials of the new system which a number of counties will undoubtedly wish to undertake at the earliest practical moment.

First Cellulose Fiber
The Frenchman Chardonnat, using the ideas then recently introduced by the Englishman Swan for producing fine carbon filaments for his new electric globes, turned to the deadly explosive nitrocellulose, and the fantastic combination yielded the first artificial fiber from cellulose material.

Herbs Give Food Zest
Herbs give zest and flavor to many foods that might otherwise be dull, and they help bring changes when the same foods are used frequently. Parsley in the herb border is a good source of vitamins A and C. Chives for onion flavor, thyme and sage for stuffings, basil for tomato soups and sauces, and mint for summer drinks are recommended.
