

CLARKTOR MOVES HERE FROM JACKSON

Bucks Open Season Vs. Mich. City St. Mary's Here Friday Night

Now Here's the Proposition

The Purple Martins Depart. The purple martins, which had been holding nightly sessions and roosts in the C O Clark woods in countless thousands for over a month, left either Sunday or Monday, reports Edward Abele, 421 Moccasin.

As the later end of their stay came, other species of birds arrived increasingly, sharing at least the hotel accommodations afforded by the woods, if not the assembly facilities. Turtle doves had been coming in small flocks for some time, and later small flocks of barn swallows and blackbirds were coming. These did not seem to be regarded as intruders. The purple martins, unlike many other of the feathered species and another unfeathered species of birds we will not identify, are very peaceable and friendly and get along well with everyone that wants to get along with them.

In the spring the purple martins will return in small groups of 20 or so and will make the rounds in groups inspecting bird houses or other home accommodations. The members of the group fit in and out of the bird houses examining them, with endless chatter, then leaving a body for some where else. Later a pair will appear at the individual birdhouse and take over peaceably.

If only the human race could get along like that!

Side-Road Seats At Ancient Car Race

Among the few Buchananites that were out on M-60 to see the race of antique cars sponsored by the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry and Popular Science Magazine, go by Monday afternoon were Mr and Mrs. Everett Watson and son, Gene.

The Watsons had taken Gene to see the Chicago museum some time before and he had been particularly interested in the 1913 Stanley Steamer and the 1911 Stoddard Dayton gasoline auto which are housed there. After Mrs Watson was released from her teaching job at the Thompson school Monday she called the Niles police station "A flash had just come in by two-way radio that the two cars were passing Dayton at that time. Mr. Watson was home and they picked up Gene and some other school boys and sped south over interstates between the Niles Buchanan road and M-60, reaching the latter just as the two cars came into sight, at 4:10 p.m. The Steamer was driven by Jack Brause, 46, and the Stoddard by Rube DeLaunty, 70. The two cars were traveling close together at the dizzy rate of about twenty miles an hour, a cloud of steam enveloping the underside of the Stanley Steamer. In the Stoddard with DeLaunty was Miss Eleanor Hill, museum publicity secretary attired in a costume of 1910.

The two drivers are in charge of the old auto section of the Chicago Museum. DeLaunty has serviced cars 54 years, and Brause is a former vice president of the Stanley Steamer company. Both have to make their own repairs, but a modern station wagon loaded with parts accompanies them. The Watsons and their retinue got a personal response from the cars as they went by.

The cars are racing each other from Chicago to New York City. The contest is reported to have owed its start to a running controversy between the two drivers over the relative efficiency of steam and gasoline for auto propulsion. This controversy was hot in the first two decades of the 1900's, but DeLaunty and Brause still maintain the feud. The Stanley Steamer established a record of 127 miles an hour in 1906, set a record for cars of less than 30 horsepower. It is still one of the fastest of cars on the get-away.

Both drivers are confident of victory and occasionally rehearse the "victory speeches" each expects to make following their arrival in New York City.

Buchanan Group At Golden Wedding Of

Mr. Mrs. Jas. Wray

A group from Buchanan attended a dinner on Sept. 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wray at Burlington, Mich., the event honoring the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Wray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wray. Fifty-one guests attended from Detroit, Battle Creek and various places in Berrien County. The honored couple now live in Burlington, but were residents of the Buchanan community many years.

Blue Blazers From Lake End Believed Tough

Son Of Coach Leahy Of Notre Dame Plays End, On Visiting Team

The football season at Buchanan's Memorial Field opens with a bang this Friday night when St. Mary's high school of Michigan City, test their sweeping attack against the Bucks. St. Mary's boasts a veteran team with a couple of fleet backs in left-half Jim Albano and right-half Capt Bob Gurse. The passing of quarterback Tom Scholl will keep the Buchanan secondary on their toes and the off-tackle slants and line bucks of fullback Dick Wolfe will give the Bucks

The aggressive line play and sharp tackling of the Blue Blazers was a decisive factor in their defeat of a bigger and more rugged North Judson foe last Friday night. With a game already under their belt and a week for Coach Conners to sharpen their attack they should be a formidable foe for the Millermen Coach William Conners. The former Notre Dame player and the Leahy influence is certainly noticeable in their smooth functioning T-formation and variety of attack. A slighter worth noting is that Frank Leahy, Jr., son of the Notre Dame coach, is a quarterback on the St. Mary's team and will be wearing No. 11.

The coach has not lost any time in perfecting his pass defense but it is worried that the lack of experience may be costly. You can be sure that his attack is being sharpened and the boys may even uncover some new twists for the fans Friday night. Line Coach Burkett has been stressing the defensive line play designed to stop St. Mary's, and claims at all times the non-injury bugaboo may keep several possible starters on the sidelines and of course this means that some berths will have to be filled by boys not yet "tried by fire".

Co-Captain Jerry Pierce, Buck fullback, will have to lead his team from the bench unless his injuries improve, but with field general Jim Burkett and Lowell Gable, halfbacks. Gene Matas, Dave Best, Dick Beistle, Dale Schrag, Gene Lomax, Lester Sebasty, Charles Nichols, plus fullback Gordon Smith, will carry on in the best Buchanan tradition, win, lose or draw. Smith also has been on the injured list so it may mean Coach Miller will have to reach down and unwrap a new man for the vital fullback spot.

Co-Captain Phil Pennell will have a large order keeping his fellow linemen on the ball from his tackle position. Guards Doyle, Vergon, and Harold Pendly, tackles Jack Schultz and Don Clark, ends Bob Rotzien, Ted Fitch and George Vincent and center Harold Forburger, are the leading contenders for the positions. Other linemen likely to see action are Allen Canfield, guard Billy Karplinski and Bob Scroggins, who is also on the injured list, ends John Lockyer, John Rothfuchs and Gordon Cease, plus some 200 pounds that are getting anxious to see some action, guard Gene Rose and tackles Carl Shagren, Harold Gaul and Norm Shumake.

Bucks fans are fortunate this year in that we have five home games instead of the usual four, and an improved lighting system has been installed. The game starts promptly at 7:30. Season tickets may be purchased at Riley's, Wisner's, and Shanahan's, or at the high school office. Adults, $4, students, $2, for seats in permanent stands for the five home games.

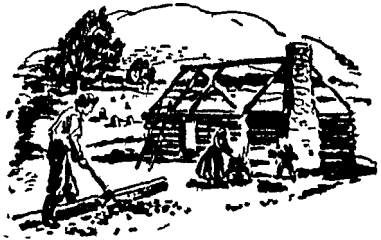

Police Arrest 3 On Vagrancy Charge

The Buchanan police arrested two men, William Crane and William Botchick, in Athletic Field at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, enjoying a bottle of wine and a lunch of rolls. They are known to have been begging in town previously. They appeared before Judge Lamb, receiving a fine of $5 and costs of $4.30 each for vagrancy.

The local police received a call from Berrien street at 10:20 p.m. Thursday, stating that man was loitering in a back yard. They went to the place and found Justin Jose Sindil, ransacking a garbage can for apples to eat. He was taken before Judge Lamb and was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail for vagrancy. He said that he had been released that morning from a Detroit jail where he had served a 45-day sentence.

The Story of Buchanan

The Saga Of Survey

(3rd Installment)

Last week we left the surveying crew enroute to the job, walking and carrying their surveying equipment and the wallets containing their lunches.

They had a "remnant job", because the area which now surrounds Buchanan was a left-over Indian reservation, the last reserved to them in this part of Michigan. In the course of the survey of large areas, one crew always ran the township lines and another ran the section lines inside the township later. For the purposes of this description, we will assume one crew did both. We learned in the past week that the deputy surveyors took the job on contract, receiving $3 per mile on each line.

As many readers may know, the numbering system for the 36 sections in a township began at the northeast corner, numbering 1 to 6 across the north side, then numbering back from west to east, then reversing west for the third row and so forth. Section No. 1 was always in the northeast corner.

The survey crew starts at the northeast corner and surveys the eastern boundary. The measuring chains are four rods, or 66 feet long. The axemen precede, opening up a line of vision and passage, and then the surveyors and chainmen run the line while the axemen follow blazing the marks on the witness trees, which preserve the identification of the lines. Trees immediately by the lines are blazed on north and south sides. "Blazing" meant chipping and then stripping off the bark on a small patch of the tree trunk.

At the end of the first 80 rods, they mark the quarter mile, from which the line for interior measure must be run. An axeman cuts a stake about 4 feet long and 3 or 4 inches in diameter, sharpened at the bottom and latched on both sides at the top. One of the chainmen takes a marking tool and inscribes "1-S" meaning "quarter stake" on the flat sides. The surveyor then sets his instrument at the stake and selects two prominent trees near the stake, preferably on the west or inside the township to be located. Then the axeman blaze a line across each tree a foot from the ground and cut a notch through the blaze. Then they blaze about a foot square of bark from each tree 4 or 5 feet from the ground, at a point on the tree facing the stake. On the lower blaze the chainmen mark "E", meaning "bearing tree", and on the upper 1/4 S, as on the stake. The surveyor takes the direction of each tree by compass, measures its distance from the stake, and the kind and size of each tree and marks the information in his field book.

When they reach the 320-rod or first mile mark, the axeman cuts a stake before, but trims the top square, with four faces. The stake is set with its four corners pointing north, east, south, and west. On the north corner he cuts one small notch and on the south five notches, to show that it stands 1 mile from the north line of the township and 5 miles from the south line. Two witness trees are selected northwest and southwest of the stake and a patch of bark blazed from the northwest tree, on which is inscribed, in the case of Buchanan township "S1, T13, R15W" interpreted this means: "Section 1, Township 7 South, Range 15 West." That is: Section 1 of Township No. 7 south of the Base Line and in the 15th row of Townships west of the Principal Meridian.

The tree to the southwest is blazed and inscribed: "S12, T7, R15W" meaning Sec. 12, and so forth.

For the orderly and intelligible survey over a wide area being opened for settlement, east-and-west and north-and-south lines of starting were necessary. They were known as Base Lines and Principal Meridians. Settlements following the lines of easier or

Emanuel Conrad Called By Death At Age 73 Years

Earlier travel had long before swept westward through Ohio, Indiana, and southern Illinois, leaving the Lower Peninsula a bayou of empty wilderness to the north. So when the Michigan country was finally settled, an independent baseline and principal meridian were set up and selected to roughly divide the territory into two halves of equal parts that lower half of the Lower Peninsula roughly south of an east-and-west line running across just north of the present locations of Plint and Grand Rapids. The definite east-and-west point of beginning selected was Longitude 84°, 22'

Resident Of Buchanan Dist. All Of Life; Long Known As A Leading Farmer

Emanuel Conrad, 73, a native and resident of the Buchanan district during his entire lifetime, died in Pawling hospital at 1:30 a.m. Thursday after an illness of several months. He had been a patient at the hospital since the first of the week.

He was born Oct. 20, 1877, the son of Andrew G. and Lydia Conrad. His birthplace was the farm now owned and occupied by Charles O. Day in the Wagner district. He lived there until he was married. He was married May 24, 1903, in St. Joseph. They lived many years on the farm owned now by R. C. Lytle, adjoining the city limits of Buchanan on the northwest.

Their first home there, near the present end of Chippewa street, was destroyed by fire and they rebuilt in the present site of the Lytle home. For many years Mr. Conrad was known as an extensive and successful potato grower and also an extensive dairy farmer.

He sold the farm to Mr. Lytle in 1943 and moved to the present home at 203 North Oak. For several years, until ill health obliged his retirement, he followed the trade of carpenter.

He is survived by his wife; by two daughters, Mrs. Lise McLaughlin of Niles and Mrs. Ruby Haas of Cleveland, O., by a son, Ward Conrad of Niles; by four sisters, Mrs. Fernando Tyson, Mrs. Gertrude Monroe and Mrs. Rita Kaiser, all of Niles, and Miss Matilda Conrad of Chicago, by one brother, Charles Conrad of Howard township, west of Niles; by seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Swan Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday with James O. Greenwood, pastor of the Church of Christ, in charge. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Community Is Urged To Attend

William Manspeaker, County Chairman, To Explain Local Plans

Plans are being completed by Mrs. A. Preston Sprague and her committee, for a city-wide civilian defense rally, which will be staged in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 19.

All men and women of the Buchanan community are urged to attend this rally and learn first hand how they can do their part in the civilian defense program, which is the only answer to the threat of the atom bomb against our lives and homes. Governor Millard Caldwell, Federal Civil Defense Administrator, has stated "We cannot win a war with Civil Defense, but we can quickly lose the next war without it."

Chuck Gabbart Shot Thru Chest In Korean Battle

Now Recovering On Hospital Ship In Harbor Of Pusan

Mr and Mrs Ora Gabbart, 601 South Oak street, received a letter the first of the week from their son, Cpl Charles W. Gabbart, revealing that he is in a hospital ship in the harbor of Pusan receiving treatment for a gunshot wound through the chest received Aug. 31.

The letter follows:

"Well, just a couple of lines to say hello and let you know I am still okay and hope that the rest of you are the same I am in 'E' company, 8th Infantry, 2nd Division.

I want to tell you something but don't be getting all worried and excited about it I had been in 'E' company for about five days and four nights it was on Aug. 31, about 7 in the evening. We were trying to take a hill. We went about three-fourths of the way up when the North Koreans opened up on us from both sides and the front, so that we had to back down the hill again.

We were getting as many wounded as we could off before we left the hill. After all the wounded were taken care of, we started backing off ourselves. We had gone about 150 yards down when I got hit by a burp gun bullet in the right chest. It went all the way through, coming out the right side of my back.

I guess that was one time God was with me, because I prayed to Him to bring me off the hill alive. They took me to the 8225 hospital and then flew me to Seoul and ever since in the USS Repose hospital ship, docked in the harbor. I just don't worry because I have been here four days and four nights and I am getting up and walking around already. The reason I am not giving this address is that in a week or so I'll be leaving for the 2nd again.

Your son,
Chuck

Cpl Gabbart had reenlisted after three years service in the Military Police, serving in Korea since the first of the year. He had received notice in the Stars and Stripes as a member of a small group detailed to recover a small isolated unit of the Marines trapped in North Korea in January, making the rescue and carrying off the wounded on sleds.

He reenlisted at the end of the first three years about Feb. 1, and then asked for a transfer to the infantry, the transfer being made shortly before he was wounded.

STUDY THE ZONING ORDINANCE

The second and final public hearing on the new zoning ordinance for Buchanan, recently completed by the City Planning Commission, will be held Monday evening, Oct. 15, at 8 p.m. in the city commission room on the second floor of the city hall.

During the weeks intervening between now and Oct. 15 the Record will print a number of articles attempting to explain as clearly as possible the main provisions of the proposed ordinance, the thinking behind those provisions, the reasons why they were so drawn, and their impact on you.

The Planning Commission has spent over a year in drafting the ordinance. To the best of their ability they have applied the tested and approved zoning practice of many other cities to the situation in Buchanan.

The members of the Planning Commission urgently ask that the citizens of Buchanan study this ordinance, whether in the original text available at the city hall or in the interpretative articles to come, or both. They then ask that you, the citizens of Buchanan, come to that meeting if you have any objections or any doubts, or if you have neither but wish to know more clearly what it is all about.

The City Planning Commission was appointed according to the provision of the commission-manager charter approved by the electors of Buchanan. They were delegated to draw an ordinance which would control to the extent necessary the orderly and logical development of residential, business and industrial sections of Buchanan, with the best interests of the whole city in mind.

It is of course the desire of the Planning Commission that when the ordinance is finally enacted there shall be as little revision as possible though after that time revisions and exceptions may be made by a Board of Appeal. It will be passed on by the city commission at a meeting following the second public hearing, either its entirety or as amended, by them.

Your attendance at the final hearing will be of real aid, whether in the discovery of real objections, or in a clarification of understanding where more information clears away objections.

Enrollment Up 54 In Buchanan School 1st Week

Larger 5th, 6th And 7th Grades Account For Growth

Total enrollment in the Buchanan schools as of Tuesday morning was 1,418 or 54 over the 1,364 enrollment of 1950-51. This entire increase is more than accounted for by the larger enrollment of the 5th, 6th and 7th grades, reflecting the higher birth rates during the years just preceding and during the first years of World War II.

The comparative enrollment by grades was as follows:

Grade	1950-1951	1951-1952
Kindergarten	122	125
Grade 1	122	114
Grade 2	124	123
Grade 3	125	118
Grade 4	129	122
Grade 5	108	126
Grade 6	92	105
Total	822	842

Grade 8	95	98
Grade 9	103	106
Grade 10	94	98

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Place of Galveston, Texas, accompanied by Ida Strunk here, visited last Wednesday at the Frank Strunk home in Niles and also called at the county hospital at Berrien Center to see George Martin. George hasn't seemed to show very much improvement.

The reunion of former pupils and teachers and friends of the Currier school district, held last Sunday at the Lelia and Bill Rozelle home, was attended by a nice crowd. Thirty-six being there. The weather was ideal for the occasion, making it a success. George Arnold will soon have completed a great improvement of the property west of his home. Where once nothing but weeds grew, is now a nice lawn with trees and shrubbery recently set out.

Ed and Bertha Richter seem to be the only ones eligible from here to attend the reunion of the former pupils of the Currier school last Sunday. Mrs. Richter attended the school when her home was west of Mt. Zion cemetery many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Place, accompanied by Ida Strunk, mother of Mrs. Place, left Monday morning for Galveston, Texas, after spending two weeks here with Mrs. Strunk. Mrs. Strunk expects to stay there over the winter. So long, Ida, a happy return next Spring.

Test New Subsoil Drainer Tomorrow North Of Galien

A new farm implement, called the "Soil Saver", designed and built to help control soil erosion and water run-off will be demonstrated under the auspices of the Galien River Soil District at 2 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14. In case the unusual happens and we have fair weather again, this demonstration will be held at the Frank Munsey and Clarence Wirth farms, which are 2 1/2 miles north of M-60 at Galien, and 3 1/2 miles west, or 3 miles south of New Troy.

The possibility of using the type of equipment on fields which have a hardpan layer below plow depth makes it worth demonstrating and seeing as this is one of our soil management problems.

Four such demonstrations are being carried on in Michigan this fall. The Soil Saver was invented by a farmer in the state of Washington, and has come into considerable use there. It is designed with a self-scouring spinner that breaks up the hard pan and allows surface water to drain through and collect underneath. This channel through the hardpan is filled with pulverized dirt that collects water like a sponge. It is reported to stop run-off even during torrential summer rains.

Franklin H. Coward Ends 2-Wk. Course Univ. Of Wisconsin

Madison, Wis.—Franklin H. Coward, Union State Bank, Buchanan, Mich., was among the 649 students from 31 states who have just completed a two-week residence session at the School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin here.

The school, sponsored by the Central States Conference consisting of the bankers associations of 16 states, requires residence attendance for two weeks each year for three years for graduation. A total of 208 seniors from 23 states received their diplomas at the school's recent 1951 graduation exercises.

Attendance at the 1951 School of Banking enabled its students at Wisconsin's State University not only to meet a large number of bankers from all over the country, but they also had the opportunity of hearing the school's distinguished lecturers who are recognized authorities in banking, economics, law and industrial, agricultural and financial problems, typified by such men as Sumner H. Slichter, professor of economics at Harvard University; Oliver S. Powell, member of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; H. Earl Cook, director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.; Willis Gale, president of the Commonwealth Edison Co., and J. Roy Blough, member of the Council of Economic Advisers to the President of the United States.

Planted 37 Years Ago

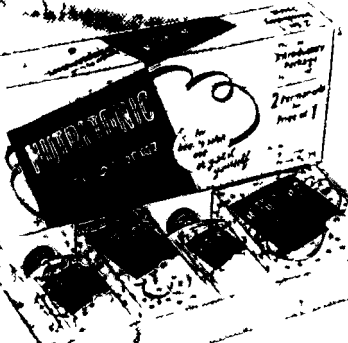

The first red pine pulpwood thinning ever made in a state forest has started in Crawford county, marking a significant milestone in Michigan reforestation history. This Higgins Lake forest stand was planted in 1914, about the time the state's reforestation of denuded acreage began gaining momentum. Since 1902 some 206,000,000 mainly red, white and jack pine have been planted in state forests. First actual cutting of planted trees of any type started with jack pine in the Alpena state forest seven years ago. Here, Frank Allen and son, Roscomon, use horse and drag rather than tractor for more efficient harvesting of an early, closely spaced plantation.

Wagner School Will Vote On Room Addition

Gerald Weaver left this week for Olivet, Mich. He is in his senior year in Olivet College there. A daughter, Deborah Anne, was born Sept. 3, in Lansing, to Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Longworth, Jr. Mr. Longworth is now employed in Buchanan and the family expects to move into their new home here at an early date. Cleon Hathaway returned home from Pawating hospital last Saturday. Dr. Geraldine Stevens has returned to her home office in the Hotel Buchanan after vacationing through the summer months. Mrs. Arthur Walter returned last week from a 10-day vacation in Plymouth, Mich. She visited with her uncle, Matt Powell, his family and friends in the vicinity. Her trip included cruising on the bay of Lake Huron at Sebewaing, on a yacht owned and captained by her cousin, Russell Powell. The Ray Juhnle have named their new daughter, Linda Kay. Their address was incorrect in last week's Record. They live in Manchester, N. H., and not Manchester, N. Y. Mrs. Ada Armbruster, 108 W. Third street, has received word that her aunt, Mrs. E. Ellis, died Monday morning, Sept. 10, in Racine, Wis., at the age of 85. She had been a visitor with Mrs. Armbruster and James A. Glover during the past summer. Carl Pierce left Monday for Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., to visit Michael Czolozina, who had been his roommate during the past year at San Diego State College, Calif. Mrs. E. Neidinger, Buchanan Rt. 1, underwent a major operation in Pawating hospital Monday. On the preceding Sunday she had been honored at a dinner on her birthday by her daughter, Mrs. Martin Wagner, Chippewa street. Mrs. Hannah Katka and daughter, Helen, of South Bend, were guests of Mrs. John Zemola, Saturday. Mrs. Dorothy Irvin is visiting in Minneapolis, Minn., with her son, John Irvin, and his family. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwartz are in Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Schwartz is going through the Mayo clinic. Mrs. Retta Preston is in Pawating hospital for medical attention.

75 Pupils Now Divided In 2 Groups For Morning And Afternoon Sessions

Bids will be opened next Monday evening by the school board of the Wagner school district for the construction of an addition to the school, the same size as the original school, plus added improvements. The building is to be erected in front of the present structure, each unit providing a separate school room. Toilets will be installed in the middle between the two rooms, and an oil furnace will be installed in a separate fire-proof structure on the north side and adjoining. When the bids are opened and the cost determined it will be necessary to hold a special school election to vote on the millage required. The proposed for the construction of the added room is being brought to a vote because the present attendance of 75 pupils is too great for the capacity of the present single room, and also for one teacher to handle. Two teachers have been employed and the grades have been divided for morning and afternoon half-day sessions. Mrs. Harold Carlson teaches 49 pupils in the beginners class and grades 1, 2 and 3 from 8 a. m. to noon. These classes are then dismissed and Mrs. Ivan Ferguson teaches 26 pupils in the five upper grades, 4 to 8 inclusive, from 12:15 to 4:30 p. m. This procedure had been determined on when the Buchanan schools refused to receive the 6th, 7th and 8th, because of the fact that the city schools cannot accommodate any more 6th grade pupils. The city schools would have accepted the 7th and 8th. All of the grades up to and including the fifth attending the Wagner school have 12 or more pupils. The great majority come from the old established farms, many being now occupied by young people with children of school age.

41 Attend Annual Penwell Reunion

Forty-one members of the Penwell family attended the 32nd annual reunion, held Sunday in the Remonger grove near Galien, at which Mrs. Luella Penwell, who will be 92 years old Sept. 22, was honored. Mrs. Penwell, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Hamilton, 305 Sylvan avenue, is the oldest member of the clan. She is in good health and is very active. She enjoys to help with the sewing and cooking. Born in Wells county, Indiana, the daughter of Smith and Eunice Ludlum, the oldest of a family of eight children of whom only three are living. She married Landon Penwell of Galien in 1880. He died in 1930. Mrs. Penwell has three children living, Clyde Penwell of Buchanan, Mrs. Roy Mitchell of New Carlisle, and Mrs. Hamilton. She has six grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild, most of whom were present at the re-

Harvest Meeting Homecoming Sept. 16 At Church Brethren

A harvest meeting and homecoming will be held at the Church of the Brethren, Sunday, Sept. 16. This will be an all-day meeting, starting with the Sunday school at 10 a. m. Preaching services will be at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. with Brother G. Grader of the Medical Welfare Home, Mexico, Ind., giving the messages. Brother Grader, now retired, served as pastor of the local church in 1931. A potluck dinner will be served in the church parlors at 6 p. m. Old friends and new friends also are invited to attend. In 1901, New York became the first state to license automobiles, and collected $300 in fees.

Coach Miller Awards Jr. Softball Trophy To Methodist Team

Sunday morning, Coach Lester Miller awarded the Junior Softball Trophy to the team of the First Methodist Sunday school. He called the team to the altar of the church and told them that it was their sportsmanship and spirit which won for them the trophy this year. The championship team was composed of the following boys: Bob Cramer, David Bohl, Martin Eddy, Joe Boyer, Jimmie Dall, Tommy Boyer, Billy Marrs, Lynn Eddy, Bob Baker, Melvin Eyanoff, Billy Bowers, Jimmie Thomas, Donald Fernalt, Ronnie Morris and Ronald Fernalt. The church was filled to overflowing in honor of the team and the families of the players were especially invited guests. They, with the boys, filled the West section of the auditorium. Coach Miller gave the beautiful trophy to the four boys who graduated from the team this year, Bob Cramer, David Bohl, Martin Eddy, Joe Boyer. They turn presented it to their teacher, Mr. L. M. Converse, who placed it beside the first trophy in the display case. After the service a picture was taken of the team, their teacher, and the pastor.

High School Boy Fails To Report Injury Accident

Motorists Asked To Use Care In Picking Up Elderly Pedestrians At noon yesterday (Wednesday) an elderly man, age 76, who had wandered away Tuesday morning from Resthaven at Clear Lake Woods, was still missing. This man is a patient in the mental classification at Resthaven. He has wandered away several times, and apparently receives rides from motorists. A week ago Sunday he left early in the morning by cutting the screen from an upstairs porch door and leaping into evergreens below. He was finally recovered by state police at the Apple Orchard Inn near New Buffalo, after a day-long search by state and county officers. He escaped during the busy breakfast hour at Resthaven yesterday morning, and was not missed for 30 minutes. He is about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, has sharp features, is toothless and tends to have mouth open. He is wearing a straw hat, grey trousers, and a short green coat. Motorists will be conferring a benefit on both escaped patients and on the officers of the law if they will be careful about picking up elderly patients walking along roads, first making sure where they are from. Much very valuable time has been and is now being spent by bus police in search for this man. If you have seen him please report at any hour, day or night, to Resthaven, Tel 1310, Buchanan. There is real danger for the patient himself from highway traffic if possible inclement weather.

7-Year-Old Runs Stop Sign; H.S. Student Hits Bike, Makes No Report

It seems that the students of the Buchanan schools of both grade and high school need some serious instruction in traffic laws. George Ailsworth, age 7, had ridden his bicycle down Chicago street from the high school, and rode out into Oak street without observing the stop sign. A 16-year-old high school student was driving north on Oak street and hit the rear wheel of the bicycle, knocking both bicycle and boy over against the curb opposite the Lennox grocery. The high school student stopped his car, helped the boy straighten up his bicycle, and judging that he was not hurt, went on. Later the police were called and told that a driver had hit a boy on a bicycle and had gone on. The police secured the license number of the car from a witness and summoned the student on the charge of not reporting an accident. The boy had not been seriously hurt, but had received a head contusion and lacerations of one elbow and bruises of both knees. The bicycle was badly damaged. The high school student was ordered to appear before Judge Hatfield of the probate court on a charge of not reporting an injury accident. The law requires reporting an accident, whether there is injury or not. Record want-ads pay.

New Type Bulbs Used To Light Memorial Field

Clark Expert Advises Bulbs With Built-In Reflectors Save 30% Light Loss New light bulbs are being installed at the gridiron on Memorial Field, on the advice of George Deming, chief electrical engineer of the Clark Equipment company. Deming made the suggestion after the improved bulbs had been adopted for use in the parking lots of the Clark Equipment company plant. The bulbs have built-in reflectors, inside the bulbs themselves, replacing the separate bulbs and reflectors formerly used. The company had found that deterioration of the glazed surface of the separate reflectors, caused by continual exposure to the weather, resulted in a continually diminishing supply of light, averaging about 30% loss. The Memorial Field management secured the new bulbs through the Clark Equipment company and they are being installed for the first game with Michigan, City here, Friday night, Sept. 14.

Story Of Buchanan (Continued from Page 1) minutes and 24 seconds west of Greenwich, Eng. This was the line extending directly north of the fingerpost then standing on the grounds of Fort Defiance, a stronghold between Fort Wayne and Toledo. The fort is now gone but around its original location stands the present small city of Defiance, Ohio. This line ran north through Michigan along the eastern city limits of Jackson, and only a few miles east of the present city of Lansing. The base line selected was Latitude 46°, 24 minutes and 30 seconds north of the equator. The townships running north and south to the east and west of the Principal Meridian were known as "ranges". Within these ranges the townships were numbered north and south. Thus the identification of Buchanan township as Township 7 South, Range 18 West, meant that the north line of the township was indicated as 36 miles south of the northern boundary of Van Buren county and the east line is 17 townships width or 102 miles west of the eastern limits of Jackson. They then return to the point of starting and work until they have completed the frame enclosing the township. Then work is begun on the inner section lines, starting at the corners of Secs 35 and 36 on the southern township line, again opposite the Edgewood and Chubb farms, and start north on what is now Portage Road. But they do not swing around the hill, as the road does now, but come straight over and down the hillside north. Here they cannot measure with the chain on the ground, but must fold it strictly horizontal, doubling the chain once or even twice to one rod length, so that the lead man can hold his end high enough to keep it horizontal. One difficulty was always encountered. The surveyors in the township and section lines straight north and south, but the Principal Meridians constantly converged toward the North Pole. The convergence meant about 40 feet in six miles. The deputy surveyor had to allow on one side for this deficiency, so that there were always sections and subdivisions of settlements short of their full acreage.

National Business Women's Week To Be Observed Sept. 24-29

The purpose of National Business Women's Week, Sept. 24-29, is to dramatize women's contribution to the economic, social and political life of the community. The theme for National Business Women's Week for this year is "Full Partnership for the 400 Ahead."

National Business Women's Week has become a nationwide institution. It is observed each fall and offers an opportunity to clubs, in launching their year's work for the new club year, to relate it to the community and arouse public interest in Federation objectives.

The idea of National Business Women's Week was conceived by Miss Emma Dot Partridge, executive director of the National Federation from 1924 to 1927, to call attention to the achievements of women in business and the professions and to give the community at large an opportunity to become acquainted with the program of the National Federation. The first annual observance was held April 15 to April 22, 1928.

Teachers Meet In Conference And School Workshop

Educators From Western Michigan College Lead Discussion And Study Groups

The highlights of the annual pre-school conference for Buchanan teachers this year consisted of general and departmental meetings on Tuesday after a welcome to all the faculty by Superintendent Harold C. Stark and Faculty Club President William C. Runkewich.

The program for Wednesday was two-fold, a Workshop Conference at both high school and elementary levels was conducted by a group from W. M. C. Drs. Albert Becker and Charles Brown of the Speech Department, and Dr. Arthur Mausche, professor of Education, all of Western Michigan College, conducted session on "How The Teachers and Curriculum Can Help the Student in Achieving Satisfactory Social Adjustment."

Natural curiosity, self-realization and cooperation should replace methods based on fear competition. Subjects should be taught on a problem-solving basis where the information on skills required will become more meaningful. Teachers must be more alert to the student's problems. Misbehavior is usually a symptom of some maladjustment and the teachers should get to the source of the difficulty and then help the student to resolve it.

The teacher must know more about the student, his background and home life, understand the student's behavior. More individual counseling must be done to help the student acquire insight into his problem and help him solve them. If future educational vocational plans are developed by the student with his counselor early in high school, many problems are avoided and school life is far more purposeful for the student. The school and teacher should work more closely with others of the community such as the families, churches, the Probate court, social agencies, part-time employers, etc., to get a better understanding of the student. Extra-curricular activities are valuable in that they give the student the feeling that he belongs and gives him recognition and helps to build a well-adjusted personality. The leader of any school organization should be a person, not necessarily most popular but one who can benefit the group. Guidance by both faculty and parents is necessary. The teacher may contact the student and encourage him to enter these activities but also limit the number in which he may participate. In many instances, the student and teacher get to know each other much better, and discipline cases may be easily solved.

The extra-curricular activities help to build a healthy boy-girl relationship. The Physical Education directors in this school have done much to encourage participation in dancing, bowling, swimming.

The elementary teachers met at Moccasin school with Dr. James H. Griggs of the Teachers' Education department of Western Michigan College. The conference topic discussed was "A Day With Reading" in which the best techniques and programs were analyzed and the effect of failure to achieve in reading on the total adjustment of the child.

The day was concluded with a smorgasbord dinner at the country club given by the faculty and their mates. This afforded an opportunity for the teachers and the school board to get better acquainted.

This was the school year at Buchanan Public Schools launched and a very successful year is anticipated by all.

On Emergency Action During Civil Defense

Article 1: Preventing Death Through Loss of Blood

(This is the first in a series of five articles dealing with emergency action to save lives. The series was prepared by the Michigan Office of Civil Defense from approved sources. Civil Defense officials emphasized that the measures outlined in this series are minimum actions that an untrained person can take to sustain life until medical treatment can be procured. The series is not designed as a substitute for First Aid training. Widespread knowledge of these fundamental measures may save thousands of lives should we enter an atomic war.)

The knowledge is equally useful in saving life in any civilian accident. Readers are urged to clip, study, and save each article as it appears. The five articles cover Preventing Death Through Loss of Blood, Emergency Treatment for Burns, Emergency Treatment for Broken Bones, Emergency Care for Shock and Suffocation, and Moving Injured People.)

In accidental injuries, a victim

often unnecessarily bleeds to death before medical help arrives. If you are called upon to administer First Aid to an accident victim, even if you are untrained, you may be able to prevent death from bleeding. Be sure to make the victim comfortable. Then attempt to stop the flow of blood.

Trained first-aiders know that pressure applied to certain veins and arteries, called "Pressure Points" is the best way to stop bleeding. If you do not know this method, do not try to use it. These are the rules to follow:

1. Apply a clean pad of cloth directly to the wound. Band it firmly in place. If bleeding does not stop, apply more pads and more pressure.
2. Do not use tourniquets unless you know how. Improperly applied tourniquets do great damage to nerves and tissues.
3. For an abdominal wound, cover with a clean damp cloth. Do not feed the patient.

4. For chest wounds, cover with a dry pad of cloth, to prevent air from being sucked in through the wound.

The important thing in such cases is to stop the loss of blood as quickly as possible. Direct methods such as those described above will often turn the trick. They may not be the best methods, but they are the only methods an untrained person should use. Red Cross First Aid training courses give a more intensive view of this important phase of action in emergencies. Every adult American should take time to enroll in a Red Cross First Aid course.

(The second article will deal with Emergency Treatment for Burns.)

EXPERIMENT STATION TESTS PROVE PAVED BARNYARD INCREASES PROFITS

A paved lot or feeding floor increases farm profits. Tests at two midwestern state agricultural experiment stations have shown the dollar and cents value of paved lots for the cattle feeder.

In one test, a group of steers in an unpaved lot actually lost weight over a 26-day period sloshing around in the mud. Not only did each animal weigh less after the muddy spell, but each ran up a $10 feed bill.

In the other test, the paved feeding lot more than paid for itself the first year in reduced labor costs, saving of manure, added gains in beef poundage and gains in hogs following the steers.

Experience of thousands of farmers who have laid down concrete feeding floors bears out these tests. Paved lots and floors mean less wasted feed, more gains. Cattle on concrete don't tramp feed in the mud. They don't use up all their energy sloshing around in deep muck. Hogs following cattle saved manure. Valuable manure does not leach away - losing its precious nitrogen content. The undown soil of many farms has been restored to first-class condition by application of manure saved from the paved feeding lots.

Thousands of dairymen have paved their barnyards. Paved yards mean less labor needed for washing the cows before milking. The cows get more exercise and stay healthier - injury from slipping is reduced.

How to Make Floor

For each head of cattle, 30 to 40 sq. ft. of floor is recommended, for each hog, 10 to 15 sq ft

Floors are usually made about 4 in. thick except where driven over by heavy trucks; then they are made 6 in. thick

Make floors in sections 10 ft square in the way you can lay the pavement as time allows. Always next to the barn and around feed bunks are usually laid first. Use 2x4's for the side forms when the floor is 4 in. thick, 2x6's when the floor is 6 in. thick.

Make a mushy mix in proportion of 1 sack portland cement, 2 1/2 cu. ft. sand, 3 cu. ft. of gravel or crushed rock, and about 5 gal. of water. Add more sand and gravel if mix is soupy or sloppy - cut down on sand or gravel if mix is too thick.

Place full thickness of the floor in one operation. Level it as you lay concrete flush with the top of the guide forms with a 2x4 about 12 ft. long. When the concrete becomes quite stiff finish with a wooden float. This gives the floor a gritty nonskid surface.

As soon as the concrete hardens, cover it with straw or earth and keep it moist for about 5 days by sprinkling.

It takes about 7 1/2 sacks of portland cement, 3/4 cu. yd. of sand, and 1 cu. yd. of gravel or crushed rock to build 100 sq. ft. of floor 4 in. thick.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Easy Makes His "Cat" Tread Lightly

Driving home on Three Ponds Road yesterday, I was flagged down by Easy Roberts' boy Skeeter "Take it slow," he advised, "Dad's crossing this road with our tractor, just beyond the bend"

Around the curve I saw why Skeeter stopped me. Easy had laid two rows of old truck tires across the road, and was driving his new "Cat" tractor over them!

"More trouble this way," Easy explains, "but it does keep those tank tracks from tearing up the asphalt when I have to cross over to our other fields. After all, the roads belong to all of us—and I guess I'd get mad if someone else chewed them up."

From where I sit, Easy is my kind of citizen. He doesn't just give democracy lip service. He honestly believes it's his duty to consider the other fellow's interests. Whether it's the right to use the public highways or the right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer, Easy's out to protect his neighbor's "right of way."

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE
What are the Dollar Signs Saying?
MAYBE you've noticed that dollars don't seem to talk as loud as they used to in a lot of places.
But you ought to hear what they say about this Buick.
They say—here's the big thrill—big mileage—big power of a valve-in-head Fireball Engine—eight-cylinder performance at the price you'll pay for most sixes.
They say—here are size and room and comfort that are hard to match at anywhere near the price tag this Buick SPECIAL is wearing.
They say—here are such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation—not as "extras" but yours at no extra charge.
They say that "smart buy's Buick"—by a wide measure.
But a smart buyer will also let this dashing darling speak for itself.
He'll take the wheel and feel how it snugs to the road on turns—holds its course on the highway with big-car assurance.
He'll touch off the power of its Fireball Engine and get firsthand the lift of its nimble response.
And he'll find out how coil springs on every wheel level out what he thought were bumpy roads.
Want to know more? How about coming in first thing tomorrow?
