Plans for Howe School, Students Approved Monday

Buchanan board of education went on record Monday night as favoring proposed plans for use of Howe school and for bussing students from that district. The action was requested two weeks ago by Ellis May, a resident of Howe district.

May requested the information in an attempt to clear up questions in the minds of Howe voters, before the July 22 vote on annexation. On that date both Howe and Buchanan districts will vote on the question of annexing Howe to the 12th-grade Buchanan district.

Concerning use of the building for next year, Richard Dougherty, assistant superintendent, offered the following proposal which was accepted:

"It is my opinion that, in case of the Howe school annexation, the kindergarten, seventh and eighth grade pupils be transported to the city schools, and that Howe school be operated as a two-room school. Grades one, two and three, and four, five and six.

"Services of the district would be made available next year where possible.

"It would be our object, in the future, to reduce the classes to two grades per room.

"It is my personal opinion that the Howe school site is a good one and should be continued."

In clarification of his statement that services of the district would be made available next year, where possible, Dougherty stated that special services to be extended to Howe school next year would include music, speech therapy and services of the school nurse.

Bus Routes

Proposed bus routes serving the area in event of annexation were also accepted by the board. The routes were drawn up by Robert Willard, director of transportation, and Paul Spaulding, head bus driver.

Pickup points for both high school and elementary students were indicated on maps, but Willard pointed out that it was impossible to set a definite order of pickup now, as it is unknown exactly how many students will ride each bus. He added that the maps show only those families in the district whose children would be bused, either into town or to Howe school.

Willard pointed out that the plan was tentative for route and pickups in the district, as routes and stops change over the entire system each year. This is caused, he stated, because of families moving in and out of the district. A great deal also depends on which school in the system bus children attend, he added.

As per board policy, all children living within one mile of the school they attend are not furnished with bus transportation, Willard said. State law does not allow for reimbursement of transportation for students living within 1 1/2 miles, he added, but the board has deemed it desirable to reduce this distance to one mile.

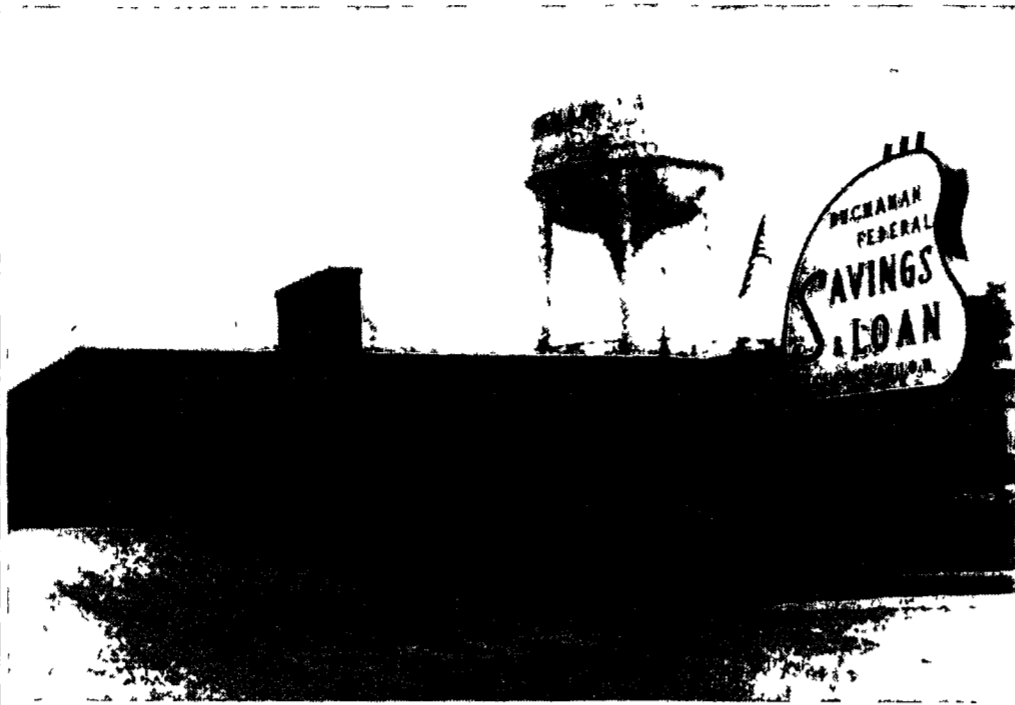

Based on information from Howe school, bus stops were planned to pick up kindergarteners in front of their homes, commented Willard. This practice is followed throughout the district.

Tentative Reports

Tentatively, high school bus stops would be at the Chubb and Swain residences on Townline road, and at the intersection of Townline and South Bend roads. Another pickup would be made near the Hall and Dale residences on South Bend road, north of M-60, near the Wurts and Ostrander residences on M-60, and on South Bend road, at the Klute residence, intersection of Buffalo road, at the Bellaire residence and at the Shirley residence.

Elementary pick ups would be in front of, or adjacent to students' homes.

Copies of the proposed pickups and routes are to be sent to the secretary of the Howe board and to Ellis May.

MARKS ANNIVERSARY OF CHARTER—Buchanan Federal Savings and Loan association this week marks the 25th anniversary of receipts of its federal charter. ## Buchanan Federal Marks 25th Anniversary of Charter

This week Buchanan Federal Savings and Loan association celebrates the 25th anniversary of receiving its federal charter and certificate as an insured institution.

Known as Industrial Building and Loan association, the institution's name was changed to Buchanan Federal Savings and Loan after receipt of the certificate on July 5, 1938. The federal charter was granted on June 24 of that year.

At time of its incorporation on Jan. 26, 1910, the capital stock of Industrial Building and Loan association amounted to 1,000 shares with a par value of $100 each. Originators of the corporation were M. L. Hanlin, James M. Clark, Charles E. Sablin, Henry R. Adams, M. J. Kelling, Sig. Doseberg, Herbert Roe, T. J. Torney, H. H. Beck, Irenus Sparks, F. C. Hathaway and E. E. Wilson.

At the time of converting to federal charter in 1938, the corporation had assets totaling $374,517.09. Directors of the institution were H. R. Adams, president; F. C. Hathaway, vice president; C. V. Glover, secretary-treasurer; Frank Merson, Oscar E. Swartz, Frank Habicht, Harry Berry, A. H. Miller, and Arthur Voorhees. At that time accounts were insured to $3,000 each. As of Sept. 21, 1950, the insurance of accounts was increased to $10,000 each. In 1938 the staff consisted of two people.

During the 25 year period since converting to federal charter, the association has moved from its small office at 107 Main St., to its new location in the Skyline Plaza at 720 East Front St. On Nov. 15, 1961, its branch office in Bridgman was opened. The association's present staff consists of 10 employees.

As of June 30 of this year, the association has assets of $9 million. The association is in the process of paying its regular semi-annual dividend at the rate of 4 per cent annum and the dividend for the 6 months' period ending June 30, totals more than $135,000.

Reorganization of the board of education and awarding of a paving contract highlighted the first meeting of the new board Monday night.

Also considered was use of Howe school building and bus routes in the district, in event the July 22 annexation vote is affirmative. Details of these items of business are contained in another story on this page.

First order of business Monday night was election of officers of the new board, to serve until July 1 of next year. Robert Soucek who was absent, was unanimously re-elected to his second one-year term, as president, as was Dr. Russell J. Vastine, Jr., to his second term as secretary.

Bernard Ellis, new board member, was elected to serve as treasurer. He replaces Arthur Funk, who did not seek re-election to the board. In addition to Ellis, members performing their first official duties Monday night were Mrs. Mihiam Hassan and B. G. Harker.

Award Contract

Five bids were received by the board for paving of two drives and a bus turn-around in back of the science wing and the wood shop.

The contract for blacktopping the drives and turn-around went to John G. Yerrington company of Benton Harbor, on a bid of $3,833.25. His bid included preparing the base, setting the grade, graveling, prime and blacktopping for the two areas, plus removing and replacing some curbing. His bid was the only one which itemized costs on the complete job, and it was deemed by the board to be in the best interest to award Yerrington the contract.

The other four bids did not specify for the complete job. They were: Reith-Riley Construction company of South Bend, $4,075; Consumers Asphalt Paving company of Benton Harbor, $3,905; A. B. Rowley of Hartford, $2,710 to be measured and adjusted upon completion, and Belk Asphalt Paving company of Dowagiac, $2,196.

Continue Meetings

In other business, the board voted to continue meeting twice monthly, on the first and third Mondays; heard a report from Supt. Pierre Bailey that the county tax allocation committee allowed 8.159 mills for operation under the 15 mill limitation, instructed the secretary to write letters to the three retiring members, thanking them for serving on the board and for their interest in the future of local young people, and heard correspondence.

Following the report by Bailey the board decided to delay action on setting the millage levy for the coming year, until

Cereal Beetle Reported Active

As the annual cycle in the life of the cereal leaf beetle continues, it is now found only in the adult stage. At this time of the season, it is found to be less active and destructive than in the previous two or three months.

However, cautions Don Armstrong, manager of Buchanan Co-ops, the beetle is still quite active in some areas. He reported that some live adults are being found in new barley now coming in to Co-ops.

Armstrong added that Co-ops is now an approved fumigating station under the quarantine, and equipment is being installed to treat grain for shipment either within or outside the quarantine area.

Effective July 1, the Michigan quarantine area was extended to include all or part of 15 counties in addition to Berrien and Cass. The extension was ordered by G. S. McIntyre, Michigan's agriculture director. He imposed the same quarantine provisions on the enlarged area as have been in existence in parts of Berrien and Cass since last fall.

Included in the list of counties affected by the extension are Allegan, Barry, Branch, Calhoun, Eaton, Hillsdale, Ingham, Ionia, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Kent, Muskegon, Ottawa, St. Joseph and Van Buren.

In addition, the quarantine in Indiana is now in effect in 21 counties and in two counties in Ohio.

As a review for area farmers, quarantine provisions require that inspection certificates must accompany the following articles before they can be moved outside the regulated area: the insect itself in any stage of development, all small grains, corn, uncleaned grass and fodder crop seed, hay, straw, foder, plant litter of any kind, sod, logs with bark and harvesting machinery.

Other articles which may require inspection on treatment are any other farm products, equipment, trucks, railway cars, or other means of conveyance, used crates, boxes or bags, or any other products that may present a hazard.

NARROW ESCAPE—Four teenagers riding in this car narrowly escaped injury and possible death late Saturday night, when the car was fired upon, allegedly by Freddie B. Bailey and his son, of route 2. An office points to holes in the rear window where two bullets ricocheted off the trunk lid and shattered the glass. One of the slugs passed just over the driver's head and embedded itself in the sun visor. The chalk marks on the trunk lid indicate where the two slugs first hit the car. Several other slugs also struck the vehicle. —Record Photo

Declare Dividend

The directors of Buchanan Steel Products corporation declared the regular quarterly dividend of five cents per share at the meeting which was held June 25. The dividend will be payable Aug. 1 to stockholders of record July 15.

Youth Jailed For Beatings

David E. Carpenter of New Troy pled guilty to the charge of assault and battery, when he appeared before Justice Harold Jackson Friday. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, fined $25 plus $11.20 costs, and given the alternative of serving an additional 20 days in lieu of payment.

Carpenter was arrested about 9 o'clock Thursday night on a warrant from Justice Jackson's court. The complainant, Mrs. Virginia Carpenter, his mother, charged that he had beat her with his fists on two occasions. The first incident was on Wednesday, June 26, and the second on Thursday. Mrs. Carpenter reported that the beatings resulted when she tried to stop him from breaking dishes and other items.

Youths' Car is Moving Target

Serious injury and possible death were only inches away from four Niles area teenagers late Saturday night, as their car became a moving target.

The incident occurred shortly before midnight in front of the Freddie B. Bailey residence on Elm Valley road.

Deputy Stanley Wolkins reported that John Jay Earl of Niles, driver of the car, told him he was backing into the Bailey driveway to turn around, when someone started shooting at the car. Two slugs ricocheted off the trunk lid and shattered the rear window. The slugs entered the lower right side of the window, with one embedding itself into the sun visor inches above the driver's head and the other entered the upholstery at the top of the car. The car was also struck by several other slugs.

The teenagers reported the incident to Deputy Wolkins at the local sub-station, and within a few minutes Bailey also came to the station to report the incident. He was arrested on a warrant from Justice Harold Jackson's court and lodged in the city jail. His 12-year-old son, who also allegedly fired at the car, was transferred to the juvenile home at Berrien Center.

Weapons used in the incident were 22 calibre rifles, according to Deputy Wolkins.

When he appeared before Justice Jackson Monday evening, Bailey demanded examination and was remanded to jail in lieu of $5,000 bond. He is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

In a statement by Bailey, he claimed that the family had been bothered by kids and cars at night since moving into the house about the first of June. He alleged that some youths had threatened to kill the entire family and blow up the house.

Bailey claimed he shot at the tires in an attempt to stop the car, to find out what they wanted.

The house had been vacant for some time before the Baileys moved there.

Around Town

By LYLE SUMERIX

Well, which block is going to take the honors away from the 100 block of Lake street?

The honor in reference is that of having the most flags displayed on the last day designated as an official flag day. On Flag Day, June 14, residents in the first block of Lake street displayed the American flag at seven houses.

Thursday, the Fourth of July, is another of the official days on which the flag should be flown. With a little co-operation, a block should be able to boast 100 per cent participation, and soon the city could gain national recognition for its patriotism.

Quite a distinction in this day and age.

One word of caution if you plan to display your flag other than being flown from a staff, either horizontally or vertically, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right. As you face the flag, the union should be to your left.

Ironical
Although this writer fully realizes that a project such as a community pool takes some time to gain momentum, it is somewhat ironical that only about 25 people attended the public meeting last Thursday, held to organize a campaign for a pool.

The irony of the situation is that only a few months before some 1,200 persons readily signed their names to petitions censuring a local businessman, and approximately 100 aroused citizens protested to the city commission over the business proposal for which he sought a license.

Behind the controversy was the need for, or lack of recreational facilities in the city.

This time of year many people are on vacation and have many thoughts on their minds other than working on a long, difficult project such as a dive for a swimming pool. However, let us hope that some of the

Summer Taxes Total $190,348

Summer tax notices in the amount of $190,348.48 were mailed to city property owners last week, announced Esther Hamilton, city treasurer.

Of the total amount, $170,934.34 is to be collected for general tax purposes, $12,209.59 for debt retirement and $7,204.55 for special assessments and unpaid bills.

Summer taxes are based on a levy of 18 mills, on a real and personal assessed valuation of $10,174,663.

GRIM REMINDER—This wreckage in which four local persons were injured, serves as a grim reminder of the need for extra vigilance on the part of motorists during the long Fourth of July holiday. The car, driven by Jack Lee Marsh of 306 Arctic St., crashed into a tree Thursday afternoon. Inspecting the wreckage is Deputy Stanley Wolkins. —Record Photo

Rodighero Issues Two Building Permits

Two building permits were issued during the last two weeks of June, according to Rudolph Rodighero, city building inspector.

No. 688—issued to Hanlin-Rifenberg agency, 313 Main St., for construction of a 20'x42' frame and masonry office building.

No. 689—issued June 27 to Earl R. Derflinger, 327 North Detroit, for a 3'x15' frame dwelling addition.

UR Contract OK Assured

The signed Loan and Grant contract is expected to arrive sometime this week, reports William Burkett, urban renewal co-ordinator. The contract was approved and signed by the city commission last week and presented at the regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago last week by Burkett and City Manager Daryl Tammen.

Burkett reports that personnel in the finance and legal departments at the regional office gave oral assurance that all conditions expressed in the Loan and Grant Contract had been satisfied by the city, and that federal monies would be made available sometime this month.

As far as the city is concerned, said Burkett, the first step after the contract is signed by the federal government is to initiate special assessments for curb and gutter and sidewalk in the urban renewal area. First work to be done in the area is a complete engineering survey so that grades can be determined.

The co-ordinator explained that the government will make available to the city $340,000 for the urban renewal project of this amount, the city will have already qualified for $207,627 upon completion of the high school and Moccasin additions. These two additions qualify the city for $132,675 in non-cash credit and Elizabeth street improvements qualify the city for an additional $74,952.

Burkett is scheduled to outline an execution program for the urban renewal project at the city commission meeting Monday night.

Ryman to Head Pool Committee

Donald Ryman was named temporary chairman Thursday night at a meeting of persons interested in working to promote a community swimming pool.

William Wantz was named co-chairman and James Murphy, treasurer, by the approximately 25 persons attending the meeting. The positions of recording and corresponding secretary were not definitely filled.

Primary business conducted during the meeting was a review of what information had been gathered by persons working as a preliminary committee. Various problems involved in organizing a campaign were discussed, as well as in operation of a pool.

It was decided to schedule another public meeting when resource personnel can be present.

Thursday night's meeting was held at Stark Elementary school.

CAREFUL DRIVING

Ironically, on Summer's happiest occasions (weekends and holidays), the tragic toll of highway accidents zooms to the highest totals! Traffic is congested. Driving strain increases. Millions of good, bad and indifferent drivers are on the road, speeding, cutting in, weaving, challenging traffic controls. These are the times above all, to drive with EXTRA care . . . keep your temper . . . watch the other driver and bring your family home ALIVE!

If You're Travelling . . . Observe These Safety Precautions

- Before starting . . . have your car checked! Blowouts, mechanical failures can cause deaths.
- If you're going to drive for leisure use side roads.
- Children and pets in the back seat where they can't distract the driver.
- Stop frequently for coffee and rest periods. Don't get over-tired.
- Don't drink and drive, even "one for the road" can lead to accidents.
- Don't speed! Don't pass! Don't swing out of traffic lanes.
- Always yield the right-of-way.

If You're Boating, Fishing or Swimming

- Swim before eating, never after.
- Be sure not to go into the water for at least an hour after you've eaten.
- Don't swim alone. Use the buddy system.
- If you don't know how to swim well, stay in shallow water.
- Do not overload the boat and make sure each one in the boat has a life jacket.

Jackson, Coger Plead Guilty on Two Counts

James R. Jackson of 419 West Front St. and Richard A. Coger of 311 1/2 North Portage pleaded guilty before Justice Jerry Lauer June 28. Each pled guilty to a reduced charge of speeding and to running a stop sign. The charge of speeding was reduced from 60 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. zone, to 35 miles per hour. Each was fined $10 on the first count and $5 on the second charge. In addition Jackson was charged $15 court costs and Coger $7.35 costs.

The youths were originally charged with reckless driving when they were ticketed by city police April 6. They pled not guilty and the charges were later reduced to speeding and running a stop sign. A third charge, following too close, against Coger was dropped when the speeding charge was reduced last week.

The action June 26, whereby the speeding charge was reduced, followed a one-day trial which was concluded with the guilty pleas.

Warner of 206 East Fourth St. Webb reportedly told the officer that a car was parked across from his driveway and that he could not make the turn on the first attempt. He was backing up when the Warner car struck his truck. Warner was attempting to pass and upon seeing the parked car, swerved to the left into the truck.

Vandals Damage Barn

Deputies of Buchanan station are investigating an incident of malicious destruction at the Ray Metzger farm on Elm Valley road, near Galesburg.

Metzger reported to Deputy Charles Tiefenbach Saturday afternoon that someone had knocked several holes in the roof of a barn on the back of his property. The incident allegedly had occurred within the previous two days.

Parked Car Damaged

Rear fenders on two cars parked in the downtown area of East Front street were damaged Friday.

Stephen Mitchell of Dayton reportedly told Sgt. M. A. MacDonald that he was backing from an angle parking space in the 100 block, and failed to clear a car parked on his right, owned by Vernon D. Kline of route 2.

Irrigation Can Up Crop Yields

Irrigation boosts crop yields and quality besides offering protection against frost, according to E. H. Kidder, Michigan State university agricultural engineer.

"Some growers double crop yields on irrigated compared to non-irrigated land during dry years such as 1952," he noted. "Yield differences are especially noticeable on shallow-rooted fruits and vegetables, but can also be seen on larger potato fields and orchard crops when droughts extend over long periods of time. This is particularly true in lighter soils such as sandy loams, because they will not hold as much moisture as heavy soils."

Kidder pointed out, for example, that strawberries have a root zone of only 8 to 12 inches. Thus, they only have about two inches of water available to each plant at any one time. When temperatures are in the high 80's or above, that supply can be used up in 10 days or less.

Another important benefit from irrigation is having the right amount of moisture available at the right time, says Kidder. "It's important for crops such as cherries, pears and peaches to get their moisture at the time the fruit is filling out. Lack of moisture can mean small, low quality fruit."

The cock birds of the Japanese long-tailed fowls from Kochi in Shikoku have tail coverts up to 24 feet in length.

Word of Caution

State Police issued a word of caution to persons planning a big day at the beach, or near some other favorite body of water, over the long holiday week end.

During the first six months of 1963, a total of 83 persons have lost their lives, and at least 45 others were injured in 118 reported water accidents. Major factors in the fatal accidents were lack of proper supervision of children and carelessness on the part of teenagers and adults.

An Inside View

First in a Series Student Relates Past Of St. Joseph Valley

The following article is the first in a series taken from a term paper written by Janie D. Strayer in partial fulfillment of requirements in ninth grade civics class. After reading the paper her instructor, Sid Huitema, submitted it to the Record because of its historical content. It is being presented here with Miss Strayer's permission, minus only the footnotes. The final installment will include her bibliography. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Strayer of 203 West Front.

Introduction

I will begin my paper with the time in which Indians occupied the St. Joseph valley, and then I will move on to the first white men and still further to the Era of Transportation.

The garden beds or mounds built by the so-called Hopewellians are found only in this area of Michigan. The only other group found is in Wisconsin and one small group in Georgia.

There is no certainty how long Prehistoric Man occupied the valley. From a 1959 unearthing of an Indian burial in Berrien Springs we can tell that man lived in the St. Joseph valley shortly before Christ's birth.

Flint arrowheads tell us that the Indian lived here from 12,000 to 13,500 years. Other arrowheads relate to us that people lived in the valley 20,000 years ago.

The Sauk Indian name for the St. Joseph valley was O-sangewong-se-be, meaning Sauk Indian River.

The Potawatomi called the lower St. Joseph river Sawk-wauk-silbuck, which means "mystery." The Potawatomi also had other names which I will give later.

The Miami Indians left the valley in 1680 and 1681 and the Potawatomi moved back. Both Indian tribes drifted often.

It is said that the Potawatomi were hearty warriors and very friendly people. Other different stories tell us another tale.

One tribe of Indians in the valley rarely mentioned were the Mushquahtas, a section of the Fox tribe. They lived in the St. Joseph valley only a short time.

Their campground, like the others, was on the river. Since they were a roaming tribe they moved on to other countries.

The valley is rich and wonderful with more history than can be put down on paper.

The Land
The St. Joseph valley is rated the third most historic area in the State of Michigan. The valley was being explored almost one hundred years before the United States was even incorporated.

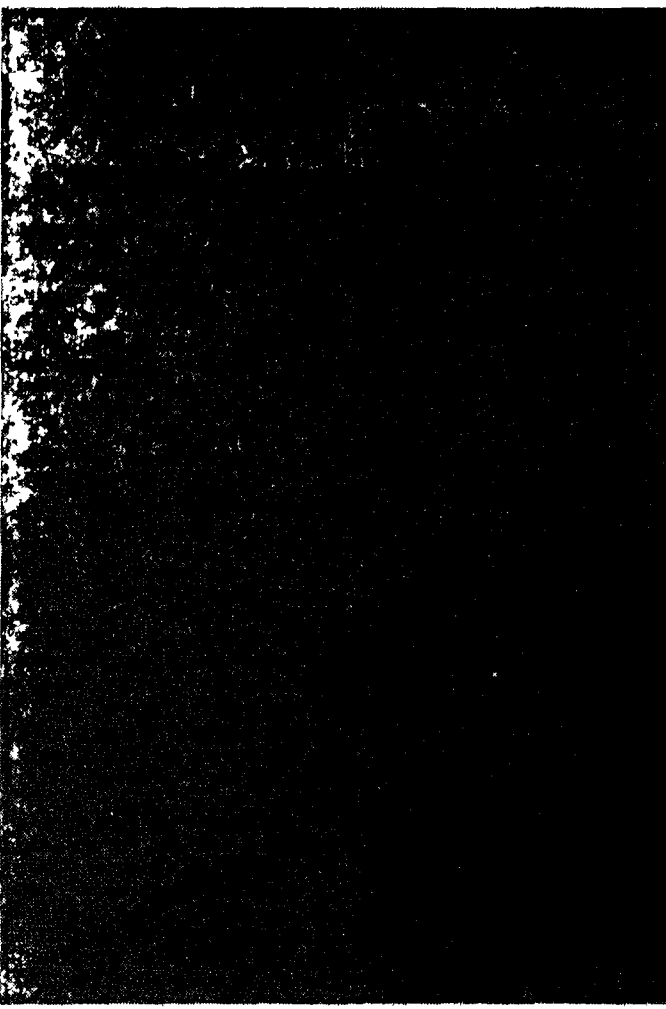

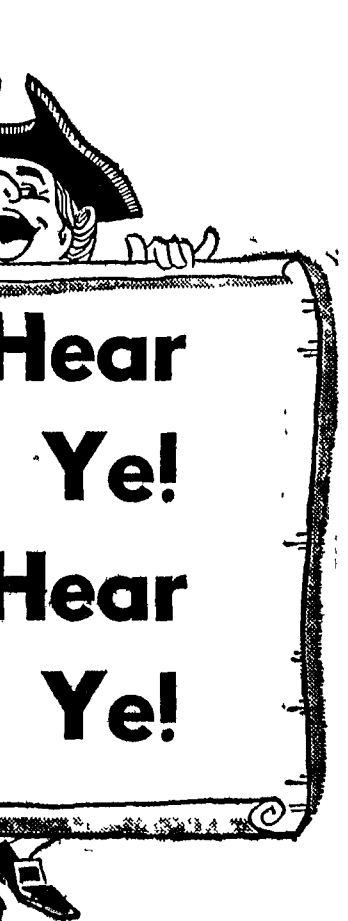

St. Joseph valley is often referred to as "The Power of Four Flags," because four different nations ruled the valley. This is the only known area to have this unusual name.

The St. Joseph valley was conditioned by many natural sources, namely ice, snow and glacial movement. After the glaciers melted they left in the valley many lakes, streams and rivers, one of which is our beloved "St. Joe."

This fifty-five mile long river begins in Hillsdale, Michigan, and flows westward west of Three Rivers, Michigan. Then it flows southerly to South Bend, Indiana, (who derived its name from the river's bend) and then it suddenly turns north and flows back into Michigan, through Berrien county and the river empties out into Lake Michigan at the present day sight of the city of St. Joseph, Michigan.

The climate in the valley was the same or very near the same as it was many thousand years ago and when the first white explorers arrived in the valley. Warm mild summers and cold, snowy winters were the usual weather. The lake played a large part in the weather, for it brought many quick thunder storms.

The soil ranged from soft, moist, black dirt to hard, wet, plastic-like clay. This clay was most common along the shores of Lake Michigan.

St. Joseph valley's scenery was very beautiful at the time of first French explorers. One Frenchman wrote this description of the valley: "This a spot best adapted of any for the purpose of living, and as regards to the soil. There are pheasants as in France, quail and partridge, the finest vines in the world, which produce a vast quantity of very excellent grapes, both black and white, and the berry very large and juicy. It is the richest district in the country."

Many different plants and shrubs and trees covered the area, but the trees that mystified the white man most of all were the Tulip trees, which grew to such grandure and size. Meat and fowl were abundant. The fruits grew wild and to the Indians liking they could pick them when they were needed. Yes, the St. Joseph valley was filled with many magnificent bounties.

History proves there were many prehistoric animals in the St. Joseph valley, after the Ice Age. By 1924 the remains of twenty-eight Mammoths (huge elephants) had been discovered in Berrien county.

In Niles, Michigan, on June 19, 1950, the skull of a giant beaver was discovered. Mastodon (another form of large elephants) skulls have been discovered in Hagar township, Berrien county. Parts of a giant moose (Cervalces) have been unearthed in Berrien township, Berrien county, in 1951.

Many more of these prehistoric beasts will probably be revealed in the years to come. These skeletons proved that there were prehistoric mammoths that roamed our valley of St. Joseph.

Safety Check Reveals 22% of Vehicles Faulty

More than 22 per cent of cars and trucks inspected during a safety check Friday and Saturday were rejected. The safety check lane was operated in the downtown area by Buchanan Jaycees.

Of 263 vehicles checked, 60 were found to be in need of "safety servicing." The vehicles inspected included 254 cars and nine trucks. Of the 60 vehicles requiring service, nine owners had the deficiencies repaired and their vehicles re-inspected to qualify for a "Safety-Check" windshield decal.

"Most drivers of vehicles with defects pointed out that they were happy to know about them," commented Woody Alverson, after the safety check lane closed Saturday night. Majority of the safety defects were unknown to the drivers, he added. Alverson was co-chairman of the safety campaign, and Elton Orpurt, Jr., was chairman. Defects turned up in the inspection, and their frequency, were Brakes 19, front headlights 8, front turn signals 11, tail lights 1, stop lights 6, rear turn signals 9, tires 2, exhaust system 11, glass 7, windshield wipers 2, windshield washers 7, and horns 2.

None of the vehicles checked were found to have faulty steering or were without rear view mirrors. Alverson expressed the thanks of the Jaycees for the cooperation and assistance of city police, and to local residents who participated in the safety check. "We hope it will be beneficial for everyone," he stated.

He also indicated that the Jaycees plan to conduct another safety check next year, and expressed the hope that more motorists will take advantage of the community service.

Programs for each of the five days already have been scheduled. . . premium books are at the printers. . . volunteer workers have been at the grounds daily to make ready for the grand opening. . . hundreds and hundreds of boys and girls are grooming their prize animals, cultivating their project gardens and putting that last stitch in an exhibit blouse or skirt.

Berrien county, recognized for its agricultural achievements, also has the reputation as producer of one of the most unique rural and urban exhibitions in the annual mid-summer parade of county fairs.

The Berrien County Youth Fair will open for its 18th annual showing on Aug 13 at the fair grounds on US 31 north of Berrien Springs. The youth fair for five days will feature more than 7,000 exhibits—all representing the top efforts of youths in both farm and city communities. The fair closes Aug 17.

From the time of its inception, in the 1940's, by a group of farsighted men and women who wanted to give youth a showcase for constructive accomplishment, the Youth Fair has grown in giant strides—breaking records each year in attendance, exhibits and exhibitors.

Directors of the youth fair association board this year are anticipating an attendance, exhibit and exhibitor explosion—evidenced by the increased enrollments in 4-H clubs during 1962-63.

Altho the fair is open to all youths in Berrien county, regardless of group association, most of the young exhibitors are members of 4-H clubs.

Because the youth fair is for youth, opening day (Aug 13) will see all children admitted free. Tagged "School Day"—it has become, by far, one of the most popular days of the five-day long show.

Quick action by two life guards at Clear Lake was credited with saving the life of Vernon Hall of Range Line road. The incident occurred about 6:30 Saturday evening.

Hall was apparently stricken with a cramp after diving from a five-foot board, and disappeared beneath the surface of the lake. He was pulled from the water by lifeguard Russell Hewitt of Buchanan.

While Hewitt summoned an ambulance, Charles Faulkner of 403 West Third St., another lifeguard, administered mouth to mouth resuscitation. Hall recovered and apparently was not in need of medical attention, according to Hewitt.

Announce Price Support On Corn Reseal Program

The U S Department of Agriculture announced June 20, a corn reseal program under which farmers can obtain extension of current price support loans on farm-stored corn, and earn storage payments, after the loan maturity date, July 31. There will be no reseal program for 1962 crop soybeans.

The corn reseal program provides for extension of price support loans on corn of the 1962, 1960 and 1959 crops. Also under the reseal program announced June 20, farmers may convert purchase agreements on their 1962 crop farm-stored corn to reseal loans.

Loans on the 1961 crop farm-stored corn were made extendable last year to July 31, 1964. Price support loans on 1958-crop stored corn will not be extended beyond July 31 this year.

Loans to Mature in 1964
Loans extended on farm-stored corn under the reseal program, announced June 20, will mature July 31, 1964 and farmers who desire to participate should so inform the county office before the loan maturity date of July 31 with formal application for reseal to be made not later than Oct 31, 1963.

Storage payments are made to producers on corn under reseal. Reseal storage payments for the 1963-64, 12 month storage period, will be 14 cents per bushel.

If a farmer redeems his reseal corn prior to the new maturity date, July 31, 1964, his storage payment will be prorated. Farmers who have 1961, 1960, 1959, and 1958 corn under reseal will have earned a full year's payment by the time of the loan maturity date this year.

In a change from the reseal program of the past two years, reseal on the 1962 crop will be offered for a one-year period rather than a two-year period. Also, storage payments for 1962, 1960, and 1959 crops will be limited to the period of storage in all instances where the grain is delivered earlier than the reseal maturity date. Under the previous program, the full yearly storage payment was made on grain delivered early for the convenience of CCC As in the past, reseal loans are subject to call by CCC prior to the maturity date.

What To Look For In a Used Car.

We will sell new Buicks and Pontiacs mainly, but our customers have put us in a thriving used car business with their trade-ins. And we like our used car customers to go out of here as satisfied and confident as our new owners.

The check list below is for your convenience. A car that rates 100% we'd call "factory clean." Of course you can't ask for perfection in a vintage economy model. But you can make sure you know what you're getting for whatever you're paying.

Besides price, year, color, style, make and model, you can look into a few less obvious points to assure yourself of the car's worth with this check list.

We'd rather have you satisfied—than just sold.

New ZIP Code Now in Effect

Postmaster Charles Wesner issued a reminder to local patrons that Monday was the day on which the new ZIP code went into effect.

The code is a system worked out by the Post Office department to speed mail deliveries and reduce chances of mis sent mail, he stated.

The code should be used on all return addresses and should be used on all letters and packages mailed out, if the addressee's code is known. ZIP code for Buchanan postal patrons is 49107. It should appear in the address after the state.

Wesner said cards would be mailed to all boxholders, informing them of the ZIP code, as soon as they are available.

ZIP codes of area post offices are: Gallen 49113, Dayton 49110, Niles 49120, Glendora 49114, New Troy 49119, Three Oaks 49128, New Buffalo 49117, Berrien Center 49102, Berrien Springs 49103, College rural station at Berrien Springs 49104, Baroda 49101 and Dildman 49106.

Seventh-day Adventists Prepare for Camp Meeting

The majority of the members of the local Seventh-day Adventist church will be attending many of the sessions of the 95th annual camp meeting which will begin Thursday night, July 4, at Grand Ledge.

Mrs. Joseph Barrett, local press secretary, reported that the pastor, Elder M. Y. Fleming and his family, are already at the camp grounds and many other families planned to attend the sessions.

The 10-day session, which will end July 13, will draw church members from throughout Michigan as well as surrounding states. Weekend attendance is expected to reach the 15,000 mark.

About 200 pastors, teachers and other church workers have been busy this week readying the 70-acre campsite for the convention. In addition to permanent cabins and dormitory space, over 600 tents will be pitched as temporary living quarters for some of the 4,500 people who will live on the grounds during the session. According to Mrs. Barrett, the grounds resemble a temporary city, complete with post office, general store, book store and street numbers for the cabins and tents.

Proceeding the camp meeting, 500 delegates will meet Thursday morning for the biennial business session of the Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. The delegates, representing 163 churches in the state, will hear reports from the president, treasurer and departments of the church, and will elect officers for the coming two-year period. An executive committee of 13 laymen and pastors, the governing body of the church in Michigan, will also be elected. N. C. Wilson, president, and L. G. Wartzok, secretary-treasurer, both of Lansing, will be in charge of the program and the camp meeting.

Thursday evening speaker will be Walter R. Beach of Washington, D. C., secretary of the world conference of the church. William A. Fagal of New York City, will speak at the Friday and Saturday evening services. Fagal appears on one of the denominations' weekly television programs, "Faith for Today."

Seven services will be held daily, beginning at 6:30 a. m. with a devotional hour. Separate auditoriums or large tents will provide meeting places for youngsters in attendance. All the sessions of the convention will be open to the public.

The campgrounds serve a dual purpose and during the school year serve as the location for Grand Ledge academy, a four-year boarding high school with about 200 students.

Much of the work on the grounds, aside from supervisory personnel, is done by students of the school who have an opportunity to defray a portion of their school expenses.

Hold Final Meeting

The final meeting of the Buchanan Senior Citizens club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed DeSonia Monday evening. About 17 members attended the picnic affair, followed by badminton and croquet contests. Members discussed plans for the October meeting, but made no definite plans. The president, Ken Blake, and DeSonia acted as hosts for the meeting.

Miss DeRossi Becomes Bride

The wedding of Miss Angeline DeRossi and Myron Dean Bailey was solemnized in a ceremony performed June 15 in the Church of Christ. The minister, W. Robert Palmer, officiated at the 4:30 p. m. nuptials.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCaslin of Glendora. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bailey, Sr., of Sunfield, III., are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding the bride wore a street-length gown of white lace and nylon. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bailey, the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, attended the couple. Mrs. Bailey was attired in a pink print dress.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of navy blue lace trimmed with white.

Following the ceremony, 50 guests attended an open house reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The young couple will make their home at Pike Lake, Bakerstown.

Board Accepts Bid of $37,000

Board of education awarded the contract for installation of two new boilers to C. L. Mahoney company of Kalamazoo, after bids were opened at a special meeting June 26. Mahoney's bid was for $37,000.

Supt. Pierre Bailey reported that the bids were approximately $5,000 more than had been originally estimated by the architect. However, Gordon Stowe, of Warren-Holmes architectural firm in Lansing, stated that the bids were very reasonable when compared with the cost of similar installations in other schools.

The two 200 horse power Johnston boilers were purchased recently by the board for $16,707. The old boilers are being demolished and removed from behind the high school by Buchanan Iron and Metal, at a cost of $700.

Other bidders and their bids were Casseiman, Incorporated, of Three Rivers, $39,814; Wheeler-Blaney company of Kalamazoo, $41,267; and Orput and Sons, $41,845.

3 New Silos Boost Co-ops Grain Storage

As result of new equipment and construction of additional grain storage capacity, Buchanan Co-ops will be able to handle 3,000 to 4,000 bushels of grain per hour, reports Don Armstrong, manager of Co-ops. He said the equipment and storage facilities should be ready for the wheat harvest.

Completion of three new silos at the elevator more than doubles Co-ops grain storage. Two silos, 18'x40', have a capacity of 8,900 bushels each, and a third, 30'x40' has a capacity of 36,000 bushels for a total of 53,800 bushels. Added to the former storage capacity of 30,000 bushels, Co-ops now boasts a total grain storage capacity of 89,800 bushels.

Armstrong said the new silos will feature an aeration system and equipment to detect warm grain.

In addition to the new silos, a new grain load out leg is being installed at the elevator, which can load either trucks or railroad cars. Armstrong said the new storage and handling equipment was constructed and installed to enable Co-ops to better service its members and customers, thru faster grain handling and off-the-farm storage. He added that Co-ops can provide open, grain bank or government storage.

The manager reminded farmers that Co-ops is now approved as a fumigating station for the cereal leaf beetle, and stated that equipment is being installed for treating grain for shipment within or outside the quarantine area.

About 11 million American home owners have workshops in their homes.

DEMOLISH BOILERS—Employees of Buchanan Iron and Metal are in the process of cutting up the two old boilers that have been in use at the high school for the past 40 years. New boilers have been purchased by the school board and are expected to be installed before opening of school this fall. When this picture was snapped last week one boiler was still intact and the other almost gone. —Record Photo

Expect Wheat Before Fourth

Altho the unseasonable cool weather earlier in the summer and the dry weather before Monday's rain has slowed growth of many crops, grain crops are about the same as last year, reports Don Armstrong, manager of Buchanan Co-ops.

He predicted that new wheat would be received at the elevator before July 4 unless rain delays harvesting. Some new barley has already been received.

Armstrong said that reports from Southern Indiana are that yields are up in wheat this year, compared to last year. However, he added, there is some feeling that the late frost may have hurt the yield in this area.

Market price to farmers for wheat was reported down 25 cents per bushel Monday afternoon.

Armstrong also reported that corn is behind, and being held up from lack of moisture, but that soy beans in the field are looking good in spite of the dry weather. He added that some acreage of both crops was lost due to the late frost. Hardest hit were crops planted on low grounds.

Borneo has almost four times the combined area of England and Wales.

Children who will enter kindergarten in the fall up to and including third graders are invited to the story hour. According to Mrs. Claude Lauver, city librarian, who last talked with Grandma Noel, the story hour will have a circus theme.

Mrs. Lauver also announced that the annual summer reading club will begin Monday, July 8, and registrations will be held during the week ending July 13, only. The club will then start July 15 and end Aug 10. Each child who reads 10 or more books will be issued a diploma.

Three other story hours will be held for local children during the summer, scheduled July 24, Aug 7, and Aug 21.

Plan Annual Dinner

The annual Fourth of July co-operative dinner will be held Thursday at Orchard Hills Country club, followed by fireworks in the evening. The dinner is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. and the committee will provide ice cream, milk, coffee and rolls. Each family is to take a dish to pass for every two members of the family. Amerson Bowman and Sonny Riley will be in charge of the evening fireworks display. The affair is for members and guests only.

Change Meeting Place

Due to a last minute change in plans, the Buchanan Garden Club meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Swen, 430 Moccasin Ave., on Monday, July 8, rather than at the home of Mrs. Richard Chubb. The change was announced by club president, Mrs. Walter Ross. The meeting will begin at 1:30 p. m. and Mrs. F. Glideman will be guest speaker.

Daily it looks more and more as if the public is a body of people entirely surrounded by tax collectors.

Auxiliary Hears Hospital Report

chairman, and Mrs. Scott reported on the recent trip members made to the VA hospital in Battle Creek, to assist with the carnival for the veterans. The group voted a $10 donation to the hospital coffee hour.

The community service chairman reported that members of the auxiliary served dinner Monday for members of the Charles Ross Luke family. His sister, Mrs. Guy Eisenhart, is

Graduate Teenagers With A Hearty Party

A graduation party for teenagers should feature their favorite foods, and you can't miss with lots of well-seasoned hamburgers, potato salad and a variety of soft drinks. Spark hearty hamburgers with the zest of Tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning, and add more of the spice to Garden Potato Salad, a luscious mixture that includes fresh scallions, celery, cucumber, green pepper and radishes. For color, garnishiced tea or soft drinks with lime or orange slices. An easy decorating trick is to roll the silverware in white paper napkins and fasten with ribbon and seals in soft colors. They will make almost as big a hit as the real diplomas!

"B" Club Compiling Track, Field Records

Record-setting performances in track and field events by Buchanan high school athletes are being prepared for posting at the high school, according to Don Renhack, track coach.

He announced this week that the "B" club is planning to place a plaque in the gymnasium, listing known track and field records. Renhack added that the records are being taken from old record books, and may not be complete. ## Pony League Results

As result of play in the Pony League last week, three teams are tied for first place and three are tied for fourth place in the standings. The White Sox suffered their first loss of the season, at the hands of the Cubs, and the Braves won their first game in four starts, beating the Cardinals.

Sox vs. Cubs
In the game played at Memorial field June 24, the second place Cubs upset previously unbeaten White Sox 6-5.

Rex Polley (21) claimed the victory, holding the Sox to seven hits, while striking out five batters and issuing three walks. Steve Couchman was the loser, giving up four hits while fanning 10 opponents and giving up four bases on balls.

Jerry Flener swung the big bat for the Cubs, getting a triple and two singles in four trips to the plate. Milton Kley also had 3-4, with three base hits.

Dick Best was the only Sox to collect more than one hit, with three singles in four trips.

Cardinals vs. Braves
The Braves posted their first win of the season June 25, when they defeated the Cardinals, 11-9.

Even a home run by John Clark was not enough to offset six errors by the Cards, which proved to be the deciding factor in the game. Clark suffered the loss, giving up eight hits, while striking out three, and issuing four bases on balls.

Mike Sexton (1-0) was the winning pitcher. He pitched 5 1/2 innings, giving up four hits while striking out two batters and giving up three bases on balls. He was relieved by Bill Dalrymple in the sixth, who gave up four hits, while fanning one opponent and issuing one walk.

Swinging the big bat for the Braves were Sexton and B Naragon, who each collected two singles. Getting more than one hit for the Cardinals was Mike Shirley, with two base hits.

Cardinals	9	8	6
Braves	11	8	1

Tigers vs. Yankees
In a game played June 27, the Tigers came from behind in the sixth inning to post a 9-6 victory over the Yankees. Both hurlers turned in good performances, but six errors by the Yankees was a deciding factor.

Ron Pinkston (20) was credited with the win. His four hit performance was accompanied by six strike outs and nine bases on balls. Jim Rumsey was the loser, giving up four hits while posting one strike out and allowing nine bases on balls. Phil Churchill gave up two hits in a relief role.

Larry Watson of the Tigers was the only slugger to collect more than one hit. He was credited with two singles in four trips.

Tigers	9	6	2
Yankees	6	4	6

Braves vs. Sox
Steve Couchman bounced back from a loss earlier in the week to hurl a two-hitter Friday, as the White Sox trounced the Braves, 12-2. Couchman (3-1) struck out five Braves and allowed three to walk to first base.

Bill Stroud suffered the loss. He pitched four innings before being relieved by Mike Sexton, and allowed six hits while striking out two and issuing four bases on balls. Sexton pitched one inning, allowing three hits, striking out two and giving up one base on balls.

Three Sox shared batting honors, as Ray Russell, Terry Handley and David Handley each collected two singles.

Reds vs. Indians

Two home runs in the fifth and sixth innings by Alan Aalf, sparked the Reds to a 10-9 victory over the Little League Indians June 24 at Smith park. On four trips to the plate, Aalfs blasted the two homers and a double, with the second one a grand slam. He was the only Reds slugger to collect a hit.

Supported by Aalf's bat, Mike Aalfs was the winning pitcher. He posted eight strike outs and gave up only one base on balls. Mike Simpson was the loser. He fanned 10 batters and issued eight bases on balls.

Leading sluggers for the Indians were Michael Simpson with a single and double in four trips, Jerry Hubbard with a triple and single in four trips, and Clifford Thompson with two base hits.

Losing pitcher was Butch Taube, who fanned nine batters and issued two walks.

Lou Burroughs' "Baby"

Behind Scenes Story of E-V's "Oscar" Traced

The following feature article tracing the development of Electro-Voice's award winning microphone was written by Dorothea Jaffe...

Why would a microphone win an Academy Award? Although it is no glamour creature in satins and furs...

The winner, the first microphone to be singled out for a technical award in 20 years of these contests...

There have been efforts over the years to produce a microphone to meet these demands but no offering won acceptance until this year's award winner...

This directional microphone is capable of picking up sound in situations where a microphone cannot be placed close to the sound source...

To the TV viewer or the movie goer, this means simply that thanks to this microphone he can get beautiful reproduction of the actor's voices...

In more technical language, the manufacturers describe it this way: "It cleans the path of ambient noises and reverbation, and picks up that which the producer desires to transmit..."

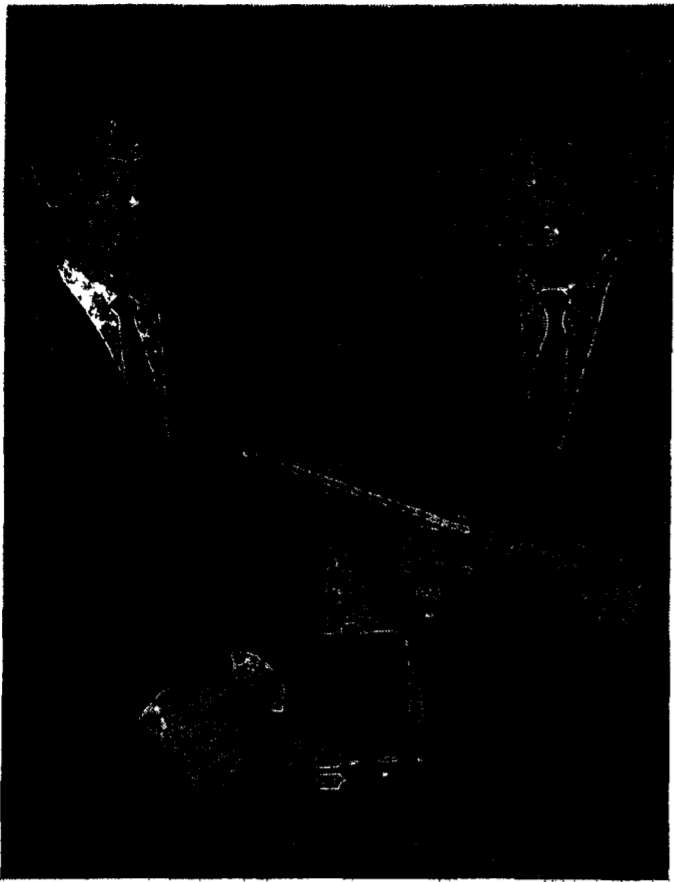

"It's not a panacea," says Lou Burroughs, Electro-Voice vice-president who has nursed the microphone from its inception to Hollywood glory...

Stars Help Development Ed Sullivan, Lawrence Welk, Garry Moore, Pat Boone, and other stars gave it early tests and have used it continuously...

Burroughs got his Hollywood and Broadway contacts thru force of circumstances. Electro-Voice had put him in charge of its professional division because of his bent for developmental work...

Lou is the sort of person who loses himself evenings in home hobbies such as photography (his wife had to take up the same hobby in order to have time with him) and studying the lore of old Rolls Royce cars...

Indeed, Lou would have been happy to spend all his time in dark room and research laboratories. But his job made it necessary for him to change the tenor of his life drastically...

ing singers, actors, and band leaders, he had to leave his pleasant scientific ivory tower and spend days and nights in the studios amid the white lights of Broadway and Hollywood...

Wait, Wait and Talk! Burroughs went at his new duties with his usual intensity. "I wanted to find out what the performers needed," he said...

Often he just sat around all day. He took photographs with his Hasselbald camera, discussed things with engineers when they had trouble...

"Why do you do it that way?" he would ask. "What is it you want? Lou said the answer he got oftenest was, 'We need more reach.' They wanted a microphone that would work effectively at a greater distance..."

After a day like this he would spend another day the same way, seemingly wasting time but actually studying every angle.

"You might as well be on our payroll," one of the workers kidded, seeing Lou there again. Lou smiled. He didn't mind kidding. When he had learned all he needed to find out, he went back to the Electro-Voice laboratory and told the engineers what was wanted...

Try Out Mikes At this point Burroughs took prototypes to New York and asked some of the top performers he had come to know to try them out. When they put them to use they wouldn't return the prototypes but kept on using them. They were smart to do this, for another year passed before the model was ready for the market...

The acceptance of the new microphone was rapid after it went on the market. It was quite a triumph, but the Electro-Voice people were the first to point out that they made fullest use of earlier efforts of the industry to produce a microphone with "more reach."

Albert Kahn, president of the company, notes that as early as 1935 a parabolic microphone that did a good job was on the market. But it required a bowl 10 feet in diameter to get results equivalent to those of the 642, and that meant it was a cumbersome thing to use...

In 1945 another try was made with a ribbon cardioid microphone. That too never became...

son, ABC technician in charge, reported results "outstanding." Recently it has been used for President Kennedy's press conferences. An ABC official, Merle C. Worster, wrote of this use: "These microphones are a must to make it possible to pick up questions from the press and answer without the necessity of resorting to hand mikes and the resulting problem of passing the mike from hand to hand, getting tangled up, etc."

The Electro-Voice staff was happy about the acceptance of the two new microphones, but it wasn't until Bruce Denny head of Paramount's sound engineering department, suggested it that the company thought of entering the Oscar competition. Not remembering hearing of a microphone getting an award, they took Mr. Denny's suggestion rather lightly, but they did send a one-page letter of application to the Academy Awards committee.

Wins Award Immediately things began to happen. When an invitation came to Electro-Voice to appear before the nominating committee, Burroughs jumped a plane for Hollywood and was on hand to answer questions. Next thing came a message inviting a representative of the company to be present on the night of the awards to receive a Class III certificate, that awarded those who have made a special contribution to the technical resources of motion picture production. Two awards were given in this classification this year, but only one for a microphone, and that the first given for such an instrument since 1943.

Explaining the award, Burroughs, who is given to understatement, said, "This class is not for a revolutionary discovery but for a good useful tool not before available to motion picture producers. That's all we claim for it. But it is so useful it has moved in everywhere."

"Our Oscar" No Oscar statuette was given for the technical awards this year, but to the women whose skillful fingers fashioned the 642 in the Electro-Voice factory here, an Academy award is an Oscar, and the morning after the awards were made there was much exulting over "our Oscar." Every girl working on the 642's felt she had had a part in the big TV show.

Doris Mitch, Lucille Ott, and Wanda Lolmaugh, the three who do the precision assembly work and the balancing of the tubes, told this writer how they felt the night of the awards. One cut short her bowing, the others hurriedly finished household tasks, and all rushed to their sets to see "our microphone on TV."

"We'd really put pains into those mikes," said Lucille. "We were thrilled to think we were going to see one on television." But they didn't get to see the presentation. Just as the technical awards were to be announced a commercial broke in and that was it. When the commercial concluded the program was moving on to the next classification. It was only later, when Don Kirkendall, who was attending the ceremony, came home, that they heard all about it.

Two others who didn't see the award were Albert Kahn and Lou Burroughs, who had so much to do with making it possible. They were home in Buchanan, thinking about what to do next.

How Business Started That's what they have been doing since, as youthful partners in the radio repair business in the dawn of the radio industry, they started their business careers.

The date was 1927. Both lads were recently out of high school. Al was selling used cars in his home town of South Bend, Ind. Lou had a job at Studebaker, working in the shop. Both had made their own radio sets and picked up some spare change repairing neighbors' sets when the neighbors couldn't get KDKA. They saw a business opportunity. The stores selling radios were trying to service them and were unable to fill the demand. Al borrowed $32, Lou put in an equivalent amount, which was his week's salary, and the boys bought ladders and a meter and were in business. They made a fine deal with a music store, Al recalls. "They offered us a flat rate of $4.50 for every roof aerial we installed. We worked nights with a spotlight on the car and one night we installed eight aerials. Things looked pretty good to us."

It's a long story from there. Progress to a garage basement workshop in South Bend, Public address business with their own hand-made microphones. Al setting up Electro-Voice to sell microphones to ever more important customers. A growing plant, with factories in Buchanan, and three other cities. The revolutionary MP microphone used by the Armed Forces in World War II. Commissioned in...

Generally, however, this microphone has had more peaceful use. The first test made of it was in the 1930 ABC telecast of a Pasadena Tournament of Roses parade. Richard W. Wil-

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom.

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

Other Principles hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.

13. The Right to Live where he pleases.

14. The Right to Work where he wants to.

15. The Right to Belong to an Organization.

16. The Right to Own Property.

17. The Right to Start his Own Business.

18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.

19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.

21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with those of Other Individuals.

Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.

23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People.

Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.

24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives.

The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law. But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. And these too, are foundations of Americanism.

25. A Man shall be Judged by his Own Record.

A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.

26. A Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can.

We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.

27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work.

Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work.

28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job.

Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.

29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability.

Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.

30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself.

The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles.

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and ## 40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .
