Telephone Company clarifies new services

The Record has received, from Wanda Shirley, Niles Area Manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Company, more information to correct and clarify the new telephone services to be offered to Buchanan area residents in the fall

The Electronic Switching System (ESS) is designed to give several new services to area customers such as three-way calling, speed calling, call waiting and call forwarding

1 Three-way calling. a three way conversation may be carried on at one time.

2. Speed calling a call may be placed by dialing only two or three digits even on long distance calls with this feature.

3. Call waiting When talking on the telephone and someone is trying to reach you, this permits you to pick up the call without hanging up on the first party

4 Call forwarding Expecting an important call but must go out? The system can automatically switch the call to the number where you can be reached

The electronic switching system is scheduled to begin operating on September 17. Orders for one or more of these additional services plus touch-tone dialing may be placed beginning in July. For more information call Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

City applies for winter disaster funds

A representative from Arrow Cable TV in Kalamazoo appeared before the city commission Monday to discuss a possible franchise in Buchanan. He said that the installation cost (often waived for the first customers) would be $20, and the monthly fee would be $6. He was asked to furnish more financial data and was told that the city's charter requires a general election on the subject, the cost of which the applicant would pay

Last year, the city applied for and got $116,000 in HUD funds So far only $69,088.83 has been spent, and $46,911 17 more must be spent some way The representative from Leslie Cripps Associates, the firm which is hired to apply for HUD funds, pointed out that the city's contract with that firm had been overdrawn. The contract was for $15,500, and the firm asked that it be raised to $18,753. The commission approved this amendment to the contract, but Ben Jenson voted no.

Revised insurance bids were received from two firms There was only $157 difference between the two bids, so Hanlin-Rifenberg, the lowest bidder, was awarded the insurance business for the city for a total premium of $27,495

The commission again tabled a request from Willie Brown to purchase three city owned lots on Bluff Street The main question seemed to be what minimum price to put on them before offering them at open bidding

It was voted to again charge Unity Hospital a dollar a year for city sewer service.

The commission approved an invoice for $10,620 from Michigan Municipal Workers Compensation Fund.

Since Berrien County is applying for disaster relief funds for the unusually severe winter, the Buchanan City Commission approved a resolution to see if they too could get a piece of it They applied for $20,000 maximum for disaster relief, and again Ben Jenson was the only one who voted no.

An invoice from A H Choitz for $12,098 for a John Deere backhoe was approved.

Approval was given to the Disabled Veterans to sell forget-me-nots in Buchanan on September 8, 9 and 10

Channel 46 bought by Lesea Broadcasting of South Bend

Lesea Broadcasting Network announced that the Federal Communication Commission this month has granted ownership of Channel 46 television in South Bend to Lesea Broadcasting, a South Bend based corporation with its president, Dr. Lester Sumrall

Lesea is a group owned family Christian broadcasting network bringing wholesome family programming as an alternative to network dominated crime and violence Lesea owns television stations WHFT TV Miami and WHMB TV Indianapolis.

Their concept for programming these stations is family type entertainment programs during the day, such as, Dennis the Menace, Leave It To Beaver, Lassie, cartoons and the Little Rascals, with prime time in the evening being dedicated to gospel programming

Dr Sumrall stated that his main goal for owning television stations around the country is "to win souls for Jesus Christ and to give Americans an alternative to the sadistic sex exploited amusement of modern TV"

Statistics show that in over a years' time the average American watches over one and one half months of television, 24 hours a day or 20 hours of television a week According to the Nielsen Television Index, children from 3 to 5 years of age spend 64 per cent of the time they are awake during the day in front of the television set. By the time a child is in the 8th grade, he has actually witnessed violent assaults, murders and afflictions of some 18,000 humans on television

Dr Sumrall went on to say that Christian television could be the most powerful thrust that Christianity has ever made in its history There are only a total of twelve Christian television stations around the world

In the 1950's, Dr Sumrall founded the Lester Sumrall Evangelistic Association in South Bend after having been a world missionary in over 100 countries, building up churches in the Philippines, Hong Kong, and Brazil

Today besides his television outreach for the gospel of Jesus Christ, he operates WHME Radio in South Bend, and he is the editor of World Harvest Magazine, circulated in over 100 nations of the world He is the founder and president of World Harvest Bible College, South Bend and sponsors over 600 orphans and is pastor of Christian Center Church on Ireland Road in South Bend

Senator Don Riegle asks President Carter to help solve unemployment problem — pledge cooperation

Senator Donald W Riegle, Jr. (D-MI) called on President Jimmy Carter to place as much "energy and imagination into solving the nation's unemployment problem" as was seen in his campaign for the presidency, and pledged his own personal cooperation.

That suggestion was seconded by Senator Jacob K Javits (R-NY) when the two legislators appeared with Labor Secretary Ray Marshall, to discuss "What Hope For Our Unemployed" on the public-interest forum 'National Public Radio' at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts

Riegle urged Carter to set the unemployment problem, and not programs such as the $92 billion B-1 Bomber, at the top of the list of national spending priorities. "It ought to be national policy in this country that every person who is willing and able to work has a meaningful job," he said. A key element in moving the country toward full employment, he said, is a 'revitalization of the government's relationship with business.' All three panelists agreed that a "strong partnership between government and business" can increase private sector jobs and reduce unemployment

Unemployment can be reduced, Riegle said, without resulting in increased prices "With high unemployment, the country is run inefficiently -- 18 per cent of our plant equipment now sits idle causing decreased production and higher prices. That's inflationary. When the system is run efficiently, with increased employment and full production, the unit price drops," he said.

Riegle countered moderator Irving R Levine's (NBC News) comment that 'help wanted' signs are frequently seen in fast-food operations, while people complain about a lack of work "In my own state of Michigan, when an employer is even rumored to have jobs available, long lines form overnight of people waiting to apply. People want to work," he said

Riegle also called for an increase in the current $2 30 minimum wage. He described the living conditions resulting from a 40-hour work week at minimum wage -- after taxes, of living on $10 a day -- as "impractical, not survivable You can't support a family on $10 a day. These wage earners must be provided with a liveable and adequate income," he said

Senators Riegle and Javits, both members of a House-Senate conference committee on youth employment legislation, were instrumental in developing a program of targetting funds to relieve the "tragic waste -- unemployment of the nation's most vital resource -- our youth." The Youth Employment and Training Act of 1977 will establish employment services for youth through the CETA program, create a young adult conservation corps similar to jobs programs of the 1930's, and local public works projects for youth employment

Delmont V. Shaller appointed manager of Cook Nuclear Plant at Bridgman

The appointment of Delmont V. Shaller as manager of the Donald C. Cook Nuclear Plant at Bridgman (Michigan) was announced by Indiana & Michigan Electric Company. He succeeds Robert W. Jurgensen who last week was named head of the American Electric Power Service Corporation's Nuclear Engineering Division in New York Both moves are effective July 1.

In a related move, B.A. "Bert" Svensson, operations supervisor at the Cook Plant, succeeds Shaller as assistant plant manager. Both utility executives hold senior reactor operators licenses from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Shaller's utility career began in 1949 at I&M's Twin Branch Plant in Mishawaka, Indiana, where he was hired as an engineer trainee. He held various engineering posts prior to a military leave of absence with the U.S. Marine Corps from 1951 until 1952. Shaller returned to the plant as a production engineer and was advanced to supervising production engineer and assistant maintenance supervisor before assuming the position of maintenance supervisor in 1963. He joined the staff at the Bridgman nuclear facility in September 1969 as assistant plant manager.

He received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Notre Dame in 1949 and in 1962 attended the Management Training Program at the University of Michigan sponsored by I&M's parent company, American Electric Power. In 1966, Shaller spent five weeks observing the operation of the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Plant of Southern California Edison Company near San Clemente

Svensson joined AEP in New York in 1955 as a senior draftsman in the Mechanical Design Section, and later was assigned to the Results Section at Ohio Power Company's Kammer Plant, an I&M sister utility. In 1965 he was assigned to the AEP Service Corporation in Canton, Ohio, as an engineer and returned to New York in 1966 as an engineer in the Results Section. He joined I&M's nuclear facility in September 1969, the same time as Shaller, as operations supervisor.

A native of Sweden, he holds a mechanical engineering degree from Norrkopings Teknisko College in Gymnasiom. He also attended the AEP Management Training Program at the University of Michigan in 1975.

'Safety is a good investment' theme of National Farm Safety Week

"Safety is a good investment" That's the theme of National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31 Not enough of our producers, however, consider safety's return equal in importance to cash flow, production practices, tax and estate planning; but it is.

"In today's agriculture, every effort on the farm has to pay off to remain solvent," says Dr. Richard Pfister, Michigan State University Extension safety engineer.

Of course safety can help save lives and prevent a lot of sadness, suffering and disruption of life. And it can also help keep people on the job -- full time, undiminished, unimpaired.

Insurance pays you when you have an accident. Safety pays when you do not. It can keep insurance costs down For instance, Michigan has about 5,000 disabling farm work accidents annually Any reduction in the accident rate would be reflected in the 5 to 8 per cent of the total labor costs that go into workman's compensation.

Managing for safety can keep the cash flowing into more land, better equipment or even a nice vacation rather than to pay off medical or legal bills

A safe farmstead is also more attractive to competent labor. It is less likely to be brought to the attention of state safety inspectors and less likely to be wiped out by a heavy damage suit brought on by an injured worker or visitor. And if facilities and equipment are properly maintained for maximum safety, workers will perform at their most productively, efficiently and economically.

Berrien County commissioners were among approximately 230 representatives from more than 50 counties participating in Michigan State University's "Commissioners' Day" June 15 on the campus. Shown are (l-r) Clare Musgrove, county Extension director, Ernest Chase, Willie Akew, and Dr. James Anderson, new dean of the MSU College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Divided into groups, the commissioners were bused to six stops during the morning which featured MSU's latest research in energy conservation, crop and animal development. Following a luncheon at The Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, the commissioners were further updated on activities of the Cooperative Extension Service, Agricultural Experiment Station and College of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Sue Thompson is vice president of the Board of Directors for the Four Flags Area Apple Festival. She is also the Calendar of Events chairman This is a job that must be started a year in advance so the events, activities and people can all be co-ordinated into the four day festival.

The Berrien County Record office will be closed Monday, July 4, in observance of Memorial Day.

The Record would appreciate receiving as many news items as possible by 5 p.m., Friday, July 1.

Opinions

Ag in Action

Faddists "Muddy" Water

One of the biggest farces to come along in recent years is the campaign by a bunch of poorly-informed vegetarians intended to scare the uninformed into joining them in a meatless existence. President Carter was even sucked into the so-called Food Day effort and was served a meatless dinner in "honor" of the Third National Food Day in April.

While there is nothing wrong with a meatless diet, either nutritionally or tastewise, there is plenty wrong with maligning meat, dairy and poultry products and implying that they are not tasty, nutritious and healthful.

Food Day enthusiasts promote the idea that farm products fed to livestock, poultry and dairy animals are extravagances, and that the grain and feed supplements would go further if fed to people. This is a typical misrepresentation of the economic facts of food production.

Those who know anything about farming know that about one-third of the land in agriculture is devoted to pasture and hay production. For the most part, this land is unfit for grain production, and the best way to have it contribute to the nation's food supply is to pasture it with some form of livestock. In certain types of farming operations, a relatively small amount of grain is then fed to the animals to "finish" them into the kind of meat Americans enjoy eating. To detract from this sensible, economic and conserving program is idiocy.

For several years, eggs, pork and milk have suffered the slander of those who, without conclusive proof, blame them for the cholesterol problems of the world. This propaganda has led to larger markets for margaine, egg substitutes, and phony bacon. Now livestock products -- like the delicious T-bone steak, pork chops, and standing rib roast -- come under the same kind of misguided slander

People in most countries of the world envy our U.S. food production record Why should a small group of our well-fed citizens meddle in this issue when the American people have the freedom to "order up" whatever kind of diet they want? If they choose meat, meat production will prosper; if they reject meat, its production will drop Demand, or lack of it, tells the farmer what to produce. Farmers don't need poorly-informed cultists muddying the water.

Loves trees

Dear Editor:

Well, the county is at it again. Summer is here and instead of removing snow the county is busy removing all the trees that border our county roads This time its the catalpa trees along Terrecoupe road. How much is this idiotic project costing us taxpayers? Never have I seen so much waste of machinery, fuel, labor, high payed supervision, on such ridiculous projects. When will the county stop wasting the lives of trees because no alternative job can be found. Besides the I & M, the county can be held directly responsible for the barren roads that used to be tree lined and peacefull to drive down. Instead of altering an electric pole the I & M will cut down a two hundred year old oak and put a fifty foot pine post in its place. I'd like to see that on one of their TV commercials. They're working together all right the county and I & M to rid our people of the tree lined roads

Invitations?

Dear Editor

As a concerned taxpayer I was in attendance at the June 14 City of Buchanan Plan Commission public hearing meeting. Buchanan Township residents had been advised to attend and many did. Much of the opening portion of the meeting was taken up with our Township officials discussing who was or wasn't communicating or cooperating with whom and the availability of the meetings to discuss issues of concern.

On June 6 and 13 Township residents were invited to attend the June 15 Landfill Authority regular meeting at 7:00 p.m. as franchising of the Landfill was to be discussed. This invitation was also extended at the Buchanan City Commission June 13 meeting by their representative. These invitations were published in the Berrien County Record following these meetings.

On June 14 about 4:00 p.m I called our Township Clerk to be sure the June 15th meeting was being held at the Landfill office and she said it was. She called my home that night and found I had left but didn't come by to tell us of the change in location. Five interested taxpayers took the time to attend I went to the Township Hall to check and was met outside the building by one of our Planning Commission members and was told he knew nothing of a Landfill meeting Two others called the Township office and received the same response. No notice of meeting or posting of change was there No matter how those in authority want to interpret the State of Michigan "open meetings act" Senate Bill No. 920 the intent was not to conceal a change of meeting in a locked office that is about 100 feet inside a fence with a locked gate. Also I would like to know why there isn't press releases concerning these Metro Unit meetings? House Bill No. 6085 State of Michigan guarantees us "freedom of information"

We are just about to end a year long celebration of 200 years of freedom as a nation let us continue to celebrate our freedoms

Park names

Dear Editor,

I agree with the letter by Dean Swem and the renaming of Centennial Park and ball park So many persons are involved with projects like this, you can't honor them all by name Why not stick to a neutral, non-controversial name Why not a letter campaign from the townspeople with the Park Board honorbound to select the majority vote?

In the meantime, fellow citizens, take heart and don't despair, in another 10 years or so they'll rename all of it for some other fellow with an inflated ego who enjoys having his name bandied about

Police help

Editor,

Just a note to tell ya about a local policeman. When the boy got shot with the gun that policeman fixed him up fine. Maybe kept him from bleeding to death with his doctoring. God bless that policeman.

Tax rate

Dear Editor,

On July 1, the income tax rate is scheduled to decrease from 4.6 per cent to 4.4 per cent. This reduction would reduce state revenues in this fiscal year about $20 million, and lower next year's revenues by about $90 million.

Four months ago, when I announced my opposition to continuing the 4 6 per cent rate, I cited four reasons for my position. These reasons were valid then, and are still valid.

First, the 4.6 per cent rate has actually raised tens of millions of dollars more revenue than the sales tax on food and drugs would have brought in over the same period. Raising the income tax from 3.9 per cent to 4 6 per cent two years ago was designed to replace revenues lost when the sales tax on food and drugs was eliminated. But the Senate Fiscal Agency estimates that the higher income tax next year will raise $44 million more than the sales tax on food and drugs would have collected

Second, the revenue from the 0 2 per cent is not needed to balance this year's budget, and I do not believe that it will be needed to balance next year's, either. The Senate Fiscal Agency currently estimates that this fiscal year will end with a surplus of $9 million, even if the income tax is allowed to decrease to 4 4 per cent. For next year, the University of Michigan's Research Seminar in Quantitative Economics (RSQE) estimates that the state's income tax and sales tax revenues will be $112 million higher than Executive Office projections RSQE's revenue estimates for previous years have been very accurate.

Third, the Governor and legislature have yet to implement many of the recommendations of the Michigan Efficiency Task Force These proposals, if adopted, would provide the state with $130 million in annual savings, and an additional $60 million in one-time savings If additional revenue were needed by the state, these recommendations must first be considered.

Fourth, even supporters of the maintenance of the 4 6 per cent rate concede that revenues without the 0.2 per cent will be sufficient to pay the state's bills next year. Revenue from the 0 2 per cent would instead be placed in a budget stabilization fund, to be saved for a rainy day I cannot support increasing taxes today to possibly avoid a tax increase sometime in the future

When the income tax rate was increased from 3 9 per cent to 4.6 per cent two years ago, the bill clearly stated that the tax rate would be lowered to 4.4 per cent on July 1, 1977. This is a promise we made to the people of Michigan and as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I intend to see that this promise is kept.

For You From Unity Hospital

When your child goes to the Hospital --- Your child's likely to have many questions and many fears about what will happen -- "Will they hurt me? Why can't my parents take me home? Am I being punished for something I did wrong? Why is everything so scary?" How well your child will cope depends largely on you! So here are some guidelines to help you prepare him-her. First: Prepare yourself -- Try to understand and overcome your own fears negative feelings -- they'll be sensed by your child. Then prepare your child -- Your child will accept the idea of hospitalization more easily if it's clear you think it's best. Beginning 1-3 days before entering the hospital: 1. Explain why hospitalization is necessary. 2. Describe what will happen. 3. Encourage child to work out feelings ahead of time.

An important point to remember -- Your child should be prepared to deal with other patients (children) and their possible attitudes, crying, pain, bleeding, apparatus and etc. Reassure your child by telling him-her it's O.K. to be afraid, to cry if it hurts; that everyone is afraid at times; that doctors, nurses and you will be there to give comfort.

So -- be sure your child is fully prepared for a new and difficult experience in hospitalization. Try not to worry -- Children's bodies are basically strong. Before you know it, your child will bounce back to GOOD HEALTH.

Tapping Alaskan Natural Gas: The Lesson of the Trans-Alaskan Pipeline

At 9.00 A.M. Monday June 20th the Trans-Alaska pipeline was opened and the first of what will be eventually 1 2 million barrels of oil a day began flowing through the pipes. It is estimated that it will take 30 days for the oil to snake its way from the Prudhoe Bay oil field on the Artic shore to Prince William Sound, 789 miles to the south. At the end of the trip, tankers will be waiting to transport the oil to mainland U.S.A.

All that would seem to be a major step in our move towards national oil independence except that not all of the oil that will come into the United States will stay here. Some of it will be exported. Why? Because there are not adequate pipeline facilities on the West Coast through which the Alaskan oil can be pumped to the west and midwestern states where it is needed.

Lack of planning? Certainly. And yet there is a chance the mistake will be repeated.

While exploring for oil in the Prudhoe reservoir, engineers found that the sandstone formation that holds the 9 7 billion barrels of petroleum also contains an estimated 24.5 trillion cubic feet of natural gas. Everyone is aware of the critical need for natural gas in both the western and midwestern areas of our country. (Last winter's severe weather made the point very clearly with its school and plant closings.) The only question is how to get the natural gas from Alaska to the areas that need it the most.

The Federal Power Commission is now considering three transport options. One would be to pipe the gas to the ice-free waters on the southern coast of Alaska where the gas would be liquefied, shipped to California and then returned to its natural gaseous state for distribution The other two options would be to pipe the gas directly to the northern states using either existing or new pipelines. Once inside the United States, the pipelines would split, with one segment running to the mid-west states and one running to the west coast.

We've already seen that shipping the gas to California is not the answer because there are not adequate pipelines available to get the gas out of California and into the areas in need. The answer would be to transport the gas through a natural gas pipeline that would run directly from Alaska to the United States through Canada.

I have joined with several other Congressmen from the mid-west urging the FPC to recommend the overland pipeline as the most effective means of transport. We have urged the Commission not to repeat the mistake of the nascent oil pipeline. The direct route; in this case, is very definitely the best route.

New product — A Bummer

A unique bicycle seat, called the "Bummer", was named Michigan Product of the Year by the Greater Michigan Foundation. The Bummer was cited for its practicality and general appeal

Keeping the cyclist's riding comfort and anatomy in mind, the Bummer with its hammock-like construction does away with straddling the traditional bicycle seat.

A totally new concept in bicycle seating, the Bummer consists of elongated flexible safety webbing, covered by foam-filled suede finished Naugahyde The seat is suspended from two pivot points supported by chrome plated tubular steel and is mounted transversely on the bicycle frame In this way, the Bummer supports the entire backside area of the rider It flexes and pivots with the movement of the cyclist's legs and hips, thereby eliminating the friction and abrasion sometimes caused by traditional bicycle seats, The Bummer fits most makes of bicyces and exercycles

The Bummer is one of 14 inventions of John L Marchello of South Lyon, Michigan Marchello is a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Architecture and Design Among his inventions are law enforcement protective products including safety helmets, industrial wrap around safety goggles, motorcycle face shields, hockey helmets, high school and collegiate wrestling-helmets and nose shields for horses which block out cold air and dirt for winter racing

Michigan tourism double national average

With the big July Fourth summer holiday still to come, Michigan tourism already is on the way to another record after last year's increase that was more than double the national average, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"All of the traditional tourism indicators -- state park and private campground use, sales receipts for lodgings, restaurants, gift shops and other resort-related businesses and vehicle miles driven -- are up over last year," stated Joseph L Ratke, Auto Club Touring manager

"If good weather holds, we are predicting motorists will drive a record 765 million miles in Michigan over the four-day July Fourth holiday, and that is 15 million miles more than the previous record set last year for the same 78-hour holiday," Ratke said

Ratke based his prediction on steadily rising traffic counts and continuing increases in gasoline consumption recorded by the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation.

"The past Memorial Day weekend was a record for that holiday as ideal weather held for the entire four days and lured so many motorists to resort centers that tourism registered a 20 per cent increase over the same 1976 holiday," Ratke said

For the first five months of the year, Auto Club member requests for routings to Michigan destinations were up 24 4 per cent over last year, Ratke noted

He also noted that through June 5, total attendance figures at state parks and recreation areas -- both campgrounds and dayuse facilities -- were up 35 per cent over 1976 Campground attendance alone was up 15 per cent, while attendance at dayuse parks was up 39 per cent Ratke said the big increases can be attributed to excellent weather most of May and into June

"The Memorial Day weekend showed a 46 per cent attendance increase over 1976 at state park facilities, and the July Fourth weekend also should be up over last year, judging by the experience so far this year," Ratke said

Tourism in Michigan last year was a $7-billion business, with tourism activity up 12 4 per cent over 1975, Ratke noted. That percentage growth was more than double the national average, which was about 5 2 per cent in 1976, he said

All tourism indicators point to an even brighter picture for Michigan this year. It started with the state's booming ski business, with Michigan's winter resorts getting lots of snow and attracting snow-starved skiers from popular western U S ski centers

Excellent weather throughout May and the record Memorial Day holiday weekend added to the tourism boom, Ratke noted

Many popular resort centers in Michigan -- especially in the West -- reported all lodgings booked completely for the Memorial Day holiday, and heavy advance reservations are reported for the July Fourth weekend

To avoid disappointment, Auto Club advises motorists to make reservations as early as possible or to be flexible in planning trips and try for lodgings a few miles away from their destinations

With Michiganians expected to drive more miles than ever before on a July Fourth weekend, Auto Club urges motorists to use extra caution and to observe the gas-saving, life-saving 55 mile-per-hour speed limit

Last July Fourth weekend, Michiganians experienced their safest summer driving holiday in 14 years, with 19 persons killed on the state's roads Over the Memorial Day weekend, 28 persons lost their lives in Michigan traffic accidents.

The July Fourth weekend officially begins at 6 p m. Friday, July 1, and ends at midnight Monday, July 4, and Automobile Club of Michigan's "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service again will be keeping tabs on state traffic and tourism.

Beginning at 3 p.m. July 1 and continuing through the weekend, Auto Club's Holiday News Service will provide hourly bulletins to nearly 160 radio stations around the state.

Peak traffic periods should be between 7 and 10 p m July 1, when the majority of motorists head out for their holidays, and between 2 and 10 p.m. July 4, during the homebound rush

Dr and Mrs. Kenneth Jones were guests of Metea residents and assisted with the transportation

Approximately thirty people attended the Metea Court cooperative dinner Sunday, June 19

Special guests were Rev and Mrs. Kenneth Sparks of the Buchanan Church of the Nazarene and their daughter, Becky of Lansing, who arrived to pay a surprise Father's Day visit to Rev. Sparks.

The consensus of all was that Metea residents are good cooks (really with an assist here and there from Sonny Riley) and the Sparks family was particularly interested in Aurilia Atkinson's rice and asparagus casserole.

Elder Lee Coonfare, Metea Resident, asked the blessing and following dinner Rev. Sparks led a "favorite hymn" sing with Mrs. Sparks as accompanist

Rev. and Mrs. Sparks each sang and Mrs. Lee Coonfare joined them for a trio in another hymn.

The inspirational message Rev. Sparks brought was based on a phrase from Psalm 23, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life."

Cancer Service reports

A continuing increase in the nursing and related service activities were again high-lighted by the Cancer Service of Berrien County at its annual meeting, concluded recently at the main office in St. Joseph.

In addition to reporting the results of operations from 1976-77, three new members were welcomed to the board of directors, an extensive revision of by-laws was adopted and officers were elected for the 1977-78 year.

The president, W H. Keefe of Niles, noted that 1976 marked the third straight year in which there was a substantial increase in the requirements for cancer service in Berrien County. He also noted that in spite of the organization's 29 years of service to the people of Berrien County the organization was often confused with the American Cancer Society. Keefe noted that, "We are a volunteer organization working with United Fund support and with a paid professional staff and in Berrien County the Cancer Service is not the Cancer Society."

Operations for 1976 were summarized by Keefe: "In 1976 our nurses made 7,466 home visits to cancer patients, an increase of 10 per cent over 1975 and we served a total of 833 patients during the year, an increase of 39 per cent over 1975. In order to provide that service we incurred expenses of $103,215, an increase of 20 per cent over 1975."

Mrs. Olive Colcard, R.N Director of Professional Services reported the increase in patient levels has continued into 1977 and a fourth nurse has been added in order to meet the needs

Mrs Colcord also reported that a new service, performed by a volunteer, Mrs Burt Luth of Niles, has been added to the organization Mrs Luth, a retired nurse, received some specialized training through the auspices of the Cancer Service and is helping laryngectomy patients to learn to speak again after having their larynx removed.

The three new members welcomed to the board of directors are Dr. Vernon Strand of St. Joseph, Mrs. Paul Sage of Benton Harbor and Mrs. Vilma Roumell of New Buffalo

Officers elected for the year 1977-78 are W.H. Keefe of Niles, president, Robert Koenigshof of Buchanan, vice-president, Mrs. Rita Reid of St. Joseph, secretary and Joseph Appel of Benton Harbor, treasurer.

Ferris State Golden Eagles

Some of them may have spent one of their namesakes many years ago, a United States ten-dollar gold piece called a "Gold Eagle" The Golden Eagles referred to here, however, are not spent, for they are this year's initiates into Ferris State College's Society of Golden Eagles

Each year new members are added to the rolls of the society as they "come of age" To "come of age" they must have graduated from Ferris State College at least 50 years ago. Approximately 25 personally received the awards at the Ferris Alumni Reunion in May, and the other inductees get them by mail

YMCA backyard pool program begins

The Niles-Buchanan YMCA's Annual Back Yard Pool Swimming Instruction Program will begin operation on Monday, June 27. At this time, the YMCA has secured the services of approximately 15 swimming pools for the summer. It is anticipated that other pools will yet be secured and we would hope that instruction by the end of the summer would have been conducted in about 30 pools

The YMCA emphasized that the real value of the Back Yard Program, is that it takes the YMCA to the neighborhood and provides services for youngsters and adults who might not otherwise be able to take advantage of the facilities of the "Y" The "Y" provides the qualified instructor, and handles all of the registration and record keeping. The only requirement on the part of the pool owner is to provide a suitable, safe and clean pool, and distribute the promotional flyer among their friends and neighbors. For the use of the pool, the YMCA will provide instruction for members of that family at no charge.

The "Y" seeks pools around the outskirts of town and in the township. Particularly attractive are those pools located in housing developments that form a neighborhood Minimum requirements of the YMCA to conduct a program in a back yard pool, include a time slot of 1½ hours Monday through Friday for two consecutive weeks. Furthermore, there must be a minimum of 15 paid students in addition to family members of the pool owner The "Y" will provide instruction at all levels, from two months through adult Pool time may be scheduled according to the convenience of the individual pool owner, and we will provide instructors at anytime -- the morning, afternoon or evening

During the summer of 1976, the YMCA taught over 300 students to swim through the Back Yard Pool Instruction Program

Families interested in providing their pools for this purpose should contact the YMCA at 683-1552

The family of wrens is growing fast If you think you have troubles, imagine having four hungry teenagers in a one room house with poor ventilation!

We were disappointed that it was decided to take the fireworks away from Memorial Field. It was so pleasant there along the side of the hill The city will spend $275,000 on downtown development and considerable money on the bicentennial program but can't find 300 bucks for the 4th of July

If attitude is important, Buchanan is in for a great football season. Mike Young's men are certainly gung ho. We wonder who the first victim will be this fall if Niles doesn't field a team

David Clemens Otto ordained priest of Kalamazoo Diocese

The Reverend David Clemens Otto is the first priest to be ordained for service in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Kalamazoo in five years. He was ordained June 17 by The Most Rev. Paul V. Donovan, Bishop of Kalamazoo, at St. Augustine Cathedral in Kalamazoo. Hundreds of well-wishers, including Father Otto's family and friends filled the Cathedral to celebrate the event.

Father Otto has been appointed temporary Associate Pastor of St. Joseph Parish in Kalamazoo by Bishop Donovan, effective June 21. The new priest has been serving the Kalamazoo parish as a deacon for the past year in preparation for ordination to the priesthood.

Father Otto was born in Minneapolis, March 1, 1950. His family lived in Minneapolis for a time, then moved to Niles, Michigan while he was still very young. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. F J Otto, still live in Niles with his younger sisters, Nona and Martha. The proud parents and Father Otto's seven brothers and sisters all attended the ordination Mass. Also present for the ordination were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Fruth from Grand Meadow, Minnesota.

Father Otto's ordination was followed by a reception in his honor at the St. Augustine Parochial Building. It was sponsored by the St. Augustine Marian Guild.

As a boy, Father Otto attended St. Mary's Catholic Grade School in Niles and went to Wawasee High School in Syracuse, Indiana, graduating in 1968. After high school, he began preparing for the priesthood at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit where he majored in Philosophy, then attended St. John's Provincial Seminary for graduate work in theology. Here he received a Master's degree in theology in December, 1975.

While in Detroit, seminarian Otto was involved in inner-city youth work and visited inmates at the Wayne County jail. During his studies at St John's Provincial Seminary, he served in a nearby parish and there experienced many aspects of parish life.

A smiling David C. Otto leaves St. Augustine Cathedral (Kalamazoo) with his parents after his ordination to the Roman Catholic Priesthood. The Most Rev. Paul V. Donovan, who ordained Otto and is Bishop of Kalamazoo, follows behind.

Track and Trail 100

They are about as different from the family car as technology could make them and a Sunday afternoon drive is 100 bone-crunching miles over terrain that includes bumps, dips, sand, mud, and traffic worthy of any rush-hour freeway in America

These are off-road racers The Michigan Association, formed only recently to promote the sport and to improve the supervision of safety and class restrictions has chosen the Buchanan Red Bud Track and Trail for the second consecutive time to hold its annual Track and Trail 100 The Buchanan facility, a superbly groomed 205 acre recreation area located three miles north of Buchanan on Redbud Trail boasts exceptional accomodations Not only does it have a demanding track, annually the American Motorcyclist Association holds a national championship event and a world class Trans-AMA, but Red Bud has excellent spectator facilities

These facilities which include camping, a restaurant and a totally new and incredibly effective radio-based sound system makes being a spectator at a Red Bud event a real pleasure, according to track owner Gene Ritchie

The race weekend which covers both Saturday and Sunday is primarily for racers on Saturday The entire field is subject to a technical inspection on Saturday before they are allowed to race on Sunday The several classes are assigned based on the inspection

On Sunday the races, there are two, each go 100 miles or 25 times around the four mile course. In the first race held in the morning, the racers are all in the four wheel drive classes. These range from stock 4-wheelers to sophisticated, and very high powered vehicles made specially for racing.

The afternoon event is indentical in format The vehicles though are a cross between a moon-rover and a drag racer. They are all, or mostly all two-wheel drive vehicles made specially for racing off road. They are extremely light bodies and chassis of exotic constuction with rear engines and enormous tires

These vehicles, often powered by VW powerplants are capable of speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour and also capable of taking the pounding handed out by a track that sports ten foot jumps and winding mud-caked hairpin turns

Off-road is a grueling test of men and machines Out of the hundred or so that often start a race it is not un-common to have more than half sidelined by mishap or accident by the conclusion of 100 miles And yet they do it for fun It was once called the purest form of self-punishment since pioneers put themselves in bone-jarring springless wagons and hurled themselves across America

Carl Rotzien — antique tractor buff

Carl Rotzien and a favorite tractor

Some of Rotzien's antique tractors

Carl Rotzien, 4140 Buffalo Road, brought several of his antique tractors out to show recently. He has at least eight antique tractors bought and reconditioned until he has them in good running condition

He began working on the tractors five years ago to keep busy following the death of his wife, Goldie. Besides working on the tractors he has 40-50 head of white-face cattle on his 100 acre farm, does a "little" farming and keeps his yard and garden in apple pie order.

The four tractors he had ready for display were: A 1925 Rumley, 1525 horsepower, one of the smallest light-weight tractors built by the Rumley Company.

A 1918 Rumley, 1630 horsepower, and is almost the smallest heavy-weight tractor built

The 1926 Rumley has 3060 horsepower, the largest of its kind built and built especially for the eight and ten bottom plows

The fourth tractor is a 1918 Avery, 2550 horsepower, standing frame transmission, chain steering.

He also has a late 1940's John Deere and a 1937 Oliver Hart-Parr

He is a member of the Heston Steam Show and displays his tractors there each year. He has shown the tractors at the Berrien County Youth Fair and several other exhibits. He drove the 1918 Avery in Buchanan's Bicentennial Parade, July 4, 1976

Mr Rotzien was born 72 years ago in Pinola, Indiana. He moved to the Buchanan area in 1934. During the 1920's he worked in the machine shop at the Rumley Tractor Company in LaPorte, Indiana. According to Rotzien, Rumley built the "Cadillac of tractors." Rotzien said, "the Rumley tractor also runs cheaper than any tractor I know of." "They are oil burners", he said. "The Avery runs on gasoline and kerosene." The Rumley factory went out of business in 1930

Mr. Rotzien has two daughters and 10 grandchildren. He also has a fox terrier named "Dammit." He is a member of Portage Prairie United Methodist Church

He is interested in any Rumley tractor he can find. He said "I guess I'm sentimental because I worked there but they are my favorite tractors. I name each tractor for one of my grandchildren."

Little dog lost — finally captured

In the merry month of May, Larry Aalfs took his thoroughbred beagle female and two young puppies to the farm of his grandmother, Mrs Jacob Aalfs, Aalfs Road, for exercise and training. One puppy named Girl, jerked loose and wouldn't return to her mother. Finally Larry gave up and went home minus one dog.

The neighbors all around caught glimpses of the little black and white beagle puppy from time to time and began leaving food out for her.

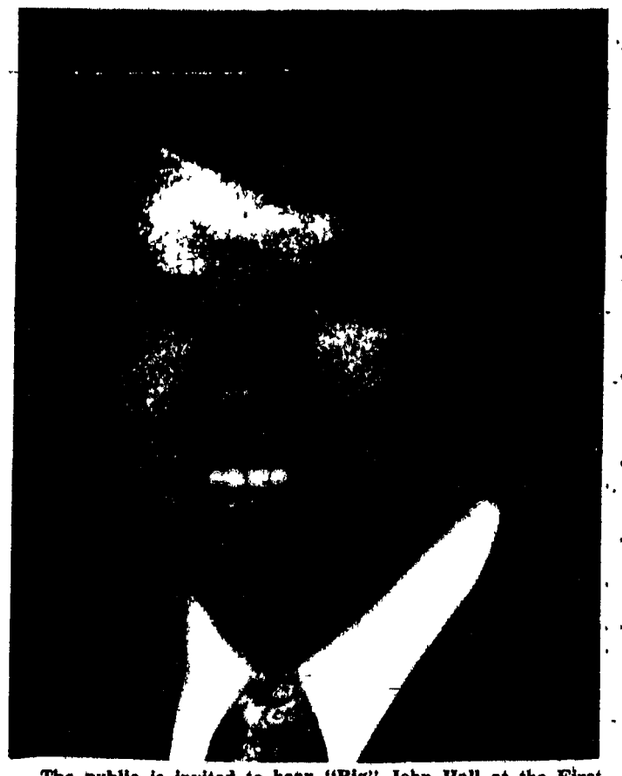
She was nervous, frightened and jumpy and no one could get close to her, but she ate the food and watched for more handouts.

The past two weeks Girl has been edging closer to her favorite spots where food was furnished by Mrs. Otis Shounk and her granddaughter, Sharon Hawks, Red Bud Trail North

Last Sunday, Sharon coaxed Girl into a swimming pool enclosure by the offer of food and closed the gate

A telephone call to the Aalfs brought Butch and Gene Aalfs on the run and the little lost dog was soon on her way home

The neighbors on Red Bud Trail North will miss you Girl



The public is invited to hear "Big" John Hall at the First Assembly of God Church, 1922 East Main Street, Niles, Sunday, July 3, at 6 p.m. Paul Fisher, pastor of the church, says, "Youthful in heart yet appealing to all ages, John Hall is fast becoming one of the most outstanding Gospel singers of our day. From his native and much beloved state of Texas, "Big" John walks right into your heart with a musical ministry that combines excellence of quality with a warmth of true spiritual radiance."

To make your money work as hard as you do...

see your action banker

Putting your hard-earned cash to work earning interest and keeping it safe – are ICB's prime responsibilities. But making sure all your available funds "are working" for you in this manner, is your responsibility. That's why you should consult with your action banker at ICB

Here are some guidelines to help you plan

■ ICB's 5% Passbook Savings Account is the way to put your dollars to work taking care of unexpected bills and emergencies. Your money earns interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal. Draw it out when you need it, put it back to work when you don't

■ ICB's 5½% Golden Key 90-Day Account is the way to put your dollars to work to provide for future, anticipated needs: a new car, a boat, furniture, appliances or other durable purchases. And with a $200 balance, it entitles you to free checking privileges with your personal checking account. (Withdrawals before the end of the calendar quarter are subject to substantial interest penalty)

■ ICB's Certificates of Deposit guarantee you from 6% to 7¼% interest, compounded annually when left to maturity, regardless of how much interest rates may decline during the period. Maturity dates range from one year at 6% to 4 years at 7¼%. (Withdrawals prior to maturity are subject to a substantial interest penalty)

■ ICB's Investment Certificates, with a maturity of 6 years, earn you the highest rate of interest allowed by law...7½% interest compounded annually when left to maturity. (Withdrawals prior to maturity are subject to a substantial interest penalty.)
