City Commission is presented budget

The city commission met at the middle school again Monday. Because the action was taking place at the school board, only one person plus the elected student government officials visited the meeting Although a dozen young people had been elected to various city offices, only five of them were present

The one visitor got permission from the commission for the Faith United Methodist Church to have a camp-out in its parking lot during a weekend in August There will be ten or fifteen trailers, and the campers will be allowed to have a campfire

The commission supported a county resolution on speeding up the timetable for work on the 31 By-pass.

It was agreed to contribute $500 to further the work of the Metro Narcotics Squad, although several municipalities aren't giving anything

The proposed budget was presented without comment A hearing on the budget is set for May 23 Through reappraisal, the anticipated tax base for the city will be less, but there is expected to be an increase from the state sales and use tax, so the revenues will be about the same

The city expects to raise $925,396, about $488,746 from taxes and a large chunk from the state The budget calls for borrowing $132,212 from other city funds for special projects. This will bring the total of revenue and expenditures to $1,057,608, and no increase in millage is expected.

The commission approved an invoice from Architects, Inc for $3,073 30 for work on the central district project and another $3,305 for work on the fire station An invoice from Campbell-Farr for $11,671 04 for two police cars was approved

Mildred Anderson reminded the city of a state law calling for closed or covered trucks carrying trash. She asked the city to be on the lookout for uncovered trucks passing through town on their way to the area landfill This facility is having a great difficulty with papers blowing off the trucks on the way to the dump

The student government representatives spoke on two matters. They wondered if Centennial Park couldn't be kept open later than ten p m in the summer The commission punted to the park board on this. One young man wondered if there couldn't be more of an effort to cover paper after it has reached the landfill and to do a better job of picking up around it

The elected student officers were John Savoie, mayor, Erik Mollberg, city manager, Craig Rough, city clerk, Jeff Swank, Rhonda Huebner, Andrea Swetish and Chuck Dougherty, city commissioners, Chuck Heiney, building inspector, Larry Hawks, DPW superintendent, Tom Monschein, parks and cemetery, Scott Werrbach, police chief, and Boyd Nutting, fire chief

During a news conference at the Ramada Inn, US 31 North, South Bend, Monday, May 9, Dr Billy Graham answered many questions from area news media representatives

Dr Graham said coming to the South Bend area was a little like coming home. The first wedding ceremony he ever performed was in Mishawaka. He married Sue Gates and Johnny Thomas He also recalled preaching in Niles and Elkhart in the late 1940's when he was with Youth For Christ

Dr. Graham also said, "It is a privilege to be here at Notre Dame and I deeply appreciate the hospitality of Notre Dame University."

When asked the question "Do you see Jimmy Carter's religious convictions carrying over into the public scene?" Dr. Graham's reply was "There has been a changing in the religious attitude and views of the American people since the early 1940's. The conversions of Charles Colson, George Foreman and Eldridge Cleaver influenced the American people far more than Jimmy Carter has

Billy Graham began his crusade ministry in 1949 on radio, television and crusades across the country He said he would continue with the crusade ministry as long as the people are interested According to Dr Graham interest continues to mount rather than to diminish. He also stated 50-75 per cent of crusade audiences all over the world are young people looking for something, trying to find purpose and meaning to life.

In commenting on the Nixon-Frost interview, Dr Graham stated, "I have known David Frost since he was 13 Many people were surprised at how well prepared and tough he was I expect the other interviews to be quite different I thought the first part of the program was bogged down with Nixon trying to speak from memory" He said "The last part of the interview Nixon said all we can expect him to I don't see how much farther he can go What else could he say" Dr. Graham telephoned Nixon after the program to let him know he (Dr. Graham) was praying for him and David Frost as they taped the program.

When asked what his expectations for the crusade were Dr Graham said, "I hope to see many people find Jesus Christ as their saviour, many homes reunited, a spiritual input on South Bend and the surrounding areas"

He also said he hopes Notre Dame students and faculty will attend the meetings "I am really looking forward to the crusade and am excited about it," said Dr Graham

Dr Graham said he will be on almost every talk show in the country during September and October promoting his new book "How To Be Born Again" which will be in the bookstores in July

The Billy Graham Crusade is May 11-15, at the Notre Dame Athletic and Convocation Center, South Bend, 8 30 p m (Michigan time) nightly except Sunday Sunday's meeting will begin at 4 p m

Cool it

By D E.N.

Through a technicality it would appear that the matter of whether or not to re-hire the band director has been resolved, and he will receive his tenure. Now interested citizens can devote their thoughts to other issues

It is hoped that the plan to call for a recall vote of some of the school board members will also be shelved A recall vote is never the answer to any problem. To force board members off the school board would not be to the best interest of the community. Such action would cause such bitterness that permanent scars would be left long after this single issue had been decided. It would cause any intelligent person to think twice before ever agreeing to run for a public office

The board members were elected by a majority of the people who took the trouble to vote In a community the size of ours it was perfectly possible to judge the general opinions of candidates before the election. Because a relatively small but sincere group of people disagree violently with them on a particular issue is not just cause for subjecting the community to the trauma of an acrimonious and negative election

Whether an individual is qualified for his job should be settled at the polls, and most districts will welcome any citizen who chooses to run for the school board The present group united temporarily by their feelings on this particular matter could form the nucleus of an effective political organization to elect the candidates they like in the future.

We're glad that the present controversy over the band director can now be put behind us It was generating more heat than light, and a petition to force a recall vote would only have confused the issue more

Ag in Action — An editorial

Hairbrained scheme

A new outfit which calls itself the "Exploratory Project For Economic Alternatives" -- and which operates out of the wonderland area of Washington, D C -- claims to have discovered a new and better farming system for this country

It is a plan in which government would move heavily into the farming business The government would manage reserve stocks, control food exports, discourage large farms, set food prices, and subsidize smaller farming operations

Americans with higher incomes would be taxed to assure cheap food for people with smaller incomes This tax money, amounting to 12 to 15 billion dollars yearly, say the plan's authors, would be used to assure adequate incomes for small and medium sized farms

By separating agriculture from the open market, farmers would become part of a government operated public utility. Agriculture would be penalized by tight government regulations and controls

Small wonder farmers ask -- why is American agriculture, the most efficient and productive in the world, so frequently singled out for hairbrained schemes of special treatment?

One answer might be that not farmers, but the private competitive enterprise system of this country is the target Food, or its lack, is an emotional issue about which many people cannot think clearly.

Public fears of a food shortage can be stirred by politicians and others, to build support for socialist schemes that wouldn't otherwise be given serious thought.

We've never had a food shortage in this country, and we never will, unless we allow politicians and social planners to mess up our private enterprise - non-governmental - farming system.

Inasmuch as the 31 bypass will not be constructed for another 7 years possibly, is there any hope that the Niles-Buchanan Rd. will be resurfaced this year? It's unbelevable the county let such a highly traveled road get in such terrible condition! -- "Uneasy Rider", Buchanan.

The Berrien County Road Commission informed us that there are no plans to resurface Niles-Buchanan Road. Parts of the road will be paved in conjunction with U.S 31, but still,it is another few years until that happens.

Support board

Dear Editor,

Over the past few weeks a group of interested citizens have taken it upon themselves to question the school board's refusal to grant tenure to Mr Morse The board publicly stated their reasons as a lack of discipline in the classroom and a poor quality of performance We would like to publicly state that we fully support the school board's decision in this matter, and believe the board is working in the best interest of our children

Also an interested group of citizens

Concerned parents

Dear Editor,

As concerned band and orchesta parents, and members of this community we feel it necessary to voice our support of the Buchanan School Board

We feel their judgements have been made after careful considerations, and certainly after feeling the "pulse" of the community

The school board needs your support

Sincerely,
Mr and Mrs Vern Cuthbert

Thanks for caring

The Buchanan Board of Education,

Thanks for caring enough to make a tough decision and for sticking to that decision We know that you have had to take much abuse from a small but very vocal group and realize the pressure has been on your families also

We hope and pray that the Band Parents will stop and examine their motives and look again at the facts before any more damage is done

Ex-Band Parents

Preschool parents

To the Parents of Buchanan Pre-schoolers,

You parents of the Buchanan pre schoolers don't know this, but I know your children probably as well as you or their teacher Why? Because this week marks the 6th week I have done bus duty, so your child could ride the bus to and from school

When my daughter was accepted into preschool I was asked if I would donate one week of my time to ride the bus I said sure, if we get the bus Then I helped fight and get that bus, although my child didn't need the bus because I have a car

Well I did my week plus five and I still have at least 2 more to do! Now why you ask don't I get to the point! Well, indeed, I am!

Point number 1 Why do mother's, like myself and others who have done our fair share, have to do still more because you who did volunteer, did not fulfill your promise

2 Why should I have to worry when its 25 minutes past the time for my childs normal arrival when you who did volunteer, but didn't show up to ride that bus, which can't leave until there is an adult on it

3 Why should Mrs Lamm and Mrs Burns, who have done so much for the pre school program, have to miss lunch or have a day of chaos because the bus didn't get there or leave there on time when you failed to show up Which is now becoming a habit

Is anyone out there getting angry? Good! Could it be a guilty concience? I hope it is and I hope you get mighty mad because thats how I feel

You are supposed to be adults who have a responsibility not only to your children, but to the Parent Advisory Council, who you pledge one week of your time to ride that school bus and then backed out of that promise

It saddens me to think that your child may pick up that nasty habit of shirking their responsibility however trivial they may think it is

Think about it!

Sincerely yours,
Mrs Debbie Horvath
Secretary,

Seven days a week——
a hospital must be staffed

Yes, it takes a lot of people to run a modern hospital Today the average hospital has 2½ employees for each patient, with each employee working 40 hours out of the total 168 hours in a week Every job that must be covered around the clock requires almost 5 employees Each year more trained people are needed, as diagnosis, treatment and surgery become more complicated Many of these people you never meet at all when you go to the hospital

For example -- The hospital administrator, director of nursing, purchasing agent, personnel manager and various department supervisors It takes many people behind the actual nursing care to complete

"QUALIFIED" HEALTH CARE

Actually, your local hospital is a "HEALTH TEAM" made up of people with many different types of skills Unlike industries, hospitals can use only a limited amount of automation. It takes people to give patients individual, personal service they need and to keep your hospital running

The physicians, high on the list of your "Health team", are permitted to admit, treat, and supervise care of patients in the hospital They may be general practitioners, or specialists, or may be restricted to certain activities

It must take all hospital personnel working together to produce the BEST CARE POSSIBLE for you, the PATIENT.

This mechanical harvester easily picks two or more acres of asparagus per hour. The harvester is now being used on the Dan Cronin farm, 2919 Geyer Road. The Cronins have about 35 acres planted in asparagus

Some features of the harvester are semi-selective picking, picks up to a 38" wide bed or row, adjustable picking height, rotating picking disc snaps (does not cut or mutilate the product), leaves tomorrows crop undamaged for tomorrow, operator controlled speed, ground driven picking disc starts picking immediately, adjustable to the variety of asparagus, low power requirements, has field sorting conveyor system, storage box with roll off unloader and makes field end turn around in 20 seconds

Mrs. Dan Cronin (on tractor), Andy Cronin and Dorothy Heller, show how the mechanical harvester works

The harvester picks the asparagus, drops the asparagus on a conveyor which brings the product to the sorter After sorting the asparagus goes into a storage box and is ready for sale or processing.

There are only two such harvesters in existence at the present time. The machine was built by White River Products, Montague, Michigan

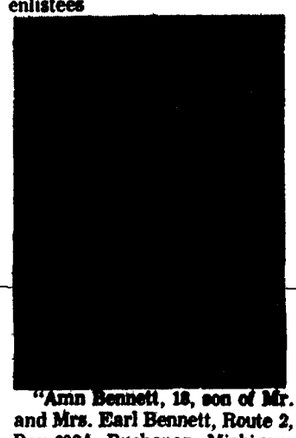
Airman Brent E. Bennett to assist under HASTY RAP program

Airman Brent E Bennett, a recent graduate of the Air Force's Technical Training Center at Denver, Colorado, and a 1976 graduate of Buchanan High School, has returned to assist his recruiter under the HASTY RAP program

HASTY RAP enables selected first-term airmen the opportunity of returning to their hometowns for temporary periods of time to discuss Air Force opportunities with potential enlistees



"Amn Bennett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bennett, Route 2, Box 696A, Buchanan, Michigan, has volunteered to assist us in our recruiting efforts," said Sergeant Anthony L Brackins, Air Force recruiter here. "It has long been our contention that no one can communicate better what Air Force life is really like than those who have just completed basic military and technical training at one of our centers. The HASTY RAP program allows our first-termers the chance of sharing their experiences with other potential enlistees "

Amn Bennett selected training as a Missile Maintenance Systems Repairman prior to entering the Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program last April Prior to attending Lowry Technical Training Center he completed six weeks of basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas He is presently assigned to George Air Force Base, California.

Amn Bennett is married to the former Terri Sisk, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Sisk, 3124 US-31 North, Niles, Michigan

"While here," explained Sgt Brackins, "Airman Bennett will be visiting his old high school with me and answering any questions interested students may have about the Air Force He will also be available at my office at the Fairplain Plaza or may be reached by calling 925-9004 or 925-9032."

If you're not careful your CB antenna could put you in touch with a lot more than you bargained for.

Unfortunately, your CB base station antenna will not only help you reach more people, it could also put you in touch with our power lines.

And the slightest contact between you, your antenna and our lines could be fatal.

So, before you put up your antenna, here are a few suggestions you should follow.

First, we recommend you have a professional do it for you.

Okay, if you're determined to do it yourself, look out for power lines. The ones attached to poles. And the ones attached to your house.

If you can't tell a power line from a phone line, don't experiment.

Then make sure you locate your antenna (including supporting mast and guy wires) at least one and a half times its total height from all power lines. Which means, a 30-ft. high antenna should be 45 feet away from all power lines in all directions.

That way, if it falls during construction, or gets blown down during a storm, it won't hit any lines and endanger you or your neighbors.

Trying to carry an antenna, climb a ladder and keep your balance all at the same time is risky business, too.

Wait for a calm day, assemble the antenna where you intend to put it up, be sure to ground the antenna properly and get somebody to help you.

Horse judging team wins first place at Jamboree

A team of Berrien County 4-H members won first place in the horse judging competition at the Michigan 4-H Horse Jamboree, April 30 at Michigan State University

The Berrien County team, consisting of Pamela and Patricia Rothfuchs of Buchanan, and Shelly Rosebrook and Darla Bilton of Niles, won its award in the senior division of the contest by evaluating seven halter and performance classes and defending their placings orally to the official judges.

Pam and Pat Rothfuchs, daughters of Mr and Mrs John Rothfuchs, placed second and sixth overall in the contest out of 104 contestants

Nearly 500 Michigan 4-H horse project members competed individually and in teams. The jamboree also featured contests in public speaking, slide presentations, horse methods demonstration and a "Horse Bowl," patterned after television's defunct "College Bowl"

The Horse Jamboree began four years ago when the Michigan 4-H horse judging contest was expanded to include younger members and additional events All divisions of the contest are now open to both junior members (up to 13 years old) and senior members (14 years and up)

One of the main goals of the jamboree, says Dick Dunn, MSU Extension specialist in animal husbandry, is to provide educational horse programs for all project members, including those who may not own a horse

Weldy gives fine performance

By Louise M Day

Frederick Ray Weldy twenty-four year old gifted young pianist from Buchanan, Michigan played a masterly piano recital Sunday afternoon, May 8, in the Little Theatre of Saint Mary's College, South Bend, Indiana Weldy was presented by the Niles Music Club, Inc in a Scholarship Fund Benefit

The program opened with the Mozart "Sonata in F Major" Weldy played with all the freshness and spirit that Mozart's music warrants The American composer Aaron Copland's "Variations" followed in striking contrast This modern music was played in a most convincing and brilliant manner The first half of the program closed with the Chopin "Ballad in G minor" in which Weldy excelled in the romanticism of this work

After the intermission, the Bach Partita No 1 in B-flat Major was given an outstanding performance Each of the dance forms were played with a definite conception usually heard only in the performances of older artists The program ended with a brilliant rendition of the Liszt "Mephisto Waltz No 1" which showed the dazzling technique of this outstanding young artist

As an encore Weldy chose the last movement of Prokofieff's Sonata No 7 which was well received by his audience

Many area friends and music lovers demonstrated their appreciation of this rare talent Although young in years, Weldy demonstrates the technique and perception of a more mature artist We expect to hear much of this young pianist in the future
