Pfc Russell Clements Killed in Action in Pacific Theatre Operations

Borers Ravage Early Plantings of Corn Here

Now Here's the Proposition

A LETTER TO A SOLDIER, A SAILOR, OR A MARINE, AS THE CASE MAY BE

Guns and Gals of the Armed Forces, Whether Riding Your Planes Into the Dawn Over Dover or Peeding Spuds in KP at Camp McGillivuddy, Georgia, Greetings!

We are sitting here behind our verbal machine gun, a time-scarred Underwood, gazing out over the peaceful panorama of Days Avenue. The flag is fluttering gaily in the sun over the I & M building. A host of birds are feeding peacefully on the pavement where the farmers have scattered wheat as they fired their tails-

Our good Irish friend, Cornelius Callaghan, is walking up the street from the direction of the Co-ops in a new straw hat. Beats all how these farmers are making money! And speaking of farm profits, just notice the peak of the new Co-op elevator jutting over the top of the I & M like the first tooth of the family heirloom.

Members of the armed forces home on furlough were conspicuous by their absence as we took a gander along The Street Saturday night. Of course they might have been lounging beside their best pals in the cool environs of the Hollywood gathering a few ideas on technique from the great lovers of the screen. However, we contacted only eight military personnel. One was a sailor from Chicago, with no local connections, so he said, who eyed us suspiciously when we asked questions.

Then there were four New York boys from Fort Custer, also apparently hitch hikers taking a look-see over this part of Michigan. It must be a practice of the military personnel who are far from home to spend short leaves hitch-hiking around the country.

WHO IS DELINQUENT?

by Ruth Taylor
Today, wherever we turn, we find the problem of juvenile delinquency staring us in the face. We are all deeply stirred by the attacks of hoodlums in our big cities. But—we can't pass off hoodlumism as just the acts of children. Behind every child there stands an adult. Every act of juvenile delinquency convicts some adult of neglect or indifference amounting to criminal negligence. Children are not born with a sense of right or wrong. It is the family that has the first chance to civilize the child. The kind of behavior a child displays depends upon the kind of adults after whom he has patterned himself. And the adults cannot dodge their responsibility or shift it to the state.

The other day I was talking to a truant officer. He said "There aren't any bad children, but there are a great many bad parents. They are lazy or neglectful. They don't realize that sending a child to school isn't enough. They have to condition his attitude towards the school and towards other children. And they have to see to it that he has spiritual food as well as material. In most of the cases I have to investigate, I find that the parents are unwilling to turn out on Sunday to go to church with their children. They don't seem to see that religion is one of the biggest necessities in a child's life. It's the stick upon which the vine has to grow."

Lack of religious and ethical training is one of the greatest factors in juvenile delinquency. If a child has no standards by which to grow, he is groping in the dark. If he learns it is smart to dodge the law, that the only sin is getting caught, he is on the road to crime. If he hears his parents lying, he sees no reason for the truth. If at home he hears violent diatribes against any group, whether it be of religion, color, nationality or class, his first impulse is to attack them.

The parents may be only careless or thoughtless—but a child believes what he hears and takes it seriously. It is from the home that hoodlumism springs and it is in the home it can be and must be stopped.

It isn't the child alone that is delinquent. It is the parents who stand convicted before the bar of public opinion.

It isn't just a wave of delinquency among children that is sweeping the country and causing so much trouble. It is a wave of delinquency among parents. Let's do something about the delinquent parents—and juvenile delinquency will take care of itself!

The fourth crop of the now famous, Tecumseh, Michigan, "Biblical wheat" experiment, known as "Dynamite Kernals" sponsored by Perry Hayden, a local Quaker miller, was harvested last week before a huge crowd of notables, photographers, news-reel men, magazine writers and citizens from many states.

Another great holiday will be observed in the community on July 22, when thousands of people will gather again to witness the threshing of this year's crop of "the Lord's wheat." Henry Ford will be there with some of the interesting old farm equipment borrowed from his museum. Part of the wheat will be flared, with Ford's historic flails, just as they did back in the Biblical times. The balance will be threshed by two steam outfits, an old Birdsell horse-operated separator and a miniature thresher which Ford built for his grandchildren.

Inspired by a sermon in his local Quaker church four years ago, Perry Hayden set out to illustrate some of the Bible lessons on "Tithing," "Reblish" and "Returns on what we sow." He started with a cubic inch of wheat, which he planted in a patch 4 ft by 8 ft. A year later, he harvested the patch, deducted 10 per cent of it as a tithe for his church, and planted the balance of the crop again the following year. The third year, he again deducted the tithe and replanted the entire crop. This year was the fourth harvest.

The harvesters just cut a field of 14 acres, originating from the small one-inch cube of wheat four years ago, after paying the 10 per cent tithe each year. Some of the crop was cut by cradle and sickle, to illustrate ancient harvesting.

Next year, it is estimated that it will make a field of more than 700 acres. The sixth and last year of the illustration, experts say that it will cover from 1500 to 3000 acres of land, and require hundreds of men and tractors to harvest the final crop.

The tithe to the church will amount to "thousands of dollars," and the value of the total crop may amount to $100,000. The land for the project is being furnished by Henry Ford, and all of the final proceeds will go to Christian work, including possible foreign relief.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

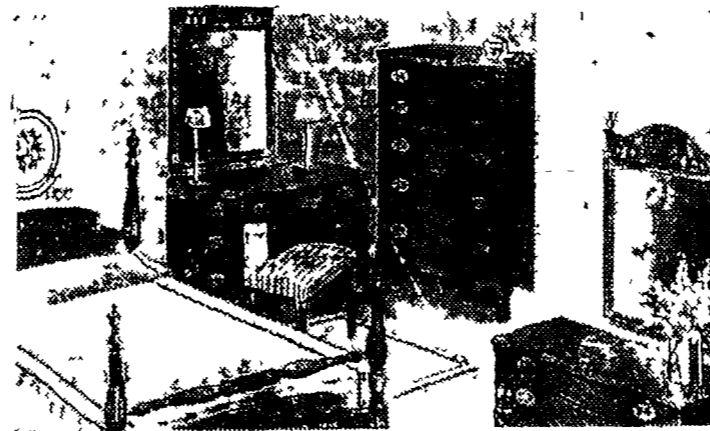

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."
"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum... practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have... rubber. The enemy had that."
"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need... you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"
"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."
"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"

Circulate Heat
Increase the useful heat output of a hot water or steam radiator by aiming an electric fan at it. For a party or other occasion when quite a few people are in the room, you can make the air seem fresher by placing a fan so the air stream is directed along one wall. Place it three to five feet above the floor. If the fan has several speeds, set it for medium or low.

Water Buffalo Duel Villagers in China throw a river bank to enjoy the thrills of a water buffalo duel. The animals suffer nothing worse than a slight head ache.

Kitchen Knives Kitchen knives are precious tools. Use them only for cutting foods; not for prying off lids or whittling. Don't let them soak in water and don't sharpen them on stone window ledges. Remove knives and flatware from dishes before scraping into refuse can. Thousands of knives are accidentally thrown away each year. If your knife handle works loose, tighten it by tapping the rivets with a hammer.

Food Types Of the total feed consumed by animals during the three-year period, 1938-40, 31.5 per cent was grain, 8.6 per cent other concentrates, 22.1 per cent hay and other roughage, and 37.8 per cent pasture. Pasture, hay and other forage crops supplied 59.9 per cent of all the feed consumed by all livestock.

WASHINGTON—The foreign-born population of the United States decreased, nearly a fifth in the last decade, but the number still is large, census figures show. There are nearly 12 million foreign-born residents New York has more than any other state—about a fourth of them, the National Geographic society points out. Pennsylvania and Illinois have nearly a million each California, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Michigan and Ohio each have more than a half million. The states having the fewest foreign-born residents are South Carolina, with less than 5,000; Mississippi, 6,000; Arkansas, 7,700; and North Carolina, 9,000 All other states have more than 10,000 foreign-born residents

Italians lead the list with more than a million and a half immigrants. Germans, Canadians and Russians follow in order. Other nationalities have less than a million persons each. Poles number nearly a million, with the Irish and English running sixth and seventh, they number 678,000 and 622,000 respectively No other country has as many as half a million natives now living in the United States; although Austria and Sweden have nearly that many. More than a third of the Italians live in New York state Pennsylvania is the next most popular state with the Italians, followed by New Jersey, Massachusetts, California, Illinois, Connecticut and Ohio, each with more than 50,000 New York has over a fourth of the 1,238,000 German immigrants Illinois is second with 139,000; then Wisconsin, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio and Michigan follow with 50,000 and over Next to New York, the million and more Russians have shown a preference for Pennsylvania, then Illinois, Massachusetts, Maryland and California, after which the figure falls below 50,000

Many Canadians. New York state has only about an eighth of the million and more Canadians, with almost twice as many in Massachusetts. Michigan also has more Canadians than New York California is fourth and Maine fifth in Canadian choice The majority of Maine's immigrants from the north are listed as French Canadian, as is a third of the Canadian colony in Massachusetts With a Polish population slightly in excess of residents from Germany, Illinois is second only to New York in Polish popularity Pennsylvania is third, with nearly 50 per cent more Poles than Germans Michigan is fourth; New Jersey fifth; Massachusetts and Ohio both have more than 50,000

In 1940, 1,400,000 were doing work involving national defense, OWI said, predicting that by the end of 1943 the number of women war workers would rise to six million, or 30 per cent of the expected total labor force of 20 million in war industries The OWI also noted that the Nazi government had made an about-face in policy regarding women workers

"Germany as early as 1939 had sidetracked her prejudice against allowing women to leave children, church and kitchen" and had 37 per cent of all of them in jobs," OWI said

Figures on German employment of women in 1941, given by the International Labor Office, "indicate how close to maximum utilization of available manpower Germany had then reached," the statement said

In that year, 64 per cent of the German girls aged 15 to 19 were gainfully employed, 44 per cent of the women 20 to 65, and 13 per cent of those 65 and over

British Shipyard Run By Female Help Only

LONDON—Somewhere along the coast of Britain is a shipbuilding yard that is operated entirely by women And they are turning out as proportionate a number of sea-going vessels as any man-run yard in the country

They are engaged, at the present time, in constructing ships which are urgently needed for special work

A large percentage of the women were experienced shipyard workers before the war; others went through special training periods in schools set up at the port

So successful has been the experiment of women-built ships that the government is considering expanding the scheme This will also help solve the acute labor shortage felt in Britain's shipyards

U. S. Is Calling All to Colors

WASHINGTON—Every American will be getting some kind of training by the end of 1943 in the nation's effort to win the war Millions of men and women will have to adapt themselves to new ways of working and living

At least 5,000,000 women, for instance, must receive production training over the next 13 months, for many of the women upon whom industry is depending for its new labor supplies never have worked outside their homes

Increasing numbers of men will go into the armed forces, city youths will be trained to plow fields, milk cows, raise chickens on farms, High school boys and girls will be trained to do janitor service, work in stores, do housework and take care of children Tiny youngsters will drill for air-raid protection

Eugene Longworth Writes From Normandy

The following letter was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Longworth from their son, Eugene Longworth, in Normandy.

Dear Mom

You know where France is, well that's where I am. I can't say how long I've been here but it's too long to suit me.

This area called Normandy is beautiful country. Most of it is rolling country with small farms scattered all over. When we arrived here on that eventful day, the French didn't know at first how to take us. It was four years under Nazi rule seemed to leave them in a daze.

Hq Btry certainly knows the esign and usefulness of Jerry-guipment. At various times we've had cars, guns, radios, and anything else we could raise off the ground. In one of the past positions we were near an invasion landing field.

Don't think for the moment that Jerry is a poor fighter. The 88mm gun he employs is the instrument of a general attack as respected by more than any other gun.

Jerry is losing a lot of men to our infantry and the places where we've seen bodies stacked like cords of wood bear out my statement.

I am still in radio repair and doubt if I'll ever be put in anything else until the war is over. Transmitters go on the Fritz most of the time and it's become quite a fad to locate the bugs in them.

For the past few days I've had a lot of fun converting 110 A C sets or use on half track batteries. I've taken or should say, borrowed, lyn-motors out of abandoned tanks. They make swell power supplies for the commercial receivers. I'm writing this letter on the inside of the M T O half-track, just outside of it in a German trailer (borrowed). I've mounted one of the sets Kay Kaser was on just a moment ago and some swing music is on now.

Capt Graph, the communications officer, is one of the most capable officers I have ever met. He's an electrical engineer and has the uncanny knowledge for fixing things that most people wouldn't look at twice. I've learned quite a lot about various gadgets from him and hope it continues.

I'm very glad to hear that you and Don and I met. It was a great pleasure to surprise him and it was an occasion I'll never forget. Pop wonders how I met you—well, I found out through a friend of mine in Hq Btry that here was a place in London where they could trace any one in the American forces. I gave him your address and about a week later I had his exact location. The rest I've explained in a previous letter.

There are a lot of fellows over here who think that they'll be home for Christmas. I sure would like to be myself. I'm pretty sure though that the war with Germany will be over before then.

There are so many Jerry's lying shot and taken prisoner that the strain on the army is beyond imagination. I've seen some prisoners that were men at all but just kids 13 to 15 years old and practically too young to know what it's all about.

A lot of Japs have been found in the E-T-O and they employ the same tactics as in the South Seas. In one of our east positions an American was riding past a French house on a motorcycle and a young woman sniper stepped out the front door and took a shot at him. He very quickly stopped the motorcycle and let her have a full grand clip in the midsection. Being a good marksman she was close to being blown in half. This is why we don't trust every lady.

I'll get another letter off soon. Tell Joy to watch out for a good sunbun at Clear Lake. Don't worry about me, I'm in perfect health and eating like a starved horse. Love, Gene Bicycle Accidents. In its survey the American Automobile association reported that 447 persons were killed in bicycle accidents in the 292 cities reporting deaths in 1943. Of these, 79, or 52 per cent, were 14 years of age or younger. For the 278 cities reporting the number of injuries resulting from bicycle accidents, there were 3408 persons 14 years of age or under injured and 2,482 persons 15 or over injured.

Here's Proposition

(Continued from Page 1) Lake cottage. "We like the town and we sure appreciate hospitality," we heard one of the boys say. Then a few minutes later Johnny's lousing roared westward up Front street with two auto horns swinging on the running-board on either side and raising their voices in song.

The only one we knew was Bob Bennett, formerly of the Samson Dairy force, whom we also met at Johnny's. He was home for a few days while en route from Harlingen, Texas, to LaMoore Field, near Fresno, Calif., to polish up his training as tail gunner specialist on a Liberator.

Beats all-how the boys are getting around. And so long for this week.

ON FISH HOARDING. A casual survey of the local scene by this professional and very casual surveyor leads to the thought that something has gone from Buchanan and from America—something that will never return.

Anyway, it never will return until there is a law against places like Bob Reamer's locker plant.

We refer to the good old American custom of sharing fish. A few nights ago we were rounding the corner of Days and Front when we found traffic impeded, with one of the local police an accessory to the impediment. There was, or were, Ted Cramer, Claude McGowan and A. P. Sprague lined up in a row with their knees sagging under the weight of a huge string of fish brought back from their recent invasion of Ontario. They had rented a complete tier of lockers and had stomped them full of fish, all of which they had gotten out for the purpose of having their picture taken.

Around them were assembled a hungry-looking throng, with mouths gaping wider than a large-mouthed bass, their friends and neighbors, those who had patronized their places of business, voted for them when they ran for office, but whose sole prospect in that string was the doubtful pleasure in the obvious satisfaction of the fishermen.

A few of the more sophisticated passed it off sourly remarking, "I don't like fish anyway," and walking away, or by ridiculing the size of some of the fish. But none of this dented the pride of the piscatorial experts, who, when the pictures were shot, staggered back into Reamer's and stomped the fish back in the lockers.

It is remotely conceivable that if there were no places like Reamer's locker plant; some of these fish hoarders who bring back a cargo from Canada might possibly share with their neighbors who are so engaged in the war effort that they have no time to fish. They might share them, rather than run the risk of food poisoning.

And then again they might not. There is just a remote possibility that they might sell their more intimate friends copies of the picture at cost plus a reasonable profit.

Unfertilized Pasture. Only about one-tenth of the combined plowable pasture and hayland acreage is being fertilized.

Galen Dairymen Score Highest In Dairy Herd Tests

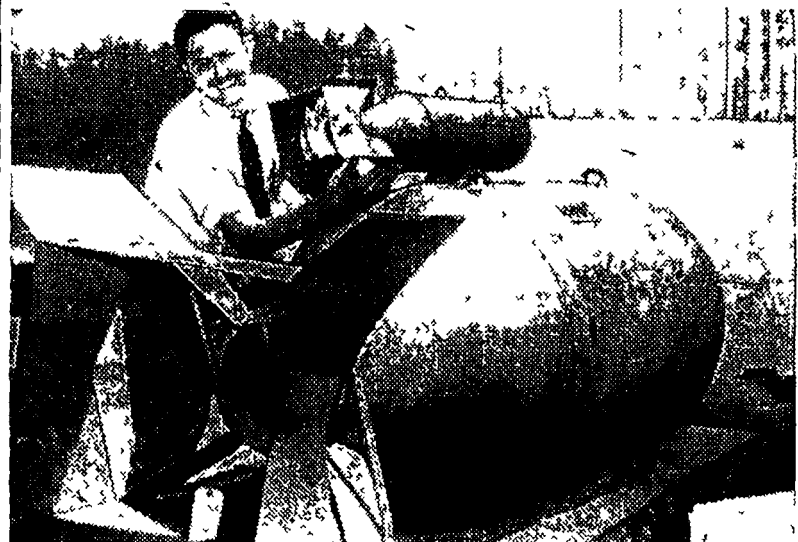

South Berrien Dairy Herd Improvement Association members concluded a successful year with their annual banquet and business meeting held at the Olive Branch United Brethren church. Approximately forty members and wives enjoyed the evening meeting. Arthur Hensgen, association tester, presented the annual summary. Tester Hensgen reports 19 herds finished the testing year although the association has 26 members at the present time. Herds under test averaged 8953.1 pounds of milk and 378.70 pounds of butterfat per cow. These averages were made by 107 registered and 264 grade cows of the South Berrien Association.

Individual recognition for record made by cows under three years for the past testing year went to Dean Straub of Galien, his registered Holstein "Crestlyn Bessie Ormsby Ruth" produced 13,323 pounds of milk and 540 pounds of butterfat to lead all cows in the two year old class. The Straub herd also contained the leading producer in the over three year and under four year class, "Crestlyn Sade Ormsby Jean" also a registered Holstein of the Straub herd produced 15,416 pounds of milk and 552.8 pounds of butterfat during the last year.

Charles Smith and Son of Galien, are the owners of the over four and under five year old cow, "Maple Lane Farm June" registered Guernsey that led her class by producing 12,570 pounds of milk and 580.7 pounds of butterfat. The mature class on cows, 5 years or older were led by a record of 13,300 pounds of milk and 652.8 pounds of butterfat made by "Brindle", a grade Guernsey owned by H. D. Roberts of Galien. This record is also the highest butterfat record for all cows of all ages for the South Berrien Association for the past year.

The highest butterfat production average for the year was held by Dean Straub of Galien, his herd of registered Holsteins averaged 14,244 pounds of milk and 528.04 pounds of butterfat. Charles

Block Buster and Tiny Relative

The 4,000-pound "block buster" bomb is pictured at Wright Field, Ohio, with its tiny relative, the 100-pound demolition bomb. At present the 4,000-pounder is the largest bomb used by the United States. British bombers, however, carry 8,000-pound bombs. Since they are larger than "block busters" they might be nicknamed "town tossers."

Smith and Son also of Galien, were second, their herd of registered and grade Guernseys averaged 9,449.8 pounds of milk and 448.42 pounds of butterfat. Third highest herd for the year was owned by Adolph Knott of Niles, his herd of registered Guernseys averaged 8,040.1 pounds of milk and 435.01 pounds of butterfat.

Tester Hensgen reported the three dairymen having the greatest production increase over last year as follows: 1st, Lewis Prentiss of Galien with an increase of 1,491.3 pounds of milk and 86.74 pounds of butterfat. Second highest increase went to Fred Knott of Niles with 1032.4 pounds of milk and 69.3 pounds of butterfat increase over last year's production. Third highest increase in production went to Dean Straub of Galien with an increase of 1412 pounds of milk and 65.42 pounds of butterfat.

Tester Hensgen announced another outstanding record of the association, that of a cow owned by Dean Straub of Galien, his "Crestlyn Maple Ciest Johanna Marne", lifetime record being an outstanding record for the state. This registered Holstein lifetime record of 15 years being 209,645 pounds of milk, 7,811.3 pounds of butterfat with a 3.73 test setting an unusual record for the South Berrien Association.

A. C. Baltzer, dairy extension specialist from Michigan State College was the speaker for the occasion. In his talk to the association he stressed the need for dairymen to consider their source of breeding stock and made suggestions as to what could be done through the use of the artificial insemination organization, as a source of "good seed stock" and herd improvement.

Low Cost Feed
Grass is invaluable as a low cost feed crop which at the same time is important for building up organic matter in soil and preventing erosion. Grass represents the most nutritious and least expensive food for any type of livestock.

Tone Spurns Soft Job In Order to Turn Actor
Actor, linguist, carpenter, amateur photographer—but chiefly an actor—is versatile Franchot Tone who co-stars with Veronica Lake in "The Hour Before the Dawn," Paramount's drama of love and hate which comes to the Hollywood Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 27, 28, 29.

Educated abroad and at home, Tone emerged from his schooling equipped for almost any kind of a job. A soft berth in a thriving business awaited him, but participation in college dramatics pointed the way to the theatre. Father disapproved but mother, a devotee of the arts herself, encouraged her son's ambitions.

The real stepping stone in Tone's career was the juvenile part in "The Age of Innocence" starring Katharine Cornell. Thereafter it was easy sailing in several Broadway hits. Hollywood beckoned, and a long list of screen successes followed in "The Hour Before the Dawn," the picturization of Somerset Maugham's sensational story. Tone performs admirably as an Englishman who abhors bloodshed, but is forced to take arms when the safety of his family is threatened.

Moppet Margaret O'Brien Starred in "Lost Angel"

Six-year-old Margaret O'Brien, the sensational child actress who made her film debut in "Journey for Margaret," plays her first starring role in the delightful comedy, "Lost Angel," which is coming to the Hollywood theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 27, 28, 29.

James Craig and Marsha handle the romantic leads in the story of a child prodigy who learns about love when she meets a happy-go-lucky reporter and manages to solve his problems as well as her own.

Veteran at Seventeen Youngest Romantic Lead

Probably the youngest leading man in the history of motion pictures is seventeen-year-old Eddie Ryan who portrays Al, youngest

Piece of Concrete Wrecks Train

After hitting a piece of concrete on the rails, this train jumped its tracks, crashed into a steel trolley pole and careened 30 feet across a street, stopping only two feet from the home of Oscar Houman. He later said he thought the noise was an earthquake. The accident occurred in Berkeley, Calif. Seven passengers received minor injuries.

of the five famous Sullivan brothers of Waterloo, Iowa, in 20th Century-Fox's production of "The Sullivans". The film, featuring Anne Baxter and Thomas Mitchell, is scheduled to appear at the Hollywood theatre Sunday and Monday, July 30, 31.

Ryan, whose pleasant lot it is to make love to charming Anne

Baxter in the picture, is a veteran of twelve years on the New York stage, with more than 18 plays to his credit. Before enlisting in the U. S. Army Signal Corps, from which he was honorably discharged, Ryan was a member of the Broadway cast of "Watch on the Rhine."

Although new in Hollywood, he once played child parts in eastern movies and appeared in the first talking picture made in New York, "The Letter," with Jeanne Eagles.

In Russia the Ring Is on the Right Hand, Susan Peters Learns
In M-G-M's "Song of Russia," billed for the Hollywood theatre for Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 1, 2, Susan is married to Robert Taylor in a colorful church ceremony. Before filming the scene, Susan tried on the ring—but on the right hand.

It stuck. No amount of tugging would move it. And soap and water were no help.

Fearing she would delay filming of the scene, Susan finally dumped her plight in Ratoiff's lap. The director roared with laughter.

"In Russia," he explained, "most women wear the wedding ring on the right hand. That's where I wanted you to put it, anyway."

Air Conditioned Rocking Chair

Just In case of an excess heat to blow in the room

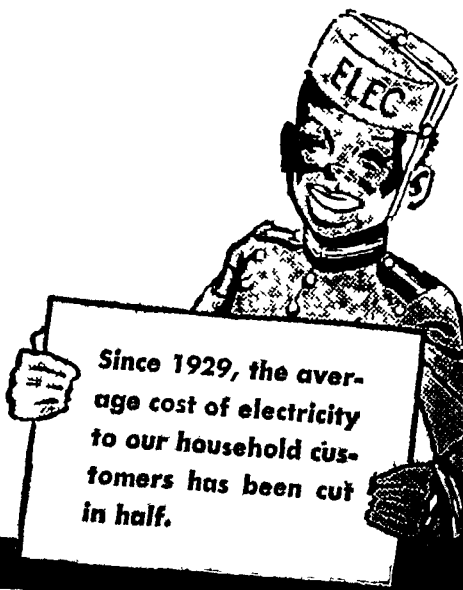

WITH THE GREATEST OF EASE

NO, dear friends, this is neither a barber chair nor a snake charming act. It is the 1869 idea of air conditioning exactly as shown on the Letters Patent granted to a citizen of South Bend, Indiana, in that year. As the chair rocks, a concealed bellows forces a cooling breeze through the tube, wafting it over the person of the portly party. Why the inventor used a snake's head at the end of the tube we don't know. Perhaps it was to keep the timid ladies from using grandpa's favorite chair.

Compare this sixty-niner conception of luxurious cooling with our modern air conditioning systems and all the other modern electrical devices that will be available in your "Home of Tomorrow". Then buy the Bonds that will help make that home possible.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words. Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it. This title is simply: "Good Soldier." It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army. For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC... "They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"
