Are You A Responsible Parent Or Do You Dump Junior In Teacher's Lap?

Parent - Pupil - Teacher Panel Develops Angles On Education

If you were one of the 1,500 parents of Buchanan school children who were not present at the panel discussion between representatives of pupils, teachers and parents held at the February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the high school last Wednesday evening it's really too bad for you might have learned something about yourself.

The topic was "What Do We Expect of Each Other?" Pupils were represented by Doradean Lister and Max Foley, teachers by Emery Toogood and Dorothy Ernst, and parents by Maynard Polley and Mrs. Thomas E. Irvine.

One impression carried away from the three-cornered battle by a more or less neutral observer is that teachers at least feel that education could become tremendously more vital and effective if the parents would get in the game and get in as good spots. Some of the parents present felt the same way about it. Teachers like to have parents come to the school, but not so much if they come with a chip on their shoulder. A teacher said that not only do parents need to meet the teacher in her environment, the schoolroom, but she (or he) also need to meet the parents in the environment of the home.

Parents families was up for a main panning. During several years of teaching, said a man teacher who deals with boys, only two fathers had ever taken the trouble to come to him to talk over their boys' problem. When no letters were sent to parents warning of the failure of their students if better progress was not made, again only two fathers showed up to ask if they could do anything. Papa is immensely interested in the smartness of his two-year-olds, but by the time they are 16 he passes it up as Junior's business.

Too many parents dump their children on the schools with the idea that school time represents six or eight hours out of sixteen that they don't have to bother with them. Pater familias is afraid of teacher said one instructor. And he takes Johnny's word, when son gets into trouble, that it is a hatched faced crank of something like that, without troubling to check for himself. Pater familias have no business to form opinions of school matters by listening only to their children, said one instructor. Teacher has a side and he should hear it first hand. Some parents are gullible one-side listeners.

There are parents in Buchanan who don't take the trouble even to sign their children's report cards, said one teacher, and no particular evidence that a lot more parents study the report cards and act on the evidence.

Fathers and mothers should get into the education game, said one parent, but they should go into it with a modest realization of their amateur status. A live interest on the part of the parents would galvanize teachers into more interest, said this speaker. And if they show no interest, they lay a rather hopeless task in the lap of the teachers.

The junior-aged participants also had their ideas, which they expressed with youthful vivacity. One thing they expect of teachers is that if they must discipline that they should pick no favorites. They shouldn't pick on certain students and continually lay them out for things that they let pass unchallenged in other students, said one speaker.

Young people don't like "no" for an answer, said a pupil speaker, unless that "no" is implemented by reasonable reasons. When teacher says "no" he ought to say why. Pupils want to be treated as people, and they want a little swing to develop their own personalities. They want to be treated with courtesy and consideration by the teacher, and if they get that treatment, it will challenge them to reciprocal courtesy and consideration.

They want to have responsibilities placed on them - but not many at once. One teacher had an interesting suggestion in the matter of responsibility. Children should be able to handle their own clothing responsibility even down to kindergarten age, she said, but the parents should make this possible for them by dressing them in garments that are reasonably easy to fasten and unfasten and to get on and get off. It is important that rubbers and overshoes be fitted right, or responsibility will break down and teacher will get the job. Wraps should be well-marked in every available spot, she stated, so that similar clothing can't be confused.

What parents can do for their children is to acquaint them gradually with as many practical life experiences as possible, said one teacher. That is the best means of responsibility training and character development. The parents, she said, have a much better chance than the teacher to steer this kind of development. And if they accept and carry that responsibility, they aid the teacher immensely in achieving a better educational job.

Youth Council Closes Room In DiGiacomo Bldg.

High School Boys Pack All Equipment In Rear Of J. I. Case Co. Agency

The Buchanan Youth Council vacated last Thursday the quarters in the DiGiacomo building at Main and Front street, now being equipped for the installation of the agency of the J I Case Implement company, George Horst agent.

Mr. Horst had leased the quarters late in November, signing a three-year lease to take effect Jan. 1. However, strike conditions made it impossible for him to get farm equipment at that time. As a result his entrance into the building was delayed until March 1. During this time the Youth Council had the use of the building, receiving one month's rent in advance. Through the courtesy of Mr. Horst they were then permitted to store their equipment in the back end of the room until the new building project is completed.

Equipment was taken down Friday morning by a force of high school boys, including Louie Gray, John Hagley, Bill Hess, Owen Rifenberger, Robert Stark. The work was directed by Mrs. Claude Hess, who has acted as supervisor for the room for over a month, because of the illness of the regular supervisor, Working under the "remote control" of Maude Slate, regular supervisor, in a Pawating hospital room, Mrs. Hess turned in an excellent job of pinch-hitting.

During the first week after Miss Slate became ill, the room was supervised first by two young people, Edna Lauver and Melvyn Ravich, then by teams of women furnished by the Navy Mothers' Club. All these pinch-hitters did very well, but when it became evident that Miss Slate would be absent for several weeks it was decided to hire a substitute. Mrs. Claude Hess was employed and proved to be an excellent selection. She was assisted in the supervision by her husband, Claude Hess, who also proved to be a good worker with young people. Together they supervised three week-end dances. The Youth Council owes a special vote of thanks to H. N. Batchelor, who loaned a large electric radio and amplifiers, which provided very satisfactory dance music.

The following notice of the closing is taken from the current issue of the high school paper, "The Bucks Horn," which was written by Edna Lauver, editor, and a member of the Youth Council for several years.

Youth Council Recreation Room Closed

The Buchanan Youth Council received notification Monday from George Horst of St. Joseph, that he would take over the premises of the recreation room March 1 in order to begin installation of fixtures for the agency of the J I Case Implement company here.

This recreation hall has been an asset to Buchanan and its surrounding community. It has proved itself a success beyond doubt in spite of the fact there has not been too much community participation besides the annual money drives. The recreation hall was established in 1941 and has been open to the high school group six nights per week during the school year and two nights a week during the summer months. The recreation hall has been used as a pattern and guide in the establishing of many Youth Councils throughout the country. It has served as material for radio broadcasts and magazines and countless newspapers.

There is hope that the new recreation hall will be completed by mid-summer and help and cooperation are still needed. The old recreation hall has done a wonderful job in fulfilling its purpose. Let's make the new one do an even better one. Edna Lauver.

City To Vote On Mill Tax For Park Youth Recreation

Authorization of a special one mill tax for purposes of park maintenance and financing of youth recreation will be submitted to the Buchanan voters at the city election to be held April 1, as the result of a resolution passed at the March meeting of the city commission Monday evening.

At the decision there will be a special ballot vote altering the city charter to create three in place of the present two wards. The change was recommended by the city commission because of the fact that state law requires that not over 1,000 voters be registered per precinct, and if commissioners continue to represent wards as at present, the commission might grow to unwieldy proportions.

At present the two precincts which the commissioners represent are identical with the wards. If the change in the city charter is authorized, commissioners will represent wards only in the future and the wards may be divided into as many voting precincts as population warrants.

Submission of the one-mill special tax for maintenance of parks and youth recreation had been advocated by a number who believed that it will be faster to spread such expense on the tax roll than to raise it by popular subscription as in the past.

City officials stated that if the municipality does assume such expense, the present state of city finance makes it necessary to secure authorization of a mill aside from the legal limit of .38 mills. They said, however, that the authorization of the one-mill tax also has another purpose in creating a fund for such purposes so that it cannot be used for other finances. Creation of such special park funds is being practiced increasingly by towns and cities regardless of the state of finances, so that this work will have a desirable separate fund.

It is estimated that the city assessment of $5,000,000 would yield a little under $500,000 annually depending on the extent of collections.

Maroons Lose To St. Joseph 53-23

The unsuccessful basketball season of the Buchanan high school team drew near its end in the past week with the last conference game played against St. Joseph on the Buchanan floor Friday resulting in a 53-23 defeat for the Bucks and their ninth successive loss.

The game was a good fight all the way. The Bucks started off with a bang, scoring two baskets right off the bat. Then St. Joe began to click and the quarter ended 19-4 in their favor.

Louie Gray and Gene Wesner starred for their team, scoring five points apiece, and playing the ball up-the-floor, center style. Harold Ritter was also in the game with a fine brand of ball.

In the second quarter the Bucks ran their score up to 11 points, but the St. Joe Bears kept right on traveling to end the quarter on the heavy end of a 33 to 11 score.

The visitors kept on plugging their lead, adding 11 points while the Bucks were taking in seven more in the third quarter. Score 44-18. In the last quarter the Bucks went down, outplayed but snapping, by a total score 53-23.

Spring Weather Called Threat To Wheat And Fruit

Mademoiselle Spring was still extending her preview visit yesterday in spite of the cold wave warnings from the weather experts, the mercury registering a high of 61 degrees and three days of warm showers totaling 38 inches or one fourth of the March normal of 3.21 inches.

Buchanan weather had more than a touch of spring in the past week as rising temperatures and warm rains washed away all traces of the heavy snows of the previous week and brought on vegetation dangerously fast.

Flocks of blackbirds were reported during the week-end in the north Buchanan district which was distinctly something in the "pokey"; in fact, as blackbirds do not winter here. Two reports of robins also came in, one at the Ross Reynolds residence at 109 S. Detroit, where a robin nest was reported to be looking over the housing situation on Monday. Cicada bulbs were also shooting leaves and will bloom by the end of the week in the warm weather conditions.

Farmers report that the overly early and prolonged high temperatures have been doing no good to a wheat crop already damaged by an unfavorable winter. Fields of late-planted and shallow-rooted wheat are emerging from the winter spotted and brown. Continuance will also be a threat to the condition of local fruit, which came through the winter in excellent condition.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Warren Nelson as matron of honor. Robert Taylor, brother of the bride, served as best man. She was given in marriage by her father. Ushers were Warren Nelson and Earl Swartz.

The bride was lovely in a white lace wedding gown, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, long, tight sleeves, and full skirt made with a train. A fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade colonial bouquet of orchids.

Mrs Nelson wore a pink satin gown with a pink fingertip veil and carried a matching bouquet.

Miss Alwilda Kelly, accompanied by Mrs. Ward James, sang "O Promise Me" and "At Dawning".

The couple greeted wedding guests at a reception held in the church parlors after the ceremony. Mrs Fred Bennett, of Rockford, and Mrs. Otto Taylor, of McEride, aunts of the bride, presided at the refreshment tables.

Out-of-town guests were present from Chicago, Grand Rapids, McBride, Rockford and South Bend, Indiana.

Americans Asked To Economize On Cereal Products

Saving Bread Effective Way To Aid The Starving In Other Lands

Saving bread is the most direct way for the consumer to save wheat and help make more available for the hungry in other parts of the world.

A plan, was presented to Food for Freedom recently for pledging an actual amount of saving. This has been suggested to church and other groups.

"In response to the President's request to help prevent starvation overseas, I voluntarily pledge to conserve food and to buy less, bake less, waste less - bread, cake, wheat products.

VENETIAN BLINDS ALUMINUM STEEL WOOD Why buy stock blinds when we can give you blinds made to fit your windows in your choice of colors? WE PICK-UP AND DELIVER American Venetian Blind Co. Phone 7199-F15 Niles Mich.

For instance it has been suggested that Americans might eat more potatoes and nonwheat cereals in order to conserve wheat, buy fresh meat, poultry, and fish in order to save canned meat for export; use more fresh milk in place of canned milk, and substitute home-rendered fats and butter (which is too expensive for foreign relief purposes) for fats and oils.

Suggestions for preventing wastage of bread, offered by the United States Department of Agriculture:

- 1 Buy only what you need
2 Keep bread fresh by keeping it in a well-ventilated box, or in the refrigerator where it will not mold
3 Avoid serving too much at meals
4 Use stale bread as toast, in desserts, or pulverize into bread crumbs
5 Buy War Savings Bonds and Stamps

SAVE THAT TWINKLE Is there anything dearer than that roguish twinkle in a pair of bright young eyes? Yet how often is the priceless possession of keen sight doomed too soon, too needlessly, by unheeded eyestrain. You bundle up your children against cold and rain. You try to shield them from every danger - yet are you doing all you should to guard them against eyestrain? Most of us start life with perfect eyesight, yet one of five grade school children has impaired vision and two of five college graduates have defective eyesight. Sight is a most precious faculty. Guard it constantly. Adequate lighting is one sure way to help save your children's vision. Follow the advice of lighting experts presented here. 1. Do all reading, studying, sewing, or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp. 2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes. 3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes. 4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses. INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

Here's How You Can Help Speed Mail Delivery

Oversleeping Mailman Not Only Reason For A Tardy Delivery

Some day when your mail is delivered at your home a little later than you think it should be, look it over and see whether you have any pieces that don't bear your street address.

If such there be that might explain why the mail was late. Just hurry you brains a little too, and remember whether you include your street address in all letters to which you expect answers.

It may be you're one of the people who say "I've lived in Buchanan a long time and the post office people certainly know where I live. Or if they don't they can soon find out. I get my letters whether the street address is on or not."

However, this is what happens: During the war period, and even until now, the personnel of the local postal force has had frequent changes and often times the help available "doesn't know many people of the whereabouts of their homes. And they've been a lot of new people coming in and the old times at the P. O. don't know where they live.

Quite often the less experienced are the mail routing clerks. When a consignment of mail comes to the office from the Michigan Central it is first broken down into seven categories, general delivery, the Clark Equipment company, two rural mail routes, three city mail routes.

The routing clerk gets a letter with only the name of the addressee and "Buchanan, Michigan" on the envelope. She doesn't know which of the seven divisions it goes into. She can't throw it into any of the classifications and experiment, knowing that if she is wrong it will be fixed back. However that kind of trial-by-error and elimination method is slow, wasteful of time, and conducive to later and later mail deliveries.

If you move out into the country, then it is hardly adequate to have your mail addressed to "Rural Route Buchanan," for there are two routes. It's hardly adequate even to have it addressed "Rural Route 2," for if a new mail carrier takes over, what does that mean to him? Even if you have your name on your box, he will not know in advance where your home is in rotation along the route, so that he can sort his mail. You guess what is lacking? Your box should be numbered.

It would be very convenient for the postal force if all rural route boxes had numbers. Then if you moved into a home along one of the routes, the matter of an intelligible notification to the post office would be greatly simplified. You could just give your new address as Box No. 775, instead of telling them you'd moved to the Richard Roe farm, next beyond the Richard Roe farm, if they knew where that was.

You can cooperate with the post office in more prompt and more accurate deliveries of mail by attending to the following matters:

1. See that your correspondents have your correct street address and use it.
2. If you live in the country, see that your number is on your mail box.
3. If you live in town see that your house, or your place of business has a number on it.

In any event if you have a postoffice box see that you have a conveniently-placed mailbox or mail slot.

At one time the carrier for the business section used to start out at 8 a. m., on the theory that the business men who got their mail by carrier might like to get it early. But so many of the business houses did not open until 9 a. m., had no mail receptacles of any kind to receive it, that the start of delivery had to be delayed until 9 a. m.

So it must be evident to anyone that has read this far that the delivery of things can be delayed by a number of things beside oversleeping by the mail carrier.

University Of Mich. Chemistry Teacher Invents New Textile

War-time research in a University of Michigan chemistry laboratory is expected to have far-reaching effects upon the textile and clothing industries. An example is offered in the case of Aerobond, the product of research by Floyd E. Bartell, professor of chemistry at the University, which served in wartime to provide the armed forces with clothing that was light weight and also waterproof and resistant to cold.

Clothing treated with Aerobond is unique as it permits the fabric to "breathe." Perspiration can escape, thus making the wearers comfortable, but cold and water is excluded. And combining all these features in clothing that is light weight adds further comfort and permits use of Aerobond in civilian attire.

In addition to all these qualities, Prof. Bartell says Aerobond is sound deadening, can be made into sheets of any dimensions for use in cushions and insulating material and "has so many possibilities we are not aware of all of them."

Clothing utilizing Aerobond probably will be on the market in a few months. It is expected to be available as a quality item.

The University of Michigan chemist produced cloth utilizing the qualities of Aerobond in a pilot plant at the University. He disclosed his discovery to Army and Navy officials in Washington, D. C., on September 30, 1944, and was immediately given an Office of Scientific Research Development contract and a staff of 14 to pursue his research.

Aerobond is obtained by combining aerogel with silane, using latex as the bonding agent. Aerogel had been known for 15 years to be light weight and heat resisting, but would not repel water, Prof. Bartell says. Silane, a water time development, provided the water resistant feature, and use of latex as a bonding agent solved the problem of applying the product to other materials.

Probate Court Had Big February Load

The monthly report of Judge Malcolm Hatfield reveals that the Probate Court carried an unusual heavy load throughout February, even though the war closed six months ago. One reason for this activity is that houses and other buildings that can be converted into living quarters are eagerly sought by purchasers even before the owners are buried.

The following types of cases were heard by the court in February: four trials where land was partitioned among heirs, two undivided bank accounts, six adoptions, the removal of an executor for neglecting to close an estate, the sterilization of a feeble-minded adolescent girl, the commitment of eight insane and three feeble-minded persons to state institutions, hearings involving 28 neurotic parents who were neglecting their children, a trial in which assets of an estate had been concealed, requiring three sons and daughters to support an indigent parent, placing three unreported births on record, accepting ancillary proceedings in two estates where the primary administrators had been appointed in other states, restoring an insane adult to soundness of mind, computing new inheritance taxes in the amount of $3,723.81 and accepting payment of old taxes in the amount of $1,583.32.

In addition to issuing two secret marriage licenses in order to protect the good name and reputations of two expectant mothers, Judge Hatfield heard cases involving a disappeared person, an alcoholic, a contract effecting minor court wards and a corporation, examining eight petitions for mortgage real estate in order to pay debts of deceased persons, reviewed three findings of referees on claims, approved eight boarding homes and 17 notary public applications, permitted two adults to change their names, closed 35 deceased estates and admitted 44 others to probate.

Throughout February the court also appointed guardians for nine adults and seven minors, required an adult to take treatment for a social disease, examined 308 general petitions and heard 19 contested trials.

In the juvenile division, eight crippled and 14 afflicted children were treated. Petitions were filed for eight adoptions, investigations of six proposed homes for adoptions were made while four adoptions were confirmed. The parole activities of seven youngsters home from state institutions were investigated by the court as were the activities of 20 additional children who had been placed on probation by the court.

In addition to hearing the cases of 27 neglected children, Judge Hatfield also tried the following cases, two run aways from other counties, six traffic violators and 28 delinquent youngsters. Of the delinquents, three were girls and the rest boys.

OLD JUDGE: "Hank, you're a big grain producer... let me ask you a question or two?"
HANK: "Glad to have you, Judge."
OLD JUDGE: "Do you think the grain used by distillers is wasted as some folks are saying?"
HANK: "I certainly do Not! As a matter of fact, it is just the opposite."
OLD JUDGE: "How do you figure that, Hank?"
HANK: "From my own experience and from reports I've read. For the year endin' last June, the distillers produced over 1,200,000,000 pounds of distillers' dried grains... the best feed supplements we can lay our hands on. They are rich in nutrients. Why... I've never had such fat dairy cows, livestock and poultry as I have since I've been usin' these dried grains."

OLD JUDGE: "How do you use them, Hank?"
HANK: "I blend them in with original grain. This balanced ration has far greater feed value than the original grain itself. I can cut down on my whole grain feeding about 20% and still get better results."

Norman McClen Writes Le Havre, France Feb 9, 1946 Dear Mom I know that it has been a long time since I have written to you. I have been awfully busy running the Motor Pool. There is a lot to the job. I am mad at the whole army, we are eating rotten, just like a bunch of bums.

We haven't had any coal for five days and we won't get any of the stuff for about another 10 days. If they can't feed us and keep us warm, I don't see why they don't send us home and let us make a living that we are entitled to.

Oh well, I hear I will be leaving some time in March or about the 15th of April. I just got another bowling out from my Lieutenant. One of the boys went out and was fooling around and the Lieutenant caught him. So I got the bowling out because he works for me in the Motor Pool. I am feeling O. K. but I ain't happy. I haven't received any mail for about four days and I am looking for the box you sent me. I will close for now so write soon. Your son in Him, All my love and kisses, Norman

Norman McClen is a staff sergeant and has charge of the Motor Pool in Le Havre, France

Lt. Max Beadle is now on terminal leave until April 10. He entered the army reserves in August, 1942, and went overseas in July, 1945. He served on Leyte where he helped in the distribution of supplies.

Lt. Beadle and his wife and daughter are visiting his wife's family in Grand Junction, Colo., for two weeks. Joseph Benak, now attached on Guam in the Central Pacific, in U. S. Army Infantry service, has been promoted from Private First Class to Corporal, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Benak, Galien. He is now detailed to office work in an army hospital. He has been overseas 11 months, going first to Saipan, while active combat was still in progress there.

Robert Snider, Coxswain, USN, arrived home Feb 17 after 15 months of overseas service in the south Pacific to spend a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Snider.

Major Eugene Kelly, U. S. Marine Air Corps, and Mrs. Kelley arrived Monday from Kingston, N. C., to spend two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kelley, before reporting at San Diego, Calif., for overseas duty.

Gaylord Marsh in Tokyo With the Eighth Army in Japan, Gaylord F. Marsh, Salin, is now serving with the famous 1st Cavalry Division in the present occupation of the Nippon capital. Marsh was recently promoted from the rank of corporal to sergeant.

Overseas since March, 1945, Marsh is with the 12th Cavalry regiment. A veteran of two campaigns, he wears the Asiatic-Pacific theater ribbon with two campaign stars for Leyte and Luzon; the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two stars, the Combat Infantryman's badge, and the Good Conduct medal.

As a civilian, Marsh attended the Buchanan high school and later engaged in farming. He entered the Army October 23, 1944, and took basic training at Camp Hood, Texas. After discharge, he plans to return to farming.

His wife, Mrs. Gaylord Marsh, and daughter, Janet, live in Galien.

Herb Johnson A/S is now at the station hospital at Camp Peary, Va., where he is recovering from pneumonia. He expects to be home in about a month.

Pvt. Robert Bailey is now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. where he is receiving his basic training.

In Civvies Again Myron Place, Signalman 2/C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Place, received his discharge Feb 22 at Great Lakes, Ill. He entered the Navy July, 1942, and directly after completing his boot training he went to the south Pacific, where he served aboard a LCI. He is now farming with his parents on Route 1.

Sgt. Herbert Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Russell, has returned to civilian life after serving in the armed forces since October, 1942. He received his discharge at Fort Sheridan, Ill., March 2, returning from Guam and Iwo Jima where he worked in radar maintenance. He enlisted in the Signal Corps in October 1942, and went on active duty Sept. 16, 1943. Before entering the service, he was employed at Clark's.

Edward Myers, Boilermaker 2/C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Myers, received his discharge from the Navy Feb 7 at Great Lakes, Ill. He served 21 months aboard the destroyer, USS Zoyle, in the Mediterranean Sea and North Atlantic. He is now making his home with his parents on Route 2.

K. Zick Announces For Re-Election As Prosecuting Atty.

Karl F. Zick, prosecuting attorney for Berrien county, today announced his candidacy for re-election on the Republican ticket for prosecutor.

KARL F. ZICK

In seeking re-election, the prosecutor stated that the records of the office under his administration show a high standard of efficiency, fair dealing and honesty and that all promises to the people have been fulfilled to the end, that the guilty have been vigorously prosecuted and the rights of the innocent respected and protected.

The prosecutor further pointed out that by reason of the sharp increase in crime coming as an aftermath of the war, the county of Berrien will be best served by electing the prosecutor with known experience as a law enforcement officer with the vigilance and seasoned judgment so necessary at this time in the administration of criminal law.

Mr. Zick has had a wide experience as a law enforcement officer, having had four years' experience as assistant prosecutor before being elected prosecutor in 1942. Mr. Zick stated, however, that if elected for the next term, he definitely will not seek the office again, and he will therefore appoint a highly capable attorney to act as assistant prosecutor in order that the needed experience in the administration of the office can be acquired, and so that his successor will be qualified for the office in two years. Mr. Arthur E. Lechner has stated that he will not run for the office of prosecutor, and will not continue as assistant beyond this year.

Mr. Zick has lived in Berrien county all of his life. He is married and has two children, and resides in Sodus township. Prior to last year, he had lived in Benton Harbor for twenty-five years.

Union Services To Be Held In Evangelical Church Friday At 2:15 P. M.

March 8, 1946 will truly be a World Day of Prayer for Christians the world over. Early in September typed copies of the World Day of Prayer program were sent to all mission fields scattered throughout the world.

The World Day of Prayer Handbook says that on the first Friday of Lent this day of prayer starts west of the international Date Line, with Fiji Islanders and New Zealanders. As the sun moves westward teaching country after country, new groups from all sorts of towns, cities, hamlets, go to join in a universal service of worship.

Some 40 hours later, the final observance is held by the fu-clad

George Dick, pastor of the First Baptist church of South Bend, when he speaks Friday at 2:15 p. m. in the Buchanan Evangelical church. Mrs. Earl Rizor, president of the Buchanan Council of Church Women, is chairman of the local World Day of Prayer observance. Her assisting committee is both interdenominational and interracial. Rob's Vitamin C. Air, water and heat, the nutritionists say, rob's cabbage of vitamin C. The less cabbage is cooked, or exposed to the air, the more vitamin C is held. The secret of boiling to hold vitamin C and the sweet fresh flavor of the leaves is to cook quickly. Five to 10 minutes of boiling is enough for shredded cabbage, 10 to 15 minutes for quartered cabbage. Whether served piping hot or crisp cold, cabbage provides nourishment and its own special appealing flavor of when it is placed on the table.

Farmers Who Need Workers Register At Benton Harbor

Berrien county farmers that are in need of farm labor should register with the Emergency Farm Labor office across from the Benton Harbor market entrance says County Agent L. A. Zillman. Persons seeking farm jobs are calling at the Emergency Farm Labor office daily, in fact, requests for farm jobs exceed the number of jobs which are registered. Zillman suggests that farmers register their labor needs early. Call Benton Harbor 5-2103 or write Don Hamilton, Farm Labor office, 361 Ninth St., Benton Harbor.

NOW! 1/2 MILE FREE LINE-CONSTRUCTION for new rural telephone subscribers Effective March 1, the Michigan Rural Telephone Construction Plan was further liberalized. Now we will extend our rural lines an average of one-half mile* for each new subscriber with no construction charge! Under the revised plan, a large majority of the farm homes in Michigan Bell territory can get service without any charge for construction. This liberalization was recommended by the Michigan Rural Communications Committee, a group of agricultural leaders who helped us design the present construction plan. As rapidly as more materials become available, such additional free line-construction, together with small monthly payments for construction beyond the half-mile allowance, will mean more farm families with telephones... more people you can reach from your telephone. And that's only part of Michigan Bell's vast 5-year $13,500,000 rural expansion and improvement program. Construction of more lines will mean fewer parties per line for many customers. And dial systems will be installed in many more rural sections. All of which will add up to better, faster and more satisfactory service for more Michigan rural folks. *Formerly the allowance was 3/10 of a mile. MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY. OUR POST-WAR PROGRAM MEANS JOBS FOR THOUSANDS.
