Dr. J. C. Strayer, Practising Physician Here 38 Years, Taken By Death

Measure Still In Discussion Stage Says Board

Now Here's the Proposition

From Printing To Nuts and Nuts to Printing See Mack

Last week a breeze from the Golden West blew into the Record office in the person of one A. B. McClure, now of Visalia, Calif., but connected with the Record's management and operation for several years.

Mack still is working in printing but reports that as a natural result of the business he is fast going nuts. Rather he is gradually developing a walnut plantation, and when the business reaches a satisfactory basis he will go from the printing business to the nut business—and nuts to printing.

After a few pleasant remembrance sessions at the office, Mack and the Mrs. took off for an additional visit with relatives in Pennsylvania and plants east before returning to California.

Funeral Held In Auditorium Of Moccasin School

Served Entire Professional Life Of 38 Years In Buchanan

Last rites were fittingly held for the late Dr. J. C. Strayer at 2 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in the auditorium of the Moccasin school, the beautiful new structure which he had helped to create during his 23 years as a member of the school board.

The funeral was arranged in this building because of the anticipated attendance. The body of the beloved physician was transferred Wednesday morning from his home to the school auditorium, and placed at the east end in front of the stage. Covering the entire front of the stage and banked around the coffin were an impressive array of flowers.

The funeral service was presided over by Rev. William T. Hunt of the Presbyterian church, and ousal was made in Oak Ridge cemetery. The acting pallbearers were Lee Roe, Alfred Roe, Robert Roe, Leo Boyce, Theodore Lyon, Philip Hanlin.

Honorary pallbearers were Harold Stank, Lester Lyon, Ralph D'Nardo, Dr. H. M. Beistle, E. C. Mogford, C. E. Kaye, Frank Leucht, Dr. Clarence Gillette, Halleigh Riley, Sr., Dr. R. S. Wateron, Dr. Robert Henderson, Fred Eaglesfield, M. L. Hanlin, Robert Roe, C. J. Wilson, John F. Russell, Cleon Hathaway, O. Gaylord Marsh, Robert Koenigschot, Mildred Scholtz, E. R. Desenberg, Buck Smith, Frank Poorman, Harold Bradford.

Dr. John Curvan Strayer was born at Waterstown, Pa., the son of John and Lydia Strayer. He graduated from Lehigh Valley college at Annville, Pa., in 1906, and from the University of Michigan medical school in 1912. He interned at West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, Pa., and began his practice in Buchanan in 1913. He married Florence Clark in Buchanan in 1914.

Survivors are his wife, three sons, Dr. John W. Strayer of Niles, Dr. Robert C. Strayer and William C. Strayer of Buchanan, a sister, Mrs. C. N. Dellinger of Red Lion, Pa., six grandchildren.

He had spent his usual hours in his office and in his home at 6 p.m. on Wednesday he was suddenly stricken.

During his 38 years of medical practice here he acquired a high position in the esteem and affection of his fellow townsmen. He served continuously as a member of the school board since 1928, most of that time as president. During the mid-twenties he served as the village council, also as president of that body. He was president of the Lions club at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Health and Welfare committee of the Berrien County Board of Supervisors, and a member of the medical staff of Pawating hospital, and member and past president of the Berrien County Medical Association.

The body was at the residence until 9:30 a.m. yesterday, and many hundreds of his friends and clients came to pay him the last tribute.

As an extraordinary tribute, the members of the city commission, headed by the late physician's son, Dr. Robert C. Strayer, adjourned the regular bi-monthly meeting Monday night after passing a resolution honoring the deceased. In addition to citing his many affiliations and positions of honor, the resolution was as follows:

"Whereas, the passing of Dr. J. C. Strayer, on Sunday June 10th, A. D. 1951, is noted by this Commission with deep sorrow, and

"Whereas, it is the feeling of this Commission that full and complete public recognition of Dr. Strayer's service both in his private professional capacity, as a practitioner of medicine, and as a public spirited citizen and civic leader should be had at this time.

"That as an expression of the recognition of Dr. Strayer's service to the public during his entire career in this community and in recognition of his unselfish generosity, both materially and with his time and his professional services, on behalf of any meritorious cause, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the meeting of this Commission, and therein made public, and further that the Clerk of this Commission be instructed to present to the family of Dr. Strayer, a copy of this resolution.

Resolution was adopted by unanimous vote of the Commission.

SERVICE WAS THE WORD

With the sudden and unexpected death of Dr. Strayer last Sunday morning there came to a close the life of a man who had, in the best sense of the word, been a servant of his people.

Thirty-eight years ago he came to Buchanan, a young doctor who had just completed his internship. He gave this community his life. No doubt, because of his position and his long and genuine service, he came nearer to the community than any other man now living here. To his people he gave not only his wide knowledge and experience—he gave himself. There are very many families in Buchanan in which Dr. Strayer was the presiding physician at the births of both parents and children. Throughout their lives he carried on as the trusted guardian of their continued health and existence. This was indeed an intimate and a vital relationship.

He was a general practitioner, not a specialist, at least in education and title. But to many he seemed a specialist too, in human kindness and understanding, and in his power to minister to the mind as well as the body. Some time ago a young woman who had left Buchanan to enter professional work in a great city said to us "There're thousands of doctors in Chicago, but when I think there's something the matter with me I come back to Buchanan to see Dr. Strayer. Some way he seems to do me more good than any other doctor."

Many times through the years this writer, and doubtless many others, wondered "How does Doc do it?" For both through periods of general good health and of community epidemic Dr. Strayer seemed always going, always on the job. There may have been times when consideration of his own health interfered with his care for others, but we were never aware of it. The long, unceasing night and day service undoubtedly was taking its toll. It seemed that he might have continued many more years his understanding ministrations.

But in another sense, the way it happened may have been the way he would have preferred. It would not have seemed natural to him or to others, had he endured years of incapacity during which he would not have been able to continue the service that was his life. He died as he lived, in the harness, in full activity to the day of his death.

Cosmopolitan From South Seas Visits Buchanan

Mrs. Simone Etscheit Of The Caroline Islands Guest Of C. L. Gunn's

The islands of the Pacific South Seas are really overwhelmingly beautiful, notwithstanding the opinions of homesick U. S. sailors who were in the vicinity on duty and dangerous business during World War II, that Mrs. Simone Etscheit, a guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gunn, Mrs. Etscheit should know. She has lived in the Carolines 24 years, including four years as a prisoner of Japan during the war. She went there as a bride when her young husband, Carlos Etscheit, took over the family plantation, holding the title for 24 years ago. Both were Belgians. He was sent from the islands to the homeland for five years to be educated and met Simone. After his education was completed he went to the Carolines, stayed there two years, returned to Belgium and married her and took her back to the islands. Their acquaintance with the Gunn family came about when Mr. Gunn was sent there in government administration service after the United States took over the Carolines from the Japanese at the close of the war, Aug. 14, 1945. This year she returned to her native Belgium to visit her family for the first time in 17 years, and is now returning to the Carolines. She was with the Gunns from Sunday until Friday of last week.

When she went to the Carolines there were only three other white persons there, her husband, his brother, and his mother. When World War II came there were still only the Etscheit family, including then the three lovely daughters, now aged 22, 18, and 15.

The Carolines had been Japanese territory since the islands were taken from Germany at the end of World War I. When the Japanese entered World War II the Etscheits were enemy aliens. The days of the occupation were days of deadly fear and discouragement. For two years they were prisoners in their home. Then the Americans began to bomb the Japanese colony where they lived and they were heeded into the interior, where they lived practically in the open country where there is an extremely heavy annual rainfall, sheltered only by rude huts they made themselves from a few boards of logs, with thatched roofs of grass and palm leaves. The Japanese officer told them at the beginning that they could kill them whenever they disobeyed orders. This in fact was the fate of their white acquaintances on neighboring islands. The officer told them that Belgium was now conquered by Germany and they had no country to appeal to, which was true.

During the two years in the interior they lived only on the food that grew about them, nuts and native fruits. Mrs. Etscheit showed the writer a picture of their family at the time of their liberation by the Americans, a group of five gaunt skeletons. Mrs. Etscheit weighed only 100 pounds at the time, to which she had been reduced from a normal weight of 140 pounds. When they were freed they found their home gone, partly destroyed by bombing, partly by removal of the remaining material by the Japanese to build houses in the interior.

Their plantation had been forcibly purchased from them by the Japanese at confiscatory prices. Part of the trees had been destroyed, the remainder are rapidly being destroyed by the invading jungle, for the Etscheits have not yet regained title. The islands were returned to the nominal ownership of Japan following the war, although the U. S. Navy actually governed them. Next month the rule will be turned over to the Division of Trust Territories of the United States Department of the Interior as trustees for the United Nations. The Etscheits eventually hope to get title to their plantation again before it is totally ruined.

The home of the Etscheits was in the Japanese colony town on the island of Ponape. This is a relatively large island. There are no roads in the interior, a region of dense forest and jungle overrunning low mountains which are extinct volcanoes. You can go around the perimeter only by foot or by boat. The Carolines lie near Guam, about 5,000 miles southwest of the Hawaiian Islands.

Catch Niles Boy, Stolen Truck, At Berrien Springs

Steals Truck From Parking Lot At Buchanan Steel, Drives Two Days

This story makes you wonder about — among other things — parents. The Buchanan police received a call at 1:30 a.m. Saturday that a 1947 Dodge truck had been stolen from the parking lot at the Buchanan Steel Corporation plant.

The information was placed on the air for nearby and out-of-state police stations, but nothing was heard from the truck until midnight Sunday, when the police received a call from the Berrien Springs police, reporting that they had located the truck, with two juveniles in it whom they had in custody. The two, a boy aged 15 from Niles, and a girl of 16 from Sumnerville, were brought to Buchanan.

The story of the two young people revealed that the girl had no knowledge of the fact that the truck had been stolen, but had merely gone with the boy on a date to Silver Beach. The boy said that he had attended the local carnival at 4 o'clock on Friday evening, and on leaving the grounds he saw the truck. He looked in, found the keys, and took possession. He placed a jacket and lunch box belonging to the owner of the truck on the fence, and took off. After driving away a while he went home to Niles, stole the sum of $51 from a piggy bank belonging to his father, also a 38 caliber revolver. He parked the truck away from the house.

Saturday afternoon he drove to South Bend and then to New Buffalo. He then returned home by way of Buchanan, stopping again at the carnival. He went back to Niles early in the evening, went to the theatre and met the Sumnerville girl. After the theatre they went riding until the small hours of the night, when he dropped the girl off at home.

He rode around in the truck all day Sunday and in the afternoon he went to Sumnerville and took the girl to Silver Beach, St. Joseph. When returning to Sumnerville he was picked up by the Berrien Springs police for speeding. In the glove compartment of the truck the police found the 38 revolver and a box of shells. In the truck was also some of the boy's clothing and fishing equipment.

The Buchanan police soon found that the boy was a ward of the Michigan State police, who had a search card out for him as a runaway. He has served time in the Boys' Vocational school at Lansing in 1950 for automobile theft. He told the police he planned to drive to Kentucky and there join a carnival.

He is now in the juvenile detention home in St. Joseph on a charge of car theft and carrying concealed weapons. He will be turned over to the Berrien county juvenile court for sentence.

Problems Of Bond Finance, Shortage Of Materials, Both Possible

The proposal for a $700,000 bond issue to provide for additional school rooms, a new high school gymnasium, and other uses, is still in the stage of discussion only, stated school board officials at the annual meeting of School District No. 1 Fractional at the high school auditorium Monday evening with an audience of seven taxpayers and two out-of-town guests present in addition to board members and school officials.

The measure has still to receive the final approval of the Michigan Tax Commission. This body tentatively approved the continuation of the 6 1/2 mill issue now in effect, but has still to approve the bonding schedule, which has not yet been completed by a Detroit firm to which it was submitted. Even though the issue were legally approved and passed by the voters, it might be blocked by threatened lack of construction materials likely to occur when the national defense program gets into full swing sometime next fall or winter, stated Supt. H. C. Stank.

Another hazard is the possibility that the bond issue schedule that can be financed by the estimated sum may not be attractive. In view of the increase in interest rates, which might be double the 1 1/2% charged on the Moccasin school issue.

The estimated costs which go to make up the $700,000 building program were broken down by Philip Hanlin, treasurer, as follows: gymnasium, $300,000; 3-room wing, $200,000; music room, $40,000; remodeling, $70,000; architect fees, $40,000.

In reply to a question why the erection of a $350,000 gymnasium might not be a separate issue from the other additions, the board stated that this involved some complications not immediately apparent.

The total project as announced provides for the creation of five new school rooms, in addition to the 2-room wing at the northwest corner of the high school building. The five rooms will be created from partitions in present junior and senior high school study rooms, and in the rooms on the first floor under the gymnasium now occupied by the boys' and girls' dressing rooms.

If the gymnasium addition should be eliminated, then only eight more school rooms would be built, which are insufficient addition for grade needs that are expected to develop within the next few years. This estimate is based partly on the recent school census, which listed 171 children two years of age and 163 children three years of age. The total of these two age groups indicates a coming need of eleven or twelve rooms to accommodate the two groups when they enter school, on the basis of the thirty-pupil-per-room limit now the standard. A new sixth grade room must be added this year by further encroaching on the junior and senior high school space.

While the proposed 1700-capacity gymnasium may seem large, it is not out of proportion in comparison with the 1200-capacity gymnasium at the Berrien Springs high school, now used to the seating limit of the thirty-pupil-per-room limit now the standard. A new sixth grade room must be added this year by further encroaching on the junior and senior high school space.

Architects who have studied the possibility of enlarging the present gymnasium have uniformly rejected the idea, stating that there is no practical way of remedying the situation by alteration.

Males Hole-In-One

Tom Mitchell is reported to have joined the Immortals at the Orchard Hills Country Club last week by lifting a golf ball 73 yards for a hole in one in a 7-tee last-minute drive. His putter was unable to get the details of the B.G. Scoop, further than that Tom had never made a hole-in-one before. So in one last desperate effort he grappled his club with both hands, shut both eyes and swung. Loud cheers and a mob rush for the club bar signaled his good fortune.

Thomas Watson Fabiano 9 Tied "Flutters" Off With Studebaker Top Of Windmill In Ind. League

Thomas Watson, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Watson, 319 Sylvan avenue, incurred fractures of his left leg immediately above the ankles and of the pelvic bone when he fell 25 feet from the platform of a windmill at the Watson farm north of Iowa last Friday evening.

The boy had climbed to the top of the windmill tower and was seated on the end of one of the platform boards, swinging his feet into space, when the nuts at the opposite end of the board loosened. He hit on his feet, breaking one of the bones of the lower left femur just above the ankle and the left pelvic bone in the rear. Examination by x-rays revealed that neither of the fractured bones had been displaced, the injuries being merely cracks. No splints were needed. He remained in Pawating hospital until Monday, when he was brought to his home, where he will be obliged to keep off his feet for three weeks.

He explained the mishap as follows: "I climbed to the top of the windmill and was sitting on the edge of the platform pulling leaves off a branch I had in my hand and watching them flutter down. Then all of a sudden I fluttered down myself."

By rare good fortune the boy alighted on the only clear spot at the base of the structure, on soil that had recently been softened by rain. On all the other sides were a miscellaneous pile of boxes, machine equipment and other objects that would doubtless have contributed to his injuries.

The score by innings was: Fabiano 000 104 010 8 Kosciusko 100 000 000 1.

Thursday evening of last week the Fabiano team edged out LaPorte by a score of 6-5. Jack Mitchell started the game on the mound for Buchanan, but was taken out when the LaPorte nine got to him for four runs in the second inning.

Ike Bierwagen took over the pitching chores then, striking out 10 and holding the guests to one run. Bierwagen also featured with the stick, blasting Buchanan's only extra base hit. The score by innings was: Fabiano 043 100 000 5 LaPorte 140 000 100 6.

Fabiano's also won a non-league game from the Tyler team of Niles Friday night by a score of 6-5, with Jack Mitchell going the route for Fabiano on the mound.

Buchanan now has a first-class jail, said William Nestle, Michigan state jail inspector, who was in Buchanan Thursday in the course of a routine check on city rest homes.

1951 Rose Festival At International Friendship Gardens
The 1951 Rose festival will be opened this week-end, June 16, at International Friendship Gardens bringing the spring perennial show to its climax.

J. Virgil Stauffer, director of the 100-acre Gardens project, said he expects samples of each of the Gardens' 40 varieties of roses to be blooming soon.

Stauffer emphasized, too, that the Gardens' ideal of promoting peace and friendship through the international love of beauty has drawn exceptionally favorable comment this year.

Stauffer and his brother, Joseph, have spent 17 years carving their ideal from what was once a virgin wilderness into one of Hoosierland's proudest beauty spots. To do it they had to battle the elements—flood, drought, and severe storms.

The perennial display now features enormous peony plants, iris, poppy, shasta daisies and many other familiar and rare floral items.

Cosmopolitan From South Seas Visits In Buchanan

lands. They are directly north of the east end of Australia, about three days distance by slow steamers. There is no communication with Australia by regular boats or other means. The group is in the Torrid zone, seven degrees north of the Equator.

The natives were apparently never over-exposed to the lowering influence of white traders, as occurred in other South Sea islands. Few traders seem to have lived there, the whites being mainly military personnel and missionaries, under both the Japanese and the Americans. There were indeed a group of Spanish nuns and monks there during the residence of the Etschets. There is a large Catholic church. Protestant missionaries have also worked there, and the natives for the most part have adopted one of the two faiths.

The Etschets emerged from the period of Japanese occupation shorn of their property, but Mr. Etschet entered business as a trader, buying supplies from the Island Trading company, a government corporation, and selling to the Caroline natives. He has also developed a soap business and now makes about 20,000 bars of soap monthly from coconut oil, all sold in the Caroline islands. So the Etschets have been able to get along, sending their daughters to the Hawaiian islands 5,000 miles away for secondary and college education during the school year. There were no schools in the Carolines, Mrs. Etschet herself being their teacher to the age of 14. It is easy to see that may have been a considerable task for Mrs. Etschet but no handicap to the daughters. Mrs. Etschet, a native of Belgium, speaks a fluent and precise English with only a slight accent. She also has a fluent French, German, and speaks the native tongue of Ponape and doubtless has more knowledge of other languages than she admits.

Supervisors Pay Silent Tribute To Dr. Strayer

The Berrien county supervisors held their regular meeting Monday in Benton Harbor. They took exception to a Look magazine article depicting the plight of migratory farm labor near Benton Harbor. The publicity was nationwide, so Chairman Alfred Bartz was authorized to name a committee of three to investigate and reply to the magazine at an early date.

The supervisors observed one minute of silence in tribute to Dr. J. C. Strayer, who was medical advisor to the board's health and welfare committee. Chairman Frank Poorman approved this, and he pointed out the great help they had received from the doctor.

Honor was also paid to Herman G. Crow, city manager of St. Joseph for 22 years, who passed away June 9.

Discussion of the proposed site of the juvenile detention home was resumed, since there have been active movements to change the site nearer to the Twin Cities. Judge Malcolm Hatfield favoring erection on the lot west of the new county jail, in St. Joseph, or remodeling the front section of the old jail for use as a home.

Whether an urban or rural location would be more advantageous for the youngsters themselves also enters into the picture. Chairman Frank Poorman and his committee are considering all ideas.

Contest Winners Off To Arkansas Sunday, June 17

J. Seyfred, M. Mitchell and R. Kuntz To Visit Big Broiler Industry in N.W. Arkansas

The three 4-H members who were winners of the Berrien county 4-H "Chicken of Tomorrow" contest will start on their poultry and college education during the school year. There were no schools in the Carolines, Mrs. Etschet herself being their teacher to the age of 14. It is easy to see that may have been a considerable task for Mrs. Etschet but no handicap to the daughters. Mrs. Etschet, a native of Belgium, speaks a fluent and precise English with only a slight accent. She also has a fluent French, German, and speaks the native tongue of Ponape and doubtless has more knowledge of other languages than she admits.

This area has become quite noted for its broilers during the last few years. They have a big poultry industry there with some raisers in the area growing from 8,000 to 10,000 broilers at a time. There are also several poultry processing plants which the group will have a chance to see.

Hill states that J. D. Johnson, county agricultural agent, and his wife, will accompany the three 4-H club members on the trip. They are planning on leaving Sunday afternoon, June 17 and returning June 23.

This award trip was given these three 4-H members who did the best job of raising their chickens in a 12-week period. The contest was completed April 30.

The people or firms who are sponsoring this award trip and also trophies to the top three winners are: Buchanan Co-ops, New Troy Mills, Farmers' Hatchery, Graham's Hatchery, Schraders' Poultry Market and X-L Poultry Farm.

Buchanan Tops Berrien County in Cancer Fund Drive

Leads County In Money Per Capita

The Buchanan community headed the communities of Berrien county in funds raised in proportion to population in the recent canvass for funds for the American Cancer Society.

Under the leadership of E. B. Ross, chairman, a total of $3,071.50 was raised in Buchanan, or a total of between 55 and 60 cents per capita. This was approximately 26% over the local goal of $2,500. However the local goal was by far the highest in Berrien county on a per capita basis.

Results from other cities were: Benton Harbor, goal $4,500, collected $5,592.29; St. Joseph, goal $4,000, collected $4,372.75; Niles, goal $3,500, collected $3,571.94.

"Headlines go to Mr. Ross and your community", stated County Drive Chairman Dirk L. Brink, in his letter detailing the results.

"The goal set by the Berrien county chapter and amount collected, total for the county $22,777.00 exceeding our goal of $20,000 on schedule by $2,777.00.

"Every community reached their goal, some exceeding as high as 50% (comparative in size the honors go to Buchanan headed by Chairman E. B. Ross retired executive of the Clark Equipment company, raised the most money per capita in the county collecting a total of $3,071.00).

"The money is urgently needed for research work and continuation of our present program in the county for education, stressing signs and quick observation and early treatment, requiring the services of one full time and one part time nurse, medical care program as a result any number of people obtain cancer dressings and other needed supplies who might well be unable to receive care and treatment from any other source.

"The Berrien county Chapter of the American Cancer Society is very appreciative to the public for the 114% response to this worthy cause and takes this opportunity to thank the contributors and the press who gave so generously and valuable space to the cause, and all the workers that made this year's drive such a success."

PLENTY DEGREES COOLER INSIDE

THESE folks are enjoying something that's being pioneered by Buick.

It's freedom from the blinding glare of bright summer sunlight.

It's freedom from hot laps—caused by the sun's rays beating down through the broad expanse of windshield.

These freedoms trace to a new feature you may have noticed in '51 Buicks—a new kind of glass! with a cool, soft, blue-green tint, in every glass area of the car, front, side and back.

Buick engineers tell us that this "Buick first" reduces glare 18% over conventional glass—cuts sun heat as much as 45%—and Buick engineers are very conservative fellows.

($0 down at extra cost—available on most models. (Not presently available in California and Massachusetts))

This glare-and-heat-reducing Easy-eye glass is factory-installed at moderate extra charge. It gives you a built-in transparent "sun visor" right in the windshield—and it also dulls the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night.

As we've said, this is something Buick owners were the first to enjoy. It takes its place with such exclusives as the valve-in-head Fireball Engine—coil springs on all four wheels—the firm power linkage of torque-tube drive—and the magic of Dynaflow.

As we've also said—rather modestly—"Smart buy's Buick."

Come in soon and find out what an understatement that really is.

Lumination accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on POADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE*
- FIREBALL ENGINE
- PUSH BAR FOREFRONT
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING
- TORQUE TUBE DRIVE
- DUAL VENTILATION
- DREAMLINE STYLING
- BODY BY FISHER

A Dangerous Theory

Before this country got into the second world war the late President Roosevelt said that when the Axis powers got read to attack, they would attack.

At that time that statement seemed plausible to a great many people and it was quite generally accepted as a correct estimate of the situation which existed.

However, we know that it was not what it seemed. There has been no evidence that the Germans had serious plans of attacking the United States. The Japanese did, of course, have such plans and carried them out. But the Pearl Harbor investigation revealed that there was nothing immutable about the Japanese intentions and that right up to Pearl Harbor there were negotiations which might at least have changed the Japanese timetable.

The same thing was said of the Axis powers and their intention is now being said of Russia. It is often said and more often implied that the Russians intend to attack, that they either have a set timetable for the attack or that they have made their preparations to attack when it seems to them opportune.

No one, at least no one outside the Russian ruling clique, can say this is not so. The chances of it being so are good enough that however little anyone likes the prospect of learning, it is hard to make any argument against rearming.

But to emphasize this possibility—or probability if you will—to the extent that it shuts out all other possibilities or probabilities seems to us a very dangerous type of thinking.

If one assumes that the attack is inevitable and that only the timing is in question, the wholly logical conclusion is to strike first. And since very few people have advocated that and since at least one army officer has been reprimanded for such an intimation, it would appear that not even the people who make the assumption of inevitability really believe it themselves.

But even if one stops short of the ghastly idea of a "preventive" war, the inevitability theory is still dangerous. Once there is adopted the theory that nothing will prevent attack, then there will be the temptation to take risks that would not otherwise be taken. But so long as it is assumed, or even hoped, that war can be avoided, there will be second thoughts before measures that might be provocative are undertaken.

This is not to argue that this country and its allies should retreat before every Russian thrust; it may even be that the limits of compromise will be reached.

What we do mean to say is that it would be a dangerous state of mind if this country should conclude that there is but one solution to the present world difficulties and that solution is war.

New Freeze Unit Has Cold Limit 452 Below Zero

A freeze unit which produces temperatures of 452 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, has been put into operation at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

This new cryostat has a 15-cubic-foot capacity and can keep its contents at 452 degrees below zero indefinitely. Believed to be the largest very-low temperature apparatus in the world, the device will be used for research on the properties of metals and the reaction of heavy equipment to low temperatures.

Dr. Samuel C. Collins, professor of mechanical engineering at MIT designed and built the equipment with funds provided by the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance and Office of Naval Research. In 1948 Dr. Collins built another cryostat of smaller capacity.

Operation is through compression and cooling and then expansion of helium gas until part turns into liquid.

$280,000,000 Is Paid Annually To American Inventors

Each year, checks amounting to $280,000,000 are made out to American inventors and gadgeteers, many of them common people even as you and I who, either by design or inspiration, have managed to fill some little want.

A man stood waiting for a streetcar in Washington, D.C. He picked up a hair pin from the sidewalk, idly bent it around his fingers. It suddenly occurred to him that this piece of wire, properly bent, could be used to hold papers together. That marked the birth of the paper clip and a large fortune. The chap had never invented anything before in his life, like thousands of others, he was a one-shot inventor who struck it rich.

Hope "Cappy" Told Him Where To Get Off!

"Cappy" Fisher—who just retired after thirty-five years as a railroad conductor—was telling about a salesman who was often one of his passengers.

"That man was so busy," says Cappy, "he used to bring a dictaphone on the train to catch up on his letters. On one trip he'd been rushing around so much he clean forgot to bring his ticket. Left it on his desk."

When Cappy started to tell him not to worry about the ticket, the salesman busts out with "Who's worried about the ticket? It's just that now I don't know what city I was going to get off at!"

Cappy might have been pulling our leg, but from where I sit, lots of us get so wrapped up in ourselves we often forget "where we're going." Some folks get so narrow they even begrudge their neighbors the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. Let's not forget that just as trains run on steam and oil, democracies run on freedom and tolerance!

Divorces Decrease 38 Pct. Since 1946

For the third year in a row, the number of divorces granted in the United States declined. Data gathered through surveys by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for 1949 and now finally assembled indicate that the total for the year was about 381,000, a decline of 7% from the 422,000 granted in 1948 and of 38% since the peak year of 1946.

Grouped according to geographic area, the decrease in major cities from 1946 to 1949 averaged 46% in the Northeast, 41% in the North Central states, 35% in the South, and 25% in the West. In seven widely separated cities—Buffalo, Erie, Jacksonville, Knoxville, Minneapolis, New York and Portland—the divorces granted fell more than 50% in the three-year period.

country as a whole in 1949 was the sixth highest in our history, topping the record for every year prior to 1944.

There is some evidence that the postwar decline in divorce is nearing its end. Fifteen cities under review had increases in 1949. In Corpus Christi and Detroit, for example, the increase was quite marked. A larger number of divorces in 1949 than in 1948 was also reported from two of the country's popular divorce centers, Miami and Reno.

Poisons Kill By Creating Internal Electric Currents

Evidence to support a theory that certain poisons kill by producing an internal bolt of lightning was described recently by Dr. T. C. Barnes of Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia, reports Pierre C. Fraley in the Philadelphia Bulletin.

have been attempting to find out just how these poisons, such as strychnine, deliver their death blow.

Dr. Barnes made a model cell in a glass tube by adding certain oils and salt solutions that are found in living cells. Then he attached electrodes to measure the electrical current in the synthetic cell. The oils and salts, by themselves, did not produce any charge. However, when a small amount of strychnine was added a small charge was registered. When a larger dose was added, a larger charge was recorded. This indicated that the strychnine was turning the model cell into a kind of storage battery, he said. The more strychnine put into the tube, the stronger was the current produced.

Under 2 Million Horses In Nation

According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture, there are fewer than 2,000,000 horses in the country. For the year 1949 these figures show a decline of 7% and 6% in the number of mules.

The peak in the number of horses was 21,430,000, reached in 1915. In 1925 there were still 6,000,000 horses on farms.

The decline in horses and mules is proceeding so fast that even the present supply cannot be maintained.

Meat Prices To Be Posted June 18

E. L. Schulteis, Of Clark Equipment, Acts As An Advisor To OPS, Grand Rapids District

Next Monday, June 18, ceiling prices of beef must be posted for all consumers to see in retail meat shops, the OPS District Office of Grand Rapids, reminds all butchers and consumers.

All businesses offering retail services to the public, from auto repairs down the list to zither repairs, must by June 15, post their ceiling prices where customers can plainly see them, says the Office of Price Stabilization District office at Grand Rapids.

Butchers Can't Pre-Grind Beef As part of its beef price control program, the Office of Price Stabilization has acted to protect the consumer against paying a higher price for lower-grade meat. It does this in two ways. First, every retail cut of beef must have the grade stamped on it, so that the consumer will know that he is getting the grade he is paying for.

Michigan OPS Advisors Listed below are more Michigan business men from within the Grand Rapids Office of Price Stabilization District who are serving as volunteer members of industry advisory committees, appointed by OPS to guide the formulation of price regulations.

Giant Stars Over Billion Miles Across

A star so gigantic that its radius is more than eight times the distance from the earth to the sun, and its diameter is more than 1,500,000 miles, has been detected by Dr. Harlow Shapley, director, and Mrs. Virginia McKibben Nail of Harvard College Observatory.

Six stars a billion miles across, and thus so gigantic that if centered on the sun they would overflow the orbit of the planet Jupiter, have been found by the Harvard scientists in their study of supergiant stars of the universe.

Many Buchananites Attend Dinner Co. Council Of Churches

Between 250 and 300 church people of Berrien county, including a large number from Buchanan, attended the semi-annual dinner-meeting of the Berrien County Council of Churches, held in St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church in St. Joseph, Monday evening.

Rev. Herbert Stressman, president of the Council, presided and the opening scripture reading was given by Mrs. L. A. Decker, president of the Buchanan Council of Church Women. The all-county choir, including several members from Buchanan, directed by Keith Sturdevant of the host church, sang several selections.

The main address was given by Bishop John S. Stamm of Harrisburg, Pa., who was president of the Federal Church Council, which is now a part of the National Council of Churches. His topic was "A National Crisis". The dinner speaker, Dr. Virgil Foster of Chicago, editor of the International Council of Religious Education Journal, spoke on, "Reasons Why The Church Should Teach."

Berrien Springs Turns Down Home Rule Charter

Berrien Springs voters, by a vote of more than 3 to 2, defeated the proposed home rule village charter at a special election last Monday. Two hundred and sixteen votes were cast, 78 for the charter and 137 against the charter, and one ballot discarded as mutilated.

Public apathy towards government was well illustrated by the scanty vote cast. With some 800 potential voters living in the village, and about 700 of them registered only about one-fourth of them exercised their right to vote on the question.

Although supporters of the charter had not been certain it would be approved, they were surprised by the size of the vote against it. At the election in May 1950, voters went on record 275 in favor of and 183 opposed to preparing a charter, or approximately 3 to 2 in support.

While preparing the document which was rejected this week, the commissioners held several open meetings and invited village residents to attend and make suggestions. Not one visitor appeared to offer comment.

A study of legal provisions on the charter earlier had caused members of the commission to think that they would be required to rewrite the charter and submit it. Further study, however, has led them to the conclusion that their work is done.

They believe that the whole procedure would need to be repeated. First, an election authorizing creation of charter commission, second, nomination and election of a commission, third, preparing of a new charter, and fourth, submitting it to the voters.
