

MARCH OF DIMES EXTENDED TO FEB. 14

Now Here's the Proposition

Good Bluegill Fishing At Clear Lake

Two enterprising sportsmen, Louis Poplar of Buchanan and Don Rees of New Buffalo, were rewarded this week when they chopped open the ice on Clear Lake (the first time it had been opened) for bluegills, and each got a mess of beauties. The ice is reported to be averaging seven and eight inches in thickness.

Another Civil War Token Coin Found

The Kelling cigar store reports another find of one of those rare 80-year-old "token" coins which were issued by the hardware firm of Weaver & Fox, which conducted a hardware store in the then-new Hotel Buchanan building, about 1863 and 1864. The coin was found by an unnamed farmer from near Glendora who dug it up while cultivating his garden.

Jack Rees Repays Debt Of 14 Pints Blood

Dailies of Berrien county carried a story during the past week about "John Reese", later identified as Jack Rees, 403 Sylvan avenue, Buchanan, and pastor of the Latter Day Saints church here.

The story came to light when Elder Rees contributed in the recent campaign for blood plasma. He had then contributed five pints of blood to the Red Cross, the Pawating hospital and South Bend hospitals in a program in that he has undertaken to repay 14 pints of blood which he received while recovering from wounds received in World War II.

"I think that's the least I can do for all that was done for me," he says.

A machinist made first class in World War II, Rees was wounded while serving on the light cruiser Birmingham during the battle of the Philippine Sea in October, 1944.

He was so badly wounded that he required eight months to fully recover. He spent those months in navy hospitals throughout the country.

During his stay in those hospitals he saw the miracle wrought by blood transfusions in himself and in others. He vowed then to pay back the 14 pints of blood that helped save his life so that he could help others.

In addition to his pastoral duties, Rees repairs watches at the Watson Jewelry Store and at Blackmond's Jewelry in Niles.

Amastars Show Staged Here On Wednesday, Feb. 7

Plans are nearing completion for the Rev. C. Elliott Gardner's Amastars program being brought here on Feb. 7 at 8 p.m. in the Buchanan high school auditorium by the Ralph Rumbaugh American Legion Post No. 51.

Contestants from several Berrien county towns will compete along with Buchanan youngsters under 24 for the right to go to the Cass-Berrien county finals in Niles high school auditorium on Feb. 27 when $100 in cash prizes will be awarded. Three Oaks, Grand Beach, Benton Harbor, Berrien Springs, Niles, New Buffalo, Harbert, Lakeland, are some of the towns represented in the Buchanan show.

Buchanan youngsters competing will include Betty Remington, Steve Rudoni, Bernice Stokes, Retha May Rayner, Lucy Mae Hubbard, Ellen Stevenson.

The contest will be divided into three divisions, and two winners will be chosen from each division to continue in the finals to be staged in Niles. The four top winners from the Niles show will then go to the Civic Auditorium in Grand Rapids in May when $1,000 in cash prizes will be awarded.

Two top-winning headline artists will appear non-compulsively in Buchanan on Feb. 7, including the versatile Ernest Smith, Belle Springs high school senior, who will present a boogie band routine, an authentic Hawaiian hula, an original Indian ballet and a lighted baton finale. The other guest artist will be the sensational Frank Lagerborg of Dowagiac high school who will present several selections on his accordion.

Parents Ask For 3 R's Plus In PTA Panel Discussion

Panel Members And Audience Ask Help In Grounding Pupils In Pattern Of Adult Life

The public school should drill the pupils in the fundamentals of the Three R's—but they should also work hand in hand with the parents in helping the children to ground themselves, to understand others and to find their places in the increasingly complex pattern of life.

This seemed to be the sum and substance of the proposals of five parents who took part in the panel discussion at the Moccasin school last Wednesday night.

The theme was "What do you expect your child to learn at school?" The participants were Mrs. Walter Baker, Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. Harold Hanlin, William Gnodtke and Sheldon Heim. Leland Dean acted capably in the capacity of co-ordinator.

As the discussion developed it became increasingly apparent that the parents looked to the schools to teach their children the pattern of American life, as well as to ground them in the fundamental tools of education, reading, writing and arithmetic.

Among the various proposals were helping the children to understand themselves and their place in life, aiding them toward an intelligent choice of a life pursuit (vocational guidance), affording them a chance to "sample" different lines of work such as business training, shop training, music, etc., providing them with a protective surrounding which will prepare them for the impact of life when they are on their own, more participation in athletics for both boys and girls, so that they will learn cooperation, self-discipline and a philosophy adequate for both victory and defeat.

Other suggestions and inquiries that came both from the panel members and the audience were: the amount of home study a school should expect, how to judge the limitations of the children in participating in activities, the possibility of automobile driving instruction; increased vocational guidance extending through the junior high school, separate organization, and separate building, if possible, for the junior high school; solution of the conflict between academic requirements for entering college and vocational work which the student may have elected.

This latter difficulty is now being ironed out, stated Dean. One in every five high schools in Michigan is on a college agreement "standing through which the high school faculty may certify a student's ability to take college work in cases where he has elected the academic entrance requirements.

School executive officers present stated that some of the suggestions, including separate building and organization for junior high school are ruled out by financial limitations, but that the difficulties of the junior high students might be alleviated by training more teachers in counseling work, so that every student might have more intimate guidance. Instruction in driving had also been ruled out because a teacher could not be added for that work and the present faculty is already loaded with assignments. The only way open, stated "Supt." Stark, would be to encourage a trained teacher to give driving instruction at a moderate fee, both for students and others in the community who desired it, on Saturdays and in after-school hours.

Principal Bailey stated that better co-operation should be exercised by teachers to see that no pupil is overloaded by excessive home work requirements. Parents were encouraged to limit that work by setting an hourly limit and, if that time were fully employed in study, see that the pupil spent the remainder of the evening in recreational activity, including watching television, which has now become a problem in its conflict with home work.

Walter Glendenning Named New Manager National Food Store

Walter Glendenning, formerly in the employ of National Food Stores in their St. Joseph branch, took charge of the Buchanan store manager Thursday, replacing Robert Leeds, who had been advanced by the company to the management of the National Food super-market at Miller, Ind.

Bucks To Try For 2nd Win At Dowagiac

The Buchanan Bucks will try again for their second victory of the year when they visit Dowagiac for a Big 7 conference contest tomorrow night. The Chieftains won when the two teams met here earlier this year.

The performance of the local quintet last week was disappointing to most home town observers. An inability to hit the basket early in the ball game against South Haven allowed a margin to be developed that just couldn't be overcome. However, a performance such as this is characteristic of a young ball club Good games and bad games all provide experience and in another year or two the Millemen should be among the top teams in the league.

Maybe tomorrow night will be a good night for the Bucks, and if they could very easily carry them to their second victory of the season.

Canvass For 1,000 Blood Donors In Niles, Buchanan

Mrs. Thomas Hoppe, Mrs. J. W. VerValm Head Drive Here, P. T. A. To Support

The Buchanan Parent-Teacher Association, meeting in the Moccasin school last Wednesday night, urged to join the organization supporting the canvass for volunteers for the Walking Blood Bank to supply the needs of the Pawating hospital, Niles.

Mrs. Thomas Hoppe and Mrs. J. W. VerValm are heading the canvass for volunteers from Buchanan. They are working especially through organizations, encouraging them to canvass their own members and report to them or the blood bank at Pawating. The goal is 1,000 volunteers in Niles and Buchanan.

The hospital will send over two nurses and equipment for typing whenever ten or more volunteers from any organization ask for typing any individual who wishes to go to the hospital, preferably in the afternoon or evening and have the typing done there.

Records of all Buchanannites volunteering blood will be kept by the Niles hospital and hospital auxiliary and copies will be sent to Mrs. Hoppe and Mrs. VerValm. The records will be available so that whenever the hospital should wish for a unit of certain type blood, Buchanan the local leaders will be notified. The blood unit will not be taken at once, but it is necessary to have a large number on call. The hospital keeps only 25 units on hand for ordinary use, and a blood unit is only used during the last 21 days after drawing, after which it is thrown away. In the event of an emergency a large number may be called on at once. In such cases the available list of typed blood donors will save much time, as the typing procedures will not have to be done when time is critical.

Such typing is not only an advantage to the hospital and its patients but also to the individual typed, in case anyone becomes severely ill or suffers loss of blood in an accident, the typed persons supposed to have on their person a card with their name and blood type, and precious time may be saved.

Anti-Rat Drive Gets Under Way In Business Dist.

Boy Scouts Distribute Bait And Maintain Stations In Residential Districts

The rat extermination campaign undertaken at the initiation of the city commission early in January will get under way on schedule today (Thursday) with the distribution of bait to business men at 3 p.m. at the Youth Council building.

The Boy Scouts under the direction of Scout Master Leo Slate and his assistant, Fred Manning, will take an active part in the work of distribution and will maintain the bait stations in the residential sections. The goal is a rat-free city in two weeks or less.

The following instructions and information has been issued by City Manager Gunn.

1. Bait is being prepared and put in bags by city workers, about one pound per bag.

2. On Thursday, February 1, at 3:00 p.m., the prepared bait will be available at the Youth Council building—for merchants and other business people.

3. On Saturday, February 3, at 10 a.m. the Boy Scouts will pick up bait, to be used in the residential sections. Each block will be baited.

4. On that Saturday, and each day for the following week, the Boy Scouts will check the stores and business places to see if additional supplies are needed. If so, they will see that you get them.

Business men, get your initial supply at the Youth Council, Thursday. If you need to set two bait stations, get two packages at first, three bait stations, three packages, etc.

The base material in this poison is Warfarin, a chemical developed by the University of Wisconsin. This chemical is odorless, tasteless, and relatively harmless as its killing power lies in slow, continuous feeding. After eating the bait, the rodent will show no effect for a few days. Then it will begin to walk and act slowly—after between five and fifteen days, it will crawl into the gutter and die of internal hemorrhage.

Because of the slow action, rats never connect the trouble they are having with the bait they are eating, and they continue to eat until extermination is complete.

Keep your feeding stations baited. Examine stations daily, and never let one stay empty for more than a few hours.

Rats like the following conditions for feeding:

1. They like to be under a cover of some kind, even though they may be feeding indoors.

2. They like to eat together. The company of other rats seems to be comforting; 3. They prefer to have more than one exit route. This is not absolutely essential, but if it is followed there is less suspicion of a trap.

One good way of providing a good bait station is to place a short, wide board at an angle against the wall. Place the bait bag in the shelter thus formed. Another method is to cut several openings in a box, and then set the box upside down over the bait bag.

It is not necessary or desirable to remove the bait from the bag. The corner of the bag so they can smell the cornmeal—they will carry on from there.

Phil Sexton Named Deputy Director Of Civilian Defense

W. S. Manspeaker, director of the Buchanan Civilian Defense program has announced that he has appointed Philip Sexton as deputy director to co-operate with him in the formulation and execution of the plans.

Mr. Manspeaker stated that the organization of the local defense, with special reference to protection against the atomic bomb would very likely not get under way until the coming meetings of federal and state civilian defense organization heads have set the overall pattern.

There will be a meeting of top officials in Washington, D. C., on Feb. 6, and a meeting of the Michigan top committee on Feb. 19. After the latter meeting it is anticipated that local plans will progress rapidly.

Vada VanEvery, 5th Grade Teacher Has Left Hip Fracture

Vada VanEvery, fifth grade teacher in the Buchanan schools, incurred a fractured left hip in a fall on ice on the sidewalk in front of the Moccasin school, just as she was leaving her work there about 5:30 p.m. A pupil tried to help her but when she was unable to get up he went for help, securing Dwight Hill, commercial teacher, who was conducting a basketball game at the Moccasin school gymnasium. Hill carried her to the Tucker home at 408 Moccasin, from which she was taken by ambulance to the Pawating hospital.

The fracture was about two inches below the socket joint of the hip. The x-ray examination also revealed a crack in a bone in her left arm at the elbow, but it was not found necessary to place it in a cast.

The Rams Drop Bucks To Second Floor Under The Cellar

No-man Aling of South Haven, who is better known for his defensive ability than for an offensive punch, broke loose last Friday night and before the past person had filed out of the gym had 19 points socked up in the Rams' box for one of the best nights of his career. Norm had 8 baskets and 3 free throws in his unusually hot night.

The loss showed the Bucks deep into the Big 7 cellar with a 1-7 rating. South Haven surged to a 10-2 lead in the first five minutes of play against the Bucks and after that the Miller-coached five could not seem to find the impetus to overcome the early advantage and advance to their second straight victory. The first stanza ended 13-7 Rams.

Both teams turned colder than an iceberg at the North Pole as they scored 9 points between them in the second period. 2 by the Bucks, Don Smith with 10 seconds left in the half. The Havenites led 20-9 at the intermission.

The third quarter proved to be a worse headache for the locals as they were outscored by a 13-9 count, and the Rams increased their lead to 33-18. Aling and Fritz each had 3 fielders in this stanza.

"The Bucks" came to life in the last period as Jack Bittinger's 5 wild nature, the wind in their faces, the occasional crackle of brush as herds of deer and elk bowed through a lumbering black-bear passing occasionally, the ceaseless chatter of the little people of the wood, the birds and squirrels. More rarely there would be the screech of a panther or a wildcat, the gobble of a wild turkey. Those sounds and more rarely the roar of a storm, the crash of a falling forest monarch, the roll of thunder, but always above the eternal pageant of light and darkness, and traveling sun, moon and cloud.

There was indeed usually human life somewhere in those forest depths, as the Woodland tribes of the Potawatomi at this time made this their casual home. Before them were the Miamis, and beyond them a long succession of shadowy tribal tures. There they had led their wandering lives for thousands of years, possibly extending almost back to the times not long after the retreat of the Wisconsin glacier, 35,000 years ago.

There will not be room in this sense of more than a brief story of the Indian in this region. Not that the story would not be worth telling at greater length, but this is to be the story of Buchanan, and the Indians were gone before the town was platted. Their story has little relation to that of the town, except as they delayed settlement here for more or less time after the Revolution and to the extent the War of 1812 had ended English rule and influence.

After the United States had secured firm title to the lands now comprised within the boundaries of Michigan, the Indians were vacated from it by a succession of treaties. At that time three allied tribes, the Potawatomi, Chippewas and Ojibwas held about the whole of the lower Peninsula. The Potawatomi claimed as their hunting grounds a vaguely-defined stretch of country from the present vicinity of Chicago and present Illinois and Indiana territory around the lower end of Lake Michigan up into present southwestern Michigan, including the valleys of the St. Joseph and the Kalamazoo rivers and the headwaters of the Grand River. Over this area was thinly spread their 3,000 population.

The whole of the Lower Peninsula had been vacant of Indians from about 1620 to 1670, during which time the warriors of the Iroquois tribe territories now mainly included in upper New York state and the adjacent sections of Canada swept westward, newly furnished with guns and ammunition through trading with the Dutch, who had founded New

The Story of Buchanan

PART II WHEN THIS WAS INDIAN LAND (1st Installment)

Suppose that, by some sleight of time we could roll back the years to the days before the white man made his permanent habitation here, say to the year 1800, and that we were standing on that crest of rising ground south of Buchanan (now called Chamberlain Hills), piled there in ancient days when a warming sun said to an invading ice field, "Thus far—and no further!"

We would find ourselves in a primeval forest of great oaks, maples, beeches, walnut, ash and many other kinds of trees almost shutting out the sun above, and underneath them a tangle of struggling underbrush so thick that it shut off the eye-level view within a few rods, so that even from the hilltop we could not see the lower land unless we climbed a tree until we could overlook the tangle. Even then we would see a land in which we could scarcely recognize even the familiar contours of today.

All would be hid or softened (especially if it were summer) by a billowy cloud of green tress. In the little valley of McCoy's Creek immediately below to the north we might glimpse the necks of marshes strung along the stream bed, where now are Athletic Field, Buchanan's business district, and several factory sites. If we climbed high enough we might see through the thinning upper branches glimpses of open, grassy plains to the southeast, dotted with burr-oaks and maples, the tract now called Portage Prairie.

But our only wide view would be that sea of virgin forest rising from the creek valley to the near-by rising land between us and the river, to which extent we could still distinguish the trees, and beyond that the indistinct forest across the river, lifting to the horizon sight to ten miles away.

The sounds would be those of wild nature, the wind in the trees, the occasional crackle of brush as herds of deer and elk bowed through a lumbering black-bear passing occasionally, the ceaseless chatter of the little people of the wood, the birds and squirrels. More rarely there would be the screech of a panther or a wildcat, the gobble of a wild turkey. ## Buchanan Heavy Beneficiary Of March Of Dimes

Received Large Aid During
Berrien County Epidemic
Of Last Year

The Berrien county March of Dimes campaign to raise money for combating polio has been extended from the original terminal date of Jan. 31, to Feb. 14, according to word received Monday evening by the local chairman, Mrs. E. F. Heiermann, from County chairman Frank Daniels of St. Joseph.

Mrs. Daniels said that the campaign had always extended well into February and that many communities were making a late start. Chairman Ada Heiermann of Buchanan has made an energetic beginning, getting all cards and notices out at the beginning of the drive. She reports that she has received over 100 coin cards cases, but no reports yet from factories, schools, or theatre canvass. These reports are expected soon.

Goal of the Buchanan drive is $2,000 or roughly 40 cents per person, which is also the basis of the county quota of $43,873. Buchanan and Berrien county in general have reason to know the value of the drive, as this area was the hardest hit of any of comparable populations in Michigan last year, exhausting not only the local funds but drawing $57,500 from the reserves of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which represents the accumulated March of Dimes funds from all over the United States. Buchanan suffered four cases last year, all of which received aid from the March of Dimes accumulations. One individual case here received aid from the fund to the extent of $1,600.

Feb. 6-12 Will Be Observed As Boy Scout Week

Week Observes 41st Birthday
Anniversary, 2,750,000
Scouts Now Enrolled

February, a month of notable birthdays, sees the celebration of a "birthday" in which all Americans can properly join. Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, reminds us that one of America's largest youth organizations has reached another milestone.

The 41st birthday of America has reached its 41st anniversary. Since Feb. 8, 1910, more than 17,750,000 American boys and men have been influenced by the Scout Oath and Law. They have benefited by using their leisure-time energies in outdoor living and activities of cultural and practical values which lead boys to become dependable men.

Today over 2,750,000 boys and men are actively enrolled in over 75,000 different units. Fortunately indeed are communities where Scouting flourishes. American adults of good character give generously of their time to give leadership. Others help by raising funds and are members of local Boy Scout Councils which in turn provide training for leaders, camp facilities, worthwhile year-round activities, personal advancement and opportunities for Scouts to render community service.

In celebration of this birthday, the Boy Scouts are engaged in a nationwide clothing collection to meet emergency needs abroad, are stepping up their training for Civil Defense and are promoting greater interest in conserving the nation's natural resources.

May you have many more happy birthdays, Boy Scouts!

Victoria Zachman Accepts Position In Washington, D. C.

Miss Victoria Zachman, who had come to the United States from Heidelberg, Germany, to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, returned to Europe, having accepted a position in Washington, D. C., which was offered her on her return. She stopped in Washington to visit old friends and to confer with Washington headquarters at the request of her chief at Heidelberg. While there she was offered the post of placement officer with the employment branch of the Washington personnel section of the Economic Co-operation Administration, Washington, D. C.

Finding the new offer "too good to refuse," she called Heidelberg of her acceptance. She had held the post of assistant chief of Employee Utilization, Civilian Personnel Office, Heidelberg Military Post, Heidelberg, Germany. Previous to going to England early in World War II as assistant chief of personnel for the American Red Cross in London, she held a similar position in the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

Pancakes with Sausage Patties

Broadcast: February 3, 1951

1 1/2 cups plain pan-cake mix
3/4 cup Fat Milk
3/4 cup water
1/2 lb. bulk pork sausage

1/4 cup rolled oats
1/4 cup Fat Milk
1 teaspoon ground onion
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Put the mix into bowl. Stir in mixture of 3/4 cup milk and water. Do not beat until smooth, as overbeating toughens pancakes. Bake on hot, slightly greased griddle or in heavy skillet, until bubbles appear and edges are cooked, then turn and brown other side. Makes eighteen 4 in. cakes. Meanwhile, mix sausage with rolled oats, the 1/4 cup milk, onion and mustard. Shape in 8 flat patties. Brown slowly on both sides in hot, greased skillet. Serve with pancakes and syrup. Makes 4 servings.

We Like Horses, Too, Sonny...

But We Have to Use Machines to Keep You Eating

There's nothing quite like riding and working with horses. You'd think a farmer would do a lot of both. But times have changed, and farmers have changed with them. You see, at one time, we used a lot of horses to grow your food and the fiber for your clothes. But there weren't so many of you then. Now we have to use machines to keep up our farm production... so we can clothe and feed you. Tractors have replaced the horse in many of our operations.

Likewise, we've had to develop farmer cooperative associations to purchase and manufacture the supplies we need in producing your food and fiber. Also, we have our farmer cooperative marketing associations to help us get better food and fiber to you at lower cost. That makes you a better customer of ours and it makes us a better customer of those who make the things we buy for our farms.

Yes, Sonny, it takes a lot of farm machinery these days to keep folks eating and clothed, and our farmer cooperative organization is one of those machines.

New vaccine cuts spread of Bang's disease 50%

A new Bang's vaccine called Brucella M is showing outstanding results in tests made by Michigan State College research and extension veterinarians in co-operation with the State Veterinarian. Some 400 herds with more than 5,000 cattle were checked. In herds not vaccinated, indications of the disease accounted for more than 7 per cent. In herds vaccinated with Brucella M., only 3.6 per cent showed indications. Abortion in cattle practically ceased after Brucella M was used. The vaccine developed at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station is available through veterinarians, specially licensed by the State Department of Agriculture. For more information, call, write or visit your County Agricultural Agent.

New telephone wire means fewer poles

The stronger the telephone wire, the farther apart poles can be set. Michigan Bell is now using a new high-tensile steel telephone wire so strong it can span as much as 600 feet between poles. That means fewer holes to dig, fewer poles to set, fewer crossarms to put up, greater efficiency in rural telephone construction. It is another thing we are doing to bring more and better service to you at low cost.

Michigan State Highway Department officials weigh every large truck entering Michigan at key points carefully selected for high percent of traffic control. Only one truck in 77 weighed is a violator of weight laws.

Although the proportion of violators is not overwhelming, Michigan's recognized motor carriers are even more anxious than you to have that one weight pirate in 77 stopped. In fact, we wrote and sponsored legislation designed to stop him.

We're anxious to stop him because we pay his bills. Gasoline, weight, and other special taxes paid by Michigan commercial vehicles last year totaled nearly $30,000,000 — 2 1/2 times the total cost of maintaining all the state's trunk highways last year. Reducing highway costs will reduce our taxes — and yours.

Marriage Donald Ring, Lucille Bouws Solemnized

Miss Lucille Bouws, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bouws, 105 Cayuga street, and Donald Jack Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ring, Silver Lake, Ind., exchanged nuptial vows at 3 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist church. Lighted tapers in candelabra and baskets of gladioli and his formed a pretty background for the ceremony.

Mrs. LeRoy Randt, organist, played nuptial music and Miss Marjorie Souws of Hanover, N. H., sister of the bride, sang "Because" and "O Promise Me." Rev. William X. Pohly read the double-ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a mandarin neckline, embroidered yoke of seed pearls, long fitted sleeves and full skirt which fell in a court train. Her fingertip veil of nylon marquisette fell from a tatra of seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations centered with an orchid corsage. The bride's sister, Miss Carol Bouws, as maid-of-honor, wore a gown of gold-colored satin made with a fitted bodice and pleated skirt and carried yellow carnations. Jean Ann Wiley, of Warsaw, Ind., was flower girl. She wore light green satin. Richard Ring of Silver Lake, Ind., brother of the bridegroom, was best man and George Dick and Ray Jasicki, South Bend, were the ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Guests were from Warsaw, Silver Lake, and South Bend, Ind., Holland, Zeeland, Grand Rapids, and Buchanan. The young couple left on a wedding trip. For going away the bride wore a suit of navy blue wool with wine colored accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ring was graduated from Buchanan high school and is employed in the office of the Studebaker corporation, South Bend.

Miss Dorothy Bernice Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herbert Nichols, 306 South Lincoln avenue, Niles, and Howard Theodore Siekman, Sr., exchanged nuptial vows at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in the Evangelical United Brethren church, Niles.

Rev. Wayne Palmer, pastor of the Portage Prairie E. U. B. church, read the double-ring service before an altar decorated with gladioli, ferns, white satin ribbons and plants. Pew entrances were marked with ribbon streamers and the sanctuary was candle-lighted.

Prior to the ceremony Miss Edward Erickson, church organist, played nuptial music and Mrs. Paul Rough sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because." The bride wore a princess gown of white slipper satin, with a fingertip imported silk illusion veil held in place by a band of rhinestones and pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

Miss Clamond Grubbs, Niles, as maid-of-honor, wore a gold-colored gown fashioned with a hoop skirt and her tiara was of chrysanthemums. Miss Sylvia Schadle, Niles, was bridesmaid and her gown was aqua blue, fashioned with a hoop skirt and her tiara was also chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom was attended by his nephew, Harold Forburger, Buchanan, and cousin, Jack Siekman, Buchanan. The ushers were Theodore Siekman, Buchanan, brother of the bridegroom, and Dalvin Haines, Galien, uncle of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue satin afternoon dress with pink accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue crepe dress with white gloves and matching accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for nearly 200 guests was held in the Beany hall. The Misses Main Redding and Joan Williams of Niles, presided at the refreshment table and Mrs. Francis Forburger, Buchanan, sister of the bridegroom, cut the wedding cake.

Following a week-end wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Siekman will be at home, on Buchanan route one.

Long-term Investment that pays daily dividends THESE are days when thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase—and that makes good sense at any time. But you may have noticed that it's a rare occasion when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire. That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick. If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power and pace—or its generous comfort and room—you couldn't make a better choice. But make note of this: That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortified by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection. The springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels dip and curtsy over uneven highways, while you ride level as a lance. But these springs also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown. Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design. Dynaflo Drive gives every mile you drive effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, puts less strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential. The road-steady gait of a Buick gives you a sense of relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you. However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy. Better make it a point to see your Buick dealer—soon. Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice. No other car provides all this: DYNAFLO DRIVE* • FIREBALL POWER 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING • DUAL VENTILATION PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING BODY BY FISHER *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.
