

The Buchanan District Library

Welcomes

First-time Author

David Ferrell

Wednesday, June 17th

For a special Reading

from his New Book:

“If Only Again”

At 6:30pm

With a short Book Signing to Immediately follow

Books will be available for purchase at the door, supplies limited. Pre-sale paperback copies of “If Only Again” are available on CreateSpace.com, and Amazon.com. This title is also available on Kindle.

“Have you ever felt like things in your life were moving too fast you may spin out of control? Yet to slow down all the things you care about would make you cease to exist. Like the carnival rides spinning round and round, the on-lookers representing your life, one great whirlwind of faces and colors, maybe people you just meet in passing or maybe those who always have been there. You can only reach for them, but never get close enough to touch them, and yet you feel as if you were hardly moving when your eyes are shut.”---from: If Only Again

Author Photo: David Ferrell

In this coming of age tale, first time author David Ferrell paints a lovely marriage between the poetry and dialogue that surrounds the love stories of each generation---having chosen different paths, one family discovers what might have been... If Only Again. Separated by war, young lovers, Jonathon and Kathryn reunite and the ties their families have weaved begin to unravel as their own love story unfolds. Circling between past and present, Kathryn Clarke discovers the truth that haunts her past. How he came to her, and soon left her. Somewhere in between it all when they had fallen in love, and shared an unforgettable summer together. A time when love was all they needed to survive, of when she was seventeen.

“That was the last time I heard from him. A few months later, I thought I passed him on the street, but it was not him. All the while I still felt him with me.” ---from: If Only Again

Join us at 4:00pm for a “Fiction Writing Workshop”, hosted by David Ferrell

For Teens and Young Adults (ages 16-22)