English Aristocracy.

Most of the English aristocracy have returned to their homes. Thus, the Marquis of Antrim is one of a family of eighteen brothers and sisters; the Marquis of Huntley, one of 14; Earl Fitzwilliam is one of 13, and has 13 of his own; Earl Grey is one of 15; the late Lord Denham left 15; the Duke of Argyll was 12; and the Duke of Leinster is one of 13; and the father of the Duke of Devonshire left 14; the Earl of Minto left 14; the Earl of Scarborough has 14. There are other English nobles with 14 and 15 children; and the list of families numbering 11 and 12 is very large.

Too Sharp by Half.

An enterprising business man of this city runs two branches of trade, to wit: a grocery and a fish market. The grocery trade he runs himself, the fish market by a deputy, and every day the latter makes returns of the proceeds of the days business to the proprietor.

The Berrien County Record. D. A. WAGNER, Editor. THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 2, 1869.

THE NEW YORK MERCANTILE JOURNAL AND THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.

The New York Mercantile Journal of the 19th ult. has the following relative to our review of its financial articles:

THE BERRIEN COUNTY RECORD, of Buchanan, Mich., in a recent issue, closes a long and able article on the financial and Commercial Platform of The Mercantile Journal, by setting forth a plan of its own. We are, of course, pleased to observe that the Record is exercised upon this great question of finance, but we regret that its opinions should be in such a chaotic condition: so thoroughly mixed.

Then follows the portion of our article republished from the Record of Nov. 21, 1867, in which we advocated the using of the surplus means in the Treasury for the purchase of Government Bonds, thus enhancing their value.

Also allowing the holders of Legal Tenders the privilege of converting them into Government Bonds at pleasure. The Journal then continues:

The financial prosperity of the Record is indicated in an enlargement to an eight-column folio sheet, which is very neatly printed. We hope it may be equally successful in arriving at a correct solution of the currency question.

It is by practices that we make near approach to perfection. We therefore simply suggest to our cotemporary that by attempting to explain the basis of that portion of its programme for the management of the financial affairs of the nation, which refers to the purchase of bonds, by the Secretary of the Treasury, of a large premium, and an assessment upon the holders of the same, it will not doubt discover its error.

We shall most gladly attempt to enlighten the Journal on the point of convertibility, as we perceive it is entirely in need of light thereon. In November, 1867, when the idea of convertibility was suggested, there was no such discrepancy in the market value of Legal Tenders and Bonds. If, at that time, the plan suggested by the Record had been adopted, it needs not the ken of a great financier to see that no such difference could have arisen, as now exists.

While the Government now, may pay $1.25 or $1.28 in Greenbacks for $1.00 in Bonds, every other person who buys Bonds has to pay the same price. This settles the fact that Government pays just their market value, no more—no less.

The result of such a course would be to constantly enhance the value of both Bonds and Legal Tenders, till a return to specie payment was secured. There would be no danger of the business of the country suffering from such an arrangement.

How well a part of the programme suggested by the Record has worked is clearly seen in the appreciation of Bonds. Secretary Boutwell is using the surplus in the Treasury in buying and retiring Bonds, and they have run up to $1.25, or equal to 90 cents on the dollar in gold, instead of only being worth 75 cents in coin, as the Legal Tenders are. The plan works well on the Bond side, and it would work equally well for Greenbacks.

THE LORD BYRON SCANDAL. The press of the country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, has been and is still busy with the Lord Byron scandal.

It is well known to all that Lord and Lady Byron did not live agreeably, and that for a long time they did not live together. The reasons were never made known to the public, and so far as the world was concerned, the matter remained a complete mystery.

According to Mrs. Stowe's account, Lady Byron placed in her hands a memorandum stating fully the reasons of the separation. These statements make Lord Byron guilty of the vilest of crimes, that of incest with his half sister.

Since the death of Lady Byron, which she should not so published in her lifetime, nor while they would reflect to the injury of the living.

It seems to us that, in all the great political questions before the people, the Temperance question is of great importance; but not of such importance as to warrant the separate organization of a Temperance party.

Let Temperance men work with the great reform party of the Nation, the Republican, and constantly agitate the great question, demanding Temperance men to fill our offices.

EXCHANGED.—Mr. J. C. Welch has traded his house and lot, on North Oak street, with Mr. Wm. Oulton for the lot on Front street adjoining Messrs. Luther & Son's brick store.

RAILROAD.—We congratulate our Berrien and Benton Harbor friends on the bright prospects before them in railroad communication with the outside world. It is with pleasure we note the almost certain prospect of the speedy completion of the proposed road. However desirous we may have been of having the road connect with the Central at Buchanan, we cannot but wish Berrien and Benton Harbor the greatest success in the early acquisition of railroad facilities, on the route now proposed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC-NIC.—We have been thinking and talking with some of the Sunday School friends, in the village, about the propriety of getting up a general Sunday School Pic-nic, in which all the schools can join. It seems to meet with much favor. We do think something ought to be done for the children, as nothing of the kind has been gotten up this season. We trust the different schools will take the matter up, and if thought agreeable, let a committee of members be appointed to consult and arrange with each other as to time, place, entertainment, &c.

LOST SHAWL.—On Aug. 28, Mrs. Sylvester Stevens lost a black merino shawl, between the residence of Mr. D. Carlisle and Mr. James Case, on the Buchanan and Berrien road. The finder will be suitably rewarded by the subscriber.

DELEGATES.—At the meeting of the Buchanan Temperance Union, held at the Presbyterian church on Monday evening, the following persons were appointed delegates to the Chicago National Temperance Convention: Rev. Wm. Fuller; D. E. Hinman; T. F. C. Dodd; J. Bliss. The convention met in Chicago on yesterday.

FINISHED.—The bridges on Front Street and Day's avenue are at last completed. The work this time will meet the approbation of the entire community. Work will be immediately commenced on West First Street and Chicago street bridges.

DISHONORABLE.—We have thus far held our peace, while many of our contemporaries have exposed the meanness of the Detroit Advertiser & Tribune in appropriating matters from the columns of the country press, without due credit. If there is anything contemptible in this stealing from the local press, by a city paper, without an honest acknowledgment of the source of its information. Let the Detroit Free Press be as mean, politically, as it is, in this respect it is ten-fold more gentlemanly than the Advertiser & Tribune. The truth is, we know of no other paper in the State so contemptibly mean, in this respect, as the Detroit Advertiser & Tribune. There are honorable journals, and we hope the people will patronize them.

JEWELS SET IN RHYME.—We commend the following to all whom it may concern. There is truth as well as poetry in it, that should sink deep into every delinquent's heart, and cause him to come to time, that he may enjoy the sweets of a conscience void of offense towards the Printer. Read, reflect: Now happy are they, Who the editors pay, And have squared up for one year or more The great joy of the press, When delinquents have paid the old score.

CHANGE OF TIME.—A new time card went into effect on the M. C. R. R., on Monday of this week. Hereafter the mail trains will leave Buchanan, going east, at 10.25 A. M., and going west at 4.27 P. M. The time of all trains stopping at Buchanan, see the corrected time table, in another column.

THANKS.—Mrs. H. H. Kinyon will accept the thanks of the Editor and family for that lot of ice cream placed upon our table, Saturday evening. It was splendid, and all "our folks" and the Editor pronounced it the most delicious ice cream they ever had the pleasure of eating. If any of the members of the Record will send a splendid dish of the cooling refreshment, they should not fail to call at Mrs. Kinyon's Ladies' Ice Cream Rooms.

THE COUNTY FAIR.—We learn through the Niles Democrat, that a County Fair is to be held at Buchanan this year. We heartily rejoice at the self-sacrificing spirit manifested by our brother of the Niles Democrat in endorsing this decision. Buchanan is a very thriving and fast growing young city on the Michigan Central Railroad only five miles from Niles, and destined ere long to be a much smarter place. We trust the citizens as they see the sepher passing from her grasp will bear their loss with Christian resignation. By the way neighbor, you may as well save your advice to your very distinguished advice to the citizens of Northern Berrien about where they will go and what they will do in railroad matters. They have paid tribute to you for the last 25 years, but they will not be very willing to travel 25 miles only for the sake of continuing to pay that tribute. all your blowing and missionary work will avail you nothing. But to our subject: Success to the County Fair at Buchanan.—St. Joe Herald.

THE CROSS.—The wheat and oats harvest being over, and other crops so far matured, a pretty safe calculation can be made as to the yield. From a careful investigation we come to the following conclusion relative to the crops in Berrien County: Wheat is fully an average crop; oats is an extra yield, better than for several years in the past; corn, with anything like a favorable fall for its maturing, will be fully a half crop, rather over than under; potatoes, though injured somewhat by the bug, promise an average yield per acre, but the breadth of ground planted is perhaps less than usual. From present indications there is danger to be anticipated from the rot; as it is already showing itself in several localities. Sorghum and broom-corn, though not extensively planted, promise a very light yield. The hay crop has been abundant, but much of it was damaged by reason of the wet weather during the cutting season.

LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.—Men generally need no urging to look after their interest, when they understand what is for their interest. It, however, often occurs that they fail to do that which is for their best interest, in consequence of false and designing men. There is no one way in which people are swindled so much as by traveling auction establishments. In nine cases out of every ten they are pure humbugs, and the man or woman that spends his or her money in such establishments are sure to get cheated. It is almost a universal practice with traveling auctions that they claim not to deal in "auction goods," and they are just closing it out for necessity. The people who are understood to be of inferior quality, hence the universal claim of these traveling institutions, "our goods are not auction goods." Many good people, however, who are caught by the bait, learn, when it is too late, that they have been woefully deceived. Often, too, people will attend these auction establishments, and pay more for an inferior article than they could go to regular and responsible dealers and purchase a good article. If, therefore, the citizens of Buchanan and vicinity will consult their own interest they will give a wide berth to all such institutions, and purchase of regular and responsible dealers with whom they are acquainted.

FROM WEESAW.—[This letter came to hand too late for insertion last week.—Ed.] EDITOR RECORD.—Felix still lives, though he says but little. There will be a Sunday School picnic on the 2d of Sept. I hope Mr. M. will understand that there will be three Schools from Co. Gen. and two from Weesaw. A three days' meeting will commence on the following day on the grounds where the picnic is to be held. We notice some improvements in Mr. Record's store at Hill's Corners. Mr. Stephens has his wagon and Repair shop inclosed. The store will continue to be in the Record store.—We have lost, by death, one of our most worthy citizens, recently, Mr. Samuel Smith, sen.—Dr. Spooner's ark is progressing very fast. The Dr. will have the finest house in the township, when completed.—If our neighbors on the corner will contain their work on the Sabbath, they will receive the thanks of our church-goers and members.—And if Miss — is not very careful what she says, we will tell a nice little joke on her.—Messrs. Gardner & Doyle have purchased 80 acres of timber in addition to their mill property. This looks like business. Truly yours, P. H. N.
