D. A. WAGNER, Editor.

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 6, 1870.

A PROPOSED SWINDLE.

Congress is constantly beset with schemes for the swindling of the public to enrich a few. The present session will have its full share of these fraudulent schemes presented, and we trust, and the people demand, that they shall be exposed.

Among the swindling operations of the late session, the proposed treaty with the Ojibwa Indians, by which they are to convey their reservation, consisting of 1,000,000 acres of land, for $30,000,000. This is a swindle of only one or two hundred millions of dollars.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The inhabitants of British Columbia have sent a petition to the United States for annexation. This petition has been received by the President.

The people of British Columbia feel and know that their only hope of prosperity, and of their government, lies in their becoming incorporated as a part of the United States.

The acquisition of this territory would be of any great benefit to the United States, not at all claimed, or that they should pay to Great Britain any sum therefor.

THE INCOME TAX.

The New York Tribune continues to oppose the continuation of the Income Tax in any form, except it may be that no exemption be had at all.

If this tax is to be continued in any form at all, let it be so arranged that only income shall be taxed, and not a man's living.

THE MORMON QUESTION.

The question of polygamy in Utah is eliciting no small share of attention, both in and out of Congress.

Let the matter, when once taken hold of, be prosecuted with energy and determination, and the evil can be rooted out, even in Utah.

In speaking on this subject the New York Tribune is a late issue says: "The action upon Mr. Conner's proposed bill making polygamy a crime in Utah, and providing for its punishment, by imprisonment in the penitentiary, will be looked for with little interest."

DECREASE OF THE PUBLIC DEBT—A BITTER PILL.

Still the public debt continues to be reduced, by the faithful collection of the revenues, and a proper application thereof to the canceling of the nation's indebtedness.

The following is the Public Debt statement for the month of December: The total debt, principal and interest, including coupons due and not presented for payment, is $2,658,184,870; amount of cash, sinking fund, purchased bonds and accrued interest thereon in the Treasury, $209,889,716 69; amount of debt less amount-in-Treasury, $2,448,365,153 31.

THE BYRON CASE.

Mrs. Stowe is now out with her new book, which has been promised some time, on the defense of what she had heretofore published in defense of Lady Byron. She still maintains the belief of her former statements, notwithstanding the publications of the letters of Lady Byron to Mrs. Leigh, Byron's sister, in the British Quarterly Review.

At the conclusion of the work, Mrs. Stowe makes an appeal to those who have the documents and facts in the case. She says: "And now I have one word to say to those in England, who, with all the facts and documents in their hands which could at once have cleared Lady Byron's fame, allowed the barbarous assault of the Blackwood to go over the civilized world without a reply."

"I do not judge them; but I remind them that a day is coming when they and I must stand side by side at the great judgment seat. I give an account for my speaking, they for their silence."

"In that day, God, who will judge the secrets of all men, will judge between this man and this woman. Then, if never before, the full truth shall be told both of the depraved and dissolute man who made it his life's object to give spite for repentance to the guilty."

TRICHINE SPIRALIS.

There has been considerable excitement over several trichine cases in Boone county, Illinois. Pork has been abandoned, to a great extent, in that region of country. The following dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, and the communication to that paper on the cure of this disease, we lay before our readers:

BEVERLY, Ill., Dec. 30. The trichine cases continued to create much excitement in that and adjoining counties. Pork is discarded by every one, and those who have eaten any during the past fortnight are not easy until sufficient time elapses to make it certain they have escaped the terrible disease. It has been ascertained that the hog which caused the disease was 6 years old, and almost rotten. He was killed about midnight a dispatch came, announcing Hooker's retreat. "My God," exclaimed Mr. Lincoln, broken down at last, "My God, Stanton, our cause is lost! We are ruined, we are ruined! And such a fearful loss of life! My God, my God! This is more than I can endure!"

The trichine may be found throughout the system, and in order to reach them with carbolic acid, I advise its mixture with glycerine, which is the most efficacious remedy for its dissemination through every part of the body, glycerine will rapidly penetrate both flesh and bone and carry with it such chemical agents as it may be charged with.

State Items.

—Among the lumbermen engaged in lumbering in Isosco county and vicinity, are the following, with the number of feet they expect to get out: J. S. Noyes & Co., 15,000,000; State & Co., 15,000,000; 000; Gill & Co., 20,000,000; Bliss, 12,000,000; Gill, 10,000,000; and Giles & Knapp, 10,000,000.—Saginaw Enterprise.

—The accident which happened to Fred. Swain, a young man some 15 years of age, who was thrown from a wagon, breaking an arm and leg, and of which we gave particulars in Tuesdays Eagle, died of his wounds Wednesday morning, Dec. 22.—Grand Rapid Eagle.

—SMALL POX at PORT HOPE.—We learn that there are several cases of small pox at Port Hope. One has proved fatal.—Santiac Jeffersonian.

—On Wednesday of last week, the wife of James Eaton, in Ypsilanti, left the house to be absent a short time, leaving a child about 1 year old in the care of a nurse. She returned with a key on her finger, and found the child dead, and the nurse lying on the floor, apparently dead. The cause of the death was discovered.—Democrat 30th.

—The Houghton Gazette says that a very destructive fire visited that town recently, the losses thereby amounting to $12,000 to $15,000.

—We learn from the Manitowish Times of the 25th that a fire in that village on Christmas morning destroyed $200,000 worth of property. Also that on Wednesday evening, Fred Teisch, a laborer in Canfield & Shrigley's mill, started with a companion to come across Manistowish Lake, when they broke through the ice, and Mr. Teisch went down to rise no more, and his companion was killed.

—The friends of J. Erkenbeck had a family Christmas tree, at his residence on Friday evening last, which was enjoyed by all present. Santa Claus being very liberal, as will be seen, with his presents. On the tree were two sets of silver ware; $125 to each of his six children, and innumerable other gifts, the total value being $1152.75.—Paw Paw True Northern.

—As A. M. Culver, Esq., and son were returning to their residence in the west part of the village, on Tuesday last, and in passing a wagon, got into a hole in the ice, and the wagon and the horse were severely injured by a contusion on the left arm, near the elbow. The son received bruises about the head and face, but not of a serious character.—Albion Mirror, 30th.

—On Sunday morning last, between the hours of eight and nine, the old tavern stand known as "Gardner's," four miles north-west of this village, was destroyed by fire. Nearly, or all the goods in the upper part of the building, the cellars, bar, and kitchen, were consumed.—St. John's Independent, 29th.

—Wolves in this county are still quite numerous and, as is the general characteristic of their wolfish nature, very destructive, particularly to sheep.—Huron Co. News.

—The Saginaw Republican gives the particulars of a large fire in that city on the 25th. The total loss will amount to between $4,000 and $5,000. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary.

—We understand that $1000 had been subscribed on Monday for the building of a wooden bridge across the river above Washington Street, and that a proposition had been made to build a bridge sixteen feet in width at $4 per foot lineal measure, and have it ready for use within 30 days after signing the contract. If a bridge can be built at so slight a cost, it will pay for itself with the first few weeks use, and it will be ready for use in case of accident hereafter.—Constantin Mercury 30th.

County Correspondence.

All About a Surprise. Did you ever go to a "surprise," Mr. Editor? If not, you can't imagine the anxiety of those who have been to let you know about it when it comes all over. Per contra, they're bound not to let any one know about it, before it comes off. With your permission, I'll relate one of them in the past; such an interesting occasion, that it will not do to miss without being recorded; future reminiscences were just and whimsical.

John Russell, a Republican member of the Ohio State Senate, died on Thursday. His death leaves the Senate of that State a tie between the Democrats and Republicans.

The grand jury of New York has indicted McFarland for the murder of Richardson.

In the Cincinnati hospital, on Friday, Wm. D. Olcott and Henry Meyers got into a quarrel, and the former stabbed the latter with a knife, causing his death in 20 minutes.

From New Troy. Jan. 6, 1870. MR. EDITOR.—New Year's eve passed off here with its usual amusement—a dance and supper—and was conducted very orderly, it being a very temperate time. Saturday evening the Good Templars held a levee which many outsiders attended. Speeches, songs and wit so filled up the time, that unconsciously they tarried into "intermediate hours."

The tax gatherer is around again, in time to disturb our feelings, just as we are winding up the holidays' amusements. 'Tis too bad, he should come except in dog days, when no one feels very good natured, and his appearance then could be borne with some degree of equanimity; but at this season of the year, the contrast between his long bills and our feelings, makes his appearance anything but agreeable. For the subject of taxation in this County has become a very serious one, and needs thorough investigation. When our taxes are 8 per cent. on valuation, there must be something rotten somewhere. Gen. Butler is making a strong movement at head quarters, to cut off extra government officers, and the same thing should be done in our County. There are too many paupers supported at our expense, whose name are not on the poor-house books!

A committee from each township should be selected to make examination and ascertain the true cause of our excessive taxation. The thing should be remedied, and can be if the tax payers only say so. 'Tis folly for us to think of getting capitalists to invest in this county, when the state of things exist. They will not do it. Statistics show that taxes in Lowell, Lawrence and other large manufacturing cities do not exceed 1 per cent. of valuation, and some years considerable less. Just think of a poor man holding property valued at $1,000, on which, perhaps, he owes the greater part, paying $80.00 tax, and in many instances, is obliged to sell his only cow, to prevent greater distress! It shows on the face of it, that there is wrong somewhere; and it is for you and me and every interested person to see to it that this wrong is righted.

Let me turn to a more pleasing subject. On Thursday evening last, there was a social gathering at the house of Pitt J. Pierce, Esq. The occasion was the marriage of his only daughter, Lucinda M., to Mr. Arthur Miller, of this place. A match commended by all, "most fit to be made." The knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Reiter, of Berrien, and it was done in a most manly manner. With due caution on the part of the Groom and Bride, it will not slip an atom. After the ceremony, we were invited to a rich repast. The tables were filled with the choicest meats and delicacies, and each felt 'twas good to be there; also wished that such scenes were not so much like angels visits, "few and far between." But when they do come, may it be our good fortune to be there.

RECORD. From Niles. Jan. 3, 1870. EDITOR RECORD.—New Years passed off very quietly, and with few exceptions, no serious rows occurred. To fully commemorate the day, a few individuals got together at 10 o'clock, on Saturday morning. A few ladies of the town made open houses and received callers during the day.

We noticed the bar of the billiard rooms under the Reading House were brilliantly illuminated by the courteous proprietors, Mr. Draper, on Saturday. At 12 o'clock, a tiny bell rung out merrily, announcing the death of the old and the birth of the new year.

On Wednesday evening, it is generally supposed, that a German by the name of Daniel German committed suicide by jumping off the Iron Bridge into the river. Up to the present writing, his body has not been found.

For the past week, the ladies of St. Francis Church (Catholic) have been holding a Fair, at Peak Hill. We are informed they did very well; a large crowd being in attendance every night. The proceeds are to be devoted to the support of their new church in West Niles. Sunday morning we were visited by a fall of snow, which renders sleighing tolerable good this morning.

This morning, the markets in this city, for country produce, ranged as follows: White wheat, $1.00; red, 85 and 90; corn, 80; oats, 70; potatoes, 40; hogs, dressed, $9.50 and $11; turkeys, $7.50; timothy, $16.00; marsh, 12 1/2; chickens, 10; wood, long, $4.50; stove, $3.00.

The "Ghost" of the Reading House, after haunting in a large amount of "Hep-Pop" for some time, was quite sure that there were no more Sundays and Saturdays in the old year, than all the rest of the days put together! They met by chance—the "Ghost" and a son of Vulcan. The argument waxed warm. "Ghost" told Vulcan he had been by chance, "Ghost" told Vulcan he had been by chance, "Ghost" told Vulcan he had been by chance. The result was that "Ghost's" eyes were deeply, darkly, beautifully blue. He says he got them dressed in mourning, over the death of the old year! OCCASIONAL.

Sunday Reading.

True wisdom shows a peaceful road, The secret, the pleasant path, Which leads to life, and joy, and God, And saves from guilt and woe.

True wisdom is to fear the Lord, And trust His pardoning grace; To do His will, and love His word, And long to see His face.

Waiting. There's a slimy little infant in the cradle, his face looking out from the blanket, his eyes sparkling with health, a mere nothing—only a baby. But he is waiting. Some day he will be a man, and he will take a part in the battle of the great world's business life.

There's an old man seated in the nook of the hearth-stone, his head white as snow, his form trembling, his life almost gone. He is waiting. Though he hears not your kind words, here are tones from a voice so softened, gentle and sympathetic, that tell him: "Wait a little longer old man—a few days more of this life, and then we will carry you safe over."

All of us are waiting. We may go far from home, seek the bustle of business, seclude ourselves from the world, be good or bad, amass fortune or live in poverty, and our day must some time come—must soon come. The thought is with us, we cannot make it stay away. Death, death, and we yet live as if it would never come.

Life, oh, what is life—a day—an hour! A roughy, sorry, tears, sighs, and sobs, and then the voice bids us come over the threshold of death for eternal judgment.

Secret of Happiness. An Italian bishop, who had struggled through many difficulties without repining, and even had opposed without manifesting impatience, was asked by a friend to communicate the secret of his being always so happy, replied: "It consists in a single thing, and that is, making a right use of my eyes." His friends, in surprise, begged him to explain his meaning.

One Drop at a Time. Have you ever watched an icicle as it formed? Have you not noticed how it froze on a drop at a time, until it was a foot long or more? If the water was clean then the icicles remained clear, and sparkled brightly in the sun; but, if the water was but slightly muddy, the icicle looked foul and its beauty was spoiled.

Sunshine and Clouds. Ah, this beautiful world! I know not what to think of it. Sometimes it is all sunshine and gladness, and heaven itself lies not far off, and then it suddenly changes, and is dark and sorrowful, and the cloud's shut out the day.

Secularism. The Rev. Dr. Norman Macleod says: "There is a great deal of cant and nonsense talked about secularism. You might say a man is secular if he likes his own house and family better than any other in the same street. The man I call secular is the man who is not content with the blessings of number one in the street, but who is always throwing stones or mud at number two; who is not content with his own wife and family, but talks and writes about another man's family."

Earth not Heaven. The loveliest valley has a muddy swamp, and the noblest mountain a piercing blast, and the prettiest face has ugly features. The fairest faces are most subject to freckles; and the handsomest girl is apt to be proud; and the most sentimental lady loves cold pork, and the gayest mother lures her children to ragged. The kindest wife will sometimes overlook an absent child, and the best husband forgets to kiss his wife every time she steps outside the gate, and the wisest essayist writes some nonsense; and the stars will fall, and the moon split, and men won't be angels, nor earth heaven.

Seven Fools. The angry man, who sets his own house on fire in order that he may burn that of his neighbor. The envious man who cannot enjoy his business unless others do. The miser, who for the consideration of a few pounds, gives the world liberty to hang him. The hypocrite, whose happiness consists in making himself miserable. The jealous man, who poisons his own banquet, and then eats of it. The miser, who starves himself to death in order that he may feast. The man who in order that he may take the sake of giving their enemies an opportunity to prove them a liar.

THE "Phnygrams." Belinda Ann. Did you ever? no, I never, saw a girl one-half so clever as my friend Belinda Ann. She's the pink, sir, of perfection, and upon most calm reflection, I don't think, sir, that you can find a fairer, or a rarer female than Belinda Ann. I would tell you, and not sell you, of the clothing, and its value, that, smokes Belinda Ann; I would tell you, sir, with pleasure, what it costs—a heap of treasure—every time they take her measure, but I hardly think I can; for his history is a mystery, and I'm not a ladies' man. Her eyes of night are black and bright, glistening with tender light (belladonna makes 'em shine); every fear of blindness scoring, puts she in a drop each morning, does this female friend of mine; for she daily, bravely, gayly lays her life on fashions (shrine). Did you dare, sir, say her hair, sir, was not her own? Just have a care, sir, for I know, it is her own. I was with her when she bought it—walked all over town and sought it—though I don't know where 'twas grown; but I do know, and let you know, that it was bought and paid for down. There's her waist, sir, to my taste, sir, hourglass-shaped, and corset cased, sir; slender, graceful, and so light. She's litterly laced to kill, so tight she ne'er can get her luff, excepting very late at night; scarcely can she breathe, I fancy, she is laced so very tight. Note the flush, sir, modest blush, sir (put on daily with a brush, sir) gives her cheek a healthy glow; while her golden tresses shade her snow white brow, of the maid (done with powdered chalk, you know), and her lips are red as wine rare, (trace of vermilion show). I think Miss Belinda is no more nor less than simply this: A sanguinary battle-field, where Art 'Pod Nature fight away, each bound to die or win the day; and 'twill not be long, before you see art sole possessor of the field.
