Singular.

Mr. Clay Hartung, of the town of Homer, in this county, relates the following of his five year old cow: In April, 1872, my five year old cow had all the appearance of being about to have a calf, but in a few days she appeared quite different, the usual pains having passed off and she appeared to be as well as any of my cows and re-maintained so all summer with the exception that she appeared larger than she formerly is after having a calf. About the 10th of May, 1872, he calf bled again and she had the appearance of being about to give birth to a calf, and continued in that condition for three days, when Mr. Hartung obtained a surgeon and took away a full grown calf. After which, she seemed well for a few minutes and then her labor pains returned and continued until her death which happened in about forty-eight hours. Upon opening the cow it was found that the calf of the year previous had bursted the womb and passed out into the left side of the cow, the sack holding the calf remaining whole. The orifice in the womb closing up, healed and fastened to one end of the sack containing the calf, while the other end fastened to the paunch or stomach. Upon opening this sack it was found to contain a number of pailful of yellowish liquid and a calf of natural shape, but somewhat withered, the bones having been soitten by remaining so long in that condition.—Albion Mirror.

Laughter.

Lycurgus, we are told, erected in his house an altar to Laughter; and his example was very generally followed by the Spartans. "Laughing cheerfulness," says Richer, "throws sunlight on all the path of life." Nor let it be imagined that the disposition to wit is incompatible with earnestness of thought or depth of feeling; on the contrary, it may be observed that a quick sense of the humorous is generally accompanied by as quick a sense of the pathetic; as may be seen at the theatrical representations those who are most easily moved to tears at a tragedy, being frequently the loudest in their risibility at the farce.

Happiness Essential to Beauty.

Do not think you can make a girl lovely, if you do not make her happy. There is not one restraint you put on a good girl's nature—there is not one shock you give to her instincts of affection or effort—which will not be indelibly written on her features with a hardness which is all the more painful because it takes away the brightness from the eyes of innocence, and the charm from the brow of virtue. The perfect loveliness of a woman's countenance can only consist in that majestic peace which is founded in the memory of happy and useful years,—full of sweet records; and from the joining of this with that yet more majestic childishness, which is still full of change and promise, opening always—modest at once, and bright with hope of better things to be won, and to be bestowed. There is no old age where is still that promise—it is eternal youth.—[Rustin.]

Following the announcement of the San Francisco Chronicle, that "you" has become a singular pronoun in that longitude, and that "you was" is henceforth the correct expression instead of "you were" as heretofore, an Eastern philologist comes to the rescue of his mother tongue by offering to coin a few extra pronouns. He objects to the constrained use of "his or her" in such phrases as "placed to his or her credit;" and he says in his circular: "The substitute for the three words, which I now have the honor to propose, is a word of two syllables, compounded of these two pronouns, viz-compound of these two pronouns, suggestive of the singular number and possessive case, applicable as a pronoun for man or woman, namely hizer, placed to hizer credit, and thus declined, hesh, hizer, himer. Should this addition," he adds, "be acceptable to persons speaking and writing the English language, I will subsequently propose a number of new words, as analogous improvements." We trust, hizer further services will not be needed. There is surely a great necessity for taking the ambiguity out of the plural pronouns as for putting it into the singular ones, and this philologist will then be coining substitutes for "we," "you," "they," etc., to indicate whether they represent males or females, and English grammar will be reduced to some such mellifluous gibberish as this hesh, hizer, himer; wesh, wezer, wemer; yoush, jouzer, youmer; thesh thezer, themer, etc.

cratic President and again assume the full control of the Government. We can, therefore, afford to nominate and swallow Greeley in view of the good and strength that we hope to secure thereby.

The foregoing seems to us to be a fair synopsis of the secret reasons of the leading Democrats approving the acceptance of Greeley and the Cincinnati Platform. It is then the Liberal Republicans that are sold, and delivered to the Democratic party, and not the Democratic party that is sold to the Liberal Republican move. It appears, that the movement, on the part of the Democracy in accepting Greeley, is so plain that even a child ought to comprehend it.

We ask candidly, of every Liberal Republican, if the case as above set forth is not reasonable? and if it is, whether you really prefer the Democratic party, to the Republican party that stood by the Government, saved the nation, subdued the rebellion, and has, say only reasonably, economically administered the government? If you do, then vote for Greeley, the Democratic nominee for President. But if you do not, we cannot see how you can fail to support Grant and Wilson, the Republican candidates. If you desire to be sold and delivered to the Democratic party, support Greeley, but if you do not, then support Gen. Grant who led the loyal hosts to victory, on many a hotly contested battle field.

PROBATE JUDGSHIP.

There are several candidates in the field for the office of Judge of Probate. It is not our purpose to discuss the merits of the respective candidates in this article, but we propose a word or two on the respective candidates. There is no position, to which the people of Berrien County are required to call a man, more important than that of the Probate Judgeship. In fact we consider the office one that is above party considerations—one that requires the most unimpeachable character. It will not do therefore for any "dilectio" or any "ring" to attempt to put in nomination any man for this office, in whom the people, and especially his neighbors, have but little confidence. Any man whose reputation is that of "trickery," whether he is a Republican or Democrat ought not to be elected to the Probate Judgeship, and will not, except the case stands as to the choice between two evils, and the less is chosen.

We would not for a moment have the Republican aspirants for County offices deceive themselves into the support of an unworthy nominee for Probate Judge; for there is nothing clearer to our mind, in the future, than the defense of any unworthy and "trickery" for this office. The people regard the office through whose hands the interests of the widow and orphan must pass, as of paramount importance to any other office in the County. It is therefore the voice of the people, of all political faiths, that especially for the Probate Judge we must have a man of honor and integrity, one who has the confidence and esteem of his neighbors—one whose honesty is never called in question, even by his political opponents. It will be suicidal for any party to place a "shakey" man on its ticket for this office.

Let the Republicans of Berrien County bear in mind the importance of this office, when they come to make the nomination, and select the right kind of a man for the position and there will be no doubt of his election. But let the Convention disregard the necessity of a ticket made up of the very best material in the County, and no one can predict certainly the result. We know, when we make the assertion, that it is the settled and determined purpose of a large number of the Republicans, of Berrien County, to use every effort to have worthy men placed upon our County ticket, failing to accomplish this in consequence of a "dilectio" or "ring," they will not hold themselves bound to support any unworthy man, simply because he received the nomination; and this is more especially the case relative to the Probate office, as that office is regarded of paramount importance. There is no man in the County, be he ever so dishonest, that has the least desire that, in case of his death, his estate and the interests of his widow and children, should be required to pass through the hands of an incompetent or dishonest Probate Judge. To avoid the risk of defeat, growing out of this universal feeling, let the Republican Convention, when assembled, consider no man for this position whose reputation for honor and integrity is not beyond question.

CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

The contest for Congressional honors from the Fourth District in no wise abates. The friends of the various aspirants are not idle. While there is but one Congressman to elect, we have in the various counties composing this district at least seven candidates. Of course the seven cannot be chosen.

The interest of the district at large should be looked at in the selection of a candidate. The Republican party in this. Fourth, district have no votes to throw away, and hence it becomes necessary to nominate a man of integrity and ability—one that can command the attention and respect of the people. That there will be a Greeley-Democratic ticket there is no doubt, and if the Republicans put an objectionable man in the field his defeat will be pretty certain. It must be remembered that no objectionable man can, in the present condition of the party, hold the votes thereof. It therefore becomes of the utmost importance for the convention to consider well what they do, before placing any man in nomination. There are among the proposed candidates, names, if placed upon the ticket, that will save the party a triumph, and so are led to sound the note of warning in time to save its defeat. We feel confident of what we assert, as to the condition of affairs, in this Congressional question. We have been led to look into it, and investigate it, in all of the various bearings, and feel confident that the matter stands just as stated. There is not the least disposition on the part of the rank and file of the party to put in nomination any man who is not qualified, in every respect, to fill the important position. If such nomination should be effected it would be accomplished by means entirely contrary to the wishes, and outside of the great mass of the voters in the party. We feel however, great confidence that men of judgment will be sent to the Decatur convention who will act for the best interests of the party, and place such a man in nomination as shall meet the hearty approval and support of the people.

CONGRESSIONAL MATTERS.

After referring to the different Congressional candidates in the various counties, the Kalamazoo Telegraph of the 11th, says of the condition of affairs in this county: "So far as this county is concerned, the Republicans of the different townships have, through the primary caucuses, expressed, by decided majorities, their preference for the nomination of Capt. J. C. Burrows, of this village, and our delegation to the Convention will give him a hearty support for the Congressional nomination. The question was made an issue, and the Republicans of nearly every town in the County, at largely attended caucuses, registered themselves in Capt. Burrows' favor. In the County Convention, delegates to Decatur favorable to Capt. Burrows' nomination were elected by a vote of nearly ten to one. This delegation will present to the Convention the name of Capt. Burrows, and ask, on behalf of their constituents, his nomination. Kalamazoo is, and has always been, a reliable Republican County, and furnished, two years ago, nearly half of the District's Republican majority. Her delegation will ask with confidence, a fair consideration of her claims. Capt. Burrows has been a consistent Republican since the party was organized. He has been an earnest and faithful worker. Few men in Michigan have done more efficient service for the Republican cause, and if the Convention shall place him in nomination he will serve the interests of the District in Congress with fidelity and acceptance."

From the Cass County Republican.

There is a lively contest going on in this Congressional District among a number of gentlemen, for the Republican Congressional nomination. The candidates so far mentioned, are Capt. J. C. Burrows, of Kalamazoo, Hon. C. W. Clisbee, of Cassopolis, Dr. B. W. Clisbee, of Cassopolis, and George S. Clapp, of Van Buren and Gen. Stoughton, of St. Joseph county.

The hour draws rapidly nigh when a decision must be made as to who shall be our standard bearer for Congress in this District. We regard it as exceedingly important that the people should take this matter into their own hands and elect such delegates as will represent the wishes in the County Convention. In order that this may be done, we earnestly urge Republicans in this county to turn out EN MASSE, to the Caucuses soon to be held, and give expression to their wishes on this question. Let the gentlemen nominated for Delegates frankly declare their preference for Congress, and then the masses in attendance, will know who and what they are voting for. By pursuing such a course, a fair expression of the wishes of the majority of the Republicans of the county can be had, and when had, must be respected and obeyed. It is quite fashionable for the disappointed to charge that Conventions have been packed or manipulated by adroit wire-pullers, and induced to act in opposition to the wishes of the people. In many instances perhaps, this is true. But, if the course suggested is adopted, the Delegates elected must fairly represent their towns, or shamelessly violate their pledged faith. The latter alternative is not likely to occur.

We have no doubt that the first three gentlemen named above, as candidates, will each have some very warm advocates and a respectable number of supporters in this county—but we're inclined to believe, from expressions of opinions we have heard from different quarters of the county, that Capt. Burrows, if a full and fair expression of opinion can be had, will prove to be the favorite of the majority of Republican voters in Cass county. The reasons advanced by those who favor his nomination, are, substantially, that he is a man of strict morality, of unsullied integrity and of conceded ability—one who, if elected, would be an honor to the district, and who would fairly advocate and protect the interests of the people he represented. From an intimate acquaintance with Capt. Burrows for the last ten years, we know this opinion of him, to be correct. There is none of the political trimmer about him. If chosen for the position, the people of this District will never have cause to regret their choice.

Who Appoint the Thieves? Out of the fifteen cases of defalcation in the customs revenue service, only two of the officials were appointed by President Grant. The following list will show where the moral responsibility rests:

Appointed by Buchanan... $5,158.81
Appointed by Lincoln... 17,978.46
Appointed by Johnson... 84,622.10
Appointed by Grant... 17,971.75
If the Tribune would publish a few of these interesting facts it might do the people a favor. But as it has ceased to be an organ, and parted with its monkey, we can hardly expect the repetition of old times.

The same proportion of rogues holds good with all the thieves that have been ferreted out during General Grant's term. More than three fourths of the whole number were appointed by Andrew Johnson. How very "liberal" it would be to have our Democratic friends tell the whole truth, and allow their constituents to know who it was that appointed the thieves.

Alpena Burned.
ALPENA, July 13, 1872.
Yesterday afternoon, about five o'clock an alarm of fire was given, caused by a fire in the Poggis House barn. A strong northwest wind prevailed, and the hotel was soon in one wild sheet of flames. From this fire communicated to adjoining buildings and in every direction. The flames spread with the rapidity of lightning, and in about two hours six-fifty different buildings, all in the heart of the city, were in ashes. The flames spread so fast that it was impossible to save anything from the most of the business places. About two hundred thousand dollars worth of property was laid to waste. It is positively known that four persons were burned to death, and it is feared that others who were badly burned cannot recover.

Having lost everything in the Angus office, we feel too sick at heart to attempt a description or to enter into details.

The suffering throughout the city beggars description. Many are the families that are homeless. Now, readers, allow us to appeal to you, one and all, and to the public generally, for as much assistance as you can conscientiously bestow, to enable us to again establish our little office, and may God reward you for the assistance thus bestowed in the hour of trial and affliction. Our loss is about four thousand dollars, and no insurance.

Our thanks are due to the editor of the Pioneer for his generosity in giving us the use of his office.

Be patient, readers, and we will endeavor to again furnish you with the ARGUS, if God is willing. Until then we again say have patience.—Alpena Argus Extra, July 13th.

A LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN.

Just Published in a Solo Edition. "Price five cents."

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of Gonorrhea, Stricture, Catarrh of the Bladder, Hemorrhoids, Seminal Discharge, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Nervousness, Consumption, Pellogue and Rheumatism; Physical Incapacity, resulting from Self-abuse. &c. by ROBERT C. GULYERVEN, M. D., Author of "Gonorrhea Root," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly and briefly, explains the origin of the disease, the consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed, and the patient cured, without the use of any dangerous drugs, blisters, leeches, or violent operations. The author, in this work, gives a full and complete description of the various instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of using them, which is simple, certain and effective. The mode of which every sufferer, by adopting the author's advice, may cure himself cheaply, privately and effectually. This Lecture is a book, and is sent by mail, free of charge, and by express, for a small fee.

Send no money, but to any address, in a plain sealed envelope, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps, and the book will be sent by mail, free of charge. Send the publishers, and the book will be sent by mail, free of charge.
