JOHN G. HOLMES, Editor. THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1878.

Republican State Convention. A Republican State Convention, to nominate State Officers, will be held at the Detroit Opera House, in the City of Detroit, on Thursday, June 13th, 1878, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Congress has agreed to adjourn sine die, June 17th. Glory! The Honest Money League of the north-west will hold a meeting at Milwaukee, June 11th.

Post-master General Key, the only Democrat in the Cabinet, has voluntarily subscribed $300 to the Republican campaign fund.

The syndicate has taken the last of the $50,000,000 4 1/2 per cent. bonds, they agreed to take before the first of January.

A terrible cyclone passed over Richmond, Mo., June 1, carrying destruction to life and property in its path.

The Tilton-Beecher scandal is still stirred up, and stinks about as bad as ever. A plot has been discovered to ruin Mr. Beecher, and the whole affair is said to have been the workings of this deep plot.

A company of noted astronomers will this week take to the heights of Colorado to take a scientific squint at the total eclipse of the sun, on the 29th of this month. The last show of the kind that is expected this century.

Chapin & Gore, well known saloonists of Chicago, have been arrested for exhibiting obscene pictures in their place of business, and have been placed under $500 bonds each, to appear for trial in the criminal court.

The business of the Erie canal is said to be double that of last year, thus far. A good indication that the country is going to ruin (!) for lack of business.

Wm. Cullen Bryant, when going to the house of a friend, in New York, after having made a speech at the unveiling of the bust of Mezzini, May 30, fell on the broad stone step producing concussion of the brain, and has since been lying in a critical condition.

Decoration Day was duly observed in nearly all parts of the country in an imposing manner. Most notable at the Gettysburg battle-field, where President Hayes, about thirty Congressmen, and other notables, took part in the ceremonies.

Considerable excitement has been elicited in Cincinnati by the finding of the body of J. Scott Harrison, son of Ex-President Harrison, hanging by the neck to a rope in the Ohio Medical College, a few days after his funeral. It is but a few months since trouble was had with this same institution for a similar offence.

The Baccalaureate Sermon, at Olivet college, will be preached June 16th, and the examinations and commencement exercises will be held during the week following. The next term of the college year will commence September 12.

A Greenback Convention held in Stanton, Montclair county, May 30, adopted a platform of which the following is the last plank: Resolved, That the Greenback party of Montclair county will not support any man for office who is not in favor of paying the national debt, both principal and interest, in legal tender greenback money, the creation of the United States Government.

Moses W. Field, who is so eager for a lower rate of interest, recently recorded a mortgage on a poor man's farm for money loaned at ten per cent. He said, when in this place, that no farmer could afford to pay more than three per cent, and expect to live. Consistency hides her jewel in Field.

The would be murderer of Emperor William of Germany has confessed that he is a member of a communistic Association, and that he was appointed by the lot as the one who was to kill the Emperor. Just such underhand, back deeds have for some time been brewing in this country, and are more to be feared than on open war.

The Kent county Nationals feel their strength growing upon them, and sail forth with the following preamble in their platform: "We declare that we have no confidence whatever in those men who, pretending to be members of the National Greenback party, countenance any coalition with either of the old parties; and we will support no candidate for any office of honor, trust or profit, who will accept a nomination in either of the old parties."

A couple of tramps were arrested in Portland, May 28, with their pockets full of jewelry, napkin-rings, etc. Some of the property was recognized by persons near Ionia, and they were taken there for trial.

Sunday afternoon another attempt was made to assassinate Emperor William, of Germany, by the editor of a socialist paper. While riding out, two shots were fired from a double-barreled gun upon the Emperor, thirty shots and slugs entering his body, the most dangerous wound being in the wrist near the main artery. The would-be assassin was arrested, after a struggle in which he wounded the proprietor of the house, and attempted suicide by shooting himself. The affair created great excitement in Berlin.

There was a large congregation of laboring men held on the street in Chicago, Saturday, when some pretty strong communistic language was used by the speakers. One saying that if the laboring man was not more respected the revolver would come. Another speaker said that the growing strength of the socialist party had been shown by the ballot box, but if the ballot was not sufficient to compel the recognition of their rights, they would use other boxes. He also said if things went on as they do now another government would be created, that there must be another form of republic, although he failed to say what kind it should be.

The Associated Press gives the following report of the National Greenback Labor Party Convention held at Grand Rapids yesterday: The national greenback party met in state convention at Grand Rapids, today. Three hundred and sixty delegates were present, and nominated the following state ticket: Governor, Henry S. Smith, of Grand Rapids; Lieutenant-Governor, Lylander Woodward, of Oakland county; Secretary of State, Geo. H. Bruce, of Lenawee county; Treasurer, Herman Golischell, of East Saginaw; Auditor General, Levi Sparks, of Berrien. The convention adopted a platform, as follows: "First, the unconditional repeal of the so-called resumption act; second, the issue of all the paper money by the general government only, such paper money to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private; third, that no interest-bearing bonds of the government, of any kind or class, be issued, and that all bond now outstanding be paid as speedily as possible; fourth, the enactment of such laws as will best protect the industries of this nation, and confer the greatest good upon the greatest number; such legislation should be had that the number and hours of daily toil be reduced, giving the laboring classes more leisure for mental improvement and social enjoyment, saving them from premature decay and death; fifth, the coinage of silver to be placed upon the same footing as that of gold; sixth, the repeal of the national banking law. We deprecate all efforts to redress wrongs by the violation of law, and believe that through the ballot-box alone must we look for justice. We demand that all government lands be reserved for actual settlers only."

The Chicago Times usually remarks that but one good man, Lylander Woodward, is on the ticket. We shall know more of them in the near future.

Kansas Letter. THAYER, KAN., May 26, 1878. EDITOR RECORD: Dear Sir—Not seeing in your columns of late many flattering statements of this state I will give you my views, not that I wish to sell excursion tickets, but as a benefit to those coming with small means, I say stay where you are, and I think that others will bear me out in my advice. It is impossible to get government land worth improving within 150 miles of here. If a man can come with some means he will find many chances to invest well. Living here over a year I have had chances to know of many good bargains, and not having means to buy they are open to others.

I was down to Sedan last week—met our old townsmen Mathews, Binns, Wagner and Plimpton. All seem to be happy. The Captain has opened out again, this time at his trade. I found him one morning converting a dry goods box into a milk safe. He did not say how numerous his orders were. Jim was not living in his house made out of sun-flower stalks and shingled with pumpkin seeds, as represented. Never-the-less himself and wife appear contented. Plimpton & Son are running a jewelry store—the son taking but a small interest as yet. The crops look good. Corn planting has been the order of the day since April 1st and will continue until June.

There have been some very hard rains in the last two weeks, doing great damage to property along the streams, crops especially. In many places washed away corn cribs, and yards with stock. The rise was so sudden that it was impossible to avoid the loss of stock in the low land. As the principle way of crossing streams in this country is by fording them there were a number of lives lost by drowning. Teams attached to wagons, horses and buggies were seen passing down some of the streams.

On my return from Sedan I found Mrs. Curtis very sick. She is not out of danger yet. W. H. CURTIS.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The public debt statement for May shows a decrease in the debt for the month of $3,078,198, and the following balances in the Treasury: Currency, $3,094,745; special fund for the redemption of fractional currency, $10,000,000; special deposit of legal tenders for the redemption of certificates of deposit, $85,705,000; coin, $189,708,021, including coin certificates of $52,481,600; outstanding legal tenders, $846,818, 616.

If anybody knows the Greenback people, Brick Pomroy does. And Brick says: "We charge it directly upon Moses W. Field and all who are managers of the Nationals of Michigan, that they are playing directly into Democratic hands, and they know it." The same truth may be generalized for Indiana and the rest of the country.—South Bend Register.

Preparations are being made in various parts of the State to celebrate July fourth.

Items From Three Oaks. Plenty of showers. Strawberries just coming into this market. I understand that those on the sick list, Mrs. Larzeller, Mrs. McKie and Mrs. Chamberlain, are improving. It is quite healthy in this vicinity. The undertaker gets very little to do in the undertaking business. Business is good among the dry goods and grocery men. They are all men who understand their business and never get the "blues."

The three shoe makers, H. Helmholtz, J. G. Mueller and J. Rynearson furnish considerable lap-stone music and they are doing well—the latter is heavy on the laugh. E. Ritzler has just put a new roof on his residence. W. K. Sawyer has just painted the post office building. Frank L. Sawyer, deputy post master, has put a telephone from the residence to the office. He says that it works well about meal time.

M. Sherill has rented R. B. Golt's building and has several agricultural implements on sale, one self-binder. He says about the binder will be the truth. Success to him. I am reliably informed that a house in this village was broken into last week, and considerable money taken. An entrance was effected by a glass being taken from the upper sash and the sash lowered. The question is, "was it a tramp or a citizen?"—just as liable to be a citizen as a tramp.

I think that we shall have a Republican paper started here soon. The Republicans met in caucus last Thursday evening and elected the following named delegates: Ex-Treas. Samuel Hess, Hon. Wm. Chamberlain, Peter Struble, Thomas Love, W. K. Sawyer, W. H. Valentine and John D. Miller. The speeches in regard to the issues at hand; the history of the old parties, and the history of the party without a history, were discussed. The old Democratic party they knew by its history that it meant the same to-day that it did in 1861, "Rule or Ruin." The new party is only known by its pin-factors, Field, Carey, Pomroy, Trevellick & Co.

School closed this week with an exhibition. The attendance was large, and the occasion a very pleasant one. The speaking, essays and singing were good. The Three Oaks Silver Band discoursed some sweet music. (By the way we have several champion players, who have instruments worth from $75 to $100 each.) The exhibition was held on Friday evening. On Saturday the Teachers Institute was called. H. Crosby, Esq., acting as chairman. These Institutes are very instructive and quite interesting. Quite a number of teachers were present and many of our citizens. The teachers seem to try and educate themselves for the work before them. We have had a good school, at least I have heard no complaints. As a rule parents do not visit their schools often enough, even after being invited time and again by the teachers.

H. R. Pike now intends moving to Hagar township on his land here will engage in the wood business. Mrs. Parsons, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting with her sister, Mrs. W. K. Sawyer. Trains commenced running through on the double track on Saturday. This will throw two men at this station out of employment.

We are waiting patiently for the cheese factory to start. We want a four mill and taylor. Pom. & Bom. have built themselves a new fish boat. C. H. Davis named it Nellie, and put on the name with nice letters. Davis can do nice lettering, sing some songs and fill more wagon wheels and enjoy life as well as any man in town.

Mrs. Hilton has come again to enjoy a few pleasant hours under the parental roof. It seems to me that any one from a distance might enjoy a visit at Three Oaks, as it is such a beautiful, picturesque and healthy place; the people are almost always happy, and no bullfrogs or prairie dogs howling around here.

There are two dogs located on the business street that need quieting powders. Decoration Day was a very pleasant day. The business houses closed in the afternoon. According to programs the people met at Town hall at 1 p. m., formed in procession, headed by the band, then the veterans and citizens and marched to the cemetery, and the soldiers' graves were decorated with wreaths of beautiful flowers; then Hon. E. M. Plimpton delivered an eloquent address—confining himself to the subject of the day. Mr. Plimpton's speech was listened to with marked attention. The Glee Club sang some appropriate pieces.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Evening Post says Secretary Sherman up to this time has not found a way to issue the two million of standard dollars coined each month, but he is confident he will succeed in doing so. In conversation with the Post correspondent he said, "We will not issue them at the centers of trade, where they are returned for customs duties, but will distribute them through the country. I can't say exactly how this will be done, but the amount authorized by law will be put out."

Treasurer Gilliland says he cannot see how silver dollars are to be put into circulation until Congress amends the existing law and authorizes the Treasury Department to pay out of the silver profit fund the cost of transportation of silver dollars to any point in the country.

So Spontaneous! Courts of justice are dreadful things for unmasked humbuggery. They bring out bottom facts, and deceptions "pales its effectual fire" before the sharp cross-questioning of attorneys. Samuel J. Tilden has been shown up for the sham reformer and business cut-throat that he is, by the course of justice, in which his iron money, his railroad wrecking, his income tax swindling, and his many rascalities to make money were exposed.

Moses W. Field was hazed into our supreme court for robbing a soldier's widow of her husband's war bounty, and in a well-known decision his trait was drawn by Judge Christianity as "a speculator in the blood and bones of his more patriotic fellow-citizens." Sam. F. Carey has been jerked before the courts of Ohio for sponging his co-partners in a silver mine scheme, where he made use of his facility in brazen falsehood, to the great detriment of other people's pockets. Brick Pomroy was dragged to light as the sharer of Boss Tweed's stolen money to the extent of $44,900, and how much more nobody but himself knows. This came out in Tweed's sworn testimony on his public trial.

These men all belong to the class of spoliators. Tilden is a mighty Democratic reformer, and the others are gallant greenbackers. They rise up with disinterested courage and unflinching zeal for the rights of the dear people, and strike out bravely at the "Shylocks," "blatant bondholders," "national bank sharks," "robber clan," and "black hearted money-suckers," who have been guilty of saving up a few dollars and cutting them to the government for its salvation. What a spontaneous set of saints these irredeemables are, to be sure! * * *

Of all the humbugs on earth, that which claims a pure and spontaneous origin for the irredeemable party is the most preposterous. You scarcely see a man of prominence in it who has not, like Carey and Field, been repudiated by the other parties, or who has not sought his way up to the head.—Lansing Republican.

Key's Letter. Upon the re-opening of the Presidential election, the famous Potter resolution for investigation, Post Master General Key, the only Democrat in the President's Cabinet, publishes the following letter to his Southern constituents, in reply to many inquiries from that section:

WASHINGTON, May 29, 1878. The circumstances attending the passage of the Potter resolution to investigate the alleged frauds in the Presidential election of 1876 in the States of Louisiana and Florida, together with many influential Democratic politicians and journalists, evidence that if both Houses of the Forty-sixth Congress are Democratic, the majority intend to oust Mr. Hayes, and inaugurate Mr. Tilden. The title of Mr. Hayes was settled irrevocably by the Forty-fourth Congress in the act creating the Electoral Commission, under which he was legally elected and legally inaugurated. The Forty-fifth Congress has no more right to dispute this question than the President has to question the title of that body. The Forty-sixth Congress will have no more right to ignore him and to recognize his defeated contestant, Mr. Tilden, than Mr. Hayes has to send a file of soldiers to the House of Representatives to unseat a Democrat whom he might consider to have been wrongfully seated or fraudulently elected.

The leader in this desperate attempt to Mexicanize our institutions rely confidently upon the "solid South" to furnish the bulk of the Democratic majority in the next House of Representatives, the Senate being already secured. Remembering the encouragement which the Northern Democrats in 1860 and 1861 extended to the Southern States to secede, and the manner in which their promises of aid and comfort were fulfilled, can the Southern people be expected to join the revolutionary movement with the certainty that, when the inevitable hour of peril comes, they will again be left, unassisted and alone, to meet the storm from the North, once more united by this attempt to revive an issue whose settlement was forced by public opinion upon an unwilling Congress? In the dark days of February, 1877, when the civil war was over, a disputed election was imminent, and patriots trembled for the safety of republican institutions, Southern members of Congress averted the danger by compelling the completion of the electoral count under a law which both parties in Congress had enacted. But now the Representatives from the Southern States, with a few exceptions, have joined in a movement to subvert their former patriotic action and to remand the country to that anarchy from which, less than two years ago, it was saved by their efforts.

Grant that, in permitting the autonomy of all the States, and in appointing citizens to office in the South, instead of strangers, President Hayes has but discharged his constitutional duty, does that excuse the Southern Representatives from attempting to invalidate his title, which they established, or will it justify them in bringing the country again into danger of civil war, and inaugurating Mr. Tilden? The South must now face the most momentous crisis in its history since 1861. To endorse the recent conduct of their Representatives is to admit the truth of the charges that the people of the South care nothing for the welfare of the Union, desire the downfall of the Republic, and would rejoice to see it again involved in civil war. If their Representatives have not reflected their sentiments, as I believe to be the case, then the people of the Southern States should take care that in the Forty-sixth Congress they are represented by men who will defeat the disturbers of the public peace, and prevent the Mexicanization of our institutions. To do this they may be compelled to act independent of the Democratic party. Recent events have demonstrated the inability of the Democratic members of Congress to resist mandates of caucuses and the terror of the party lash, the men wielded and the other inspired by men who seem willing to endanger the welfare of the country and the stability of Republic on political opponents and the hope of dividing the "spoils of victory." If the Democratic representatives of the South could not pass the same caucus command to pass the Potter resolution unamended and without debate, how will they be able in the Forty-sixth Congress to resist a similar command to ignore Mr. Hayes as President, and to recognize Mr. Tilden? It is, therefore, the duty of the Southern people to afford crowning evidence of their renewed devotion to the Union in which they now enjoy every right of citizenship, and are subjected to no restrictions not laid upon every citizen by siding representatives to the Forty-sixth Congress, pledged to resist at all hazards the revolutionary schemes of mischief-makers, who seem to have gained control of the House of Representatives of the Forty-sixth Congress. To this end the people in every district should meet, publicly organize, and resolve to support no person for Congress who has given aid to this movement, and who will not pledge himself to sustain the title of President Hayes during the term for which he was elected against all attempts at its overthrow. Only in this way can a grave danger to the Republic be averted, and convincing proof be given that the confidence was not misplaced which President Hayes manifested in the South, when he withdrew the troops from the State Houses of South Carolina and Louisiana. I have spoken plainly and earnestly, for I feel that I should be unworthy to represent the South in the administration were I to remain silent now, invited to the Cabinet as a Southern man, to see that justice was done to the South, required neither to apologize for my record nor to discover my political principles, it is my duty to warn the people of the South of what threatens the country. No man need hope that the schemes of the men who have engineered the movement to unseat President Hayes can be carried out without a bloody civil war. To avert this danger I confidently rely on the patriotism and honor of the people of my native section.

LETTERS OF E. C. BEARDSLEY. FROM MELBOURNE TO SIDNEY. Leaving Melbourne by the North-eastern Railway at six o'clock on a bright Saturday morning, the first stage of the journey ends at the terminus of the railroad at Wodonga, county of Bodong, 187 miles from Melbourne. This is the longest line of railway in Victoria, and is intended to connect with the line now being extended from Sidney by the New South Wales government, and form a through trunk line from one capital to the other. This road is substantially built, with stone ballast, heavy English rails and mostly stone bridges. The rolling stock is thoroughly English, using English engines and comfortable carriages with locked doors. The stations are still in their normal condition of weather board and simple simplicity—cheap and nasty. They were called by a fellow traveler—and the refreshment rooms supplied with viands which, although economic in price and quantity, are not so appetizing as might be wished. The train makes good time—187 miles in eight hours.

The country generally is rolling, at some places being almost mountainous as we cross the great dividing ridge about 50 miles from Melbourne. We pass through some good agricultural lands, but the greater part of the route is through the blue gum forest devoid of any undergrowth, which look very pretty at first but grows monotonous after the first hour.

Seymour, 61, Benalla, 121 and Chiltern, 168 miles from Melbourne are the principle towns, with populations of 1,500, 3,000 and 6,000 respectively. Wodonga, the terminus of the line, is a small town, and here we transfer ourselves to an omnibus that takes us three miles to Albany, across the Murray river, that forms the boundary line between Victoria and New South Wales; after submitting our baggage to the scrutiny of the custom house officer, we drive over a substantial bridge about three-fourths of a mile in length and having a draw; for although a thousand miles from its mouth, near Adelaide, the Murray is navigable here. About a mile from the bridge we enter the town of Albany, a very pretty place of about 4,000 inhabitants, with several fair hotels; as many churches; a convent and numerous pretentious business structures. Albany is the center of an extensive grape growing region, and "Pallon's Albany Wines" are quoted in all the markets in Europe. In 1877 the product of wine in this district reached 204,380 gallons.

At 3 p. m. we take our seat on the box with the driver of the stage coach, for a ride of 194 miles to Bowang, where we take train for Sidney at 10 o'clock the following evening. This stage ride for 31 consecutive hours, through an uninteresting country, much of the way over bad roads, is not the most pleasant way in the world to spend Saturday night and Sunday, but I found the drivers possessed of a wonderful fund of information and reminiscences of early times in the colonies, and as we twisted around over bad roads and twisted among the gnarled gum trees all through the day, the starlight Saturday night, and the driver's keen eye saw just what we needed, they were justly entitled to the reputation they have acquired, for their strength, purity and delicacy of flavor.

Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts have stood the tests of science and of practical use triumphantly, and now are taking precedence over all others. They are justly entitled to the reputation they have acquired, for their strength, purity and delicacy of flavor.

BUCHANAN PRICES CURRENT. Cereals, Hay, Potatoes, etc. (See advertisement for details.)

THE RECEPTION.—The reception of the Senior Class, at the residence of W. W. Wells last evening, was one of the most pleasant occasions of the season. The capacious rooms were crowded to overflowing with invited guests congregated to offer congratulations to those who have completed the first step of the initiatory part of the journey of life. The band furnished a selection of good music, and the host and hostess an abundance of refreshments, and all passed off as merry as a marriage bell.

THE entertainment by the Buchanan Dramatic Association, Saturday evening was a grand success. Each member performed his part well, and they were rewarded by a crowded house. The scenery painted for the occasion was well adapted to the play. The company will repeat the "Vagabond" Saturday evening for the benefit of the band, giving them the entire proceeds. Turn out, one and all, and help the band.

ABOUT one hundred or more of the friends of George H. Roush called upon him in rather an unexpected manner last Friday giving him a pleasant surprise. He, however, was equal to the emergency and had a table full of good things of this world for the entertainment of his guests, none of whom could say he was not well treated and would be glad to be so treated every day.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last, Mrs. N. Barber went out of the house leaving her little boy of eighteen months in the room alone. When she returned she found the child lying on his face and his clothes nearly burned off. Upon examination the right side was found to be badly burned from the hip to the shoulder, and nearly to a crisp under the arm. Dr. Roe was called and all that was possible was done, but the child died of his injuries Tuesday morning. This should be a warning to mothers of small children not to leave them alone near the fire.

The Sunday's issue of the Detroit Free Press is undoubtedly the largest paper ever issued in this state. A PARCEL of young boys in this place, about ten or twelve years of age, some of them colored, are trying to learn to smoke. They by some means or other procure cigarettes and matches and retire to some alley, out of sight, to burn them. The Marshal will receive many thanks if he will look them up or wring their ears for them when he finds them at this sort of sport. Before long some body's building will be burned by their carelessness, and no one will know how it is done.

THE Niles Democrat gives its correspondent, W. H. B. of Three Oaks, some sound advice about conducting the campaign. W. H. B. was a candidate in 1876 on the Democratic ticket and also on the greenback ticket and was defeated. It was, with him, Good Lord, Good Devil, a greenbacker one minute, a straight forward Democrat the next, anything to beat Van Ripper. He evidently contemplates attempting the same again this campaign.

THE celebration on Decoration Day this year was more largely attended than ever before. The streets were crowded with teams and people, the number being variously estimated at from 3,000 to 7,000. The Niles' Rifles, firemen, schools and other associations took part in the ceremonies, and the principal of which was an able speech by Hon. J. C. Burrows, of Kalamazoo, Ex-Congressman from this district. This was followed by the recitation of a beautiful poem from Will M. Clayton, music by the Glee Club of this place, and the stirring of the soldiers' graves with flowers which was followed by a salute fired by the Niles' Rifles, when the body "fell in" and marched to the old cemetery and decorated the three soldiers' graves there and then marched to town. The day was cool enough to be pleasant, and all passed off agreeably.

ABOUT thirty-five delegates assembled at Berrien Springs on Monday to appoint delegates to the National convention at Grand Rapids and to the Congressional convention. The greenback side of the financial question was quite thoroughly discussed, but among the most interesting part of the transaction was the offering and passing of a resolution stating that they did not wish to be known as communists or in sympathy with them. Dr. Roe very seriously objected to the resolution, saying that they might as well resolve they were not horse-thieves and highway robbers, for their resolving that they were not such before they had been accused, would be taken as an indication that they were. The gaily flee when no man pursues.

THE Old Settlers' Picnic, at Berrien Springs, yesterday, called together probably the largest crowd ever assembled in the county. The number of people in attendance were estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000. Everything passed off pleasantly and the programme was fully carried out. The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year: President—Wm. Chamberlain. Vice-Pres.—N. Hamilton. Secretary—J. D. Nichols. Treasurer—John Tate. Executive Com.—Thos. Mars, Norman Nims, O. C. Spaulding, C. D. Nichols, A. Van Patten.

The bill to repeal the resumption act has at last passed the Senate, and waits the President's signature to become a law.—National. This is a little at variance with the actual state of things. The Senate has not passed the bill to repeal the resumption act, nor is it likely to do so. A bill has been passed, forbidding the retirement of the greenback currency, and authorizing its reissue to the amount now in circulation only, this currency to be interchangeable at par with gold and silver. There is a mutual understanding that there shall be no financial legislation, although no definite action has been taken to prohibit it. The Senate passed a bill to repeal the bankrupt law, which we mistrust the editor of the National, in his enthusiasm to sustain the course in which he enlisted, has mistaken for the resumption act, as we see nothing to be gained in willfully thus misrepresenting the acts of Congress.
