Republican State Ticket.

- For Governor—WILLIAM M. CROSWELL, of Lenawee. For Lieutenant-Governor—ALONZO SESSIONS, of Ionia. For Secretary of State—WILLIAM JENNY, of Macomb. For Treasurer—BENJAMIN D. PRITCHARD, of Allegan. For Auditor-General—WILLIAM M. CROSWELL, of Lenawee. For Commissioner of Land Office—JAMES M. NEASMITH, of Kalamazoo. For Attorney General—OTTO KIRCHNER, of Wayne. For Superintendent of Public Instruction—HENRY S. TARBELL, of Saginaw. For Member State Board of Education—GEORGE F. EDWARDS, of Berrien.

Ex-President Grant and wife are in Holland.

Sam Carey is advertised for two fourth of July speeches in this State, over a hundred miles apart.

Connolly and Sherry, two young murderers, were hung in Chicago last Friday. One was 20 and the other 23 years old.

The State of Virginia is said to have unworked lands enough to provide for half a million of men. The unemployed will please make a note.

The query now is, How will "Salvatus" Smith dispose of his National Bank Stock, as being a bank stock owner and candidate for Governor on the Greenback ticket is the height of inconsistency.

The Democratic fraud hunters at Washington are finding nothing they can use to any advantage or disadvantage to any one, other than to create a little fear that some of the lies told by the sworn witnesses be believed.

A full-grown panther has been seen near Mishawaka, Ind., and the bold hunters are on the alert for his capture. In the meantime little children are not allowed to play in the woods after dark.

The Chicago Times speaks of Judge Keightley, our present member of Congress, as follows: "Judge Keightley, Republican, was elected to Congress from the fourth district two years ago by about 2,800 majority, defeating Henry Chamberlain, the Democratic and Greenback nominee. He has given good satisfaction and is looked for re-nomination this fall."

P. S. Hurlbert, Superintendent of the Poor in Grand Rapids, is a representative Greenback official. He has been buying beans, flour, corn and other feed for his charges, and selling them to the county at about 25 per cent. above the regular market price, and placing the profit down in his pocket. He was detected on the Greenback ticket last April.

Detroit is getting pretty badly scared because "Mad of the Michigan" has come into Grand. He also organizes Central and Southern, and tries the considerable distance is that he is the shipment of through save, and the probability is it will be a way instead of passing through it, as heretofore.

From August 1865 to June 1878 there has been a reduction of the National debt of $722,794,120.79, with a reduction in yearly interest of $46,657,080.83. The man who can complain of this financial management is indeed hard to please, and evidently does not know just what he does want.

John C. Brown, a member of the Louisiana investigating commission, sent $327 to the Treasury to bear his expenses while on the commission, Congress having failed to provide for such payment. The President at once ordered the draft returned to Mr. Brown uncollected, saying that in case Congress still failed to make provision for their "nosy" committee the President would pay it from his own private funds. If he establishes such a precedent he will have all he can do to look after all of the political nosing committees appointed to investigate his title.

There is a general rupture working its way into the ranks of the Democratic party of this State. Many of its organs are doing their best to bring a fusion between that party and the Nationals, while the others are entirely adverse to the National principles (?) and are in favor of a straight Democratic ticket, with an honest money platform. In 1876 the party adopted the following financial plank by a strong vote against a repudiation plank similar to that of the "National" platform adopted by Grand Rapids:

"Leaving details to legislators, we re-assert that coin is the only money recognized by the traditions of the Democratic party as warranted under the Constitution."

The first convention held by the party this year was in Lenawee county, when they decided to follow in the lead of the Indiana Democracy under the leadership of Dan Voorhes. In Ingham county, last Saturday, they openly invited an alliance with the "Nationals." The Allegan Democrat has become quite in earnest over the prospect, and has the following to say:

"If the anti-resumptionists get control of the Lansing convention we advise them to ratify the action of the Grand Rapids convention, and leave the Sherman Democrats to vote the Republican hard money, forced resumption, bond favoring, national bank ticket, or bolt and put up one of their own. We hope to see them do the latter if they think we have a difference with the Republicans."

If the Sherman Democrats control the convention, we hope to see the true Democrats leave the convention

Leading Democrats are openly avowing their intention to vote the Republican ticket, unless their own party shall frame a better financial platform, which will be hard to do.

The European Peace Congress is working far different from what has been expected. The English are having it all their own way, and Russia is quietly backing down from every position taken. It has been agreed that the Russian armies shall be withdrawn from European Turkey and the Porte be allowed to fortify the Balkan Passes as it sees fit which will shut Russia out from that country at once and forever. The people at St. Petersburg are highly indignant at the necessity of such agreements on the part of their representatives in the Congress, but there is a formidable array of argument in favor of such action and it can not well be avoided.

Kansas Correspondence.

DELPHOS, OTTAWA Co., June 17, 1878. EDITOR RECORD, Dear Sir:—Having seen several articles from different parts of Kansas I thought a few lines from this pleasant valley might be of interest to many of our readers of the RECORD, especially if there are any that contemplate coming West.

The Solomon Valley, where I live, is said, by reliable men who have traveled all over the State, to be the best for farming purposes, and equally as good for stock raising. Both winter and spring wheat do well here, and I believe this one of the best corn countries in the west. This valley is about twelve miles wide in this part, and rolling enough to drain well. It is very healthy here.

Kansas has had her failures, but the present prospect does not look like one very soon again. Harvest commenced about two weeks ago, but the weather for the past week has not been very favorable for it, as it has rained most of the time.

There is a railroad in progress up the valley, a branch of the Kansas Pacific, commencing at Solomon City, running to Beloit, a distance of about seventy miles, and all real estate is raising in value very fast. Land is one-third higher than when I came, seven months ago.

The towns along the river are growing very fast; plenty of carpenter work and plenty of carpenters to do it. I like the country first rate, but would not advise any one to come here unless they have from fifteen hundred to two thousand dollars to invest, then I think they can do well. There is no government land near here, and I think the government land that lies west of here about one hundred miles is too near the plains. State and school lands have been taken within the last six months. The farmers, as a general thing, are not very anxious to sell, but one with money could perhaps strike a good bargain.

The Indian war in the lava bed country has begun. The first engagement between the troops and the Indians is reported to have proved a repulse to the Indians, who are pursuing their usual tactics of retreating from point to point, and eluding a battle, but taking every opportunity to plunder outlying settlements. Further news will be awaited with considerable anxiety; for, unless these Indians are brought to bay, and captured, the insurrection will be apt to spread and involve other tribes, and furnish Sitting Bull with an opportunity to restore his old campaigning territory.—Evening Telegraph.

The watch-dog of the Republican party is Omar D. Conger, a veritable Scotch terrier, whose bark means business every time. His distinguishing characteristics are a pair of limber jaws and a steel-pan coat, but in the gallery have nothing against him, as he is so very amusing and often relieves the monotony of a dull session.—Washington Dispatch to the Boston Globe.

California has passed a law forbidding physicians to advertise any specialty they may practice.

Items From Three Oaks.

Weather decidedly cool, wet, and breezy.

Overcoats, ice cream and strawberries are all the rage. Also picnics and socials.

The Basswood people had a Sabbath school picnic, at the lake near New Buffalo, on Saturday last. Their tables were peppered with sand from the sand hills. Rather windy and cold for a social.

The Methodist held a social at Mr. Ryerson's, on Friday evening last. Had a splendid time, as usual.

The people held an ice cream and strawberry social at the German church, on Thursday evening.

Mr. Edward Ingersoll lost a valuable horse one day last week.

Three residences in New Buffalo were burglarized on Thursday evening, last. One, Mr. George Weed, postmaster. I understand the burglars took pictures from the walls of Mr. Weed's house.

Dr. J. L. Nicks generously drove out to Levi Morrow's residence, brought him into the village to visit his friends. Levi has been for several years terribly afflicted with the rheumatism, and can get around only with canes. He says he has not had one good night's sleep in two years.

The lost two valuable horses last fall. They strayed away. The only team he had for farming. His father, Charles Morrow, is similarly afflicted with the rheumatism, and cannot get out of the house. Thomas Morrow, son of Charles and Brother to Levi, was taken to the insane asylum in Indiana last winter. His wife and little child visited him a few days since. He sat alone in the room with his head bowed down. She said, "Thomas, do you know me?" He raised his head and said, "Yes." Then bowed his head again and said no more. Paid no attention to them.

Mr. A. J. Bailey and Jasper Hopkins, carpenters, have gone to Hager township to work for N. R. Pike, putting up house and stables. Also, Theodore Thedorf as blacksmith, and Luther Smith, and several others to get out wood. Mr. Pike has commenced putting out a new pier. As our forest products disappear, so do our wood and timber dealers, taking others with them. Yet others take their places.

The county, in this vicinity, is improving very rapidly, and Three Oaks is a good place to live, and if any of the Buchanan people wish to give us a call on a social visit or to take up a residence among us, we will do all in our power to make it pleasant for them. Give us a call.

The Lake Shore country, in Chickaming and New Buffalo townships, is being rapidly brought to maturity. The people are going into the fruit business quite extensively, and this year are getting good crops and good prices. It is a favorable location for fruit, and they have good market facilities.

The red ribbon meeting, on Sabbath evening, was well attended. Mr. Sheldon, of New Troy, was expected to address the meeting, but did not appear. Several speakers were called on who spoke earnestly for the temperance cause. A committee was appointed to confer with a Good Templar's committee in regard to a temperance celebration on the 4th of July.

I do not know as that is any infringement of the Constitution. If he thinks it is not, let him reverse it next time, and he will see at once it is an infringement of the Constitution and personal liberty. Thus, "Hon. Zachariah Chandler addressed a large meeting of Greenbackers at "Old Levi Sparks is a very old customer." I might try and hunt up something against some National here or at Buchanan, or the editor. I don't choose to do so unless they commence on me, and I like to write for the RECORD because I like the paper, its editor and patrons, and because the editor wears black hair, and always gives the names of correspondents when asked.

Those who desire a decided contraction of the currency.

Those who would neither decidedly inflate or contract, but keep the volume of circulation as near the point of legitimate business demands as is possible in the nature of things, taking good care that there shall be no such enlargement of the paper issues as shall bring on another explosion and disaster.

The first of these classes abandon utterly the lessons of wisdom uttered by Mr. Chase, and, ignoring our recent fatal experience, propose to repeat it by issuing further irredeemable paper money and making no effort to return to specie payment.

At a meeting of the members of the bar of Berrien County, held at the village of Berrien Springs, on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1878, the Hon. Edward Bacon was called to the Chair, and on motion, Law C. Fyfe was made Secretary.

On motion, the Hon. N. A. Hamilton, James A. Kellogg, and William H. Breese, were appointed a Committee to draft resolutions on the death of Jerome B. Fitzgerald.

The Committee presented the resolutions. That the members of this bar have learned with deep sorrow of the death of one of their oldest associates, Jerome B. Fitzgerald, who has been smitten by death while yet apparently in the full possession of his mental and bodily powers, after having with ability filled high professional and legislative positions; and that the discharge of a public duty, as well as the promptings of our private feelings, lead us to attempt to give expression of our estimate of his character, capacity, and services.

travagance was stimulated, speculation was excited; and after a few years of wildness and insanity the bubble burst, and the disastrous defeat foretold by Mr. Chase came upon the country, and its consequences are now being suffered by all the people.

The Michigan Central.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Michigan Central Railroad is over and Mr. Vanderbilt victorious. The Vanderbilt combination polled 99,665 votes against 54,126 for the old board, and the directors of the road are now as follows: Wm. H. Vanderbilt, Augustus Schell, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Samuel F. Barger, Wm. K. Vanderbilt, Anson Stager, Ashley Pond, Wm. L. Scott, and Edwin D. Worcester.—Evening Telegraph.

Is [the Pittsburg platform] charged against the Republican party are voluminous and happily conceived, but they don't cover the entire ground. It doesn't charge the Republicans with having stolen Charles Ross, or accuse them of causing the defeat of the Turks in the recent war. It doesn't "unanimously" assert that the Republicans are responsible for the big fire in Chicago and the Chinese invasion of California; it forgets to declare that the Republican party, its measures and its men, are responsible for the grasshopper plague in the West and the potato bug in the East; for the wreck of the Metropolitan and the famine in China. We note many other important omissions.

What There is in an Egg.

Any one who eats three or four eggs at breakfast consumes that number of embryo chicks. All the materials which enter into the legs, bones, feathers, bills, etc., of the new born chick exist in the egg, and nothing is derived from outside. The little creature which has just picked his way out of his calcareous prison-house has lime and phosphorus in his bones, sulphur in his feathers, iron, potash, soda and manganese in his blood, all of which constituents come from the egg, and are taken into the stomach when it is eaten as food. The valuable or important salts are contained in the yolk, and hence this portion of the egg is the most useful in some forms of disease. A weakly person, in whom nerve force is deficient and the blood impoverished, may take the yolks of eggs with advantage. The iron and phosphorus compounds are in a condition to be readily assimilated, though homoeopathic in quantity, nevertheless exert a marked influence upon the system. The yolk of eggs, containing as they do, less albumen, are not so injuriously affected by the heat as the whites, and a hard-boiled egg may be eaten by invalids without inconvenience.

Weight of Live Cattle.

The live weight of cattle can be pretty accurately ascertained by the following method: Measure with a tape line from the top of the shoulder to the root of the tail for the length, then around the body immediately behind the forelegs for the girth. Then apply this rule: Suppose an ox is five feet in length and seven in girth, multiply the square of the girth in inches, by the length in inches, and divide the sum by 7,232; the quotient multiplied by 14 is the weight in pounds. If the animal should be perfect in form, an accurate result would be obtained; but when not thus perfect, as is generally the case, an estimate of the weight, if good judgment is used, will be secured near enough correct for all practical purposes.—Drigo Rural.

To Destroy Chicken Lice.

Last summer our hen house was so infested with this vermin that the sitting hens did not nest. One afternoon I noticed the martins carry to their box—which was on a pole above the henhouse—some green leaves. Watching them I found they were getting the leaves of the male persimmon. I gathered some of the leaves, threw them into the nests and on the hen house floor, and in less than an hour the house was free from vermin. To boil the leaves and sprinkle with the decoction will be as effective.—Southern Cultivator.

Premiums for Products.

The agricultural associations are now making out their premium lists, and can do a great service to themselves and to agriculture by making a new departure. We might suggest that they should abandon the frequent childish shows of giants and other monstrosities along with horse-raising and betting, and in place of them offer premiums for the largest product of leading crops from measured acres of ground, or for the best cultivated farm, the best kept barn, or the best collection. This would give a strong incentive to farmers, not only to supply attractive material for the furnishing of the fair, but would tend to greatly increase the interest in it and enlarge the attendance as well as to stimulate the spirit of improvement. Then the highest purpose of the fairs would be effected more fully and surely than now, the pecuniary profits of the associations be much enlarged, and good in every way might result.—N. Y. Times.

Dairies.

Cleanliness and ventilation are important requirements in a dairy, and cannot receive too much attention. Some of the largest and most profitable German dairies are constructed under ground, and are always kept at a temperature of about 55 degrees. The floors are made of heavy brick cemented, and small channels of perfectly pure water are conducted through the apartments. The air circulates through them, and the vapor from the milk passes off unobstructed. The smooth walls are white-washed, and nowhere can there be a trace of dust or even a semblance of dirt. The pans are placed low down on the floors, never on shelves, while the atmosphere within is free from a musty or any other disagreeable odor that might have the effect of impairing the sweetness and purity of the exposed milk and cream.—Exchange.

Road Carefully.

SAMUEL DENIGER, Sophiasburg, says: I was afflicted with Dyspepsia for nearly four years, my lungs becoming affected towards the last. I was finally cured by the Shoebones Remedy. After using three or four bottles I felt much better and gained strength rapidly, my health improved steadily and rapidly, and when I had taken three or four bottles more, I was quite restored to health and strength, and have experienced better health than for forty years before. I had been under the treatment of a number of physicians before, but never received any material aid until I used your remedy.

A. McKar, Truro, N. S. says: I was very bad with liver complaint, but used the Shoebones Remedy, and in a month was as well as he had ever been in his life. I am now in business and wish you to send me three dozen by steamer.

A. Wood, Coonocan, says: That he has tried the Remedy for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia with great success. I have also used the Shoebones Pills, and find that they are as good as any I ever tried.

HENRY KING, Geneva, N. Y., says: My wife was intensely afflicted with Dyspepsia for a long time, and she could not get any relief from the different remedies, and would not benefit. She has taken three bottles of the Great Shoebones Remedy, and is now hearty and well.

REV. JAMES SCOTT, says: Mr. McKenzie Botting suffered from an attack of Rheumatism, and was unable to move without help; but after taking a few bottles of the Shoebones, was able to walk as well as ever. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cents a box.
