Republican Judicial Convention.

A Republican Convention for the Second Judicial Circuit of the State of Michigan, will meet at the Pike House Parlor, in the City of Niles, on Tuesday, the 17th day of September, 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge for said Circuit, to be elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Henry H. Coolidge. The counties of Cass and Berrien, composing said circuit, are entitled to representation based on the gubernatorial election of 1876, as follows: Berrien, 15 delegates; Cass, 11 delegates.

Gold 100, yesterday.

The latest returns from the Maine elections state that the House, so far as heard from, stands 67 Republicans, 21 Democrats, and 58 Greenbackers.

The lyceum lecture business is not very brisk in the South during the rage of the yellow fever.

Chicago has raised about $40,000 for the relief of the yellow fever districts in the South.

Six of the nine representatives from this State to Congress are now candidates for re-election, and five of them are Republicans.

It is announced that Ex-Senator Chandler and Senator Christianity will address a series of meetings, in this State, on the financial question.

The "National" vote in Vermont amounted to less than four per cent. of the entire vote of the State, or in round numbers about 2,000.

Cornelius A. Gower, the Republican nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been appointed to that position, Vice Tarbell, resigning.

A New York Herald account of the yellow fever district, pronounces it one of the filthy, with back yards and alleys filled with decaying animal and vegetable matter, and nearly everything else calculated to breed disease.

The yearly wages of the English workmen are estimated at $1,500,000,000, of which $55,000,000 is squandered for drink. It is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that much of the property of the workmen in all England and in all countries is attributable to an uncontrollable passion for the flowing bowl.

An interested correspondent writes the Inter-Ocean to ask how it stands on the currency question, and in its reply, the only conclusion a reader may arrive at is that the paper does not know how it does stand. This has been about the opinion of many of its readers for some time.

THE BANKS TAXED.

In the Post & Tribune of Sept. 4 we find the following letter of inquiry from "A Subscriber" from Farmer's Creek, Mich.:

The Hon. R. E. Trowbridge, in his speech at Mason, speaking of the bank shares, says: "These gentlemen cannot go individually and take their bonds, they belong to the bank. The only thing the stockholder has is a certificate, and the Supreme Court has declared these certificates of shares to be taxable, and they are taxed."

If this is true, is not the contract upon the part of the Government that the bonds shall not be taxed a mere fraud, so far as banks are concerned? What is the difference between taxing a man upon the bonds in his possession or upon a certificate that they are somewhere else?

To which the editor makes the following reply:

This query involves a legal point, largely technical in its character, and therefore somewhat intricate for popular discussion, which we will endeavor to make lucid: The Government bonds cannot be taxed by States, counties, or municipalities. This was settled as early as 1829. The Supreme Court then held that the power of the Government to borrow money could not be taxed, and that to permit such taxation would be fatal to "freedom of existence." That decision has been frequently reaffirmed; but the holder of bonds is not compelled to engage in the banking business; if he does so at all, he does so voluntarily, and with the knowledge that certain taxes and other impositions are placed on the business he enters. If a person becomes a shareholder in a national bank, and thus becomes indirectly concerned in the ownership of bonds, he in effect enters into a contract under the Bank act, of which the gist is this: The shareholder says, if you will permit me to place in a national bank I will consent that my shares shall be taxed by the States, and the Government answers, on these conditions you may engage in the business. The United States Supreme Court says of this taxation: "It is but a condition annexed to the new use and new application of the burdens."

The State tax under this act of Congress involves no question as to the pledged faith of the Government. The tax is in the condition for the new rights and privileges conferred upon these associations.

The effect of this decision is this: If you do not wish to pay tax on your bond, keep it out of the banking business. If you go into the business, it is not of compulsion, you go in voluntarily, and before you go in you must agree to pay the tax. It is a matter of fair contract under the law. The Supreme Court has made several decisions covering all the points on this question. Those who are interested may find them in Wallace's Reports as follows:

Van Allen vs. Assessor, 3 Wallace, 573. People vs. Commissioner of Taxes, 4 Wallace, 274. National Bank vs. Commonwealth, 9 Wallace, 858.

Farquhar vs. Merchants National Bank, 19 Wallace, 490. Hepburn vs. School Directors, 28 Wallace, 480.

Bro. Haskell, the Evangelist, Defendant.

(From the Northwest Advocate, Aug. 2.) TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: We, the undersigned, pastors of churches upon which J. S. Haskell has recently labored, desire to warn the churches of the northwest of his character and work.

He may be easily known, as he styles himself "Bro. Haskell, the Evangelist, and Reformed Circus and Theatrical actor of thirty years experience." He claims to be a "regular accredited preacher of the M. E. church," which claim is entirely and positively false. He pretends himself by falsehood in every place where he labors. His manner is most offensive to an intelligent people. The result of his labors has been uniformly injurious, and in some cases quite disastrous. We lament his ever having come upon our charges. For further testimony, see our editorial in the California Christian Advocate of July 4, 1878. We are yours in Christ, J. B. Taylor, Belle Plain, Iowa. S. N. Howard, Montour, Iowa. S. B. Warner, Tama City, Iowa.

"Our people will be quite astonished at the above card, as they will recollect what an astonishing sensation "Bro. Haskell" created at New Carlisle and South Bend. He occupied Rev. Boyd's pulpit, night after night, many sinners were converted, organized an infant temperance club, which paraded the streets in full regalia with appropriate emblems and banners, and prevailed on a great many people to sign the temperance pledge. His labors at New Carlisle were attended with still greater success, and nearly turned the little burg up side down. Now this card publishes "Bro. Haskell" as a liar and impostor, and comes from the Methodist churches of Iowa. Can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit? Can an impure fountain send forth pure water? O, brethren! your card confounds our theological teaching."—Editor South Bend Herald.

BUCHANAN, Sept. 10, 1878. TO THE PUBLIC. A card in the North-Western Christian Advocate, of Aug. 28, signed J. B. Taylor, S. B. Warner, and S. N. Howard, containing unchristian and surely unministerial epithets, has, by hundreds of the Methodist brethren and sisters among whom Brother and Sister Haskell have so faithfully and earnestly labored, and hundreds of men and women who have espoused the cause of Christ through their instrumentality, been read with unfeigned sorrow and grief, including the large majority of all good people in the very towns where these men are stationed. With sorrow that our well beloved brother and sister are most vilely calumniated, and grief that men calling themselves ministers of the meek and lowly Savior should so far forget themselves as to descend to scurrilous and ungentlemanly language. God's word says: "He that calleth his brother a liar is in danger of hell fire. And the scriptures demand that if a brother is overtake in a fault, let him that is spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meekness, considering thyself lest thou also be tempted."

The facts are as follows: Brother and Sister Haskell, eight months since, labored in the town of Belle Plain, Iowa, in Joel B. Taylor's church, for a number of days, by the earnest invitation of Taylor. The church being entirely too small to hold the people, Bro. Haskell, at the request of almost the entire town, removed the meeting to the Opera House, and their last meeting was held there, and the Rev. Bro. Wolfe, P. E. of the District, and Joel B. Taylor opened and closed the meeting. The hall and stage were crowded to its utmost capacity. At the close of their meetings a number of ladies and gentlemen, including the venerable Rev. Father H. B. Hanson, accompanied Brother and Sister Haskell to the cars when they departed, and they have not been there since. The following letter from this honored minister was given to them:

BELLE PLAIN, Feb. 15, 1878. Our dear Brother Haskell has been laboring with us here as a true servant of Christ, and the result of his labors, as far as we are concerned, has been a blessed and joyful one. We bid them God speed, and very heartily commend their earnest work to all Christian people wherever they may go. REV. H. PILBEAM, one of the oldest ministers in the Upper Iowa Conference, M. E. Church. And the following from Tama, at the close of their labors there—and they have not been there since: Joel B. Taylor, Belle Plain, Iowa, S. N. Howard, Montour, Iowa, and S. B. Warner, Tama City, Iowa. Eld. Jas. Ferris, C. B. Churchill, Garret Morris, S. Dumbolt, Emma M. Griffin, James Hudson, Eld. John Bower, S. J. Mendell, R. Mead, and many others, if need be, of our best citizens.

Our Nominee for Congress. We are glad to see that Hon. J. C. Burrows has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Kalamazoo district in Michigan. Mr. Burrows served one term in Congress three or four years ago, and was an honor to the district. Few men have ever become so conspicuous in a single term as he, and if the Republicans in that district had behaved themselves he would have continued there, and would have been a leading member of the house. It was a shame when his re-nomination was defeated; and we hope that folly has been so fully realized that Republicans in that district will see to it that he is returned. We want just such men as Mr. Burrows in Congress at this time, to speak for the party and be heard. —Niles (Wis.) Press.

The Trade Dollar. WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Secretary Sherman has addressed a long and interesting letter to O. H. Booth, of Mansfield, Ohio, concerning the issue of the trade dollar and the present depreciation in its value. Upon the latter point Secretary Sherman says: "At no time and on no account have they ever been received or paid out by the Treasury, and it is cause of regret that so many of our people should have accepted them at their face value, thus enabling their owners to put them into circulation at considerable profit. Under date of July 25, 1878, the Director of the Mint published tables from which the value of coins can be ascertained. He does not advise any one to dispose of them at such rates. As early as August 24, 1878, the department informed an inquirer that the trade dollar had only bullion value, and this information has been repeated scores of times and published by the press throughout the country. To avoid the labor of preparing manuscript letters, the Director of the Mint embodied the information in a circular, adding thereto tables for the computation of such value. There was no new decision involved in the circular, though, possibly, its publication may have hastened the depreciation of the coins to their true value, an event which was inevitable and could not have been much longer delayed."

Cause for Rejoicing. Only four months more and then resumption of specie payments. The country will then have a sound, non-inflating currency of coin, national bank notes, and greenbacks, in nearly equal parts, and convertible at par, paper into coin or coin into paper, and all guaranteed by the National Government. No country can then claim to possess a superior monetary system to that of our own country.

Thomas Sherwood, of Kalamazoo, the Greenback candidate for Congress, addressed a small audience, mostly of hard money men, at this place on Tuesday evening. He commenced his address by hugging Dennis Keane, and by hitting him up as a second party, and by trying to persuade him of the errors that bondholders were the communists. He then began a tirade against national banks, charging them with being the means of hard times. At the close of his disjointed remarks he asked that every greenback man in the house rise and give three cheers for the cause. Seven men responded to the call, and the cheers nearly succeeded in waking up the larger portion of the audience who had been lulled to sleep by the gentle warblings of Tommy.—Hartford Day Springs.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 5.—The United States Court, this morning, issued an injunction in the suit of the Goodfellow Dental Vulcanite Company against the following dentists; J. W. Beistle, of Berrien Springs; M. D. Jewell, of Dowagiac; J. G. Mansfield, of Buchanan; T. A. Lowery, of Niles; G. Sites, of Sturgis; Wm. Jones, of Nashville; J. C. Taylor, of Carson City; J. M. Lindsay, of Saranac; E. H. Jackson, of Cato; E. C. Holbrook, of Meriden; J. A. Grisold, of Portland; C. B. Gardner, of Cedar Springs; J. C. Andrews, of Hastings; J. M. Bridgeman, of Grand Rapids; J. B. Hill, of Big Rapids. The suit is brought to recover damages for infringing patents.

Charles Bohan had two legs ground up in a threshing machine cylinder, near Marine City, in this State, Sept. 3d. He attempted to climb over the cylinder to stop the machine for repairs and slipped down the feed board feet first. He died the next day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Secretary Sherman late this afternoon issued an order to Treasurers Gillfillan and all Sub-Treasurers, directing them to exchange standard silver dollars for United States notes. In conversation with your correspondent this evening, Secretary Sherman said that he had previously fixed the 18th inst. as the day upon which to give effect, in order that the country may have due and timely notice of its effect. It was another step toward resumption of specie payments. "Under this order," said the Secretary, "the people can change United States notes for standard silver dollars, and with the latter they can pay custom duties or buy the four per cent bonds. I anticipate a further decline in the gold premium. It is only at one quarter of a cent to day, and there is no reason why that premium should not be rubbed out."

In reply to the question as to what he should do if more notes were presented than there was silver in the Treasury, the Secretary replied that he did not anticipate any such contingency. "I think I shall be able to supply all demands made upon the Treasury. Of course I expect that a great many silver dollars will be paid in for custom dues, and in exchange for 4 per cent bonds, but the amounts thus paid will naturally be paid out again. It must not be forgotten also, that all silver certificates that may be received by the Treasury enables it to use a corresponding amount of silver dollars, as the reception of such certificates by the government for dues will release silver dollars to a corresponding amount now held for their redemption. I am quite confident that the Treasury will be able to exchange silver dollars for all United States notes that may be presented, and I entertain no apprehensions upon that score."

The Secretary, referring to the reports heretofore circulated, that he contemplated issuing the minor gold coins before Jan. 1, 1879, disclaimed any such intention. He desired it to be understood, however, that he now has sufficient gold in the Treasury for resumption purposes, and that he will be ready to carry out the provisions of the resumption act on Jan. 1.

"Demoralization follows in the train of an inconvertible paper money. The whole community becomes exposed to a moral pestilence. Every individual becomes the victim of some imposition, and in self defense imposes upon some one else. The weak, the ignorant, the uninformed, the necessitous, are the sufferers; the crafty and the opulent are the gainers. The evil augments until the moral sense of the community, revolting at the frightful accumulation of fraud and misery, applies the radical remedy of total reform." [Vol. ii., page 60.]

"Gold and silver is the best currency for a republic. It suits the men of middle property and the working people best, and if I was going to establish a working man's party, it should be on the basis of hard money—a hard money party against a paper party." [Vol. ii., page 187.—Thirty years in the U. S. Senate, by Thomas H. Benton.]

Chas. Bowman, of Holtan, Muskegon county, went to the bottom of a well 40 feet deep to repair the wall, and to his dismay found, when he got to the bottom, a large crevice some 20 feet above. He started to climb the rope which had led him down, when the wall suddenly gave way, burying him 20 feet deep, but the stone fell below and around him in such a manner as to form a chamber about five feet high, where he stood for eight hours in a cramped position while the neighbors were getting him out, which they did unhurt. He had the use of one arm, and he occasionally took a chew of tobacco, and jerked the rope to let his friends know that he was alive.

Deaths.

Died, in Independence, Kansas, on the 25th day of August, 1878, Mr. ANDREW T. BEAR.

Mr. Bear, well known in this vicinity, was honored and loved by old and young, especially in the Church and Sabbath School, where he was for years a faithful laborer.

He was a most genial hearted man and his death casts a heavy gloom over the hearts of his many friends.

For more than three months he had been afflicted with softening of the brain, which resulted in insanity, hence his sad death.

His family have the sympathy of this community in their great bereavement.

We can but commend them to the Great Comforter, for we feel that our departed friend is safe in the arms of the loving Saviour whom he sought when in health of mind and body.

Funeral services will be held on Monday, Sept. 17, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the residence of Mrs. Bear.

Interment will be in the Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

By order of the bereaved friends.

"THE OBOURUS PINNY WOODS"

These woods caught our eyes as we were lazily glancing through The North and West Illustrated, and they caused us to long for a trip to the home of the "piny woods" Without much thought as to where we should stop, we took our start for the good city of Louisville, Ky., and covered an expedition, which we have found but one route that could give us what we were looking for, and found that to be the new Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis Line, that led through prairie and meadow, through hill and valley, along great lakes and streams, and finally to the depths of the pine forests Wisconsin, and on to St. Paul and Minneapolis.
