A NEW GINEVRA.

She was the only child, her name Ginevra

Alexandrina Blanche Clarissa Jones.

And in her 18th year became a bride,

Marrying an only son, Francesco Doris.

To whom her parents betrothed her, rather her father being well healed with prospects excellent.

Great was the joy; but at the nuptial feast,

The vintager down on the table smoking.

And all sat down, the bride herself was waiting.

Not was she to be found! Her father cried:

"This minute, or you won't get a bite!"

And filled his glass to all, but his hand shook.

A great deal more than usual.

And soon from guest to guest the panic spread.

'Twas but that instant she had left Francesco,

Laughing and looking back, and flying still.

Her ivory teeth imparted on his finger.

Where she had bitten him, in turn for pinching her.

Not that she was not to be found;

Not from that hour could anything be guessed.

But that she was not there!

Worried of his life, Francesco flew to St. Louis and was sun-struck;

The father lived, and long might you have seen him there.

thing.

Does Longevity Pay?

A Dayton, Ohio, correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes to this paper as follows:

The question as to the length of human life is recalled anew by the statement of the Superintendent of the Montgomery county infirmary.

Within a term of management extended in the fact that these aged people have no care of themselves, nothing on their minds to worry or annoy them; that meals and habits are regular, and with not a cause to induce surplus energy, the light of life flickers gradually down till almost imperceptible, and then dies out.

Whether such life as these days afford is desirable, is also questionable. It is "sans teeth, sans taste, sans everything." It is a mere gummy, a spark of life generally without intelligence wrapped up in a bag of bones.

Two of the cases above referred to are still to be seen at the infirmary.

One, Henry Croley, a man whose hundredth anniversary occurred the 8th of last month, is a native of Maryland, and his father and two elder brothers were in Washington's army. He has occasional flashes of remembrance and reason, but is a blear-eyed, reechy old man who will not keep his clothes upon him.

The other is a still more remarkable picture of wretchedness. It is a figure like a mummy, that was once a woman. The skin is brown and dirty, and brused blue in places, stretched so tight that the bones seem bursting through; matter, sightless

convulsions for eyes, a driveling mouth that will scarcely open wide enough for food, or to emit an inhuman grunt and long, coarse, unsightly hair, growing like rank weeds from unhealthy looking skin. This is the remains of one Mary Wambler.

For ten years "Old Mary" rambled about the town subsisting on charity, till the infirmary was established and she was the first to avail herself of its privileges. She was in 1837, and she was then 76 years old.

Still she hangs on to life in her 117th year.

She is blind, deaf and dumb, idiotic with age. When she attempts to walk she falls down, but life still clings to

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The public debt statement for September debited the wind out of the "Irredeemable" sail, though it will make no difference with their assertions that the debt is increasing. With their speakers and press the mere assertions of such men as Pomeroy, Cary, Kearney, & Co., are more entitled to credence than the official sworn statements of those in authority. The sworn statement for September shows a decrease in the debt for that month of $3,196,534. Does this look as if the debt was increasing? The statement further shows the following balances in the Treasury: Currency, $1,972,528; special fund for redemption of fractional currency, $10,000,000; special deposit of legal tender for redemption of certificates of deposit, $40,710,000; coin, $283,559,646; including coin certificates, $34,674,670. The outstanding legal-tenders are $386,631,016.

As a Nation Whither are we Drifting?

The kind of men the National and Democrats elect to Congress when they get a chance and "pull their issues" is shown by the following stump utterance of G. W. Ladd, just elected by the union of both parties in the Fourth Maine district. "You see two men walking along the street; one is a rich bondholder and the other a ragged tramp. The rich man enters the front door of the house, and the tramp goes in at the back door, demands food or clothing, and if it is not given to him he steals it. And I tell you that tramp is more entitled to honor than the rich man who sits in his luxurious parlor."—Boston Tribune.

Who is he that would give utterance to such language as above quoted?

Who is he that would respect an idle, thieving tramp more than a man of wealth, whether honest and industrious, making no distinction between such an one and the miserly hermit? But because of his wealth the rich man whose heart and purse were ever open to the cries and wants of the poor and suffering, who were worthy of respect and aid, he is despised, while upon the idle tramp honor is bestowed. Why is the rich man entitled to less honor than the tramp? Because he has not been satisfied to spend his days in idly loafing on the street corners? Because he has not spent his last dollar to see the clown each time he appeared in the village to make a fool of himself? Because he has not spent his last cent for drink? Because he has not been willing to spend his days and nights in the club room arguing the money question, leaving a care-worn wife at home to provide shelter, food and clothing for herself and family, he is not excepted? Because he has been willing and has even dared to put his shoulder to the wheel and face the cares of earth himself, leaving behind him, when life has closed, the honoring evidence that he has exerted here, and that the world has been made better for his having lived? Because by long years of labor and self-denial he has succeeded in amassing enough of this world's goods that he is independent years he is able to prevent his name from appearing on the black list? Because he has succeeded in not becoming a county charge? Because he is able from his estate to settle his own funeral charges? Because he is able to select and pay for his last long resting place, and not sleep in the Potter's Field or fill a pauper's grave? For all this is such an one to be despised, while the thieving tramp is honored and respected, and why? As no reason is given, the conclusion deducted from what is quoted above, is that he is honored because he is poor and has the cheek to beg and steal. Who are these great ones who also advocate the principle of taking from their brother man that which they lack and may need, dividing even among the idle and indolent of our land the wealth brought by long years of toil and industry? They are those who have been rejected as worthless ones in the Republican ranks, and those who have been unsuccessful in the Democratic party, who now propose to lead off and usher in a millennium to the poor and the oppressed. But has it not been proven to you that even these great philanthropists are "bloated bondholders" also? Would they not foreclose a mortgage on your little home as quickly as any one, and exact as high rate of interest at your hand? You have only to give them an opportunity for this, to be perfectly satisfied on the point. These long defeated ones, in their great ambition to rule, still cling to the hope of yet holding some office over the people; anything from Justice down to "Governor" will do, and they, in their nobleness and manly spirit, are willing to respect and honor the thieving tramp. Fellow citizens, ye who love our country and desire its future good and prosperity, ye who love virtue, good order, truth and faithful obedience to the laws of our honored country, are we to sit idly down and allow such men as these, who place a premium over idleness and crime; he who had the power would divide the wealth accumulated by long years of honest toil among those who could not appreciate or preserve only long enough to spend and squander the portion falling to their lot; those who would peddle bogus tickets through the country in order to gain ascendancy over us. Are we to fold our hands and allow men with such high principles of right and justice to bear rule over us? Young man, ye who have started in life with an ambitious desire of being a man, of carving your name high on the pinnacle of fame, which will in all coming time evince to the world that you once existed and lived for something noble and true, cease thy fond desire, for to be respected and honored now by him who bespeaks a better day for the world ye must be gone forth into the wide world as a common vagrant.

Fathers, ye who have arisen from poverty (which should never be despised or dishonored in any one who is industrious and true hearted) to wealth through long years of patient toil and self-denial, the shame and behind the scenes, ye who have grown old in converting the dark forest into fields of golden grain, pushing civilization and wealth on towards the golden shores of the mighty Pacific, by the reward of which ye have hoped to provide a comfortable home for your-

Enterprise.

We copy the following from The American Book seller: Few people can have failed to notice the great enterprise, if they have not observed the scrupulous care with which Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co. have published a class of books adapted to the highest culture of the people. It is only ten years since they commenced the work of publishing, and their list now numbers more than six hundred volumes. We are glad to make record, that brave and persistent following of high ideal has been successful. Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co. have given special attention to the publication of books for children and youth, rightly considering that in no department is there so great a literary excellence and purity of moral and religious reading, of so great importance. Yet the names of works by such authors as Austin Phelps, D. D., Francis Wayland, and Dr. Nehemiah Adams on their catalogue, will show that mature readers have not been neglected. Of their work projecting for the coming season, we have not room to speak in detail; it will suffice for the present to say that it is wide in range, including substantial and elegantly illustrated books, all in the line of the practical and useful, and fresh in character and treatment. Their two juvenile magazines, Wide Awake and Babyland, are warmly welcomed in every part of the English-speaking world. We address you, dear readers who desire to know more about these publications, to send to D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, for an illustrated catalogue.

Shall it be National or State Banks—Which?

The element which wants to pull down the national bank system clamors for the substitution of greenbacks for the bank notes. It needs no prophet to foretell that this is a delusion and a snare. Once do away with the national bank notes and the restrictions and safeguards which the national legislation has thrown around the banking system, and in an incredibly short time State banks and private banks would spring up all around and issue notes with such a lavish hand that the volume of currency would be swelled to an extent to satisfy the wildest inflationist. A national bank note passes current in any and every part of the Union, and for the reason that no dishonesty and bad management can affect its value. The bank which issues it may break, but the note is good, standing on the solid rock of the Government's pledge. People do not need to be very old to remember the inconvenience experienced before the national bank system was enacted. The Western wild-cat money cannot be forgotten, nor the fact that the notes of the banks of more than one State in the North were constantly quoted in the money articles of the East at a heavy discount. The new era of this kind of thing would be infinitely worse than the former.—New Republic.

Zachariah pretends to be really and truly alarmed for fear that some day some "communists" will seize somebody's property.

And yet, in face of his terror, he puts up a seventy-thousand dollar brick block. Guess you're "giving us traffic," Zach. Why didn't you put that money into foreign securities, and hide 'em?—Wyandotté Courier.

By the way, who is the better friend of the country and the poor—the one who puts up a seventy-thousand dollar building, and thus furnishes work and wages to the poor, or he who puts his fortune into suburban farms, and agitates for legislation to increase their value so that he can sell them at big prices in city lots and take mortgages on them per cent? The first is what Mr. Chandler does; the second is the policy of Mr. Moss W. Field.—Evening News.

They have the small pox in Jackson.

Dovragias has not had a bankrupt in twelve years.

Will Carleton has returned from his European trip.

Henry Ward Beecher is on exhibition at the fair in Paw Paw to-day.

The wreck of the barge Light Guard arrived at Port Huron Sept. 14. She was water-logged, had her stern knocked out, and had sunk below her decks. Her crew, with two women, were nearly 48 hours without food.

A young man named Wolf of St. Clair, while jumping off a hay-stack last week jumped on a pitchfork, the tines of which ran into his face, and his chin and came out between his eyes. At last accounts he was still living.

A Pontiac correspondent writes to the Free Press: "A man named Fred Anderson, who is intoxicated, entered the Central National Church at Pontiac, and while one of the members was deep in prayer, walked up to him, clasped his arms around him, and kissed him. For this amusement he was fined $10 by Justice Beach."

At Little Traverse on the 21st, a little snow fell, but the flurry was of short duration and melted as fast as it reached the ground. A slight frost was observed the next morning, but not enough to damage anything.

The St. Joseph county, Mich., Republican has found a curiosity more wonderful than anything he has ever exhibited. It is a tramp who, when offered work by W. Wilson, of Burr Oak, accepted the offer and is doing faithful service.

The following strange story is circulating around. Miss Alvir Sullivan, an elderly lady, of Poland, Ionia county, fell from the top to the bottom of the chamber stairs one night recently, while walking in her sleep, and the rather steep statement is added that the fall didn't wake her, and that she walked up stairs and back to bed again, where she was found painfully bruised all over.

Considerable excitement is being elicited in the northern part of the State by a little fracas in which Samuel Tilden is concerned. While a committee appointed for the purpose was examining his books, for evidence in the suit of the Government against Tilden, Samuel's servant slyly stepped into the room, grabbed up the books and took them away, a confederate holding the door while he was making good his escape with the books. They are still in the hands of Samuel.

Educate the Nose.

"To the 'unlearned' nose all odors are alike, but when educated, no member of the body is more sensitive." The nose is the gate to the lungs, and when well tutored it often proves a life preserver. Educate the nose, and the most sensitive will find that, Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes, are the gems of all odors.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY.

National finance is without doubt the most important problem of the times, and the second edition of Mr. Fawcett's HAND-BOOK OF FINANCE, just published by S. C. Griggs & Co., Chicago, appears most opportunely. This volume, in the history of paper money, from its very beginning down to its sovereign supremacy in civilized countries and particularly in the United States; it treats of suspensions of specie payments, and applies a complete and lucid digest of the monetary laws of the United States. The book presents over 50 tables and diagrams, showing precisely the facts to which reference is most frequently necessary, including very many things which one needs to know, whether he has to do with financial questions or not.

Every citizen should inform himself on this subject as thoroughly as possible, and the following extracts from leading papers about Fawcett's HAND-BOOK OF FINANCE, show how important an aid it will be to any one.

"This volume should be read by all who take an interest in financial matters."—London Commercial Gazette, (England).

"Of inestimable importance in the study of finance."—Courier-Journal, Louisville.

"There is no species of exact information bearing upon the financial question which cannot be quickly found therein."—Utica Morning Herald.

"Mr. Fawcett's statistics are of such value that we do not see how any one pretends to discuss finance generally can afford to be without them."—Mining World, London.

"We recommend all who desire to master the subject of finance, by the argument of logic and the logic of facts, carefully to read 'Fawcett's Hand-Book of Finance'."—As a full and very complete collection of financial statistics, it has never been equalled or even approached. It is a storehouse of facts."—Philadelphia Press.

"It cannot fail to be of great use to students, writers and legislators, as also to bankers and merchants, who desire to inform themselves of the influences which surround and consequently affect, favorably if understood and availed of, or unfavorably if disregarded, all their financial and commercial operations."—Accepting Mr. Fawcett's estimate of the steady increase of consumption of gold in the arts, the adoption of the double standard—gold and silver—as the basis of the monetary system, not only of the United States, but of all countries, will soon become an absolute necessity. Either this, or the enlargement of the volume of paper money."—Fawcett's Hand-Book of Finance.

The Children of Israel.

According to the latest statistics that have been gathered, there are, in round numbers, 8,000,000 of Jews in the world, who are thus divided: United States, 73,265; Great Britain and Ireland, 42,000; Italy, 25,000; France, 45,439; German empire, 619,138; Netherlands (Holland), 65,005; Austria, 1,600,000; Russia, 1,600,000; Prussia, 2,612,179; Turkey, 150,000; Roumania, 247,424; Morocco, 840,000; Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland and Canada have comparatively few Jews—they number there from 1,500 to 7,000—while Asia has 2,138,000. Most persons will be surprised at the statement that there are less than 73,000 Jews in the country, which is generally supposed to contain a great many more. Some reports make the number as high as 150,000; but this is probably an exaggeration. The statistics given here are said to be as trustworthy as can be had at present, though no published figures can be wholly depended on, as the Jews are scattered all over the globe, and in many places where such a thing as a census has never been taken. The Jewish population of the world is loosely reckoned at from 3,500,000 to 15,000,000—a very broad margin surely—but there is reason to believe that 8,000,000 is pretty near the truth. The two countries where Jews are scarcest are Spain and Scotland.

The Children of Israel.

According to the latest statistics that have been gathered, there are, in round numbers, 8,000,000 of Jews in the world, who are thus divided: United States, 73,265; Great Britain and Ireland, 42,000; Italy, 25,000; France, 45,439; German empire, 619,138; Netherlands (Holland), 65,005; Austria, 1,600,000; Russia, 1,600,000; Prussia, 2,612,179; Turkey, 150,000; Roumania, 247,424; Morocco, 840,000; Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland and Canada have comparatively few Jews—they number there from 1,500 to 7,000—while Asia has 2,138,000. Most persons will be surprised at the statement that there are less than 73,000 Jews in the country, which is generally supposed to contain a great many more. Some reports make the number as high as 150,000; but this is probably an exaggeration. The statistics given here are said to be as trustworthy as can be had at present, though no published figures can be wholly depended on, as the Jews are scattered all over the globe, and in many places where such a thing as a census has never been taken. The Jewish population of the world is loosely reckoned at from 3,500,000 to 15,000,000—a very broad margin surely—but there is reason to believe that 8,000,000 is pretty near the truth. The two countries where Jews are scarcest are Spain and Scotland.

RALLY! RALLY!

HON. JAS. G. BLAINE

HON. J. A. GARFIELD

HON. J. C. BURROWS

Will address a grand mass meeting of the people of Berrien County, at Niles, Friday, October 11th.

Let there be a large attendance from every portion of the County. Greenbackers especially invited.

REMEMBER that on Thursday evening next Hon. J. C. Burrows, the next member of Congress from this District, will speak for honest money, at Routh's Hall. Let everybody attend.

THE meanest thing Hon. Zach. Chandler has ever been guilty of was the control of the Irredeemable Convention of this county. There is no doubt of this, for the Niles Mirror says "the contaminating influence of Chandler was there."

COOK'S Mirror says the Republican party are sure to carry this county since the failure of the Democratic trap to catch the Greenback support. The Republicans have been confident of success anyway, whether the opposition doubled teams or not. They are right, and right is sure to prevail.

THE members of the Buchanan Cornet Band desire to return their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell for the kind reception and welcome refreshments given the Band at their residence, in Weesaw township, last Friday. The boys, all report a good time.

HON. J. C. BURROWS, the Republican nominee for Congress, made a good speech to an enthusiastic audience in New Troy, Friday afternoon last. The Buchanan Cornet Band was present, and entertained the meeting with their music.

ALL turn out on Friday, Oct. 11, to hear Senator James G. Blaine, Gen. James A. Garfield and Hon. J. C. Burrows, who will speak in Niles on that day. This is an opportunity not often presented to the people of this vicinity, and one they will not be slow to avail themselves of. Conveyance will be furnished those who wish to go, and have no teams of their own.

A CURIOSITY.—Mrs. Wm. Legar brought to this office, yesterday morning, a twig from a harvest apple tree bearing blossoms. There was also on the same twig three apples of sea-son and growth and about half-grown. Mrs. Legar informed us there was another cluster of apples on the tree, and that a half bushel of ripe fruit had been gathered from the tree about harvest time.

CHINA FARE TO CHICAGO.—The Michigan Central Company will sell tickets to Chicago, at excursion rates, on Thursday, Oct. 3d, good to return Oct. 5th; Tuesday, Oct. 5th, good to return Oct. 10th; and on Thursday, Oct. 10th, good to return Oct. 12th. The fare will be $1.00 from this place, Dayton, $1.50, Galien, $1.70, Three Oaks, $1.80, tickets good for round trip, and good only on the Kalamazoo accommodation train, which will run on its regular time. There is not likely to be another opportunity to go to Chicago so cheap, soon.

A PETITION has been sent to Gov. Williams, of Ind., asking for the pardon of Billy Campbell, who is serving sentence of six years in penitentiary for shooting George Rockstroff, in South Bend, last winter. The Governor refused to grant the pardon because the South Bend people have been criticizing his abuse of the pardoning privilege. A sensible Governor they have in the Hoosier State.

ACCIDENT.—Last Friday evening Mr. Fausler was driving home from New Troy, where he had been with a load of goods, his wagon broke down throwing him to the ground. His over-coat caught in one of the wheels and pulled him under it, and considerably bruising him about the side and shoulder. The wheel ran over one of his hands and badly bruised it. No bones were broken, but he carries a sore hand yet.

THE appearance of the Niles Mirror last evening struck consternation in the Irredeemable camp of this place. It was amusing to Republicans to see the small squads of Irredeemables on the streets discussing the editorial headed "The Cloven Foot," and E. V. Clark's communication headed "Repudiated! Sold Out! Gobbed!" and signed "A Greenback Democrat."

"D—d old imbecile," "old fool," and many more such sweet names were freely used in connection with Bro. Cook's name. A little truth hurts them.

THE assessed value of Berrien County is $16,025,000, on which they are to pay $23,488.16 taxes, which is divided as follows: New capital, $1,462.60; university, $1,860.85; normal school, 440.05; agricultural college, $301.09; State public school, at Coldwater, $1,282; State reform school, $674.07; house of correction, $1,780.55; asylum for insane, $724.94; institution for deaf, dumb and blind, $1,144.64; military purposes, $808.74; fish commission, $178.06; general purposes, $11,446.43; total tax, $21,804.02; county indebtedness to State is $1,185,267.61.

At Niles, on Sunday last, a man walked up the aisle of the Presbyterian church, knelt at the feet of the preacher and told him he wanted to preach for him. When asked for his ministerial credentials, he showed a railroad pass. Although all ministers are supposed to have railroad passes all people having passes are not necessarily ministers—and they cast him out.—Evening News.

Two young men and two young ladies left this place, last Saturday, for parts distant, the cause of their trouble being family troubles. For respect for others connected with the parties, and from the fact that we learn the youngsters have since been married, all names are withheld. There are others who are not quite so young who may walk the benefits of this case as a matter of warning.

THE Greenbackers have struck the key note by nominating the Duke of Three Oaks for Circuit Judge. They should be required a man who knew something of law. It would hardly be expected that a farmer should be chosen as a judge of medical matters, or a blacksmith of jewelry, and why should a merchant be any more a judge of law without having some previous knowledge of it?

THE Niles Mirror, in its last issue, advises the Democrats and Republicans who favor "the greatest good to the greatest number," to "abandon the 'raid,'" meaning the Irredeemable party. "The greatest good to the greatest number is just what the Republican party has always contended for, and it has always held up the Irredeemable party to be the 'fraud' 'Buck,' in a same moment, character 'out from among them' every day, and joining the Republican party, as the result of the election will show.

THE statutes of this State require circuit court commissioners to be members of the bar, and declare all votes cast for one who is not such a member as void. The Greenback candidate for that office, Mr. Crestus Rouse, has not yet been admitted, although he is now at Ann Arbor hard at work, and expects soon to be able to pass the required examination, but, as we understand law, it does not generally make allowance for expectation.

THE St. Joseph Republican, a Democratic sheet that flopped in 1876, thinks the Greenbackers acted not wisely when they refused to swallow last. The Buchanan Cornet Band was present, and entertained the meeting with their music.

ON Sunday morning a western bound freight train came thundering into Niles at the rate of 20 to 30 miles an hour, the engine from some cause or other being out of the engineer's control. He signaled the switchman at the depot to let him go straight through, and that faithful servant (P. K. Sampson in his name) started to obey, but, seeing an eastward bound train on the bridge, threw open the switch and dived the runaway train, thus preventing a collision on the bridge, eighty feet above the St. Joseph river. His nerve saved a horrible disaster, but it made kindling wood and scrap iron of much of the runaway train. Wm. Reynolds, the engineer, was not hurt, nor was anyone else except George Mitchell, brakeman, slightly wounded. A track has been laid around the wreck and traffic was not greatly impeded.—Detroit Evening News.

SATURDAY last was the forty-eighth birthday of Mrs. J. M. Geyer, and John, owing her a grudge for past offenses, determined to get even with her by celebrating the occasion with a surprise party for her benefit. To carry out the scheme unbeknown to her was somewhat of a problem, particularly the "provender" part. This he solved by having it provided by one of our bakers. He then quietly invited "a few" of his friends and neighbors to "call over" about seven o'clock. Towards sunset, of Saturday, ten dozen oranges from Indiana were seen driving through town, headed for over the river. This was the advance guard. From dark till nine o'clock a constant stream of carriages were halting and unloading at the Geyer homestead, till it seemed as if all creation had broken loose and were trying to get shelter under John's hospitable roof. Mrs. Geyer was indeed surprised, yet she was not so frustrated as to be unable to make her guests feel at home and to superintend the tables, which she did to perfection. Over 150 persons sat down to the tables and partook of a most bountiful repast. Everybody was pleased and happy, and voted this one of the most enjoyable occasions of a life time. Mrs. Geyer was the recipient of many choice presents and innumerable good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Geyer have accumulated a competence, owning one of the finest and best stocked farms in the famous "bend of the river."

Long may they live to enjoy it, is the wish of MANY FRIENDS.

[Berrien Springs Journal.] Clarence Napier, son of Capt. Joseph Napier, of St. Joseph, was stabbed in a melee one night last week. An infant daughter of W. J. Jones, Esq. died Thursday morning.

If reason and logic were of any value with the inflationists, they might find in facts of daily occurrence complete answers to their absurd propositions. You cannot speak to one of them two minutes before he will refer you to the time when the government paper was worth about 30 cents on the dollar as the most prosperous period in the business of the country, and he will assume that this character of the paper was directly the cause of the prosperity. The Turkish paper money reached the level last week. Since then it has dropped seven per cent. lower, yet the most terrible commercial distress reigns throughout the empire, and no one there has any doubt but the depreciation of the government paper is the prime cause of it.—Evening News.

LOCALS.

Extra Liability to Malarial Infection. Persons whose blood is thin, digestion weak and liver sluggish, are extra liable to the attacks of malarial disease. The most trifling exposure may, under such conditions, induce a fever, which, if healthy would resist the miasmatic taint. The only way to secure immunity from malarial in localities where it is prevalent, is to tone and regulate the system by improving weakened digestion, enriching the blood, and giving a wholesome impetus to biliary secretion. These results are accomplished by nothing so effectively as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which long experience has proved to be the most reliable safeguard against fever and ague and kindred disorders, as well as the best remedy for them. The Bitters are, moreover, an excellent invigorant of the organs of urination, and an active depurant, eliminating from the blood those acid impurities which originate rheumatic ailments.
