General Grant has decided to visit Australia before returning to this country, and will consequently postpone his return several months.

The bill authorizing the exchange of legal tender silver dollars has stopped in the Senate finance committee, and will be held by them until next winter.

A boating race was had at New London, Connecticut, last Friday, between Harvard and Yale Universities, in which Harvard won a four mile heat by one minute and forty-three seconds.

Age shakers can now rejoice. Congress, at the last moment of the extra session, passed a bill to remove the duty from quinine, and the bill was signed by the President. It takes effect immediately.

The law reducing the test of kerosene oil went into effect Tuesday. It is not expected that we shall have to pay quite so much for this useful article hereafter.

The Ohio and Wisconsin Legislatures have each passed stringent tramp laws that will have a tendency to drive not only professional tramps, but many respectable poor out of those States to where the laws are less severe.

The public debt statement for June shows an increase of $24,788, which is accounted for by the amount paid in consequence of the arrears pension bill. The debt was decreased since June 30, 1878, $8,307,575.

During the last month there was coined in gold, $10,938,012, and of silver, $27,327,432. Of these $18,859,942 were issued, and $9,518,812 have returned to the Treasury. The treasury now holds $28,147,551 of the standard silver dollars.

The Lansing Republican has commenced publishing a complete digest of all Supreme Court decisions as fast as they are made. This will make this already valuable sheet still more valuable, especially to attorneys.

It is just proven himself the fastest long distance walker in the world, in bringing to America the champion belt for walking. This gives to America the fastest foot-warrior, the fastest running horse, and the fastest walker, and for which he had already received his year.

The last number of the Scientific American contains a graphic illustration and description of one of those destructive whirlwind storms that recently occurred in Kansas. The same storm varied from a few feet to over a half mile in width in a short space of time.

Among the last acts of our Democratic Congress was to vote an extra month's pay to their Congressional clerks who are receiving $2,000 to $3,000 per year, with nothing to do except while Congress is in session, and to vote $1,250 to H. H. Fitzgerald, the man who was "bigger" Ole Grant," for services while door keeper of the 44th Congress, and for which he had already received his salary.

All but three of the Bohemian sharpshooters that were arrested in Chicago last week, have been released by the Judge. One of the victims of the shooting is in an uncertain condition and the extent of their crime depends upon the life or death of this man. The discharge of these men looks very much, to an inexperienced eye, like an approval of wholesale shooting on any who may consider themselves aggrieved.

That portion of the Greenback party of Ohio that was in favor of coalition with the Democrats, and bolted the convention at Columbus, held a "Mass" convention in Toledo, June 24, in which but a small portion of the State was represented. It adopted a new platform, but little different from the one at Columbus, but made no nominations, leaving the delegates at liberty to vote for Ewing if they wished. Strange as it may seem this pleases some of the party in this State who do not favor coalition, since the experience had with that sort of maneuver last fall.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the formation of the Republican party at Jackson, Mich., will fall on next Sunday, July 6, 1854, it was organized under the leadership of Kinsley S. Bingham, who bolted from the Democracy on slavery questions, Jacob M. Howard, Zachariah Chandler and Chas. M. Crosswell, old-line whigs, and F. P. Christiancy, Hovey K. Cleaveland and F. C. Beaman, free-soilers. It was then that the first Republican State ticket, and one that swept the State with a good majority, was nominated, and the party formed then has held the supremacy in the State ever since.

Congress, after a stormy session of four months, adjourned Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and no more will be heard of it until next December. The Southern Democrats boast considerable of their accomplishments during the extra session. They say they have gained all that the South has asked for, namely:

- 1. Limiting the power of the President to use the military at the polls.
2. The repeal of the test- oath.
3. Changing the method of drawing jurors in United States courts.
4. Nullification of the law authorizing the appointment of deputy marshals at elections.
5. Creation of the Mississippi River Commission, which is the beginning of a grand scheme of improvement of that river.
6. Removal of the duty on quinine.
7. Appointment of a yellow fever commission.
These seven points include all of importance that has been done during the session.

THE MAINE REPUBLICANS.

The Republican State Convention in Maine was held at Bangor last Thursday. Hon. D. F. Davis, of Corinth was unanimously nominated for Governor on the third ballot. The platform, so far as refers to national affairs, is given below:

"The Republican party of Maine presents to the people of the State the following statement of its aims and principles: It believes that this country is a nation, and not a confederacy of States, and that the national government is supreme over all other powers within its jurisdiction. It recognizes as one of these subjects the right and duty of the national government to protect the citizen in the exercise of all his constitutional rights, and no one of which are more important than a free, fair ballot, uninfluenced by fraud or violence. It believes that the existing laws for the protection of American citizens are not adequate, and it condemns as revolutionary the attempts of the Democratic party in Congress to force the executive to consent to such repeal, by threats of refusal to sign any bill necessary to the existence of the government. It appreciates the noble and patriotic position taken by President Hayes and the Republican members of both houses of Congress in their wise and just laws against the treasonable and revolutionary course of the Democratic party in Congress, and it hereby pledges them a hearty support in their efforts to restore the full credit of the government and to insist upon free elections and the right of the United States to enforce its own laws. It believes that the opening by Democratic leaders of exciting and sectional issues which have been settled by the victory of the national arms over the rebellion, and calls upon loyal citizens to stand by their votes, the fruits of that victory. It believes now, as always, in good honest money for the people, and it opposes an irredeemable paper currency as the worse course that can be inflicted upon a nation. It rejoices that the government promises to pay are now kept, and that the paper currency of the country is redeemed in gold and silver, so that now the dollar of the late war is as good as the dollar of the capitalist. It condemns all schemes to tamper with the currency of the people and thereby again unsettle public confidence, now so happily restored. One of the remaining sections favors prohibition. The convention was very well attended, there being 1,145 votes cast.

STATE ITEMS.

Litchfield now falls into line with a $5000 saloon tax. Detroit Evening News excursion to Vermont starts next Monday. The Saginaw barrel works will ship 300 washboards to Scotland this week. The president of Adrian college has resigned. A woman in Ithaca, Gratiot county, got a divorce from her husband June 19, and in the evening of the same day married another man. E. E. Wheaton, of Galesburg, was bitten by a massauga a few days ago, and is in a critical condition. An Arlington, Van Buren county, man hid $1,000 in his wheat bin recently, but the next morning when he went to look for it there was a hole in the bin where the money had been. It cost a Lansing man $20 and costs of prosecution for tearing down the sign of one of the merchants of that place, that had been nailed up along the highway near that place. Meddling with such things is dangerous business, sometimes. Thursday, during the performance given by Forepaugh's circus at Hastings, one of the Davenport Bros, in making a somersault over seven elephants, failed to alight right, and broke one of his legs. Information has been sent Mrs. Rhoda Walfrum, of Sevastopol, Eaton county, that she is heir to $75,000 in England. Mrs. W. is aged 72 years, and it comes rather late to benefit her much. She has lately received a pension, her husband having been a soldier in the war of 1812. Sojourner Truth is not in good health, and thinks she will "exodus" from Battle Creek to Chicago. At her time of life (104 years of age) persons need change, and she says she must budge along—Nash. On Monday last O. Whitlock, of Greenbush, turned up with the plow on a piece of low land upon his farm, a portion of an inch of a moose, which measured 17 1/2 inches in circumference at the neck where projected from the animal's head. When the horn was shed its length must have been at least six feet. It had probably lain in the marshy soil from which the plow unearthed it for a hundred or more years.—Clinton Republican. A few evenings ago a boy in Venice, named Willie Stewart, while shooting at a dog with a revolver, shot through the bedroom window of F. G. Bailey's house, the ball lodging in the ceiling. Fortunately, no one was injured, but Mrs. B. had just passed out of the room when the boy fired. Boys ought to learn a lesson from this accident.—Vernon Herald. On Wednesday Dr. Sutherland removed a false tongue from a Strathmore colt 12 days old, the property of Chas. Hess. It was about the size of the real tongue, and interfered with the colt taking sustenance, so that its removal was a matter of necessity. The colt is now doing nicely.—Saginaw Courier. Somebody evidently has been troubled with his conscience. Some 14 Jay Gould is going to start a gigantic newspaper here at Portland. He now owns the New York Tribune, and wishes to have another just like it at the western terminus of the continent. Very large immigration is constantly arriving here, induced by the flattering reports from here by the Oregon pamphlets. Many capitalists come here, take a long, strong look and return home satisfied. Every effort possible is being made by the carrying corporations and land speculators to get immigration here. The great Temperance Apostle, Murphy, is in San Francisco. Tremendous crowds go to see him. JOHN L. SMITH.

RACING. There was an exciting foot-race between Charley Russell and Joe Thompson, Saturday evening. They ran on Second street, one hundred yards east from the cross-walk next to the wagon factory. Duchanan follows Secretary Sherman's example and has gone into the refunding business, and takes up her 10 per cent. bonds and replaces them with eight. Buchanan is or used to be a Greenback stronghold. Why don't they kick on this sort of business? It is exactly the policy they have contemned in the government.—Doroegia Revolution.

Not so much of a stronghold as it was. It was about a year ago that the scales fell and we saw.

The railroad commissioner of the State reports twenty accidents in the State during the month of March, of which five were fatal. Two of the accidents occurred on the Michigan Central in this county. W. W. O'BRIEN, the famous criminal lawyer of Chicago, who assisted in the trial of the Lilly murder case, in this county, last fall, had an Irish woman arrested for threatening to shoot him, and while she was in their hands, struck her a blow with his fist in the presence of the two officers. The Chicago people are wondering whether they have any officers who dare to arrest him.

THIS "Berrien County Directory," the Mirror Office was going to publish, has made its appearance. It was compiled by John Lardner and Geo. W. Ryan, of Niles. So far as the printing and make up is concerned the job is a very commendable one, but we must confess we never saw a book of that kind with more errors than has this one. In looking over the directory for Buchanan we find 66 errors, the list covering 11 pages, and a greater number of these are most ludicrous and needless. Besides this there are about two-thirds of the names appearing that should be comprised a directory. We learn that the boys lose money by the enterprise, but that is not the least excuse for slighting the job. In 1878 it took over 300 pages to contain a directory of this county, and it is only on 101. As a directory it is utterly worthless.

Cattle dealers are doing a heavy business. The cattle will average about 200 pounds each, and beat like other calves.

Mrs. Levey and her daughter Retty will soon go to Northern Michigan and then to Ohio to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Tonz will return this week to their home in Des Moines, Iowa.

I wonder if some parents don't think that they found their children too often. Remember the adults are not all perfect.

In my last I suggested to those disconsolate and moody to come to Three Oaks, get some one to show them around, and then they would go home happy. Since that several have come and got gloriously drunk. We have had several tramps, several patens, right men, several beggars, (professionals, of course), quite a number of book agents, and lightning rod peddlers. I wish to say that is not the class we want to show around.

Almond Cake.—Pound in a white mortar until very fine one ounce of bitter almonds; take out and put in a bowl, pouring over them four tablespoonful of boiling water, and let them simmer three or four minutes. To the yolks of three eggs, well beaten, and slowly, one pound of sand sugar and beat light, then, after wiping the almonds dry, add them. Beat until very stiff the white of the eggs, and add the yolks and sugar mixture to the cream; stir well but very lightly. Bake in a moderate oven.

Cream Toast.—Take two quarts of milk, put a part of it in a spider and set on the stove to warm. Toast eight or ten slices of bread, dip them in the warm milk to soften them, then in the toast dish; put the remainder of the milk in the spider and thicken to the consistency of cream by stirring smoothly into it a spoonful or two of flour mixed in a little road milk. Remove from the fire as it boils; add salt and a trifle of butter. Put the slices of bread back into the milk and it is ready to serve. This toast is much improved if a little sugar be added, and enough for the cream to rise by skinning off the cream and adding it. If the directions are not followed implicitly, the flour will not be spoiled.

Lightning Cake.—Persons who just "dry up" are a nuisance in the house. Many housewives, who, nevertheless, will be glad to learn of a cake, of which the making and baking, occupies only fifteen minutes, and which, therefore, will serve to extend the time of their stay, and which, when unexpected guests appear. Take the yolks of four eggs, three tablespoonful of sugar, the same of flour, about two tablespoonful of milk and the juice of one lemon; beat the yolks and sugar together with a stiff froth and mix with the yolks, flour, etc., the compound then being put in a buttered pan and baked a quick oven.

Cream Cake.—Take one cup of sugar and one cup of the best quality of butter, use enough of sweet butter to make up the deficiency of the cream—three eggs, one and one-half cups flour and one teaspoonful of salt; flavor or spice with any thing you like, nutmeg is very nice, if it be grated in a sugar grate in the nutmeg, break the eggs in and beat it all together, add the butter, if any is used; beat till it is light and frothy, no more, add the cup of flour, stir it in and stir the remaining half cup (let it be a little scant) over the dough; pulverize the soda and salt in it; stir it all up and put to bake at once in an oven of moderate heat, and I think you will have a good cake.

Boston Cream Cakes.—Cream cakes, which are eaten in Boston, and "Cream Puffs" elsewhere, are remarkably popular in the modern Athens. The following recipe is from a recipe book, and is very successful with it. Take of flour, sifted, 3/4 cup; butter, 4 oz; sugar, a tablespoonful; lard, together thoroughly; put these into a pint of boiling water, boil and stir briskly until it thickens; remove from the fire and add gradually 1 egg, well beaten, and stir rapidly; when thoroughly mixed, let stand until cold. Have butter tins ready, and take at once in an oven, spoonfuls about 6 inches apart, brush over with white of an egg, and bake in a quick oven to a light brown color. When done they will be hollow shells which are to be cut open on one side, and with the cream, which is really a custard, to make which beat two eggs to a froth, add half a teaspoonful of flour; stir all into a pint of boiling milk, and cook until it thickens. When cold, brush with egg and other extract, and fill into the puffs or shells.
