The Lesson of the Water-Mill.

Listen to the water-mill!

Through the mill-race, the water flows,

How the clinking of its wheel

Wears the hours away.

Languently the autumn wind

Stirs the greenness of leaves;

From the field the reapers sing,

Blending up the shavings.

And a proverb haunts my mind

As I walk to and fro:

"The mill will never grind

With the water that is past."

Autumn winds revive no more

Leaves that once are shed;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

On the greenness of leaves;

And the reapers' song is dead

THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1879.

The American Union Telegraph Company has leased the lines of the Dominion company for ninety nine years for $52,500 per annum.

President Hayes has strongly pledged himself not to accept the second term for President. There is doubtless not particular need for this precautionary measure.

Orders have been given to all telegraph offices to send no dispatches to Memphis, Tennessee until prepaid. This is done as a precaution against the spread of the yellow fever.

The profit accruing to the Government from the New York post-office for the last quarter amounted to $318,253.56.

Almost immediately on the repeal of the duty on quinine, instead of the price going down, as was predicted, it arose forty cents on the ounce, and American manufacturers talk seriously of shutting up shop immediately, rather than compete with foreign manufacturers freed from duty.

A quite brisk passage of hot words passed between the members of the House of Commons, a few days since, on the question of abolishing the practice of logging in the English navy. Some of the old aristocratic heads still think it necessary to lash the bare backs of their subjects in order to force submission.

A shoemaker named Mulbrun died of yellow fever in Memphis, Tenn., on Wednesday of last week, and there was considerable of a scare there in consequence. The doctors do not apprehend a spread of the disease, but advise all who can to go elsewhere to spend the summer.

At the time the tax of eight cents per pound was removed from tobacco there was a great deal made about the great benefit the consumer was to derive from the move. The benefit he receives is the privilege of paying more for his quilt than before the tax was removed, and the manufacturer pockets the difference.

The Mississippians are depending on the yellow fever to put a stop to the boats coming to that country to furnish free transportation for the negroes to Kansas. They seem to prefer to have the yellow fever with the negroes, than to have neither.

Exceedingly hard times is predicted in England this season among the poor on account of the destruction of crops by the wet hot weather which causes them to rot on the ground. By their distress will we profit, for we have every prospect for great abundance of all kinds of produce, and to spare.

Hon. William Allen, more commonly known as "Old Bill Allen," the Democratic war-horse of Ohio, died at Chillicothe, Ohio, Friday morning, at the age of seventy-two years. He served as a representative in both branches of Congress and as Governor of Ohio, and was one of the strongest men in the Democratic ranks of that State.

The Southern people are contemplating another such siege from the yellow fever epidemic as they had last year. Reports come from that country to the effect that they have learned nothing of cleanliness in the management of their street sewers and ventilation by their terrible experience of last year.

When Julius Caesar Burrows voted against the repeal of the duty on quinine, he cast a vote that should condemn him in the eyes of every man. This repeal has been demanded for years by the poor, but the monopolists have ever been able to control Congress. The very first Democratic Congress which has been assembled in nearly 20 years could not be bought, and it was repealed. How much Julius got for his opposition to it will probably never be known.—Wiles Mirror.

The fact that in the short time that has elapsed since the duty was repealed, this article has risen from $3.40 to $4 per ounce, and is still on the rise, should be enough to convince the editor of the Mirror that Mr. Burrows did what was about right, however much or little he may have received for doing so. Better find some better subject than that before you make any more of those nonsensical attacks.

During the storm in the eastern part of the State, last Friday, two inches of rain fell in Detroit in one hour, making rivers of the streets and lakes of the cellars. Several thousand dollars worth of goods were destroyed by the inundation of cellars. The like has happened before in that place, and it is not hardly a celler toward avenue—that was not flooded to the depth of three or four feet. Several buildings in the city were struck by lightning and injured to the amount of several thousands of dollars.

Governor Crosswell has granted the following pardons: John E. Thompson, sent from Wayne county for burglary for three years from October 15, 1877, declared irresponsible as a result of debasing indulgences and will leave the State; Addison D. Carman, sent from Oakland county for burglary for seven years from January 19, 1874, the judge and prosecuting attorney uniting in recommending clemency; Samuel Sackner, sent from Genesee county for two years from December 26, 1877, for burning three wheat stacks, severely injured by a fall from a prison wagon whereby amputation of his leg became necessary; Thomas Cook of Isabella county, sent for eight years from November 2, 1876, for rape, the county prosecution and others concerned uniting in admitting that they convicted the wrong man.

Menominee county calls for three or four hundred workmen to go into the Menominee range.

A GOOD FILL FOR THE BOYS IN BLUE.

The following letter draws a very good picture of Democratic government at Washington, and from the fact that it is from an orthodox Democrat, who was formerly editor of the South Bend Herald, and now at Washington, we can but infer that it is a true picture as seen from the inside of the ring. He writes to a friend in Indianapolis who wants a position. The letter tells its own story.

WASHINGTON, July 2.
My Dear Joe—You don't seem to realize just how things are run here. I'm quite sure you don't, since you appear to entertain a more or less remote idea that your having been a soldier and wounded and starved and all that sort of thing, will recommend you to a place under our Democratic friend, Dick Bright, and possibly, that all our other Democratic friends will have been reading "Voices on Voorhees' military record." And so you want me to tell you honestly what I think your chances are?

Very well. In the first place, the simple fact of your position in the active service of the Union army would be against you. It is a fact, I fear, as has been charged by our opponents, that there is no man in the congressional democrats, and that is, having been a confederate. It is a fact, I know, that it is sheerest nonsense to base any claim upon having been a soldier and wounded. Why, my dear fellow, they'd laugh at you! There is no soldier known by our present party here but the Confederate soldier. It's a little tough to have to come up to the rack, and acknowledge that you were in the wrong army, and I don't believe you'd like to do it. I never took any stock in this soldier business, always regarding it as a catch-penny even when a member of the Republican party. With the corporeal contradiction staring a fellow in the face in every government office in this city, the continual prying of preference, which had no ground in fact, only filled me with disgust. But if the republicans made themselves contemptible in the soldier's clasp, what the d—l are we to characterize these latter day democratic pretenses? Think of the military and admiral's cheek of Dan Voorhees, who always hated a soldier worse than the devil does holy water, in now claiming to be the soldier's "ownest only" darling champion! Don't it paralyze you?

The idea of Voorhees and Dick Bright ("Col. Dick") setting up for tried apostles of Indiana soldierism. Great God! Of course, in full accord with my party, I must admit it is true. But between you and me and the ink bottle, what cussed fools the soldiers were that they didn't understand this thing during the war, when they were running around with ropes to elevate Dan to the lamp-posts and apple-trees. Dan was one of the best friends the Union soldier ever had. He didn't want them to go to war at all. There was a good many of them now living who wish they had taken his advice.

Now, Joe, don't get offended or suspicious. My democracy can no more be questioned than the fact that I am neither a fool nor running for office. Why not look truth in the face. You overrate my influence if you think I can be of any service to you. If you had been a confederate soldier, or even come from Virginia, or anywhere south of Mason's and Dixon's line, or could fix up a collateral relation with some Senator, I could offer you every encouragement I could give. But Voorhees and Dick Bright are a son and couple of nephews in office, and so have nearly all Democratic senators who have any relations. Yet Voorhees made the "best effort of his life" to get a promotion. Dick Bright has been under the thumb of the ex-confederate captains, and with all his love, coupled with McDonald's, Voorhees', and the other Indiana democrats, for the boys in blue, has not been able to get the appointment of a single Union soldier. If so, I have been unable to find them. But Bright has the son of a prostitute on his staff. I am informed by a policeman, the woman is keeper of a bawdy house here. I don't know whether anybody but the boy's mother backs him, or precisely what figure the business cuts in the process of cat-skinning. I don't know, but Dick knows it. But it becomes a part of the record our party is making, and upon which we must go into the next contest. All these things come out sooner or later.

There is a better chance for you under Burd, the secretary of the senate. His friends are necessarily all confederates, and so are his appointees. Most of the senate committee barkeepers are from the south. You might have been a member of the committee at a salary of $2,400 a year, if it wasn't for the unhappy fact of your birth and bad raising. When I say barkeepers I mean clerks. Same thing. Every senate committee is a bar-room, and the clerk must be a good mixer. If you are not a good mixer I wouldn't recommend you to apply.

An very sorry, Joe, I can't make a more encouraging prospect. Perhaps on the whole, you'd better not risk coming, unless you have plenty of money and a return ticket.
Yours, etc., CHAS. T. MURRAY.

Ohio Correspondence.

PERRYBURGH, July 10, 1879.
EDITOR RECORD—We have passed beyond the glorious Fourth and are, as ever, fresh for the future. It is inglorious here at our town, as far as any exhibition of patriotism could make it otherwise. Not that there was any lack of that element in our people, but they reserved it all for display elsewhere. Toledo absorbed the whole, as represented in our youthful population, in attendance upon the regatta. The Maumee was alive with oarsmen. Capt. Boyton, of swimming notoriety, was there, or expected to be, and crowds lined the shores and wharves. Besides this, in all this vicinity there was little to distinguish the Fourth from the other days of the month. Fire-arms and fire-crackers did not make their usual signs. I have scarcely ever passed a National Anniversary when they had less to do in giving voice to popular enthusiasm. We are learning other ways of keeping the "Fourth."

Our people are in the midst of wheat harvest. It is going to turn out abundantly. In all directions are fields of the golden grain ripe for the reaper, and said to be of excellent quality. Indeed all crops are better than common. There is no one of the cereals but is now realizing or promising an excellent harvest. Wheat, rye, barley and oats all look well. Grass was thought in spring to indicate poor returns, but the later rains brought it up to more than an average. Corn is doing well, though generally late. Potatoes are never a great crop, so far as I learn, in the Maumee Valley. The soil is too rich and adhesive. It does not give room for tubers, but tends to push too much development into vines. They grow well, but to the disgust they are available to furnish meagre returns.
Fruits generally are abundant. All small fruits were never more so, and never cheaper. Still the producer gets well paid in the increased quantity he can sell from the same ground.

We have men here who have seen and tested the Western prairies and come to this valley to make their homes. In fact I believe no more productive country can be found than this. It is heavily timbered and requires drainage, but it does not require many years to remove the timber where it will do better to cultivate the soil, and the timber pays well for the labor and trouble of removal. And then the tiller has a soil that will produce any crop of this climate, and with as much ease and as large returns as any soil he can find. All through this valley, look in what direction one will, he sees the evidence of thrift. New places with new buildings and improvements are being opened in the virgin forests. Railroads traverse the valley in all directions. In passing from Milbury to Perryburg, 10 miles, I passed over three different railroad tracks, at P. still another, making four large and important lines of communication. People will still leave the region for fairer fields. But enough are left to be rapidly filling up and developing this country. And one wonders when he sees so many rich and fertile lands awaiting the strong hands to work them, when all the men will be found to do it. The pressure of the times has aided to furnish these. Men find they cannot live by their wits. Toil, hard work, energy, industry and temperance must lay foundations, and give men homes.

What a beautiful scene. So cool and tolerable and yet so favorable for all vegetation. We have not melted under the torrid heats of last year. Still it has been warm enough to bring all products of the earth to perfection. Seasonable rains and seasonable heat all tender to human support and human comfort.
Our business men are in good spirits, though we have a failure now and then. All classes are hopeful, and when we get the rebellion subdued in Washington we think we will have better times. The Brigadiers seem to be fixing themselves in good position to be taken off with any ammunition the people may wish to use upon them. For their ends, folly, the most sheer and silly, has seemed to follow them. For all just ends, they have, without any good intent, done all that needed to be. The people will do the rest.
Yours truly,
J. K. DEERING.

All the signs of the times are encouraging to the business interests of the country. They indicate the actual return of prosperity, and it is expected to stay for several years. During the first six months of 1879 the commercial failures in New York City numbered 366, against 514 for the same period in 1878. The failures this year were $1,500,000, with assets of 53 per cent., while last year the liabilities were $39,000,000, with assets of 28 per cent. Wool, wheat, cotton, and other great staples are abundant and at the same time bringing a remunerative and advancing price. The Lansing Republican tells a hard story of the Rev. M. Haight, the M. E. Minister of Portland, Iowa, county. It says that a lady in leaving a train at Albion left a silver drinking cup in the seat, and missing it as soon as she reached the side-walk, returned with the conductor to search for it, but failed to find it, and started to leave the car when a commercial man informed them that they could find it in this man's satchel, and when they returned to the car a second time were just in time to see him throw the cup under a flat car that was standing near the opposite end of the coach. Haight was arrested and confessed his guilt, stating that he could not conceive what motive prompted him to the act. His was a character that has always been considered irreproachable.

The eastern part of Michigan in the vicinity of Port Huron has caught a slight brush from a zephyr similar to those lately reported from Kansas and Nebraska, although not so severe in its effects. McGuire was then secured, and was properly punished. Mr. Wing is now suffering from his injury, which is considerably inflamed, and it will be weeks and perhaps months before he will regain the use of his leg. It is not considered improbable that amputation may be necessary.—Iron Standard.

A Fool Once More.
"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Top Bitters on it, and I thought it would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and I cost her not one cent more. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich."

CONTRADICT.—What is the difference between the man who will subscribe for a paper and set a time when he will pay for it, when he never intends to pay a cent, and the one that will put his hand into your pocket and take out $1.50. Ans. One is a pickpocket and the other a thief. Once in a while we find that kind of a fellow, and he never steals from that one and once.

THE Editor of the Niles Democrat is in a fair way to get himself into a peck of troubles. He says: "There is a lady, not a hundred miles from this city, who varies her toilet regularly four times a day, and has lots of leisure besides to go to the post-office and promenade the streets."

THE citizens of this place were somewhat surprised last Friday to learn that Mr. Jay Fuller's wife had arrived from St. Petersburg, Russia, a lady whom he met and married while attending school at the University at Ann Arbor, about a year ago. She is said to be possessed of a fortune of no mean proportions.

THE Berrien County Mutual Insurance Company met with another loss Monday afternoon by the burning of James McDonald's house in Sodas township. The house was alone at the time, and the cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at about $800, which was only partly covered by insurance.

EXCURSION.—The Buchanan Cornet Band and the Buchanan Engine and Hose Companies have made arrangements to give a grand excursion to Diamond Lake, on Friday, July 25. They will spare no pains to make the occasion enjoyable to all who may go, with them. The fare has been placed at the low price of 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children for the round trip. Let all fill up their baskets and go to the lake and enjoy one day's rest and recreation. There will be plenty of music and amusements. Special train will leave Buchanan at 7 o'clock.

NEW WHEAT.—The first load of new wheat for the season was brought to town this morning by William Kelley and sold to Rought & Pears for 90 cents per bushel.

TO this date no teachers have been appointed by the School Board for the next year, excepting the Principal. Applications have been made by the greater portion of those employed last year for their old positions, and their selection or rejection await the action of the Board.

MR. H. S. BLACK, of the firm of Black & Willard, returned a few days since from an extended business trip in the West and South-West. He reports the crops as very good wherever he went, and the people accordingly happy. He says business is much better than for several years before, and that his sales were much greater than he anticipated when he left home.

OWING to unfavorable reports of crops in European countries the wheat in Chicago was very unsettled last week, and rose from five to seven cents on a bushel. The rise, however, was for speculative purposes more than otherwise, and cannot be expected to be permanent. It may, however, be expected that the price will range as high at least as $1.00.

ONCE in a while during the hot weather we see a horse come into town driven by some young sprig who has not the least knowledge of what a horse can stand, and so heated by fast driving as to be hardly able to breathe. It would be a good thing if such fellows could receive a few lessons on kindness to dumb animals, at the hands of some officer.

CONSIDERABLE is being said by our state exchanges about a newfangled bird that takes raw potato-bugs for a regular diet. Mr. Kinyon informs us that he has repeatedly watched the movements of a small bird as it busied itself devouring the stately pests from his potato patch. A late and certainly a valuable invention. Long life to him.

EDWIN D. COOKE, Berrien Springs, Mich.

SEVERAL loads of sewer pipe from the Jackson Stone Tiling Works have been taken from this place, by Commissioner H. V. Clark, for the purpose of building culverts across the highway near the farms of John Searis, Harvey Jaday and Riley Way, in this township, in place of bridges that now occupy the places, and becoming considerably dilapidated. This is the most substantial way of repairing such places.

THE South Bend Register gives the following account of the treatment of diphtheria as practiced by Dr. Rixa of that place, that may be of value to some one:

The operation of opening the wind-pipe of a young Polish boy for the relief of diphtheria, some time ago, of which the child was dying, performed by Dr. Rixa, has proved a complete success. After the insertion of the tube through the wind-pipe, the child inhaled and exhaled air, the disease ran its course wholly robbed of its fatal power. The tube was withdrawn after being cleaned, and the orifice in the neck kept from inflammation with a wash of carbolic water. Its edges commenced to heal, and finally the doctor tried the experiment of the removal of the tube to compel the taking of the breath through the customary means. Symptoms of suffocation presenting themselves, the tube was again inserted, but it was not long before it was found possible to remove it altogether and close up the cut. The diphtheria had quite disappeared, and the wound in the neck was now closed up and almost entirely healed.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.—As an oasis is a fertile spot in a dry and dreary desert, or a green spot which breaks the dreariness of the dark wilderness, so life's journey would be a continuous desert or wilderness, if it were not for now and then meeting an oasis in which the weary mind can find rest from life's fearful struggle, and its disappointment. One of these green and fertile spots was met with at the M. E. Parsonage, on the evening of Friday last, by several members of my excellent Bible class giving me a pleasant surprise, and after a pleasant time socially, and after partaking of refreshments, for which the young ladies had made ample provisions, and listening to very appropriate, though rather flattering speeches, they presented me with a fine dressing-gown, for which I tender my thanks. The value of the token can be measured by dollars and cents, but the friendship of the donors, as manifested, is to me beyond all monied consideration, for true friendship is priceless, and earth's brightest chain binds kindred spirits together, and that it may never be dimmed by anguished tears, is the prayer of the young people's firm friend,

H. WORTHINGTON.

TRAMPS entered the boarding-house of Geo. B. Tattman, in St. Joseph, Tuesday night, and eat up all the food in the house and broke some of the dishes, without molesting the boarders or making much noise. Drunken tramps are reported numerous in that burg.

THE Red Ribbon Club of Buchanan met at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, July 11, 1879. House was called to order by President Eychaner. The meeting was opened by reading and prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. H. Worthington. L. P. Alexander was elected Secretary pro tem. The following officers were absent at roll-call: 2d Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and Sergeant at Arms. A communication was read from the State Sec., urging the club to send a delegate or delegates to the annual convention, to be held at Lansing Aug. 6-7. Communication was received and action, laid over for one week. The report of committee on printing showed that the Reporter, as soon as enlarged, would devote a column to the interests of temperance, and that the Record would publish any item of interest to the general reader, furnished by the society. Our papers have never refused to publish anything that is readable, and we hope that short, pithy items will be furnished by members of the club for publication. A committee was appointed to confer with similar committees from the Good Templars and W. C. T. U. with regard to the temperance work in the rural districts. Messrs. Worthington, Powers and Fox were appointed. The following committee were appointed to select officers for the next term, subject to approval by the society: W. W. Wells, Mrs. Carlisle and W. Powers. Amount of collection, 60 cents. After the reading of the pledge, we adjourned to meet at the M. E. Church, Friday evening, July 15.

WHEN REV. H. WORTHINGTON returned from the Red Ribbon meeting last Friday evening, he was surprised to find that his residence had been entered by parties unknown, at the time, to him. His Sabbath School class, desirous of expressing their esteem for him by some token, had assembled for the purpose of presenting him with it. The young ladies had brought with them an elegant collation, which was served and pronounced superb by those present. After which the class, with the invited guests, repaired to the parlor. Mr. Herbert C. Smith made the presentation address, reviewing the high relationship which had existed between them for three years past in a most pleasing and pathetic manner, paying their pastor and teacher a deserved tribute for his kindness and many valuable lessons imparted to them. In reply, Mr. Worthington expressed his sincere thanks, regretting that the pleasant associations with them are about to be closed; wishing that they should so live that a robe of righteousness may be theirs, and that he might meet them where parting is no more. The present, a gentleman's morning gown, was made of ladies cloth, trimmed with navy blue silk.

THE following dispatch we find in this morning's Inter Ocean:

St. Joseph, Mich., July 16.—One of the most outrageous crimes was committed here yesterday afternoon by a dissipated wretch named Albert Livingston, about 25 years old, upon a little 6-year old daughter of William Frick. It seems yesterday afternoon Frick and his wife were down stairs, attending to business, and Livingston went up stairs and committed an indecent assault upon the little girl, and gave her ten cents to keep still, but early this morning her sufferings were so great that she had to give up and tell her parents what the matter was, and Frick started immediately, with the police, after Livingston, and after some chasing and shooting, the police captured him, brought him back, and locked him up; but after it was generally known, the people got so excited that a mob started after Livingston to shoot or lynch him, but before they arrived at the station, Sheriff Clark hurried him off in a carriage to Berrien Jail. The people are getting more excited all the while, and the prospects are that they might kill him for jail, fifteen miles from here, and lynch him. Your correspondent interviewed the doctor, Scott and Webster, who attended the girl, and they stated she is seriously injured and may die from the effect.

Weather hot.

The buggy man is in town. Farmers who complain of hard times are buying buggies.

Mrs. Levey and her daughter Retta left for Ohio this morning, for a summer visit among friends.

School meeting last evening. Several ladies were present and voted. Mr. Peter Streble and Charles Close were elected as officers; a bell for the school building is to be purchased to cost not more than $100; nine months' school in the intermediate primary departments, and eight months' school in the principal department; the principal teacher to secure not more than $50 and the others not more than $25 per month. Although ladies were present, said school meeting was conducted about like all previous school meetings. The moral reform was not hardly perceptible, if one has a grudge against another. The annual school meeting seems to be the proper time to bring up old grudges. The ladies gained very little knowledge of proper parliamentary rules—for often several gentlemen would be addressing the Moderator at the same time; an original motion would be loaded down with amendments, when some one would move to lay the resolution on the table. After being tabled, perhaps the same mover would renew the original motion, while the old one was sleeping on the table. They finally got out of the dilemma by the aid of Senator Wm. Chamberlain, President pro tem of the Senate, and his wife, with the aid of several other ladies and gentlemen. Those fellows who have children running the streets succeeded in carrying their resolution in favor of nine months' school instead of eight. They are about right, for the little chaos can be seen on our street with blood on their ears, their noses swollen from the effects of a collision with a croquet mallet, and both big toes tied up with rags. Better have them in a nine months' school.
