Southern Charity. The people of the North cannot stand by and see the yellow-fever victims at Memphis suffering and dying without trying to alleviate their woes even if their own kindred refuse aid.

Preparations for the reception of Gen. Grant at San Francisco have been made on a large scale.

The official note of San Francisco, Cal., is as follows: For Governor, Perkins, Republican, 19,050; Glenn, Democrat, and N. C. P., 4,064.

The Republican State Convention of Massachusetts was held at Worcester on Tuesday, and was largely attended, there being 1,174 votes cast for Governor.

For Governor—John D. Long. For Lieutenant Governor—Byron Weston. For Auditor—Charles R. Ladd.

As was expected by all who are acquainted with the Democratic style of dealing out justice in the chivalrous South, the above is the verdict of the jury in the case against Henry J. Gulby for the murder of Cornelia Chisholm.

It took the jury less than half an hour to weigh the argument in the case, and arrive at the above conclusion. The argument of the defense was that the shooting of Miss Cornelia Chisholm was purely accidental.

That the shot was intended for her father, and by accident hit her. A short paragraph from the account of the murder as given by James W. Wells, a neighbor, will convey a slight idea of the extent to which "accident" entered into the cold blooded murder of Cornelia Chisholm:

"Cornelia, who, in the melee before deciding the stairs, had been struck in the forehead by some bullet, was, in addition to the shot-gun wounds already received, had blackened and disfigured her countenance in a horrible manner, now went to the door to beg assistance to carry her father and her little brother's dead bodies home.

As she was about to do so, she was struck by a shot which passed through her leg, while another passed through the counter of her shoe into her foot. This was overlooked by the multiplicity of her other injuries and never was discovered until after her death, though before that time her heel had become very much swollen and inflamed, when upon examination of the shoe, the place where the shot entered was found.

A missile of some kind also struck her hip, causing a severe and painful sore. Her bonnet strings, which were tied in a bow knot under her chin, were nearly severed by a shot which, narrowly missed her throat. These ribbons only hung together by the hem on one side, three separate balls passed through them, and they were nearly severed by a shot which, narrowly missed her throat.

These ribbons only hung together by the hem on one side, three separate balls passed through them, and they were nearly severed by a shot which, narrowly missed her throat.

When the trial for murdering her father is held we expect the same verdict to be given on the strength of the plea that he was never shot at all, but the guns were pointed in another direction and his death was caused by fright.

THE night watchman of Benton Harbor has been given a racket in one of the village papers by a correspondent. He replied in rather a wrathful manner, which seems to indicate that the correspondent was about right. Buchanan used to have trouble that way, but she discharged her night watch, and now "everything is lovely."

THOMAS J. LILLY, of Cass county, was examined in Dowagiac, September 10, for assault with intent to kill and bound over for trial at the October term of Court in Cass county, his bail being placed at $5,000. His father went his bail. It is to be hoped he will be taught better, this time, than to draw a knife and attempt to carve some man on the least provocation.

THE Hartford Day Spring says: "H. J. Ray, of Watervliet, says that during the recent dry weather the Paw Paw river was lower than it has been before in 23 years. He further states that E. L. Hennessy, of that place, while digging a well found the clay so dry at the depth of nine feet that it had cracked open."

THE Reporter Argus pronounces the job of spending $5,000 for the survey of the St. Joseph river for the purpose of making it a navigable stream, a stupendous fraud, and utter waste of public funds, as the amount of business that could ever be made to pass over that line could never be made to pay first cost. We should be pleased to see the river made navigable, but the Argus has about a correct idea of the business. The only way the improvement can be successfully made is by getting more rain to fall in the valley.

YOUNG America, not to be out-done by the older boys, have organized No. 2 hose company. They start off with sixteen members, offered as follows: Charles Simmons, Foreman. Edwin Willard, First Asst. Foreman. Tom. Cox, Second. Henry Grover, Secretary. Edwin Bird, Treasurer. Gray Osborn, } Pipe-men. Henry Grover, }

ONE firm in this place informs us that through the agency of an advertisement that costs them $40 per year, and has been running less than three months, they have sold nearly $400 worth of goods that they know of. Counting their profit on goods at ten per cent. this gives them a profit of $320 on an investment of $10 for three months, or about 300 per cent. per annum. Will some one be so kind as to refer us to some investment that will pay a better profit than that?

He is one of the most respected of the Brothers at Notre Dame, and is deserving of the respect of all, as his enterprise is of the encouragement of all."

A BIRTH-DAY PARTY AND GOLDEN WEDDING. On last Wednesday, Sept. 10, Mr. Nelson Aikin, of this place completed the seventieth year of his age, and his good wife got up a little surprise on him in the shape of a birthday party, inviting their children and a few friends to help celebrate it in a befitting manner. Mr. A. was out ploughing in the forenoon, and when the company began to arrive he came to the house and was a little surprised to see such a royal dinner on the table. He was informed that this was his birthday and it was intended to keep it in a manner worthy of the occasion. He acknowledged the birthday, when all seated themselves around the table and did full justice to the excellent repast, and none seemed more happy than he for whom it was gotten up. This is but half of the story. A few days after this would be the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. & Mrs. Aikin. What would be nicer than to celebrate both at once? and so it was arranged; and while good Mrs. A. was busy with her little surprise, other busy and loving hands were working out a surprise on them both. After the birthday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. A. were decoyed down town for an hour or two. On their return they were a little bewildered at seeing more teams and more people at the house. They were conducted into the house and the first thing that met their astonished gaze was the table again groaning under the weight of good things, and among which loomed up a magnificent wedding cake beautifully ornamented. They were next taken into the parlor and shown the presents from their children and grand children. Tears started into their eyes, and all Mr. A. could say was, "I did not know I had so many friends." All sat down to the wedding supper, and a right good time was passed by all. Three generations were represented, among whom were twelve grand-children, seven great-grand-children, and about forty relatives and friends. A most enjoyable day was passed. We went home from the golden wedding, in the golden sunset, and left our congratulations for the happy couple.

He can eat nothing but milk, now. Ben Harrington is quite a horse jockey; look out for him. Every body talks of going to Chicago on the 25th of this month. Dr. B. C. Smith has got a bran, spanking, slashing new buggy. R. W. Montross has shut down his mill a few days for repairs. Our landlord, Mr. Haskins, has been quite sick. NIMROD.

ITEMS FROM THREE OAKS. Sept. 16, 1879. Our merchants are receiving larger stock of goods than ever before. Weather quite cool at times. Some frost, no lightning and very little rain. Farmers are sowing wheat. Little Maud Hicks, of this village, died on Friday, Disease, starlet fever. The only case this season. Senator Wm. Chamberlain went to the State Fair, at Detroit. Will be at Ex-Gov. Baldwin's Friday evening, at the reception of President Hayes and wife. Wm. A. Palmer, of Buchanan, and Harvey Hudson put in a pleasant day in this place Monday. A lady met a Buchanan man in our village, shook hands and said, "Mr.—how do you get along with your Sabbath School?" supposing him to be Mr.—a Sabbath School Superintendent. I did not learn what reply the Buchanan man made. Two different parties have been here lately talking of building a flour mill at this place. This is a good point for a flour mill. Whoever builds the mill can get a good round price for the first barrel of flour. Wm. L. McGe and wife are anxious to return to San Bernardino, Cal. Mrs. Levy and daughter, from Ohio, will return home this week. A social party at McGe's last evening. Jacob M. Smee and Jesse Sheffield intend going to Missouri for a few weeks. Hon. E. M. Plimpton, of Buchanan, and J. V. Phillips, of New Buffalo, were in town yesterday. ITEMIZER.

COUNTY PRESS. [Berrien Springs Era.] Dr. Barnard is still confined to the house with sickness. Mr. H. J. Howe, of the Shaker farm, has had several sheep badly injured by dogs. Some of them will die. [Benton Harbor Palladium.] W. C. Traver, of Bridgman, has finished up the lower part of his building for a hotel. A newspaper writer claims to have cured the yellows by pouring lye around the roots of his feet. Dr. J. D. Pags has received and accepted a call from the Baptist church at Little Creek. We congratulate them both. [Niles Mirror.] Knox, son of S. M. Finley, aged 14 or 15 years, jumped from a car on Saturday afternoon last, and a car wheel caught his right foot, cutting off the toe nails of his first and second toe, and injuring the great toe very severely. Wm. Baker, of Pags, has received a threshing machine one day last week, when the fellow who was cutting the bands accidentally drew the knife across his knuckles, cutting to the bone, making a very ugly wound. The Steam Supply Company, in laying their pipes over the ground at the river or Raisin exhumed bones of two who were massacred by the Indians over 50 years ago. The marks of the tomahawk in the skull was visible. [Berrien Springs Journal.] Ten judges were represented at the Odd Fellows' picnic. St. Joseph has 884 school children, according to the census just completed. It is reported that Jim Clark has sold his trotting horse, "Dick Demont," to Robert Bonner. Rev. Oden, who wounded a couple of boys by shooting them last week, has been held in $1,000 bonds for his appearance in court. The United Brethren ministers work cheap, the highest price any one of them reported getting for this year's labor being $450, and the lowest not $70. We are opposed to strikes generally, but in this case we believe one would be justifiable. JOHN L. SMITH.

BROTHER HASKELL.

Last week we published an extract reflecting on "Brother" Haskell, which waked up some of his friends in this place, and at their request we publish the following version of the affair from the Wabash (Ind.) Republican:

"Jonathan Haskell, who, it will be remembered, conducted a series of temperance meetings in this city a short time ago, has been out on a stirring visit to Monroeville, Allen county. On last Friday evening he made some reference to a live div in that place, kept by a young woman. To this she took objections, and commenced a big tirade against "Brother" Haskell. He requested all who desired to have the meeting proceed to rise. The entire congregation arose. The young woman still continued her harangue, and finding she would not stop, Mr. Haskell quietly took her up in his arms and carried her to the door, where an officer took charge of her. She then had him arrested for assault, and he was placed in the jail bonds, which was promptly given, and the meetings continued. The following from a correspondent of the Fort Wayne News of Sept. 10, shows about what class of people he has run foul of in Monroeville: "The meetings here in progress attracted another crowded audience last night to hear the earnest eloquent evangelist, Jonathan Haskell, who came another week by the unanimous vote of an immense congregation. On Sabbath night, at the close of the meeting, while the ladies and families were returning home, they were assailed and beset by a drunken crew of ruffians. As Haskell and his wife and some other ladies were passing into the Indiana hotel, kept by Mr. Johnson, a shower of boulers, stinking eggs and other garbage was hurled at them, completely covering the stoop, with rocks enough to pave the yard. Mrs. Haskell, an earnest, faithful quiet christian lady, had just laid upon her bed, when a crowd of about a dozen men, with shivering the glass into a thousand atoms. In a few moments, or a-s-a, and another bouler, going tearing through the upper window of the hotel. The mob returned to Lizzie Miller's saloon after they had done their work, and had a jollification at her expense. An indignation meeting is in session of the entire respectable part of town, and steps are being taken to arrest the female and all abettors. The evangelist, Haskell, is "gilt" and full of sand and says he will light it out on this line if it takes all summer. He is summing up at the time between rum, blasphemy, Sabbath breaking, and prostitution on the one side, and law, order, the Christian church, the women, the children and the best interests of society on the other. God has sent his prophet, the "circus preacher" here to light it out."

[St. Joseph Traveler-Herald.] Mrs. Frank Platt got a dose of murtic acid in her eyes while putting up a perscription at Sibley's drug store on Thursday. Fortunately she suffered only temporary inconvenience from the accident. [Three-Oaks Independent.] Last week Dr. Seokell, of Bridgman, went into the woods where he had some men getting out lumber, and got good talking with them, holding his little girl by the hand, he heard a noise in the dry leaves and, looking down, saw a monster rattle-snake right under his feet. He leaped, but such was his agitation that he came right down on the reptile again. His snakeship was finally killed and found to be a monster of his kind, whose tail was decorated with sixteen rattles and a button. [Niles Republican.] A serious affair occurred on Tuesday in the Rough neighborhood, a few miles from this city. The progress of a sale, on the farm of David Marks, a man named Joseph Shaffer entered the house and acted in a disorderly manner. Marks attempted to quiet him, who Shaffer attacked him with a book-jug, striking him on the head, cutting the scalp open. After this Shaffer went out of the house and threatened to whip the whole crowd. He was set on by a young man who gave him a severe pounding. He then drew a knife and would probably have done some damage, had not the knife been taken away from him. Mr. Marks came in this city and had the case heard by the court. The second row Shaffer has been engaged in in the same neighborhood.

["THAT CHEAP ENCYCLOPEDIA."] Volume one of the new "Library of Universal Knowledge" is issued September 10. It contains 720 pages of small but clear and beautiful type, handsomely printed on good paper, and is neatly and strongly bound in cloth, half morocco and half Russia, at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00 per volume. The succeeding volumes will appear about two each month, till the 20 volumes completing the work are issued. Specimen volumes are sent to any part of the United States (10 cents extra for postage), with privilege of return after ten days examination. Special terms are offered to early subscribers and to clubs, of which full particulars are sent free on request by the publishers, the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE, 35 Beekman Street, New York.

That a complete Encyclopedia, first class in character, and containing more matter than any heretofore published in this country at any price, should be made and sold for the trifling sum of $10.00, seems so extraordinary, that many who wish it may be true, are very naturally incredulous. The same house publishes a large list of standard works, all at similarly low prices, and the presence of some of them already in the hands of hundreds of thousands of lovers of good books in all parts of the land, is naturally rapidly transforming the incredulous into patrons and enthusiastic friends of the enterprise. No mystery is made about the cause of the low prices—they are the reduced cost of manufacture to about one-half what it was a few years ago, the method of sale, direct to the purchaser, saving him the large commissions commonly paid to agents and dealers, and a very large sale. It is worth the cost of a postal card to see their catalogue.

EDITOR RECORD.—For the last two weeks we have had the most lovely weather, thus enabling the farmers to secure their crops in good order. A careful review of Oregon's crops this year may be made in a few words. All the early sown winter wheat is good, ranging from 25 to 65 bushels per acre. A good deal of the spring wheat is injured with the rust and badly hurt. Our oats crop is good; hay crop unusually so; hops splendid; fruit crop rather light; potatoes an abundant crop.

The public schools of this city all commenced last Monday with an attendance of 1,800 scholars. I received a private letter last week from D. W. Penwell, of Weavav, in your county. He says, "I have no news to send you for you get the Record and that gives you all the news." The people of Berrien county ought to feel proud of such a paper, that picks up such a lot of good, readable news from all parts of the county, and gives it to them fresh every week for $1.50 a year. Mr. Penwell says that he is just as strong pure a greenbacker as ever. So am I, and a little more so because when I first came to Oregon it took 15 cents out of every greenback dollar to make it buy $1 of flour, salmon, calico or butter, but now a greenback dollar buys just as much as a coin dollar. I have always been an ardent greenbacker, but always insisted upon a gold and silver basis, and never in favor of unlimited irredeemable greenback money. Your Three Oaks correspondent puts the greenback question in its true light when he says that the farmer brings his wheat to market, receives his roll of money, and never stops to look at it, except to see that the amount is all right. He goes to the store or shop and buys just as much with it as if he paid gold. A fire in this city last week destroyed a block of dwellings. There are 81 newspapers published in Oregon and Washington Territory. A gentleman from Michigan, a Congressional minister, was here a few weeks ago and made a stirring address on our temperance meeting. He referred to the temperance work in old Michigan. Said that the legislature had come within three or four votes of passing a stringent prohibition law. I told him that it was because you had such noble men as Hon. Wm. Chamberlain, who occupied one of the most responsible positions in the Senate, that dared to stand up for the temperance cause. JOHN L. SMITH.

It will pay any one interested in national finance, to read the analysis of the public debt of the United States from July 1st, 1856, to July 1st, 1879, prepared at the Treasury Department at Washington. It shows that the interest on the public debt was the highest August 31st, 1865, it being $4.20 per capita. From that time until the present it has gradually diminished, being on July 1st, 1879, $1.69 per capita, a reduction of $2.51 per capita in fourteen years. Although this is paying debts rather slow, it is about as fast as many of the noisy greenbackers discharge their obligations, and it has been done without imposing the national honor. All this can be charged to the extravagant (?) and corrupt (?) Republican party that the Democrats and Greenbackers are trying to make the people believe are ruining the nation. That is just the way we like to see the nation ruined.—Harford Day Spring.

John Hokeborn, of Long Lake, Grand Traverse county, hanged himself on the 14th. He left a wife and two children.

Since the above was put in type we find the following as a special dispatch to the Inter Ocean of Tuesday, which leads us to believe that all is not lovely in that part of Hoosierdom: MOOREVILLE, Ind., Sept. 15.—During a temperance meeting last night, the Rev. Jonathan Haskell took occasion to severely lampoon Samuel Hays, and to make a number of charges, but who differed in some respects from Mr. Haskell's views. This morning one hundred citizens waited on Haskell at the Indiana House, and ordered him to leave Mooreville. He said he would be mobbed. He left about an hour afterward, taking the train for Van Wert, Ohio.
