Honeysuckle.

How fair they were, my darlings twin, Who walked across the grassy lawn...

One wore her raven tresses long, Close-braided over a brow of snow...

Annual her sister's gentle face The brown hair rippled, tender grace...

I sat beneath a shady tree, And heard the teacher floating free...

I watched them weave their scented spoil In eager haste with playful toil...

Was it because they were my own, I fancied even their lightest tone...

Was it but doing mother's love? Or were my darlings fair above...

But this I know, 'twixt them and me Rolls yet the awful timeless sea...

But 'er my honeysuckle wreath, My wretched heart will often breathe...

Aunt Polly's Mistake.

Aunt Polly was always a woman of her word and prided herself upon it.

Suddenly John Raymond was killed, and in six months his weakly wife followed him.

It was a seven days' talk, when Aunt Polly took John Raymond's boy home to her friends.

VICTORY!

The Republican Victory in Ohio is Good Enough to Laugh About!

IOWA SOLIDLY REPUBLICAN!

The returns show that the Republicans have elected the Governor by 15,000 to 20,000 majority, and a majority in both branches of the legislature, thus securing a Republican Senator in place of Thurman in 1881, and burying the rag baby so deep it will forget to arise on Resurrection morning.

The news from Ohio is better than the most sanguine Republican expected, and is truly cause for rejoicing on our side.

In Iowa the Republican majorities are overwhelming. The Republican State ticket will have a majority over all opposition of about 25,000, a Republican gain of 27,000 over 1877 and 19,000 over 1878. Green's majority for Governor over Trimble, Dem., is 75,000, and over Campbell, R. R., 100,000. The Republicans claim 20 out of 29 Senators and 50 out of 100 members of the House.

The following news will be refreshing reading for our greenback friends: The tenth Congressional District and the sixth electing Greenbackers to Congress last year. 50 Republican this year. The seventh, which gave Gillette, Greenbacker, for Congress, 2,000 maj. last year, gives 3,000 Republican majority this year, every county going Republican. The sixth, that elected Weaver, Greenbacker, to Congress last year by 2,100, goes Republican by 2,650 this year.

The Republican State Committee election of Thompson to Congress in the fifth district to fill vacancy, by over 5,000 majority, a Republican gain of nearly 3,000.

The "Ohio Idea" of Tuesday was one worth remembering.

Gov. Crosswell is slowly recovering from his sickness and is expected to be about in a short time.

The influx of gold coin and bullion to this country continues. The steamer Canada, Thursday morning, brought over a million dollars, and 15,000,000 francs came from France Tuesday.

Another railroad collision, resulting in the death of four persons, occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio road, near Delton, West Virginia, Sunday morning. The result of misunderstanding orders.

Keep a sharp lookout for balloons now-a-days. The air is full of them since Messrs Wise and Burr started from St. Louis. One has been seen at Laporte, one at Dubuque, Iowa, and one at Albion. The latter was about the size of a "barl."

In the 45th congress Judge Belford, the Republican representative, elected by a clear majority of 514, was unseated by the confederates. To show just what the people of Colorado thought of the proceeding, re-elected him by a majority of 2,200, Oct. 8. At a special election for supreme judge, the Republican candidate, W. E. Beck, was elected by 5,000 majority.

The Supreme Court in this State has just decided two cases bearing upon the collection of compound interest on obligations of different kinds. In one of these cases there was a special agreement that interest should become due each year, and if not paid should become a part of the principal, but the court held that the agreement was no statute providing for computing compound interest. In the other case the obligation read "with annual interest at ten per cent." The court held that no compound interest could be collected on this note, there being no interest due until the principal was also due, and consequently no installment on which to compute interest.

A dispatch from Buffalo, dated Oct. 3, says: Most vessel men will remember that the schooner Kate L. Bruce left Chicago late in the fall nearly two years ago, laden with wheat and bound for Buffalo. The vessel was never heard from, but one of her crew, who was picked up near Thunder Bay a year ago last spring. To-day a well-known diver here said that he has found the Bruce off above that place in six fathoms of water. He went down in the water and found her decks sprung, caused by the swelling of the grain. He also went into the cabin, where he discovered the remains of some of the crew, and as nearly as he could ascertain, the bodies of two females and a little child. He reports the masts of that unfortunate vessel wanting, but that an effort will be made to raise her.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

One of the most terrible railroad accidents ever chronicled in the history of the Michigan Central railroad occurred about two miles east of Jackson, last Friday morning, by the collision of the Pacific Express train and a switch engine, that was in the act of transferring some cars from one side of the main track to the other and had just run out on the main track when the accident occurred. The most concise, and perhaps the most accurate account of the accident we find in the Post and Tribune, which we copy below:

"The Pacific Express on the Michigan Central left this city for Chicago at 10:12 o'clock Thursday night, being ten minutes behind time. The train consisted of fourteen cars, of which six were Wagon-coupling coaches, five passenger coaches, with a smoking car and an express car. There was a detention of 22 minutes at the Grand Trunk junction, caused chiefly by the transfer of baggage belonging to a party of French Canadian immigrants, and a detention of six or seven minutes followed at Ypsilanti. According to the statement of the conductor, his train was about 15 minutes late when it pulled out of Ann Arbor, but five minutes of the lost time was made up by the time it reached Jackson, a mail station fourteen miles east of Jackson, at which the express trains do not stop. Through Grass Lake and the junction, the train proceeded at rapid speed. Michigan Central is only a little over a mile from the junction, which is a suburb (distant two miles from the heart of the city), where the cars stop and the passengers are transferred to the cars of the Michigan Central. As usual the brakes were applied after passing 'the Centre,' and when within a mile of the junction, so that by the time the entrance to the yard was reached the speed of the train had been decreased to about twenty-five miles an hour—not to exceed that, says Conductor Ladd, who is one of the most faithful, experienced, and highest esteemed conductors in the service of the company.

Just as the express rounded the slight curve at the approach to the east switch the bright glare of a head-light loomed up ahead. An instant later the sixth, that elected Weaver, Greenbacker, to Congress last year by 2,100, goes Republican by 2,650 this year. The engines roared in the air and fell to the right, the heavy locomotive of the express train bearing the other backward. The express and baggage cars were thrown into the air, and fell upon the sliding chairs of the locomotive, and only coming to a standstill many feet beyond. The smoking car, next to the baggage car, coming against the locomotive, crushing the cars in front of it, and was brought to a dead stop. The next car behind, a second-class or emigrant-car, urged on by the terrible force of the long train behind, pressed against the smoking-car, causing it to rise from the tracks and fall upon the baggage coach. The third car, rising partially from the trucks, still maintained its form, and although badly wrenched and broken, the glass being smashed out of the windows, there were but few injured. None of the cars left the track and their occupants were uninjured. Despite the violence of the shock, some of the passengers in the sleeping coaches slumbered on unmolested until awakened by the shouts of the train men and the busy running to and fro. The work of clearing away the wrecking and hopelessly involved wrecking was necessarily difficult, but it was proceeded with great dispatch. Some of the wounded were so mangled and buried beneath the mass of splintered timbers and twisted iron and steel that it seemed an age before they could be reached. Many displayed great coolness and bravery in the midst of their suffering. There were some heart-rending scenes when mutilated and lifeless bodies were recognized by friends, and the groans and cries of the injured were described as piteous.

As fast as the dead bodies were extracted they were placed upon the high banks on the north side of the track, the scene of the accident being quite a deep cut. Three of the wounded, George A. Cunningham and Mrs. and Mrs. Parnell, were carried into the first sleeping coach and their wounds temporarily bandaged. Young Cunningham's left arm was broken in two places and he suffered intense pain, but his nerve was something admirable. Lighting a cigar he coolly submitted to the manipulations of the surgeon, chatting cheerfully with his sympathizers. As soon as daylight came he called for postal cards and wrote brief messages of assurance to his friends in Wisconsin. Others of the wounded were taken to a neighboring farm house. Others still were conveyed to the Hilliard house and Hurst house in the city, where they were given the best rooms and furnished with every attention by the railroad company. The latter secured the services of doctors and express wagons and transported the victims, as well as unharmed passengers, to the city as rapidly as possible. Fifteen dead and thirty wounded were taken from under the ruins of the train. The wounded taken to comfortable quarters and where medical aid could be furnished, and the best of care taken of them, and proper arrangements made for proper disposal of the dead. A coroner's investigation into the responsibility of the accident was held in Jackson, commencing Saturday afternoon and continuing this week. The investigation by the coroner's jury was closed Tuesday and the verdict withheld until yesterday afternoon, and we are unable to give the decision until next issue. The company has reserved no evidence that could be brought to bear on the subject and the investigation has been the most thorough, and the blame will no doubt be placed where it properly belongs.

A very cute swindle is being practiced on farmers in some parts of the country. A sleek fellow calls at a farm house for dinner, and on paying for it asks the host to sign a receipt—so he can show his employers what the expenses have been. The receipt is prepared in such a way that the signature is made on a paper underneath the thin paper on which it is written, and that lower sheet of paper is a note for $100 or some such matter, which the swindler sells before he gets out of the neighborhood, and thus a thin piece of transfer paper, and principle of law which holds the innocent person harmless, are used to cozen successfully.—Whitehall Forum.

Maranda Davis, who was employed in threshing with a machine on the farm of Cyrus Chase, near Zilwaukee, Saginaw county, was overcome by the heat on the 10th, a most unheard of happening for October.

The Southern Exodus.

Some time ago, Secretary Sherman instructed E. S. Hamlin, special agent of the treasury department, to visit the southern States and examine carefully into the causes of the probable exodus of the negro exodus. Mr. Hamlin has performed that duty and presented his report. This report is an able and interesting document. It declares that the sole reason for the exodus is the desire of the negro to escape from the unbearable oppression, cheating, and outrages put upon them by the southern whites. This oppression is not wholly or mainly political. The political oppression is not enough, but it could be endured; and the negroes, with their strong love for their birthplaces would not migrate if political oppression was all the wrong they suffer. But they are cheated in every possible way out of their hard-earned wages; they are compelled to pay from two to four times as much for all they buy as white men pay for the same goods; they are robbed of their little property often when the planters are in too much of a hurry, or lack of opportunity, to cheat them; there is no justice for colored people in any of the courts; the laws are framed purposely to reduce them to hopeless serfdom; and the whites not only take no interest in their education, prosperity, or elevation, but actually oppose every effort they make to better their condition. Hence they seek to migrate.

The report instances whole parishes in Louisiana where negroes are charged $30 a barrel for bacon, $8 a barrel for corn meal, etc. The planters of Delta and Madison parishes formally made for all payments made to negroes should be in parish scrip, and never in legal currency; that farm hands must get passes from their employers, or else be punished if caught away from their plantations; that the rent of land, any negro who would lease an acre per year; that wages should be $12 a month in county scrip—$20 down each month, the balance after the next year's crop should be planted, so that, should the crop fail, he would lose half his year's wages. One negro, refusing to submit to these rules, and trying to get away and go north, was pursued and shot. In other places, by mutual agreement the land owners would not sell or rent land to negroes on any terms. This was to compel them to work for such wages as might be offered, or starve. This report, after citing much testimony, says:

"From a survey of the whole field of the negro's condition, it can be formed that this: That the negro in many of the southern States has no legal protection of person or property. Statutes and constitutional provisions, made for his protection, are systematically violated and successfully nullified by lawless combinations of white citizens. The real difficulty seems to be that a large proportion of the white people of the southern States are degraded, since they cannot have slavery, that the negroes shall be kept in a condition as near that of slavery as possible. They not only do not wish their elevation but are opposed to it. They have looked upon them so long as servants that they have looked upon them as fellow-citizens, having equal civil, religious and political privileges as themselves. They are especially opposed to their social elevation. They want their labor, but they want it to be that of dependent serfs.—Post and Tribune.

Origin of Chronic Diseases.

BY V. C. PRICE, M. D.

It needs no argument to show that blood is continually forming from the food we eat, and that the blood thus formed is constantly being expended to form muscle, bone, cartilage, &c., and all the solids comprising the human body. The origin of all chronic diseases is in the blood. The blood is constantly decomposing and wasting away, the most common observer daily witnesses this fact. Hence it necessarily follows that if the blood be not in good condition, it is utterly impossible for the system to be healthy, and consequently diseased action of the muscular and nervous system are the result. If the sap of a tree be not good it cannot produce healthy foliage. We unequivocally declare, THAT ALL DISEASE FIRST ORIGINATE IN THE BLOOD, and as the fluids from the solids, the solids become secondarily affected from the impure condition of the blood. What are humors, and in what way are they produced but from a morbid and diseased state of the blood? Is not this the case with small-pox, measles, erysipelas, &c.? By what means do chronic diseases originate, they are supported but by a morbid state of the blood? How can fever or inflammation exist, in consequence of a 'mild' character of the blood? To what other source can be attributed the primary origin of Cholera, Consumption, diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, &c., but to the blood? Does not Scrofula owe its origin to a diseased condition of the glandular fluids? The diseased condition of the blood may be various in character: the blood may be charged with acid matters, arising from the decomposition constantly taking place in the system; the excretory organs not possessing sufficient energy to expel the acid, the blood may be charged with mucus, lime and other substances which may produce disease. If disease, then, be generated through the action of the blood, which other cause can be adopted to eradicate it but through the agency of the blood? Render the condition of the blood healthy and it will make healthy deposit in the diseased organ until it becomes sound. The amount of disease prevailing throughout the community is indescribable. Scarcely an individual, young or old, do we pass in the streets, but who has some ailment, either of an external or internal derangement which is rapidly hurrying them to the termination of their mortal existence. Diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys and Spleen, and by far the most dangerous, are dyspepsia, Dropsy, Erysipelas, Canker, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Dizziness, Coldness of the extremities and Chilliness, Palpitations, Numbness, Debility, Costiveness, Piles, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Headache, Protrusion Uteri, Fluor Albus, Incontinence of Urine, Inflammation, heat and burning of the body, Chills, Fevers, &c. If you are afflicted with any of these ailments, and you are not doing something for their complaint, the most invariable reply will be: "I don't know what to do; I have tried everything; I am discouraged; I think I can never regain my health." This is the condition of the mind, and should not be lost; it should cause deep reflection, ardent thought. Many that have tried all the various systems of treating disease, and almost the whole of the medical profession, have found the means of restoration to health, and now live in the blest enjoyment of it. Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Liver, Heart, Nerves, Scrofula, and all other complaints, need necessarily yield where a medicine properly prepared and adapted to the case is employed, of which we daily have the most incontestable proofs. The successful mode of treatment in the curability of disease, and the anti-poisonous character of our medicine, composed entirely from articles from the Vegetable Kingdom, have brought about a restoration of many to their lost health. Our practice has been before the public for many years. We treat exclusively Chronic Diseases, and invite the sick to be gratuitously given our opinions unbiased; no expense incurred without there is reasonable hopes of cure. We shall make our visits regularly for years, and will be for consultation upon all diseases of the lungs, throat, heart, nerves, blood, etc., on our next visit, at Niles, Bond House, on Saturdays and Sundays, Nov. 1 and 2.

The people who live in and around Ionia were disappointed in attending the Ionia fair with the expectation of hearing Ben Hill, of Georgia. He didn't come.

The Brady house, situated on the Day City trotting park, was burned on the 11th; loss $4,000; insured, $8,000.

During the recent storm the lightning entered the chimney of the Wilson school-house, entirely demolishing the same, not leaving a brick remaining, and following the stovepipe, placed each section in a different part of the room, uninjured; entering the stove, throwing door, cover and ashes promiscuously over the house.—Nashville News.

Two boys who were walking along the railroad track near Dimondale, Eaton county, Thursday, found a paper sack in which were the remains of an infant. Its skull had been smashed and both arms broken. Evidently an attempt had been made to throw it into the river, but it had lodged on the bridge.

The owners and builders of the Adrian fatal grand stand, and the architect who laid out the plan for its construction, have been arrested for manslaughter and placed under heavy bonds to appear for trial. The number of victims of the deadfall still continues to increase, fifteen having died up to Saturday night.

They had cabbage for dinner at a house in Coldwater the other day, and a small sack was found between the leaves after it was cooked, so some of the State papers say. The story is supposed to some doubt and readers are subject to use their own discretion-ary powers. Will the State papers say Mrs. L. D. LaFountain, of South Haven, is under arrest, charged with the murder of her baby. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the babe died through ill treatment and neglect at the hands of the mother. The circumstances of the case are said to be aggravated.

At eagle weighing twelve pounds and measuring seven feet and four inches from tip to tip of its wings, was shot near Litchfield, Hillsdale county, Sunday.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

There are students in the Michigan university from Japan, Burma and the Sandwich Islands. Mrs. A. J. Armstrong, of Carlisle, near Charlotte, the other day drew $2,400 from the bank, rolled it up in her dress, and put the whole in a satchel, and it was stolen. Her father disappeared about the same time, and she thinks he is the thief. The wheat market of Detroit, on Saturday last, was as follows: Extra white sales, 12 cars at $1.20 1/2 @ 1.17 1/2. No. 1 white, about 1,000 bu. at $1.20; do November, 19,000 bu. at $1.17 1/2; do December, 15,000 bu. at $1.19 1/2 @ 1.30.

A huge wolf has been slaughtering sheep for Henry Stowe, of Pinora township, Lake county, recently. He was successfully poisoned and his carcass weighed 81 1/2 pounds, measuring five feet seven inches from tip of nose to tip of tail.

On the 7th a boy named Penoot Foreburg, while engaged in carrying a can of nitro-glycerine down a shaft at the Republic mine, fell with the explosive in his arms. In his downward course, still hanging onto the can, he threw out one of his arms, and accidentally catching hold of the ladder, stayed further progress. He clambered to the surface with the glycerine, and on reaching it fell down in a swoon from the effects of the fright he had received.

FARMERS, the price of wheat still rises.

It was a sort of May show we had Sunday night.

Good pasture will last until quite late this fall.

JOHN PEARS took his two horses to the fair at Dowagiac yesterday morning.

The Pomona Grange met at Mount Tabor Grange Hall Tuesday and Wednesday.

$1.17 was paid for wheat in this place Saturday. The price to-day is $1.20 @ 1.25.

HILLY DICK, of Kalamazoo, and Otin Woods, Cassopolis, spent last Sunday in Buchanan.

PLIMPTON Brothers have the thanks of the Record office corps for a treat to peers this morning.

EXTRA copies of the RECORD may always be found at the news depot in the post office room.

The next quarterly meeting of the T. B. Church in this place will be held on Saturday and Sunday next.

NEXT meeting of the Pomona Grange of this county will be held at Berrien Center the second Tuesday in January next.

CAPT. A. C. BARTLETT now appears on the street as one of the wheat buyers. Competition is the life of business.

The Niles Mirror is after the city Recorder with a sharp stick, because the Recorder's salary is $480. Well, that is pretty steep.

The pigs sold by the Marshal, at the village pound, Tuesday afternoon, were bought by Wm. Pears for $8. Almost enough to pay costs.

The place to go for sport now is just below the dam at Niles. You must take along your fishing tackle to fully appreciate the sport. Rock bass.

NILES is after the Asylum for the Blind that is to be erected in this State, and a meeting has been called to see what can be done to secure it.

"The Niles Democrat fears that place may become a grass plot," writes Mrs. That is nothing. Other people have thought so for a long time.

WHAT came near being a destructive fire occurred by the upsetting and breaking of a kerosene lamp in G. F. Hoop's store, in St. Joseph, Monday night.

The Benton Harbor Times calls the editor of the Berrien Springs Journal an old "snollipster." That is an animal we had not heard of before. Do they have long ears?

The Buchanan Manufacturing Co., a short time since, put a new boiler in their factory, which proved worthless, and last week they took it out and put in another new one.

SOME of the farmers are holding their wheat crop for $1.50, and some are certain of getting $2. They are the kind who usually hold wheat just a little too long.

MISS IRENE BROADHURST, one of the teachers in our Union School, has resigned her position, and the school board have employed Miss Maria Wells to fill the vacancy. A good choice.

ACCORDING to old settlers' recollections the autumn of 1841 was just like this one, and that 55 years ago next Sunday snow fell to the depth of three feet. Wonder if that is what is coming this time.

The examination of Asahel Kelsey for assault with intent to kill, was held before Justice Barron, in Niles, Tuesday. Kelsey was bound over in $1,000 bail to appear at the Circuit Court for trial.

The man who is too poor to pay his country newspaper subscription bill is never too poor to go all over the country on half-fare excursions, or to own from one to six dogs and a slot-gun. Such "things is so elowating, ye know."

MR. JOHN HOLLOWAY bought of William Conrad, last Friday, a pig that weighed 550 pounds. He tried to buy one of Miss Martha Hamilton, but did not succeed. We take ours straight, John, and agree not to tell on you this time. Cotton pigs are not in demand in the Chicago market.

We learn that the statement that a $500 error had been discovered in John Tate's accounts, lessening the amount of the county against his estate, is a mistake, and that no such discovery has been made.

MR. E. M. PLIMPTON returned from Kansas Saturday evening. He reports the prospect for a Republican victory, where he has been, good, although the country was carried by the Greenbackers last year.

MR. H. N. MOWREY is doing considerable of a business in making buggies. He says he has no difficulty in selling all he can make, nor would he if he were made twice as many. He has a patent spring for side-bar buggies that leaves the others far behind.

MR. SAMUEL FRENCH has just finished threshing his wheat crop, and from 145 acres he gets 4,768 bushels, or an average of over 33 bushels per acre. Not a bad average for so large a number of acres.

BUCHANAN has done her share toward supporting the Exposition at Chicago this year. Seventy-nine tickets were sold by the Michigan Central company this morning, fifty Monday morning, and four hundred and thirty-one in all.

MR. HENRY JOHNSON says that if the one who stole his bags from under the steps leading to this office, about ten minutes after he laid them there, last June, wants some more the same way, to call at his house and be accommodated.

JUST as we were going to press last week, a rumor reached us from South Bend, that the murderer of Mr. and Mrs. Morris had been captured, but it proves to have no foundation in fact, and the rascal is still at large, we are sorry to say.

MR. AND MRS. W. J. JONES, of Ononoko township, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Becker, of Berrien township, and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bishop, of Bainbridge township, will represent the Berrien County Grange in the State Grange.

MRS. J. M. MATTHEWS, of Sedan, Kansas arrived in this place Saturday evening. She has a good story to tell of the robbery of the train she was in coming over the Chicago & Alton road through Missouri, by a gang of Missourians. They secured about $2,000 from the express car.

MONDAY last was the day set for the examination of Charles Vanderburg, who had been arrested on complaint of his brother, on the charge of assault with intent to kill. On appearing for trial before Esquire Dick, the prosecuting Attorney moved that the prisoner be discharged, and he was thereupon set at liberty.

We learn that the proprietors of Diamond Lake island intend enlarging their buildings and otherwise increasing their facilities for entertaining the great crowds that gather there during the pleasure season. We are pleased to note this evidence of enterprise on the part of the proprietors.

JOHN C. DICK is acting as agent for the Detroit Free Press in this place, and Postmaster Alexander for the Post and Tribune. Those who wish to subscribe for either, should remember which each is handling, and so get the paper they want. There is a difference in the papers.

RECENTLY a lady living within about two miles of this place went to South Bend to buy a new dress, for which she paid twenty-five cents per yard. She was afterward pricing some of the same kind of goods in this place, and all that had been asked for was twenty cents. That is about the way it usually pays to go away from your home town to buy goods.

The price of apples has arisen. An old man named Zimmerman, living in Cass county, near Bertrand, paid ten dollars for about a bushel and a half that he helped himself to in Willard French's orchard, last Friday night. The law called it trespass, but other people said it was stealing.

A NEW brick wall is being built along the front of Oak street Advent Church. We hope to see more of this kind of work built, when it is necessary to build any. It costs but little more to build them and when once built will last a great deal longer and be better.

THE UNION FAIR at Dowagiac is an immense success. The exhibits are of the best that has been on lot to see outside of the State fair. The managers built what they thought would be an abundance of stall room for stock, but found it far insufficient for the demand. Our Dowagiac neighbors are deserving of great praise for the enterprise exhibited in this undertaking.

IT seems rather peculiar to have such hot weather as we were subjected to last week, at this time of year. Saturday afternoon the thermometer indicated eighty-nine in the shade. There was nearly as much suffering from excessive heat as at any time in the summer. Such weather could not continue long without producing a great amount of sickness.

THE Pacific express that usually passes this place at 4:20 each morning did not get along this morning until after nine o'clock, the delay being caused by the breaking of the connecting rod between the drive wheels on the engine at Mattawan, making it necessary to procure another engine from Kalamazoo before proceeding.

ANOTHER SMITTEN CONSCIENCE.—A few days since Mr. H. J. Howe, of Berrien Springs, received a package containing two badly worn silk handkerchiefs, accompanied by a letter stating that the person had gotten them from his store, in this place, and never paid for them. No name was signed, and a desperate attempt was made to disguise the writing and scholarship. Mr. Howe says he is very thankful to get the handkerchiefs back again, but would have been better pleased if they had been returned before they were worn out.

Lost.—Mr. Henry Kinyon lost his pocket book containing about $110 in money from his pocket Monday, and is unable to find any clue to its whereabouts. It was a long book, and he carried it in the hip pocket of his pantaloons where it was in some way, either worked out or was taken out; at any rate it is gone, and the money with it.

If the party who carried off the piece of timber from the road-side east of Kelly Way's mill, return the same as good as when carried off, all will be peaceable; if it is not returned somebody may be brought out to public gaze. Also parties who have carried off some of the old plank from the river bridge, are requested to return the same forthwith and save trouble.

Highway Commissioner.

BURGLARY.—Mr. Abram Frame is one of those men who is so easily awakened that no one can enter his house in the night without his knowledge of it, but when he got up last Sunday morning and made an examination of the surroundings, he found that he had been relieved of about $30 in money and checks on South Bend banks to the amount of about $500, and no trace left of where they had gone. By stopping payment of the checks he loses only the cash. Spirits is the only explanation he can give yet.

The trial of Mr. Lilly for assault, in Cass county, was completed last week, and, after being out nine and a half hours, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of "assault with intent to commit manslaughter." Something new for a man to intend to commit unintentional killing. The trial throughout showed plainly the evidence of prejudice against Mr. Lilly, the principal trouble with him being that his father is a wealthy farmer, loans money at ten per cent., collects his interest and does not sport, broadcloth clothes and gold headed cane. An appeal will be made to the supreme court.

The Board of Supervisors met in Berrien Springs Monday and organized by electing C. C. Kent, of Bainbridge, chairman, and appointed for committee on assessments, Supervisors McKie of Three Oaks, Howe of Bertrand, and Brown of Watervliet; committee on claims, Supervisors Kingsland of Hagar, Sterns of Galien, and Johnson of Niles township. Supervisor Drew, of Chickaming, was appointed a committee of one to attend the meeting of the Board of Supervisors in Cass county to present the claim against that county for the Lilly-Kreger murder case.

A general attack is being made on the present system of Township Superintendents Schools, as provided for by the laws of this State, as being, in most cases, one of the most inefficient portions of the entire school system of the State, owing to the incompetency of the men commonly elected to fill the place, to judge who is and who is not competent to teach. It is a too common practice among district officers of country schools to let their schools to the lowest bidder, and then for the Township Superintendent to grant a certificate to any one who may apply, frequently through an inability on the part of the Superintendent to say "no," and the consequence is in many places a visible falling off in the scholarship of the schools. An attempt will doubtless be made at the next session of the Legislature to return to the old system of County Superintendents, with what success remains with the future to decide.

The Michigan City Dispatch, in giving an account of the tournament recently held in that place has the following notice of the Buchanan Tose Company:

"The Buchanan, Mich., company truly deserves the most extravagant of encomiums. It is of recent origin, and is composed of as fine a lot of young men as ever broke a coupling or pulled a cart. We merely echo the words of the people when we mention that they were the best looking, best behaved, and physically speaking, the best developed crew entered in the contest."

There was also a special mention made of one of the members of the company, but for fear of making some of the other boys jealous, we refrain from copying that portion.

TEACHERS, don't forget the meeting of the Berrien County Association at the High School room in this place next Saturday. Such meetings may be made very beneficial to teachers if properly conducted, and no teacher should fail to avail himself of its benefits, not only as a duty to himself but to his employers. On this occasion the teachers of Buchanan will do all in their power to make the meeting a success. A free dinner will be provided to all teachers in attendance. The following is the programme of exercises:

In the Journal, published at Sedan, we find the following brief notice of the work of Mr. Plimpton while in Kansas:

"Hon. E. M. Plimpton started on his return to his home in Buchanan, Michigan, last Monday, bearing with him the good wishes of every Republican of Chautauque county, Jefferson and Belleville townships, and a Mass Meeting at Sedan last Saturday. Everywhere that he spoke he helped the good cause. He cleared away the mist and fog with which the fact speakers had sought to envelop the financial question, and we know of many who say that he succeeded in removing every doubt from their minds, by his close and clearly stated statements of the facts and figures involved."

CARELESSNESS on the part of nearly every one in writing and mailing letters is one of the most common known, and not frequently the neglect to comply with the regulations becomes criminal, and subjects the sender to a severe penalty if complained of. We have now received two letters from a man in Kansas, and all the means we have of knowing where to send a reply is by the post mark on the envelope, which is "Riverton, Neb.," and the heading of his letter, which is "Smith county, Kansas." If, as is the case in about ninety-nine out of every hundred letters, the post-mark had been intelligible that man would never have received a reply, and then would have cursed the post office department for his own neglect. Not long since we noticed a postal card in the wire-work of the post-office, in this place, with the message on the wrong side and the address on the side where the message should be, and a few days after we happened to be near when the owner called for it, and remarked that was the first time he had ever tried to write on one of those blasted things, and he guessed he wouldn't try it again, when no one but himself was to blame.

A farmer named Dodge, living in Bainbridge township, Berrien county, recently signed what he supposed was an agreement with an agent. Last week a stranger called on him with his note for $1,000 upon which he demanded payment. Believing it was the old agreement, Mr. Dodge desired to look at it. It was handed to him and before the stranger could stop him he had torn it up. The stranger had him arrested but failed to put in an appearance on trial day (Clever dodge in Mr. Dodge.—Marcellus News.

COUNTY PRESS. [Berrien Harbor Times.]

Crabb, the murderer of Seal, waived an examination on the charge of murder, on Saturday last, and was committed to jail without bail to await trial in the Circuit Court. A large number of men from Bainbridge were in town with the avowed intention of avenging the murder of young Seal, but Sheriff DeMont frustrated their plans by taking the prisoner out of the back door of the Gartley house and hurrying him off to Berrien, while the excited mob awaited his appearance at the front door.

[Berrien Springs Era.]

A. F. Havener, fell a few days ago from an apple tree and struck his back on a wagon wheel. He fell about twelve feet, but is recovering. A narrow escape from a broken back.

[Niles Democrat.]

John Onley, a laborer, was severely injured on the back and head, by a falling sled on the farm of Robert Griffin, a few days since. He is recovering slowly.

Old Mr. Seales in speaking, the other day, of the use of whiskey said: "When I came to St. Joseph I used whiskey the first year in making pickles, and I had the next year I ever saw. The next year I tried the same recipe and my pickles were all eaten up—the manufacturer of 'whisky' and then learned how to palm off 'pizen' for 'good whisky.' I had always kept liquor in my house and used it when I felt the need of a stimulant, but on seeing my pickles go that way I just made up my mind that my stomach could not hold long out against such vile stuff, and I therefore discontinued its use."

Locals.

Any farmer wishing to purchase one or more thorough bred Leicestershire rams can find them at Mr. John Searls' farm, north of this place. These sheep are fine large ones, and in good condition.

ONE of the sweetest songs we have heard this many a day, is entitled "We Shall Meet at the Little Ones There." Words and music by Will. L. Thompson, East Liverpool, Ohio. Although all our little ones are graciously spared in the editorial home, we must confess to a breakdown in tears when trying to sing these touching words. The song is an inspiration of comfort, surely, to all whose hearts have been invaded by death. It is one of the few compositions which will live for generations. To all lovers of music, we say, send 40 cents to the author and bless the household by a copy of the gem.—Melchior Recorder.
